OUR BIGGEST CRUISER

The Newly Launched Ship Able to Fight Anything.

INDIANA STATE TO GIVE HER A FLAG

Thousands of People Present to See the Noble Vessel Slip Into the Water—Distinguished Visitors Present—Description of the Battleship—President Harrison Says He Has Been Complimented.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—The launching of the great battleship Indiana at the Cramp yards yesterday, although occurring in the midst of a pelting rain storm, was a grand sight, and will long be remembered by the thousands who witnessed the ceremony.

The early morning crowds began to gather around the works and as day advanced the multitude increased.

The anxiety of the gathering to catch a glimpse of the President and the other distinguished members of the visiting party from Washington was so much greater than the desire to see the launch that the entrances to the main office of the Cramps were blocked for hours before the arrival of the honored guests.

The non-issuance of formal invitations, however, gave the thousands of sightseers an opportunity to be present at the launch and points of vantage were numerous. The river abounded with crafts of every description.

The interior of the shipyard presented a scene of activity. Flags were flying from dozens of poles; the cruiser New York and cruiser No. 12, the Columbia, which was launched last July, and other ships were gaily bedecked with flags and bunting, while flags innumerable and other decorations were stretched from the stem to the stern of the Indiana.

The arrival of the Presidential party was the signal for loud and continued cheering. The party came from Washington on a special train over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Among the visitors were Secretary of the Navy Tracy, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Attorney General Miller and his daughter, Miss Jessie, the fair christener; Senators Voorhees and Turpie of Indiana (in honor of which state the vessel is named) and others.

The guests were received in the offices of the company by Chas. H. Cramp, president; Henry W. Cramp, treasurer and other officials. The line was then formed and the christening party proceeded to where the battle ship lay and took positions on a raised platform at the bow.

The noise of five hundred workmen making the final preparations reverberated between the Indiana's sister ship Massachusetts, on the south and cruiser No. 13, the Minneapolis, to the north for a quarter of an hour and then the order was given to "saw the ways."

Just as the 4,200 tons of steel started down the incline, Miss Miller broke the customary bottle of champagne, it being encased in a beautifully hand-painted and embroidered satin cover, across the bow and firmly said: "I christen thee 'Indiana.'"

Whistles shrieked, bells rang and people cheered and waved handkerchiefs and flags. This demonstration continued until the ship reached mid stream, where anchors were dropped. Later the anchors were raised and the vessel was towed to the shipyard.

The "Indiana" is the eighth warship that the Cramps have launched and is the largest ever sent from their ways. Up to this time the "New York," with a tonnage of 2,000, was the largest.

She is the most formidable of the vessels built or building for the new American navy. The armament is four 13-inch breech loading rifles, eight 8-inch breech loading rifles, nine 6-inch breech loading rifles, 20 6 pounder rapid fire guns, four 1-pounder rapid fire guns, four Gatling guns and six torpedo tubes. Her armor is the heaviest that was ever placed on an American warship.

President Harrison Much Pleased.

"This day will ever be a most pleasant memory to me," said President Harrison, "coming as it does at the close of my administration. I take it in part as a personal compliment that the ship should be christened after my native State, and it is a pride to the State to give its name to this, the first real warship of our navy."

Indiana Contributes a Flag.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 1.—A bill passed the Legislature yesterday appropriating $250 for a flag for the Indiana.

Murderer Coy Very Sick in Jail.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., March 1.—Murderer Coy is seriously ill at the jail, suffering from neuralgia in his heart and neck, also from the grip. His mental troubles are partly responsible for his condition, and each aggravates the other. His condition is wretched, and the jail physician has been with him much of the time yesterday and to day. Coy has given up all hope, and expects to hang on Friday, sick or well.

The Hall special will consist of eight coaches and a baggage car. The first coach and baggage car are for Hall's own use, the others being for the accommodation of those wishing to join the party.

Cruiser Vesuvius at New York.

NEW YORK, March. 1.—The dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, which has been at Port Royal, for trial of her guns, returned to this port yesterday and went direct to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, where she will be prepared for the naval display. The official result of the trials of the Vesuvius's guns will be made public next week.

A White Boy Shoots a Colored Boy.

ROANOKE, Va., March 1.—Lewis Shaver, a colored boy living in Salem, was shot and killed yesterday by William F. Anderson, a white boy, in a squabble over the possession of a fishing pole. The shot struck Shaver in the face and he died within five minutes. Anderson was arrested.

MADE A SHOW OF HIMSELF.

Ex-Champion Sullivan Goes on the Stage Drunk and Spoils the Drama.

ST. LOUIS, March 1.—Since ex-Champion John L. Sullivan arrived here Sunday morning he has experienced one continual round of hilarity. It was with considerable difficulty that Sullivan was assisted in his stage costume for the first act of the evening.

As he reeled on to the stage the audience immediately took in the situation, and a general titter was heard all over the house.

One man was more expressive than the others, and gave vent to an ironical laugh. Sullivan scowled savagely at the man, and moved down towards the footlights and addressed the audience as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen—Did you ever see a mug? Well, there's one [pointing to the man who had given vent to his merriment]. He don't know a good thing when he sees it. He thinks I'm drunk. But I'm not. I go on like this just to give the newspapers a chance. That mug is ignorant. I know a little something. I went to school. I learned to read and spell and know things. If that mug comes up here on the stage I'll show him that he isn't in it with me."

Here he stopped and attempted to go on with his lines, but the drama became a howling farce-comedy as John L. Substituted here and eliminated there.

He was particularly effusive in his attentions to his leading lady, and his embraces were at times more affectionate than the scene justified.

He delivered several impromptu speeches before the close of the show, on one occasion saying:

"You people would like to see me stripped, wouldn't you? Well, I'll fool you; I won't strip to-night."

At the close of the performance John L. resumed his toying with the flowing bowl, and at an early hour this morning was satisfactorily drunk.

A VILLAGE SUBMERGED.

Many Women and Children Drowned in the Waters of the Danube.

VIENNA, March 1.—The worst disaster that has happened in this part of the old world has occurred at the little village of Gergely, near Paks, about 30 miles south of Budapest on the Danube.

Owing to a sudden rise of the Danube the sixteen hundred inhabitants of Gergely found the mud huts in which they lived surrounded by waste waters. The frail dwellings gradually yielded before the furious current which was continually rising, and the people took refuge in the church and school, which were constructed of stronger materials, hoping that these buildings would be able to hold out against the flood.

They saw their homes disappearing in the raging stream, and the swelling waters began to beat against the church and school building with such fury that at last they decided that to remain would mean the destruction of all of them, while if they fled some at least might escape.

Opening the doors, they started out into the flood, which surged nearly to the waists of the grown-up people. Fathers and mothers carried their children, and the sick and feeble were helped along by those who were stronger.

They fled as fast as they could in the direction of Paka, the swift and boiling current pursuing them, as it were, in their flight.

One mother with five children sank in the waters and perished. Many others, the number of whom is as yet unknown, were drowned in the flood, and the survivors reached Paka in a most deplorable condition.

The People of Paka gave the fugitives all the succor possible, although deeply concerned for their own safety, as the Danube is twenty feet above its normal height.

Nothing can be done toward recovering the bodies of those who have perished until the river retires within its usual channel, and it is believed that many have been swept many miles away.

There is no doubt, however, that the number of dead is very large.

Probability of a White Lynching.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 1.—A farmer named Corley, living near Dayton, reported Sunday that his two little girls were missing. Search was made, and the children were found yesterday in a cabin near the mountains half dead from starvation, exposure and outrage. Three men had carried them to the old hut where they were afterwards found. The men, who were white, were recognized by their victims, and a posse is hunting for the trio. If they are captured they certainly will be lynched.

Finding Dead Miners' Wealth.

HOLLY, Mich., March 1.—About $20,000 in cash belonging to the Fagan misers, two brothers who were found frozen to death in their house five miles north of here Saturday, has been dug up in the cellar. The property belonging to the Fagan's already recovered or accounted for, amounts to $37,000. The shanty where the brothers lived is being torn down piece by piece in the search for their hidden wealth.

Will Support the Bill Conditionally.

ALBANY, March 1.—The Republican Assemblymen held a caucus at noon and agreed to support the Blanket Ballot bill on four conditions: First, that the use of pasters be forbidden; second, that some emblem be used to designate the parties; third, that the size of the circle be fixed; fourth, that the mark be made only with an official stamp.

New York State Health Bulletin.

ALBANY, March 1.—The bulletin of the State Board of Health for the month of January says that the average daily rate during January was 338, which is 36 more than in December. The number of deaths is far below that of January, 1892, because of the then existing prevalence of grip.

THE DOCTOR'S DEFENSE

Miss Averill's Breach of Promise Suit Takes a New Turn.

SOME STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS

He Says He Was Never Engaged to the Nurse, but Admits Having Used Endearing Terms in His Letters—Miss Averill Makes a Serious Charge and the Defendant Returns the Compliment.

NEWARK, March 1.—Some of the recent developments in the suit for damages for $10,000 for breach of promise of marriage of Isabel Averill of New York, against Dr. George B. Lightfoot of Arlington, N. J., the declaration in which have been filed at Trenton, are of a rather startling nature. Dr. Lightfoot's friends admit that while the young man was house physician at the Flower Surgical hospital, New York, he was thrown much in the company of Miss Averell, who was employed in the institution in the capacity of trained nurse, but they strenuously deny that an engagement or a promise of marriage every existed between the couple.

Miss Averell says that Dr. Lightfoot proposed marriage on June 7, 1890, and that the offer was accepted.

She claims to have in her possession a number of letters which afford conclusive evidence in support of her suit.

These letters, she says, are replete with endearing terms, and are written in such a strain as to leave no doubt of the relations existing between her and the defendant.

The doctor is quoted as saying that last spring Miss Averell went to Montclair to nurse the children of J. L. Hartley, a sculptor.

The children were ill will scarlet fever, and the nurse suggested that Dr. Lightfoot be called to treat them. Her suggestion was followed, and the young physician soon relieved the children from immediate danger and placed them on the road to recovery.

After several visits, his friends say, he became uneasy, as the patients did not recover as fast as the treatment seemed to demand.

Entering the sick room one day, he saw on the table a bottle containing a liquid which he had not prescribed, and which, instead of helping the little patients, only seemed to retard their convalescence.

He at once suspected that the trained nurse had been administering the stuff purposely to prevent the children from getting better, in order that she might be kept in attendance. He communicated his suspicions to the family and the nurse was discharged. The friendship that had existed between him and the nurse was broken off.

Then the young woman instituted the breach of promise proceedings. These proceedings were discontinued last fall at which time the physician declares he received a complete release from all obligations, real or fancied, which Miss Averill held. He admits having used endearing terms in the letters to her, but says that the relations between physician and nurse are of so peculiar a nature that such terms could be used without any impropriety.

Miss Averill some time ago, when the suit was first begun, charged the physician with a most vicious personal wrong and exhibited a small phial of medicine which she claims to have received from him, as evidence. This set the physician off on a new scent.

At the drug store where his prescriptions for the Hartley children had been prepared he found among his prescriptions four others, which, while they bore his name, were plainly forged by the nurse, it is claimed, as they were all in her handwriting, with no attempt at imitating his style of chirography.

One of these prescriptions was for the mixture which Miss Averell offered to substantiate her charge.

Two others called for a compound similar to that which he had found in the sick room.

Leading Men Against the Race Track Bills

PATERSON, N. J., March 1.—The Board of Trade indignation meeting last night over the race track legislation was largely attended, considering the disagreeable weather. Resolutions condemning the action of the Legislature were adopted. A committee of leading citizens, headed by Dean McNulty, of St. John's Roman Catholic church, and John J. Brown, president of the First National bank, was selected to attend the anti-race track demonstration at Trenton today.

Freight steamer Aground.

PROVIDENCE, March 1.—The New York freight steamer Nashua, Capt. Captain Hazard, ran ashore last night in Allen's Harbor, on the west shore, just below Warwick Light. The steamer was going at full speed at the time. It was snowing hard and was so thick that the whistle was kept blowing all the way down the bay. Captain Hazard said that the steamer was in an easy position, and by the aid of a couple of tugs he thought could be floated at high tide.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The Canton, Pa., post office was broken into and robbed Monday night.

—The Technical College in Rio de Janeiro was burned to the ground yesterday.

—Ex-Mayor Carter H. Harrison has been at last nominated again by the Democrats for mayor of Chicago.

—The next meeting of the New York State encampment of Odd Fellows will be held at Newburgh.

—Joseph Brothers, shoe-dealers of Newark, N. J., have made an assignment. Liabilities are stated to be about $21,000.

SLOW DAY IN CONGRESS.

The Republican Majority in the Senate Could Not Control.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Republican side of the Senate was subjected to great mortification yesterday in its defeat by the minority side of the Chamber on a motion which divided the two parties into opposition. It was a motion to proceed to executive business.

Mr. Sherman made it, and said that a brief executive session was important, but that he could not then give the reason. The motion was defeated.

When the result was announced, and when it was ascertained that no Republican Senator had voted in the negative, but that several of them who were not paired had not voted, there was a private exhibition of disappointment among the Republicans who had voted.

That feeling found expression in the remark, "We might as well give the Senate over to the Democrats at once." A renewal of the attempt a couple of hours afterward met with a like fate. It was beaten by a majority of two.

The important features of the day's session were the passage of the Naval and Agricultural Appropriation bills and of the bill regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia.

The greater part of the day in the House was consumed in the consideration of an election case in which no interest was manifested.

After three hours' debate, Turpin, Democrat, was entitled to retain the seat which he has occupied since the opening of the present Congress, and his contestant, McDuffie, was declared to have been not duly elected.

The most important action was the passage, without opposition, of the bill continuing pig tin and ore on the free list.

HIS ASSAILANT WON'T DIE.

Thought That He Will Recover—Another Millionaire May be Assaulted.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—It is now likely that Rippey, who shot Mackay, will recover. Such is the opinion of his physicians.

Two friends called on him last evening and Rippey says told him there would soon be "lively times down on Pine street."

Whether they meant a revival in mining stock speculation or assault of another millionaire is uncertain.

The fact remains that Rippey is better, and the encouragement he received from friends has a strong incentive toward recovery.

A Section Hand Killed.

NEWBURG, March 1.—A section hand shoveling snow on the New England railroad near Hopewell Junction, during the morning, stepped from the track to allow a train to pass, at the same time sticking his shovel into a snow bank. The locomotive struck the handle of the shovel, knocking the man under the wheels of the engine. He was instantly killed and the body was horribly mutilated.

Elston May Be Indicted.

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 1.—It seems likely that Principal Wm. H. Elston, who was removed from his position by the Board of Education, will now be indicted by the grand jury. The jury have summoned a number of persons before them, with a view of obtaining evidence in connexion with the charges that Elston has improperly treated some of the female school children.

The New Cruiser Detroit's Partial Trial.

BALTIMORE, March 1.—The new cruiser Detroit left the Columbian iron works yesterday to make a trial of her engines. When deep water, in which it was intended to speed her, was reached, thick weather came on, and it was decided to return to the city. Splendid speed was developed in the channels according to the revolutions made.

McKinley's Friends Insist.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Trustes H. H. Kohlsaat has practically decided not to oppose the wishes of Gov. McKinley's friends and to receive whatever funds they may decide to send toward paying the $90,000 liabilities of the Governor of Ohio. The $1 contribution scheme met with general approval in the Major's own State.

Miss Force Committed to an Asylum.

ATLANTA, March 1.—Julia Force has been adjudged insane by the Court of Ordinary. She will be taken to the insane asylum at Milledgeville immediately. In court she reiterated her statement that she would kill her sisters again if circumstances were the same as when she did the deed. She expressed no sorrow.

Prize Fighter Charged With Manslaughter

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The inquest in the case of Billy Miller, the featherweight, who died from injuries received in a fight with Dal Hawkins at the Pacific club Friday night, has resulted in Hawkins being charged with manslaughter. The jury made no mention of the other persons under arrest.

A Husband Sued for Breach of Promise.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 1.—Lucius L. Mosse, a young society man, was recently married to Miss Oril B. Colvin. Suit has now been begun against Mr. Mosse for $25,000 damages by Miss Beula C. Dodge, a beautiful girl, who claims that Mosse was engaged to her at the time of his marriage.

Louisiana Editors Fight a Duel.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—A duel was fought in Texas near the Louisiana line yesterday between Editor Chevis, of Baton Rouge, and Editor Hicks, of Shreveport. Pistols were used at 15 paces. After an exchange of shots, in which no one was hurt, a full reconciliation was effected.

An Old Man Hanged Himself.

NEWARK, March 1.—Henry Ruiger, 80 years old and a farmer who has lived all his life on the side of the Orange mountains committed suicide by hanging yesterday. He had been of unsound mind for some time.

Born on the Suevia at Sea.

BOSTON, March 1.—The German steamer Suevia, Hamburg for New York, arrived this morning short of coal. Mrs. Sasse of New York, a cabin passenger, gave birth to a girl baby yesterday morning which was named Johanna Suevia.

Grand Trunk Shows a Decrease.

MONTREAL, March 1.—The traffic receipts of the Grand Trunk railway for the week of Feb. 25 show a decrease of $66,595, compared with the same period of last year.

Still Waiting for the Break.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 1.—Ballots for U. S. Senator were without result

ORANGEMEN WILL FIGHT

Those in Canada Ready to Aid Brethren in Ulster.

AUSTRALIAN LODGES ALSO AROUSED

As a Preliminary Measure All the Lodges of the Order Are Said to be Raising and Sending Money to Defeat the Home Rule Bill—An Orange Official in Canada Says Irish-Americans Are No Good.

MONTREAL, March 1.—There are 25,000 Orangemen in Canada who are even now actively, though secretly, preparing to help their brethren in Ulster should the Irish Home Rule bill pass the English House of Commons and the House of Lords.

Orangemen here thoroughly believe that trouble will occur in Ireland if the measure becomes a law, and a prominent member of the Orange Order in Quebec states that Orangemen are prepared to assist Ulster with money or with men, if necessary.

The different lodges all over the Dominion are in active correspondence, and a large sum of money has already been subscribed.

Negotiations have been opened with Australia, where there is a very large body of Ulster Protestants, and a contingent is promised to go from there to Ireland. One of the steamship companies here has been asked for rates for several thousand men.

The Orange official who gave the information is employed on the Canadian Pacific railroad, and he says there are hundreds of men on that road eager to strike work and go to Ireland.

"What is to prevent the Irish in the States from returning to Ireland?" he was asked.

He answered: "They are no good. The Orangemen of Canada would like to get at them. Of one thing there can be no doubt. Orangemen here are willing and prepared to go to Ireland in case of trouble."

Orangemen's Conduct Condemned.

BELFAST, March 1.—At a meeting of the National Federation last night Thos. Sexton, M. P. for North Kerry and formerly M. P. for West Belfast, was elected President. The meeting adopted resolutions thanking Mr. Gladstone for his Home Rule bill and condemning the attempt of Lord Salisbury to incite the Orangemen to outrage and riot in opposition to Home Rule.

Will Wait Till the Crowds Lessen.

MADRID, March 1.—The Infanta Eulalia, who is to represent the Queen Regent at the Chicago World's Fair, will not be present at the naval review nor at the opening of the Exposition, as the advisers of the Crown feel that both in New York and Chicago at the times in question the great crowds would render impossible a proper reception of a member of the royal family. She will sail for Cuba toward the end of April and will proceed thence to New York late in May.

Fight in the Populist Senate.

TOPEKA, March 1.—In the Senate yesterday a bitter fight occurred between the Populists and Republicans and Democrats. A personal encounter between Senator O'Bryan (Dem.) and Jumper (Pop.) was barely avoided. The row was precipitated by the introduction of a Populist resolution indorsing the Republican House, but protesting against the Supreme Court decision and denouncing the Republican members of the Court as "rotten, venal, corrupt and dishonest."

Crushed Under a Falling Building.

CHICAGO, March 1.—A heavy wind yesterday overturned the toppling walls of the recently burned dry goods establishment of John York, 45 Halstead and Nineteenth streets, and an enormous mass of brick, mortar and timber fell upon a two-story structure adjoining, crushing the building. Seven persons were killed outright in their sleep, one was fat ally injured and two others were badly hurt.

Street Car Struck By a Wild-Cat.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 1.—A North Hudson Railway street car was struck by an Erie wild-cat locomotive at the Grove street crossing in this city at 1 p. m. and partly demolished. Patrick Fitzpatrick, the driver, was thrown from the car and his leg broken. Conductor Willing was also badly hurt. There were six passengers in the car but they escaped with a severe shaking up.

Pulsted Him a Pea Green.

BALTIMORE, March 1.—John Hudson of Hampstead was too familiar with young girls. Last night masked men took him out of bed, carried him to the outskirts of the village, where he was stripped and painted him pea green from feet to neck. Then he was rolled in the snow and marched home.

Grant Monument Fund Raised.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The annual meeting of the Grant Monument association was held in the Mill's building yesterday. The report of President Horace Porter shows that a sufficient amount has been raised for the completion of the monument. It is believed that the work will be finished in the autumn of 1895.

Objection to the New Public Printer.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Typographical Union No. 6 appointed a committee to visit President Cleveland and protest against the appointment of C. E. Edwards of Wilmington, Del., as public printer. Edwards, they say is an old and bitter opponent of organized labor.

Chicago Wants Two of the "Finest."

NEW YORK, March 1.—Chief of Police John Bonfield, of Chicago, has asked the Police Board of this city, to send to the World's Fair two of New York's representative policemen. The commissioners did not consider it advisable.

To Require Rope Fire Escapes in Hotels.

HARTFORD, March 1.—The House has passed an act requiring hotels to keep a rope as a fire escape in each room to take effect Jan. 1, 1894. In the Senate an order was introduced authorizing railroads to use electricity for motive power.

Delaware's World's Fair Appropriation.

DOVER, Del., March 1.—The Senate yesterday passed the House bill appropriating $10,000 to the Fair's State managers. The latter were censured for extravagant expenditures.

—The Park club bowlers last night defeated the Cranfords by the score of 1507 to 1427.

—S. H. Peer of West Front street, shot a wild turkey in West Virginia recently, which weighed 26 pounds. He had it mounted.

—A carpenter named Cortwright fell today from a building at Garwood, and broke a leg. He was brought on a stretcher to his home at Fifth and New streets.

—The firm of J. P. Laire & Co. is today dissolved, and succeeded by Laire Bros., who will continue to do business as heretofore at the popular old stand.

—A farmer near Mt. Pleasant has 750 heads of cabbage buried in the ground, and the snow has drifted so high that he cannot get to them and transfer them to market.

—The fire department apparatus from the abandoned No. 2's house to-day was moved into the temporary headquarters in Roberte's stable building, fronting on Second street.

—The icy sidewalks this morning made walking very difficult. A Park avenue grocery clerk was seen going to his place of employment on skates. He attracted considerable attention.

—Building movers have succeeded in placing safely upon its foundation the house of C. Potter, jr., which he moved from Seventh and Division streets to Sixth and Division.

—The Democrats of North Plainfield will hold their primary for the nomination of borough and township candidates, at Democratic headquarters, 86 Somerset street, Friday evening.

—It may not be generally known, but a city ordinance prohibits the running of sleighs or other vehicles on runners, unless there are bells attached. This law is daily violated, to the danger of pedestrians.

—Vanderbeek & Sattels continue to do a flourishing business at 33 Park avenue, in the best makes of pianos and organs. They will sell you the best instrument in the market, and keep it tuned and in repair.

—Only eight Plainfielders joined the indignant anti-race-track people at Trenton to-day. The Legislature's action yesterday, in adjourning and refusing to hear the people, took the starch all out of the citizen's movement.

—Zephyr Hook and Ladder company celebrated the arrival of their new truck, last evening, by a grand banquet at Blimm's hotel. Refreshments, singing, recitations and speech-making were indulged in, and a very pleasant time was had by all.

—What is fire? Can fire be measured? How measured? These and many other questions will be answered by Franklin S. Smith to-morrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The admission will be free to all young men, whether members of the association or not.

—The last masquerade ball and skating of the season at the rink was held there last evening. It was given under the auspices of Messrs. Hand & Whitlock, and it was a success. A brass band furnished the music for skating, and O'Reilly the music for dancing.

—A disgraceful scene was witnessed about 8:30 last evening, in front of the Salvation Army hall. A young lad had an old drunken man down in the road, and was belaboring him with his fists. Several persons interfered, and parted the combatants. No arrests were made.

—Cholera seems to be epidemic among poultry. Within the past two weeks Wm. D. Muckey of Dog Corners has lost over 150 chickens from this disease. Ten or twelve of his fowls have been buried each day, and they are still dying off. Other farmers in that locality report large losses.

—The amount of appropriation for borough board of health work this year should be increased. The possibility of cholera makes the need of a larger appropriation imperative. The borough board has always been short of funds, and should not be financially crippled in case a crisis occurs.

—An oyster supper was recently held at the residence of J. M. Rowley, near the Jackson school-house, between Plainfield and Rahway, for the purpose of creating a fund to start the foundation of a new chapel there. The weather was bad, and the net proceeds only amounted to something like $25.

—Before the legislative committee at Trenton, yesterday, the opponents of Mayor Gilbert's bill for the protection of the people against the board of education, could not find a word to say against its justness or propriety. Their talk was all about what a lovely board of education it was and what fine schools Plainfield had; which nobody ever denied. The corporation counsel was given permission to once more address the committee, in writing.

—The council has granted all the saloons the privilege to sell liquor another year no matter what kind of property owners signed their applications, but has refused the hotels a license on a purely technical point which, however, will close them up unless there are some property owners in the First ward who are willing for the sake of the credit and business interests of the city to step up and sign to keep Messrs. Miller and Beerbower's hotels open. Who'll do it?

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by E. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00. 5-18-7

TOOK LAUDANUM TO DIE.

The Scapegrace of a Good Borough Family Causes His Friends No End of Trouble.

Charles Bartling, age 17, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon at the home of his brother, Harry Bartling, 22 Sycamore avenue, North Plainfield.

Harry Bartling is a broker in New York, and one of the borough's most highly respected residents. Charles has been living with him for some time, and has caused his good relatives much anxiety because of his waywardness.

THE PRESS told yesterday how Bartling had forged a check for $5 and passed it on Sigmund Frucht. This was only one of his many misdeeds. What capped the climax was his breaking into his niece's room, and grossly insulting her. He was to be sent away in disgrace, and rather than face his widowed mother and sister determined on suicide.

He came to town and bought some laudanum, stopped in Heideloff's store and told his friends there that he was going to kill himself, and went home and drank the poison.

Drs. Jenkins and Probasco were both summoned, when the family learned that the youth had drunk the laudanum. Charles locked himself in the bath room and at first refused to let the physicians enter. Finally, however, he weakened, and by hard work the doctors saved him from death.

Marshal Pangborn was sent for to place the rash youth under arrest, but later it was decided to leave the matter of punishment for his mother and sister to decide. He was sent to their home in New York to-day.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. E. D. Titsworth of West Sixth street is slowly recovering from a severe attack of tonsilitis.

Miss Beatrice Craig of West Fourth street returned home on Monday from a visit among friends at Bordentown.

Daniel VanWinkle, of Duer street, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is convalescing and hopes soon to be out again.

M. C. VanArsdale has bought a shoe business at Greenwich, Conn., and will be joined there by his wife and family April 1.

Myra C., youngest daughter of Howard and Pauline Smalley of Greenbrook, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 1.

Frank E. Kinsman of Sherman avenue has been granted a patent for an electric train controlling apparatus and means for operating throttle valves for steam engines.

Miss Florence M. Randolph entertained a number of Plainfield, Newark and New Brunswick friends, at her home last evening. Dancing and refreshments helped make the evening pass pleasantly.

The New Jersey Woman's Suffrage association, of which Mrs. David P. Hall of this city is president, will listen to a lecture by Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman of Missouri, in Union Hall, Orange, March 4, at 11 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. French of West Fourth street are the latest who rejoice over an addition to their household. A little girl was born to them on Tuesday morning. Both mother and daughter are doing well.

The many friends of Mr. Dean, the popular employe of the Potter Press works, will be pleased to learn that he has recovered from his severe illness, and has again resumed charge of the roller mould department. He received the congratulations of his fellow-workmen on his first appearance.

Mr. Ham, who is to give a most interesting lecture on "Manual Training" in All Souls' church March 16, will be entertained at luncheon that afternoon by Mrs. Edward D. McCarthy of 202 Park avenue. Others at the luncheon will be Mrs. Ham and daughters, who are popularly known in Plainfield's social circles, where they have frequently attended receptions and similar events. Prof. Goodyear, who that afternoon delivers his final lecture in the Egyptian course, will also be entertained by Mrs. McCarthy, and Mr. Ham and family will attend the Goodyear lecture. Mr. Ham is an intimate friend of Mrs. Charles S. Munn, and he and his family will be guests of Mrs. Munn during their stay here, except during the hours of the luncheon given by Mrs. McCarthy. The ushers at the Ham lecture will be Messrs. J. P. Munn, Howard Huntington, Irving West and Orville Waring.

Death of Charles Potter's Brother, and Postponement of a Plainfield Meeting.

The wires brought news, last evening, of the death at Belmont, N. Y., from apoplexy, of Dr. C. D. Potter, of Adams Centre, N. Y., brother of Charles Potter, of this city. Dr. Potter was a retired physician who has been associated with the Rev. Dr. Lewis, of this city, in editorial work for the last ten years. He was specially given to original research, and had essentially completed a history of "Oriental Christianity", which his friends hoped would be published at an early day. Dr. Potter was about 66 years old.

On account of this bereavement, the Y. P. S. C. E. sociable of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, which had been announced for this evening, at the residence of Charles Potter, will be postponed. Dr. Potter visited Plainfield about two weeks ago.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best in the market. A single bottle will convince you of its excellence. Try it.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-18-7

WON'T GRANT THOSE LICENSES.

The Council Insists on Genuine Freehold Indorsement.

The special meeting of the Plainfield common council last night to consider again the license applications of John E. Beerbower and Wallace V. Miller, was attended by all the councilmen except president Ginna and Mr. Johnston.

Mr. Weber of the license committee presented explanations of Messrs. Beerbower and Miller concerning the signatures which had been objected to. They told just how much land they owned. In each case it was a small fraction interest, recently acquired. Certificates were shown from the county clerk that deeds for the property had been recorded, but it was stated that there was reason for belief that deeds were already held by the former owners re-transferring the property back. The sentiment or belief was that the signers were "manufactured freeholders" for the time being, made for the purpose of technically complying with the law.

Mr. See quoted a similar case in Elizabeth where the matter had been tested in the courts and where it was decided that "made" signers were not bona fide freeholders and should not be considered as meeting the requirements of the law.

All voted to return the applications again to Messrs. Miller and Beerbower, to secure bona fide freehold signatures — all except Mr. Frazee, who took the ground that the law did n't stipulate how much a man should own or how long he should own it, to be a legal freeholder and eligible signer. The others acted on the advice of Corporation Counsel Marsh.

During the evening a fuse in the electric light circuit burned out, and the lights were extinguished. The janitor was absent, so owner Coward gave an exhibition in the way of gas-jet lighting, climbing upon a shaky stepladder to reach the chandeliers. Later a new fuse was put in to replace the burned-out one.

The result of last night's meeting degenerates the Hotels Grenada and City into temperance boarding-houses till other signers can be procured.

He Wasn't in the Samaritan Business.

Hackman Flynn reports that when he was returning from South Plainfield with two passengers, about 11 Sunday evening, a serious runaway accident occurred on Plainfield avenue, on the hill a short distance southwest of ex-mayor J. H Evans's late residence.

He says that while driving along he discovered a runaway horse and sleigh approaching him at a furious speed. Flynn whipped up his horse, and succeeded in safely passing the runaway. The driver of the latter rig was thrown out and badly injured about the head and body. Flynn says he was in a hurry to catch a train, and did not stop to ascertain the man's name.

Exactly Our Sentiments.

(Trenton True American.)

The nomination of Senator Marsh to be Prosecutor of the Pleas of Union county is in every way creditable. There are few brighter or more honorable men than Senator Marsh, and his retention in the public service is a public advantage.

The coming queen of a can be healthy. She will be, if she's wisely cared for. As she enters womanhood, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription builds up and strengthens the system and regulates and promotes the functions. It's a supporting tonic, and a quieting, strengthening nervine. It corrects and cures all those delicate derangements and weaknesses peculiar to the sex. In every case for which it's recommended, the "Favorite Prescription" is guaranteed to give satisfaction. If there's no help, there's no pay. It does all that's claimed for it, or the money is refunded.

It's a risky way to sell it—but it isn't your risk.

The manufacturers take all the risk by selling them on trial! It's an insult to your intelligence for any dealer to attempt to substitute other medicines for these, by recommending them to be "just as good," only that he may make a larger profit.

CHAPS

And How to Get Rid of Them.

Nothing more annoying than chapped hands. And the more you wash the worse they chap! Soap cleans, but soap chaps. Now by neutralizing the alkali of the soap by means of a harmless acid we may prevent chapping. That is the philosophy of REYNOLDS'S LEMON JUICE AND GLYCERINE, and by using it as directed, you can get rid of the chaps. Originated and made only at

NORTH PLAINFIELD POLITICS.

Prospects and Probabilities of the Approaching Borough Election.

The North Plainfield Republicans seem to be having a hard time striving to find anyone to run against Mayor Saunders in the coming borough election. That Mr. Saunders will be renominated goes without saying. His administration of public affairs has been so notably wise, discreet and judicious that the voters of both parties are anxious to have him retained. He is just the man to handle most capably the affairs of the borough the coming year, especially as matters of unusual import, requiring a broad grasp of intellect as well as great depth of practical knowledge, are coming up for adjustment.

It is understood that Peter Emmons, who has been councilman, is anxious for nomination for the mayoralty, believing that he could control enough votes for election; but it is further understood that Mr. Emmons stands no chance whatever of getting the nomination. He might run on a little ticket of his own.

Candidates such as the Republicans desire, seem to be scarce. George P. Dupee was approached. He thanked the committee for their courtesy, but said "What! Run against my good friend and neighbor Mr. Saunders! I guess he's a good enough mayor. Some other time I'd be glad to run, but not this year, thank you."

Dr. J. H. Carman is now talked of, but he too is unwilling to enter the arena against Mr. Saunders, and positively won't accept.

Two councilmen are to be elected. Those whose terms expire are Messrs. Hegeman and Sebring. Both want to be re-elected. By both of the old factions are still spitefully opposed to one another, and one or the other may be turned down at the primary to-morrow evening. That primary is likely to be quite exciting. A candidate, and a good one, against Mr. Hegeman, is Capt. George F. Edwards. He's modest, and trying to keep in the background, but his friends insist on working for him.

The Democratic candidates for councilmen are not as yet very conspicuous, and who will be chosen is a matter of doubt. The race in Mr. Sebring's district seems to be between Dr. Charles Rodolphe Thiers and Jules Bovey.

If Charles Sebring is n't renominated by the Republicans, he may run independently.

NICE PEACE AND GOOD WILL, THIS!

That Circular Published Yesterday Is to Distract Attention from the Real Issues in the Briggs Squabble.

In connection with the article published in THE PRESS last evening entitled "A Plea for Peace and Work", it may be of interest to read an extract from a "confidential letter" that was sent out to some clergymen who were asked to sign this plea. It is taken from The Mail and Express, and is as follows: "If we can by urging the demand for peace and liberty attract attention away from the real issues involved in the Briggs case, we may prevent adverse action at Washington in May. * * * It will have tremendous effect, when it is known that the city pastors of the rich and influential churches have been committed to it."

It's the Unions This Year.

The opening shoot of the series of matches of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' League was held yesterday at Springfield under the auspices of the Union Gun club. The entries for the sweepstakes were unusually large, but only eight teams competed in the main event, which was won by the Union Gun club by a score of 100 out of a possible 125 blue rocks. Just as the team contest commenced a blinding snow storm set in which prevented any remarkable scores being made.

The conditions of the team match were five men to a team, each to shoot at 25 blue rocks under American Shooting Association rules. The referee was Edward Reeves of the Maplewood Gun club. The team scores were:

Union Gun Club—Pudney, 18; "Dutchy" Smith, 22; J. L. Smith, 17; Miller, 24; Sigler, 21. Total, 100.

Maplewood Gun Club—J. W. Smith, 22; Dean, 15; Drake, 18; Sickels, 22; Vanbyke, 19. Total, 96.

Independent Gun Club—Terry, 21; Keller, 18; Apgar, 16; Brantingham, 20; Soper, 17. Total, 92.

Rolling Springs Fishing and Gun Club—Huck, 14; J. Apgar, 25; Killen, 18; Collins, 18; Pobst, 19. Total, 93.

Endeavor Gun Club—Collins, 20; Mehl, 15; Heritage, 13; Creveling, 16; McPee, 23. Total, 87.

Myrtle Gun Club—Allen, 18; Putnam, 17; Smith, 13; Compton, 17; Young, 15. Total, 80.

Mr. Love Holds the Raleigh Fort.

Edward Love has a contract with the Raleigh Cycle Co., as published in Mr. Love's advertisement to-day, appointing him sole agent in Plainfield and vicinity for the famous Raleigh wheel. Yet another dealer in Plainfield has been holding cycles of that make for sale, and Mr. Love has retained counselor Craig A. Marsh to bring suit for damages against the Raleigh company for breach of contract in supplying wheels to another dealer in his territory. Meanwhile he continues the sole authorized agent in this city, and all wanting a first-class wheel should see what he has to offer.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me, I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

N. P. T. FINCH KNOWS HIM,

And Says Secretary Smith Will be One of President Cleveland's Brainiest Advisers.

N. P. T. Finch, formerly editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and now a resident of this city, was very indignant about the attack upon President Cleveland's new Secretary of the Interior, in an interview given by congressman Barnes Compton, of Maryland.

"The congressman asks, apparently with a sneer," said Mr. Finch. "'Who is Hoke Smith?' If he had asked any of his colleagues below the Virginia line he would have quickly gained the information he claims to lack. Not a man is better nor more favorably known in the South. Smith is a man of untiring industry and capacity.

"He possesses more force of character than any man I know in the State of Georgia. He commands a larger law practice than many of those who so unjustly criticise him. As a politician he has by clean, conscientious work succeeded where many another has failed. He is a newspaper editor in the same sense that Singerly, of Philadelphia, is.

"Smith is a man of culture and clear convictions. The educational system of Georgia owes much to him and his father, who is still living. His only brother, Burton, married senator John B. Gordon's daughter.

"I can not explain congressman Compton's attack. Four years ago Mr. Smith participated very actively in the movement to overthrow protection in Georgia, and drove its disciples out of the party. He repeated the process two years later, and last year, when Protectionism joined hands with Hillism and demagogism in general, he led the old Jacksonian Democracy and scattered its enemies. Perhaps this may explain why Compton does not like Smith. The next Secretary of the Interior will prove one of the brainiest and most courageous advisors Mr. Cleveland has called to his side. The country will soon know and appreciate the brave tariff-reform leader of Georgia."

MRS. MUMFORD WILL SPEAK.

Other Plainfield Liberal Women Will Take Part in the Day's Doings.

The New York League of Unitarian and Other Liberal Christian Women, of which there is a branch in Plainfield, will hold their regular monthly meeting at the Lenox Avenue church, New York, corner of Lenox avenue and 121st street, Friday, March 3, at 11 a. m. The programme will include: "Organized Work of the Unitarian Body"; Miss Lilian Freeman Clarke, of Boston, a daughter of the late Rev. James Freeman Clarke, will speak of the American Unitarian association; Mrs. Emily A. Fifield, of Boston, will speak of the National Conference and Women's Alliance, a branch of which was organized in Plainfield in 1892.

The Western Conference will be represented by the Rev. Ida C. Hultin, of Moline, Ill.; the Middle States Conference by Mrs. Anna W. Longstreet, of Philadelphia, President of the New Century Club; the Unitarian Sunday-school society by Mrs. Thomas J. Mumford, of Plainfield: the Southern Alliance by Mrs. George L. Chaney, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Everett, of Boston, and Mrs. F. B. Skinner of Philadelphia, will speak of the work of the post office mission at 2:30 p. m. All women are invited.

An Evening of Choice Music.

The audience in the First Baptist church last evening was a highly appreciative one, and testified by frequent and vociferous applause its enjoyment of the musical feast provided. The organist was W. E. MacClymont, and the vocalists were Miss Florence A. Underwood, soprano, and the Dresden Trio, consisting of Alfred Norbury, alto, Frederick A. Lewis, tenor, and Frederick J. Pope, baritone. The programme was as follows:

1. J. S. Bach:
   Toccata, C major.....Organ
2. Dr. Callcott:
   Peace to the Soul of the Heroes....Trio
3. (a. Dudley Buck:—At Evening, Idyll)
   (b. G. F. Handel:—Largo. Arr. Whitney) Organ
4. C. Gounod:
   "Lend me your aid," Queen of Sheba, Soprano
5. A. Guilmant:
   Grand Choeur.....Organ
6. Dudley Buck:
   The Last Rose of Summer, Var..Organ
7. Dr. Callcott:
   Who comes so dark.....Trio
8. F. De La Trombelle:
   March Pontifical.....Organ
9. Henry Lincoln Case:
   Cradle Song.....Soprano
10. Conr. Kreutzer:
    Overture—"Night in Granada,"..Organ

Though Mr. MacClymont is always a favorite, and Miss Underwood sang very sweetly, the Dresden Trio were given an especially gratifying reception. Their first selection was well received, at their second an encore was insisted on and they sang "A Little Farm Well Tilled", and at a second recall mere acknowledgement was not sufficient but they had to sing "Dame Durden".

A Brakeman Hurt.

Brakeman R. W. Cullin of New York, a new hand on the crew of the freight train drawn by Engine 408, was struck by locomotive 892 at the North avenue station while standing near his train this forenoon. His head was badly cut and bruised, but he was not otherwise injured. After receiving medical attendance at the freight-house he was taken home by train.

Flung From a Sleigh and Injured.

A nine-year-old girl when on her way to school, yesterday at 1, was permitted to ride on a grocer's sleigh for some distance. In turning from Liberty street into Fourth, the child was thrown from the sleigh and badly bruised about the head and body. The driver saw the accident but he neither slowed up nor stopped to find out the extent of the injuries.

I feel it my duty to say a few words in regard to Ely's Cream Balm, and I do so entirely without solicitation. I have used it more or less half a year, and have found it to be most admirable. I have suffered from catarrh of the worst kind ever since I was a little boy and I never hoped for cure, but Cream Balm seems to do even that. Many of my acquaintances have used it with excellent results.—Oscar Ostrum, 46 Warren avenue, Chicago, Ill.

THEY PROTEST AT TRENTON.

Anti-Race-Track Law Delegations Gather.

TRENTON, March 1—The city is filled with ministers and prominent citizens from all over the State, who came to Trenton on the morning trains to attend the big mass meeting to be held this afternoon to protest against the Parker race-track laws.

The most imposing delegation came on a special train from Union county. This delegation was headed by the Rev. Dr. E. Kempshall of Elizabeth, who for a long time has been waging a bitter war against the race tracks.

Mr. Kempshall agreed with Anthony Comstock and fully indorsed the speech made by the latter in Orange last night, that Gov. Werts, who had pronounced the race-track laws unconstitutional, ought to call out the State militia if necessary to prevent the race-track measures from going into force.

—Money could have been made to-day by renting umbrellas to shelter the women passing under the railroad bridges.

A CREEK ON FIRE.

Four Thousand Barrels of Oil Released and Set on Fire by Depredators.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 1.—The pipes of the Crescent Pipe Line company have been torn up at Mowrys Mills, 30 miles from here, and 4,000 barrels of oil poured out into the creek. The depredators chopped down a number of telephone poles, destroying communication and set fire to the oil. The burning oil destroyed a number of bridges and much valuable timber.

It is generally believed that persons living in the neighborhood, who have frequently threatened to destroy the company's property, have done this.

Electric Trunk Railway in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, March 1.—The Philadelphia & Allentown Electric Trunk Railway company has been granted a charter at the State Department, capital $1,000,000. The line will extend from Allentown to Philadelphia and touch at all the principal points between the two cities, including South Bethlehem, Cooperstown and other places.

The Vice-President-elect in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Vice-President elect Adlai E. Stevenson arrived in Washington on a special train over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last evening. He was accompanied by members of his family, a number of friends and the Illinois Democratic club of Bloomington, comprising the escort of honor.

Freight Wreck on the Jersey Central.

EASTON, Pa., March 1.—While a New Jersey Central loaded coal train was backing into a siding at Rockport at midnight it was run into by another coal train. Fifteen cars and the colliding engines were wrecked and Brakeman Wm. Lyons of Ashley was killed.

Beauregard's Estate Worth $2,000,000.

NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—The will of the late Gen. Beauregard has been probated. His estate, with the exception of a few small bequests, is left to his children. To the soldiers he gave only $500. The estate in New Orleans is worth about $2,000,000, to which is added property in St. Louis and elsewhere. He asked that his body be cremated, but as there is no crematory near here the request was considered void.

Swindled Through the "Want Column."

NEWARK, March 1.—Frederick Taylor, colored, has been arrested for swindling. He had inserted the following advertisement in various New York newspapers: "WANTED—Ladies to address envelopes. Address, with 10 cents, for trial order. Taylor Manufacturing company, Brunswick street, Newark, N. J." He had been making considerable money out of the scheme.

Old Colony Stockholders Favor the Lease.

BOSTON, March 1.—The stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad Company voted 87,092 shares in favor to 539 against upon the question of leasing the road, its franchises, etc., to the New York, New Haven & Hartford Co.

Same Old Story from Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 28.—The vote for Senator stood: Mantle, 31; Clark, 25; Dixon, 11; Kleinschmidt, 1; Toole, 1; Estill, 1. No choice.

Another Drop in Reading.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Another low record in the price of Reading during its present trouble was established within ten minutes after the Stock Exchange opened when, on rather heavy transactions, 25 1-4 was reached. This is 1-4 lower than the previous bottom price. A rally at that point, however, stopped further decline.

Re-Submission Bill Failed to Pass.

PIERRE, S. D., March 1.—The Prohibitionists in the House filibustered all day yesterday against a vote on Re-Submission. However, at 6 o'clock under a suspension of the rules the Re-Submission bill was put on its final passage and failed by a vote of 42 to 41, two-thirds being necessary to pass.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Some Call Them "the Crossroads" of the Pacific.

Something About the Country Which Has Just Applied for Annexation to the United States—Historical Matters.

The Hawaiian or Sandwich islands are in the Pacific ocean, about midway between North America and Asia. They are 2,100 miles from the American coast and are situated on the course of ships passing from San Francisco to China and Japan as well as to New Zealand and Australia.

The group is the most northerly cluster of the Polynesian archipelago and constitutes the kingdom of Hawaii. There are twelve islands in the cluster, four of which are barren rocks. The name and area of the eight principal islands are as follows:

Hawaii, 4,210 square miles; Maui, 760; Oahu, 600; Kauai, 590; Molokai, 270; Lani, 150; Kahulaui, 63; Nihau, 98. The large islands are mountainous and contain some of the largest volcanoes in the world. Kilauea, the largest active volcano in the world, is in Hawaii. Mauna Doa, the scene of an eruption in 1877, is also on this island.

The islands are said to have been discovered in 1542 by Gaetano, but Capt. Cook, first lord of the British admiralty, rediscovered them in 1778 and named them the Sandwich islands.

The natives of the islands form one of the families of the Polynesian race, which also inhabits the Marquedas, Tonga, Society, Friendly and Samoan groups and New Zealand. Although separated by 5,000 miles of ocean the Hawaiian and the New Zealander can understand each other, the similarity of language being great. The production of the lands are sugar, rice, coffee, cotton, sandalwood, tobacco, arrowroot, wheat, maize, tapioca, oranges, lemons, bananas, tamarinds, breadfruit, guava, potatoes, fungus, wool, hides and ornamental woods. The seat of government is Honolulu, located at Oahu. The islands all suffer from the want of good harbors. The best one is at Honolulu, and this is probably the reason why it is the principal town.

Prior to the time of Capt. Cook's discovery each island had a king of its own, but under Kamehameha I. they were consolidated into one kingdom. He died in 1819, and was succeeded by Liholiho, who adopted the name of Kamehameha II. It was during his reign that idolatry was abolished. The first missionaries to the islands came from America in 1820. King Kamehameha II. was ambitious to see the world, and with his queen visited England in 1824. Both were taken sick and died in London. The man who then took the throne called himself Kamehameha III., and it was during his reign that Judge William I. Lee, an American, got up a constitution for the Hawaiians. Up to 1839 the islands were governed as an absolute monarchy and upon feudal principles. Kamehameha III. signed a bill of rights in 1840 and in 1843 granted a constitution by which he surrendered the absolute rule in favor of a limited form of government by which three estates were recognized—king, nobles and people—with universal suffrage, a biennial parliament and paid representatives. This constitution and the civil and penal codes were mainly prepared by Chief Justice Lee. Judge Lee rendered great service to the nation in conferring on the common natives a third of the lands of the kingdom, which were formerly owned by the king and chiefs.

In 1843 the independence of the Hawaiian government was formally guaranteed by the English and French governments. Kamehameha III. was succeeded by Kamehameha IV. in 1854. He was succeeded by his brother in 1863. When Kamehameha V. died in 1873 it ended the line of the Kamehamehas and a chief named Lunalilo was elected to the throne. He died in 1874 and another chief, Kalakaua, was elected. In 1886 the unsatisfactory state of the public finances demanded a change in the system, and a new constitution was adopted in the following year. Under it the members of both houses of parliament are elected by the vote of all adult male subjects, under the provisions of an educational qualification on suffrage, and, in the case of the house of nobles, a property qualification. The judiciary power is lodged in a supreme court, composed of a chief justice, who is also a chancellor, and at least two judges, district courts, police and other tribunals.

King Kalakaua died at the Palace hotel in San Francisco January 20, 1891, of Bright's disease. His visit to this country was on account of his health. King Kalakaua was a great traveler. He visited this country in 1876 and visited most of the principal cities. It was his travels and extravagance that caused the financial troubles that led to a change in the form of government. Princess Lilinokalani succeeded her brother and has since been the queen of the Hawaiians. Her husband is an Englishman. The population of the islands in 1884 was 80,578. Of this total 40,014 were natives. Of the foreigners 17,939 were Chinese.

The Outside of a Lemon.

Not many people stop to think about it, but the outside of a lemon is anything but clean. If you look at it you will see some tiny spots, like scales, all over it. These are the eggs of an insect, and if the lemon is not washed they are likely to become an ingredient in whatever dish the lemon is used for.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by T. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

Ring Out the Old Landmarks, Ring in the New.

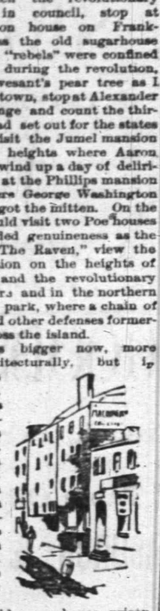
[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The town's ancient landmarks are disappearing rapidly. When I came to New York—very few even of us old New Yorkers were actually born here—when I came to New York I could drink a glass of ale at Washington's headquarters at Broadway, nibble a cheese sandwich at Fraunce's tavern and view the old room in which the revolutionary generals sat in council, stop at the old Walton house on Franklin square, pass the old sugarhouse prison in which "rebels" were confined by the British during the revolution, glance at Stuyvesant's pear tree as I was whirled up town, stop at Alexander Hamilton's grange and count the thirteen trees he had set out for the states of the union, visit the Jumel mansion on the Harlem heights where Aaron Burr lived, and wind up a day of delirious sightseeing at the Phillips mansion in Yonkers, where George Washington is said to have got the mitten. On the way back I could visit two Poe houses —both of certified genuineness as the birthplace of "The Raven," view the Claremont mansion on the heights of Riverside park and the revolutionary ruins about there and in the northern end of Central park, where a chain of block houses and other defenses formerly stretched across the island.

The town is bigger now, more beautiful architecturally, but in some respects less interesting. Cyrus Field's ten-story monstrosity stands at 1 Broadway. The Walton house has gone. Hamilton grange has been cut up into building lots, though the thirteen trees still stand. The Jumel house has been shorn of its lordly grounds. The old sugar-house prison has been pulled down within the year, and a ten or more story building is going up on the site sanctified by the sufferings of the patriots. Much of the revolutionary defenses outside of Central park has been wiped out and—



Now they are going to tear down the old City hall—relic less venerable than the others named, but dating back to the time when New York was scarcely more than a decent-sized country town.

Perhaps Chicago will buy it for removal, like Anna Hathaway's cottage and Libby prison!

The Genesis of Society.

Once there was a young man who, as he lived in Brooklyn, was very wise. He was also a newspaper writer.

There was a charity in which this young man was interested, and a fair was given to give its treasury a more plump and pleasing appearance. The young man undertook to manage it. He took an elite directory and from it addressed letters to six hundred women of high standing, informing each that she had been elected a vice president, and inclosing some tickets, which she might be willing to sell on account of her well known charitable disposition. The fair was a success. Most of the six hundred bought the tickets and a good many of them attended.

There are some things which newspaper men know how to do. Running a newspaper is of course, not one of them; only outsiders know how to do that. But this bright young man of Brooklyn was only using a trick that is old among "space writers." Ordinary readers probably don't realize how many useful societies were started in this way.

Things are a little dull with A. B., let us say. A. B. therefore resolves to found a Society of ex-Whalers. That night he goes to all the newspaper offices and offers a report of the organization of the society, including the name of some retired captain as president. "I was the only reporter there, and they made me secretary," he guilelessly remarks to the city editor.

The report gives time and place of the next meeting and perhaps a number of genuine ex-whalers turn up to swap stories about the days when sperm oil wasn't a drug in the market. If not, it makes no difference. The meeting is held and reported just the same.

Is the practice a bad one? Not altogether. Some of the most sensible and successful societies in New York have been founded in that way. Over twelve hundred people were present at the last meeting of one of them which was born in the brain of a reporter two years ago.

Living examples I cannot give, but there's no harm in saying that the proposed "Francis Folsom Cleveland Influence clubs" were started in precisely that way by a New York reporter who hasn't yet stopped bemoaning his luck because Mrs. Cleveland stopped the thing so soon. "There were columns and columns in it for me," he says.

Neither is there any harm in saying that one of the active founders of the successful Southern club was a space hunter. In that instance, however, he had active aid from the start.

If—

If hoopskirts come—

But let us not speak openly of a possibility so revolting. Paraphrase.

If there is a general return to the dress of 1830, what a stir there will be in the old furniture stores. For some years now the line of furniture most in demand has been the florid Empire styles, to match the dresses, with a sprinkling of Japanese, Persian and Russian scrollwork—Richmond, prayer rugs, antimovars and the like.

Now, in 1830 there wasn't any furniture, at least not a consistent style; in the Louis Seize period the styles were not so very distinctive. The hoop people will have to go back to old Tudor styles, seems to me. Solid old English furniture has not been in favor for some time. I've seen a magnificent black oak hall table, exquisitely carved, sold for sixty dollars at auction. If it were in style women would bid it up to five hundred dollars.

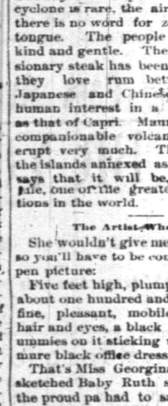
This matter of "consistent" furniture would be a serious matter to some folks. The Vanderbilts have partly built the interior of their houses from old bits. The interior wood work of the Villard houses is largely colonial, which would pass in the new dispensation. So would Mrs. Whitney's and Mrs. Cleveland's and ex-Mayor Hewit's tapestries.

"But oh! those beautiful new Empire rooms!" It's bad enough to have to replace your furniture at extravagant prices, but when you have to tear down the very woodwork of your rooms—

Perhaps they won't come, though.

Dramatic Lights.

Times have changed in the theatrical business. Our popular stage woman used to be Clara Morris. Fanny Davenport—not so very long ago, I mean—Mary Anderson and the opera queens. Who are the footlight queens most talked of in New York now? Maggie Cline, who "trowes down" the stage traditions with her brawny arms; Marie Tempest, with her poetic legs; the four French dancers in the "Black Crook;" Blanche Walsh, an unformed girl, but pretty undeniably; Minnie Seligman, who married a society man—by the way, society whispers a most piquant and naughty reason for old Cutting's anger at his son's marriage—the Chinatown widow and the variety woman. As against this swarm of celebrities, give me Lillian Russell every time. She has one gift at least. If she can't act she can at least sing like a nightingale.



It seems to me—and I put the contemptible Vaudeville club in evidence—that public taste is degenerating. But probably I'm a confounded old fogy.

The Sandwich Islands.

Upon the policy of annexing the Sandwich islands the politicians are divided.

The islands are, physically, an earthly paradise, so I gather from a doctor who's just been telling me about them. Perhaps the doctor was prejudiced from the fact that he had a cold in the head, a bad eye where some fellow had punched him in the eye with an umbrella on the stairs of the elevated and had been out all night with a refractory baby case.

Anyhow, the islands are immense. Every prospect pleases, and even the kanaka isn't so vile as he might be the doctor says. Life can be supported by only the slightest amount of labor. The sky is always smiling, the Pacific cyclone is rare, the air is balmy and there is no word for zero in the native tongue. The people are naturally kind and gentle. Their taste for missionary steak has been eradicated and they love rum better now. The Japanese and Chinese coolies are the human interest in a landscape as fifi as that of Capri. Mauna Loa is a nice companionable volcano and doesn't erupt very much. The doctor wants the islands annexed as a territory, and says that it will be, under Yankee rule, one of the greatest sanitary stations in the world.

The Artist Who Did It.

She wouldn't give me her photograph, so you'll have to be contented with this pen picture:

Five feet high, plump figure, weight about one hundred and twenty pounds, fine, pleasant, mobile features, dark hair and eyes, a black hat with thingummies on it sticking up in front, demure black office dress, age about—

That's Miss Georgina A. Davis, who sketched Baby Ruth so skillfully that the proud pa had to say it was unauthorized but very like her. Miss Davis says:

"I sympathize thoroughly with Mrs. Cleveland's desire to keep her baby to herself. I don't believe in publishing so much personal gossip. How did I get so good a picture? Oh, I simply waited till I saw the baby out of doors, dashed down a few notes for it and developed them afterward. Mrs. Cleveland's picture I worked in from her latest photograph. She looks much older than she used, but I suppose she is happy to go back to the white house again. Yes, I've been making drawings for public prints for a number of years, but if sketching Baby Ruth is to make notoriety for me I'm sorry I did it, that's all."

I've struck a good many people who didn't want to be pictured or interviewed, but, do you know, I think Miss Davis was really in earnest about it.

Sulps and Smits.

How about the Gulf stream? A year or two ago everybody was ready to swear that it had shifted about and turned in on the Atlantic coast line so as to knock out the old-fashioned winter. As Europe has had a hard winter too, is it possible that the Gulf stream is making a bee line for Spain and Liberia?

The inauguration ceremonies will beat anything that has yet been seen in Washington for impressiveness. Every new term sees a big increase in the number of the throng on Pennsylvania avenue.

The defeat of Harrison was the cruelest blow ever dealt at Depew's political prestige. And what fun democrats like Coudert poke at him in their after dinner speeches. But Chauncey is always good-natured; he will regain the proud position he has held.

Nightgowns at sixty dollars are said to promote the slumber of the exhausted dudes after the Vaudeville club's variety show is over.

Blue goes—and stays—this spring. Blue we always have with us. A blue necktie is never a mistake.

He Should Not.

She—Oh, yes, mamma and I have much the same tastes. Do you think I am like my mother?

He (an old widower)—I hope not. Your mother rejected me twenty-four years ago.—Life.

Traveler—Do you think the lynch law you have here decreases the number of murders?

Native—Well, I dunno; but it decreases the number of murderers.—N. Y. Weekly.

NOT MATCHED IN AGE.

Notable Instances Where the Husband Was Younger Than the Wife.

Mohammed was only twenty when he married Kadyah, his first wife, who was fully forty.

Anne Hathaway was seven years older than Shakespeare. Dr. Johnson's wife was double his age. She was just sixty as he turned the rounding point of thirty. Howard, the philanthropist, had a wife who was fifty-two when her husband was but twenty-five.

At the time of Jenny Lind's marriage her age was given as ten years the senior of Herr Goldschmidt.

A singularly happy marriage was that of the late Rose Terry Cooke, who died last summer, deeply lamented by a comparatively young husband. Another charmingly felicitous marriage in the literary circle of talented New England woman is that of Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, who is idolized by her young husband, Rev. Herbert Ward, African missionary and writer.

George Eliot, late in life, chose Mr. Cross, then in the thirties, to accompany her down the shadowy path of old age.

Within the memory of everybody the widow of Mark Hopkins proposed to young Mr. Searles and afterward lived very harmoniously with him until her death. Baroness Burdett-Coutts makes no secret of the fact that Mr. Burdett-Coutts is much her junior. And so the list might go on multiplying in numbers until one might fancy that half the marriages were in reversal of the first line of the old couplet, which runs:

"Man for height; woman for youth;
Woman for beauty; both for truth."

And, when the list is closed, one must add the wonderful and historic record of the beautiful Mme. Recamier, who died at seventy-two, leaving a young husband of twenty-four to mourn her loss.—Chicago Times.

Music Lessons By Proxy.

A funny story is told of Felicien David. It was when David was a young man that he gave a very successful concert in Cairo. The khedive sent for him and asked him if he would give a few lessons to the ladies of the harem. Visions of rare oriental beauties were at once pictured to the mind's eye of the young man, and he consented with enthusiasm.

He went and was ushered into a large, empty room, in which was a piano. He sat down and waited. Shortly a burly negro appeared, and for several moments stood silent. At last he asked David when he was going to give the lesson.

"When my pupils come in," replied David.

"Oh," said the negro, "you are to give the lesson to me and I am to give it to the ladies."—The Indicator.

A Wonderful Atmosphere.

Eastern Man (in Chicago)—Why do you want a big telescope here? The smoke is so thick you can't half see.

Chicago Man—That doesn't matter. Why, one night when I was going home I looked at the moon through an opera-glass and I could even see the snakes on it.—N. Y. Weekly.

Is a positive cure for all those painful Ailments of Women.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life. Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Leucorrhœa than any remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. That causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water. It removes

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility. Also

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and "want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, fleeting, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus, or

Womb Troubles.

The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book entitled "Guide to Health," by Mrs. Pinkham. It contains over 90 pages of most important information, which every woman, married or single, should know about herself. Send 2 two-cent stamps for it. For

THE STORM HAS BROKEN

New Jersey Demands the Repeal of the Race Laws.

TRENTON FILLED WITH REFORMERS

Nearly Every County in the State Answered the Call and Assembled in the Assembly Chamber—Prominent Men Make Enthusiastic speeches—A Racing Association Demands Repeal—Representative Lanning Won Over.

TRENTON, March 2.—The storm of indignation that has been gathering ever since the Legislature of New Jersey passed the disgraceful racing bills broke in Trenton yesterday, when 3,000 people, representing every walk in life, in no uncertain way voiced their disapproval of the humiliation the legislatures had brought upon their State. The capitol has seldom witnessed such a demonstration of any kind as that which the law and order people made against the race track bills and the Legislature which enacted them.

Churchmen of all denominations were present, and eminent laymen were out in uncommon force. Fully one third of the crowd was composed of women. No less than 9 of the 21 counties were represented.

The railroads ran special trains and made a special rate to Trenton, which resulted in bringing the large throng to the city.

The Camden delegation arrived first, numbering over 100 delegates, headed by Luther Kellum, chairman.

Contrary to expectation, they found that no effort was to be made to keep them out of the Assembly Chamber. Supt. Ford, who has the legal charge of the State House, had given orders that the Assembly Chamber should be placed at the disposal of its owners—the people of the State.

Rev. Dr. Kempshall, President of the League, heading over a thousand members, arrived at the State House at 12:30 o'clock. He was greeted with great applause. In the throng were President Austin Scott, of Rutgers College, and many members of the Rutgers Faculty.

There were also many members of the Princeton faculty and clergymen and eminent citizens of every city in the State.

Rev. Dr. Kempshall was at once made chairman of the meeting and he took the speaker's chair, nothing further being said about adjournment to Taylor Opera House.

As Dr. Kempshall took his seat he was greeted with thunderous applause, and he at once launched into a fiery and eloquent speech.

He addressed the meeting as "fellow citizens of the as yet free and sovereign State of New Jersey," and the applause was deafening. He had taken part in the conflict against the race track iniquity for years.

He was pastor of a church to which belonged a signer of the Declaration of Independence and from whose pulpit preached James Caldwell, the fighting parson. This church had sent 40 officers to fight for the Independence of America and he would be recreant to his duty had he not been found somewhere in the front fighting this great evil as his forefathers had fought the Red Coat and Hessians over a century ago (applause.) The later tyranny was a tyranny of vice over virtue, a tyranny of those who would trample all law under foot.

By the grace of God, although for the moment apparently defeated, the men in whose veins runs blood of that kind will yet conquer.

The flag of the Nation was not floating over the State House, but in its place the emblem of the horse and jockey. But that emblem shall not long float in defiance of the will of the people, (applause.) The eyes of all the Nation were upon New Jersey. Humiliated and disgraced now, but by the help of God the disgrace would soon be wiped out.

Before concluding, Dr. Kempshall commended the brave words of Assemblyman Lane in the Legislature, and that gentleman's name was also applauded.

The crowd in the Assembly chamber had by this time grown so great that it was decided to adjourn to the Taylor Opera House. Those present formed in procession and marched through the streets. When Dr. Kempshall called the meeting to order there the house, which is one of the largest in the State, was crowded from gallery to orchestra. In the audience was General E. Burd Grubb, late United States Minister to Spain. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Duffield of Princeton College, who closed with the Lord's Prayer, in which all joined.

A committee on resolutions, one member from each county, was then appointed, after which Dr. Austin Scott, President of Rutgers College, said that while in New Orleans he had studied the work which resulted in the abolishment of the lottery. The spirit which the good citizens had to fight there is the same spirit that dominates the race track tracks of New Jersey.

Dean McNulty of Paterson spoke from one of the galleries, scoring the gamblers and joining heartily in the sentiments expressed by the preceding speakers. After speeches by Anthony Comstock and others the resolutions were read and adopted with cheers.

A committee of 50 was appointed which will wait on the Legislature Monday evening.

ASKS FOR REPEAL

The Mutual Driving Association of Newark Condemns the Legislature.

NEWARK, March 2.—The Mutual Driving association at its annual meeting meeting condemned the Legislature for the passage of the Race Track bills, and adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That this association is not in sympathy with and heartily condemns the action of the Legislature in passing the Race Track bills, and for denying to the people of the State a hearing upon them.

With the exception of the Fleetwood association, the Mutual Driving association is the largest in the country.

Disgraceful Scene in the Idaho Senate.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, March 2.—A disgraceful scene occurred in the Senate chamber of the Idaho Legislature yesterday. Senator Buick, Populist, from Alturas county, was under the influence of liquor and made some remarks while a bill was pending that displeased Senator J. G. Brown of Bingham. Brown slapped Buick in the face and the two men indulged in a lively rough and tumble fight before they could be separated.

NO SUNDAY CONCERT.

Pension Building Can Not be Had for such a Purpose.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Secretary Noble has sent a letter to the chairman of the inaugural committee, in which he states that his attention has been called to the fact that it is the purpose of the committee to open the Pension Building on Sunday, the 5th inst., for one or more musical entertainments, to which an admission fee will be charged.

The Secretary explains that at the time of the granting of the use of the Pension Building for the inaugural ball it was not contemplated that it should be open to the public on Sunday.

As there will be opportunity on the next day during which the building will be at the disposal of the committee to give the concerts he declines to grant permission for its use on Sunday.

DEMPSEY MUST SERVE.

With Beatty, Gallagher and Davidson, He Will Be Sentenced Saturday.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 2.—In criminal court Judge Stowe refused a new trial in the case of Master Workman M. F. Dempsey, who was recently convicted of complicity in the attempt to poison Homestead non-union workmen.

Sentence was deferred until Saturday, in order that the attorneys for the defendant may have time to prepare their appeal to the Supreme Court.

Beatty, Gallagher and Davidson were remanded to jail in order that sentence may be passed upon all at the same time. Seven of the participants in the Duquesne riot were sentenced to the workhouse for terms ranging from two to six months.

ANOTHER STRIKE IN CHICAGO.

Wagon Makers Demand Nine Hours Work and Ten Hours Pay.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Nine hundred union carriage and wagon makers of Chicago have gone on strike. They demanded nine hours for a days work instead of ten, with the same pay; and that piece-workers be given an increase of 10 per cent.

One hundred firms have granted the demands and of the 1,500 makers in the city, 600 returned to work. Four of the largest manufacturers, Studebaker, Kimball, Sherman and Smith still hold out against the workmen and say they will maintain that position. The four firms employed 600 of the strikers.

MITCHELL MAKES A SPEECH.

Tells a St. Louis Audience That He Came Here to Fight with Corbett.

ST. LOUIS, March 2.—Charley Mitchell and Squire Baird arrived here last evening from Boston. During the evening Mitchell appeared at the Standard Theatre, where Jack McAuliffe is playing, and was introduced to the audience.

He received an ovation and made a short speech, reiterating that he came to this country purposely to secure a match with Corbett, and added, that his money was up and that the fight would surely come off. He will return to England and begin training, after the New Orleans tournament.

Ice Causing Damage at Far Rockaway.

FAR ROCKAWAY, L. I., March 2.—The ice in Jamaica Bay has started to break up and in consequence considerable property is being carried away. The handsome house of the Jamaica Rod and Gun Club, that cost with its furnishings $8,000, has been forced off its foundation into the bay and an extension used as a kitchen was ground into pieces by the ice. A number of floats, small boats and plank walks along the trestle of the New York & Rockaway Beach railroad, have been carried away. Several of the largest boat houses in the bay have been completely wrecked.

Wants to See His Demented Wife.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Colonel W. B. Hayes, convicted of perjury, has sent a request to the District Attorney asking that he be allowed to see his wife, who has been declared insane, by Dr. McLane, and will shortly be removed to some private institution. The request will not be granted until a certificate from the physician as to the truth of Mrs. Hayes, condition has been received.

Ryan-Dawson Match Off for Good.

NEW ORLEANS, March 2.—The Ryan-Dawson glove contest for the championship of America and Australia is off for good. Dawson weighed in yesterday according to the articles of agreement, and being under the weight, claimed the $500 and got it. It is not probable that another fight between them can be arranged as Dawson will require too much of Ryan.

Elected a Woman for the Postoffice.

NEVADA, Mo., March 2.—A curious campaign has just closed at Clayton, Vernon county. It was some time ago decided to elect the postmaster to serve under the new administration. A campaign was begun, and the election has resulted in the choice of a woman, Miss Maud A. Strite, who defeated her two male opponents easily.

Whole Family Burned to Death.

GREENVILLE, Ky., March 2.—The residence of Cyrus Lee, about four miles north of Greenville, was consumed by fire last night. The occupants, Cyrus Lee, sister and brother, wife and child, were burned with the building. There is no one left to tell the tale of how it originated. Nothing was known of it until this morning.

Rates for the Fair Not Yet Sure.

CHICAGO, March 2.—It is generally understood here that a one-fare rate for the World's Fair will prevail west of the Missouri river, but the roads between there and Chicago are unwilling to go as low as that.

TO HIDE HER SECRET?

Probable Reason for Miss Ericsen's Suicide.

HAD BEEN MELANCHOLY OF LATE

She Confided to a Friend that She Had Done "Something Wrong"—Under a Sudden Impulse the Swedish Servant Girl Threw Herself Under a Locomotive on a New York Elevated Railroad and Was Crushed to Death.

NEW YORK, March 2.—It is now said that Augusta Ericsen, the young Swedish servant, of Brooklyn, who committed suicide by throwing herself in front of an elevated train at Third avenue and 22d street, this city, last evening, committed the rash act to hide the result of her folly.

Mrs. Carleton, the young woman's employer, when seen at her Brooklyn home this morning and questioned as to what she knew concerning her past career, replied:

"Augusta was a very nice girl, only she was somewhat melancholy. We got her through a Swedish employment agency. Last Saturday night a man came to see her. She said he was her brother, but I had my doubts about it. She was very sad during the past two days."

Mrs. Gertrude Whitestone, a tenant in the house in which Mrs. Carlton lives, says:

Miss Ericsen told me the other day that she had done something wrong, but she would not say what it was."

The deed occurred on the up-town track in front of the station. Miss Ericsen dropped her ticket in the box and walked to the north end of the platform. The ticket chopper, in the story that he told before Col. Hain came down to investigate the matter, said: "I remember that the woman passed me and walked up the platform. There was a man standing near her. Just then the 4:58 train came in, two minutes late, and I turned to open the gate. I did not hear any scream or noise of any kind, but I saw that the train had come to a sudden stop. The next moment the man whom I had noticed came running up to me, saying 'a woman's run over.'

"The engineer got off the engine and came running up, too. They uncoupled the engine and drew it ahead a little way and then I saw the woman's body lying across the tracks."

Many of the passengers got off the train and gathered close to the edge of the platform. The woman's limbs had been nearly torn off, and one gloved hand lay detached upon the rail.

Ambulances and policemen were soon summoned, but it was some time before they arrived, and the road was blocked for a mile.

Finally the body was carried to the police station.

In her pocketbook was found $10.11 in money, and a card bearing her employer's address, which lead to her identification.

She was born in Sweden 20 years ago, and came to New York last spring. She spoke English fairly well, and was a quiet, well behaved girl, with a pretty figure and a rather handsome face. She was under the medium height, with light hair and blue eyes. She had been employed by Mrs Carlton only about two weeks ago.

FOUR CARS BURNED.

Many Injured in a Wreck in Arkansas on the Iron Mountain Road.

HOPE, Ark., March 2.—An awful wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain road about one mile north of this place yesterday.

The southbound passenger jumped the track, and the baggage, express, three passenger coaches and one sleeper were hurled down an embankment.

The sleeper and three coaches immediately caught fire, and in a short time were burned. The wreck resulted from using rotten crossties.

No one was killed, but 15 were injured, some of them quite badly. The injured are being properly cared for by the railroad company.

Wheeling Car Strike Growing Serious.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 2.—There is little hope of a peaceful settlement of the street car strike. Acts of violence are growing more frequent. Last night a fire, supposed to be incendiary, broke out at the car house in South Wheeling. Prompt action by the fire department prevented a disastrous blaze. Shortly after a mob attacked two non-union men, one of whom was severely wounded by a brick. The police were soon on the scene, dispersed the mob, but made no arrests. The cause of the strike was the discharge of two men for discourteslee to passengers. No wage question is involved.

Cruiser New York in Dry Dock.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The U. S. cruiser New York has been placed in the dry dock at the League Island Navy Yard for the purpose of having her twin screw propellors placed in position. She will be docked for several weeks and will then return to the Cramps' shipyard and receive the balance of her armament.

Melville tumbled downstairs and covered himself with scratches and bruises. "But I don't care," he said, proudly; "people'll think I've been in a football game."—Harper's Young People.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS

Anti-Option Defeated in the House—Confirmations in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Postoffice Appropriation bill came before the Senate yesterday, and was discussed to some extent on the question as to the route of the Southern fast mail.

That question was not disposed of when the conference report on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill was presented. The report led to a long financial discussion on the Sherman bond amendment, the result, however, being that the amendment was receded from by the Senate.

Outside of these two appropriation bills the Senate had before it in the morning hour the McGarrahan bill, which went over, however, without action, and the New York and New Jersey Bridge bill, which was taken up by a vote of 26 to 24, but disappeared immediately when the conference report was taken up—a result that rankled in the mind of Mr. Hill, and led that Senator to upbraid Mr. Allison for his share in the legislative struggle.

The time of the House was consumed principally in considering a motion made by Mr. Hatch to suspend the rules and pass the Anti-Option bill.

The debate was limited to half an hour, and as the time was doled out in two or three minute portions there was no opportunity to discuss the measure as it deserved.

Mr. Hatch made the longest speech, and that did not exceed eight minutes. He then, stating he had done his best to promote the interests of the farmers, left the subject to the House, and the House decided by a vote of 172 to 124 not to agree to Mr. Hatch's motion, a two-thirds vote being necessary under a suspension of the rules.

Some unimportant business was transacted, and the House adjourned.

General Stevenson in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Gen. Stevenson, the Vice-President-elect, and his family, spent the morning in their rooms at the Ebbitt House. They received a great number of callers, both official and personal. In the afternoon Gen. Stevenson visited the Capitol and called upon Vice-President Morton. He spent a short time on the floor of the Senate.

Gov. Russell in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Governor Russell of Massachusetts, was on the floor of the House when the Anti-option bill was defeated. During the roll call on the measures he held quite a reception, being introduced to members by Mr. Hoar.

JOHNSON'S FINAL SKATE.

He Lowers Two Records in a Minneapolis Rink—New for the Bicycle.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 2.—The skater-bicyclist, John S. Johnson, lowered the skating records for 100 and 120 yards at the Normannis rink.

The 100 yards was covered in 9 4-5 seconds from a standing start. The record was 10 1-5. The 120 yards necessitated a slight turn, but was done in 11 3-5 seconds, the record being 11 1-5. Affidavits have been made as to the correctness in every detail.

This ends Johnson's skating for the season.

He will take a rest of several weeks and then go into training for bicycle contests.

Mail Pneumatic Tubes a Success.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Postmaster General Wanamaker yesterday received a telegram from Postmaster Field indicating that the mail pneumatic tube service, just established in Philadelphia between the mainoffice and a sub station had thus far proved highly successful. Postmaster Field said that a package of fifty letters despatched from East Chestnut street station were stamped and in the hands of casers in the central office in two minutes, and that special delivery mail made one despatch earlier to New York than it would have done under the old system.

Big Fire at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 1.—Fire was discovered at noon in the building No. 40 Niagara street. The high wind blowing from the southwest drove the blaze half way across Niagara street. In twenty minutes the building was nearly gutted. The Agency building to the west and Callahan's new building, occupied by real estate dealers, caught fire from the burning building, and the firemen turned their attention to save these structures. At 1 o'clock the fire was making such headway that a general alarm was sent out.

Indiana's Lively Legislation.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 2.—The Democratic Legislative Apportionment bill was passed by the House yesterday under very exciting circumstances. Two Democrats, Bond and Wilson of Marion county, voted against the bill. The Republicans tried to object to the bill as a gerrymander and one of them, Sulzer was forced into his seat by Doorkeeper White, while attempting to characterize the bill as unjust.

Relief Committee No Longer Needed.

PITTSBURG, March 2.—The Homestead Relief Committee has ceased to exist. At a meeting of that body last night it was decided that there was no further necessity for the exercise of its functions, as there are at present no more than five or six families who stand in need of assistance, and the committee was formally dissolved.

Accident to the Majestic.

LONDON, March 2.—The White Star steamer Majestic, which arrived at Queenstown yesterday, reports that on Sunday last an accident happened to her starboard engine, and she was compelled to reduce her speed. Tuesday she traveled only 360 miles.

Results of the Storm in Michigan.

IRONEMING, Mich., March 2.—All freight trains are cancelled on all lines of railroad in the upper peninsula of Michigan because of the heavy snow drifts. Great difficulty is found in getting express trains through, many hours late.

Reading to Pay the Lehigh Rental.

PHILADELPHIA, March 2.—The receivers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company have authorized the Treasurer of the company to pay the rental due the Lehigh Valley Railroad company to date under the terms of the lease.

No Choice at Olympia.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 2.—The last senatorial ballot was: Allen, 48; Turner, 21; Griggs, 24; Van Patten, 2. Remainder scattering. No choice.

KAIULANI HAS ARRIVED

She Issues a Statement Regarding Her Position.

THINKS SHE DESERVES SYMPATHY

The Teutonic Brings Her Safely to Our Shores in Company With Her English Guardians—Mr. Davies Reads Her Manifesto, Also One of His Own—Want to Interview Mr. Cleveland.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Princess Kaiulani, niece of the deposed Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, arrived yesterday on the steamer Teutonic which sailed from Liverpool, Feb. 22. With her were Theophilus Davies and Mrs. Davies, who are the English guardians of the Princess, Miss Davies and Miss Wharton, companion to the Princess.

E. C. McFarlane, the ex-Minister of Finance to the dethroned Queen Liliuokalani, and Dr. Mott Smith, the present Hawaiian Minister to this country, went down the bay on the revenue cutter Chandler to meet the young princess. They boarded the ship immediately after she left the Health Officer's boarding station. There was quite an army of curiosity seekers on the pier to get a glympse at the Princess. A suite of rooms had been engaged for the party at the Brevoort house and they were driven there immediately after coming off the steamship.

The Princess is 18 years old. She is a tall, beautiful young woman, of sweet face and slender figure. She has the soft brown eyes and dark complexion that mark Hawaiian beauty.

She had come to the United States, she said, more for the purpose of learning and observing for herself the nature of the people who had been asked to take control of her country than to make formal petition for her crown.

"That," she said, "is rightfully mine, and if the Americans are the noble-minded people I have learned to regard them as, they will not be party to the outrage by which I have lost my birthright."

In regard to her views on the various aspects the Hawaiian government is likely to assume, Princess Kaiulani referred to her guardian, Mr. Davies, who had prepared a statement both on his own and her behalf.

The statement of Princess Kaiulani is as follows:

"TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE—Unbidden I stand upon your shores to-day, where I thought so soon to receive a royal welcome on my way to my own Kingdom. I come unattended, except by the loving hearts that have come with me over the wintry sea.

"I hear that commissioners from my land have been for many days asking this great nation to take away my little vineyard. They speak no word to me, and leave me to find out as I can from the rumors of the air that they would leave me without a home, or a name, or a nation.

"Seventy years ago Christian America sent over Christian men and women to give religion and civilization to Hawaii. They gave us the Gospel, they made us a nation, and we learned to love and trust America.

"To-day three of the sons of those missionaries are at your capital asking you to undo their fathers' work. Who sent them? Who gave them authority to break the constitution which they swore they would uphold?

"To-day, I, a poor, weak girl, with not one of my people near me, and with all those Hawaiian statesmen against me, have strength to stand up for the rights of my people.

"Even now I can hear their wail in my heart, and it gives me strength and courage, and I am strong, strong in the faith of God, strong in the knowledge that I am right, strong in the strength of seventy millions of people, who in this free land will hear my cry, and will refuse to let their flag cover dishonor to mine."

Mr. Davies read this appeal of Kaiulani, and the reading was a masterpiece. His voice trembled and his body swayed with each inflection like the palms of Hawaii in a summer breeze. Then he produced his statement of the case, which he had prepared during the voyage.

This he also read to the reporters. In it he recited how he and Mrs. Davies had been appointed guardians of the Princess during her stay in England, where she was to be educated. He told how he heard of the overthrow of Liliuokalani and wrote to the Hawaiian Minister in this country insisting upon the rights of the Princess, but had received no reply. In conclusion Mr. Davies said:

"We come here with no official status and with no official information, but with the conviction that the government and people of the United States will not lend their countenance to the disinheritance of a royal lady who has endeavored to fit herself for her high position and has shrunk from neither duty nor sacrifice in the effort.

"When Liliuokalani ascended the throne she took the usual oath, and by that constitution the Princess Kaiulani was proclaimed heiress to the throne. The Queen appears to have violated her constitutional oath and laid herself open to deposition, but that cannot affect the constitution.

Mr. Davies was delighted to learn that the question of the annexation of Hawaii had taken a new turn in the Senate and that practically it was laid over for the consideration of the next administration.

"We do not mean to get a hearing with President Cleveland in any official capacity," Mr. Davies said, "but simply as private individuals. What his decision is will sincerely be effected by our visit. The Princess felt that in the face of the threatened annexation of Hawaii by the United States, she ought to come here, where she could learn directly what was the true sentiment of the people.

"We will remain in New York until to-morrow; then we go to Boston, where we will remain until after March 4; from there we proceed to Washington where we expect to see Mr. Cleveland."

Practice Vessel Bancroft Accepted.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The practice vessel Bancroft, built by Moore & Sons, of Brooklyn, has been accepted by the Navy Department, subject to compliance with the usual conditions. The Bancroft won a premium for speed of $48,000.

Killed by a Coney Island Train.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 2.—Thomas Corbett was killed last night by being crushed beneath the wheels of a Brooklyn, Bath & West End railroad car at Coney Island.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Reform club will hold a business meeting in Reform Hall to-night.

—Hear Franklin S. Smith at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening. Admission is free.

—Joseph Laing has been confined to his home in Dunellen for some time past suffering from rheumatism.

—There is another dog in town. It came on the 8:32 train from Elizabeth, and was put off here because it had no master.

—There has been a cat imprisoned under the stoop of the City Hotel for the last eight days. It is fasting during Lent.

—Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., held a meeting in the Post rooms, Tuesday evening, and mustered in one new member.

—Mr. O'Reilly of this city played at the ball of the Independent club, at the residence of Miss Price, Bound Brook, Monday evening.

—A handful of firemen were called out at 1:30 this afternoon on a still alarm. With an extinguisher they put out an incipient blaze.

—There was a new arrival at "The Farm", last evening. She came out on a late train and hackman McCain conveyed her to her destination.

—A team of horses attached to a hay wagon, ran away from Taylor's Hotel, Dunellen, on Monday, and the driver was thrown out, breaking his leg.

—The members of the Independent Gun club had a shoot on the club's grounds in North Plainfield this afternoon. Several New York shooters participated.

—The young Daughters of the King, of Washington Park, will hold a cake sale Saturday afternoon at the rooms of the Holy Cross chapel, from 4 to 6.

—All station agents, flagmen and switchmen along the line of the New Jersey Central railroad were notified to clear the way for the Presidential train to-day.

—Six hundred dollars is the amount of money appropriated for street work at Dunellen. Most of the money is this year being used to macadamize side streets.

—Theodore VanNest found part of a gold cuff button yesterday, with the initials "F. C. B." on it. He does n't want it, and the owner can have it by calling on him.

—No more invigorating tonic can be taken at this or any other season than Leggett's famous digestive malt extract, which is being consumed in large quantities in scores of Plainfield families.

—The New Brunswick Home News says: "In Plainfield the citizens were given free the largest public hall in which to hold an anti-race-track meeting. Here the organizers of a similar meeting had to pay $50."

—Charles Carpenter, formerly general agent for the Central railroad at Dunellen, but now train dispatcher at Somerville, has moved his family back to Dunellen, in the Whitenack house on Washington avenue.

—Over a thousand people gathered at the station at 2 this afternoon, when the special train bearing president Cleveland went through on its way to Washington. Councilman Frazee got the cannon from THE PRESS office and fired a round of salutes.

—Henry Drake is planning to enlarge his building on North avenue. His intention is to extend the building back to the railroad and put flats overhead. Mr. Drake has recently been granted an increase of pension for his services in the late war.

—It's a shame for the Republicans to try to make so good a man as A. V. D. Honeyman a scapegoat. They can't elect the best candidate they can name, and a good man should not be sacrificed. The graceful thing to do is to make no opposition to Mr. Saunders.

—A young girl while crossing West Front street, last evening, dropped some money in the gutter. A young lad who thought himself smart picked the money up and ran away as fast as his legs could carry him. Then the girl stood crying and sobbing until one of the stewards at the Union County Country club, came along, and, learning of the girl's mishap, thrust his hand into his pocket and gave the girl the necessary funds required. It is believed the girl was out doing some errands for her mother.

THE REJUVENATED LEAGUE.

Complete Reorganization Puts the Crescents on Their Feet.

Richard's himself again. Last night the Crescent League effected thorough reorganization, and is now fairly launched on a career of renewed prosperity.

The new constitution and by-laws were adopted, by which the government of the league is put into the hands of a board of governors. These were elected for the coming year as follows:

Charles P. Leggett, president; Clarence Teel, vice-president; George Hallock, secretary; R. A. Meeker, treasurer; W. B. Codington, L. B. Woolston, J. A. Sangston, W. H. Lyon, O. L. Jenkins.

There was much comment on a man who had been a member only 10 minutes being put on the board to the exclusion of old-time faithful ones.

The old board of trustees resigned in a body.

The new constitution provides that the board of governors shall be fully under the control of the members. They shall meet once a week, and be ready to make financial showing at any time.

Ex-trustee W. A. Codington will settle all the league's old claims in a day or two.

A PATCHWORK CHARTER.

THAT'S WHAT EX-MAYOR RANDOLPH CALLS PLAINFIELD'S PARCHMENT.

More Interest, He Urges, Should Be Taken in the Primaries—Politics Ought to Be Cast Aside for the Work of Local Reform—Reorganization the One Chance to Break up the Old Ring—Hot Shots on the Water-Works and School Board Matters.

In his rousing speech before the anti-race-track gathering, in Music Hall, last Sunday afternoon, that sterling ex-mayor, Lewis V. Fitz Randolph, delivered some sharp local hits, that must have made some of the targets who were present in the audience, squirm. For instance, he said:

"The fact is, that there is nothing that the average American citizen deals with in such a slovenly manner as he does with his politics, and with his rights and duties of citizenship. These duties we treat in the same 'cavalier' manner as did the people (in the Saviour's parable) the royal invitation to the feast. One goes to his farm, another to his merchandise. The political duty is the last one thought of, or the one most easily forgotten. Even if we warm up at all on political discussion, it is not so much the question of good morals, of honesty, of purity, of the civil service, that interests us most. We waste rather our energies in the discussion of minor topics. Shall a certain man's political ambition be gratified? shall a certain industrial interest be more or less protected and favored? Shall we, or shall we not, worship the newest political fetish?

"For one, I confess to an occasional feeling of discouragement and disgust in matters of politics. What has the question of the manufacture of tin-plate to do with keeping our State rid of race-track gamblers? What has tin-plate to do with the reconstruction, from year to year, of our own Common Council? Apparently it has everything to do with it. Of course I use the word 'tin-plate' in a somewhat representative significance. I have my own thought about the tariff. On the whole, I believe in a reasonable protection; but, should this thought, whether or not a correct one, govern everything that I do or say as a citizen! Yet so it is, that whenever we have a primary, it is a Tin-plate, or an anti-Tin-plate primary. Whenever we have a political convention, we draw the same absurd line. Have you heard of any State convention of either party, or of any party, which took and held broad and practical views on ethical subjects? It would seem, at least, that we might do it here in our own city; but experience is largely to the contrary.

"A year ago on a similar occasion, and from this platform, I ventured to point out the need of ORGANIZATION on the part of good citizens to protect their material and moral interests. If such an organization had been in efficient operation throughout the State during the past year, this race-track scandal could not have followed. There should be local organization and State organization, and the two should co-operate and be one.

Look at the present heterogeneous condition of our statutes. Think of the patchwork charter and body of special municipal enactments under which this city is operated. And all this still further disfigured, rather than amended, with such general legislation as has been tagged to it. The whole needs codifying and reforming. There is always some way, as things are, to carry out a selfish scheme at the expense of the community. If it cannot be done through the Council, it may through the Legislature; if not by new general enactment, then, some dead-and-buried enactment of the past is exhumed, and the Council is scared or cajoled [as in the water-works matter] into recognizing it as a living verity. Who does not know that the amendment now sought to our school law was, at least, as much needed, and as proper to be obtained, years ago, as now? And who really knows now, by actual study, much about the merits of the whole body of law, and administration, thus sought to be amended?

"Other evils are threatening us. There are a nong us those who even claim to be moral reformers, who are seeking to break up the observance and usefulness of our Christian Sabbath. This, too, is in a way to be accomplished, and will be accomplished, from present indications. To counteract this, what have we in the way of active moral forces? We have much that is available and we have warm-hearted, stanch, loyal men and women. We have a free press and we have the ability to think and to plan. What we need are united study, co-operation of intelligent Christian minds: these leading on to the reform of our laws, the protection of our interests, and the conservation of public morals."

His Foot Went Through the Window.

Jeweler Seibert, of West Front street, removed to Boun Brook, Tuesday, and while taking down his window shades he slipped and fell from the orange box on which he was standing. One of his feet went through one of the large panes of glass in the front window. Seibert was only slightly hurt.

The Seven Hatters May Strike.

Trouble seems to be brewing among the seven finishers employed at the hat shop on Clinton avenue. Ed. Wilson, one of them, said that the men would make a demand for ten cents more on the dozen. The present rate is $1.15 a dozen, he says, and the men want $1.25.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 8-28-7

HONEYMAN FOR MAYOR.

After Much Casting About, the Newspaper Man Is Nominated.

The North Plainfield Republicans are in sore straits. They can't possibly elect any man for mayor against the universally esteemed Wm. L. Saunders, who will be renominated by the Democrats to-morrow night. Mr. Saunders has conducted so admirable an administration that he can't now be spared in view of the problems that are to be decided this year, in which his practical knowledge and executive ability are needed. Yet in spite of all this, the Republicans insist on putting up a man to be knocked down.

At their primary in the basement of the school-house, last evening, B. A. Hegeman, jr., was first named, by P. A. Emmons, for mayor. He was absent, but his father said for him that he positively would not accept. L. B. Woolston suggested striking off the jr. Dr. Carman was named, but as THE PRESS had predicted he positively declined. H. N. Spencer's active mind decided that some dark horse who was not present to decline would be the only one likely to stay on the ticket over night. He therefore nominated A. V. D. Honeyman, owner of the Trenton Times, stockholder in the Somerville Unionist Gazette, and editor of the New Jersey Law Journal. Mr. Spencer's encomium was: "He is a sterling Republican and a first-class man." Mr. Honeyman was unanimously nominated, and everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

The efficient officers of the evening, for both township and borough meetings were: Justus H. Cooley, chairman; Horace J. Martin, secretary. The nominations were all unanimous. There was no opposition to anything. Most of the candidates are re-nominees. Here's the list:

TOWNSHIP.

For Town Clerk—Horace J. Martin.
For Town Committeeman—Elias Allen.
For Overseer of the Poor—J. W. A. Bauersachs.
For Justices of the Peace—Thomas R. Crosley, Daniel Acker.
For Commissioners of Highways—Michael Powers, Joseph P. Humble.
For Commissioners of Appeal—James S. Lanser, D. R. Weaver, Johnathan Clawson.
For Constables—John W. VanHorn, Thomas McDonald, Job Coddington.
For Pound Keepers—Patrick Egan, Godfrey Reick, Samuel Taynor, John Stein.
For repair of roads outside of the borough—$1,000. ($400 to remain in hands of township committee).
For support of poor—$1,500 ($500 to remain in committee's hands).
Salary town committeemen, $50 year.

BOROUGH.

For Mayor—A. V. D. Honeyman.
For Councilmen—George F. Edwards, Robert Fountain. (Charles P. Sebring, George Hallock, J. B. Josephs and T. W. Morrison all were suggested, but declined.)
For roads—$2,500 ($500 on Somerset street.)
For borough purposes—$1,500.
For board of health—$500 [a very commendable increase, as suggested by THE PRESS].

P. A. Emmons, H. E. Needham and H. N. Spencer were appointed a committee to fill vacancies.

Will Mr. Honeyman Accept?

To a PRESS reporter this noon Mr. Honeyman said that he had not yet had time to consider the matter of accepting; he had yet to look into the question of whether or not it was desirable that a Republican candidate should run against Mr. Saunders.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. V. Schuyler, of Broadway, is at Lakewood for the week.

After a residence of ten years at Greenbrook, Mrs. S. Woods has removed to Dunellen.

Mrs. Theo. Wilson of Somerset street presented her husband with a five-pound baby girl on Tuesday.

Jacob Conde, a Pond employe, is happy over the advent of a baby girl. The little one arrived on Monday.

A. Venino will give a concert in the Casino April 6, assisted by the Beethoven String Quartette of New York.

The condition of Mrs. J. C. Pope of West Fourth street, who was paralyzed on the left side, about two weeks ago, is reported as no better.

Peter Fullenbach, of West Front street, and Miss Julia Dorrer of Cranford, will be married at the bride's residence during the first week in June.

Mrs. G. F. Randolph, of Grandview avenue, leaves for Washington to-morrow to visit friends and witness the inauguration of President Cleveland.

The wedding of E. Edgar Milliken and Miss Mattie W. Bennett, will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Prospect avenue, Dunellen, at 7.

Dr. Francis C. Husson, the aged physician who died in New York a day or two ago, was formerly a resident of this city, and his remains will be interred by undertaker Cassy in St. Mary's cemetery.

To-night the Crescents will be in Elizabeth to roll a league game with the Y. M. C. L. A., and a lively contest it will probably be. The Alcyones are now in third place, having whipped the Roselles Tuesday night.

About thirty-five of the women members of the Gesang and Turn Verein, tendered a birthday surprise party to Mrs. Henry Weidemeyer at Gesang Hall, yesterday afternoon. There were singing, addresses, and a bountiful collation. There was also bowling at which Mrs. Joseph Haurand won the first prize.

George F. Randolph, of 49 Grandview avenue, who was a student of Charles Schermerhorn, and night operator at the North avenue station in 1874, enters the fast telegraphers' tournament, in New York city, March 19, using a special improved Caligraph typewriter. He claims it to be very easy to copy 60 messages an hour on a machine, and thinks the speed will reach from 75 to 90 messages in this tournament. Men have already left San Francisco and other points to contest for the prizes offered.

DANIEL HULETT'S WILL.

HIS PLAINFIELD BROTHER WANTS THE COURT TO SET IT ASIDE.

An Action Begun By Frank M. Hulett, Who Has Secured the Services of New York Attorneys—A Detective Employed to Obtain Evidence—Plaintiff Claims the Will was Obtained by Fraud.

(From The Gloversville, N. Y., Journal.)

Mayor Clark L. Jordan and Nelson H. Anibal, executors of the estate of the late Daniel W. Hulett, have been served with a summons and complaint in a supreme court action brought by Frank M. Hulett, brother of the deceased, through Palmer, Boothby & Warren, insurance attorneys, with an office in the Stewart building, New York city, to set aside the will of the deceased Hulett. The summons in the complaint was served upon Messrs. Jordan and Anibal last Friday, the 17th inst. It will be recalled that Hulett at the time of his death was insured for $20,000, the amounts being in several different companies. The will was made Nov. 12 1892. It was admitted to probate Jan. 9, 1893. For several days last week T. J. Sharkey, a detective in the employ of the insurance companies which are endeavoring to set aside the will, has been in Gloversville looking up evidence in the case.

FRAUD CLAIMED.

The complaint sets forth in substance that the paper in writing is not the last will and testament of Daniel W. Hulett; that the deceased was not in sound mind when the will was made; that the attesting witnesses to the alleged will did not either of them sign his name as witnesses at the request of the deceased; that the will was obtained by fraud and that the will was not sufficiently proved before Surrogate Keck. The persons named as defendants in the action are Nelson H. Anibal, Clark L. Jordan, Allen P. Hulett, Eliza A. Ullman, Hattie L. Hulett, Myron C. Hulett, Lucy E. Hulett, Susan A. Searles, Hattie A. Smith and Emmet Cole. It is understood that the proceedings were instituted at the suggestion of A. P. Hulett, father of the deceased, and whom the latter neglected to remember as a beneficiary. By the provisions of the will Frank M. Hulett, the plaintiff in the action, was given $1,000.

IS THERE A CONSPIRACY?

If he succeeds in having the will set aside he will not be able to recover one dollar, owing to the survival of the deceased's wife and father. It is possible, however, that the attorneys for the insurance companies may have guaranteed the young man something better than $1,000 if they win their case. Frank Hulett, who is in business at Plainfield, N. J., was supposed to have been friendly toward his brother at the time of his death, and to have approved of the will in question. Recent developments, however, would indicate that certain influences have been brought to bear to cause Frank to change the apparent amicable relations supposed to have existed between himself and brother previous to the latter's death. Messrs. Jordan and Anibal do not think the courts will set aside the will, which they believe to have been correctly made an honestly protected.

"Aunt Bridget's Baby."

A rollicking farce company is to be seen in "Aunt Bridget's Baby" at Music Hall, Tuesday of next week. It is said to be the sort of play to catch the popular fancy. George W. Monroe, as Aunt Bridget, is an amusing actor and makes much out of his part. His make-up and facial expressions are works of art, and his portrayal of a good-natured Irish woman of wealth is all that could be desired. Miss Nellie Rosebud, as Aunt Bridget's Baby is a charming little actress, and certainly fills the rule. She is young, pretty, vivacious, and easily wins the good will of an audience. Thos. J. Ryan plays the part of Orea McFee; he is one of the neatest dancers on the stage, and the various roles he fills are well portrayed. The part of the old Bosun is in capable hands, and Louis Foy handles it with good judgment. Miss Lottie Hyde, who plays the dancing teacher, has a pair of agile legs, and dances herself into favor. There are, in fact, many pretty girls in the company, and with songs, dances and funny sayings, the play is sure to amuse all lovers of musical farce comedy.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by I. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

NEEDED IN THE SCHOOLS.

Why Manual Training Should Be Added to Plainfield's Course of Instruction.

An effort is being made by philanthropic women of Plainfield to secure that invaluable educational influence, manual training, for the Plainfield public schools; and it is with the idea of helping the movement that the Hon. Charles H. Ham of New York will lecture in All Souls' church, March 16. Mr. Ham's views on the need of brawn education as well as brain, are interesting. He says:

"When labor was only another name for a state of slavery, to teach men to labor skillfully, was merely to raise them to a little higher grade of servitude. Hence it is only at a very recent period that it has occurred to mankind to teach skilled labor in the schools. All educational systems, our own among the rest, seem to have been intended to make lawyers, doctors, priests, statesmen, litterateurs, poets. But this is the age of steel, the age of machines and machinery. Tremendous forces in nature have been discovered and utilized, and these discoveries, and their utilization have so multiplied rash enterprises that the importance of the more ornamental branches of learning is dwarfed in their presence. This is the practical age, and an educational system which is not practical is nothing. We shall still have our Tennysons and our Longfellows and our doctors of abstract philosophy; but there is little time to sentimentalize with the poets or speculate with the philosophees. There is work to do. The mine is to be explored and its treasures brought to the surface; more and more powerful machines are to be constructed to bear the burdens of commerce; new elements of force are to be discovered and applied to the constantly increasing wants of mankind. The civilized boy in school is taught many theories, but is not required to put any of them in practice; hence he enters upon the serious duties of life unprepared to discharge any of them. It may be said that he is in real danger of the penitentiary until he learns a profession or a trade. The fact that the skilled workman is far more likely than the common laborer to keep out of the penitentiary is a powerful argument in favor of joining manual training to the mental exercises of our common schools. The general adoption of a comprehensive system of mechanical education in the public schools would quickly dispel the unworthy prejudice against labor which taints the minds of the youth of the country. The splendid career which this age opens to the educated mechanic would become clear to the vision of every boy in the land, and he would see, in the tools he was taught to handle, the key not only to fair success, but to wealth and fame."

Edward Atkinson says: "We are training no American craftsmen."

Prof. Barbour, of Yale college, says: "Our schools are suffering from congestion of the brain; too much thought and too little putting it in practice."

James McAllster, superintendent of schools in Philadelphia, says: "We must not close our eyes to the fact that by far the larger number of men in every civilized community are workers to whom a skilled hand is quite as important as a well-filled head."

Now what does Plainfield say? Let everyone go to hear Mr. Ham's talk, and then render a verdict.

Why Mr. Crawford's Readings Will Delight His Hearers.

One of the great pleasures of hearing Crawford, the novelist, read from his own works, is the fact that the author reveals in every sentence, how real his stories are to him, and they thus become more vivid than ever, to his hearers. His reading is, in other words, a living and breathing interpretation of his written works, and it is marked by simplicity and sincerity. "All the world loves a lover"; and to Mr. Crawford's romantic and beautiful delineations of the tender passion, he perhaps owes his success as a writer, more than to any other single cause. Hence it is not surprising to find that his reading of the love passages in his novels is especially satisfactory.

It was recently asked by a Plainfield lady "Is not Mr. Marion Crawford an excellent man of business? He always seems to hit the popular taste!" The friends of the novelist know that his success in pleasing the taste of the world at large lies in the fact of his wide and ready sympathy with men and things, his warm-hearted, romantic nature. His rendering of a very beautiful descriptive passage from "The Children of the King" is one of the best things that he has done, and it called forth an enthusiastic tribute of praise from the pen of that gifted woman, Louise Chandler Moulton, the poetess. It is hoped that Mr. Crawford will read this passage, among others, to his Plainfield audience, on Saturday night, March 4. The "Children of the King" is one of his best works, and all lovers of good books should procure a copy. Macmillan & Co., of New York, are the publishers.

SHOT AT HIS DAUGHTER.

But Subsequently Captured and Held to Await the Action of the Grand Jury.

Henry Wendel of South avenue, Dunellen, is accused of making a desperate effort to shoot his daughter yesterday morning.

Wendel keeps a boarding house. During Tuesday night he was attacked with some sort of a spell. Early in the morning, it is alleged, he shot twice at his daughter. The first shot grazed her forehead, and the second punctured her coat on the left shoulder. The girl and all the other inmates of the house then ran out and escaped.

Constable Warden was notified. He went to the house, but found it barricaded and Wendel stood at a front window threatening to shoot anyone who ventured to enter.

Finally he was coaxed to accompany the officer to justice Peter Huff's office, where the revolver was taken away and the accused was held to await the action of the Middlesex county grand jury.

JUDGE WADSWORTH RIGHT.

The Verdict of the Jury Which Disregarded His Charge, Is Set Aside on Appeal.

Last November, a Plainfield jury disregarded the instructions given to them by justice L. F. Wadsworth in his charge. The case was that of Newhall vs. Moore. The jury found a verdict in favor of Moore. The justice told them that Mr. Newhall would undoubtedly appeal to a higher court and the verdict would be set aside in a jiffy. The jury, however, thought they knew more law than did the justice. It has turned out that the justice was right, and the jury was wrong. Judge McCormick and a jury yesterday heard the trial on appeal. Craig A. Marsh appeared for Newhall, and Wm. K. McClure for Moore. Newhall won. Judge McCormick charged the same as justice Wadsworth. Newhall will get $140, besides costs of suit, being the amount he demanded with interest besides.

Bishop Vincent Decides that Liquor Selling is a Legitimate Business.

Bishop Vincent of the Methodist Episcopal church has handed down a decision in the case of Frank W. Palmeter and William C. Briggs, druggists, of Jamestown, Chautauqua county, New York, who were charged with violating the discipline of the church in doing business under a storekeeper's license.

The Bishop finds that the accused have not violated the rules of the church. He holds that as the church recognizes the propriety, under certain conditions, of the sacramental and medicinal use of wine and other alcoholic liquors, it would be unreasonable to refuse to a Christian druggist the right to conduct a legitimate business, so held by State and church. He says that the fact that the State has enacted license laws, liable to abuse by unprincipled men, is not a sufficient reason for refusing a Christian the right to conduct a legitimate business.

Pleasant Birthday Surprise.

A pleasant birthday surprise party was given last evening to Miss Lucy Westphal, at her residence, 301 South Second street. Forty young people were present. After games and songs, the parlor was cleared for dancing, and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly. D. McInnes called the party to order and after a few stirring words on behalf of himself and the company presented Miss Westphal with a handsome Bible, wishing her many happy returns of the day. The music was furnished by Wm. Nicholson. After a few more songs and dances, the happy young people parted for their separate homes, being very much pleased with the evening's event. Refreshments were served in abundance.

Plainfield's Players in Paterson Hands.

It is understood that manager Ramsey of the Paterson base-ball team will put a professional team in the field next season, and that he will send a semi-professional team here to enter the Central New Jersey League. Murphy, Bonner and Leidy are spoken of as three of the team. Ramsey, it is said, has been boasting that he has signed all of the Crescent League players except Murphy and Leidy. The latter, especially, played good ball last season, and is worthy of a good place in the base-ball world during the coming summer.

They All Caught It from a Boarder.

Elizabeth K., only daughther of Mr. and Mrs. John Vosselman, formerly of this city but now of Titusville, died yesterday of typhoid fever. She was a lovely young woman, in her twenty-third year, and greatly endeared to all her associates.

Mr. and Mrs. Vosselman also are very low with the disease, which was contracted by all three of the family from a boarder in the house.

Mr. Vosselman was formerly a harness maker in North Plainfield. His adopted daughter is the wife of Charles Seibel.

The healing and purifying qualities of Salvation Oil render it the best article for the speedy cure of ulcerated sores. 25c.

The best worm for you should be a visit of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Why? Because their line of dullness with debility or headache means that your liver isn't doing its part. One of these little Pellets does the right thing in the right way.

They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels—thoroughly and effectively, but mildly and gently. They persuade, rather than force. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet's a gentle laxative; three to four are a cathartic. They're the smallest, but the best. There's less to take, but there's more good in it, when it's taken. They're the original Little Liver Pill, and they've never been equaled. Sick and Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

WANTS HIS MEN PROTECTED.

Sad Choice to Make the Chicago Police Mother Thus Furnishes.

CHICAGO, March 2.—President Thomas of the Fort Line has applied to Chief McClaughrey of the police for protection for his switch tenders, several of whom have been assaulted recently by the strikers while at their places they took.

Mr. Thomas said something about employing Pinkertons to assist the police, and gave him to choose between them, that the police would not be allowed on guard duty where the Pinkertons were employed.

He concluded to rely upon the police alone.

Fell on a Screw Driver and Will Die.

NEWARK, N. J., March 2.—James O'Day was working on the dock at Harrison yesterday when he slipped on the ice and fell upon his back. He carried a kit of tools in his back and a long screw-driver was driven into his back five inches, piercing one of his lungs. He cannot recover.

State Workmen Discharged.

READING, Pa., March 2.—To reduce the expenses of operating the Philadelphia & Reading railroad under the administration of the receivers, 50 workmen have been discharged on the Lehigh division.

One More Chance in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., March 2.—Yesterday's vote for Senator stood as follows: Mantle, 39; Clark, 24; Dixon, 12; Hall, 1; Waits, 1. No choice. To-day is the last day of the session.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The Wisconsin House has passed a bill abolishing days of grace.

—The marble polishers, bed rubbers and sawyers of the Pick Marble & Granite company and of the Bradbury Marble company of St. Louis have struck. The men demanded a reduction of hours from ten to nine with ten hours pay.

—Gov. Flower has signed the bills establishing the Matteawan State hospital, appropriating $6,000 for improving the westerly channel of the Hudson at Coxsackie, $6,000 for improving the easterly channel at Stuyvesant, and $4,000 for repairing the dikes at Mull's Light, Pixtoway Island and Greenbush.

One Convert Affects.

TRENTON, March 2.—Assemblyman James W. Lanning, of this city, called upon the Rev. Dr. Shaddiford this morning and announced that he had determined to change his vote on the race track question, and that, although he had voted for the bills at all stages, he would vote in favor of their repeal.

Flooded With Worthless Money.

OTTAWA, March 2.—In the House of Commons Mr. Guillet complained that Canada was being flooded with American silver worth less than 90 per cent. of its face value. The Minister of Finance promised an investigation, and said that Canadian and British money could be the only legal tender.

Train Stalled Over Three Days.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 2.—Train Number 3 from this city for Saginaw, which has been stuck in a drift near Wyoming on the Grand Rapids & Indiana road, since Thursday morning, was released this morning, and trains are now running on the road.

Remarkable Coincidence.

Dr. Squills (eminent specialist)—Now there was the case of a man named Stoplinger, who had half his brains shot away in a street brawl some years ago and is still alive.

Editor of Literary Magazine—Stoplinger? Not J. Xenophon Stoplinger?

"Yes. That was his name."

"Why, he's the author of the new society novel that's having such a run!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Sure Sign.

Clara—I am sure that George loves me and will make me his wife.

Jennie—Has he proposed?

"He has not exactly proposed, but I know he is going to. There is one thing that convinces me of it."

"What's that?"

"He's stopped calling me 'Miss Jones.'"

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 1-18-7

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

GOLDEN WORDS OF TRUTH.

We Have Our Pastor's Assurance of These Facts.

The Word of Ministers Taken as the Strongest Proof.

Persons Believe The Pastor Before Anyone Else in the World.

There are no words so strong as those spoken by the true minister of the gospel. One knows and feels instinctively that such words come from the heart and are prompted only by the earnest purpose of doing good to humanity.

We do not wonder, therefore, at the great influence with the public of the strong and ringing words of praise which the eminent divine, Rev. C. D. B. Meacham, gives that most wonderful of medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. When he was run down in health weak in nerves, prostrated in strength, and with his blood badly impaired, he was restored to sound and vigorous health by this marvellous health renewer.

Here are the exact facts in his own words:

"I am very glad to say in regard to Dr. Greene's great remedy that when my blood was badly impoverished by an old scrofula humor, and my nervous system was greatly impaired, Dr. Greene's medicine gave me wonderful relief.

"At the present time my health is as good as at any time in my life, and my confidence in Dr. Greene's remedy is constantly increasing.

REV. C. D. B. MEACHAM,
Pastor Baptist church, Townshend, Vt.

Doubtless the same heartfelt sympathy and great desire to see the sick made well inspired the Rev. Dr. J. W. Walker, Presiding Elder of the Methodist church, Fort Dodge, Ia., to also recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to the sick and suffering. He, too, has used it himself; he, too, knows that it cures, that it is sure to make the sick well if they use it.

"I have given Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy a fair test, and am free to say that I consider it rightly named. I have recommended its use to several. REV. J. W. WALKER, Presiding Elder, Fort Dodge, Ia.

We have published the testimonials of vast numbers of people who were cured by the use of the great discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy but we take more pleasure in giving to the world Rev. Mr. Meacham's own words and those of Rev. Mr. Walker in regard to the wonderful benefits they received from this valuable remedy, because we realize that the earnest words of a minister will have great weight with sufferers from disease, and everybody who reads their convincing words in regard to the sure and remarkable curative powers of this medicine will lose no time in securing a bottle and thus obtain a cure.

Above all use this great remedy in the spring, for it is the best spring medicine in the world. Almost everybody needs to use a spring medicine to invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and start up a healthy action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. Be sure and use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy; it is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and is kept by all druggists at $1.

Its discoverer is the well known Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, who gives consultation and advice free to the sick, personally or by letter. The sick should use immediately Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, for it is not only the best remedy ever discovered, but those using it have the privilege of consulting Dr. Greene, personally or by letter, concerning its effects, their health, etc. This fact alone guarantees the assurance of cure. If you need a medicine do not fail to take this best of all remedies.

THE PANAMA SUSPECTS.

Some of the Men Indicted by the French Courts.

Interesting Figures Submitted by the Government Accountant — Dr. Cornelius Herz, the Bete Noire of French Politicians—M. Eiffel's Bad Showing.

[Special Letter.]

M. Flory, the expert accountant employed by the French government to examine the books of the ill-fated Panama Canal company, has just submitted a report to the parliamentary committee in charge of the scandal. From his statement it appears that the total amount subscribed and paid the company for the construction of the canal was about $287,000,000. Of this amount about $24,000,000 were spent on the management of the concern; and about $50,000,000 were required to pay interest on coupons of bonds issued to carry on the work of construction. The amount actually expended on the canal itself was not more than $110,000,000. The balance of the money paid in by the shopkeepers and small capitalists of France was pocketed by the directors or spent for the purpose of securing the support of the venal press of Paris and buying up members of the chamber of deputies and the senate. The total amount paid to the workmen engaged in the actual construction of the canal was, according to M. Flory, about $21,400,000. One-fifth of the work as originally contemplated was completed when the bubble exploded, and it is therefore safe to say that, had the canal company's affairs been managed honestly, the waterway would now be open to vessels of all nations. Certainly the sum paid in by the stockholders would have been sufficient to make old de Lesseps' project a complete success.

Some of the French legislators and ex-ministers now imprisoned in the Mazas prison at Paris are trying hard to clear themselves at the expense of gentlemen residing in foreign countries. The charge has been made that several millions of the Panama corruption fund found their way to the United States. The accusation was made in so sensational a manner that congress had to notice it, and upon motion of a New York representative in the house a committee has already been appointed to investigate the American end of the French sensation.

But if the statements of M. Baihut, ex-minister of public works, are to be believed, the arch-conspirator in the Panama frauds was Dr. Cornelius Herz, a cosmopolitan adventurer known in all parts of the civilized world. The doctor was promptly indicted by the Parisian courts when his connection with the score or more of discredited French statesmen became known, and he will no doubt make a fierce fight against the extradition proceedings instituted by the French government. When the air began to be heavy with rumors of official dishonesty the clever doctor left Paris and sought refuge in England, where he is now living with his family.

Dr. Herz is one of the unique characters of the nineteenth century. He was born at Besancon, in eastern France, of German parents. His father and mother established themselves in the United States forty-one years ago and became naturalized citizens. He is now about forty-six years of age. His life was spent in Europe and America. He studied medicine at Heidelberg and Vienna and Paris. Subsequently he became deeply interested in electricity, and organized stock companies in San Francisco and other American cities. Some of his schemes were, at the time of their inception and collapse, stigmatized as swindles, but it is only fair to say that the law never was appealed to to secure his conviction in American courts.

M. DE FREYCINET.

The organization of the Panama Canal company took him to France. He became the confidential adviser of Baron de Reinach, the famous financier whose sudden death a few months ago startled the world. When the canal company stood in need of government support Dr. Herz became the chief briber of the enterprise. His mission, according to fairly good authority, was to win over to the schemes proposed by Reinach and his colleagues cabinet ministers, senators, deputies and persons of large influence in every walk of life. He is supposed to have handled enormous sums of money and to have saved no less than $2,500,000 out of the corruption fund for private purposes. The indictment returned against him in Paris, under which he was arrested in England, specified $120,000 received by him from Charles de Lesseps and $400,000 from Baron de Reinach. His expulsion from the Legion of Honor is the latest public rebuke inflicted on him by the angry Parisians.

When the average Frenchman becomes suspicious he is hardly to be endured. Popular sentiment—the most uncertain thing in the world—was turned in a single hour against anything and anybody connected with Dr. Herz in the remotest way. Statesmen who labored for years to make the French republic respected at home and abroad were dethroned and vilified. Even so eminent a man as M. de Freycinet, who had served his country with almost incredible devotion since the overthrow of the Napoleonic dynasty, was swept aside by the senseless thirst for revenge and sensation. The only charge against him was a superficial acquaintance with Dr. Herz, the bete noire of French politics. Others shared a similar fate, but it is to be presumed that they, as well as M. de Freycinet, will stand in a brighter light than ever before when the official examination is brought to a close. Among notable statesmen indicted, but since exonerated, are ex-Minister Rouvier, Senators

Grevy, Beral, Dives, Renault and Deputies Fanconnia and Proust.

Americans were pained to hear that M. Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, the famous French engineer with a German name, could not face the juge d' instruction without compromising himself. If the cable is to be trusted, M. Eiffel has made the admission that his connection with the Panama company's affairs netted him the enormous amount of $6,000,000. M. THE MAZAS PRISON.

name, was born in Dijon in 1832. He has long been regarded as one of the most skillful of living engineers, and has performed many tasks more important than the tower whose construction gave him international fame. He was the first to introduce into France caissons worked with compressed air. Among his principal works are the large iron bridge over the Garonne, at Bordeaux; the bridge over the Douro, at Oporto; the great viaduct at Garabit, in Cantal; that over the Tardes, near Montlucon, and the wonderful revolving cupola of the Nice observatory. M. Eiffel has always been considered a bon vivant, and his sense of honor seems to have become blighted by constant association with men without principle.

Charles de Lesseps is the squealer of the Panama conspiracy. Upon his testimony a number of eminent men have been arrested and incarcerated with him in the Mazas prison, an institution familiar to all readers of French detective literature.

The Mazas prison is a house of detention. In it are located the offices of the judge d' instruction, an official who is a mixture of prosecuting attorney and grand inquisitor. The examining magistrate in the Panama investigation is M. Franqueville, one of the shrewdest handlers of high-toned criminals in Europe. The powers of this officer are almost unlimited. He can cite persons suspected of crimes to appear before him at all hours of the day and night. He can harass prisoners without fear of comment or criticism, confront them with evidences of their guilt, fatigue and frighten them, and wring from them admissions of guilt which can be used in the jury trial against the suspect. M. Franquerille has treated the Panama suspects with great rigor. Social and political influences have had no effect on the incorruptible magistrate, whose sole ambition seems to be the ultimate conviction of the guilty parties.

No one can tell where and when the Panama exposure will end. President Carnot and his cabinet seem determined to let no one escape. It has been insinuated by anti-republican leaders that the president himself is implicated in the corruption, but his prompt actions have given the lie to the flimsy charge.

A Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food—imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.

MUCH ENTHUSIASM IN WASHINGTON

The Train Made Good Time Over the 140 Miles—Crowds at All the Stations to Get a Glimpse of the Special—A Human Mass at the Washington Station—What Was Done To-day.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President-elect Cleveland and party have carried out the programme as far as getting to the capital and carrying out some of the formalities which it is necessary to attend to previous to the real inauguration ceremonies.

The journey from Lakewood in the sumptuous special train was without incident of note, except at a small station near Philadelphia, where the President-elect did some handshaking.

At nearly every station there were many persons assembled who were more or less demonstrative.

In one or two instances bands enlivened the scene. Bunting and other decorations were very liberally displayed at stations along the route.

It was just 6:30 o'clock last night when the special train bearing President-elect Cleveland, his family, and the invited friends of his party rolled into the station at Washington.

The train had made the 139 miles of its run from Lakewood in 140 minutes, not including stops. The party had eaten luncheon north of Philadelphia, and were not at all wearied by their journey.

The railroad station was surrounded by a throng of several thousand people, who packed the adjacent streets from curb to curb.

The entrances to the station itself were guarded by at least 100 policemen, while scores of detectives from various cities were on the lookout for mischievous cranks.

Mr. Cleveland's appearance, as he emerged from the station, was greeted with a tremendous cheer, which was repeated for Mrs. Cleveland, and redoubled for the maid and the baby.

Mr. Cleveland acknowledged this welcome by lifting his silk hat and bowing. Mrs. Cleveland smiled, and the baby looked bewildered.

The party lost no time in hurrying to their carriages, passing between the divided sea of curious onlookers.

Immediately taking carriages they drove from the station to the Arlington hotel by a circuitous route in order to avoid the great crowds on Pennsylvania avenue.

At the Arlington, the party were promptly located in their spacious apartments in the Vermont avenue and I street wing of the hotel. About 6 o'clock dinner was served in the private dining room, the meal occupying more than two hours.

During the dinner hundreds of cards were left for the President-elect, but the only callers received were Vice-President-elect Stevenson and a few personal friends.

Senator and Mrs. Vilas of Wisconsin were among the first of those who saw the President-elect and Mrs. Cleveland. Colonel and Mrs. Lamont, Col. John S. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison also called.

It is in accordance with official etiquette for the President-elect to call on the retiring President soon after the former's arrival in the city. The retiring President then returns the call.

After dinner it was too late for Mr. Cleveland to call on his predecessor and he deferred that duty until this morning when, at 10:30 o'clock he formally visited the White House and met the President. Within an hour of after Mr. Cleveland's call President Harrison repaired to the Arlington Hotel and formally returned the call of the President elect.

This formal exchange of courtisies will be followed this evening by a more informal dinner at the White House in honor of the President-elect and Mrs. Cleveland by the President and Mrs. McKee, his daughter. There may be a few outside guests invited, but the dinner will be in the nature of a family affair.

Wagon Makers' Strike Growing.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Two hundred more carriage and wagon makers have joined the strikers. Seven hundred men are now out, demanding a shorter day and increased pay for piece work. About 100 of the last addition were non-union, but they were subsequently initiated. J. M. Andrews, manager for Kimball & Co., says there are plenty of idle men in the East, and that if the old men do not return by to-morrow their places will be filled.

To Auction Off a Pauper.

MEXICO, Mo., March 3.—Robert Davis, a pauper sent to the poor farm a few weeks ago, yesterday tried to kill Supt. Mundy with an axe because the latter refused to furnish delicacies for Davis and his family to eat. The Prosecuting Attorney has filed information against Davis, declaring him a vagrant, and an attempt will be made to sell him at public auction.

The Butcher Threw His Knife.

ALBANY, March 3.—Van C. Matthews, a butcher, became enraged at two boys who were annoying him at his shop last night, and hurled at them the knife he was using. The blade entered the abdomen of John Harrigan, aged 12, inflicting a fatal wound. Matthews, who is 63 years old, was arrested.

The Charges Not Sustained.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 3.—The Ecclesiastical Council called to consider the charges of falsehood and plagiarism preferred by Deacon Howland against Rev. R. P. Gardner, pastor of the Congregational Church at Marion, has reported that by unanimous vote of the council the charges are not sustained.

Will Aid the Peary Expedition.

PHILADELPHIA, March 3. — The Geographical Club has decided to support Lieut. R. E. Peary in his new expedition to the Arctic regions. The amount of funds to be contributed by the Geographical Club will be from $8,000 to $10,000.

Can Buy Scalped Tickets Now.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 3.—The State Legislature has repealed the law forbidding the business of ticket scalping in North Carolina.

CONGRESS RUSHING

A Day of Confusion in the House—Bridge Bill Crowded Out in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Sundry Civil Appropriation bill consumed the time of the House yesterday. There was a fight over the New York Custom House provision and over the World's Columbian Exposition amendment.

There was great confusion, the Speaker being obliged over and over again to appeal to the members to preserve order and to direct the occupants of the galleries to do so.

But requests and direction were equally unavailing. There was a constant din and few members who were removed more than a couple of feet from the disputants could hear a word of what was uttered.

The galleries of the Senate were crowded with visitors all day, but there was very little in the proceedings that could interest them.

The Postoffice Appropriation bill which had been partly considered on Wednesday was completed, the paragraph in relation to the Southern fast mail, having been modified so as to leave the whole question to the discretion of the Postmaster General.

The Postoffice Appropriation bill was followed by the Indian Appropriation bill. This latter contained an amendment reported from the Committee on Appropriations appropriating eight and a half million dollars to pay the Cherokees for the lands ceded by them in Indian Territory, lying between Oklahoma and Kansas. The amendment provoked some discussion, but was eventually agreed to. Then the Deficiency bill, the last of the appropriation bills, was acted upon.

Both the McGarrahan and the New York Bridge bills were crowded out by the Appropriation bill.

PASSED OVER THE VETO.

The House Disregards the President's Objection to the Alabama Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Mr. Oates (Dem., Ala.) called up the message of the President vetoing the bill to prescribe the number of district attorneys and marshals in the judicial district of Alabama. The motion was put "Shall the bill pass, the President's objection to the contrary notwithstanding?"

The bill was passed over the President's veto.

GEN'L SUPT. LAW INDICTED.

For the Late Crossing Fatality on the Fort Wayne Road.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 3.—Supt. C. D. Law, when shown the despatch from Chicago stating that he had been indicted for murder on account of the 47th street accident in that city Dec. 29, said that he had already been notified that he and the engineer of the ill-fated train, Henry W. Rouscup, had been indicted, but beyond the bare fact he knew nothing and could say nothing.

He expects to go to Chicago in a day or two.

The indictment is the result of the accident at the 47th street crossing of the Fort Wayne road, in which four persons were killed outright and 14 seriously injured.

The charge is not a bailable one, and Mr. Law will be arrested and jailed.

Peter Schwartz, a flagman, Ulibright, the gateman, and Henry W. Rouscup, engineer of the train which ran down the street car, were jointly indicted with Mr. Law upon the same charge.

Assistant State's Attorney Bottum, of Chicago, intimated this morning that there was little possibility of Mr. Law's conviction.

Signing Baseball Men.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Michael J. Tiernan has signed with the New York baseball club. Tiernan called upon the E. B. Talcott at the latter's office in Broad street. He seemed agreeably surprised at the salary offered him and immediately signed a contract. Ward is on the road after players. He hopes to secure Connor and Kelly in addition to several men who played on the New York team last season.

World's Fair Souvenir Spoons.

IRVINGTON, N. J., March 3.—Two designs for official souvenir spoons submitted by the Alvin Manufacturing company of this place have been selected by the Ways and Means Committee of the World's Fair. Already 180,000 spoons have been ordered. Over 100 designs were submitted. A conservative estimate is that not less than 500,000 spoods will be turned out by this firm for the Fair.

To Buy Up a Railroad.

PITTSBURG, March 3.—President John Newell of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie and Lake Shore lines was in Pittsburg yesterday afternoon. He made a sudden but quiet trip over the Franklin division of the W. N. Y. & P. road and inspected it carefully. Owing to the fact that the road is reputed to be in financial straits, President Newell's trip is thought to be preparatory to a purchase of the line.

Rapp Will Decision Sustained.

BEAVER, Pa., March 3.—Judge Wickham has handed down his opinion in the case of the German Consul at Philadelphia, who appealed from the decision of the Register of Wills in refusing to grant letters of administration on the estate of George Rapp. The court sustained the Register and dismissed the petition at the cost of the appellant.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 3.—Calvin Hancock, who has been on trial at Smithport for the murder of Frank Wagner, Dec. 10, was found guilty by the jury of manslaughter.

Russell Sage Buys a Railroad.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 3.—Russell Sage has bought the New York & Massachusetts railroad at auction for $50,000. Its original cost was $6,5000,000.

SHE DID NOT LOVE HIM

So Hetherington Attempted to Kill Miss Klaus.

HE IS DEAD BUT SHE WILL LIVE

After Being Refused by Her He Goes to Her With a Choice of Marriage or Death—Fires Two Shots at Her, Both Taking Effect, Then Shoots Himself—A Curious Letter Found on His Person.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 3.—This city is stirred up over a shooting affair which occurred here yesterday, resulting in the death of the man and the serious injury of the young woman.

Miss Emma Klaus, a beautiful young girl, while alone in the arcade of the postoffice, was approached by Alexander P. Hetherington, whose numerous proposals she had rejected.

In an agitated voice he said that if she did not accept him then they would die together.

As she paid no attention to him he drew a revolver and blazed away. One bullet tore through her hand. As she fled he tired again, and the bullet lodged in her breast.

He then shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

Miss Klaus was removed to her mother's house, the ball was extracted, and the chances are in favor of her recovery.

A number of letters were found in his pockets. The following extracts are taken from one that was typewritten:

"WHAT WOMAN IS—BY A BACHELOR.

"Woman is man's conscience. She is man's incentive to go forward; the tempting bait and the merciless whip. She is the idol man worships until he throws her down.

"Woman is the happiness of one man and the bane of two. It is the maternal muscle that has spanked the race into decent manners and good behavior.

"Woman is the only animal that can breathe in half rations, hold pins and needles in its mouth and do up its back hair.

"Woman is a valuable article that costs more in the keeping than in the acquiring.

"She is an invisible fire that consumes the heart of man, and yet she is indifferent to the harm she is doing.

"She is the root of all evil; for her many men were made criminals, and the gallows have destroyed more men on her account than for any other crime."

Hetherington was born in Smyrna, Asia Minor. He came to this country when a boy, and has been in this city 10 years. He was connected with the Y. M. C. A. and the First Baptist church.

Several years ago when Miss Hattie Candee, daughter of the late editor of the Standard, was married he created a sensation at the wedding by attempting to stop the ceremony. He said he loved the girl.

After that he tried to thrust his attentions upon several wealthy girls, but unsuccessfully. He had been annoying Miss Klaus about a year.

He has long been regarded as crazy. He has a brother either in Brooklyn or New York.

OLYMPIC CLUB'S OPENING

Lewis Wins the Wrestling Match and McMillan the Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—The Olympic Club opened its fistic carnival last night with a finish fight between Billy Hand of Providence, R. I., and Billy McMillan of Washington.

The fight preceded the event of the evening, the wrestling match between Evan Lewis, the strangler, and Ernest Roeber, the conqueror of William Muldoon.

Both events were of a very tame order and decidedly unsatisfactory to the 1,500 people who could find nothing better to do than attend the exhibition.

McMillan boyed with Hand for five rounds and then knocked him out.

Lewis won the wrestling match after a hard struggle. Three of the five bouts were catch as catch can, and two were Greco-Roman, Lewis winning the three catch-as-catch-can bouts.

Stricken With Apoplexy in Church.

LYONS, N. Y., March 3.—While speaking in a Baptist prayer meeting, Mrs. Lewis Silsby, aged 43 years, was stricken with apoplexy. It was first noticed in her speech, then she fell unconscious. She was removed to her residence, where she died soon after. This is the second death from apoplexy in the Baptist church inside of forty-eight hours.

Professor Drummond.

BOSTON, March 3.—The trustees of the Lowell Institute, who have been corresponding with Professor Henry Drummond of England, with a view to his lecturing before the institute, have concluded a definite arrangement with him for a series of lectures this spring, beginning April 3, and lasting four weeks, speaking three times each week.

A Steamship Tied Up.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The steamship Advance, of the United States and Brazil Line, which was advertised to sail on Tuesday last, is still tied up at her dock. Officials from the Sheriff's department swooped down on the steamship just before her time of sailing and took possession.

Not the Narcotic.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The news telegraphed up from Sandy Hook last evening that the belated steamer Narcotic had been sighted proved to be a mistake and much uneasiness is felt for her safety. She left Liverpool on Feb. 11.

DIVORCE IN HIGH LIFE

Lord Howard de Walden Being Sued by His Wife—He Makes Counter Charges.

LONDON, March 3.—The suit for divorce on the ground of cruelty from her husband, Lord Howard de Walden, by Lady Blanche, which began yesterday in the Divorce court, is causing a flutter of excitement in British society circles, both parties being very well known.

Lord Howard is a man of very large wealth, and is one of the great ground landlords of London.

In the cases on trial now his lordship accuses Lady de Walden of adultery with Count dean de Madre, and with Captain Winter, and her ladyship seeks a separation on the ground of alleged cruelties on the part of her husband.

Her ladyship is represented by Sir Henry James, Frank Lockwood, Q. C., and Richard Searle.

The court-room was crowded with women of fashion in gay and recherche costumes. Lady Blanche de Walden was dressed in stylish attire, and laughed and chatted merrily with her venerable mother, the Lady Lucy de Walden, who is a daughter of the fourth Duke of Portland.

In his opening Sir Henry James stated that Lord Howard de Walden was married in 1876 to Lady Blanche, who was the daughter of William Holden, Esquire, being at that time 19 years of age and his lordship 46 years of age.

Mr. James stated that his Lordship had frequently abused his wife's parents, and accused her of theft on different occasions. He had twisted her arm, and forced her on her knees, and thrown a heavy book at her in the presence of Major Graham, who intercepted the missile. His Lordship had also struck his wife with a hair-brush, drawing blood. He had also struck her with his fists, locked the doors upon her and threatened to shoot her.

He frequently returned home drunk, and developed filthy and boyish habits. In June, 1888, the pair mutually agreed to separate, his Lordship agreeing to make an allowance to her Ladyship of 360 pounds yearly.

His Lordship afterward gradually withdrew their son, Thomas Evelyn, born in 1880, from the control of her Ladyship, and withdrew the allowance in April, 1891.

Lady Blanche was called as the first witness in her own behalf. In her testimony she confirmed what Sir Henry James had stated in regard to her husband's cruelty and misconduct. She also testified that his lordship went to race meetings and also to Brighton for weeks together, and refused to allow her to accompany him.

He had sworn at her and called her a prostitute. Once, when she went to the Goodwood races alone, his Lordship learning the fact, cursed her, and struck her so severely that she was nearly senseless.

Lady Blanche stated that she once found her husband's conduct so intolerable that she determined to prosecute him; but Lady Ossington and Lady Harriet Bentinck urged her to do anything to avoid scandal, and she yielded to their advice.

Her misery continued. Her husband often spent the night in drinking, and retired to rest at 10 o'clock in the morning, rising at 5 o'clock in the evening. When drunk he fired revolvers about the house, and sometimes he fired in the streets.

The case was adjourned at this point. The hearing, which has excited great public interest, is likely to last for several days.

WRECK ON THE LAKE SHORE.

Three Freight Trains Mixed Up—No Lives Lost.

LA PORTE, Ind., March 3.—A disastrous rear-end collision has occurred on the Lake Shore railroad about 18 miles from this city between two westbound freight trains, one, a fast running special, crashing into the caboose of the other, scattering the debris in all directions.

An eastbound freight crashed into the wreck, piling up the cars in a frightful manner.

The crews saved themselves by jumping. The cars ignited, making a terrible fire.

The accident is attributed to defective signal lights.

The loss is placed at $50,000.

Kaiulani Visits Central Park.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Hawaiian Princess Victoria Kaiulani drove to Central Park yesterday afternoon with Mrs. and Miss Davies, the wife and daughter of her guardian. The remainder of the day she spent in her room at the Brevoort hotel. In spite of the melancholy tone of her "appeal to the American people," she looked very bright and cheerful—looked, indeed, a bright and happy school girl without a care in the world, as she lightly ran down the steps of the Brevoort hotel and entered her carriage.

Boston Traveler Changes Proprietorship.

BOSTON, March 3.—It is stated that a change in proprietorship has been made in the Boston Traveler which places that paper in the control of Dr. Lewis G. Lowe. This is said to checkmate a plan, which, it is understood, was being matured, to join the Boston Traveler and the Boston Morning News under one management. The committee of one hundred, if this story is correct, will lose its present control of the Traveler. The committee is a local temperance and law and order organization.

Workmen Buried Under Walls.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 3.—Yesterday afternoon, while workmen were engaged in tearing down an unoccupied three-story building, the building collapsed, burying the workmen in the debris. The fire department was soon at work in an effort to rescue the workmen. Three men were taken out unconscious. It is stated that at least three more are still beneath the ruins.

Hayes Will See His Wife.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Col. Wm. B. Hayes will be afforded a chance to see his wife, probably late to day. It may be for the last time, for as soon as the parting is over he will be hurried off to Sing Sing, there to serve out his term of imprisonment for perjury. It is doubtful if Mrs. Hayes will ever recover sufficiently to understand fully what has happened to her husband.

Manitoba Wants a Prohibitory Law.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 3.—The great debate on prohibition was concluded in the Legislature last night, when a vote was taken on the proposal of the government to memorialize the Dominion government asking for power to pass a prohibitory law. The government was sustained by a vote of 28 to 10.

A FRUITLESS SESSION

Montana Legislature Adjourns Without an Election.

THE LAST MEETING A LIVELY ONE

It Was Rumored Before the Voting for Senator Began that Several Republicans Would Change Over to Clark and Then They Were Promptly Hissed by Their Fellow Partymen—The Governor Will Fill the Vacancy.

HELENA, Mont., March 2.—Not even the opening of the famous Yale Lock Legislature three years ago equalled in exciting and dramatic interest the scene enacted at noon yesterday when the Third Legislative Assembly met in joint session to take a final ballot for Senator in Congress to succeed Sanders.

As the roll was called breathless silence fell. The first Republican to break to Clark was Senator Hatch of Park county. No sooner had he voted than cries of "traitor," "bought up," "put him out," etc., were hurled at him from floor and gallery by Republicans, while Clark Democrats cheered wildly. With difficulty order was restored. Bonner, a Dixon Democrat, was the next to switch to Clark, while five more Republicans, Coder of Fergus county, Lewis of Dawson, Graves and Auxer of Bow, and Vancleve of Yellowstone, voted for Clark amid cheers and hisses.

Amid deep silence the result of the ballot was announced as follows: Clark, 32; Mantle, 25; Dixon, 11; Carter, 1. As 45 were necessary for a choice the President declared no election. Then ensued a scene that baffles description.

The Legislature adjourned sine die last night. The appointment of Senator by Governor Richards will probably be next week and it seems to lie between Sanders, Mantle, Carter and some unknown dark horse, with the chances apparently in Sanders, favor.

Olympia Reports No Result.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 3.—Yesterday's ballot for United States Senator was without result, there being no change in the preceding day's vote.

WON'T CHANGE HIS VOTE.

Assemblyman Harrigan of Newark Says He Is Not in Favor of Repeal.

NEWARK, March 3.—The Assemblymen of the county who voted for the Race Track bills have been asked if they will vote to repeal the laws. Their interviews show that they will all stand firm.

Assemblyman William Harrigan was asked: "Will you vote for the repeal of the Race Track bills?"

"No sir," he replied.

"Will you vote to give the people a hearing?" was the next question.

"Yes sir, I voted that way already."

"Why won't you vote for the repealer?"

Mr. Harrigan was ready with his answer. He said:

"Well I do not propose to be the laughing stock of the State. To deliberately vote now contrary to the way I voted before would indicate that I was either a liar or a thief. I understand the bill I voted for and do not propose to pose before the public now and virtually confess that I did not know what I was voting for."

TALMAGE DENIES IT.

He Believes That the Brooklyn Tabernacle Will Overcome Its Difficulties.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The rumor that Dr. Talmage is about to retire from the Brooklyn Tabernacle is denied emphatically by the doctor himself.

He said that he preferred Brooklyn to any other city for a place of residence, and did not expect to leave it.

The Tabernacle was threatened by a most serious exigency, but he hoped and believed the trouble would be triumphantly overcome.

Filling the Chair Temporarily.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Rev. Dr. Briggs yesterday filled the Chair of Systematic Theology at the Union theological seminary, left vacant by the death of Prof. Worcester. Dr. Briggs has not been assigned to the chair, but has consented to fill it until another professor can be found to take it. He lectured for an hour to the senior class. After the lecture he returned to his own chair to teach Biblical theology.

Schooner Yale Had a Rough Time.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass. March 3.—The schooner Yale, of Baltimore, for Boston' before reported anchored off Nobska with cargo shifted and sails lost and split, has been towed here by the steam tug Right Arm. The Right Arm has assisted in trimming her cargo and pumping the water out from between her decks. The Yale's cabin furnishings are ruined by the salt water, and she has had a rough experience.

They Have Made Up.

NEWARK, March 3.—Mrs. Lillie Hoeflin, of Harrison who is only 21 years old, and yet is the mother of two children, one five years of age, quarrelled with her husband and left home taking her children and $1,000 which the husband had saved up. Yesterday the husband found her working in a paper box factory and took her home. A reconciliation has been affected.

Sunk Mysteriously in Her Dock.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. March 3.—The barge Bridgeport of Perth Amboy owned by the "Bee" Line arrived in port and was towed to a dock above the bridge. The tug was just about to leave her when the barge settled, and in a few minutes went to the bottom. The reason of her sinking is a mystery as her skipper says she never leaked a drop and did not strike a thing to his knowledge.

Woman Suffrage in Kansas Passes.

TOPEKA, Kan. March 3.—The Senate has concurred in the House amendments to the woman's suffrage bill which now goes to the Governor and will receive his signature. The bill stood in the Senate 26 to 5; in the House 84 to 17. The bill is very brief.

Police Use Cannon, Pirates Rifles.

BALTIMORE, March 3.—A battle took place last night between the dredgers and the Virginia police schooner in Tangier Sound. The police boat used a cannon and the pirates replied with rifles. The latter succeeded in escaping in the darkness.

—The rails of the Central road through this city were kept hot yesterday and to-day with specials and regulars in sections on their way to the inauguration at Washington. Passenger agents Baldwin of the Central, Hancock of the P. & R., and Scull of the B. & O., have established their roads in the hearts of the people and the President as the most perfect in all details, thoroughly comfortable and absolutely safe.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

David Bowden has gone to Pittsburgh on road-building business.

David Krymer is confined to his home at 81 West Second street by illness.

Charles H. Lyman is confined to his home with a severe attack of equinancy.

The Rev. Edward Munson will preach in the Monroe Avenue chapel next Sunday.

Manager Leichtentreit and employes of the Plainfield branch of the Sherman Outfitting company, are to-night the guests of Louis Sherman, the head of the firm, at dinner, at his home, 152 Washington street, Newark.

A. V. D. Honeyman said this noon that he had nothing to say as yet concerning his acceptance or non-acceptance of the borough mayoralty nomination. He would render his decision to the Republican committee to-night.

Ex-assemblyman John Vetterlein of this city has recently been granted a patent for an improvement in pneumatic tires for bicycles. It consists of a woven-wire tube within the rubber, making a collapse impossible in case of a puncture.

Neal Verrier, secretary of the Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign club, Charles B. Thiers, George Bedford, John Petrie, Harry VanAistyne, and George Tobin, will leave for Washington to-night to be present at President Cleveland's inauguration.

Borough clerk Brokaw states positively that he will not accept a re-election. For the sake of the North Plainfield people, whom none ever did or can serve as well as he, it is hoped that Mr. Brokaw will be induced to change his mind. But he says he won't for $1,000.

John O'Rourke, one of the Central railroad employes in the freight house, died at 10 last night at his home, 59 West Fifth street. The cause was pneumonia from which his wife is just recovering as a result entirely of her husband's tender and untiring care. Mr. O'Rourke had been sick only a few days. He was very popular and at one time a member in the choir of St. Mary's church.

THE PLAINFIELDER WON.

Ex-President Smith Secures an Important Contract in Spite of Fierce Opposition.

Seymour G. Smith, ex-president of the Plainfield common council, has after six months hard fighting against almost crushing competition secured the contract to build a garbage cremator for the city of Scranton, Pa. Mr. Smith already operates a big garbage crematory just outside New York city. The board of health of Scranton awarded the contract for that town to Mr. Smith unanimously, over all competitors. In the furnace which Mr. Smith now will build and operate, all the kitchen refuse, night soil and other garbage will be entirely consumed, without disagreeable odors, and at a cost of only eight cents each cubic yard. The furnace burns only two tons of coal every 24 hours. The cost of construction will be $6,500. The system of cremation is known as the Vivarttas method, with which Mr. Smith has been highly successful in various parts of the country.

WHOLESOME ENTERTAINMENT.

A Generous Dab of Science Given to the Youth of the Town.

Franklin S. Smith, science teacher of the High school, gave an entertaining and instructing talk before a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening. His subject was "Fire". He began with a short description of the ancient theory concerning fire, and showed by means of a candle and gas flames the nature of flame and combustion. He showed that a candle flame had three parts, the color being due to luminous particles or carbon. Then with a Bunsen burner, platinum wire and several salts, he showed the effects or introducing them on the wire into the flames of the Bunsen burner. By means of a fine jet of gas which was placed under a wire gauze, a singing flame was produced, which burned quietly until excited by hissing or the shaking of a bunch of keys. The burning of magnesium wire and of particles of iron was shown. A small amount of gunpowder was made and burned, and after the room was darkened phosphorous was burned under water by means of chlorate of potash and sulphuric acid. Then a number of slides made by Mr. Smith showing different kinds of locomotives were thrown on the screen, ending with a view of the present High school building.

Work of the Women's Alliance.

A very interesting meeting was held Feb. 28, in All Souls' church, of the Woman's Alliance. The subject was "Religious and Moral Training of Children". The Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell gave an admirable lecture on the subject, and excellent papers were read by other members. Mrs. Chas. E. Ryder spoke on the subject "Is it service or training the mother most owes the child?" Mrs. E. N. Harned and H. B. Nichols read interesting papers. A discussion followed by Mrs. A. M. Powell, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Mrs. T. J. Mumford, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, and others.

The subject of the next meeting, March 28, will be Physical Education. A lecture by Hon. Chas. Ham will be given preceding it, March 16, on the subject "The Influence of Manual Training on Character."

NARROW ESCAPE FOR VAIL'S HOUSE.

Another Way Found for a House to Catch Fire.

Last night when J. T. Vail and his wife left the house to make a call, they blew out the light of a lamp in their bedroom. Some time later, their servant girl found the room filled with dense smoke, and fire burning around the lamp on the table. She was a brave woman, and burned her hands badly in carry the scorching hot lamp to the kitchen sink. Then she soused the burning table with water till the fire was out. The papers and books on the table had just started burning well, and the table top was considerably afire. It is supposed that a spark from the wick fell or was blown through the hollow tube through the middle of the lamp to the table cover.

They Never Can Get a Better.

(New York Evening Post.)

William L. Saunders, mayor of North Plainfield, N. J., has conducted so satisfactory an administration that leading citizens of both parties want him continued in office, because of his admitted fitness for the street railway, sewerage and other problems that are to be decided this year. Mr. Saunders is an expert engineer, being at the head of the Ingersoll-Sergeant Drill company of New York, and his practical knowledge and executive ability have been of great value in borough affairs. Prominent Republicans are vainly besought to accept the nomination against him.

Oh, What a Cough!

DISGRACEFUL WATER STREET.

Is the Council Waiting a Lawsuit, Before It Remedies the Evil?

The condition of Elm place is a standing disgrace to the city. THE PRESS has for months been calling attention to the wretchedness of the thoroughfare, and the citizens have long been petitioning for its betterment. Elm place is a surface sewer for Front street extending both ways. All the Front street water drainage from both directions empties into Elm place. Yet the street is in no condition to carry this water to the brook, and even in summer time the roadway and sidewalks are continually a mass of mud-puddles, through which pedestrians have to pick their way over planks floating about. In winter time the water accumulates and freezes and accumulates and freezes, till one passing through from Front street to the brook can readily imagine himself fording a glacier. Last night and to-day the condition was particularly bad. At the Front street crossing there was and is a mass of puddles a foot deep, with only a narrow ice-covered flag-stone to pass by. More than one pedestrian fell last night and was hurt in trying to pick his way past the pitfall, which was in darkness, as the rays of the nearest electric lamp were hidden by a tree trunk. One man found himself wading through a pool as broad and deep as Green brook, and another slipped on the glare of ice on the crossing and fell heavily, seriously bruising and cutting himself and getting thoroughly wet in floundering trying to gather himself into shape. The result is that to-day he is painfully stiff and sore and suffering from a severe cold and chill as the effect of his icy bath. Elm place should have its name changed back to Water street again. It is almost always submerged. What is wanted is to have the walks flagged, gutters formed and curbed, and a steady down-grade established from Front street to the brook, so that these pools of water can no longer accumulate. Let the walks be put in condition and the gutters kept clear, and a great and necessary public improvement will have been accomplished. Why do n't the councilmen of the district do something in the premises? In other parts of the city when a cowpath in the "City Park", or some other trivial or important matter occurs to the councilman of the district to mention, he generally succeeds in pushing the scheme through promptly. Why can 't Messrs. Bird and See be as considerate of and faithful to their constituents? Those constituents are complaining that those representatives do nothing in council but audit bills and vote for the other councilmen's motions. Let them redeem themselves by making a stir for Elm place and putting it in respectable shape. It has been a dangerous pit fall long enough.

HAVEN'T GIVEN UP THE FIGHT.

Lane's Anti-Winter Racing Measure to Be Revived.

"On Monday night next Mr. Lane will bring his Anti-Winter Racing bill out of the committee to which it has been referred," said one of the Essex opponents of the race bills yesterday.

"He will, no doubt, make a minority report. This committee is the committee on corporations, of which Mr. Lane himself is the chairman, and Messrs. Tahen, Warne, Harrigan and Salinger are members. Of these the chairman and the last-named member voted against the racers.

"It is more than likely that some of the men who voted for Nos. 299, 300 and 301 will support Mr. Lane's measure, and so try to save themselves from the political death to which they appear to be doomed. It is pretty safe to say that Messrs. Lanning, of Mercer; Utter, of Morris, and Byrne, of Essex, will vote for such a compromise. The last, especially, has been opposed to winter racing, and voted for Mr. Lane's proposed amendment to bill No. 301, making racing unlawful between the first of January and the first of April and the 15th of November to the end of the year.

"At any rate the anti-race track men have not given up the fight by any means, and there are lively times ahead."

White and Green Progressive Euchre.

An unusually pretty progressive euchre party was given by Miss Lillian A. Force last evening at her home on Duer street. The guests were all in full evening dress. The costumes of the young women were particularly charming, and their escorts were conventionally elegant. The colors white and green predominated, with pleasing effect. Even the dainty sandwiches were tied with bits of green and white ribbon, and the graceful smilax aborned the fair white throats of the maidens. Six tables were filled, and after twelve games an hour's dancing was enjoyed. Refreshments were served in graceful style. The prizes were as follows:

First lady's prize—Silver and gold souvenir spoon, won by Miss Lizzie DeCamp.

Second prize—Silver bon-bon basket, won by Miss Emma Gillem.

First gentleman's prize—Silver match safe won by W. S. Frederick.

Second prize—Pack of playing cards, silver case, won by Thad Doane, jr.

Can't be found the equal of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If other medicines of it's class were like it, they'd be guaranteed. This is: If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case for which it's recommended, you get your money back. It isn't a "cure-all," but is does cure all diseases arising from a torpid or deranged liver, or from impure blood. For all Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases, it's a positive remedy. Even Consumption, or Lung-scrofula, is cured by it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. That's all that's asked for it—a fair trial. Then if it doesn't help you, there's no pay.

Beware of spurious imitations or dilutions, offered at less prices.

We claim it to be an unequaled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the liver. We claim it to be lasting in its effects, creating an appetite, purifying the blood, and preventing Bilious, Typhoid and Malarial fevers, if taken in time. The time to take it is when you first feel the signs of weariness and weakness. By druggists.

CHAPS

And How to Get Rid of Them.

Nothing more annoying than chapped hands. And the more you wash the worse they chap! Soap cleans, but soap chaps. Now by neutralizing the alkali of the soap by means of a harmless acid we may prevent chapping. THIS IS A CRYING NUISANCE.

Those Gravel-Pits Smell Worse Every Week, and Must Be Suppressed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Once more I bring to bear my pen to agitate the question of health or sickness for a portion of this glorious city of Plainfield, and incidentally the city at large. A communication from quite a number of the residents of the First Ward was presented to the Common Council at its regular meeting held last month in relation to having the gravel pits filled. The communication was referred to the Health Board, and pray what have they done in the premises? Nothing.

The sanitary code of the Board of Health of the city of Plainfield says, in ordinance 4, under the head of nuisances, section 2: "And all ponds, pools or collection of still and stagnant waters, any accumulation or deposit of offal or of decaying animal or vegetable substances in or upon any lot of land near any inhabited dwelling house, or in any public street, etc., is declared to be a nuisance, and every person so offending shall forfeit and pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars."

Section 5 of the same ordinance reads: "No animal or vegetable substance or swill or garbage, nor any offensive material, either separately or mixed with ashes or rubbish, shall be deposited on or used to fill in or raise the surface or level of any ground, lot or street; nor shall any person maintain any sunken land from which there shall arise offensive gases deleterious to health. Persons offending against any of the provisions of this section shall forfeit and pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars."

The above parts of sections are the authority and law under which the Health Board are supposed to regulate and care for the health of the city. Now, then, by what authority and right do they, in the face of their own law, direct and permit a violation of the same, daily? Transpose the facts. Suppose a private individual maintained the gravel-pits. How long would the poor unfortunate be at rest before Mr. Health Inspector would pounce upon him, and quickly have him fined and compel him to fill up the pits. By what authority has the Health Inspector to impose upon the poor suffering people in that section of the First ward, in permitting the accumulation of disease, sickness and possibly death, that is daily and nightly dumped at their doors, contaminating their children and themselves with noxious odors from garbage and swill?

We admit that there are only people in that neighborhood who are living by the sweat of their brow, but is that a good and sufficient reason to yoke around their necks such an ulcer as the pits are in their present condition? Their rights are as much to be respected as the well-to-do residents in the vicinity of the old dumping-grounds.

I think that I have heard Mr. Inspector say there is nothing but ashes dumped there. Of course there 's not; but if there is not, can some one explain the number of dogs that are always rooting in the rubbish? (A good chance for Frisbie.)

The writer of this article took the trouble to investigate just after three loads of collections had been dumped, and in the various heaps saw rotten and decayed fruit, entrails of fowls, bones, and pieces of animal substances of some kind. The dumpings at night being far worse.

This is the place that the people want filled with the old railroad bank that originally was taken out from it, and now let it be returned.

I trust that the people living any where near the gravel-pits will join and use legal measure to have the nuisance abated. The courts stand ready to act, and from all indications stringent measures will be adopted. The health of the city at large demands that their be no half-way work. The common council should take immediate steps and have Midway avenue leveled off into the pits, and so abate what may result in an epidemic this coming summer. This is a serious question, and must be grappled with at once. It faces us; it will not be put behind our backs, if we are to retain our lauded healthfulness. Then eradicate this pest-hole in our midst, for it certainly is a serious menace to the health of our population. Take the number of cases of sickness in the city, last year, and fully 35 per cent., taking into consideration population, were locate1 within 4,000 feet of the gravel-pit.

It is a common occurrence any day in summer to see a doctor's carriage stopping before some humble home in that locality. Few of the people of this city know what these pits are, but did they have wafted to their nostrils for breakfast, supper and tea the stench that in summer comes from these pits they would soon pack up and leave or raise such a cry against their representative in the council as would make them a little more interested as to the wishes of their constituents. THE PRESS has been successful in getting the railroad to make a new site for the freight-house. Let it now show its public spirit and its desire for the welfare of Plainfield by taking the matter of the gravel-pits up, and "shove and push" those nuisances away. N.

Novel Text of a Plainfield Preacher.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

The Rev. C. E. Herring of Plainfield was present and conducted the service in the Presbyterian chapel Tuesday evening. He spoke with a great deal of force from the passage, "Who shall withstand His cold?" The lessons he deduced from those words were pointed and as well practicable. A large number were out to hear him notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

OF ABSORBING INTEREST.

Plainfielders Continue Their Scholarly Research of Egypt's Wonders.

Mr. Goodyear gave the third of his series of Egyptian lectures yesterday afternoon in All Souls' church. In this lecture he dwelt at some length on the mural paintings of the tombs, in connection with the hieroglyphics and pictured "book of the dead", which was an account of the occupations, stations in life, etc., of the person whose mummy occupied the tomb. In these paintings the meaning is made clearer by the fact that the inscriptions explain the pictures, while the latter are always found corresponding to the writings. The lecturer explained the nature of the papyrus, the paper of the Egyptians, on which the "book of the dead" found in the mummy cases was written. This material was formed of strips of the stalk of the papyrus plant placed in parallel rows with other parallel rows laid on at right angles to the first. The mat thus formed was pressed, and formed a very good paper, held together by the glutenous juice of the plant. This plant is now extinct in Egypt, but some specimens are still to be seen in botanical collections.

The subject of the pyramids was next taken up, and illustrations were given of many of the more important piles. These pyramids lie on the west bank of the Nile, near the delta, and extend for a distance of about 25 miles. These monumental tombs ante-date all of the other ruins of Egypt by several thousand years, the period of the great pyramid of Cheops being placed by various authorities from 4000 to 5000 B. C. Diagrams of the chambers in the great pyramid were shown, and Mr. Goodyear gave an extremely interesting account of the discovery of the entrance and the difficulties encountered by those who forced their way into this huge pile of masonry.

The next lecture will take up the subject of the temple ruins further up the Nile, and their architecture.

AUNT BRIDGET'S BABY,

With a Number of Specialty Artists and Eight Pretty Girls.

Next Tuesday evening will be one of merriment and music at Music Hall, for the laughter-forcing comedian, Geo. W. Monroe, and his excellent company of comedians and vocalists, in "Aunt Bridget's Baby", will be the attraction, with environments more interesting and adornments of dress and speech more ornate than those which attended the rollicking characterization when Monroe first offered it to the public in his famous "My Aunt Bridget".

The company is said to be exceedingly strong. While abroad last summer Monroe secured several English artists whose acts are new, and several stage novelties. The situations in "Bridget's Baby" are exceedingly funny, and the many clever songs and dances, mandoline selections, specialties and choruses add luster and orilliancy to their funny farce comedy. Miss Nellie plays the part of "Splinters", and refreshes the audience with two new selections, which win her nightly recalls. Miss Lottie Hyde, a new member of the company, plays the "Dancing Teacher" in a very satisfactory manner and dances herself into public favor. Thos. J. Ryan, as "McFee", from Kankakee, is simply immense, and in the last acts shows the audience what can be done with a pair of agile legs. Louis Foy and Henry Stanley sing catchy songs in a catchy way, and make big impressions wherever they are heard.

The pretty girls in the company are just eight in number, so in order to judge for themselves one should pass an evening with Aunt Bridget and the Baby.

RECTOR JENNINGS REMOVED.

An Order that he Shall Leave the Westfield Parish March 15.

(From the New York World.)

Rector Jennings must go. This is the decision of the standing committee of the diocese, which met in Elizabeth last Monday to hear the rector's appeal from the Bishop's order removing him from office Feb. 15. The committee's verdict was received by vestryman Elliott at Westfield last night. It provides that Mr. Jennings shall vacate the parish on March 15, up to which date his salary, amounting to over $700, must be paid in full.

The vestrymen and people of Westfield at large are pleased with committee's decision.

Jennings will probably avail himself of his privilege to appear before the general convention in May, but it is understood that the Bishop has the power to suspend the rector from duty pending his hearing before the convention.

The vestry has not yet had a meeting to talk over the result of the Standing Committee's order, but it is probable that the members will at once take steps towards securing the services of a new minister.

It is alleged that at last Monday's committee meeting some of the rectors who composed the commission which recently exonerated Mr. Jennings from the charges of lying and drunkenness made against him, attempted to gain an entrance to the room, but were politely given to understand that their presence was not desired.

Should Mr. Jennings attempt to hold services in the church on March 17, in defiance of the committee's order of removal, the vestry may adopt measures to have him ousted.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

AFFIDAVITS AGAINST HARRIS.

Mr. Wellman Will Present Them on Monday.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Assistant District Attorney Wellman has received ten affidavits in answer to those presented in behalf of Carlyle Harris's motion for a new trial.

They are mostly in impeachment of the character of the witnesses.

When Mr. Wellman was asked if any of his affidavits attacked the stories told in Harris's affidavits, he said significantly:

"If an affidavit is shown to be paid for that would discredit it, wouldn't it. The affidavits will be filed Monday."

JURY DID NOT AGREE.

The Colorado Boy Murderer Escapes for the Time—He Expressed No Regret.

DENVER, March 3.—The trial of the boy murderer, Anton Woods, who is scarcely 11 years old, came to an end yesterday by the jury failing to agree on a verdict.

Eleven of them favored a verdict of murder in the second degree, while the twelfth juror was in favor of acquittal, probably on account of an impression that the boy is not mentally sound.

Woods lived with his parents on a ranch 20 miles north of Denver, and on Nov. 22 last, Joseph Smith, of this city, was in that vicinity hunting rabbits. Woods volunteered to show him where there were plenty of them.

Smith was possessed of a gold watch and a new gun, and when Woods saw them, as he afterwards confessed, he determined to kill Smith and rob him of them.

Woods was armed with an old musket and led Smith into a ravine, where he shot him in the back, killing him almost instantly.

The young murderer then took the watch and gun and went home, where he stayed until arrested.

He expressed no regret for the crime and says he would kill anybody in order to obtain what he did.

—The United States District Court has decided the South Carolina liquor dispensary law to be constitutional. This is not the suit authorized by the State Liquor Dealers' association.

—Fifteen people are believed to have been drowned at West Bay City, Mich., by being thrown from a steamer that was partially capsized by the terrible sea thrown up by the launching of a big schooner.

—United States officials have taken the measurements of the City of Paris. By the American register she will be credited with a net tonnage of 6,288.98, while by the English measurements the figures were 6,578.53.

—Five fires have occurred in Fall River, Mass., within 27 hours, the last being discovered in the top of the Durfee block, corner of Main and Central streets. The losses are variously placed from $80,000 to $3,000; covered by insurance.

—Attorney H. K. Taylor, assignee of the Youngstown, O., Stamping company, whose failure involved Gov. McKinley financially, states that investigation of the company's affairs show assets of $80,802.50 and liabilities, $110,781.79.

—The Treasury statement just issued shows that the circulation decreased during the month of February $8,302,897, making the total circulation March 1, $1,599,635,543, or $24.07 per capita. This is $6,000,000 less than the circulation of March 1, 1892.

—Capt. Sargent, of the American line steamship Ohio, has resigned his commission, and has been engaged by the William Cramp & Sons' company and will pilot the trial trips of all vessels built by that company. His first command will probably be the trial trip of the U. S. cruiser New York.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best in the market. A single bottle will convince you of its excellence. Try it.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative eudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. I am apparently cured. S. S. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

FORESTS OF STONE.

Petrified Tree Discovered in Southern California.

A Transformation Whose Completion Evidently Was the Work of Centuries—A Petrified Trunk Ninety-Seven Feet Long.

So much has been written about the petrified forests of Arizona and the chalcedony mines of Mexico, that one might think that wonderful petrifactions are found in these localities only. In Sonoma county, California, however, writes Thomas Holmes in the American Agriculturist, acres upon acres of petrified trees have been found and are to be seen to-day by persons who care to make a two-hours' journey northward from San Francisco by rail. The reason that the existence of this forest of stone is not more widely known is probably because the hardened substances are not colored as are those of Arizona and Mexico and have no market value as have polished slabs of chalcedony. Sonoma is one of the oldest organized counties in California, and its soil produces some of the best grapes grown in the United States. The surface of the county is rugged and the soil is rich with mineral deposits. About eight miles north of Santa Rosa, the county seat, a farmer a few years ago unearthed a monster petrifaction which proved to be a large tree trunk. The hardened limbs of the tree were cleared away and the petrified trunk uncovered to a length of ninety-seven feet. (See illustration.) Since that time a large number of petrified trees have been uncovered and some of them are more than one hundred and twenty feet long. The petrified forest lies along the sides and at the bottom of a deep ravine which was evidently at one time the course of a mountain stream. The soil is of a brick color and gives strong indication of a cinnabar deposit. A few miles away there are a half dozen geysers, all boiling springs, whose waters are strongly tinctured with sulphur and iron. The bowlders and out-cropping spurs of rock are of a volcanic nature.

It is impossible to fix the age of these petrified trees exactly, but it is probable that the transformation has been going on for centuries. In one instance an oak tree has grown directly through a petrified log, splitting it in two. The oak is now gnarled and knotted and measures between four and five feet through at the base. Scientists estimate that its age is more than a hundred and ten years and the log must have been petrified before the oak began to grow.

The trees are buried to a depth of six or seven feet. Portions of their petrified roots, projecting above the ground, gave the clew that led to the discovery of the trunks. These trees have been petrified by absorbing the silica or flint dissolved in the water which soaked them. The color of these petrifactions is a light gray and of course they are of a flinty nature and very heavy. It is almost impossible to split a block of the substance parallel with the grain, but it breaks very easily crosswise. Along the banks and in the bed of Sonoma creek many perifacations are found and among the residents of Sonoma valley, petrified wood, which elsewhere is often considered a rare curiosity is largely used as horse blocks and stepping stones and is frequently found in the houses doing service as door weights and odd hearthstones. In the southern part of the Sonoma valley twenty miles north of San Pablo bay, there is an extensive bed of petrified bushes. This bed apparently extends over a dozen acres and the soil is covered with brittle fragments. The roots of stumps of madrona trees standing on the ground were undergoing the process of petrifaction. Underlying the stratum of soil in which I found the petrified wood was a bed of clay.

A short distance from this locality on the ranch of Capt. J. D. Boyes, there is a warm spring, called Aqua Rica by the Spaniards, and its waters are said to possess wonderfully curative properties. The temperature of the water is 103 degrees Fahrenheit, and it bubbled up not more than eight feet from the edge of Sonoma creek. When digging here at a depth of fifteen feet, the workmen unearthed petrified portions of the skeleton of a huge animal. Near this spot there is the trunk of a tree lying partly submerged in the water of the creek. This tree is undergoing the process of petrifaction. That portion of it lying in the water has already become hardened.

Two miles north of this on the ranch of Mr. M. K. Cady, are huge logs of petrified wood piled around an excavation made for a bathing pond or reservoir. A sulphur spring came out of the ground here and in digging around it at a depth of ten feet a bed of petrified wood was reached which seemed to be a tangled mass of trees. Powerful blasts of dynamite were put in and vast quantities of petrified wood thrown out. Out of this hardened wood an immense tank was hewn which is constantly full of warm water flowing in through crevices in the bottom.

It is too bad to spend half of a short life distressed with neuralgia when a 25 cent bottle of Salvation Oil will cure it quickly.

NOTHING TO HANG 'EM ON.

Just a Lot of Stories Without Any Excuse at All.

Evarts Crushing a Boston Bore — Grant's Opinion of Sumner—The Depew Joke That Failed — A Tale of Earthquake Times.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

The grim American humor crops out in the most unlikely places, like the granite rocks seaming the scanty soil in New Hampshire.

It isn't true in this country, as in England, that the man who never makes a joke gets the reputation of being a master mind. Pretty nearly all our statesmen have been clever at repartee.

To William M. Evarts is commonly ascribed the very familiar story about Washington throwing a silver dollar across the Potomac. "But you must remember," he is represented as saying, while secretary of state, to a distinguished foreign diplomat, to whom he made the statement, "that a dollar went farther then than it does now."

"BUT THERE ARE GENTLEMEN PRESENT," SAID GRANT.

That's old, but here is one about Mr. Evarts which has never been in print. He was invited at one time to a dinner at the house of a rich manufacturer in Boston, who proved at dinner to be a pompous old bore. Whenever any of the distinguished gentry ventured a remark, this man would break in with his exasperating drawl: "As I once said to Daniel Webster—" or "when I was with Charles Sumner at—"

Evarts stood it as long as he could. After dinner in the smoking-room, he turned upon his tormentor with the remark: "You do yourself a great injustice, sir."

"How so?" demanded the man, taken aback.

"Why," said Mr. Evarts, deliberately, twiddling his eyeglass, as was his custom, "you have been modestly relating to us these interesting reminiscences of our great departed when everyone knows that there have been in your experience events of far more historical weight—as that, for instance, when Columbus neared our coast it was the voice of Mr. ——— that guided him on his course with these immortal words: 'Neau, Mr. Columbus (imitating the old man's drawl), if you'll on'y p'int her head right over that way, you'll make land all right.'"

This was not humor. It was wit—the caustic kind that stings. Probably there was provocation. It was this same Boston merchant whose peculiarities were the butt of many a merry tale. A boy was seen crying on Washington street one day.

"What's the matter?" said a good-natured man.

"My cent's fallen down there," said the sniveling boy, pointing through a grating.

"Oh, that's nothing. Just run in and tell Mr. ——. He'll climb down and get it."

"Yes, he will," sobbed the boy, with a fresh outburst of grief. "B-b-but he'd keep it for himself."

Gen. Grant was not usually credited with quickness of repartee, but when a man said to him one day: "Charles Sumner doesn't believe in the Bible," Grant's quiet rejoinder was: "Of course not; he didn't write it."

And once in camp, when a "fresh" officer started in to tell a doubtful story with the prefix: "As there are no ladies present," Gen. Grant promptly remarked: "But there are gentlemen present," and the story was never told.

When Preston King went to congress he couldn't take a vestibule train, but had to ride on horseback, coach, canalboat and the like. So he told with feeling this touching tale:

"One day when I was riding along a muddy road in northern New York I observed a little distance away a riding whip apparently sticking up in the mud. I stooped to pick it up, but, meeting with unexpected resistance, discovered that it was tightly clasped in a human hand. I summoned assistance and we soon had the mud-plastered gentleman dug out of the bottomless abyss. 'Gentleman,' said he, as he stood there in his mud-plastered raiment, 'I thank you all for your kind assistance, but for which I must inevitably have lost my life. Now if you will add to your good labors by assisting me to recover my horse, I will—'"

"Hold on," said a Louisiana man (this was in a congressional cloakroom), "your story is all right, King, only it happened in my own love, Louisiana."

"Pshaw!" said a Virginian. "It was right out here on the Richmond road not a dozen miles from Washington."

As a matter of fact, the story is several thousand years old and still in comparatively good health.

There is a Chicago story which is told about Eugene Field, Philip D. Armour, Dr. Gunsaulus and half a dozen other victims. The hero couldn't have been Field, for he is an accomplished linguist. The tale runs that a Chicago man visiting Paris sat down one day in a restaurant. Utterly ignorant of the language, he ran his thumb down the bill of fare a little way and said: "Here! Bring me some o' that." The waiter complied, shrugging his shoulders as one who disclaims responsibility and presently returned with a dish of pickled pig's feet.

"H—ll" remarked the pork packer, surveying the array, "how did he know I was from Chicago?"

Chauncey M. Depew, Robert G. Ingersoll and Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, are called three of the wittiest speakers in America. One of Depew's best jokes fell flat when first uttered and became famous next day. It was at the mass meeting during the Minneapolis convention. Depew was holding his audience in great shape when he compared somebody or something with "the inebriated chamois which, in its Alpine fastness, leaps from jag to jag." Probably because Depew's accurate pronunciation of the word "chamois" wasn't the one taught in the district schools, there was hardly a ripple of laughter. Next day, when folks saw the joke in type, they roared.

Speaker Capron, of Rhode Island, tells with gusto a story of a tax collector who, after an exciting experience outside, burst into an Irish woman's cabin with the remark: "I'll have to tax you for that goat, Mrs. Mulcahey."

"An' why, thin, darlint?"

"Because the law distinctly says I must tax all property bounding and abutting on this street, and that goat has been a-bounding and a-butting on that street for the last half hour."

Either Frank Stockton or Julius Chambers—I forget which—told this story at a literary club: "During the Charleston earthquake an old negro rushed out upon the public square, exhibiting every sign of marked fear and disquietude. Those who were near enough heard this petition offered up at the throne of grace: 'Oh! Lord, dese am de times ob terror. De yearth am a quakin' an' de fires ob hell is aburnin' fo' de onrighteous. Oh! Lord, save us. Come right down to us. If yo' cayn't come yo'se'f, sen' down de Lawd Jesus, but if yo' can come yo'se'f, yo'd bettah do it, kase dis yer's mighty ser'us mattah, an' 'taint no time fo' to sen' chillun.'"

When Ben Butler was in college he became tired of hash at his boarding-house and "put up a job" on the landlady. Next time the dish appeared all the young men groaned in concert: "Oh! hash for breakfast! Hebrews, xiii, 8."

You don't remember that verse? Here it is: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to-day, and forever." But Bold Ben didn't mean it to be punctuated that way.

And it was another Massachusetts man who was asked by a friend what he was thinking of as he knelt at the altar to be married. "I was thinking how confoundedly funny the soles of my feet must look from behind," was the instant and unstudied response.

Artificial India Rubber.

Dr. W. A. Tilden discovered some months ago that isoprene, which can be prepared from turpentine, under certain circumstances changes into what appears to be genuine India rubber. Bouchardat had also found that the same change could be brought about by heat. The material so produced resembles pure Para rubber in every way, and, whether it is genuine rubber or not, it may be equally good for all practical purposes. It is said to be capable of vulcanization.

The Food of Hummingbirds.

Dr. Morris Gibbs contributes to Science an interesting paper on the food of hummingbirds. He has carefully dissected many hummingbirds, both old and young, but has never found anything to convince him that the birds live on insects. It may be that at times, when flowers are scarce, some species of insects are captured, but Dr. Gibbs is satisfied that in season, when flowers are abundant, the ruby-throat of Michigan lives on honey.

TOO SLOW FOR EDISON.

A Story Illustrating the Wizard's Skill with the Key.

Tommy Wore a Hickory Shirt, But the "Lightning Slinger" at St. Louis Hardly Gave Him Amusement—A Fish Story.

A gentleman who was himself an operator in Memphis when Thomas A. Edison was first employed there describes the future wonder-worker as he then appeared: "He came walking into the office one morning looking like a veritable hayseed. He wore a hickory shirt, a pair of butternut pants tucked into the tops of boots a size too large and guiltless of blacking. 'Where's the boss?' was his query, as he glanced around the office. No one replied at once and he repeated the question. The manager asked him what he could do for him, and the future great proceeded to strike him for a job. Business was rushing, and the office was two men short, so almost any kind of a lightning slinger was welcome. He was assigned to a desk and a fusillade of winks went the rounds of the office, for the 'jay' was put on the St. Louis wire, the hardest in the office.

"At this end of the line was an operator who was chain lightning and who knew it. Edison had hardly got started before St. Louis called. The newcomer responded and St. Louis started in on a long report, and he pumped it in like a house afire. Edison threw his leg over the arm of his chair, leisurely transferred a wad of spruce gum from his pocket to his mouth, picked up a pen, examined it critically and started in, about two hundred words behind. He didn't stay there long, though. St. Louis let out another link of speed, and still another, and the instrument on Edison's table hummed like an old-style sewing machine. Every man in the office left his desk and gathered around the 'jay' to see what he was doing with that electric cyclone. Well, sir, he was right on the word and was putting it down in the prettiest copper-plate hand you ever saw, even crossing his t's and dotting his i's and punctuating with as much care as a man editing telegraph for printers. St. Louis got tired by and by and began to slow down. Edison opened the key and said: 'Here, here! This is no primer class! Get a hustle on you!' Well, sir," said the gentleman, in conclusion, "that broke St. Louis all up. He had been 'rawhiding' Memphis for a long time, and we were terribly sore, and to have a man in our office that could walk all over him made us feel like a man whose horse had won the Derby. I saw the 'Wizard' not long ago. He doesn't wear a hickory shirt nor put his pants in his boots, but he is very far from being a dude yet." When a boy Edison had an especial fondness for constructing crude telegraph instruments with which to keep up constant communication with his chum, who lived in the immediate vicinity. After an enormous amount of work the little fellows succeeded in making two instruments, which were carefully placed in their respective bedrooms, so that early and late, unknown to the rest of the household, they could communicate that flow of thought always on top between two youthful friends. The intervening wires were arranged to escape the entangling influence of shrubbery and fences by means of small poles. For awhile everything went on smoothly. The thrilling experiences of fishing trips were enjoyed in retrospect over the wires, similar exciting plans were evolved for future use, and the barnyard statistics were transmitted with unwavering exactness. One morning, however, the boys awakened to find all this changed and where order had prevailed was only chaos. During the night a cow had strayed into the inclosure and after knocking down the poles succeeded in so entangling the wires about her legs that her astonishment and distress were voiced to the neighborhood in mournful bellows which made the night hideous. The greatest damage, however, was to the delicately-adjusted instruments, which had been so injured by the cow's novel wire-pulling as to be utterly spoiled for future usefulness.

Tommy Edison, who, during his boyhood, was always called "Al," was also very fond of pigeons, which he raised in great numbers and taught to come at his call, fluttering about on his head, shoulders and arms while he fed them.

Nature's Water Cannon.

In Ireland, near Horn Head, in County Donegal, there is a remarkable natural hole in the rocks of the seacoast, which is known all over Britain as "McSwiney's Gun." It is believed to be connected with a sea cavern. When the sea "runs full" the "gun" sends up jets of water to the height of more than 100 feet, each spouting being followed and preceded by loud explosions. The "gun" is a perfectly smooth hole about 10 inches in diameter, and its history can be traced to the first settling of the country. No one seems to know, how-

A Woman's Back.

The mainspring of her life.

What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps both strength and ambition?

She cannot walk, she cannot stand; her duties are burdensome; she is miserable.

The cause is some derangement of the uterus or womb. Backache is the sure symptom.

The one unfailing remedy is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A woman discovered it and gave it to woman. Mrs. T. W. Lane, of Holyoke, Mass., tells what a comfort it is to write to a woman about her peculiar troubles, and have a woman read her letters and give a woman's sympathy and help. Thousands send Mrs. Pinkham letters, grateful for renewed life.

All druggists sell it. Address in confidence, Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

CLEVELAND INAUGURATED A SECOND TIME

Ceremonies Incident to His Induction Into Office as the Chief Executive of the Nation.

BUT LITTLE TROUBLE EXPERIENCED IN GETTING THE GREAT PROCESSION IN MOTION.

One Slight Change in the Programme to Gratify Mrs. Cleveland—The Incoming and Outgoing Presidents Occupy the Same Carriage in the March to the Reviewing Stand — Governors of Many States Participate in the Parade—Fine Appearance of the Military and Civic Organizations—Full Programme of the Order of March—Incidents of the Day at the Capital — Mr. Cleveland's Numerous Visitors Last Night.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—From daybreak this morning the city has been in an uproar. The thousands of visitors seem to completely swallow up the permanent residents, and, although they are used to exciting times during changes of administration, they seem bewildered by the intense excitement of the visiting delegations of Democrats, each apparently endeavoring to outdo the other in the art of making noise.

Column upon column of men, from East, West, North and South, paraded through the streets long before the President-elect had arisen, arousing the Washingtonians from their peaceful, though brief, slumbers, many being happy to have caught even two hours' sleep during the night, for far into the "wee, sma' hours" of this morning the Democrats continued the jubilee.

The members of the Tammany Society of New York seemed to be ubiquitous. Tammany badges were everywhere, and above the din and confusion of the parading and shouting delegations could be heard the whoops of the braves.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

As the time for the formation of the inaugural procession approached, Pennsylvania avenue, along the entire line of march, began to fill up, slowly at first but with increasing swiftness as the thousands of latecomers pushed and jostled each other in the endeavor to reach some colgn of vantange.

An hour or more before the time appointed for the start of the parade arrived, the great thoroughfare of Washington was a solid mass of humanity too tightly wedged together to move, with scarcely room enough to breathe.

It was almost a matter of impossibility to make progress on the sidewalks, and those who wished to move from one point to another were glad to take the middle of the street, although it was still ankle-deep with the slush churned into mud from yesrerday's storm.

That strange sound, almost indescribable, which always precedes an expected event pervaded the air like the low and indistinct murmur of the sea upon a pebbly beach on a calm day in the lazy summer time. What it signifies is also hard to tell. It seems to be a mixture of impatience, annoyance and excitement. The great crowds, however, were orderly, contrary to expectation, and the large bodies of police had little to do in the matter of arrests, but were very busy in keeping the lines of people on either side of the avenue from closing together in a solid phalanx.

At the reviewing stand the crowds were packed more closely and were more demonstrative than at any other point.

One slight change in the programme was adopted by the inaugural committee at the last moment at the suggestion of Mr. Cleveland.

It was intended to have had the President leave the procession at the southeast entrance to the White House grounds, situated at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Fifteenth street, so that he might recah the reviewing stand in time to see the head of the procession pass.

By Mr. Cleveland's plan, however, he passed the reviewing stand in his carriage and left the line at Executive avenue, half a block further on, and marking the western entrance.

It is understood that Mr. Cleveland secured this change to gratify Mrs. Cleveland, whose position in a building on Fifteenth street, facing the northern part of the avenue, would not allow her to see her husband if he left the line at the place selected by the inauguration committee.

The scenes about the city have been of a most animated description all day and this afternoon shows no abatement. A constant stream of arrivals has been issuing from the railway stations all morning and the marching music of many of the organizations has kept the air vibrating melodiously. It took but a few short hours to convert the National Capital into one great camp of armed men. Regiment after regiment and club after club poured into the city. Fife and horn, the clarion bugle, and the big bass drum were heard frequently and boisterously.

But few errors were made in the formation of the great parade and these were only of trivial moment, not interfering in the least with the smooth working of the programme. Some of the brigades failed to arrive at their posts on time, but the sides soon brought them into order.

With banners flying and bands playing lively airs the head of the first column proper passed the reviewing stand shortly after Mr Cleveland and Mr. Harrison had reached the places assigned to them.

MRS CLEVELAND.

The military presented a fine appearance, their marching was in splendid form, and they received the plaudits of all Washington as they passed along the broad avenue, up which the victorious armies of the Union had passed in 1865 in the grandest review known to history.

Many of the G. A. R. men remembered well the time, and, while speaking of those glorious days their marching became firmer and their bearing more soldierly. They had also something to say in low voices of their well beloved commanders—Grant, Sheridan, Sherman—who have passed away since then, waiting for the last roll call.

The column was composed of two grand divisions, the first grand division being divided into four sub-divisions, and the second into six sub-divisions, and each sub-division consisting of two or more brigades.

The organization and the order of the parade was as follows:

FIRST GRAND DIVISION.

General Mart in T. McMahon, grand Marshall, Col. W. L. Whipple, A. A. G. U. S. A., chief of staff, Col. H. C. Cooper, A. A. G., U. S. A., adjutant general; and special aides. Then came the in-coming and the out going presidents, seated together in Mr. Harrison's carriage, followed by the members of the cabinet also in carriages. These were followed by a delegation of the New York business men's Cleveland and Stevenson Club representing the different business exchanges in New York City.

Then came the first sub-division, commanded by Brig. Gen. Brook, U. S. A.; followed by his staff. The first brigade of this sub-division was composed of United States troops under the immediate command of Col. Livingston and staff. The artilery with their gorgeous red horse-hair plumes and clanking of steel introduced the soldiers, the First Artillery battalion consisting of four batteries: Fort Monroe battalion, six batteries. Then came representatives of the Navy in the person of the marines, headed by the senior admiral. The battalion was commanded by Maj. R. W. Huntingdon, U. S. M. C.

Light battery C of the third artillery, separated these from the squadron of United States Cavalry, consisting of Troop A, first cavalry; troop F, seventh; troop H, eighth; troop K, ninth. These soldiers of the yellow strips and the prancing steeds formed quite a contrast to the Hospital Corps of the United States Army which followed directly after them.

The second brigade of this same first sub-division which followed next was composed of the District of Columbia organizations under command of Brigadier General Ordway and staff. Under him were the First Regiment of Infantry; the Second Regiment of Infantry; the First Separate Company of Infantry; the High School Cadet Regiment of Infantry, and the Colored High School Company. Besides these were battery A, light artillery; troop A, District Cavalry; the District Ambulance Corps, and the Second Second Separate Company Cycles.

The second sub-division, which consisted of the National Guard of the different states was led by the Pennsylvania troops with Gov. Pattison and staff at their head, under the command of Major Gen. Snowden.

The third brigade consisted, in this order of marching, of the Ninth, Eight, Thirteenth, Twelfth, Fourth, battery D, light artillery and the Governors' troop.

The second brigade, which followed, Brig. Gen. Wiley commanding, was made up of, in the marching order, the Tenth, Fifteenth, Eighteenth, Fifth, Sixteenth, Fourteenth regiments, Battery B, light infantry and Sheridan troop, cavalry.

The first brigade, under Brigadier Gen. Deckert made up of the Sixth, First, Second and Third regiments and the State Fencibles, the Gray Invincibles, Naval battalion A, light artillery.

The third sub-division under General Fitzhugh Lee contained portions of the national guard of several of the States. It was divided into two brigades.

The first brigade commanded by Brigadier General Stewart Brown contained the following:

Gov. Werts, of New Jersey, and staff, leading the Third regiment N. J. N. G.; Gov. Northern, of Georgia, with the Georgia Hussars; Gov. Morris and staff, of Connecticut; Gov. Russell and staff, of Massachusetts; Gov. Frank Brown and staff, of Maryland, conducting the First, Fourth and Fifteenth regiments of infantry; the Fifth infantry Veteran Corps, Baltimore Rifles, Monumental City Guards and the Alleghany Guards.

Gen. C. A. Anuerson led the second brigade. In it were: Gov. Tillman and staff, of South Carolina, with the Palmetto (the Second S. C. N. G.) and the Lee light infantry; the Second and Fourth regiments, Battery B, Company B, first regiment, Company E third regiment, Richmond light infanty blues, and the First battalion of Virginia volunteers; Gov. Flower and staff, of New York, with the Seventh regiment, Company A, Thirteenth regiment and Forty-sixth separate company; Gen. Carr and staff, of North Carolina, with the Winston Rifles (Company A, Third N. C. S. G.) and Company B, First regiment; the Second regiment; Gov. Murphy J. Foster and staff, Louisiana; Gov. Peck and staff, of Wisconsin; the National Rifles (D. C.); the Montgomery Guards, the Fort Worth (Tex.) Fencibles, Gonzago Cadets and the Capital City Guards.

The Fourth Division consisted of Grand Army Posts marshalled by department commander S. E. Faunce.

SECOND GRAND DIVISION.

Civic Procession.
Col. Wm. Dickson, chief marshal.
Special Aides and Aides.
First Division.
Gen. Horace Porter, New York, division marshal and staff.
Jackson Democratic Association, District of Columbia.
Tammany Society of New York and other political organizations of the State.
Second Division.
Col. Levi Marsh, divison marshal and staff.
Samuel J. Randall Association, of Philadelphia and others.
Pennsylvania Clubs.
Third Division.
Gen. R. A. Donnellv, of New Jersey, division marshal, and staff.
Clubs from New Jersey, Massachusetts and Delaware.
Fourth Division.
Gen. Bradley T. Johnson, of Maryland, division marshall, and staff.
Clubs from Maryland, with the Prince George Mounted Batallion, accompanied by a batallion of ladies mounted.
Fifth Division.
John P. Hopkins, of Illinois, division marshal, with clubs from Illinois, Ohio and Iowa.
Sixth Division.
Gen. Young, of Georgia, division marshal, with clubs from Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, West Virginia and Virginia.

Among the civic organizations which composed the second grand divison Tammany attracted the largest share of attention. The delegation from the New York wigwam, 8,000 strong, presented a very imposing appearance and were heartily applauded as they marched by in well-formed lines.

It is estimated that 40,000 men took part in the parade.

All the members of President-elect Cleveland's cabiuet, with the exception of Judge Gresham were in the city and participated in the inaugural ceremonies.

After Mr. Harrison and Mr. Cleveland met they drove together to the Capital, where they visited the Senate Chamber and saw Gen Stevenson take the oath of office.

The cremonies in the Senate over, Mr. Cleveland went to the platform at the east end of the Capital, where the inauguration took place.

The Bible used in swearing the new President in was the same one which was used eight years ago and was also the very one when he was made Governor of New York, presented by his mother to be used especially on that occasion.

Mr. Cleveland was sworn in by Chief Justice Fuller, whom he had appointed.

The inaugural address was one of the shortest, perhaps the shortest of all inaugural addresses delivered by incoming Presidents of the United States. Its delivery occupied about 15 minutes. It was not read, but, with the exception of a reference now and then to note, was spoken to the great audience that was assembled at the east end of the Capitol.

Mr. Cleveland dwelt largely on the monetary question and deplored the present financial situation. He said that so far as the executive power was concerned everything that was possible within the constitution and laws would be done to prevent a depreciation of the currency, and that the whole power of the administration would be put forth to bring about the restoration of confidence in the money of the country. He said nothing about the prospects of an extra session of Congress beyond what was implied in his declaration that there must not be permitted, so far as the executive branch of the Government had the power to prevent, a depreciation of any form of the currency.

He also said that the people had placed the Democratic party in power in both the executive and legislative branches of the government and that it was the duty of the administration and of the Democratic majorities in the Senate and the House of Representatives to do their utmost to fulfil the promises and pledges that the party had given to the country.

The inauguration ball opens at 8 o'clock. Mr. Cleveland is expected to appear about 9 o'clock.

The ball will be given in the Pension Building. The floral and electrical decorations have transformed it into an exquisite fairy bower. The manager of the building to-night will be La Fayette Gardiner, who is known as Grover Cleveland's double. The Marine Band and a magnificent orchestra will furnish the music. The floor has been divided into twelve dancing sections, so that twelve different sets can dance at the same time. There is not likely to be much dancing, because 12,000 tickets have been sold at $5 a ticket, and at least 11,000 persons are expected.

The illumination and fireworks in Pennsylvania avenue begin at 7:15 o'clock and the display in the Monument grounds begins at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Cleveland's Callers.

Col. and Mrs. Lamont, Miss Lamont and their guest, Miss Sanders, took an hour's drive about the city in the afternoon

After Mr. Harrison's call Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland remained in their apartments until about 3 o'clock, when they also took a brisk drive about town. Mrs. Cleveland, in passing along the corridor, met little Ruth, with her nurse.

"Good-bye, little sweetheart," she said, as she kissed her little daughter and then hurried on to overtake her husband. There were many calls during the afternoon on the President-elect and Mrs. Cleveland; among them were Senator Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Harrity, Gov. Flower, Lieut-Gov. Sheehan, Richard Croker, W. Bourke Cochran, Police Commissioner Martin, Corporation Counsel Clarke, all of New York; J. Sterling Morton, the in-coming Secretary of the Department of Agriculture; Hoke Smith, who is to be Secretary of the Interior and Mr. Henry Villard.

The United States Marine Band, following a custom that has long been in vogue, serenaded the outgoing Secretary of the Navy last night.

BID THE CABINET GOOD-BYE.

The Last Meeting of President Harrison's Advisers.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The last meeting of President Harrison's Cabinet took place at the usual hour. All of the members were present, and at the conclusion of a half hour's conference, the President arose, and in a few words, bade them good bye.

He thanked them for the loyal support they had always given him and attributed much of the success of his administration to their wise counsels, faithful services and devotion to the country's highest good.

He thanked them for the personal good will they bore him, and wished for each one happiness and success in all their undertakings.

He then shook hands with each in turn, and in a voice which betrayed emotion, bade them good bye.

Judge Gresham off for Washington.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Judge Gresham said good bye to his friends in the Government building yesterday. He made a tour of all the offices and shook hands with the various officials. The Judge will go at once to Washington and return about the end of next week to finish some court matters that yet need attention.

PLEADED GUILTY AS POISONERS.

Union Men of Homestead Confess and Will be Sentenced with the Rest.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—It has just been learned that one day this week, when business was quiet in the Criminal Court, Gallagher and Davidson, on the charge of having conspired to poison the non-union men at Homestead, came into court and pleaded guilty. It is not known why it was done so secretly.

The discovery was not made until yesterday, when their names were announced among those to receive sentence to-day.

Still No News of the Naronic.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The White Star Steamship Company has yet received no tidings of the overdue steamship Naronic. The one conclusion arrived at by the agents is that the Naronic is badly disabled because a slight accident to any part of her machinery or steaming gear could scarcely delay the steamer twenty days. No incoming vessel has yet spoken the delayed steamship.

Typhus in a Jersey Village.

TITUSVILLE, N. J., March 4.—A few days ago a man from New York city came to this village sick with typhus fever, and since then the people with whom he boarded have been taken down with it. One daughter of the family has died, and the mother and another daughter now have the disease. A boarding house is infected. Several of the boarding are down with the fever.

Bequest to the Essex Institute.

SALEM, Mass., March 4.—The will of the late Dr. Henry Wheatland, just filed for probate, bequeaths his library to the Essex Institute to be kept for a reference library; also the sum of $15,000 to be invested and kept until it amounts to $25,000, when the income is to be expended for books; he also leaves all of his historical specimens and papers to the Essex Institute.

Humphreys Will Back Dawson.

NEW YORK, March 4.—A telegram has been received from New Orleans in which John C. Humphreys says he will back George Dawson to fight any man in the world at 140 pounds for $10,000 a side and the largest purse offered. Richard K. Fox is named for final stakeholder. A $500 forfeit has been deposited.

Must Serve Her Sentence.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The application of Bertha Laws who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment for swindling Consul General Ruiz, of Ecuador, to have her plea of guilty, under which she received sentence, withdrawn, has been denied and Bertha must serve her sentence.

Guarding the Lake Front.

CHICAGO, March 4.—Police are guarding the lake front night and day to prevent the Illinois Central railroad from laying additional tracks in defiance of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. A roadbed seventy feet wide has been gravelled and ties have been placed ready for bedding.

No Cigarettes in Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 4.—Both houses of the Legislature have passed a bill making it unlawful in this State to manufacture, buy, sell or give away, or to have in one's possession cigarettes or cigarette paper.

Car Coupler Bill Approved.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—President Harrison approved the Car Coupler bill to-day, and the pen with which he signed it was presented to Mr. E. A. Mosely, Secretary of Interstate Commerce commission.

WEAK, NERVOUS WOMEN

DR. LAURY M'HENRY GIVES THEM SOME GOOD ADVICE.

HEADACHE AND WEAKNESS.

The Doctor Tells How They May Be Quickly Relieved—He Says Women Are Suffering Needless Pain—The Secret of Their Happiness.

"Oh, how my head aches!"

Far too often is this exclamation made some suffering woman. She is weak and nervous, and some excitement, some strain on the nerves, has brought on a racking headache. She has chilly feelings, a sickness at the stomach, and other painful symptoms, but above all she has this throbbing, this nerve-splitting aching of the head which nothing seems to relieve. Can nothing be done to relieve this terrible agony?

"Yes," is the answer given by Dr. Laury McHenry, a celebrated physician who has devoted a life time to the study and cure of just such troubles as these. He says:

"Take things easier; do not fret; do what you can and don't worry about work left undone; sleep more than you do; now there are many means of speedy relief, but the cure that I want you to make is thorough, complete and lasting, and like all things well done, requires patience; to sum it all up: The radical, permanent cure for sick headache in weak, nervous women must combine the following: A general toning of the system, regular habits and plenty of sleep at the right time."

Yes, you say, I would gladly try anything to be freed from the suffering I endure, but how is it to be done? What shall I take for it? There are so many remedies how am I to choose the right one? These are reasonable questions; there are so many tonics, nervines, sarsaparillas and other concoctions claimed to be ready reliefs, but which, in reality, only make matters worse. Physicians will tell you that there is only one safe and reliable cure known to medical science that really does soothe and nourish the worn out nerves, permanently cures headache of every kind, and strengthens the system. What this great remedy is and what it will do for suffering women is best told in the words of some who have tested it. Here is what a few well-known women have to say about its wonderful powers:

Helen Ashland Kean, who wrote "When the Tide Comes In," and many other popular songs, and who resides at Hartford, Conn., says: "One year ago I lay at death's door, a complete mental and physical wreck: I had neither hope nor ambition enough to desire life; my dear little children had ceased to give me joy or cheer; I was moody by day, despondent and sleepless at night; at times I fell into a sort of trance, losing all power over nerve or muscle; my feet and hands were like ice and my heart almost pulseless; in such a state, my nurse and friend administered something for which I was always profoundly grateful; the first dose imparted warmth to my body; I began to gain visibly, rapidly and steadily, day by day; I feel now as if I could endure everything without its tiring me, and it is all due to that grand discovery, that wonderful specific for the nerves that conquers all prostration, Paine's celery compound; my literary labors are such that I write some times far into the 'wee sma hours,' consuming the midnight oil, but not as of yore consuming brain, nerve and muscle without their being replenished. I would not be without this grand compound for its 'weight in gold.'"

To the same effect are the earnest, outspoken words of Mrs. C. E. Prescott, who resides at No. 8 Worcester st., Cambridgeport, Mass., which are as follows:

"There is nothing like Paine's celery compound; it has helped me wonderfully; for more than five years I have been troubled with constipation; my heart was so weak that I could not do any kind of work without a terrible throbbing; ever since I can remember I have had nervous headaches of the worst sort; I have taken several bottles of Paine's celery compound and find it the only thing that helps me; I heartily recommend it to all suffering from the complaint with which I was afflicted, for this compound has done me such a marvelous amount of good that I want others to know of its value."

Can anything be more convincing than this? And if this great compound could do so much for these ladies, may it not be just what you require to prevent the coming on of untimely age, the withering of the energies and drooping of the life? If this great discovery has been so grand a friend of thousands, does it not stand to reason that it may also prove a friend to you?

More Gold Going Away.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Messrs. Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. will ship $1,000,000 gold to Europe by the German steamer on Tuesday next. This with the amount to be sent out by Lazard Freres on the same day, will bring the total up to $2,000,000.

Fined for Selling Liquor.

PITTSFORD, Vt. March 4.—R. H. Drake, a merchant here, has been fined $1,850 and costs, the whole amounting to about $2,000, under the prohibitory law for selling liquor. This is one of the heaviest fines ever imposed in the State. Drake appealed the case to a higher court.

Aroused Over the Race Track Bills.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 4.—There will be a mass meeting in almost every town in Monmouth County on Sunday afternoon to protest against the race track laws and it is proposed to have resolutions passed at each meeting.

Canadian Pacific Decreasing.

MONTREAL, Que., March 4.—The earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the week ending February 28 were $345,000; for the same period last year, $397,000; decrease, $52,000.

The Senatorship Fight Unchanged.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 4.—The ballot for United States Senator in the Legislature yesterday was unchanged. The Legislature will adjourn next Thursday.

Gov. Flower in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Gov. Flower of New York appeared in the hall of the House shortly after 1 o'clock and was warmly applauded and cheered.

Col. Hayes Gets Eight Years.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Judge Martine sentenced Col. W. B. Hayes, convicted of perjury, to eight years imprisonment.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—To-night a song service will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms.

—Fred Casper is remodeling the interior of his hotel on East Front street.

—"Moses, the Heroic Leader", will be the theme of the character study of the Rev. Charles E. Herring to-morrow evening.

—The Plainfield Athletic club will give a reception to their members and friends at their rooms, 28 West Front street, this evening.

—A North avenue grocery clerk distinguished himself last Tuesday by driving through Grove street, Dunellen, with both of his arms around a maiden.

—James R. Johnston, superintendent of Florence Crittenden Mission, No. 7, of Philadelphia, will conduct the services in Hope chapel, Monday, March 6, at 8 p.m.

—Some of the web perfecting presses built by the Walter Scott company of this city will be shipped to Chicago, next week to be placed on exhibition at the World's Fair. The presses are nearly ready.

—Comment is made on the matter of liquor-selling at Dunellen on Sunday. Between the Grove street crossing and Bound Brook, it is alleged, there are five unlicensed places, which are frequented by Plainfielders.

—The Central railroad authorities are after the coal stealers at Dunellen. While the loaded cars were continually standing on the siding between this city and Dunellen, several tons of coal were carried away. Detectives are at work.

—Geo. Albert, who was burned out on Somerset street two weeks ago, has agreed on a settlement by the insurance company. He got $250. The appraisers were out Thursday and looked over Mantz Brothers' stock, but they came to no agreement.

—Ed. Mundy, an employe of Smalley Bros., while lighting the gas in the show window last evening, slipped and caught his left hand one of the meat hooks. The fleshy part of the hand was badly torn. The wound was dressed in A. D. Mallinson's pharmacy.

—Next Monday night the members of No. 2 Engine company will pay a farewell visit to the house which they have occupied since 1867. In commemoration of the departure to new quarters the company has decided to hold appropriate ceremonies on that night.

—The "Three Sheenies", Messrs. Ryan, Stanley and Ryley, are a big hit with Monroe's latest success, "Aunt Bridget's Baby"; and "The Man in the Moon", by Miss Minerva Adams, catches the public fancy and demands repeated encores. Next Tuesday evening at Music Hall.

—All those interested in the Kitchen Garden are invited to the W. C. T. U. rooms Monday afternoon, March 6, at 4. The children will then show what they have learned during the last month, and a pleasant hour is promised. Only a small admission fee will be asked.

—A seven-year-old lad by the name of Moondriver, living in the valley back of North Plainfield, was severely bitten in the left elbow by a dog, yesterday. The animal showed no symptoms of hydrophobia, but the boy was brought to this city at once and treated by Dr. T. H. Tomlinson.

—Two young men in a buggy were upset in a deep snowbank at Clinton avenue and Eighth street last night. The horse ran away, the buggy was wrecked, and one of the young men was dragged some distance and painfully bruised from head to foot. When the horse was caught it had only the bridle left on it.

—Only one more week remains to buy shoes and rubbers at reduced prices. Sherwin's special sale closes Saturday, March 11. So do n't put off fitting yourself. The prices are cut on everything, not only rubbers, but shoes and all. Extra help is in attendance, so you won't have to wait to be waited on.

—Another of those popular entertainments by the Plainfield Camera club, will be given on Tuesday evening next at 8. One hundred beautiful pictures will be thrown on the screen. The slides are made from negatives by the members of the Syracuse Camera club, and consist of artistic views in and about New York State.

—Vanderbeek & Sattels yesterday bought a fine selection of the celebrated Hazleton pianos, which they purpose keeping in stock in the future. They will arrive early in the week, and will then be on inspection. These pianos are too well known to need any comment. A cordial invitation is extended by this firm to all lovers of music to visit their warerooms.

—The solitary Republican who told Mr. Saunders that he could n't possibly be re-elected was Tom Morrison! When did the borough voters make him their confidential mouth-piece? Yet Tom visited the Mayor in his New York office and tried to scare him out of running! No wonder the Mayor took heart! He's dead sure of election, with Tom agin him!

Aunt Bridget's Baby.

George W. Monroe has made a great hit in "Aunt Bridget", and he will go right on piling up dollars with his annex, "Aunt Bridget's Baby". He will play it at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening. Of course, the play is only a bundle of absurdities, things to laugh at. There are neat songs and dances, and plenty of specialties. Thomas J. Ryan and Nellie Rosebud assist materially in the fun-making scenes. Warwick Ganor has a splendid baritone voice which he uses to good advantage.

In fact, the company are all strong in their respective parts. The special scenery and costumes are very attractive.

OVATION TO THE MAYOR.

ENTHUSIASTIC RENOMINATION OF THE HON. W. L. SAUNDERS.

His Courageous and Manly Speech of Acceptance—Praised by His Withdrawing Opponent—Joseph H. Howell and John L. Blackford for Councilmen.

The renomination of Mayor W. L. Saunders by the North Plainfield Democrats, at the primary last evening, amounted to a genuine ovation. When the business of nominating a candidate for mayor was reached, there was a rush and scramble to be the first to utter Mr. Saunders's name, and unanimous vote for him was made immediately. Mr. Saunders, who was present, was visibly gratified by this testimonial of esteem and regard, and voiced his feelings in a manly speech, in which he defined very clearly his position. He said in part:

"I thank you, gentlemen, most sincerely, for this compliment. My gratitude to you, who seem to be so earnest and so unanimous, is in no sense lessened by the fact that it is against all my personal, pecuniary and private interests to remain longer in public office. As I stated in my letter to the secretary of the Democratic association some weeks ago, my only ambition is to be promoted to private life.

"If anyone thinks that the duties of mayor of this borough are merely perfunctory, he is very much mistaken. The people who elect a man to this office place upon his shoulders cares, responsibilities and duties, and they expect him to carry them without a murmur, and in a manner conducive to the health, protection and prosperity of the people. They hold him responsible for results. If the committees and the several borough officers do not do their duty, the people blame the mayor, because on him centres all responsibility.

"The members of my family beg me not to stand again. My business associates tell me that it is to my interest and theirs not to accept a renomination. I received a visit this afternoon from a prominent Republican in the borough, and a personal friend, who told me that there was strong opposition to me in the Park and elsewhere, and his advice to me as a friend was not to stand for reelection, because I would surely be defeated.

"But in spite of all this, I accept this renomination, and will stand again before the people. I cannot do otherwise and be faithful to you who have placed me under obligations to you. I can not do otherwise and be true to myself, for I have started certain measures which I believe to be in the interest of the people, and it would be cowardly to stop now. One year is too short a time for one to accomplish much in the office of mayor. It takes from six to eight months to get well in harness. If the people determine that certain reforms with which I am identified are worthy, they will ask me to complete them; if not, they will reject me at the polls. As I told my Republican friend this afternoon, I would rather suffer defeat than run away from my record and my friends in the face of opposition."

But if one Republican was fearful that Mr. Saunders would be defeated, there are many who hope and will work and vote to see him re-elected. Even councilman B. A. Hegeman, jr., who refused to accept the Republican nomination to run against him, was warm in his praise last evening, when at the borough council meeting he paid open tribute to his personal worth and admirable administration.

Both township and borough primary were presided over by John Bodine, with his son David as secretary. The nominations were:

TOWNSHIP.

For Town Clerk—Frank Krewson.
For Town Committeeman—John Emmons.
For Overseer of the Poor—John Mackey.
For Commissioners of Appeal—John Bremmer, John A. Thickstun, Elisha Corlell.
For Constables—Levi Kline, William N. Pangborn.

BOROUGH.

For Mayor—W. L. Saunders.
For Councilmen—Joseph H. Howell, John L. Blackford.
Appropriation for Board of Health—$500.
For Roads—$3,500 ($500 on Somerset street).
For Borough purposes—$1,500.

The other offices were left open. In the township David Carney, Andrew Kenney and John T. Case were appointed a committee to fill vacancies; in the borough, Elston French, William H Ludlow and Joseph A. Blats.

Candidate Blackford was called on for a speech and urged a campaign of harmony and energy.

WHO IS HE?

So Far, for Decent Plainfield's Sake, This "Crank" is Utterly Unknown Here.

The following correspondence speaks for itself. It it should also serve the purpose of identifying "Mr. Hickson"—whom everyone who has been questioned, takes satisfaction of denying any knowledge of—steps may be taken to have him examined and sent to the Morris Plains asylum for the insane:

PLAINFIELD, Feb. 28, '93.

To Station Agent, Lakewood, N. J.:

Will you please, for the benefit of the citizens of Plainfield, ask the conductor of the train that is to rid Lakewood of Grover Cleveland if he won't have the train go through Plainfield at the greatest speed possible on Thursday as we do not want Grover in our Place one second longer than is possible—we do not want the fair name of our city tainted.

J. G. HICKSON.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 3.

What "Crank" is this who writes me?

C. J. PARMENTER, Agt.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will sure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 66 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-15-y

EXIT BOROUGH COUNCIL.

Felicitous Exchange of Farewell Courtesies.

The meeting of the North Plainfield borough council last evening was the first in the cozy new council chamber, in Spencer's hall, and the last of the old council.

The only real business of the evening was the payment of final bills. The time of the short meeting was mostly spent in the pleasant exchange of compliments.

Mr. Neal introduced a resolution, which was heartily endorsed by all, expressing appreciation for the faithful and valuable services of the retiring councilmen, B. A. Hegeman, jr., and Charles P. Sebring. They two gave voice to their thanks and reciprocation of good feeling.

Mr. Hegeman eloquently spoke on behalf of the entire council in thanking Mayor Saunders for his uniform courtesy and kindness to the councilmen during to term he has presided, and said that the mayor was to be given all praise and honor for the excellent work he has done, both in instituting public measures which have been accomplished and in starting others which are now on the way to consummation.

Mr. Saunders gracefully responded, expressing his gratitude to the councilmen for their united cooperation.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

W. E. Kiely, of the U. S. Express corps, is confined to his home by illness.

David Angerbauer is confined to the house, 36 East Third street, with tonsilitis.

D. W. Littell, of West Seventh street, is confined to the house with an attack of neuralgia.

David French and Alfred Obitz left town this morning for Graham, Young county, Texas, via Chicago.

Thomas Hale, sr., died at 2:15 this afternoon, at his late residence, 45 East Fifth street, in his eighty-first year.

Miss Florence M. Randolph of West Front street, left Thursday for Washington where she will remain two or three weeks.

Word has been received from Titusville, that Mrs. John Vosselman is much better, and it is hoped that she will be able to be around in a few days.

George W. Moreton, for many years with the Pond Machine Tool company, has accepted a lucrative position in the draughting department of the Betts Machine company, Wilmington, Delaware.

Mrs. Avis Laing, whose home is at the corner of Broadway and Fourth street, fell on the icy sidewalk on Fifth street near Broadway, a few days ago, and sprained her left wrist quite badly.

The wedding of Miss Bessie K. Mellick to Richard TenEyck, will take place this evening, at Metuchen After the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents will give the young couple and their friends a reception at their home.

Charles L. McBride will sever his long connection with Reynolde's pharmacy, the first of next month, to enter in business for himself again at his old home, Kingston, N. Y. The host of friends that he and his charming wife have drawn closely to them, will part from them with sincere regret.

Thomas J. Ryan, a talented singing and dancing comedian, will be seen next Tuesday evening at Music Hall, with George W. Monroe's "Aunt Bridget's Baby" company. Mr. Monroe is especially pleased with the hard work and efforts of this bright performer, and says he is a great addition to the ranks of musical farce comedy.

Robert F. B. Huntsman, the newspaperman who left the local field about a year ago and became connected with the estate of Samuel J. Tilden in Gramercy Park, New York, has just entered the New York advertising business. He is connected with Charles K. Hammitt at 231 Broadway. Mr. Hammitt is one of the brightest and best-posted advertising men of the day, with an experience of 20 years in New York city. He handles the elevated railway and surface car advertising in New York city and Brooklyn, and in addition cares for an extensive list of representative daily, weekly and monthly journals. Mr. Huntsman is particularly interested in the trade journal line, and will represent New York for a world-renowned publication, The American Mail and Export Journal.

Republicans of Plainfield Are Not All "Mean Minded".

(Bound Brook Democrat.)

The Plainfield Press says: "The indignation meeting in Music Hall Sunday broke up in disorder over the question whether or not Gov. Werts should be given credit by the citizens assembled for his courageous veto of the race-track bills which were subsequently passed over his veto." The mean-minded Republicans of Plainfield are evidently striving to reclaim for that city its old name and style of "Pinchgut".

Beware.

"Seeing is believing", said the Sage. True, but defective sight may establish an erroneous belief. Avoid this disastrous result by timely attention to your eyes. An examination of them at Collier's will cost you nothing and may prove of lasting benefit.

Worn out "run-down," feeble women know Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds them up. It's a powerful, restorative tonic, or strength-giver—free from alcohol and injurious drugs. The entire system is renewed and invigorated. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, gives refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. As a soothing nervine, it allays and subdues hysteria, spasms, and all the nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease. It's the only guaranteed medicine for women. It does what is promised—or it asks nothing. It gives satisfaction in every case, or the money paid for it is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

CHAPS

And How to Get Rid of Them.

Nothing more annoying than chapped hands. And the more you wash the worse they chap! Soap cleans, but soap chaps. Now by neutralizing the alkali of the soap by means of a harmless acid we may prevent chapping. MR. HONEYMAN ACCEPTS

Frank and Open Letter of the Republican Nominee to the Republican Committee.

Messrs. P. A. Emmons, H. N. Spencer and H. E. Needham, Committee.

GENTLEMEN: Your notification that the Republicans of the Borough of North Plainfield, at a primary meeting held on Wednesday evening, March 1, unanimously tendered me the nomination of Mayor to be voted for at the ensuing election has been thoughtfully and earnestly considered.

My private wishes, as you are aware, are averse to an acceptance; and especially since it is well known, not only that the office has responsibilities not conjoined with any salary, but that the holder of it usually finds his task thankless and without the hope of convincing all his constituents that his own views on leading Borough questions are upright and regardful only of the public welfare. This latter fact, probably, has in other years induced many, whose long residence in the Borough and peculiar business fitness had pointed them out conspicuously as the most proper persons to hold this office, to decline even suggestions of a nomination to it; and I must frankly say it has made me seriously consider whether I am called upon to make the sacrifice necessarily involved in a campaign, which invariably has some disagreeable elements thrust into it.

But I have come to the conclusion, assisted thereto by your kindly personal sentiments and assurances of party harmony, that the objections named constitute all the stronger reasons why I, as a citizen, should respond to a nomination made with spontaneity of feeling and from right motives, as to a call to duty; and that no man, whose private business does not absolutely preclude his attention to borough affairs, or who has not other equally strong reasons, has a right to decline the use of his name for so honorable a public purpose.

It is because of indifference to such calls that New Jersey is to-day, as a State, in the hands of men who have succeeded in overthrowing the long-established laws hedging about our public virtue.

With this view of my duty as a citizen, a view I have always urged by pen and speech, I am obliged to place my name and services at your disposal in the matter of the hoped-for election of a Republican Mayor and Council for your borough.

I have resided in your county now for the past twenty-three years and have of late made your borough, which for beauty, prosperity and the intelligence of your citizens is second to none in this State, my home. You have great advantages both of location and of a good name, (which is better than wealth), and magnificent opportunities for the future. Be assured then, that, whether elected to this office by the suffrages of your voters or not, I stand ready to be counted with you in assisting in every effort put forth, public or private, to enhance the material and moral advantages of a residence among you; to uphold law and order; to sustain all proper reforms and improvements; in a word, to promote whatever is useful, wholesome and good. With all our citizens acting, regardless of party affiliations, toward these common ends, what may the future of North Plainfield not be?

Yours faithfully,

A. V. D. HONEYMAN.

North Plainfield, N. J., March 4, 1893.

MR. MCCLURE ON SNOW DRIFTS.

An Opinion from the County Attorney, and an Application from the Plainfield Electric Railway.

The meeting of the Union county board of freeholders, Thursday afternoon, was short, the only matter over which there was any debate being the question of the responsibility of the freeholders to make the county roads passable when blocked by snow drifts, or whether it was the duty of the townships.

Mr. Kyte and Mr. Scudder in their townships put men at work, cleared away the drifts, and submitted the bills to the county road inspector, who refused to certify them until the board had ordered him to.

County attorney McClure gave an opinion that the freeholders were obliged to keep the roads passable in winter as well as summer, and the bills were justified as cases of emergency.

The board voted to pay the bills, but Mr. Sauer, of the road committee, said that in the future he would not, as one, audit such bills unless the county road inspector was notified and the work done under his supervision.

The Elizabeth and Plainfield Electric Street Railway company made application to lay tracks over the South avenue bridge in Westfield township. The petition was referred to the county road committee.

To-Night F. Marion Crawford Will Read.

The patronesses of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall's course of entertainments, feel very much pleased at the success of the enterprise, as 120 season tickets have been sold representing as large an audience as can be accomodated in a private house.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Emanuel Hagaen, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

HOW WASHINGTON LOOKED TO-DAY.

An Untimely and Disagreeable Snowstorm—Great but Good-Natured Crowds.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—We have "Garfield weather" instead of "Cleveland weather" in Washington for to-day's inauguration. The rain last evening has turned into a soft feathery snow, which wets everything it falls on, and renders the walking sloppy and unpleasant, but it is otherwise harmless.

It presents a fresh argument in favor of reviving the date which George Washington, the first President, consecrated as Inauguration Day, the 30th of April, when mild skies and balmy airs, trees in full leaf, and flowers in radiant bloom, invite the world to an out-of-door life. In spite of the weather, the assembled multitude is heartily good-natured. The discomforts of the day are treated as a joke, and everybody is disposed to jostle and be jostled, without taking offence. Umbrellas are few.

There is not enough room in which to swing them. Even the speculators who are selling outside seats for viewing the parade are taking their bad luck mildly, and most of them have disposed of enough places in advance to cover all chances of loss, and those who have still any on hand are finding takers at reduced rates. Rather than miss the great parade they have come so far to see most of the visitors here are willing, under compulsion, to bundle up against the weather and take luck as it comes.

FIRE AT AN INSANE ASYLUM.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 4.—One of the groups of the State Hospital buildings for the insane at Ogdensburg caught fire this morning and has been partly destroyed.

THE OVERDUE NARONIC.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The freight steamship Naronic of the White Star Line, which is so long overdue, had not been sighted to-day.

LOOKS LIKE DORY'S, EH!

Well, the Reason You Don't Admire It, Georgie, Is Because It's Ours and Not the West Ends'.

(Somerville Democrat.)

The Crescent League gave a "Smoker" last Friday night with a double purpose—to make a few dollars, and to show the people of Plainfield that they had received the pennant which cost them so much to win last summer.

A well-told tale was related to a DEMOCRAT reporter in the Press office, before the slugging match, by ex-Manager Chas. A. Reed, how he had gone to Spaulding's two weeks ago, and how glad they were to make the pennant just as he wished it, and that it had been received Friday noon.

When the reporter reached the big rink Lawyer Chas. Van Winkle stopped him and told him another story, that the pennant would be along in about two months. In light of the two conflicting stories, not much stock was taken in either. However, they have got a pennant. Where they got it from no one will tell, but it looks very much like the handiwork of Theo. Vroom. The pennant was hung in one corner of the rink over the stage. It is of unbleached muslin, about twelve feet long, and bears this inscription, in lurid letters a foot long, "Champions of N. J., 1892." From the lower edge of a placard hung, decorated by some grocery store artist, the club's motto: "We are the Crescents; give us room." This, Plainfield says, is the emblem of glory, presented by A. G. Spaulding. Well, if it is, Somerville is glad she did not win it, because it would look cheap in comparison to the one we now display on game days. Spaulding must have given this to square things with Plainfield for the balls furnished last year, if he gave it at all. The question is, Will Plainfield ever have the nerve to fly this pennant? Don't, Crescents. That red paint will fade in the sun.

A Daniel Come to Judgment.

Moses Quass, for quarrelling and fighting and disorderly conduct, on Third street, near Sullivan's saloon, March 1, was arrested on complaint of Charles Frey. To-day, after hearing the evidence of both sides, judge Coddington decided that Quass and Frey were equally guilty, and fined each $5.

Yes! If Elected.

(Elizabeth Journal.)

The North Plainfield Republicans have nominated Mr. A. V. D. Honeyman, formerly editor of the Somerville Unionist-Gazette, for mayor of that place. If elected he will make a good one.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best in the market. A single bottle will convince you of its excellence. Try it.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by Jas. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured. E. S. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative eudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

I suffered from a severe cold in my head for months and could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Samuel L. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York.

One of my children had a very bad discharge from her nose. Two physicians prescribed, but without benefit. We tried Ely's Cream Balm, and, much to our surprise, there was a marked improvement. We continued using the Balm and in a short time the discharged was cured. O. A. Gary, Corning, N. Y.

SMITH WHIPS GODDARD

The "Barrier Giant" Knocked Out After a Hard Fight.

EIGHTEEN ROUNDS WERE FOUGHT.

A Dispute Over the Gloves Delays the Opening of the Contest—Cries of Foul Against One of Smith's Blows—Greeny-Dawson Fight a Draw—Boynan Challenges Smith.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—In the preliminary bout between Dawson and Greeny, honors were even. In the first and second rounds Dawson appeared to be playing with Greeny. In the third round there was some sparring and lively exchanges, during which both men went to grass. Then referee Duffy counted both out and so declared it. The men walked off arm in arm, amid derisive cheers from the crowd.

Then came the event of the evening, the Goddard-Smith fight.

Goddard entered the ring at 9:12, New Orleans time, with a confident air and a moment later Smith showed up. Both were greeted with cheers and the weights were announced as Goddard 180, Smith 185. Gloves were donned at 9:18, after a caution from the referee.

The men had a wrangle over the gloves. The weight, five ounces, was all right, but Goddard said they were too short for his use. Smith protested against any change and after a while Goddard agreed to accept them. The men then shook hands and went to their corners. Time was called at 9:30.

First round—Goddard led and immediately clinched and then let him have one hard on the stomach. Smith landed on Goddard's neck with his left and cries of foul was heard. The referee refused to allow the foul.

Fourth round—Goddard landed heavily on Smith's jaw. Goddard tried to force Smith to the ropes and a furious fight at short range followed. Both men were blowing like grampuses at the close of the round.

Fifth round—The men came together and some lively exchanges ensued. Goddard had decidedly the best of the round.

Sixth round—Goddard landed a straight left on Smith's neck and the men clinched. Then came some terrific fighting. Smith was adjudged to have the best of the round.

Seventh round—Smith punched Goddard three times with his left and then knocked him to his knees, from which he arose just in time to save himself. Goddard landed hard with his left, landing with great force on Goddard's neck, when the bell rung.

Eighth round—In this and the two succeeding rounds to the seventeenth there was hot fighting on both sides with honors easy.

Eighteenth round—Smith pulled himself together, started at Goddard wickedly and landed his right forcibly on Goddard's neck. Then Smith swung with his left on Goddard's neck and Goddard returned with his right forcing matters. Smith showed wonderful spirit and ability, and the crowd cheered wildly for him as Goddard's second threw up the sponge and the referee declared Smith the winner in the eighteenth round.

Choynski Challenges Smith.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—Jos. Choynski announces that he will fight Smith before the club offering the largest purse and a side bet of any amount. The Crescent City club will hang up a purse of $10,000.

MANY LIVES LOST.

Two Steamers in Collision in the English Channel.

LONDON, March 4.—A serious collision involving the probable loss of a number of lives occurred last night in the English Channel.

A vessel called the Cacique was sunk by an unknown steamer.

Ten of the survivors have landed at Dover in a boat, and it is stated that 13 others are missing, and, it is feared, have been lost.

Several Put in Irons.

NEWPORT, R. I., March 4.—The apprentice boys at the United States training station have had another uprising. They objected to the action of some of the officials in charge and demolished considerable glass and dishes while at mess. Several boys are now in irons.

Phil. Dwyer Will Not Hold the Stakes.

NEW ORLEANS, March 4.—In conversation with a reporter Phil. Dwyer said that if the Corbett-Mitchell purse was offered to him as a final stakeholder he would certainly refuse to accept. The only explanation that he would make was that he had had enough of it.

No One Was Drowned.

BAY CITY, March 4.—It is now certain that no one was drowned in the accident at Wheeler's shipyard Thursday. All the missing have been found and the owners of hats floating on the water are accounted for. Fred Babcock is dead but all the others injured will recover.

Bigamist Wallace Sentenced.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 4.—Hiram Wallace, the colored bigamist, convicted before Judge Smith, a few days ago, was sentenced to Auburn prison for not less than one year nor more than three, the time depending on his good behavior.

To Investigate Massachusetts Prisons.

BOSTON, March 4.—The Senate has adopted an order for a special committee of the Senate to investigate the management and administration of affairs in the penal and reformatory institutions of the State.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

That Big Feller.

A middle-aged man whose business keeps him away from home on all days except Sunday had occasion to chastise his eldest son one Sabbath, about three weeks ago. So soon as the shingle seance was over the child ran crying into the house.

"Why, Johnnie, what is the matter?" asked the mother in alarm.

"That big feller's been licking me," whimpered the boy.

"What fellow do you mean, Johnnie?"

"Why, that feller what stays here every Sunday," replied the urchin with a gulp.—Texas Siftings.

Mr. Swackhammer Well Hooked.

Fond Mamma—Mabel, my dear, have you any reason to think—pardon me, my daughter, but it is to me a matter of the highest concern—have you any reason to think that Algernon Swackhammer, the wealthy and highly-connected young professional man, regards you with more than ordinary interest?

A SUNNY NATURE.

Lovely Woman's Best and Greatest Charm.

What a Bright and Attractive Woman Has to Say to Her Sisters.

How a Happy and Joyous Nature Can Be Acquired.

Women make the sunshine of life.

Did you ever watch the flowers turn with irresistible persistence toward the sunlight? So does the bright, joyous, sunny nature of a woman irresistibly attract all to her light-hearted, merry and buoyant spirits.

Such a nature makes glad the heart; it makes happy the time.

For a man, all the anxiety of business, the weight of care, the gloom and depression of spirits are dispersed as clouds by the sun before the bright smile of a joyous, happy wife.

And it follows no less surely that a cross woman, one never pleased, always faultfinding, discontented and unhappy, will repel all who approach her, and make those who should love her shrink from her society.

Now, the first requisite of good nature is good health. No one out of health can have bounding spirits and feel particularly good natured.

If a woman feels nervous, weak, tired, languid, lifeless and miserable, experiences a faintness, sense of fulness after eating, has irregular appetite, constipated bowels, frequent headaches, wakeful or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, weak back, backache, dragging down pains, irregularities, female weakness, any or all of these, it is impossible for her to be light-hearted and happy.

And in the spring these feelings are very prevalent because of the torpid condition of the system after the winter. She must be cured first, and, with returning health, her old-time spirits will come back.

If women will follow closely the advice and example of our bright and attractive correspondent, Mrs. Elmer Craig, of Le Roy, Ill., they can easily attain both health and good spirits.

MRS. ELMER CRAIG.

"I was stricken with nervous disease," writes Mrs. Craig, "which affected my heart head and stomach. I doctored with physicians of our town, but got no relief from the terrible sick headaches, pains in the heart and stomach until I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Before I used this wonderful medicine the nerves in my eyes were so affected that I feared that I would lose my sight. I would get so nervous and weak I could not walk across the room without terrible palpitation of the heart. I had not taken one bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, before my head and eyes were cleared of their dull aching, and I am growing stronger every day. I cannot do half justice in the praise of this medicine."

This wonderful remedy is the greatest boon to women ever discovered, and by its use you can be restored to sound, vigorous and healthy womanhood. By all means use it now, in the spring, for everybody needs a spring medicine at this season of the year. This is the best of all spring medicines and is recommended as such by the doctors, to invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and start up the natural action of all the organs. You can procure it at the druggists for $1, and it is purely vegetable and harmless. Indeed, it is the prescription of the great specialist in chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, who gives consultation free, personally or by letter. Use it and it will bring bruk strength to your nerves, freshness to your complexion, brightness to your eyes, the bloom of health to your cheeks, elasticity and spring to your step, and that happiness and enjoyment of life which you have missed so long.

Mr. Riley and His Features.

Said James Whitcomb Riley the other day to a group of reporters: "I wish you newspaper men wouldn't be quite so careless in your remarks about my looks. I was served with a notice several years ago that I wasn't very handsome, but the reporters take a kind of delight in reminding me of it. It seems to me that you might at least be as considerate as the old auntie who went to the menagerie and saw the hippopotamus. She was staggered for a moment, but her breeding got the better of her impulses. She didn't want to say the animal was ugly, so she turned to one of her friends with the exclamation: 'Sakes a' massy, but ain't he plain!'"

English Centenarians.

The deaths of forty-five centenarians were reported in England last year, twenty-two men and twenty-three women. In 1891, according to this record, forty-eight centenarians died, and thirty-six in each of the three preceding years.

Great Wedding Cakes.

A London confectioner says that he is sometimes called on to furnish wedding cakes weighing 1,000 pounds each, and puddings of a size sufficient for 800 hearty appetites.

London Public Houses.

There are over 11,000 public houses and beer shops within the area of the Metropolitan police district.

Wonderful Blast.

A blast fired in a quarry at Graniteville, Mo., recently dislodged 180,000 cubic feet of stone, all in one solid mass.

DAUGHTERS OF 1776.

A Notable Gathering at the National Capital.

The Drum Taps of History Will Be Heard —Great Societies That Meet This Week —The Officers of the Daughters of the Revolution.

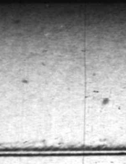
[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—You can hear the drum taps of American wars this week if you listen closely enough. At Washington the continental congress will be in session. In Philadelphia the Society of the War of 1812, the sons of the heroes of our second war, with possibly a veteran to tell the tale, will meet. At Washington the men who fought in 1848 will meet again in annual reunion. At Syracuse and elsewhere in the nation the boys of the "sixties" will bivouac again and recall the dread times of the civil war. So the week in which occurs the anniversary of Washington's birth will again be an eventful one with us. We recall history on that day and very often we make it.

MRS. FLORA ADAMS DARLING.

Of the old societies that of the war of 1812 is to us the most interesting, as the body contains a few at least of those who fought at New Orleans and on Lake Erie. The society celebrates each year the actual date of the close of the war; the date on which the treaty of peace was proclaimed by the executive of the nation.

But it is of the continental congress I desire to speak more especially. Not of stately John Hancock, of learned Thomas Jefferson, of John Carroll, of Carrollton; of Robert Morris; of Benjamin Franklin; of those great men from the soil of the Puritan colony, John and Samuel Adams; not of the men who wrote their names "so that the king could see them," not of the heroes of the revolution who fought while the congress thought but of the descendants of those heroes, of "the daughters of the American revolution," who since 1890 have been holding an annual continental congress, near to the spot where liberty was born and cradled.



CLARA BARTON.

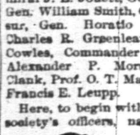
In 1890 five of these daughters met in Washington. It was on October 11, not an eventful date in our history, but to be made so by their work. From that day to this the organization has increased from five to two thousand, from a single chapter to one in almost every state in the union. From all points of the compass these daughters answered the call, just as our forefathers rushed to Lexington over a century ago.

MRS. LEROY SMITH.

But Washington is fully aware of the honor conferred upon it by the session of these American women. The Sons of the American Revolution will meet at the Arlington on the afternoon of the 22d, and here is the reception committee appointed by them to do honors of the day upon the arrival of their guests, the Daughters of the Revolution: M. M. Parker, Admiral J. E. Jouett, Gen. H. V. Boynton, Gen. William Smith, Congressman Maneur, Gen. Horatio G. Gibson, Col. Charles R. Greenleaf, Capt. Calvin D. Cowles, Commander F. W. Dickins, Alexander P. Morse, Capt. Robert Clank, Prof. O. T. Mason, H. G. Ogden, Francis E. Leupp.

MRS. JOHN W. FOSTER.

Here, to begin with, is a list of the society's officers, names that recall others famous in American history: Vice president general presiding, Mrs. William D. Cabell; vice president general in charge of the organization of chapters, Mrs. H. V. Boynton; honorary vice presidents general, Mrs. Thomas A. Hendricks, Mrs. David A. Porter, Mrs. Margaret Hetzel; vice presidents general, Mrs. T. H. Alexander, Mrs. A. W. Greely, Miss Mary Desta, Mrs. Ellen H. Walworth, Mrs. Hugh Hogan, Mrs. Henry Blount, Mrs. Marshall MacDonald, Mrs. Stephen J. Field, Mrs. G. Brown Goode, Mrs. F. O. St. Clair, Mrs. John W. Foster, Mrs. John R. Putnam, Mrs. Roger A. Pryor, Mrs. W. G. Deversux; treasurer general, Mrs. H. O. Tittmann; secretaries, general recording, Mrs. George H. Shields; corresponding, Mrs. Rose Wright Smith; registrars general, Miss Eugenia Washington, Mrs. A. Howard Clarke; surgeon general, Miss Clara Barton; historical general, Mrs. M. L. Lockwood; chaplain general, Mrs. Tennis S. Hamlin.



EUGENIA WASHINGTON.

The advisory board will also be in session this week and will be graced by the presence and probably be honored with addresses by Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Hon. Marshall MacDonald, Gen. H. V. Boynton and George H. Shields.

ALICE M. CLARKE.

There is an advisory board to the continental congress and advisory board a national board of management, and this consists of twenty-two state regents, all of whom have promised to attend. It is this board which carries out to the letter that portion of the constitution which provides for the preservation of the old records and documents dating back to the troublous times of 1776. And, by the way, this constitution is interesting reading. Here is the purpose of the society carefully outlined and defined:

"The purpose of this society is to keep alive among ourselves and our descendants the patriotic spirit of the men who, in military, naval or civil service, by their acts or counsels, achieved American independence in 1776. To collect and secure for preservation all records and documents relating to the war of the revolution, to assist in the commemorative celebration of our great historical events, to promote social intercourse and good feeling among its members now and hereafter."

But a word of the famous women who form part and parcel of the continental congress. Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, widow of Gen. E. I. Darling, is known as the founder general of the national society and is always the most conspicuous figure at these annual gatherings. She is of Puritan stock, the line of her ancestry containing the names of the Adamses.

MRS. M. C. CASEY.

Miss Eugenia Washington has been asked to read a paper to the society this year, and her name will recall one stamped with the great seal of American nobility.

But ancestry counts for much in this gathering. From the south comes daughters whose Huguenot family ties go deep into history. From New York come the descendants of the Dutch, although here and there a Huguenot strain will be found, for Mrs. Edward Paulet Steers, regent of the New York society, claims no vans as ancestors. From New England come Mrs. Leroy Sunderland Smith, also an Adams, and Mrs. G. V. R. Wickham, Springfield, Mass., who traces her ancestry back into Puritan history. From Virginia, "the mother of presidents," come a host of noble women. Mrs. Roger A. Pryor represents both the New York and the Virginia society, although it is to Virginia she owes the debt of birth. Mrs. C. Martin Casey goes as a delegate from New York, but she is a typical F. F. V. Her great-grandfather, Robert Martin, the founder of Methodism in Virginia, was born in 1738. On her mother's side she traces her ancestry back to the venerables who went over to England with William the Conqueror.

MRS. ROGER A. PRYOR.

It will be a famous gathering of famous women and history will undoubtedly record its acts of importance.

Women Like Praise.

Jack—I'll tell you what's the matter, George. You don't praise your wife enough. Even if things don't go right, there's no use growling. Praise her efforts to please, whether they are successful or not. Women like praise, and lots of it.

George—All right. I'll remember it. George (at dinner, same day)—My dear, this pie is just lovely! It's delicious! Ever so much better than those my mother used to make. She couldn't equal this pie if she tried a month.

George's Wife—Huh! You've made fun of every pie I ever made, and now—

George—But this is lovely.

George's Wife—That came from the baker's.—N. Y. Weekly.

Her Best Gown, Probably.

Mr. Bangabassi—I tell you, Miss Swift is a dangerous woman.

Miss Linoleum—You surprise me, Mr. Bangabassi! What has she done?

Mr. Bangabassi—Done? Why, at the ball last night I accidentally trod on her train, and she snatched it away with such fury that my feet were jerked from under me and I sat down on the floor with a force that almost drove my spine through my scalp. That woman oughtn't to be permitted to go to a ball. She is dangerous!—Town Topics.

At Harvard.

Miss Gigglegirl—So you teach at Harvard? That must be so nice! And you teach the students all sorts of languages. I suppose they never speak English at all.

Professor—Very seldom speak it.

Miss G.—There, I was sure of it! What language do they speak most, Greek or Latin, or—

Professor — Slang. — Boston Transcript.

Positive Objections.

Sister—Jack, I don't want you to buy that horse of McCurdy.

Brother—Why not? He's a fine looking animal.

Sister—Yes, I know; but isn't he the one that ran off with Mrs. Cuttaflow?

Brother—Yes; but—

Sister—Well, all I have to say, a horse that will run off with that woman can't be any good.—Brooklyn Life.

THE SENATE PROGRAMME

Its Session Will Excite Unusual Interest.

CLEVELAND N THE WHITE HOUSE.

Few Traces of the Inauguration Now Left in the Capital—The President Troubled With Hoarseness from the Exposure of Saturday.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Senate of the 53d Congress reassembled at noon today in special session.

Usually these special sessions are perfunctory and formal, the business being confined to the reception of nominations from the President, beginning with the Cabinet nominations, and winding up when the places within the gift of the Chief Executive, which are of the first grade of importance, such as the heads of the principal bureaus of the governmental service and the foreign ministries, have been filled.

But because of the peculiar condition of affairs, so far as the composition of the Senate itself is concerned, with the doubtful standing of the Senators who hold appointments from the Governors of their States instead of credentials of election by the Legislature, and, further, because of the announced intention of Senator Stewart, of Nevada, to precipitate a silver discussion by the introduction of a resolution of inquiry directed to the new Secretary of the Treasury, it may be that this special session will assume a degree of importance and excite such popular interest as has never before been witnessed in such cases.

It is probable that by to-morrow night the Senators on both sides of the Chamber will hold caucuses to determine upon lines of party policy, and to decide what shall be done in respect to the organization of the committees and of the numerous force of Senatorial employes.

As there is no lack of candidates for the highly desirable places within the disposition of the majority of the Senate in both the committee assignments and the appointments pertaining to the offices of the Secretary of the Senate and the Sergeant-at-Arms, some lively contests may be expected.

THE CLEVELANDS SETTLED.

Passed a Very Quiet Sunday—Mr. Harrison Leaves Town.

WASHINGTON, March 6. — President Cleveland's voice is quite husky to-day, but otherwise he shows no evidence of his severe exposure on Saturday. His hoarseness, which is only trifling, is not due alone to the delivery of his inaugural address out of doors with his head bare, but also to the exposure of reviewing the procession, when he stood for four hours wholly unprotected from the cold wind, which came from the north, the side to which his reviewing stand was open.

When the end of the procession had passed he was completely chilled through, and it is a pleasing surprise that he is not now suffering severely from it.

The Clevelands spent the first Sunday of Mr. Cleveland's second term in the White House very quietly.

Of course they are familiar with the quarters and no doubt it seemed to them like getting back home. To one member of the Cleveland family, however, the surroundings were new. This was Baby Ruth. The little Miss evidently did not understand her present greatness, nor that she is to supplant Baby McKee for the next four years in the minds of the people.

But few signs of the inauguration are now to be seen. The decorations on most of the buildings have been taken down and work has been begun of removing the stands erected along Pennsylvania avenue.

Many of the visitors are still here, but every outgoing train is crowded with the weary enthusiasts homeward bound.

Ex-President Harrison spent Sunday in East Liberty, Pa., and attended divine services in the Presbyterian Church there. His departure for Indianapolis was unattended by demonstration of any kind, as but few recognized him as he boarded the special train at the Baltimore & Ohio depot. It is not improbable that he may return to Washington within a few days, as some matters of importance yet remain for him to settle.

Accompanying the ex-President are Mr. and Mrs. McKee, their children, Benjamin and Mary McKee, Lieut. Parker and Assistant Private Secretary Tibbots, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, and Marshal Ransdel. Mr. George W. Boyd, Acting Passenger Agent Pennsylvania Railroad is in charge of the train, and will accompany Mr. Harrison to Indianapolis.

Praise of the inaugural ball is heard on all sides, and it was beyond doubt, the finest thing of the kind that has ever occurred in the Capital. More than 12,000 people were in attendance, and the way the immense crowd thronging the vast ball room in the Pension building was handled speaks volumes of commendation for the managers.

The gown worn by Mrs. Cleveland at the ball has been so much admired that a complete description may not be amiss. It was made of heavy white satin, empire front and tight fitting back. It was richly trimmed with point lace, and embroidered with crystal beads. The embroidery ran up in rows, about twelve inches from the bottom of the skirt, which was pointed in the back. The empire front was outlined with the lace and the crystal embroidery. The sleeves were large puffs made of satin, dotted with the beads, and had stiff satin bows at the shoulders. A heavy fall of the lace completed the corsage.

Now that Hon. Walter Q. Gresham has reached Washington all the members of the new Cabinet are in the city and will be ready to take the oath of office as soon as their names have been transmitted to the Senate and received the approval of that body.

Mrs. Cleveland will within a day or two make a thorough inspection of the Executive Mansion. In the last year of her previous stay here she suggested several improvements which were carried out, and it is likely that now she will desire to effect some changes.

When Mr. Cleveland took his first peep into the big oval room which has served President Harrison as a library and family sitting room he looked about him with much interest. He found many changes.

Held for the Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The Coroner's Jury which has for several days been listening to the inquiry into the collapse of the York building last Monday, by which seven lives were lost, has recommended that Building Commissioner O'Neill, Charles J. ABSOLUTELY PURE

DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE.

Demolished Many Buildings and Killed Many People in Georgia and Mississippi.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 6.—Reports of the cyclonic visitation to Western Georgia, while not full as to details show it to have been terrible in its effects.

The cyclone seems to have struck the State near Westpoint, the first serious trouble being at Greenville in Merriwether county, where the destruction was terrible. Every business house has been swept to the ground. The college there is a mass of ruins and half the churches of the town have met the same fate. Three-fourths of the houses of the town are wrecks. The storm struck about 8:30 o'clock and the people were glad to escape with their lives.

The citizens have issued an appeal to the public for aid. The appeal states that great sufferings are reported from outside of the city, but no details are given and there are no definite reports except from Odessa, a small place in the county where it is said six people were killed.

From La Grange is reported great destruction in the lower part of Troup county. The path of the cyclone was two hundred yards wide, and every house for some distance was demolished.

Meagre reports from Mississippi show a worse state of affairs. Several villages are reported to have been wiped out, and a number of lives have undoubtedly been lost.

A report from Barnett Station on the Queen & Crescent railroad states that the cyclone wrecked every building in the place and killed fourteen people and injured twenty others. The family of Daniel Barnett, eight in number, were instantly killed.

DON'T WANT THE BRIDGE.

Therefore the Lackawanna Company Tries to Knock It Down.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 6.—The city is erecting a new span of the Lackawanna avenue bridge which runs over the double tracks of the Delaware & Hudson Canal company.

To erect the span without interfering with traffic it is necessary to put braces between the company's tracks. This was done yesterday.

In the afternoon the company sent men to the bridge to remove the braces. Three of them were arrested and held in bail. Later the company made a second attempt, which threatened the safety of the bridge.

They put an engine on one track and a gondola on the other, chained them together, and rushed at the bridge in defiance of 25 policemen. The braces withstood the shock, but one of them was damaged, and the bridge trembled. A draw-head, which pulled out, saved the bridge.

Eleven men were promptly arrested and held in bail for malicious mischief and violating the old blue laws.

The locality is now strongly guarded by policemen.

AFTER M'AULIFFE.

The Police Want Him for Assaulting Mike Mooney.

ST. LOUIS, March 6.—Jack McAuliffe terminated his St. Louis engagement in a manner not at all creditable to himself. Report has already been made of his failure to make a match with Mike Mooney, a local boxer, of some reputation.

Shortly after midnight McAuliffe, with his sparring partner, Jimmy Nelson, and Sullivan's partner, Dwyer, sauntered into Tony Faust's saloon.

Seeing Mooney there alone McAuliffe went over to him, and, without a warning, smashed him in the face. Another blow quickly followed.

Then the champion held his victim so Nelson could get a lick at him.

The alarm had been given, however, and McAuliffe and party jumped into a carriage and started to get out of town.

The police are scouring the city and say he shall not escape.

ELOPED WITH A BENEDICT.

Charles Abbot Leaves His Wife for Miss Lena Brill.

STAMFORD, Conn., March 6.—Charles Abbot, a married man with a family, became infatuated some time ago with Miss Lena Brill, the daughter of a well-to-do German couple, of this town.

Two weeks ago Abbot deserted his family and went to board with the Brills and last Tuesday he eloped with Lena.

Mrs. Brill, mother of the girl, at once started in pursuit, and after searching several days ran across the couple at a Bridgeport hotel.

Mrs. Brill took her daughter home, and Abbot followed.

The latter was arrested as soon as he reached town, and was yesterday arraigned in court charghd with deserting his wife. Mrs. Abbot, however, declined to prosecute, and Abbot was allowed to go, he having promised to return to his family.

Attempt to Burn a Hotel.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 6.—Last night the fourth attempt was made to burn the Richardson house. The fire was started in a cupboard in the end of the main hallway. The cupboard doors were charred considerably, but no great damage was done. Officers found a quantity of burned paper and hay in the cupboard.

Small Collection for the Pope.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Jubilee collection for the Pope, which was taken up in the archdiocese of New York on Feb. 5 last, shows a total of $17,537.50. As extraordinary efforts had been made that this collection might be a large one, the total is considered singularly small and disappointing.

Wolves in Pennsylvania.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 6.—Large wolves have been prowling about this place for several nights and many goats and dogs have been killed. It is believed the heavy snows have caused the animals to leave usual haunts.

THE EARTH CAVES IN

Sandgate, an English Town, Subsides Several Feet.

TWO HUNDRED HOUSES WRECKED

Buildings Rocked and the Ground Rumbled—Walls Split and Roofs Fell—Gas and Water Pipes Broken—People Fled to the Fields—Supposed that the Sea Has Undermined the Cliff on Which the Town is Built.

LONDON, March 6.—Late last night the people of Sandgate, County of Kent, were aroused by the rocking of houses and loud rumblings underground. Walls split, ceilings fell, foundations sank, and roofs caved in.

As the inhabitants fled to the streets they found large rents in the ground, and were almost overcome by noxious vapors that issued therefrom.

Everybody supposed that the town was being shaken by an earthquake, and, as the rumblings continued, hundreds fled in a panic to the nearest towns. A few remained behind to remove furniture from the falling houses.

The reports carried abroad by the fugitives caused the troops in an adjacent camp to hasten to the aid of the people still in Sandgate.

Soldiers and citizens worked for two hours in moving the most valuable property from the houses and in erecting tents in the fields about a mile outside the town for the women and children.

At the end of that time the rumbling had ceased, and an investigation was made by the commander of the troops and several citizens.

They found that the ground on which Sandgate stands had sunk several feet, and that a less subsidence had extended throughout the surrounding district, affecting in all about a square mile.

The gas mains had been broken, and the connection of water pipes had been disturbed, so that the supplies of both gas and water had been stopped.

Many cottages had been completely wrecked and the better built houses had been cracked and thrown out of plumb so that they could not be occupied with safety. Nevertheless, many of the inhabitants returned to town toward morning. Between 5 and 6 o'clock, however, they were frightened away by further subsidence of the ground and the recurrence of the rumbling.

These phenomena have been repeated several times during the day and the town is practically deserted. As far as is known no lives have been lost.

Sandgate is a town of about 2,000 inhabitants on the coast of Dover Strait and about thirty miles west of Dover.

The disaster was caused by a landslip. The town is built on a comparatively low cliff close to the sea. The waves are believed to have undermined the cliff which then settled and slipped toward the water, carrying with it the town. Two hundred houses were destroyed.

THREE WILL DIE.

The Smash-up of Two Switch Engines at Cincinnati Results Fatally.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—Three men were fatally injured in a smash-up in the Little Miami Yards.

A long line of freight cars were standing on the tracks at the place mentioned. Through a misplaced switch two engines crashed into the cars. The engineer jumped and escaped serious injury.

Fireman Joseph Lee received injuries which will result in his death.

Brakeman Charles Walker and Patrick Donnelly were also fatally injured.

Fatal Game of Football.

WICHITA, Kan., March 6.—At a football match at Sedgwick City George Harvey and James Keran, both boys of about 13, suffered injuries from which Harvey has died and Keran is dying. During a rush the boys came together with their heads with such force as to cause them both to fall unconscious to the ground. They were taken home, and an examination showed that they had both sustained fractures of the skull.

A Keg of Beer Explodes.

NEW YORK, March 6.—A keg of beer exploded with the report of a cannon in the College Point brewery. Pieces of the keg flew in all directions, and the shock of the explosion shook the building. Micheal Lewris, who was carrying the keg when it exploded, was not killed, but he was thrown violently to the floor, his face was terribly cut by flying splinters, and he was bruised all over the body. No cause for the explosion can be given.

Making War on the Legislators.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 6.—The members of the New Jersey Legislature who voted for the New Jersey race track bills were hauled over the coals yesterday by the temperance at this place. The only member of the Legislature living here is Senator Smith, who was absent the day the bills were passed. Mr. Smith has stated his position in an article over his signature in one of the county papers.

Low Fares for Working People.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The Monon, Pennsylvania and Big Four railroads are fighting over a series of Friday night excursions to the World's Fair. They are to be run for the special benefit of working people, most of whom work but half a day Saturdays. The fare will be very low and return coupons will not be good after the Sunday night following.

New York Typhus Record.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Three new cases of typhus fever were reported, two were from the Bowery and one from Chatham square. There were two deaths.

THE EX-PRESIDENT HOME.

Given a Grand Reception in the State House—Plans for the Future.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 6.—All the military and civic organizations of the city participated in the reception to ex-President Harrison on his arrival this morning.

He was be escorted as far as the Denison Hotel, and from there was driven directly to his home on North Delaware street.

There were no speeches or public meetings on his arrival. To-night he will be escorted to the State House where a public reception will be held. Speeches will be made by Gov. Matthews and C. W. Fairbanks, and Mr. Harrison will respond to them.

After a short rest at home he will go duck hunting on the Kankakee river. After this recreation he will remain quietly at his home in Indianapolis, securing a much-needed rest.

Gen. Harrison's engagement to lecture on international law and jurisprudence at the Leland Sanford university, California, he says, will require only about one month of his time out of each year.

During next winter the ex-President will devote his time to writing a book. This book, he says, will relate specially to a number of important matters connected with his administration that the public has not fully understood.

What these subjects are Gen. Harrison does not at this time care to say.

PRIESTS DEFY MGR. SATOLLI.

Father Treacy's Appointed Successor Put Out of the Church.

SWEDESBORO, N. J., March 6.—Rev. Wm. Treacy and his brother, the deposed priests, created a scene in church yesterday when Rev. Father Leahy, who was sent here by Bishop O'Farrell to take charge of the parish, attempted to read the Bishop's letter to the parishoners. Rev. Wm. Treacy strode dramatically out upon the altar and loudly commanded Father Leahy not to read the letter.

The priest was accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Garrison and Constable Taylor, whom he ordered to arrest Father Leahy if the latter persisted in reading the letter. There was instant excitement in the church and a serious outbreak was imminent. Father Leahy saw that the priests and the officers were in earnest and quietly withdrew.

The Treacys are in possession of the rectory here, and openly defy the authority of Mgr. Satolli and Bishop O'Farrell. They say Rome alone can control them. Legal means will be taken by Father Leahy to secure possession of the rectory.

FOR DARKEST NEY YORK.

Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army to Carry Out His Father's Plans.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Ballington Booth, the commander of the Salvation Army in this country, has decided to adopt his father's Darkest England scheme here. He has already received several offers of land for the first farm he wishes to establish, but has not yet made his selection for this proposed colony as the land offered is in the West. What he wants first is a farm near New York city, because his first colony will be made up of those rescued here. The probabilities are that this farm will be in New Jersey.

The plan for his scheme is to establish a shelter in all large cities, where he will temporarily receive and care for, as best he can, those who ask for assistance. All of those who are able and willing to do farm work will be sent to join the colony established on the farm nearest each city.

Hower, the process of reformation will be carried forward by industrial, moral and religious methods, with the hope that some day the fallen one may be restored to his friends.

Student Held for Theft.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Theo. Olynthus Douglas, a native of Greece, a student and writer, is locked up at Police Headquarters charged with wholesale thefts of valuable and rare books from the Columbia College and Astor libraries. Douglas disposed of many books to dealers, and thirty books from the Astor library and one hundred and thirty books from the Columbia College library were found in his rooms. It is estimated that his stealings will amount to over $2,000.

Kansas Senate to Investigate.

TOPEKA, March 6.—In the Senate a resolution has been adopted authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the accepting of boodle by the Topeka Capital against Gov. Lewelling, Attorney-General Little, and the Governor's private secretary, John Legate. The committee will make a full stenographic report to the Secretary of State, who will present it to the Senate at its first session thereafter.

Frozen to Death in the Snow.

PATERSON, N. J., March 6.—Two Hungarians, going through Railroad Avenue, at seven o'clock yesterday morning found Mrs. Mary Ingram, fifty years old, frozen to death in a snow drift. Mrs. Ingram left home Saturday night to buy groceries and the wind and snow, it is supposed, exhausted her, and while resting she was overcome by the cold.

Took Money When the Bank Was Insolvent

PUEBLO, Col., March 6.—Frederick Rohrer, proprietor of the defunct Bank of Pueblo which closed its doors a few months ago paying its depositors practically nothing, has for the past few days been before the District Court to answer to a criminal charge of receiving deposits when he knew the insolvent condition of his institution.

Kaiulani Takes a Sleigh Ride.

BOSTON, March 6.—Princess Kaiulani, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Davies, attended services at St. Paul's Episcopal church yesterday morning, and at Trinity church in the afternoon. Saturday afternoon the Princess thoroughly enjoyed the first sleigh ride she had ever taken, riding through Brookline and Cambridge.

Dispossessed for Six Dollars.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 6.—The family of George Gammon, of 28 Eight street, this city, is to be dispossessed for the non-payment of $6 rent. Because of smallpox in his family, Gammon, who is a machinist, lost his position and has been prevented from getting work elsewhere.

Spain Honors Our Naval Officer.

MADRID, March 6.—Queen Regent Christina has conferred upon Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce the Order of Naval Merit in recognition of his services as United States commissioner at the Columbus exposition, held here.

Named After the Cabinet.

LAUREL, Del., March 6.—Mrs. Cantwell, of this place, who gave birth to four boys last Saturday, will name them Grover, Walter, John and Daniel.

HE LED A DOUBLE LIFE

Hotelkeeper Wheeler Liked a Servant Better Than Wife.

MAKES CONFESSION AND HAS TO GO.

Miss Wheeler, Who Is the Heiress of the Van Zant Estate, Eloped With Miss Four Years Ago—They Lived in the West Awhile While He Spent Her Money—She Has Instituted Divorce Proceedings.

NEWARK, N. J., March 6. — Monroe Wheeler, who lived and conducted the Rose Park Hotel, a well known summer resort near this city, has left his wife and eloped with Kitty McBride, a rosy-cheeked Irish girl, who had been employed at the house but a few weeks.

Wheeler took possession of the hotel three years ago, coming from Denver, Col., where he had resided for five years previous.

Seven and a half years ago Wheeler lived near the hotel which he has just left, and at that time he was in love with a Miss Van Zant, the heiress of one of the largest estates in the county. Her parents were opposed to the union but the girl listened to her lover and ran away with him just as her parents were about to start for Europe with her.

In the West Wheeler used up a good part of his wife's money in visionary speculation and at last prevailed upon her to purchase the Rose Park Hotel and come back East again.

He was always very affectionate with his wife and she was greatly surprised several days ago when he said that he was tired of living a double life and that he loved Kitty McBride the servant.

Mrs. Wheeler sent for Kitty who tearfully confessed that she had consented to elope with Mr. Wheeler. He then told his wife that remorse had driven him to confess, but his wife told him him that if he loved the servant he had better go with her, and in a few hours he was gone to the tearful Kitty.

Mrs. Wheeler says that this is not the first time that her husband has left home for another woman, and, she adds most emphatically, that she will not take him home again. She has made application for a divorce.

Mrs. Wheeler is a finely formed woman, with a wealth of dark curly hair and expressive eyes. She has all the advantages of wealth, is fluent in conversation, and refined to a marked degree.

She has a large income from real estate in New York.

STRUGGLED FOR A PISTOL.

Missouri Man Fatally Injured in Trying to Escape His Assailant's Bullet.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 6.—W. H. Hogg and P. H. Haley had a hand to hand struggle for life yesterday. Haley met Hogg, who has an excellent reputation, and accused him of being intimate with his wife, and drew a revolver to shoot him.

A desperate struggle followed for the possession of the weapon. Hogg finally wrested it from Haley's hand and used the butt end as a weapon of defense. Just as assistance was coming Haley obtained possession of the weapon again and fired at Hogg, who plunged through a window and fell a distance of 25 feet to the ground.

When picked up he was unconscious and bathed in blood from five long scalp wounds. His right hip was broken and he had suffered concussion of the brain by the fall.

Haley's wife was a former society belle. Haley is about 25 years of age, and his father, Rev. T. P. Haley, was formerly the pastor of a Kansas City church. Hogg will probably die.

Various English Comment.

LONDON, March 6.—Daily Graphic—Mr. Cleveland's confession of faith is an admirable lesson in political self-reliance.

Morning Post—The address breathes throughout a resolute, practical tone.

The Standard—Mr. Cleveland begins well. His Cabinet is a good one. His programme is honest enough if only adhered to.

Daily Telegraph—Mr. Cleveland's brave words would have been more convincing if he had not already been in power and failed to do much to root out the plagues of American life.

Daily Chronicle—It is a long time since an American President has had the courage to speak such words to his countrymen, who are accustomed to being addressed from Washington with sprawling flattery.

Convicts With Revolvers.

BOSTON, March 6.—Turnkey Darling and Officer Seavey were sitting in the octagon of the prison in the afternoon when suddenly two revolver shots were heard and the bullets whizzed by their heads. Two long-term prisoners stood in the octagon with revolvers in their hands blazing away at the surprised guards. The guards whipped out their revolvers and returned the fire. The bullets zipped through the corridors, but neither of the convicts was hurt. The sound of the firing had aroused the other convicts, and for a few minutes it looked as though there would be a general uprising, but the Boston police were called in, and in less than ten minutes, all was quiet again.

Pennsylvania Suicide at Niagara.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 6.—Frank La Page, of Corry, Pa., has committed suicide in a room at the American hotel. He used a 38-calibre pistol, the bullet entering his head and passing clear through the skull. In his valise was found a certificate of health from a doctor at Youngsville, Pa., stating that the man was troubled with indigestion, causing heart affection, and that he should live very quietly.

An English Train for the Fair.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The White Star steamship Runic, due here to-morrow, has on board an English railroad for exhibition at the World's Fair. It consists of a 65-ton engine, tender and two coaches, all of the most recent make. The train is from the London & Northwestern railroad and will travel under its own steam on the New York Central & Hudson River railroad tracks to Chicago.

Millionaire Killed.

STILLWATER, Minn., March 6.—An accident occurred on the Northwestern road, near Baraboo, Wis., last night, in which John Glespie, the well known millionaire lumberman and horse owner of this city, was instantly killed. The front end of the sleeper, in which he was, crushed against a box car with force enough to shatter the sleeper. Three other passengers were injured, but none of them seriously.

—Miss Elizabeth Cleveland, President Cleveland's sister, left Berlin yesterday for Weimar.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-morrow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Both the common council and board of Education will meet to-night.

—Easter Lodge, K. of H., meets to-night at 8, in the lodge room, 9 Park avenue.

—Don't forget the lantern slide exhibition by the Plainfield Camera club to-morrow night.

—You can sample the famous Heins Co. pickles free, any time this week, at Howell's, North avenue.

—The annual meeting of the McAll Auxiliary will be held at the Library to-morrow morning at 11.

—There was much speeding of horses on Park avenue east from the Albion yesterday, and there were several narrow escapes from knockdowns. There is a city ordinance prohibiting this dangerous practice.

—A sorrel horse attached to a cutter fell at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, yesterday afternoon. The occupants, a man and woman, scrambled out into a snow bank, and were not injured.

—Two young men from this city drove over to New Brunswick in a sleigh, yesterday, and on the way back, between Bound Brook and Dunellen, they were upset three times in snow banks. Only the harness was slightly damaged.

—To-morrow is the last day for registration in North Plainfield. Every Democrat should see that his name is on the list, as if it is n't he loses his vote for Mayor Saunders. The places of registration are Saengerbund Hall and 85 Somerset street.

—A broadcast invitation has been extended to all lovers of musical farce comedy to spend an evening at Music Hall to-morrow with Aunt Bridget and her happy family. Everyone should avail themselves of this opportunity and drive dull care away.

—At the communion services in Plainfield, yesterday, new members were received as follows: First Presbyterian, 7 on confession and 2 by letter; Trinity Reform, 4 on confession and 5 by letter; Congregational, 1 on confession and 2 by letter; Methodist Episcopal, 1 on probation and 1 by letter.

—"Aunt Bridget's Baby" will be the attraction at Music Hall to-morrow night. Aunt Bridget in the person of George Monroe, is as rollicking and as voluble as ever, and the Baby is as sprightly and as graceful as formerly. The scenery and costumes deserve special mention, both being in excellent taste and harmony.

—Saturday afternoon a woman gave her pet dog on North avenue a basket to carry. The basket contained some cake that she had bought to take home. The dog carried it a little way, and then got out of sight of its owner and began to eat the cake. After this the woman was seen going into a bakery for more cake, which she carried herself.

—A horse driven by Chas. Bowden became unmanageable on Somerset street Saturday afternoon. The animal was frightened at some furniture that was on a passing sleigh, and ran down Somerset street at a breakneck speed, almost causing a serious wreck. But by the plucky efforts of the driver, who held fast to the reins, the horse was stopped before much damage was done.

A Strong Sermon Against the Race-Track Laws.

The Rev. W. R. Richards, D. D., preached a most outspoken and telling sermon last evening on what he termed "The Gamblers' Feast". He took his text from Esther, as to why the Feast of Purim was so named—from the lottery of Haman, who proposed to swing Mordecai on the gallows—and he likened Haman to the gamblers who had induced Ahasuerus in New Jersey to enact a law to kill off Queen Esther and all her people, represented by the good citizens of this State.

He said it was a most significant fact that on the very day when the feast was celebrated by the Jews (last Wednesday), our citizens met at Trenton and gave signal to undo the wicked laws and to hang Haman instead. His sermon throughout was characterized by strong feeling and language, and delighted all who heard it.

Gone with the Sheriff.

John K. VanNess, of the Allen farm, through his counsel, Charles B. VanWinkle, has been negotiating a settlement of the lawsuit pending in New York, and brought by one Waldron, whereby VanNess was arrested for alleged forgery of a check. Mr. VanNess has been laid up for two weeks with a sprained ankle, which resulted from his slipping on the ice in New York. On that account, Dr. J. A. Allis appeared before the court and obtained an adjournment of the case. Through the efforts of his counsel, VanNess feels confident of making a just settlement. Just the same, however, the sheriff came to town to-day and took him away.

Carried Off the Safe and All.

The Lincoln Hose company's house at Somerville was robbed last night of a small iron safe containing six dollars in change, the income of the pool tables for one week.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

HIGHWAY ROBBERY PRICES.

The Natives at Bound Brook Take Advantage of the Sabbath Strangers at Their Gates.

Did you go to Washington to see Grover Cleveland inaugurated? If you did, and returned by the Royal Blue line on Sunday morning, perhaps this will catch your eye and remind you of the comfortable night you experienced between Bound Brook and Trenton Junction. All of the regular trains which left Washington Saturday night were run in several sections of from ten to twelve cars each. Train No. 506, which left Washington about 12 midnight, Saturday, reached Bound Brook five hours late, having been stalled near Langhorne in the deep drifts which were piled up by the high wind of the same day. The business men's special, the second section of train 506, which followed closely, got to Hamilton station all right, but in the deep cut just this side the big compound engine 622 came to a dead stop and could get no farther without aid, which it got some four hours later. Of course all of the sections behind this were heavily loaded and were in consequence laid out. When the trains reached Bound Brook early yesterday morning the cars and locomotives looked as if they had met a blizzard and had come out second best. The mad, hungry crowd left the cars and made a raid on the Union News stand, thinking they could appease the hunger which rankled within them. Some of them did, but the news-agent had provided not for a thousand but for a limited number. The loaves and fishes, so to speak, would go only just so far, and not like the proverb, feed the multitude. The strong and hustling got there, while the weak remained unfed. But the strong paid dearly for their feed. Sandwiches sold for fifty cents each. Oranges and bananas brought easily a quarter, while cigarettes ten in a package went for twenty-five cents. Other things estable went in the same proportion, and the news-man reaped a rich harvest. He literally made hay while the sun shone. On all trains that stopped at Bound Brood the passengers did the same thing. Between Bound Brook and Jersey City on the Jersey Central the road as always was clear, and the delayed trains made up as much time as they could. Late yesterday afternoon all of the trains were running on schedule time. For the third time this winter the little South Branch railroad was drifted full to the tops of the cuts, and the big snow-plough was sent for to clear the tracks. It was finally accomplished late Sunday.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards and the Rev. C. E. Herring will exchange pulpits next Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Lowry, son of Dr. Robert Lowry, has been called to the Rahway Baptist church.

B. A. Hegeman, jr., left town to-day for an important business trip in the west. He will be gone ten days.

Lieut. Christoffersen of the New York Food and Shelter corps of the Salvation Army, spent Sunday with the army in this city.

Mr. Venino's concert, at which he was to be assisted by the Beethoven String Quartette, is now definitely fixed for April 13 at the Casino.

The ablest contribution to the symposium on electrical machinery, in last week's Independent, was from the pen of the engineer-Mayor, W. L. Saunders.

J. W. Jackson and W. D. Murray represented Plainfield at the Y. M. C. A. anti-race-track meeting at New Brunswick, Saturday. Mr. Murray introduced the resolutions which were adopted.

Ferdinand G. Lisignolo, son of George Lisignolo of this city, has been promoted to the position of corporal in the Nazareth Hall cadets, a military organization of scholars in the Nazareth, Penn., academy.

Attorney Walter L. Hetfield is to-day completing the arrangements transferring to him the deed and property formerly owned by Mrs. Whitman, at 280 East Front street. The consideration is not stated.

George W. V. Moy, the pharmacist, was taken suddenly ill yesterday, and a physician had to be called in. Some difficulty with the throat is assigned as the cause of his sickness. To-day the patient is slightly improved.

Mrs. L. A. Dunn, and son, L. A., jr., of Fairhaven, Wash., who have been visiting friends and relatatives in Plainfield, for the past three months, will leave for home to-morrow evening. They will reach their destination Wednesday, March 15, providing the train goes through on time.

The funeral of John J. O'Rourke was held from St. Mary's church yesterday afternoon, the Rev. P. E. Smyth officiating. The church was filled to overflowing, a sincere testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held. Sixty members of the Young Men's Lyceum and 30 of the Catholic Benevolent Legion, attended in a body. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome.

William Parmley Demarest, father of the managing editor of THE PRESS, died at his home, East Fifth street, last evening, of heart failure, in the 71st year of his age. Although he had not been well for a few days, death came suddenly but very peacefully. He had been much interested all day in reading of the inauguration proceedings. Shortly after eating his supper he called one of his daughters and told her he was tired and would go to bed. He said: "We've got a good man for president now." After his daughter had fixed his pillow comfortably under his head, he said: "You can't do anything more for me. Good night." He closed his eyes, seemed to fall asleep immediately, and was dead in a few moments.

ALL WERE DELIGHTED.

And Novelist Crawford Was Just as Pleased With His Audience as They Were With Him.

A large and brilliant audience, occupying every seat in Seminary Hall, assembled Saturday evening to listen to the famous novelist, Francis Marion Crawford, who read selections from his own works. Mr. Crawford is a man of distinguished presence, being more than six feet in height, and of muscular frame. In his college days, he was a powerful athlete, and he still retains much of his prowess.

The charm which pervades his writings is plainly visible in the man, and his high-bred courtesy and winning manners at once gained him the favor of his audience. The secret of his marked success, both as a writer and as a reader, lies largely in the fact that he is a man of great personal magnetism, and of wide sympathies.

His reading of his own works is an interpretation in the true sense of the word—for he adds to them new light and meaning. Mr. Crawford is one of the comparatively few authors who are also fine readers. He does not attempt any of the elocutionary tricks, yet at times he is dramatic and almost impassioned, as witness his rendering of the love scene from "The Witch of Prague", where the dwarf makes love to the heroine. This was perhaps the finest bit of serious work of the evening. Mr. Crawford is an easy and delightful talker, and charmed his hearers with a story told off-hand, a bit of folk-lore from the shores of Calabria. In this, he showed decided comic power, and kept his audience laughing during the whole progress of the tale.

The last selection read—a beautiful passage from that exquisite book, "The Children of the King", which has been published in superb style by Macmillan & Co of New York, uniform with his other works—was full of poetic thought, and has been so universally admired that the author always includes it in his programmes. The reading will create a large demand in this city for Mr. Crawford's books, which may be procured directly from Macmillan & Co., at 112 Fourth avenue, or of the local booksellers.

Mr. Crawford expressed himself as being very much pleased with his audience—which was a very sympathetic and intelligent one—and with Plainfield.

Miss Kenyon, who is one of the patronesses of the course of which this reading forms a part, generously offered her hall for the occasion, thus deserving once again—as so many times before—the gratitude of Plainfield's citizens for her public spirit.

The next and last entertainment in Mrs. Hall's course will take place Friday afternoon, March 10, at the residence of Miss Tweedy. Miss Hall will read a paper entitled "Byron and the Heroes of the Greek Revolution".

HYMENEAL.

Milliken—Bennett.

A pleasant home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. K. Bennett, Prospect avenue, Dunellen, Thursday evening, March 2, when their daughter Mattie was married to E. Edgar Milliken by the Rev. A. I. Martine of the Dunellen First Presbyterian church. The bridal couple, preceded by the bridesmaid, Miss Maggie Bennett, sister of the bride, escorted by Wm. Milliken, brother of the groom, marched into the front parlor to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Buckley of Plainfield.

The bride was dressed in a charming gown of white, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

There were 75 guests from Plainfield, Rahway, New York and Dunellen, who wished the happy couple much joy, after which all partook of a sumptuous repast, and dancing was indulged in by the young people. The gifts were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the newly-married couple were held.

Mr. and Mrs. Milliken will board at 500 West Front street until the completion of the house which is in course of erection for them on Grove street, Plainfield.

Dunellen Wins the Series.

The Dunellen bowlers have won two out of three of the contests with the West Ends. The second victory was on Friday night, by the following scores:

Worth Saving.

Ten to fifteen cents a yard saved on new spring styles of carpets and mattings is an item worth looking after.

This Edsall says he can do if buyers will make their selections at his special sale which is now going on.

If they are not needed just now he will hold them until wanted and give the same advantages in prices.

Every yard sold is guaranteed satisfactory in all respects.

It does pervade the whole forces of catarrh, with the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties effect a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. It's a remedy that succeeds where everything else has failed. Thousands of such cases can be pointed out. That's the reason its proprietors back their faith in it with money. They offer $500 reward for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. It's a medicine that allows them to take such a risk. Doesn't common sense lead you to take such a medicine?

"An advertising fake," you say.

Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute.

Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And "faking" doesn't pay.

They believe in themselves. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?

CHAPS

And How to Get Rid of Them.

Nothing more annoying than chapped hands. And the more you wash the worse they chap! Soap cleans, but soap chaps. Now by neutralizing the alkali of the soap by means of a harmless acid we may prevent chapping. That is the philosophy of REYNOLDS'S LEMON JUICE AND GLYCERINE, and by using it as directed, you can get rid of the chaps. Originated and made only at

We are agents for the improved light running Domestic Sewing machines, without doubt at the top of the heap, for it stands alone in point of excellence, being the only machine making both a lock and chain stitch by using either shuttle or looper, wonderously fine, all other improvements thrown in. The best is the improved Domestic, and if you take another now you don't get the best; two machines for the price of one; call and see the only sewing machine up to date; liberal allowance for old machines and payments easy. Every merchant should have a Union cash registsr, it being the only one properly named, and for other reasons. The Smith Premier typewriter is the only typewriter up to date, fifteen improvements over other machines. These are taking the place of all others. The Government bought 150 for the War Department, largest order ever given. Call and see these modern machines, and don't forget Royal Tooth Powder at 10c.

NOTES OF A SOUTHERN TRIP.

While Their Friends in Jersey Were Enduring the Discomforts of a Horrid Winter, These Plainfielders Were Revelling in Floridan Bliss, and in the Delights of the Finest Coasting Vessel Afloat.

THE good ship Iroquois, when it sailed from New York harbor the afternoon of Monday, Feb. 6, had among its passengers a party of Plainfielders, bound for a Southern trip which proved to be delightful in every respect. Everybody on board was happy from the start, for it was evident at the outset that their lines had fallen in a most pleasant place. The Iroquois the fastest of the admirable fleet of the Clyde Line, and like all of the vessels of that company is luxurious with modern equipments and commanded and conducted by able seamen and courteous and attentive staff throughout. One reason for the Iroquois being so popular is that Capt. L. W. Pennington, besides being a most able and careful commander, is a thorough Christian. People have more faith in a vessel, even though she be a stanch and noble ship like the Iroquois, when her captain is a God-fearing and God-serving man. And if there's any vessel or any commander worthy of trust and confidence, that vessel's the Iroquois, and that commander's Capt. Pennington. The kind-hearted Pennington rules by love, and governs his men by generous treatment; therefore he is greatly beloved by all the officers and crew. He sows the Gospel seed whenever and wherever opportunity affords, and has done a great work for his Master. His ship is always well filled, on every voyage. First Officer DeWitt C. Conklin is also a Christian, and one of the most valued men in the Clyde service. The purser of the vessel is another good man, Robert E. Morton, one of the sort who can't be spared by his appreciative employers. He is a thorough gentleman, courteous and attentive to all. The good-hearted Swedish stewardess is ever watchful of the passengers' needs, and is a valuable ministering and comforting spirit, especially if one is so unfortunate as to be seasick. She, too, is a Christian.

A noteworthy feature of the Clyde service, remarked by all on board the Iroquois during the trip in question, is the excellence of the cuisine. The table is supplied with every toothsome substantial and every longed-for delicacy of the season. The food is perfectly cooked, and tastefully served. So that even when one is sure that his meal will be followed by tribute-paying to Neptune, he can't resist the temptation to partake of the appetizing viands.

During the voyage South, of which this is but a rambling reminiscence, an incident worthy of chronicling was the gathering on Wednesday evening, of passengers in the captain's room under the pilot house, in a service of song, praise and prayer, at which Capt. Pennington gave an account of his conversion.

The outward voyage on the Iroquois was, so far as the arrangements on the vessel were concerned, so charming that the Plainfield party returned, after a visit to points of interest on land, by the same vessel, and were well repaid, for the return voyage was even more delightful than the first, the weather being greatly improved. The return sailing began at 10:30, Feb. 23, from Jacksonville. The trip was a remarkable one for the time of the year. The sea was calm as in mid-summer, excepting for a few hours at Delaware Breakwater, but as everyone at that time was in bed no discomforts were experienced. Every passenger was at table for every meal of the entire voyage, and not one was sick. On Sunday morning at 11, men and women passengers assembled in the ship's parlor, and divine service was conducted by Capt. Pennington, to the great enjoyment and spiritual satisfaction of all. The vessel reached the dock at 4 Sunday afternoon, and everyone was sorry that so lovely a voyage was ended.

The Plainfielders were also very fortunate in their trip, while South, up the St. John's river, from Jacksonville to Sanford, per the Clyde line steamer Fred De Bary, Capt. Leo. Vogel, commanding. Capt. Vogel is another man the Clyde company are fortunate in having in their employ. He treats everybody alike, but his manners are so polished and refined and his attentions to the comforts of his passengers so gentlemanly that he is a great favorite with the traveling public, and his boat always has a full passenger list during the winter months.

The Clyde line has won by hard work the success which insures crowded ships the year round, and it is the memory of such voyages as this that brings its patrons back winter after winter.

The stewards of the line keep up their reputation for the finest cuisine in the coastwise trade, and its completeness of accommodations and exceptional ability and geniality of the officers have helped to make up this great popularity.

During their stay in the city of Jacksonville, the Plainfielders were introduced to all the leading people of the place, and made to feel that the freedom of the city was theirs. They were impressed with the many evidences of flourishing growth in the city. A large number of fine buildings were in course of erection, including a $250,000 government building that would be the envy of Plainfield. A superb electric railway system is being constructed. The wide-awake people are convinced that the trolley's the thing.

The delightful drives over the hard, smooth and superior shell roads, will long linger in the memory. The Plainfielders were driven all about the flourishing city by the genial and companionable ex-mayor Capt. M. C. Rice, and to him they feel indebted for his very courteous and hospitable treatment. Capt. Rice is a new York State gentleman by birth, but has spent twenty-five years of his life in Jacksonville. He served the city two terms as its mayor, and is to-day one of its most honored citizens.

While at Sandford, the Plainfield tourists called on Henry Hand, a brother of Capt. Hand, of Plainfield. Mr. Hand and his two sons are in the blacksmithing and wheelwright business in that city, and are receiving a liberal patronage from the people of that section, as they deserve, for they know their business and do good work.

Inspector Henry Steers, for thirty-five years connected with the New York police department, accompanied by his wife, daughter, son-in-law, Charles Howland, and two grandchildren, Edna and Harry, were guests of the new Rockledge Hotel, at Rockledge, during the Plainfielders' three days' stay at that place. The inspector has passed his 60th year, but he was the life of the place, and the three days' acquaintance will long be remembered. He and his wife and daughter have promised to make their first visit to Plainfield this summer.

A feature of the Plainfielders' ocean voyage was the run to Charleston, S. C. This was particularly delightful. The sea was smooth, the air was balmy, and the sunshine soft and warm. The evening was a beautiful moonlight one, and many promenaded the decks until a late hour. On arriving at Charleston, the Plainfield contingent were called on by Mrs. E. J. Black, and her son, Walter, and daughter, Tulip, and presented with a large box filled with blooming flowers, a portion of which adorned Capt. Pennington's table during the remainder of the voyage. Mrs. Black is a sister of street commissioner Meeker's wife of Plainfield, and made the four hours stay in Charleston a very enjoyable one. The Plainfielders were treated to a ride all about the city; and all the principal parts of interest of that historical place were visited. The visitors reluctantly parted with Mrs. Black and her little family. She too has promised to visit Plainfield the coming summer.

Charleston is a much finer city than it is credited in parts of the world with being, and is growing steadily. The visitor must ride about the city to see its beauty. One gets a wrong impression from the casual glance at the steamboat landing. A $250,000 Government building is going up now, and other extensive improvements are under way.

It is impossible here to give a detailed account of their trip South, but the returned Plainfielders will say in a general way that they were delighted with the climate and with the people they met, all through their tour of Florida; and they reluctantly parted with many of their new-made friends. As a winter resort, Florida went far beyond their most sanguine expectations. If you see them with long faces the remainder of this dreary winter you may take it for granted that they are longing to go back to the land of flowers.

MR. JENNINGS HOLDS THE PULPIT.

His Wife May Claim as Alimony the Salary Due Him.

(From the New York World.)

Rector Jennings, of Grace church, Westfield, continues to discharge the duties of a pastor. He held a morning and evening service to-day. This morning he announced his intention of staying here and gave notices of Easter services. He practically defies Bishop Scarborough's order to leave on March 15.

Nine persons, including two choir boys, an organ blower and an organist, composed the congregation at the morning service. To-night Rector Jennings was assisted by Rev. T. L. Murphy, rector of Holy Cross church, of Plainfield, and Rev. J. F. Simpson, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, at Netherwood. Rev. Mr. Murphy delivered the sermon. There were three choir boys, an organist and organ blower and five others in the congregation. Mr. Jennings announced services for Wednesday and Friday next.

There are only two families that stand by Pastor Jennings, the Sandfords and the Robertsees. The others attend the Elizabeth churches.

Mr. Jennings says the two families guarantee him $1,400 a year if he will remain in Westfield. He also says the vestry of the church owes him $700, which Bishop Scarborough ordered them to pay by March 15, and that he won't leave till he is paid. It is said his wife, who is suing for a divorce, will seek to get his salary for alimony due.

HARRIS'S WITNESSES IN A FIX.

Offer of Money for False Testimony Alleged in Counter-Affidavits.

George Potts, the father of Mary Helen Potts, for whose murder Carlyle W. Harris is now in the Tombs anxiously awaiting the final decision of Recorder Smyth in the application for a new trial, has secured strong affidavits made by Joseph Lefferts, to the effect that Lefferts had frequently sold Mary Potts as much as sixty grains of morphine. Young Lefferts, during the summer of 1890, conducted the Acme Pharmacy, adjoining the notorious joint kept by Harris, and it was then that he swears he sold the deadly drug to the young girl. One of the affidavits which Mr. Potts has secured is made by J. H. VanMater, a nephew of Lefferts and the owner of the Acme drug store. Mr. VanMater swears that only a small quantity of morphine was sold during the season of 1890, not over fifty grains, and he gives the names of the wholesale drug houses in New York city from whom he bought the drug. VanMater swears that none of this morphine was disposed of except on prescription, so that Lefferts's assertion that he sold large doses of the drug to Miss Potts is believed to be false.

Another affidavit, which is most damaging for the defense, is made by a young law student in Asbury Park. It tells of a conversation he held with young Lefferts, in which the latter is alleged to have said that for $500 he would make an affidavit that he had sold large quantities of morphine to Miss Potts, and when questioned as to whether he remembered the dates of the sales said that Harris would fix that up for him. Lefferts is alleged in the affidavit made by the law student to have said further that he never knew Miss Potts.

The case of Harris on the motion for a new trial, did not come up to-day as was expected.

Counsel for Harris had in court two affidavits which he professed to feel sure would secure a second trial for his client. They corroborated the former ones. The hearing was adjourned, however.

FINEST IN AMERICA.

Dr. Rudolph Siemering's Statue of Washington.

Grand in Conception and Perfect in Execution—It Will Soon Grace the Entrance to Fairmount Park, Philadelphia.

Berlin has had a magnificent exhibition of modern paintings and sculpture during the past year. It has been held in the Anstellungs park, and a vast building covering several acres in the midst of this park devoted to it. A leading idea connected with it was the popularization of art, and concerts have been held every night in the buildings connected with it, and the Germans have turned out by the thousands with their families to enjoy the paintings, and then go to another part of the grounds and listen to some of the finest military music in the world. The paintings in the exposition are by the most famous of the modern German artists, and the rooms devoted to sculpture are full of magnificent pieces. The work which has attracted the greatest attention is the memorial statue of Washington, which Prof. Rudolph Siemering is making for the city of Philadelphia. Some of the figures of this have been completed in bronze, and a life-size model of the whole monument takes up one of the largest rooms in the whole building. This room is always crowded, and the statue is considered one of the finest of modern times. It has a base which is fully thirty feet in diameter, and this base octagonal in shape, and you rise from it by easy steps to the bottom of the pedestal upon which the monument stands.

The whole structure is fully fifty feet high, or about the height of a four story house. A great glass roof had to be built up above it in order to allow it to be erected in the exposition hall, and this roof slopes up to an apex at the center, in the top of which the head of Washington almost touches. The statue itself is an equestrian one, and it represents Gen. Washington in his Continental uniform as he marched at the head of his troops. The figure is several times life size; and the horse, which stands with the right foot raised, is an immense stallion. Washington's cloak is thrown back from his body as though blown back by the wind, and the whole statue is full of action.

The figures about the pedestal and the base of the monument are even more artistic than the statue itself. Ascending the first steps, you reach a second platform, around which lie great figures emblematic of American life and America. There are two of these figures at each corner of the monument, and some of them are already finished in bronze. Ascending one set of steps, you pass between reclining statues of an Indian hunter and an Indian maiden who is repairing her nets for fishing. These lie on their elbows. They are about twice life size, and they are magnificent pieces of sculpture. The fisher girl is entirely nude, and the brave has only a breech-cloth of feathers. Below them are magnificent bronze statues of buffaloes and deer, and on other parts of the base you find other animals emblematic of America. At another corner Columbia, in the shape of a beautiful woman with a horn of plenty in her hand, reclines on the pedestal of the monument, and there is a magnificent statue of America with the famous officers of the revolution offering her the laurels of their victories. Under this is the American eagle on a shield.

To give you some idea of the size of these figures, those lying on the first base must be fifteen feet long, and the thighs of the nude fisherwoman are as big around as the ordinary maiden's waist, and her forearm is as large around as the thigh of a man. Her head is beautiful in all its proportions, but you could hardly put it into a peck measure. The statues on the base are more than life size.

This monument, writes Frank G. Carpenter in Harper's Weekly, was begun by Dr. Siemering more than twelve years ago, and he has been working almost incessantly upon it. Dr. Siemering is one of the most famous of German sculptors, and all Germany is proud of the work he has turned out for America. It is the largest and most artistic statue of Washington in existence.

Some Wonderful Miniatures.

A prominent Hungarian will send for exhibition a collection of exceedingly novel paintings which will, doubtless, attract much attention. There are twenty-five of the pictures, and all are miniatures almost to the microscopic degree. One of them, representing the landing of Columbus, with seventeen human figures in it is about the size of the nail of the little finger. Another is a portrait of Emperor Francis Joseph and is the size of the head of a match. The work of these pictures is said to be exquisite.

A broken toy which amused the great Napoleon when he was in swaddling clothes was sold in France recently for $300.

STRONG RESEMBLANCE.

A Remarkable Stone Discovered by Knox County, Ill.

The scientists of Victoria, Knox county, Ill., are considerably excited over the discovery of a strangely formed stone. This relic is now owned by S. B. Russell, a merchant of Victoria and quite a collector of relics. Mr. Russell says that the relic was found in the bed of a creek in his township, and he is firm in his opinion that the stone is the petrified head of a man. The material is rather soft, but the resemblance is remarkable. Others were inclined to scoff, until finally to decide the controversy the stone was forwarded to

A STRONG RESEMBLANCE.

President John H. Finley, of Knox college, with the request that he call the attention of Prof. Starr, of the Chicago university, to the relic when the professor next visited Galesburg to deliver his university extension lecture. In this letter Mr. Russell eloquently dilates on the expression of the left eye, on the clearness of the cheek muscles, and on the fact that when first discovered traces of vertebræ were visible on the back of the neck. He added also as a circumstance in proof of the genuineness of the petrifaction that a petrified foot inclosed in a petrified moccasin was found near the place where the head was picked up. Prof. Starr, who is a learned enthnologist and is curator of the museum of the Chicago university, examined the relic with great interest. He pronounced the resemblance very remarkable, but concluded that it was not a man's head, but was simply the result of nature's operations. The stone is about eight inches long and five wide. Mr. Russell is not yet convinced, but writes that, "though geologists may differ," he is more firmly convinced than ever that the head is a petrifaction.

MICHIGAN'S CHOICE.

Francis B. Stockbridge Reelected United States Senator.

Francis B. Stockbridge was born in Bath, Me., April 9, 1826. His father was a physician. His mother was a daughter of Ben Russell, of the Boston Sentinel. At the age of sixteen Mr. Stockbridge went to Boston as a clerk, remaining until 1847, when he went to Chicago and opened a lumber yard, having mills at Saugatuck, Mich. In 1850 he moved to Saugatuck and took personal charge of the mills, remaining there until 1874, when he moved to Kalamazoo, where he has since resided. The enterprises in which Mr. Stockbridge is concerned are extensive. He has for many years been interested in the Menominee Lumber company, Black

SENATOR STOCKBRIDGE, OF MICHIGAN.

River Lumber company and the Kalamazoo Spring & Axle company. He has large interests in the pine lands of Mississippi, in the Redwood Lumber company of California and in one of the principal iron mines of the upper peninsula. He has been a member of both branches of the legislature. In 1875 he was nominated by Gen. Grant for minister to The Hague, but did not accept the appointment. Six years ago he was elected to the United States senate to succeed Omar D. Conger.

There Are No "Fixed" Stars.

The term "fixed," as applied to the stars, is now known to be a misnomer, for it has been proven that there is not a stationary or "fixed" star in the whole heavens, and no such thing as absolute rest in any of God's monstrous machinery. It is hardly necessary to say that all the stars are constantly in motion, some of them whizzing through space at the rate of 250,000 miles an hour, more than thrice the velocity of our earth on its orbital track. This constant motion brings about some startling changes in our stellar relations in the course of scores of centuries. However, the visual effect on a generation or half a dozen generations presents the planets in a seeming unchanged aspect.

A Long Train.

It is computed that all the locomotives in the United States would, if coupled together, make a train 300 miles long. The passenger cars would make another train of about the same length, and if all the cars of every variety in the country were coupled behind the engines the result would be a train about 7,600 miles long.

American Apples.

Of American apples nearly 1,500,000 barrels are imported to England every season, about a fourth of these finding their way to Covent garden. The barrels weigh from 140 to 150 pounds, and are excellently packed.

AN ILLINOIS TROPHY.

National Guard Rifle Teams to Compete for It.

Crack Shots from the Commands of the First Brigade, I. N. G., Meet to Competition—First Regiment the Winner.

A competition of interest to militia enthusiasts in all parts of the country occurred at Chicago recently. The crack shots of the First and Second regiments, Illinois national guard, met to win the Armstrong trophy. The spirited contest ended in a victory for the First regiment.

According to Wright A. Patterson, the authority on national guard matters, the rules governing the contest for the Armstrong prize provide that any command in the first brigade may enter a team to consist of ten men and four alternates, all of whom must be named before twelve o'clock of the day before the match. Each of the ten men selected is to fire one string of ten shots in each competition; the trophy to be held by the regiment first winning it twice, not necessarily in succession. The second competition will take place the last Thursday in February, and the third, if needed, the last Thursday in March. The regiment last winning the brigade competition will hold it until next fall, when it will be put up for competition between the companies of that regiment, the first one winning it to hold it not subject to challenge.

The trophy is made of silver, with gold trimmings, and stands twenty-seven inches high without the case, which will be of glass and add three inches to its height. It is thirteen and one-half inches in diameter in the center and eleven inches at the base. At the top is a golden wreath, in the center of which is a miniature of the target used in the match. The work is beautifully engraved with scroll-work. Leaning against the neck, with the butt resting on the body of the cup, are two golden rifles of the regulation Springfield type, the barrels of which pass through a silver wreath. On the body of the cup is an engraved scene showing a 200-yard rifle range, with a group of officers and men at the firing point and the targets in the distance. This is as near an illustration of the exact range as could be shown, for on an indoor range nothing can be seen from the firing point except the slots in the partition through which the men fire. Then, too, the competition is practically on a 200-yard range, the targets and ammunition being reduced so that the sights of the gun are gauged the same way as on a range of that kind.

The two statuettes at the base are four and one-half inches high. They show soldiers in light marching order, one at the position of "load," the other at the position of "ready." Across the bottom of the base will be the words "Illinois National Guard." The place on the reverse side of the cup, and directly in the rear of the range scene, will be left blank until after the brigade competition closes, when the names of the winning regimental team will be engraved on it. The place directly in the rear of the scroll containing the inscription will be used for the names of the winning company team. The trophy is strikingly military in all its details, and was selected from a number of designs submitted by officers and men intimately connected with the Illinois guard.

Wives of Presidents.

Three of the first four presidents of the United States married widows. The wife of John Quincy Adams, who received her education in England, created a great sensation in the nation's capital. The wife of Martin Van Buren, Hannah Hoes, lived but a short time after her marriage, dying about seventeen years before her husband's election to the presidency. President Tyler's second wife was an ardent Roman Catholic, and Mrs. Polk was a calm-mannered Presbyterian. Mrs. Millard Fillmore had been a schoolteacher, and the courtship was carried on under difficulties, as the lover could rarely afford the expense of a journey to visit his fiancee. Mrs. Franklin Pierce was the devout daughter of a clergyman and made the white house a center for charitable and religious enterprises.

Curious Death Customs of Fiji.

The Fijians believe that in case a marriageable youth or maiden dies without having gone through with the elaborate nuptial knot-tying ceremony of the islands his or her soul is doomed to wander about forever in an intermediate region between Heaven and hell. When anyone dies, man, woman or child, a whale's tooth is placed in the hand of the corpse, the missile to be thrown at the tree which stands as a guide post to point out the road that leads to Heaven and the one that leads to hell.

Those Midnight Prowls.

"Who won that long-distance walking match?"

"Spriggins."

"He did! Who was his trainer?"

"His baby."—Boston Globe.

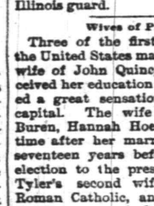
Taken from the grave.

"The doctors said I had the worst case of womb trouble they ever saw.



"I had heart trouble, lost my speech and the use of my limbs. I frequently had fits, fainting spells, and I could not sleep. Three of the best New York doctors gave me up. Friends came to see me—among them my cousin.

"She said she believed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help me, and persuaded the doctor to try it. Oh! how thankful I am they gave it to me, for it took me from the grave. I began to improve immediately. I soon got out, and am now well and strong. No words can express my gratitude to you for my life. Since then I have given it to others, and it never fails."

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., TUESDAY, MARCH 7, 1893. PRICE TWO CENTS.

A Card to the Public.

By an arrangement this day perfected with the Manufacturers' Book Co., of Philadelphia, the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association have secured for Plainfield and vicinity the exclusive continuous control of the premiums and punch card system of these leaders in the cash premium business. Now that it is certain that the World's Fair will continue throughout 1894, by beginning now a large per cent. of our customers will be practically sure of getting a FREE TICKET to the Fair, in addition to the regular premium of a magnificent volume of some standard author which accompanies every $30 worth of goods purchased from us. The importance of this extraordinary opportunity is obvious.

and saw enough of it, your digestive organs may perhaps be equal, ostrich like, to any task you impose—even to the digestion of lard-cooked food.

If however, like thousands of other people, you have learned that you must "draw the line at lard," this is to remind you that there is a clean, delicate and healthful vegetable substitute called which if used in place of lard permits you to eat pies, pastry, patties and such "good things" without fear of dyspeptic consequences.

There's abundant proof, but none so convincing and so pleasant as a trial for yourself. We invite it. For sale everywhere.

THE PRESIDENT PLEASED

At the Speedy Confirmation of the Cabinet.

JUDGE GRESHAM TAKES THE OATH

Vice-President Stevenson's Senate Holds a Short Session—Senator Sherman's Resolution to Change the Presidential Term Introduced—Secretary of State Gresham's First Assistant.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Mr. Cleveland is much pleased with the speedy confirmation of the Cabinet. He desired to have Judge Gresham sworn in at once, while the swearing in of the other Cabinet officers could go over another day.

The haste concerning Judge Gresham was due to the fact that next in importance to the Cabinet appointments are the first class foreign missions, which will probably be filled this week.

Private Secretary Thurber called at the Arlington and informed Judge Gresham of his confirmation and of the President's desire to have him take the oath of office at once.

The Judge repaired to the State Department about 3 o'clock.

The officials had not expected him, and there was considerable agitation over his informal arrival, because this act upsets all the ancient ceremony that was gone through with on the occasion of swearing in a new Secretary.

Mr. Gresham walked into the Secretary's office, recently vacated by Mr. Foster, and temporarily occupied by Assistant Secretary Wharton.

Assistant Secretary Adee happened to be near and dropped in. But there was not time for assembling the heads of bureaus and bringing forth the venerable Bible and venerable swearer in.

"Oh, any ordinary Notary will do to administer the oath," said Judge Gresham. "He is just as fully qualified as any other officer."

Col. Crook, one of the White House executive staff, who happened to be present, was a notary public, so the ceremony proceeded without any further formality. Judge Gresham raised his right hand and repeated the oath after the notary public. It was quite undramatic, and the Judge recited the words of the oath with the same composure that he would deliver a decision in an ordinary law case.

When the oath had been taken Judge Gresham, now Secretary Gresham, smiled and accepted the proffer of Mr. Wharton, no longer Acting Secretary Wharton, to take the large, easy, leathern chair which Bayard, Blaine and Foster had used. Mr. Wharton had already prepared the commission of Secretary Gresham. It was written on parchment and sealed with the Seal of State.

After talking for ten minutes on various minor routine matters of the Department Judge Gresham withdrew and returned to the Arlington.

According to custom, the Senate met yesterday to attend to the business which always devolves upon it after the inauguration of a new President, viz., to confirm necessary nominations, and, in this case, to ratify or reject the Hawaiian treaty.

When Vice-President Stevenson made his appearance in company with the Rev. Mr. Butler, chaplain of the Senate, the spectators in the galleries could not restrain their impatient enthusiasm and broke into a round of hand clapping. This ceased only when the prayer began, and was renewed when the Vice-President, at the close of prayer, took his place as presiding officer.

When order was restored, Senators Blackburn (Dem., Ky.) and Allison (Rep., Ia.) reported that as the committee which had been appointed to wait upon the President of the United States, they had performed that duty and had been requested by the President to inform the Senate that he would communicate immediately in writing.

At noon Major Pruden, the President's executive clerk, appeared upon the floor of the Senate bearing the nominations of the officers of President Cleveland's cabinet as follows:

Walter Q. Gresham, of Illinois, to be Secretary of State.

John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, to be Secretary of the Treasury.

Daniel S. Lamont, of New York, to be Secretary of War.

Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, to be Attorney-General.

Wilson S. Bissell, of New York, to be Postmaster-General.

Hilary A. Herbert, of Alabama, to be Secretary of the Navy.

Hoke Smith, of Georgia, to be Secretary of the Interior.

Julius Sterling Morton, of Nebraska, to be Secretary of Agriculture.

After the journal of Saturday's session was read, Mr. Pruden presented his message, and on motion of Senator Harris (Dem., Tenn.) the Senate went into executive session.

The doors had been closed about fifteen minutes and then they were reopened, the Cabinet having been in the meantime unanimously confirmed.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., Ohio) said that he desired to introduce a joint resolution to amend the constitution.

The joint resolution was read. It proposes that the terms of office of the President and Vice-President and of the 54th Congress shall continue until noon of the 30th of April, 1897; that the Senators whose terms would expire on the 4th of March, 1895, shall continue in office until noon of the 30th of April; and that time shall hereafter be substituted for the 4th of March as the commencement and termination of the official terms of the President, Vice-President, Senators and Representatives of Congress.

Mr. Harris—Let the joint resolution lie on the table for the present.

The joint resolution was laid on the table; and then, at 12:35, the Senate adjourned until Thursday next at noon.

First Assistant to Secretary Gresham.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Hon. Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts, has been formally tendered the position of Assistant Secretary of State by Secretary Gresham, and has accepted. Mr. Quincy is a member of the National committee, and in the late campaign had charge of the campaign literature. He is a graduate of Harvard and a lawyer by profession. There is much satisfaction expressed by the administration that Mr. Quincy has accepted, and by the many Democrats who are here that so able and sincere a Democrat has been appointed.

Fell to Death from the Fire Escape.

NEW YORK, March 7.—George Richardson, aged 37, while trying to get into his apartments, 145 West 145d street, yesterday afternoon by way of the fire escape, fell to the yard and was instantly killed.

Boston's ex-Patrolman Rooney Complains of His Treatment While There.

BOSTON, March 7.—Ex-Patrolman Michael J. Rooney, the man who created so much excitement in New Haven, Conn., Feb. 27, has reached his home in South Boston. He claims that while on his way to New York Saturday, Feb. 27, he stopped over in New Haven for a couple of hours to see a friend of his who was in that city.

Before he was able to learn where his friend resided, he was placed under arrest by one of the members of the police force, charged with being a suspicious person and was locked up in a cell at the central station.

Upon being unable to find any other charge, Rooney claims that the charge of insanity was trumped up against him and he was taken to the Poor Farm, where he was examined by one of the doctors who said he was all right. Rooney was then discharged and was allowed to leave the city without further molestation on the part of the police.

He has engaged counsel and will enter suit against the city of New Haven for false arrest and imprisonment.

A BIG STRIKE IMMINENT.

The Toledo and Ann Arbor Road Defies the Brotherhood of Engineers.

TOLEDO, March 7.—Chief Engineer Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has had a conference with General Manager Ashley of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad relative to the demands made by the engineers and firemen.

Mr. Ashley flatly refused to concede anything. If the men go out non-union men will be employed in their positions immediately.

The company has non-union engineers waiting the result of the conference of engineers and firemen. If the non-union men go to work trouble is feared from the numerous connections of the Ann Arbor railroad, as the employes of the various roads say they will not handle freight from the Ann Arbor as long as non-union men are at work.

FASTEST TRAIN IN COLLISION.

The Empire State Express Runs Into a Gravel Train.

TIVOLI, N. Y., March 7.—The up Empire State express ran into a gravel train here yesterday, and the locomotive and tender of the express were wrecked and a flat car on the gravel train was smashed.

The signal was up on the signal station as the express came around a long curve, and the engineer quickly reversed the driving wheels of the engine and put on the brakes, thus stopping the force of the collision which followed.

The engineer and fireman jumped and escaped unhurt, but Benjamin Murfit, son of the conductor of the gravel train, and employed on the gravel train, was instantly killed.

A Hall Boy's Costly Insults.

BOSTON, March 7.—A year ago last November a hall boy in the Adams house insulted Mrs. Frank L. Stinson and Mrs. George Dennett, prominent ladies of Amesbury, Mass., by ordering them out of the reception room. He called them by a disreputable name. They were awaiting their husbands, and when the latter arrived there was trouble. Yesterday a jury awarded each lady $500 damages from Proprietor George G. Hall.

Ready to Use the New Station.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—The official announcement is made by the Philadelphia & Reading railroad that on and after Sunday next, March 12, all the New York express trains and also the express trains on the Reading division will be run in and out of the new Market street terminal station which is reached by the elevated road recently constructed, and after March 26 all trains of the entire Reading system now centering in Philadelphia will run into the new station.

City of Newark Wins a Suit.

TRENTON, March 7.—An important decision was rendered in the Court of Errors and Appeals at noon in four suits brought by the City of Newark against the Merchants Insurance Company of Newark to recover taxes due on several millions of horse railroad bonds. The result is a victory for the City of Newark. It will compel the payment of taxes amounting to many thousands of dollars.

Probably the Wrong Man.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 7.—Washington Barney, charged with attempting to burn the Central House, and suspected of setting fire to a number of places, is held in $2,000 for trial. Although Barney is known as an excentric character there is little general belief that he is guilty. No clue has been found to the person who started the two fires after Barney was arrested.

New Sub-Postoffice for New York City.

WASHINGTON, March 7. — Postmaster-General Wanamaker yesterday accepted the proposition leasing to the Government 30,750 square feet in the Industrial building adjoining the Forty-second street railroad station in New York, for use as the up-town branch of the New York postoffice. The rental is $38,000 per annum.

To Keep Out the Boomers.

GUTHRIE, Okla., March 7.—Two more troops of cavalry have passed through here en route to the Cherokee Strip, making six troops that have gone from Fort Reno and more will follow from Fort Gill. They have orders to clear the strip of boomers, cattle and Indians and keep it clear until the President declares it open.

Protest Against the Russian Extradition.

NEW YORK, March 7.—An appeal has been issued to the citizens of the United States by the central committee of the Russian-American organization of this city protesting against the proposed Russian extradition treaty and requesting that indignation meetings be held to take action against the measure.

THE RACE BILL FIGHT

Struggle Begins in the New Jersey Assembly.

BIG CROWD IN THE HOUSE CHAMBER.

Speaker Flynn Ordered the People to Leave and Told the Sergeant-at Arms to Put Them Out, But Only a Part Withderw—Protests Presented and Referred to a Committee Where They Probably Will Stay.

TRENTON, March 7.—The crown that gathered in the Assembly and Senate chambers last night was the biggest in the history of the State. Speaker Flynn ordered the Sergeant-at-Arms to clear the floor by force if necessary.

The crowd stood ten and twelve deep in all the aisles and against the walls on both sides of the chamber when the Speaker gave this order.

The others stood wedged in, and made no effort to get out. The Speaker then said that the floor would have to be cleared and that the Sergeant-at-Arms would be authorized to use force if necessary. Still the great crowd refused to budge.

The Speaker, however, gave no other orders, and petitions and memorials were declared in order.

Lane, of Union; Hutchinson, of Mercer, Armitage, of Essex; Baxter, of Cumberland; Matlack, of Burlington, and Rose, of Cape May, presented petitions of constituents protesting against the race track bills and demanding their repeal.

In the batch presented by Mr. Hutchinson there were 80 petitions.

They were all referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations, which has the repealers in charge, and of which W. J. Thompson, "Duke of Gloucester," is chairman, who, it is said, is almost certain to see that they remain buried.

Salinger, of Hudson, offered a resolution saying that the Hudson County Jockey club had the promise of a license for its course, and calling upon the Attorney-General for an opinion touching the constitutionality of the racing bills under which the license in question is sought.

The resolution provided furthermore that the Legislature should not adjourn until the Attorney-General was heard from on the subject.

The vote on the resolution was taken viva voce, and it was thought by the onlookers to have been plainly carried in the affirmative, but the Speaker declared that it was lost, and the gayest audience laughed at his seeming audacity.

In the Senate half a dozen petitions were presented in favor of the racing repealers, and they were all ordered filed.

The Committee on Revision of the Laws reported the three repealers favorably.

SIXTY-ONE TO RETIRE.

Naval Officers Who Will Reach the Age Limit During This Administration.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 7. — Sixty-one naval officers will be retired on account of the age limit during the administration of President Cleveland. Six of these will be retired in 1893, sixteen each in 1894 and 1895, twenty-one in 1896 and two in 1897.

Admiral Gherardi, the senior admiral in the navy, will retire from active duty Nov. 10, 1894, and four other admirals will leave the navy the same year.

Commander Gillis goes out May 4, 1893. Chief Engineer H. W. Fitch, stationed at the Naval Academy, will be retired April 11, 1895.

Killed for Taking Another's Girl.

BOWLING GREEN, Ind., March 7.—James Walker, aged 18, has been very attentive to Miss Annie Drake, of this place, for some time, but last night John Hoff accompanied the girl to church. This so infuriated young Walker that he sought Hoff after the latter had taken Miss Drake home and attacked him with a hatchet, crushing his skull. Hoff will die. Walker then threatened with death and one who tried to capture him and escaped.

General Strike Threatening the Fair.

CHICAGO, March 7.—The union men employed at the World's Fair grounds are becoming decidedly restless over the complications arising from the strike of the electric linemen. A general strike will be called on Thursday unless the World's Fair authorities concede the demand of the striking linemen. The matter will be referred to the Executive committee of the Exposition to-morrow.

Lost Men Overboard at Cape Horn.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The bark Adolph O'Brig, which arrived from New York late last night, reports having lost first mate Robert Mason and two sailors overboard in a heavy gale off Cape Horn. The American ship I. F. Chapman also arrived from New York and reports having lost a man overboard while rounding the Horn.

Maine Elections.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 7.—Leiston has gone Republican for the first time in three years. Seth Chandler, Republican, for mayor, had 2,044 votes; L. J. Martel, Democrat, 1848. At Ellsworth there was no choice for mayor, but four of the five wards are Republican. At Bath Patten, Clifton, was elected mayor over Shaw, Republican, by 4 majority.

Kansas Legislature to Adjourn.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 7.—The Kansas Legislature will adjourn sine die Thursday night. Gov. Lewelling will call a special session about April 30.

Buffalo Man Suicides in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Wm. C. Savidge, of Buffalo, N. Y., was found dead in bed at the Grand Pacific hotel yesterday. He had shot himself through the heart.

HARRIS' FAMOUS FIGHT.

What May be the Final Skirmish Took Place Yesterday.

NEW YORK, March 7.—What may be the final skirmish in the famous battle of Carlyle W. Harris to escape the penalty for the murder of his wife, Helen Potts Harris, of which he was convicted, took place in the Court of General Sessions yesterday.

The result will hang in the balance until the judge in his own good time shall announce his decision.

Harris' fate rests with Recorder Smyth; he has been asked to grant a new trial; and a regular fusillade of affidavits was fired by the District-Attorney on one side and William F. Howe, counsel for Harris, on the other.

The District-Attorney presented the affidavit of Druggist Van Mater, of Asbury Park, N. J., in which he swears that in 1890 there were less than fifty grains of morphine sold at his store for the whole season, whereas his former clerk, Lefferts, had sworn that he sold 180 grains to Helen Potts that year.

To offset this Mr. Howe had prepared an affidavit of his own in regard to an inventory of William Stiger, dealer in drugs at 20 College Place, showing that Stiger sold to Van Mater on June 25, 1890, several hundred morphine pills and opium in other forms.

Van Mater's sister also makes affidavit that her brother was out of town most of that season, and Dr. Kinmouth, another druggist, makes affidavit that he sold morphine pills to Helen Potts.

Another affidavit is from a law student, stating that Lefferts told him he would swear to anything for $500.

Detective Gray, of Philadelphia, says he knew Mrs. Frenettee in 1887 as the mistress of one James N. Taggart, who is now a fugitive from justice, having robbed the Union Trust Company, of Philadelphia.

George Potts, Helen Potts' father, makes affidavit that none of his family was at Ocean Grove, N. J., nor in the State of New Jersey at all, between June 1 and the latter part of September, 1890.

Neither Harris nor his mother were in court. There was no argument in the case, the affidavits simply being presented and read.

HAWAIIANS UNDECIDED.

Latest News From the Islands That Seek to Be Annexed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The schooner Witzman has arrived from Honolulu with news up to Feb. 13. Opinions there as to the course that will be taken by the United States are as diverse as the many factors in Hawaiian politics.

As a general proposition, however, the American and German interests in Hawaii strongly urge upon the Government at Washington the necessity of protecting the business interests at least of the islands by annexing them.

The native Hawaiians are divided on the proposition, on one side being an innate love for royalty, affection for Princess Kaiulani and pride in native institutions; on the other side, a desire for greater prosperity and greater enfranchisement, which would follow the inauguration of republican rule as one of the American States.

The English sentiment against annexation is not so strong as that which prevails against the idea of a Hawaiian republic.

STARS AND STRIPES AGAIN.

The Steamship Paris Flys the American Colors Now.

NEW YORK, March 7.—At noon to-day the American line steamship Paris became a full-fledged American vessel, thus following the example of her Americanized sister ship New York. The Stars and Stripes were raised over her stern just at the stroke of 12.

Miss Frances C. Griscom, daughter of the President of the International Navigation company hauled the flag to the taffrail. There was no public ceremony, but the occasion was graced by the presence of a few ladies of the families of the directors and officers of the company.

Killed His Wife and Then Himself.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Frank Eck, formerly a fireman of Wichita, Kan., murdered his wife last night in a hotel by cutting her throat with a razor and then committed suicide by slashing himself from ear to ear. Mrs. Eck had for two weeks been employed as chambermaid at Stafford's hotel having come here from Wichita to escape her husband, who she said was so insanely jealous of her that it was impossible to live with him.

Killed by the "Ghost" Train.

NEW HAVEN, March 7.—James Bailey aged 67, a well-to-do farmer, of Durham, was killed last night by the "ghost" train on the Air line division of the Consolidated road while attempting to drive his sleigh across the tracks. Miss Rose Bailey, who was with her father, was thrown a considerable distance, sustaining a concussion of the brain. The sleigh was crushed and the horse killed.

No Boxing Matches in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Pugilism has received its death blow in Brooklyn, the police authorities having decided that no more professional boxing matches are to be permitted. A riot was threatened last night when the Hampton Athletic club's bouts at the Claremont Avenue rink were stopped and the rink closed. The audience wanted their money back, but did not get it.

Senator Morgan Confined to His Bed.

LONDON, March 7.—Senator Morgan, one of the representatives of the United States in the Behring Sea Court of Arbitration, who was a passenger on the American line steamer New York, which arrived at Southampton Saturday, was taken sick on the voyage. Since his arrival he has become worse, and is now confined to his bed at the Southwestern Hotel at Southampton.

Writing Up Blaine's Life.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The announcement is publicly made by Gail Hamilton (Miss Abigail Dodge) that with the cooperation of Mr. Blaine's family she is preparing a biography of the late James G. Blaine, but cannot yet say when it will be completed and issued.

Twenty-seven Lives Lost.

PARIS, March 7.—Advices from Madagascar bring news of the wreck of the French despatch boat Labourdonnais near the French island of St. Marie. Twenty-seven of the crew were lost.

Killed at His Work.

NEWARK, N. J., March 7.—Conrad Ley, 21 years old, an employe of Wood Turner Otto Bernz, was instantly killed by the bursting of an emory wheel, yesterday.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE IN A HURRICANE

An Italian Mob Objects to Having Soldiers at an Election and in Self Defense the Troops Fire on Them With Fatal Results—Source of the Congo River Discovered—Dublin University Protests.

LONDON, March 7.—When Col. Saunderson, grand master of the Orangemen and M. P. for North Armagh, denounced the Irish Home Rulers on last Thursday as defenders of criminals, William Redmond, Parnellite M. P. for East Clare, challenged Col. Saunderson to repeat the words outside the House.

Col. Saunderson offered to repeat the words anywhere, and after the debate he wrote a note to William Redmond offering to repeat in the lobby what he had said in the House.

Last night Col. Saunderson and Mr. Redmond encountered each other in the lobby. Mr. Redmond going up to the doughty Colonel said:

"Do you accuse me and my colleagues of being murderers!"

Col. Saunderson, who by the way is not an Irishman, but a native of Scotland, coolly replied: "I know nothing of you personally; but I accused the Irish party of conduct leading to murder."

Both Redmond and Saunderson were angry, and confronted each other in a pugilistic attitude. Peers from the House of Lords and members of the House of Commons gathered round in expectation of seeing the first blood in the threatened civil war between the Ulstermen and the rest of Ireland. Just as the two seemed about to fall in, friends came up and stepped between them, and prevented the intended blows.

Colonel Waring, Conservative M. P. for North Down, and one of the strongest Loyalist leaders in the North of Ireland, stood by Col. Saunderson and succeeded in withholding him from shedding Parnellite gore, while James J. O'Kelly, Parnellite, and formerly M. P. for North Roscommon, stood beside Redmond and restrained the aroused passions of the Irish champion.

The lobby became rapidly crowded and the would-be combatants were hustled apart. Col. Waring led Col. Saunderson away to the library, Saunderson showing evidence of much excitement and anger. Mr. Redmond walked away from the scene amid shouts of "They shall meet at Boyne!" followed by cheers and laughter.

Speaker Peel, hearing of the encounter between Mr. Redmond and Col. Saunderson, ordered a police inspector to the scene with instructions that he arrest the man who struck the first blow. The inspector appeared towards the end of the quarrel, and, after having warned both members of the nature of his instructions, waited to see what happened.

It is reported that Col. Saunderson has challenged Mr. Redmond to a duel on the continent.

THE MADAGASCAR HURRICANE.

Ships Sunk With All on Board—Houses Leveled to the Ground.

PARIS, March 7.—News of a hurricane at Tamatav on the east coast of Madagascar is received.

The wind came from the sea and first struck the vessels near the mouth of the harbor.

The Alaimo, a French ship, was stripped almost instantly of masts and rigging, and a few minutes later went to the bottom with all on board.

Five coasting vessels anchored within the harbor foundered almost instantly, and but 10 of their crews were saved. Four other coasters sank before the storm had passed.

In Tamatav the streets were swept clean of people and vehicles in a minute. Twenty-two of the best buildings in the place and a large number of huts were wrecked.

The roof of the Custom House was carried away, and the walls were crushed in. The British Consulate was wrecked, and four large factories were leveled to the ground.

Many lives were lost in the city.

Further details are lacking.

THE SOLDIERS FIRED.

An Italian Mob Attacks Troops—Two Killed and Many Wounded.

PALERMO, March 7.—Troops were sent to Serra di Falco yesterday to preserve order during an election in progress there. The people of the town regarded the arrival of the troops as a threat and attacked them in the streets with stones and knives.

After three soldiers had been struck down, the commander gave the order to fire. The troops fired first over the heads of the rioters, but without frightening them.

Two volleys were fired then into the mob. Two men were killed instantly and many were wounded.

The uninjured rioters fled without making further demonstration against the military.

Congo Headwaters Discovered.

BRUSSELS, March 7.—A telegram from one of the Congo State expeditions to Katanga says that it has discovered the point where the Lukuga river, the outlet of Lake Tanganyika, joins the Lualaba river. An interesting geographical problem is thus settled, for the junction of these headwaters of the Congo is the beginning of the true Congo.

Predicts Dire Things for Ireland.

DUBLIN, March 7.—In addressing the Senate of Dublin university Lord Ashbourne said he was convinced that, if the Home Rule bill should be passed, Ireland would be thrown into a state of semi-bankruptcy and civil war. The Senate voted to petition Parliament against the passage of the bill.

End of a Celebrated Mining Suit.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-Morrow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—'T was shivering cold in the council chamber again last night. Oh for a bigger furnace!

—Jesse Layton fell at Seventh street and Broadway on his way to church, Sunday, and fractured bones in his hand.

—Mrs. Lillie Wooley, of East Front street, slipped and fell on the ice on that thoroughfare and bruised her arm severely.

—Much news matter is crowded out of to-day's issue, to appear to-morrow, on account of the space taken by the sewerage report.

—The common council will meet again March 20, to accept contracts on the engine-house plans published exclusively in THE PRESS.

—The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold a social and entertainment in the chapel this evening. Admission, 15 cents.

—Miss Morton has been substituted in Miss Delano's place in the High school at a salary of $700. Miss Delano's health compels her to rest till next fall.

—The members and friends of No. 2 Engine company enjoyed a big farewell "blow-out" last night on the occasion of moving from their old quarters.

—Free-hand drawing will be graphically described by John Dalziel at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Thursday evening of this week. The admission will be free to this talk, which will be well illustrated.

—Preparatory services will be held in Bethel chapel Thursday at 8 p. m. The Rev. E. W. Williams, who preached so acceptably two weeks ago, is expected to preach. There will be no service on Wednesday evening.

—New songs and dances, elegant costumes and pretty scenery, joined together with bright and witty dialogues, constitute "Aunt Bridget's Baby" at Music Hall to-night. Besides herself, it takes exactly twenty-one people to assist Aunt Bridget.

—A popular song in the programme is "The Man in the Moon," and it is said that Minerva Adams sings it to perfection; but one of the funniest features of "Aunt Bridget's Baby," according to critics who have seen it, is "The Three Sheenies," as given by Stanley, Ryley and Ryan. It will be given at Music Hall this evening.

—A four-horse stage load left this city yesterday afternoon from the Salvation Army for New Brunswick. The sleigh was upset in a snow bank, but the merry people did not mind such a trifle. They reembarked and arrived safely at New Brunswick. They had to cross several fields on account of snow drifts blocking the roads. They returned home at an early hour this morning, all well pleased with their trip.

Penny Wise and Pound Foolish.

The public can thank the enterprise and public spirit of the local newspapers for the full publication of the sewerage commission's report to-day. The publication in full of what, so far as its genuine news is concerned, could readily be condensed into half a column, and has been so condensed for the New York Evening Post, is an inconvenience and expense that the publishers alone are forced to bear. The council refused last night to pay for authorized publication, but trusted that the papers would assume the burden without reimbursement from the tax-payers whose interests are alone served in the publication. Such action is an imposition on the newspapers' good nature. The council should be willing to share in the expense and bother of giving to the people such a long-winded report of their official doings. It was councilman Case who led the council to refuse to pay. Councilman Fisk advocated payment.

To Divide Two Wards.

An ordinance was last night adopted on first and second readings and ordered engrossed and advertised preparatory to final passage, dividing the First and Second wards into two election districts each: First district, First ward, southwest side of dividing line Richmond street and Norwood avenue; second district, northeast side of same line. First district, Second ward, southwest side of dividing line Berckman street, Woodland avenue and Rahway road; second district, northeast side same line.

"Aunt Bridget's Baby."

The attraction at Music Hall to-night will be "Aunt Bridget's Baby", a rollicking, musical comedy supplement to "Aunt Bridget", which gave George W. Monroe an enviable reputation as a comedian. His sole commission in the "baby supplement" is to produce hilarity.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

EXTRA!

Latest News By Wire to THE PRESS.

NO NEWS OF THE NARONIC.

NEW YORK, Mar. 7.—The National Line steamship Italy, which, it was supposed, might have the long-delayed Naronic in tow, arrived here this morning and reported that she had heard nothing of the missing steamer.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Ex-councilman and Mrs. Walter Hetfield have a little girl now, born last evening.

Dr. Richards is to be invited to deliver the address to the High school graduating class this year.

The Misses Hyde, Gerald, Richfield and Arnold are the pretty girls with the company at Music Hall to-night, with unusually pretty voices.

Dr. J. L. Hurlbut will preach a twenty-minute sermon at the opening of the prayer-meeting service in Vincent chapel to-morrow evening, on the subject: "The Things that Happen to Us."

There is probably no comedian in the world who makes more fun than Geo. W. Monroe. Since Nell Burgess went into the farm life drama, there has been no male impersonator of eccentric feminine character who has met with such wide success as Mr. Monroe. Hear him at Music Hall to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. "Jack" Barnard, of New York, with a party composed of Miss Wotherspoon and David Wotherspoon, of this city, Miss Lorillard, J. Lee Taller and T. Suffern Taller, left for Washington last Thursday, and are stopping at the Arlington Hotel, where they expect to remain a week or ten days.

One Granted, the Other Refused.

John Beerbower presented affidavits last night satisfying the common council that the signers to his City Hotel license application were all bona fide freeholders, and the license was granted.

Wallace V. Miller of Hotel Grenada had new signers in place of those against whom objections had been made, and his amended application was referred to the license committee for investigation.

Councilmen Case and Marsh alone voted against Mr. Beerbower's license.

Mr. Finch Proud of His Achievement.

The board of education is still satisfied with its Wadsworth "investment". Mr. Finch announced last night that the city's revenue from it was $80 a month as long as the present tenants remain. Of course real-estate speculation and renting business is what the school trustees are elected for!

The People Will Be Grateful.

Everyone will be glad to know that the High school graduating class of '93 purpose reducing the time of the commencement exercises to two hours. There will be fewer essays and more frequent music, and in every way the exercises will be less tiresome and dreary. They have always been too long and monotonous for hot weather.

To Buy a Pest-house.

The councilmanic committee on finance has been given authority to secure option on a building far from civilization to be used as a pest-house. The cost will be $1,600. The borough will not be able to join with the city in the enterprise, but will have a pest-house of its own.

Mrs. Herlick Gets $1,000.

Mrs. Herlick, widow of Peter Herlick, who recently committed suicide at Dunellen, has received $1,000 from the life insurance company in which she held a policy on his life, and will also receive $350 from W. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., of that place, of which order her husband was a member.

Two Good Officers Re-elected.

At the annual meeting of the North Plainfield board of health last night the Rev. W. E. Honeyman was made president for the ensuing year and Dr. J. H. Carman secretary and treasurer.

DESERTS NUMBER TWO NOW.

A Utica Man Returns from Canada with Wife No. 1.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 7.—Frank Turner, who eloped from Utica last week with a married woman, has been found in this city. His wife arrived here from Utica yesterday, and after an interview with her husband he agreed to abandon wife No. 2 and return to Utica with his first wife.

The woman with whom Turner eloped denies that she was ever married until she met Turner, and claims that she has been deceived.

She had known Turner a long time in Utica, where she was employed as a milliner.

She says Turner was in financial difficulties and borrowed money of her.

Leading Questions in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A poll of the new Senate on the three leading questions of the day, viz.: The repeal of the Sherman silver law; the repeal of the McKinley tariff and the annexation of Hawaii, shows that at least 39 Senators are in favor of the repeal of the Sherman silver law, 26 are opposed to repeals, while 16 are non-committal. In regard to the McKinley law, 41 Senators declare themselves in favor of its repeal, 33 oppose the repeal, and 9 are non-committal. On the Hawaiian question 40 will vote annexation when opportunity offers while 20 oppose it. Twenty-three declined to express their views on the subject of annexation.

TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC

from fraud and imposition, the genuine medicines of Dr. R. V. Pierce are now sold only through druggists, authorized as agents. They are the cheapest medicines to use, as well as the best, because in every case you pay only for the good you get. The money is refunded if they ever fail to benefit or cure.

Being sold on this peculiar plan of "value received or no pay," the prices of the genuine guaranteed medicines always have been, are, and always will be, as follows:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (the remedy for all diseases arising from a torpid liver or impure blood), . . $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (the remedy for female weaknesses and derangements), ... $1.00 per bottle.

SEWERS IN SIGHT.

THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE MAKES ITS FINAL REPORT.

Exhaustive Consideration of Every System Available for Plainfield, with Recommendation in Favor of the Intermittent Filtration Method—That Likely to Be Adopted by the Council at an Early Date.

The special sewerage commission last night made its final report, covering a year's careful investigation. That report as received by the council is as follows:

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PLAINFIELD, N. J., MARCH 6, 1893.

To the Hon. Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—As chairman of the Special Sewerage Committee appointed by your Honorable Body Feb. 1, 1892, I herewith submit the report of said committee. Its conclusions, which have been reached after a most thoughtful and deliberate consideration of the subject in its many details, will, I trust, meet with the approval of the people. In presenting this report, I desire particularly to call attention to the recommendation of the Committee with reference to the method of paying for the sewers.

After carefully considering this branch of the question, the Committee reached the conclusion: That there is no other feasible way of constructing a sewerage system, and at the same time, of securing the economy gained by making cash payments when contracts are completed, than by putting into the tax budget, the entire cost, or by an issue of bonds running for a long term at a low rate of interest. A long bond could probably be floated at 4 per cent., and it seems reasonable that an expenditure for a great permanent public improvement, should be met as the population and assessable valuation increase, rather than by an immediate increase of taxes, which would prove burdensome to our people, and, at the same time, prevent strangers from making permanent investments here.

This, together with the fact that many, probably a large majority, of our citizens cannot well pay a much heavier tax than they are now called upon to pay, seems a sufficient reason why an immediate assessment for the entire cost of the system should be set aside as impracticable.

In conclusion, I will add that is the opinion of the Committee that the question as to the issuance of bonds should be submitted to the people before any active measures are taken to carry its recommendations into effect.

Respectfully submitted,
A. GILBERT, Chairman.

THE SEWERAGE OF PLAINFIELD.

To the Honorable Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the Common Council held Feb. 1, 1892, a Committee was appointed for the purpose of considering and determining what action, if any, should be taken by your Honorable Body with reference to the introduction of a sewerage System into the city.

This Committee, composed of four members of the Common Council and fifteen citizens, held its first meeting Feb. 9, and organized by the election of A. Gilbert as Chairman, and R. K. Case, Secretary. A number of meetings have been held by the Committee and the question in its various details has been fully discussed and Sub-Committees have pursued different lines of investigation relating to the general subject. The work of these Sub-Committees, which is fully set forth in the accompanying reports, covers: 1. Survey and estimated cost of trunk line to the Raritan River. 2. Estimated cost of trunk line to Staten Island Sound through Fanwood, Westfield and Linden Townships, with estimated cost of pumping station and annual cost of maintaining the same. 3. Estimated cost of disposal by Intermittent Filtration. 4. Visit of Committee to Lawrence, and South Framingham, Mass., to inspect Intermittent Filtration systems in operation there. 5. Examination into legal questions involved. 6. Proper method of assessing cost, and providing funds for the prosecution of the work.

To assist the deliberations of the Committee, surveys have been made; and plans, profiles and estimates prepared therefrom are herewith submitted.

A comprehensive system of sewerage of any district should provide for the removal of all fecal and liquid refuse from dwellings and places of business; the drainage of the surface, and of the subsoil and the speedy disposal of the resulting accumulations, without damage to property or annoyance to the public, the whole system to be of the simplest possible arrangement consistent with thorough efficiency and cheapness of future maintenance.

THE SEPARATE SYSTEM.

The "Separate" system of sewerage contemplates the removal of sewage and liquid manufacturing wastes through an independent system of pipes, whose dimensions are proportioned to the volume of sewage passing through them. It is essentially a system for the removal of filth by water carriage, the water being limited to the smallest necessary quantity.

The amount of sewage conveyed by such a system is consequently very uniform; with it, when properly constructed, there are no accumulations of deposits in the sewers, generating noxious gases and only to be removed by the powerful action of a severe storm; but the sewers being daily filled to their maximum working capacity at the hour of maximum flow, the main lines are daily swept clear of solids, and the sewage is rapidly and completely carried to the outfall before any putrefactive change has taken place in it.

In the primary lateral sewers, the amount of sewage is usually insufficient to keep the sewers clean, and here some artificial method of flushing becomes necessary. This may be effected by automatic flush tanks connected with the public water supply. They are gradually filled by a small stream of water, say of five gallons per hour. When a tank is full the continuous flow of the entering water produces a small overflow which, sets a siphon in operation, and the entire contents of the tank is discharged into the sewer with great rapidity, producing a powerful flush.

In this system the rainfall is permitted to flow over the surface of the ground, and is conveyed through the street gutters to the nearest water courses by the most direct route. When the accumulations become troublesome, underground channels near the surface are provided for relief.

COMPARATIVE COST.

It is generally admitted by the best of engineering authority that the first cost of sewers on the "separate" system is about three-fifths of that of the "combined" in which both rainfall and house sewage are provided for. For small and unpaved cities like Plainfield, there can be no question as to the superior merits of the separate system of sewerage.

TOPOGRAPHY OF THE DISTRICT.

The topography of the district to be sewered is such that the main sewers will naturally converge toward the intersection of Grant Ave. and Front Street. The surface of the ground at this point is 33 6-10 ft. lower than Front St. at Richmond St.; 26 ft. lower than at Richmond and LaGrande Ave.; 23 6-10 ft. lower than Broadway and Kensington Ave.; 14 ft. lower than the bottom of Cedar Brook at Broadway, and about 7 ft. lower that bottom of Cedar Brook at Park Ave. Of the total difference of level on Front St., however, almost one-half occurs between Grant and Plainfield Aves., and this feature of the topography has a very decided influence on all the sewer grades east of Plainfield Ave., and necessitates deeper cuttings than if the slope of the whole district was more uniform. The axis of highest land north and south is along Washington St., and east and west is generally along 7th St. The topographical features are so decided, that, coupled with the location of the greatest number of dwellings already fitted for sewer connection, there is not much room for a choice of routes for the main sewers, consistent with lowest cost of construction. The construction of the double track electric railroad along Front St. necessitates the location of the north main sewer in Second St., the surface of which generally is lower than that of Front St., and therefore in its favor as the proposed route.

THE NORTH MAIN SEWER.

The North main sewer commences at Richmond St. at about 11 ft. deep and runs along the center of W. Second St. to Plainfield Ave., thence on Plainfield Ave. under the railroad to the center of E. Second St.—where it is about 13 ft. below the surface—at the depth, and on the grades, and with sizes of pipe shown on the profile submitted with this report.

Sufficient depths have been given to allow for self cleansing velocities in the main sewer and in any lateral sewer that may hereafter be built north of the railroad, and for draining the deepest basements. Fourteen manholes are to be built at street intersections and other necessary distances, and one flush tank is allowed for. The total length is 5,627 ft., and the estimated cost is $9,012, or $1.60 per lineal foot. Lateral sewers will cost between 60 and 75 cts. per lineal foot, manholes and flush tanks being extra.

THE SOUTH MAIN SEWER.

The south main sewer commences at the intersection of Richmond St. and LaGrande Ave., at about 9 ft. below the surface; thence it runs along the center of LaGrande Ave., to Franklin Place; thence along Franklin Place and Ninth St. to Central Ave.; with a connection at Broadway for a 12-in. pipe from an intercepting sewer which runs along Woodland Ave., and distributes the sewage of Netherwood; thence along Central Ave. to Eighth st.; thence along Eighth St. to Plainfield Ave.; thence along Plainfield Ave. to center of E. Second St., at the depths and with the grades, and sizes of pipe as designated on the profile submitted herewith. As in the north main sewer sufficient depths have been given for self-cleansing velocities and for the drainage of cellars.

The total length of the south main sewer is 9,049 ft., and the estimated cost is $13,157, or $1.45 per lineal foot, allowing 20 manholes and one flush tank. The cost of lateral will be between 60 and 75 cts. per lineal foot for 6-in. and 8-in. pipe without manholes or flush tanks. As soon as the building of sewers is definitely determined upon, petitions for lateral lines should be invited without delay and no macadamizing of streets should be allowed until the sewers are laid where circumstances demonstrate they should be; if these lines could be built at the same time with the main sewers a considerable saving in first cost would be made and the inconvenience of subsequent street excavations avoided. It is advisable to do as much as possible in the first contract.

TIDE-WATER OUTLET AT RARITAN RIVER.

From the junction with the north main sewer at Second St., the south main continues along the center line of S. Second St. to within 300 ft. of the culvert crossing under the Central R. R. below Evons station; thence it follows the low lands to said culvert; thence through said culvert to Front St. to the outlet at Raritan River below the dam, as shown on plan, at the depth and on the grades and with the sizes of pipe as shown in accompanying profile; the total length from Plainfield Ave. by the shortest route, as shown on plan is 37,653 ft., and the estimated cost, including all contingencies, is $125,000 or $3.32 per lineal foot.

This makes a total of 14,676 ft. of main sewer, ranging from 10 in. to 18 in. diameter east of Plainfield Ave., costing $22,168, or an average of $1.51 per lineal foot, and 37,653 ft. of 24-in. pipe costing $125,000, or $3.32 per lineal foot, to which add $37,000 for estimated cost of lateral system, making grand total to tide water at Raritan River, $184,169.

Plans and profiles of alternate lines between Plainfield Ave. and the Raritan River below the dam, are submitted herewith. One line follows the shortest route, as above stated, regardless of the depth of cutting; it is 37,653 ft. long and the estimated cost of a sewer 2 ft. in diameter, laid and including possible cost of right of way, is $125,000; the other line starting at Rock Ave. and Front St. follows the low land of Green and Bound brooks to their junction with the highway from Bound Brook to New Brunswick, thence along and near this road to the dam. The distance is 6,300 ft., greater than by the other route, while the estimated cost is about the same.

SEWAGE PURIFICATION.

The construction of a main sewer to tidewater, besides being very costly, presents some obstacles, legal and otherwise, which it may be difficult to overcome. In consideration of this fact the attention of your committee has been directed to other methods of disposal which may be classified as follows:

1. Purification by chemical treatment before such discharge into natural water courses.

2. Broad irrigation upon land especially prepared for utilization in raising crops, etc., before discharge into natural watercourses.

3. Intermittent filtration though specially prepared land before such discharge.

Your Committee have carefully investigated the merits of the above methods of sewage purification, and for this purpose a visit of inspection to Lawrence and South Framingham, Mass., where the system of intermittent filtration is in operation, was made by a Sub-Committee, and rejecting methods Nos. 1 and 2 as costly and impracticable, we herewith submit estimate of cost of system No. 3, Intermittent Filtration:

Main sewers to Plainfield Ave. and South Second St.	$22,169
Main sewer from Plainfield Ave. to filtration beds	18,432
Cost of laterals	37,000
Cost and preparation of filtration beds	10,000
Total cost	$87,601

If it can be demonstrated that the Intermittent Filtration System will give us an efficient and safe method of sewage disposal, it would seem to be unwise to incur the great expense of constructing a sewer to tide-water without first giving the Intermittent Filtration System a thorough trial. It has been tested in other places and works well, and there can be no good reason why it should not work equally well here. If at any time in the future we should deem it advisable to seek an outlet at tide-water it will only be necessary to continue our main sewer to the Raritan River, and the only loss the city would sustain would arise from the previous purchase of land and the cost of connecting main line with filtration beds. The land could probably be sold for about its original cost.

has been used successfully for about twenty years in England, and for several years in this country. The method consists, in general terms, in applying the sewage intermittently to areas which have been specially prepared by leveling the surface and by deep underdraining. It has been found by practical experience that on favorable soil the sewage of 1,000 people may be permanently purified, per acre. For the most exact and recent contributions to knowledge on this subject, the public are indebted to the Massachusetts State Board of Health, whose reports for 1888 and 1889, are of special value.

In constructing filter areas in accordance with the new views which we derive from these experiments we use fine material at the bottom and coarse at the top. In a practical way we would, under ordinary circumstances, strip off the first foot or so of surface soil and replace it with coarse sand. The additional expense imposed in the construction of the filtration areas by making the upper foot in depth of coarse sand amounts to from $300 to $400 per acre, according to ease of getting the material. There comes from this, however, a decided increase in the efficiency of the filtration areas, and consequently a given area so prepared will do more in the way of purification than areas not so prepared. With such filtration areas, thoroughly underdrained to the depth of 5 or 6 ft., the sewage of 1,000 people per acre may be efficiently purified, with proper management, for all time to come. The filtration area is not a mere straining arrangement, but is on the contrary, an appliance for cultivating the microbe of nitrification, the recent studies upon nitrification having confirmed the view that the destruction of organic matter of nitrification is a biological process purely, and not, as has been ordinarily considered, a chemical process at all. The experiments show further, that not only is the nitrification due to living organisms, but that the microbes are confined to the surface soil and are rarely found 3 ft. below the surface.

The report of the Sub-Committee, which visited Massachusetts for the purpose of inspecting the filtration beds in that State should, we think, allay any apprehension that may be felt as to the danger of offensive odors arising from filtration beds.

PUMPING AND GRAVITY SYSTEM TO STATEN ISLAND SOUND.

A proposition from a Committee representing the towns of Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford, Roselle and Linden, to have Plainfield join in the project of laying a main sewer along the line of the Central New Jersey Railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to an outlet at Staten Island Sound, has also been considered. As the natural drainage of Plainfield is toward the Raritan River, to join in this scheme involves the necessity of pumping sewage from Grant Ave. to the ridge at Fanwood, about 100 feet elevation, where it would enter the proposed main sewer. The estimated cost to Plainfield of participating in this enterprise is as follows:

Cost of mains and laterals, as before estimated	$64,474
4 miles cast iron pipe, 12 ins. diameter, laid from Grant Ave. to Fanwood Heights	26,000
1 pumping engine and boilers	3,000
1 pump house	2,000
Assessment on main sewer of 12½ miles from Fanwood to Staten Island Sound, estimated	140,000
Total cost	$235,474
Annual cost of maintenance	$3,000

COST OF SEWER SYSTEMS.

The general public associates the construction of a system of sewers with a large sum of money raised by a "big bonded indebtedness" of the city. The following are some statistics concerning this part of the question, which we introduce here for the sake of comparison with the estimated figures we have given. Schenectady, N. Y., with a population of 19,900, constructed its ten miles of sewers, including manholes, flush tanks, and all accessories, all engineering expenses and preparations of plans and records, expenses of sewer committee, and all costs whatever chargeable to the sewers, for 75 cts. per lineal foot; West Troy, N. Y., for a population of 12,967, built its 18 8-10 miles of sewers at $1.18 per lineal foot; rock excavation cost them $26,891 of the total amount, $113,800; Dayton, O., with a brick sewer up to 42 ins. diameter, and down to 8-in. pipe sewer, cost less than $1.25 per lin. foot; Kalamazoo, Mich., built 12.17 miles at $1.03 per foot, or at a total of $69,595; Somerville, N. J., bids ranged from 45 cts. for 8-in. pipe to $2 25 for 24-in. pipe. The first annual report of the Troy Public Improvement Commission contains among other information concerning the sewerage systems of nearly 50 American cities a table of the average highest and lowest prices paid for sewers of various sizes, a summary of which we produce herewith, the depths at which sewers are laid being from 7½ to 25 ft.; from 8-in. to 24-in. are vitrified pipe, larger sizes are of brick.

Size of sewers, ins.	No. of cities included.	Average.	Highest.	Lowest.
8	14	$ .71	$1.50	$ .25
10	15	.80	1.75	.35
12	30	1.07	2.25	.70
15	29	1.30	2.30	.64
24	24	2.27	3.70	1.37
30	27	2.81	4.40	1.00
36	27	3.55	5.85	1.25
60	25	7.30	16.47	2.00

There cannot be any soil more favorable for excavation than that of Plainfield. It is free from rock and clay, and the sand and gravel of which it is composed are so compact that it will allow of tolerably deep excavation without sheeting and bracing. Therefore, we feel safe in estimating for Plainfield a very low cost for sewer construction, an average of not more than $1 per lineal foot, including every expense chargeable to the work, and it is more likely to be less than greater.

Herewith we submit estimated cost of the methods of sewage disposal treated of in this report, viz., Gravity System to Raritan River, Pumping and Gravity System to Staten Island Sound, and Intermittent Filtration. These figures are the result of careful preparation and may be considered fairly accurate.

TO TIDE-WATER AT RARITAN RIVER.

N. main sewer from Richmond St. to Plainfield Ave. and S. Second St., 5,627 ft.	$9,012
S. main sewer from Richmond and La Grande Ave. to Plainfield Ave. and S. Second St., 9,049 ft.	13,157
Main sewer from Plainfield Ave. to Raritan River, 37,653 ft.	125,000
Estimated cost of lateral system	37,000
Total	$184,169

TO TIDE WATER AT STATEN ISLAND SOUND.

N. main sewer, 5,627 ft.	$9,012
S. main sewer to Grant Ave., 11,171 ft.	18,462
Lateral system	37,000
4 miles cast iron main to Fanwood	26,000
Pumping engines and boilers	3,000
Pump house	2,000
Assessment for main sewer, from Fanwood to Staten Island Sound	140,000
Total	$235,474

INTERMITTENT FILTRATION.

N. main sewer from Richmond St. to Plainfield Ave. and S. Second St., 5,627 ft.	$9,012
S. main sewer from Richmond and La Grande Ave. to S. Second St., 9,049 ft.	13,157
Main sewer, from Plainfield Ave. to Filtration beds, 7,373 ft., at $2.50	18,432
Estimated cost of lateral system for thorough sewerage of city	37,000
Cost of lands and preparation of filtration area	10,000
Total	$87,601

Estimated cost of maintaining Intermittent Filtration system, which will require the employment of one man and a boy, $1,200 per year.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

The conclusions reached by the Committee may be briefly stated as follows:

1. A good Sewerage System is essential to the continued growth and prosperity of Plainfield. We cannot expect to maintain our reputation for healthfulness for any length of time if we neglect to make provision for proper drainage, which is now generally regarded by all intelligent people as necessary to the good sanitary condition of any rapidly growing town or city. 2. Our neighboring towns are already stirring in this matter. Somerville has already introduced sewers; Bound Brook, Fanwood, Westfield, Cranford and Roselle are seriously moving in the same direction. If Plainfield is to hold the lead she has already gained she must no longer neglect a matter that is regarded as of such vital importance. 3. Of the various systems considered by the Committee, the gravity system to tide water is undoubted the most efficient. It is also the most costly, and presents possibilities of legal complication, arising from the growing opposition to the pollution of streams, which might prove a serious embarrassment should we undertake to empty into the Raritan River.

The Intermittent Filtration System is deserving of full and careful consideration. It is comparatively an inexpensive system to construct and seems to be growing in favor. If it works well in other places there seems to be no reason why it should not work well here. Looking at the question from a business standpoint it would seem to be wise to give it a trial before incurring the additional expense of a main sewer to the Raritan.

If the plan is adopted of building two main sewers, as suggested, and all lateral sewers within a prescribed district making a complete system within said district, the Committee recommend that the entire cost of same be met by general tax on all taxable property within the city limits, said tax to be anticipated by an issue of Bonds not exceeding the estimated cost of said sewer.

It is fair to assume that all property within the city limits is directly or indirectly benefited by a system of sewerage that will tend to insure the continued healthfulness of the community, and the tax distributed over a long period will be so small that no one can fairly object to its payment.

Different methods have been adopted in other places for taxing property directly benefited; commonly a tax on frontage feet or area, and sometimes both. Within the district named there are few, if any, large unimproved tracts, but mostly small and scattered lots valued at low rates for taxable purposes, and for this reason a tax on valuations, as made by the assessor for other purposes, would probably be as equitable a method as any that can be adopted; possibly a division of this tax between frontage feet and valuation of improvements is entitled to some consideration, but it would be more complicated and would probably result in cost to property owners to about the same thing in the end.

A tax distributed in this manner over a period of years would be a light annual burden and would not exceed in many cases a greater tax on each dwelling-house than is now paid for cleaning cesspools.

An issue of Bonds in anticipation of the collection of taxes is without doubt the most economical method for providing funds for the work as completed.

The payment of these bonds could be distributed over a period of twenty-five years, redeemable, say, after five years, and payable in twenty-five years. Or, after five years, a certain amount could be made payable each year. This would obviate the necessity of holding the amount to credit of sinking fund.

The following table, based on the issue of $100,000 4 per cent. bonds, payable as suggested—showing amount credited each year to sinking fund, also yearly allowance for interest, gives a fairly accurate idea of the increase of tax rate required each year to pay off the entire issue of bonds with interest.

Based on the issue of $100,000 4 per cent. sewer bonds, payable in from 10 years to 25 years, as follows:

$25,000, to be paid in.....10 years
$25,000, to be paid in.....15 years

The figures here presented were arrived at by taking the assessments for taxes, real and personal, from 1882 up to and including 1892, and adding an estimated increase for each ensuing year for the period of 25 years, commencing at 1892 with the assessed valuation of that year, $6,600,000, and adding $225,000 for each ensuing year. With this as a basis, we arrived at the taxable rates to provide for the sinking fund to meet the payment of the principal and to pay the annual interest on the bonds. Your committee also recommends that some way be devised by the Common Council whereby the taxes secured before the bonds are payable can be promptly used in purchasing the same, at such a premium as may be thought advisable in the interest of the city.

The report was referred to the committee on water and sewers, and the committee was discharged with thanks. The recommendations of the committee will probably be adopted at an early date, as the plan proposed is in general favor among the councilmen; and an election will then be authorized on the question of bonds.

Sealed Proposals

For a Fire Department Building to be erected in the city of Plainfield, N. J., will be received up to 3 o'clock p. m., Friday, March 17, 1893, by First Assistant Engineer James Martin at Martin Bros.' store, corner Park avenue and 2d st.

All bids must be addressed to E. N. Erickson, Chairman Committee Fire and Buildings, and indorsed "Bid for Fire Department Building, Plainfield, N. J.," and same will be opened by the committee at Chief Doane's office on Friday March 17, 1893, at 8 o'clock p. m.

A certified check for twenty-five dollars, payable to the order of the City Treasurer, must accompany the "bid" as a guarantee that the bidder awarded the contract will furnish the required bonds. Right is hereby reserved to accept any or to reject any or all bids.

The bidder awarded the contract will be required to furnish bonds in the amount of $2,000.00 for the mason work; $2,000.00 for the carpenter's work; $500.00 for the plumber's work; $500.00 for heating, as per the drawings and their respective specifications.

Bids for mason work, carpenter's work, plumber's work, heating, painting and electric lighting, all including materials, must be put in separately though they may be all by the same party.

For drawings and specifications apply to B. Fosgate, architect, 41 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

BILLIARD NOVELTY.

A Fascinating Game Recently Imported from Paris.

It Interests Amateurs as Well as Professionals — Some Win Easily, But There Is Much Uncertainty About Doing It.

Those who have fondness for the game of billiards and who play it both as amateurs and professionals, are greatly interested now in a new development of the game. It has become a genuine craze in New York city, and before long, writes John Mitchie in the Chicago News, will probably extend throughout the country. The game was brought here from Paris by one of the greater professionals, who says that it is a veritable craze in that city, and that thousands gather in the reputable billiard parlors of Paris every evening to see it played.

The merit of the game lies in its simplicity, and yet its extraordinary difficulties. It can be understood by a person who knows but little of billiards, while the more delicate shots and the more exact calculations which skill in it require are keenly appreciated by such experts as Shaefer, Daly, Slosson, Sexton and others.

It is called a corner game, and it is comparatively easy to describe in cold type. Only two balls are employed, a white and a red one. The balls are placed upon the table as indicated by the accompanying diagram. The red ball is put into the lower right-hand corner so that it touches both cushions at the angle. A chalk mark is drawn so as to bring the left-hand lower corner within three or four inches distance from it, and the mark is made in the form of the segment of a circle. The white ball may be placed anywhere upon a table below the lower spot point.

The purpose of the game is to drive the red ball from the lower right-hand corner across the table within the segment of a circle indicated by a chalk line around the lower left-hand corner. To do this, however, it is a rule of the game that the white ball must first take two cushions before it strikes the red ball. It must first take the left-hand cushion and then the upper cushion, and may take as many cushions as the player deems advisable. Two cushions beginning with the left hand it must take.

The first player is allowed ten shots, and he is a very poor player who cannot before he has used up all these shots bring the red ball out of the corner. If the player does not within ten shots drive the ball into the marked space at the lower left-hand corner he makes a little mark with a bit of chalk to indicate where the red ball stood after the tenth shot, and then the second player has his chance. If he does not make the game within his opportunity he marks upon the billiard-table the point where the red ball was left, and then the first puts the red ball upon the mark which he made and has a single shot. If he does not make the corner the second player has his opportunity, placing the red ball where it was left by him on his previous play.

It has been discovered that it is possible to drive the red ball in with one shot. It was done once in Paris, and Mr. Deery, the professional, did it once, to the amazement of a large throng of spectators, in New York city. His shot, however, was a scratch shot, and he afterward spent much time in analyzing it and discovered that if the white ball, after taking two cushions, was brought with sufficient force to the lower right-hand corner to strike the lower cushion an inappreciable fraction of time before it struck the red ball, that it would give a motion to the red ball which would carry it along the lower cushion to the left-hand corner. The shot, however, is an extraordinarily difficult one. The left-hand cushion must be struck by the white ball at a spot which will give the exact angle to the upper cushion. The variation of a fraction of an inch measured by more than a hair's breadth will cause the shot to be futile. Then there must be given to the white ball exactly the amount of force, and that is a difficult thing to determine. If the stroke is too heavy, the red ball will enter the lower left-hand corner and then roll out; if it is too light, there will not be sufficient force imparted to it to carry it to the corner.

HOW WATER FREEZES.

The Interesting Process as Carried On in Nature's Alchemy.

A scientific paper describes how the process of freezing is carried on in nature's alchemy. By means of two thermometers it is first ascertained that the temperature of the water at the surface and at the bottom is respectively 48 degrees and 45 degrees. A cold wind sweeps over the surface of the water, so that the temperature is suddenly reduced to, say, 44 degrees. By this reduction in temperature it contracts and becomes specifically heavier, sinking and displacing the comparatively light and warm water below, which rises to the surface, becomes cooled below 44 degrees, and immediately falls, displacing the warmer water at the bottom, which in turn rises, gets cooled and falls, its place being again supplied by lighter and warmer water. And so the cooling and sinking processes go on, the upper thermometer always indicating the higher temperature, when suddenly the magic point, 39 degrees, is reached, when all movement at once ceases. The upper layer of water is still exposed to the cooling influence of the wind, and speedily falls in temperature, but still retains its place. The upper thermometer now shows that the water which surrounds it is being rapidly reduced in temperature, but the lower one remains stationary at 39 degrees. At this temperature water is heavier than at any other, and there, like a stone, it remains at the bottom, and as it is fully protected from outward influences by the mass of superincumbent water, its temperature remains very much at the same point. The water on top, however, having nothing to protect it, gets cooler and lighter every moment. Down the thermometer goes to 37, 35 and 32 degrees, and then a slight breeze ripples the surface, and the next moment a thin sheet of ice spreads itself over all. The ice, however, is colder and lighter than the water, so that it floats on the surface and acts as a blanket, protecting the comparatively warm and heavy water below from being cooled. So that even during the severest winter only a comparatively thin superficial layer of ice is usually formed, and the greater part of the water remains unfrozen at the bottom.

Tunis Brides.

A girl in Tunis, after she is betrothed, is cooped up in a small room, with shackles of gold and silver upon her ankles and wrists. If she is to be married to a man who has discharged, dispatched or lost a former wife, the shackles which the former bride wore are put upon the new bride's limbs, and she is fed till they are filled up to the proper thickness. The food used for this custom, worthy of barbarians, is a seed called drough, which is of an extraordinary fattening quality. With this seed and their national dish, cuscusso, the bride is literally crammed, and many actually die under the spoon. —Eastern Age.

IROQUOIS CLUB HOUSE.

The Elegant Structure to Be Erected by Chicago Democrats.

An illustration is presented herewith of the new building to be erected for the Iroquois club at the northwest corner of Michigan avenue and Dearborn street, Chicago. John Addison is the architect. Work will not be commenced until December of the present year, as the club cannot get possession of the ground, now occupied by the Brunswick hotel, until that time.

The structure will front 110 feet on Adams street and 54 feet on Michigan avenue. It will be ten stories high and will cost $450,000.

The walls will be of red or brown granite for a portion of their height, but will be continued to the cornices in terra cotta, leading to a tiled roof, broken artistically into gables.

The main entrance will be from Adams street, leading over mosaic flooring to the interior of the structure. An open court will extend upward from the level of the second floor. At the eighth floor there will be a balcony around this court. A marble staircase will lead to the second floor, on which will be located the principal rooms of the club. On the third floor will be a large reception room, which is to be elaborately decorated and used on formal occasions. On the fourth and fifth floors will be rooms for members. Fronting Michigan avenue on the sixth floor will be a large ball-room. The dining-rooms will be on the eighth and ninth floors on the Michigan avenue frontage. The kitchen and servants' quarters will be on the tenth floor.

HENRY CABOT LODGE.

Elected to the United States Senate from Massachusetts.

Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, the noted author of the force bill, has been elected to the United States senate from Massachusetts. The new senator is well known in literary as well as political circles. He will be one of the youngest members ever sent to the upper house of congress. He was, says the Congressional Directory, born in Boston, May 12, 1850; received a private school and collegiate education; was graduated from Harvard college in 1871; studied law at the Harvard law school, and graduated in 1875, receiving

CABINET BEGINS WORK

The President Calls His Official Family Together.

POLITICIANS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Republicans as Well as Democrats Call on the Chief Executive—The Senate Probably a Tie, but the Populists May be Depended on to Vote With the Democrats—Composition of the House.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The first meeting of the new Cabinet, held yesterday afternoon, lasted something more than two hours. All the members were in attendance.

Just prior to the assembling of the new officers in the Cabinet room Secretary Carlisle had a talk with the President concerning the bond question, and was the first member of the Cabinet to arrive at the White House.

Postmaster-General Bissell came early, with Secretaries Herbert and Gresham close behind him.

The others came stringing in, with the exception of Secretary Morton, who did not make his appearance before 10 minutes before 4 o'clock.

There was no formality or ceremony observed at the opening of the first official meeting.

Mr. Cleveland, sitting at the head of the table, started business in a simple, direct manner.

The session was devoted to the discussion of matters of current importance, including Hawaiian annexation and the financial situation, which were touched upon slightly.

The greater part of the time was taken up, however, with a consideration of the question of appointments, particularly those of assistants to the various Cabinet officers. The necessity for filling these positions without delay was taken as a self-evident fact, but Mr. Cleveland impressed upon his official family the necessity of going slowly in making selections. The Cabinet adjourned at 5:10 o'clock.

Secretary Carlisle, who was the first to arrive, was the first to leave.

Messrs. Lamont, Bissell and Smith remained for some time after the others had gone, discussing matters of a confidential character.

CANDIDATES HAUNT CLEVELAND.

Officeseekers Marching Up to the White House Door.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The steady tramp, tramp of the officeseeker sounded through the White House all day.

There was practically no cessation in the line of people who ascended the stairway leading to the President's room and nearly all who came saw Mr. Cleveland. They found him in a jovial humor and he cracked jokes with old acquaintances whom he had not seen since his departure from Washington four years ago.

While a large number of those who saw the President are candidates for office, few of them attempted to press their claims and Congressmen with long lists of constituents who are willing to work for Uncle Sam were discreet enough not to ask for favors but to simply pay their respects.

The great bulk of the visitors were Democrats, of course, but there were a number of Republicans in the throng, among them Senator Mitchell with a party of gentlemen from Oregon; Senator Manderson with several ladies and gentlemen from Nebraska; and Congressmen O'Neill and Dalzell of Pennsylvania.

THE COMPOSITION OF CONGRESS.

The Senate Probably a Tie and the House Democratic By 80 Majority.

WASHINGTON, March .—The8 present roll call of the Senate shows 44 Democrats, 38 Republicans, one Populist, one Independent and one Farmers Alliance, and three vacancies.

The vacancies are one each in Montana, Washington and Wyoming.

Two of these vacancies have been temporarily filled by appointment. Beckwith (Dem.), from Wyoming, and Lee Mantle (Rep.), from Montana, but should all three vacancies be eventually filled by the election of Republicans which is barely possible, the Senate (even with the combined force of the Populists) would still be a tie with Vice-President Stevenson holding the controlling vote.

The composition of the House as shown by official returns, is Democrats, 217; Republicans, 128; third party 8, and vacancies, 2. The Democrats thus have a majority of 80 over all.

Gresham's Successor Not Appointed.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The story published in the West that Judge Jenkins of Wisconsin, has been selected as successor of Judge Gresham as United States circuit judge is, at least, premature. It is ascertained at the White House that no appointment for the vacant position has yet been made, or even considered.

Rosecrans Not to Resign.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—A private letter has been received here from Gen. Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury, now in California, stating that his health has improved very much of late. The General also states that he does not contemplate resigning his position as Register of the Treasury.

Uncle Sam's Finances.

WASHINGTON, March 8—Secretary Carlisle, when he assumed charge of the Treasury Department, had on hand $1,250,000 of free gold and a net balance of $25,500,000, of which $11,500,000 is in national bank depositaries and $11,000,000 in subsidiary coin and $500,000 in minor coins.

Private Secretary to Secretary Gresham.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Secretary Gresham has appointed Mr. H. G. Bryan private secretary, a position he filled with great acceptance under the administration of Secretary Bayard.

Woman Suffrage in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kas., March 8.—Gov. Lewelling has signed the joint resolution providing for the submission of the equal suffrage amendment to a vote of the people at the at the next general election, November, 1894. The Governor signed the resolution in the presence of a delegation of equal suffragists.

WHERE IS THE NARONIC?

The Big Freighter 25 Days Days Overdue—A Little Hope Left.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Although no news has as yet been reported concerning the White Star freighter Naronic, which is 25 days overdue, still old seamen do not give her up yet.

The agents of the White Star line hoped that the Italy, just arrived, might bring some news of the missing ship. She didn't but told a story of terrific weather that makes it all the more doubtful that the Naronic can be safe.

The Italy sailed from London on Feb. 11, the same day that the Naronic left Liverpool. She came over the course the Naronic should have taken. The captain reports that he did not speak or sight the Naronic, and that the weather was the worst he had ever encountered. The Italy was late.

The Pomeranian of the Allan line, that sailed from Glasgow on Feb. 18, is also in. She is the ship that lost her captain and eleven sailors in the hurricanes and seas that the Naronic must have encountered.

This ship came into port with a new crew, and when the old sailors on board, who had passed through the storms, heard the facts about the Naronic, they shook their heads ominously.

The Apollo, Wilson line, has come into this port with no news of the Naronic.

The St. Enoch, from Liverpool on Feb. 15, Capt. Ogilvie, got in last night late. She sailed over the course the Naronic started on, but saw nor heard nothing of her.

Capt. Ogilvie said the seas made his ship almost unmanageable and that everything moveable was swept from the decks and lost in the ocean.

In the event of the Naronic's engines having broken down, it seems strange that she did not use sails and keep her in the track of steamships, or in the case of a lost rudder, why she hadn't been able to make port long before by steering with her twin screw, which is perfectly possible to do.

Even with a hole in her bottom, but kept afloat by her water-tight compartments, of which she is equipped with nine, she could have made a little headway by sail power if not by her engines, and in twenty-three days made headway enough to make her condition known to some passing vessel.

FATHER DEAD AND MOTHER DYING.

A Camden Family Poisoned by Eating Veal—Three Children Critically Ill.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 8.—The husband dead, the wife lying at death's door and three children critically ill, the result of poison, is the sad state of affairs at No. 1,067 Francis street, this city.

Henry T. Horner, with his wife Henrietta, aged 45 years; Rudolph, aged 7; Harry, aged 3; Mary Harris, a grandchild, and Thomas Horner, a young man, comprise the family. How they were poisoned is a mystery that County Physician Izard and Coroner Jeffries are investigating.

It is said that the family purchased a quantity of meat on Saturday and ate it on Sunday. Shortly afterward Mr. Horner and then Mrs. Horner and the children became ill. Dr. Haines, who was sent for, pronounced the cases as poisoning and he did everything he could to alleviate the sufferings of the patients. All grew worse, however, and Mr. Horner died yesterday morning.

The butcher said that if the meat was purchased on Saturday it was a portion of 1,300 pounds of veal he had sold on that day, about which there had not been any other complaints.

HER HUSBAND A LORD.

He Does Not Support His Chicago Wife Who Seeks a Divorce.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Emily R. A. Langton, the proprietress of a South Side boarding school, has asked Judge Collins for a divorce.

She says her husband is an Englishman. He was plain John Allibone when she married him in St. John's parish church in 1875. They lived happily until Allibone became a Lord and fell heir to a large fortune.

Then he began to gamble, and before long Monte Carlo and other resorts got the entire estate and fortune.

"After he lost his money I still clung to him," said the witness, "and besought him to engage in some business and support me. He refused, and said it was beneath a Lord to work. Soon after he deserted me, and I had to live on charity."

After her husband deserted her she came to America and gained the friendship of wealthy people, and through their influence started a private school, by which means she has since supported herself.

Steamship Companies Competing.

LIVERPOOL, March 8.—In view of the improvement of the Mersey bar the Cunard Steamship company has arranged to have its boats sail at a fixed hour Saturday afternoons, regardless of the tides. Consequently, the tedious delay connected with the taking on of the mails at Queenstown will be obviated. The Cunard company have also arranged to run a special express train between London and Liverpool, so as to meet the competition of the American line, whose boats dock at Southampton.

Buffalo After the Big Fight.

BUFFALO, March 8.—A big project is on foot here to secure the Corbett-Mitchell fight, and a purse of $50,000 will be guaranteed by responsible parties. The scheme is to lease the Buffalo Driving Park and have the contest take place in the mammoth exposition building, which will accommodate perhaps double the number of persons that would see the contest. Prominent citizens are interested in the matter.

Brotherhood Engineers Being Relieved.

OWOSSO, Mich., March 8.—The old engineers on the Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan railroad are being relieved as fast as they come in off their runs, and new men are taking their places. Everything is quiet. Unless the order for a strike comes very soon it will find no Brotherhood men on the engines to shut the water in.

DR. LANDAU ARRESTED

She is Implicated in Another Criminal Operation.

HER VICTIM REMOVED TO A HOSPITAL

Mrs. Landau Was Arrested by the New York Police on a Charge of Practising Medicine Without a Diploma—The Girl Was Found in Her House—Will Probably Recover.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The bark Carrier Dove just arrived here from Honolulu, brings advices from correspondents there up to Feb. 16.

On Feb. 15 there was a narrow escape from what might have been a serious fight between sailors from the American war ships and the British cruiser Garnet. The English tars have boasted that they would "do up" the Americans on the first opportunity, and this opportunity came.

A gang of the Garnet's men, all well primed with whiskey, began singing "Britannia Rules the Waves" in Nassau street, and when they had finished they made insulting remarks about the Stars and Stripes, and one fellow challenged any American to take it up.

Some of the Mohican's men were within hearing, and if it had not been for the coolness of a petty officer there would have been a bloody fight.

The local papers are full of articles bearing on the topic of annexation. Several strong articles have appeared in the native papers. One, especially, caused the arrest of John Sheldon, one of the editors of the Hawaiian Holmes, on the charge of contempt of the Legislative Council because of publishing in his paper an attack on the provisional government. It speaks of the revolution as the "illegitimate kid of Stevens and the sugar planters, of which Wiltse was the dry nurse." With few exceptions, however, the white population of the island take the American side.

It is generally understood there that the ex-Queen is endeavoring to enter the palace. Captain Gordon, commanding the barracks under the present military organization, after stating that while there was some question as to whether a general uprising of native Hawaiians could be incited, not because they lacked in bravery, but rather that the proper leadership was was wanting, said to a reporter:

"I don't mind telling you," he said, "that on Sunday last I learned that there was a project on foot for Queen Lilluokalani, as she is still called, to go to the palace. You may not understand that this would mean much to the native mind. It would mean, in fact, an assumption of royal authority.

"On Monday morning I issued the order that if Mrs. Dominis, the deposed Queen, attempted to enter the palace gates without a pass, properly signed, to refuse her admission, and if forcible entry was attempted to resist it, and that the guard would be there in double quick time.

"On Monday the rumors were repeated, and I reported what I had done to Colonel Soper and President Dole, who approved it, and I have since issued the same order every morning.

"No attempt has yet been made by Mrs. Dominis to enter the palace, and she remains quietly at her residence."

As far as the Hawaiians are concerned, Minister Stevens says he has assurances from the most prominent men in Oanu and other islands that they will support the course of the United States.

The American vessels in the harbor are the Mohican, which is used by Admiral Skerritt as a temporary flagship; the Boston, which is still under the command of Capt. Wiltse, and the Alliance, which arrived yesterday.

Admiral Skerritt, in an interview, stated that it was something of a surprise to find the Stars on Stripes floating over the government building on the arrival of the Mohican there.

KAIULANI VISITS WELLESLEY.

Hears the Girls' Yell and Takes Lunch—Off for Washington.

BOSTON, March 8.—Princess Kaiulani, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Davies and Miss Whitoff, her companion, visited Wellesley Female college yesterday, and were shown over the establishment by members of the faculty. When the gong sounded for dinner the big corridor was immediately crowded with the girl students, who, as the royal visitor descended the stairs, greeted her with the college cheer.

After taking lunch in the faculty parlor the party returned to Boston and took the night train for Washington. The Princess will call on President Cleveland.

From the capital the party may go to Chicago to view the World's Fair buildings, thence back to Boston and again to New York, whence they will sail for England, where the young Princess will resume her studies.

Armour Company a Jersey Corporation.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Armour Packing company has been incorporated under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $7,500,000. The company proposes to do business in that State at Jersey City and Newark and throughout the United States and Europe with its principal offices in Jersey City.

Workman Shoots Himself.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—A mill workman named Richard Sloan shot and instantly killed himself last night in front of Thos. Curren's saloon on Second avenue. It is thought that he was temporarily insane from the use of liquor. He leaves a widow and four grown sons.

Voting Machine Makes Fast Time.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 8.—The Myers voting machine was used for the first time in this country at the election at Brighton precinct. The fastest time recorded was 28 votes in 19 minutes. The best individual time made was 13 seconds.

GONE TO THE PENITENTIARY.

The Homestead Poisoners Received at Riverside—Plans for Release.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—Hugh F. Dempsey, master workman D. A. No. 3, K. of L., and Robert Beatty began their terms of imprisonment at the penitentiary yesterday.

During the long ride from the jail to the penitentiary both prisoners preserved the same cool demeanor that has almost amounted to indifference since the proceedings in the Homestead poisoning cases began.

Dempsey conversed cheerfully with the deputies all the way down, and said that his hopes for release, except by pardon, had almost vanished.

The reception of the prisoners at Riverside was the same as that accorded to other prisoners.

Dempsey's attorneys will at once present an application for a writ of allocatur to the State Supreme Court. This, if granted, will allow the release of Dempsey on bail until October, when the appeal for a new trial will be heard at the Pittsburg session of the Supreme Court. If it is refused the attorneys for Dempsey will probably ask that the case be advanced so as to allow the argument to be heard at the Philadelphia session.

If the new trial is then refused the case will be brought to the notice of the Pardon Board at once.

BETTERS HARRIS' CHANCES.

Another Affidavit to Prove That Helen Potts Used Morphine.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Lawyers Howe & Hummel, counsel for Carlyle W. Harris, condemned to die for the murder by poison of his girl wife, Hellen Potts Harris, have made public an additional statement which they hope to use to back up their motion for a new trial.

A woman called at the lawyer's office late Monday night and said that Anna Waddell, a former schoolmate of Helen Potts, had important information to give. Miss Waddell was found at 32 West Ninety-seventh street, but she swore to the following affidavit:

"I am twenty-nine years of age, reside at 39 West Ninety-seventh street and am single. I knew Miss Helen Nelson Mary Potts well. We went to school together at Jackson Seminary, in the city of New York. Miss Potts was there with me one term, I think in 1889. My bedroom was next to hers. At one time, when Miss Potts was sick, I occupied the same bed with her for a few days.

"Miss Potts had during this time small glass bottles, containing what she told me were morphine pills. On one occasion I saw her take some. She gave me one, which I took, as Miss Potts told me that she often took them."

COL. STREATOR AGAIN.

Said to Have Struck an Officer at the Inauguration.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—The visit to Washington of Lieut. Col. Streator, of the 10th regiment, N. G. P., to take part in the inaugural parade is likely to lead him into as much trouble as he got into from stringing Private lams up by the thumbs during the trouble at Homestead last summer.

Col. Streator's regiment and the batallion of State Fencibles, of this city, were quartered in the same room in the Postoffice building.

Early Saturday some trouble arose between the men of the two companies, and a fight was imminent. Col. Streator and Copt. Brozer, of the Fencibles, appeared upon the scene, and it is alleged by the latter that Col. Streator struck him with his hand.

Capt. Brozer says that Col. Streator was drunk at the time, and he proposes to bring charges against him within the next 10 days before the military authorities of the State.

What his specific charge will be Capt. Brozer refused to say, but he states that its penalty is summary dismissal from the Guard, with loss of franchise.

A Mayor on the War Path.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—Mayor Gourley has transmitted a letter to the Council together with all the correspondence during the recent crusade on the social evil. The letter is probably the most vigorous that he has yet addressed to the Council. In it he accuses Chief J. O. Brown of the Department of Public Safety of protecting violaters of law, of violating the law himself, and asks the Council to remove him from office and instruct the City and District Attorneys to take proper action toward Chief Brown's indictment in the Criminal Court.

Result Announced in Fifty Minutes.

UTICA, N. Y., March 8.—The Meyers' voting machine was used in Oneida county for the first time yesterday at the town election in Whitestown. There was a total vote of 1,057 recorded by two machines in eleven and a half hours. The formal announcement of the result of the election was made in 50 minutes after the polls closed, although there were four tickets aggregating 66 names in the field.

No More Gambling in Oklahoma.

GUTHRIE, O. T., March 8.—The anti-gambling bill passed the Senate yesterday after fight which threatened to become riotous at one time. The bill was at once signed by the Governor. It makes any kind of gambling a felony and even prohibits progressive euchre parties where prizes are offered.

Cash Register Companies Consolidate.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 8.—The agent of the National Cash Register company, of Dayton, O., has received information that that company, the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, of Boston, and the Cash Register company, of New York, have consolidated. The National company is to control.

Another Columbus Portrait Found.

NAPLES, March 8.—The antiquarian Cannavina has purchased from Count Aldobrandi an alleged portrait of Christopher Columbus by Titian. This portrait was discovered on removing a rough portrait painted over the original. It will be sent to the Chicago World's Fair.

Big Gold Shipment.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The shipments of gold by to-day's steamer aggregate $2,300,000. In spite of tight money, arrangements are in progress to export $2,000,000 more by Saturday's steamer an $1,000,000 next Tuesday.

De Cobain Admitted to Bail.

LONDON, March 8.—E. S. W. De Cobain, formerly M. P. for East Belfast, has been committed for trial at the Assizes to answer the charge of unnatural conduct. De Cobain was admitted to bail.

TELL-TALE BRIGHT FACES

THE GREATEST STRENGTH GIVER IN ALL THE WORLD.

The Highest Praise Given to Paine's Celery Compound—As Much Superior to Patent Medicines as a Diamond is to Glass.

Bright faces of those who praise Paine's celery compound are more trustworthy than all the multitude of sensational "affidavits" that are foisted on a credulous public by the patent medicine dealers in March, April and May.

It is true that in the early spring a great majority of people need some honest remedy to purify the blood and to strengthen the nerves.

It is wonderful how many people are suffering from weakness and general debility. There are many who are tired all the time, who cannot sleep well, who have no ambition, who lack appetite and are troubled in other ways particularly at this season.

The nerves need food, the brain demands nourishment, the blood must be enriched, and the excretory organs must be stimulated; and in this common condition, which is often serious, it has again and again been said, "there is nothing so certainly good as Paine's celery compound."

It makes people well!

Paine's celery compound, it must be remembered, is not a patent medicine. It was first prescribed by that greatest of modern physicians, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth, and has been more generally used, and has achieved more cures of well-known men and women in all conditions of society than probably all other remedies put together.

It has the public endorsements of such well-known and disinterested men as Hon James MacShane, Mayor of Montreal, Dr. J. H. Hanaford, the eminent medical writer, Albert Hardy, assistant editor of Godey's Magazine, Commodore Howell, Principal L. L. Camp, the well-known educator, and the father of Walter Camp, who is known as an authority on athletics by every college man in the country, George Wright, whom every base ball player knows so well, recommends it. Such women as Jeanne Cambray, Mrs. Margaret Spence, Helen Ashland Kean, the famous ballad writer, and thousands of others have written letters of the highest praise for the remedy that made them well.

It is not strange that there is a larger demand for it than for any other remedy in the world.

Mrs. Stephen Osgood of Allston, Mass., Boston's handsome suburb, writing to the Wells & Richardson Co., says: "I have been poorly for years, not able to do any work, and my lack of appetite has been my greatest trouble, it having been more than five years since my food has tasted good and I have enjoyed it; I have also suffered from nervousness. Since taking Paine's celery compound I am not nearly as nervous as I was and I sleep much better. And I must say that it is the only medicine that I have ever taken that has given me an appetite. My greatest trouble has been poor appetite and no strength the least thing would tire me all over. Why, I feel quite hungry at meal time now and my husband will not let me be without the medicine.

"I consider it a most excellent remedy for the nervous, sleepless, and all who are run down, and write this to express my thanks for the great good it has done me.

Mr. H. H. Flemm, who is chief clerk of the freight office of the Penna. R. R. at Zanesville, O., writing to the Wells & Richardson Co., and enclosing his wife's portrait, in the course of a hearty letter, says: "I can say a good thing for Paine's celery compound; it proved a very valuable remedy for my wife, and will add that if you desire any references as to the truthfulness of what I have written, I will gladly furnish them to you."

There are many people who buy Paine's celery compound in large quantities because the last drop in the last bottle is as good as the first.

It can be had of any druggist.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-Morrow, With Fog.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Wallace V. Miller's new license application is advertised to-day.

—Hulett, the man of ideas, branches out in a new line of advertising to-day.

—The W. C. T. U. will hold a regular business meeting to-morrow afternoon at 3:30.

—The enterprising local manager of the Sherman Outfitting company is issuing a neat advertising novelty—a shamrock for St. Patrick's day.

—The Democratic primary at Scotch Plains to nominate candidates for the offices to be voted for next Tuesday, will be held on Friday, the 10th inst., at 8 p. m., at Paff's Hotel.

—The Salvation Army enlisted nine new recruits at the meeting Sunday evening, and the Captain and Lieutenant are well pleased with their efforts to do good and to save the fallen.

—A large force of men has been engaged to begin work Saturday morning at 7:30 setting the scenery for the production of "The Devil's Auction", at Music Hall, that evening.

—"Prince", the dog owned by the Central Hotel proprietors, got loose the other day and started on a rampage through the house. The first object the dog seized was a meerschaum pipe nicely colored, and in a case. After playing with the pipe for a time, he succeeded in demolishing it, and the owner is out.

—The longer the Netherwood station is open the louder the commuters and others on the south side of the track are in praise of its location there. In case tunneling under the tracks should become necessary there at any time, it will be easy to begin from the north side, where there is a slope into North avenue, and have steps descending a well at the other side.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. Bartley Cahill, of New York, is visiting her parents in this city.

Thomas Cahill, the well-known insurance agent, is recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

David Angerbauer of East Third street is well enough to be out again, after a week's illness with tonsilitis.

Fred Huff, formerly with Smalley Bros. the butchers, has gone to Pottsville, Pa., to visit his sister for a few weeks.

Miss Annie M. Angerbauer of East Third street has gone to spend a week with her brothers and sister in New York.

Andrew Love, sr., will in a few days begin the erection of a three-story brick building, situated at 19 East Front street.

Mrs. Creitzburg, of Philadelphia, a very dear friend of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barkalow, is visiting at their home, 58 Emily street.

Mrs. G. W. Squier and daughter, of 38 Harmony street, North Plainfield, are spending a few weeks with relatives in Philadelphia.

Choirmaster Miner will conduct an Old Folks' Concert in Vincent chapel, some time in April, for the benefit of the chapel new carpet fund.

George Bingham of New South Wales, and a relative of "Mac" Bingham of this city, is on his way to this country, and will make his residence here.

A tea party was given by Miss Mary McFadden, yesterday afternoon from 1 to 6, at her home, 63 West Fourth street. About twenty were present, and all enjoyed the event highly.

F. A. Dunham has received notice of his unanimous re-election to the office of city engineer of Sewickley, Pa. Considerable work is in progress, mainly brick paving and a complete system of sewerage.

The Idlewild club had a delightful dance at the home of Miss Roberta Fisher, Jackson avenue, last evening. The guests were from New York, Dunellen, Elizabeth, Bound Brook, Somerville and Plainfield.

In response to many requests, Dr. J. L. Hurlbut will give another course of "stereopticon sermons" in the Methodist Episcopal church. The subjects will be as follows: March 12, "A Composite Character"; March 19 and 26, "An Apostle of the Eighteenth Century"; April 2 (Easter Sunday), "The Empty Tomb".

Frank E. Miller, proprietor of Hotel Netherwood and The Albion, and for the past winter in charge of the Hotel Renaissance, Fifth avenue and Forty-third street, New York, has gone South as the guest of vice-president Thomas C. Purdy, of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. Mrs. Miller is also of the party, who are traveling in the vice-president's private car. The three weeks change of scene and absence from business cares and vexations, will undoubtedly thoroughly restore to Mr. Miller the good health he has sacrificed in a too ardent personal attention to the success and prosperity of those in whose service he was engaged.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. MAYOR GILBERT WELCOMED.

He Tells the Charities' Aid People About Plainfield Paupers, and Is Chosen Right Into Membership.

The meeting of the Union County Branch of the State Charities Aid Association of New Jersey held Monday evening in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church, was well attended and interesting. The president, the Hon. Foster M. Voorhees, of Elizabeth, was obliged to attend a meeting in Linden to oppose the race-track legislation, but the Rev. Dr. McAllister made a very acceptable chairman.

A vacancy in the executive committee was filled by the unanimous election of Anthony Comstock, whose home is in Summit.

The committee on jails and alms-houses reported that the new warden of the Elizabeth jail seemed capable, and willing to co-operate with the committee in their efforts to elevate the prisoners. He had agreed to put up some book-shelves which had been purchased by the association, and donations of books suitable for the prisoners to read were solicited.

The committee on exhibit at the World's fair reported that the State association had arranged to send a handsomely bound volume of the society's annual reports.

Mayor Gilbert being asked by the chairman whether any improvement had been made in the condition of the Plainfield poor, said that the conditions were at present the same as ever in Battle Row, but that it had come to be regarded as a nuisance by the alms committee, the common council and citizens, and was likely to be soon done away with. Better accomodations would probably be provided for the paupers within a few months.

Mrs. Williamson, of Elizabeth, the general secretary, gave a short account of the work of the State association, saying that its chief attention had of late been devoted to bringing about measures to prevent the keeping of children and insane persons in alms-houses. She spoke of the wise provisions of the parole-bill introduced by the association, by which prisoners were released before their term of sentence had expired, upon their promise of good behovior, to be re-imprisoned if this promise should be broken. She told also of the special work of Union County Branch, and made an earnest appeal that some of the visitors present would become members. The Rev. Mr. Nourse and the Rev. Hobart Clark spoke on the same subject. Mayor and Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. H. B. Newhall were elected members by acclamation, and at the close of the meeting Isaac Miller and George H. Goddard gave their names to the secretary. The next meeting of the association will be held in Elizabeth, May 1.

A LINEMAN'S TERRIBLE FALL.

John Ferguson Dying at Muhlenberg of Frightful Injuries.

Lineman John Ferguson fell from the top of a 35-foot electric light pole on Somerset street at 5:30 last evening, and was frightfully injured. His back was broken, and his skull terribly fractured. When picked up crushed and bleeding from the stone pavement he was still conscious, and moaned "Oh, my back! My back!" He was was taken into Mattison's drug store, which was near at hand, and where Drs. Mattison, Carman and Berg attended him. Thence he was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital. He suffered terribly during the night, but was unconscious the greater part of to-day. He cannot recover.

There is dispute as to whether the fall was caused by electric shock. It is certain that the North Plainfield current was turned on at about the time he fell, and it may be that the wire that he was baring to connect with J. J. Stahl's store was "live" and caused him to move suddenly and lose his balance. The electric people say in defense that he was a notoriously careless worker, and probably was not touched by the current.

Ferguson was formerly employed by the telephone company, and also had charge of some of the electric railway construction.

—A tea will be given to-morrow from 5 to 9 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Wm. A. Woodruff, 45 East Second street. The members and friends of Trinity Reformed church are invited.

—The horses of Will Debele, milkman, fell early yesterday morning on Somerset street near the bridge, and broke the tongue of the sleigh. Mr. Debele awakened P. M. French and procured another sleigh to finish his route.

—Work on Hotel Netherwood in preparation for the coming season, began to-day. One of the improvements to be accomplished is new plumbing from cellar to roof, with all the latest styles of bath tubs and other toilet appurtenances.

Salvation Oil gives perfect satisfaction for horses with cracked heels. C. W. Lee, 414 W. Balto. st., Baltimore, Md.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

THE SABBATH QUESTION AGAIN.

How It Has Cropped Out in the Matter of Gunning and Fishing.

The bill introduced by Senator Drake in reference to the game laws of the State, merits a great deal of favor. It is a clear and comprehensive statement of the laws on that subject which are more or less contradictory and confused. There is one proviso in the bill that is open to criticism. The proviso in question reads as follows:

"That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to hunt with a gun, or with a dog and gun, with any fire-arms or weapons, or to fish with hook and line, or in any manner whatsoever on the Sabbath day (commonly called Sunday), except those who observe the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath, hunting upon their own property, under a penalty of twenty dollars for each and every offence."

This part of the bill is bad for two reasons. First place it opens the door to the desecration of the Christian Sabbath. In the second place anybody who wishes to evade the law, by shooting on Sunday, could tell the officials intrusted with its enforcement that he observed Saturday as his Sabbath. There are still other persons who would claim that the law ought to be extended so as to apply to those who observe Friday as the Sabbath instead of Saturday or Sunday. The reason the law protects the observance of Sunday, is due to the fact that the overwhelming majority of people of this country wish that day observed. The law does not require that any one shall be devout on one day of the week, but merely requires that the great mass of people who wise to observe Sunday as a day of rest shall not be disturbed. The provisions of the bill in question would seem to imply that if you will consent to be pious one day of the week you can have your opinion in respect to observing Sunday. The spirit of legislation has been quite the contrary up to the present time. The law practically says that you can be as impious as you please all seven days of the week only you must not interfere with those who wish one day set apart for religious service.

If persons who observe Saturday as the Sabbath have the privilege, for example, of having a pigeon shoot on Sunday within a stone throw of some church where religious services are being conducted, it would somewhat mar the ceremony. Of course it would be pleasant to know that the parties enjoying the sport had attended religious services on Saturday. We would respectfully call the attention of our Legislature to the objectional proviso which probably has crept into an otherwise excellent bill through inadvertance.

Hope Chapelites Interested.

The seating capacity of Hope chapel was well occupied Monday evening, when it was learned that Jerry Johnson would speak. The meeting began with the singing of a few spirited hymns, after which Mr. Hoople consented to sing a solo, "Give me thy heart", which he sang very sweetly, and with ease and ability. Then Mr. Hoople was called out again, to say a few words. His text he took from Eph. II:1. This he dwelt on for a few minutes, showing many illustrations how a man should lead a Christian life. After this Jerry Johnson responded and kept the people interested. Jerry is a capital speaker, and he told some very fine instances of the benefits of a Christian life. He told the audience of some of his work in Philadelphia, how he and his followers go to some of the worst dives and there rescue the perishing. Mr. Johnson closed with a song entitled "By and By". Then ten minutes were given for a few testimonials, a goodly number responding.

A Horsewhipping Affair.

A young man named Moon drove to North Plainfield from the outskirts, last Saturday night, and tied his horse under the shed in the rear of a drinking place. While he was inside, three well-known North Plainfielders took the horse and sleigh and spent an hour or so sleighriding. When they got back, the owner met them near the place and vigorously applied a horsewhip. The horse once tied, an effort was made to have the three men arrested by special marshal Taynor. This was not done, as the matter was only intended as a joke. Inside the saloon, when the jokers went in to laugh it off, there was a racket and one or two knockdowns, and a general fracas ended the affair.

Mellick—TenEyck.

A very pretty wedding took place at Metuchen Saturday night, when Miss Bessie K. Mellick was married to Richard TenEyck. After the ceremony, the happy couple returned to the bride's home, where they and their friends partook of a bountiful supper. The young couple received many handsome and useful gifts. There were many friends from this city; Metuchen and Newark present. The bride and groom have the best wishes of their many friends in their venture.

Used up. It's the only way to use some things, but it's a bad condition for a man or woman. It means disease. Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That means health. It invigorates the liver and kidneys, purifies the blood and cleanses and renews the whole system. For all scrofulous humors and blood-taints, and even consumption (or lung-scrofula), if taken in time, it's a positive remedy. It's a guaranteed one. In all diseases of the liver, blood and lungs, it's warranted to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. No other medicine of its class is sold, through druggists, on this peculiar plan. You can judge why. You only pay for the good you get.

In other words, it's sold on trial.

No other medicine of its kind is.

And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."

The dealer is thinking of his profit, not of yours, when he urges something else.

Judge for yourself which is likely to be the better medicine.

THE BOARD SPEAKS!

AN EFFORT TO JUSTIFY ITS WADSWORTH PURCHASE.

President Babcock Writes a Letter Which His Fellow-Members Agree to—The Method of the Affair Not So Flagrant as Was the City's Purchase of the New Engine-house Site—No Deception Practised by Mr. Finch—A Slur on the Respectability of the Neighborhood, and a Slap at the Council.

[Publication of the following is authorized by the board of education.]

A few weeks ago, in the performance of the duties devolved upon it by the laws of the State, and the trust conferred upon it by the citizens of Plainfield, the board of education purchased a piece of property looking to a further increase in the school accomodations of the city, rendered necessary by the enlarged attendance. This act of the board has been made the occasion of much criticism in certain quarters, and also, professedly because of this purchase, the mayor and common council have taken it upon them to attempt a change in the laws of the State, taking away certain powers and trusts granted by law and the citizens to the board of education in order that the same might be transferred to them. In view of these facts, and also because of misrepresentations arising from ignorance, which have been made regarding the powers of the board and of the necessities of the case, the members of the board have thought best to make the following statement to the public, that the people may judge as to the propriety of the actions of the board, and also of that of the city authorities.

1.—AS TO THE NEED OF ANOTHER SCHOOL HOUSE.

Notwithstanding the recent enlargement of the Bryant school and the cutting off of two extra class rooms from the Assembly hall in the Stillman building the present season, there is not now a single vacant class room in the city, except in the Irving building, while many of the rooms are overcrowded already. The Irving school was built three years ago in a rapidly growing section of the city, with provision for the supposed necessities of five years growth. The wisdom of this is now evident, as it bids fair to be crowded by the time the five years are up. Two additional class rooms were occupied in that building at the beginning of this school year. But the now vacant rooms in that building are not available to relieve, even temporarily, the overcrowding in the other buildings because of its distance. Scholars can not be sent two miles from their homes.

Another year will see the demand for more room greatly increased—for instance, the second grammar class in the Franklin school, which now is crowded into two rooms, will next year number 140 pupils, and can not be accommodated with less than three rooms. It is true that there are vacant desks in some of the rooms, but these can not be utilized by scholars in other classes, nor can other pupils be transferred to these classes without doing violence to the system of grading, and injury to the pupils themselves; and extra seats are always necessary to provide for changes in grades as they occur. In the High school the classes are necessarily smaller, and for this reason there is room for the admission of pupils from outside the city limits, by means of which a large part of the expense of maintaining the High school is provided for without taxation.

By reason of the above facts it is patent to the board that another building must be provided at as early a day as practicable.

2—SHALL IT BE A HIGH SCHOOL?

The needed building might be either a primary, a grammar or high school, and by relieving the present buildings, supply practically to the same extent, the demand. The cost of the building would also be about the same whichever grade it was built for, and it therefore became a question for the board to settle, which would be of the most benefit to the schools and the city. In the matured opinion of the board, and of both the former and the present superintendents, it was thought better to give up the rooms in the Stillman building now used for the High school, to the grammar grades, for which they are better adapted, thus massing the grammar classes mainly in the Stillman and Franklin buildings, and devote the new building to the High school, where its needs could be better provided for.

The board is aware that there long has been, and to a less extent now exists an idea that the public funds should not be used to furnish a higher education than could be obtained in what was known as the "common schools", but the majority of our citizens realize that the exalted reputation of the Plainfield High school, known far and near as one of the best in the land, has done very much to render Plainfield a desirable place of residence, and so has doubtless added far more than its cost to the taxable valuation of the city. In addition to this is the fact that this same reputation has drawn so many scholars here from other places to share its benefits, that the tuition received from them is sufficient to pay all the extra expense necessary to maintain this High school at its level; that is to say that if our High school was degraded to the level of those of many other cities and boroughs, the saving would not be as much as the loss of tuition. The amount of tuition for the present year will be about $2,500, the most of which comes from High school pupils.

3—THE SELECTION OF THE SITE.

Having this end in view, the board have for some time been looking for a suitable site for such a High school building. It was desirable that it should be centrally located, not too near, and yet not far from the grammar schools, for the sake of easy supervision, in a healthy and respectable part of the town, away from the distraction of business and the noise of the railroad. Several sites were considered but when the Wadsworth property was found to be obtainable at a very reasonable figure, the board unanimously decided that it was the most desirable for the purpose, and it was therefore purchased.

4—THE OBJECTIONS RAISED.

Immediately the purchase was made there arose a curiously mingled hue and cry against the board and its individual members, and against this particular purchase. The first are passed unnoticed. The objections to the site seem to have been two-fold—its cost and its location. As to its cost, which was said to be extravagant, etc., no one seems to have given the board credit for ordinary business sagacity. It was assumed that the present buildings on the property would be torn down and the entire plot used for the school. While in the opinion of many of the friends of the schools that, even, would have been wise, the board planned to move the dwelling on to one edge of the lot, and after the sale of that have left a large lot for the school, at a very low figure. In the opinion of many good judges so desirable a lot for so little money could not have been purchased elsewhere in the city.

The objection to the locality has mainly arisen from a few of the property-holders in the vicinity, under the impression that property near a public school would depreciate. As the proposed school will be a high school, to be open only from four to five hours a day, and attended by young gentlemen and young ladies only, who behave themselves as such, with no outbuildings or play-grounds, it is difficult to see how it could prove itself a nuisance to any neighborhood. In fact, others of the neighbors have expressed their preference for such a school-house over the numerous small houses and stables which in the greater probability would have been built on the property had it fallen into other hands. The former owner parted with the property at a sacrifice because the house was not good enough to warrant keeping up so large and expensive grounds, and the locality was not good enough to warrant the erection of another dwelling house in keeping with the grounds. All the conditions seemed to point to this particular site as the best possible for the purpose the board had in view.

In regard to the criticisms on the method of purchasing the property through an individual member of the board, it is sufficient to call attention to the fact that the common council employed precisely the same method in the recent purchase of a site for an engine house, only that in that case an agent was permitted to earn a commission, which in the case of the board was saved to the city. The board made even less effort to keep the real purchaser in the background; it bought through its secretary, the council through an agent. In the negotiations no misrepresentations were made by the secretary of the board.

5—THE POWERS OF THE BOARD.

The powers of the board of education have been strangely misrepresented. In common with most boards elected by the people and entrusted with specific duties and responsibilities, the Plainfield board of education is given sufficient power to carry out its trusts, and no more. The same as many other boards of education, trustees of public libraries, etc., it is given the power to determine within a given limit the amount of money necessary to be raised for the use of the particular interest in its charge, the city authorities are charged with the duty of assessing and collecting the same, and when collected the board has the exclusive right to dispense it. In the case of this board the citizens at an election held for that purpose Dec. 7, 1887, by a two-thirds majority vote fixed the amount to be raised annually for the running expenses of the schools at fifty cents on one hundred dollars of taxable valuation. In addition to this the people and the State law empower the board to build school houses from time to time as it may become necessary, but not more than one in any year; and for this purpose the board is authorized to raise money by mortgaging the school property in its possession. The board has no power to issue bonds. The only bonds which have been issued for school purposes in Plainfield were voted directly by the people, of which bonds there are now outstanding only $2,500. The board of education can put no lien on a dollar's worth of taxable property, nor can it ask the city to raise by taxation more than one thousand dollars in any year in payment of the indebtedness of any school building. It will be seen how quickly it must reach a limit to the amount of money it can spend for school houses—because as soon as the property in its possession is mortgaged as highly as it will stand, no more can be borrowed, but the board must await the slow process of paying off the indebtedness at the rate of $1,000 each year on each mortgaged school, until enough is paid off to permit of borrowing again for building another.

This is a very different thing from the statement of his honor the mayor to the common council, that:—"This law as seemingly interpreted by the board gives to it the power to expend for the current expenses of the public school system each year an amount not to exceed one half of one per cent. of the taxable valuation, and in addition such further sum as the board may consider necessary for the purchase of lands and erection of buildings for school purposes. This amount the board is authorized to have added to the tax levy and assessed against the taxpayers without regard to public opinion on the subject." It need not be said that had his honor interviewed the board before writing the above, he would have found that not only such was not the interpretation which the board put upon the law, but that the law is incapable of such an interpretation.

6—HOW HAS THE BOARD EXECUTED ITS TRUST?

But once in its history namely in 1888, has the board called for the whole of the one-half of one per cent which the people have voted to put within its power. On the contrary, every effort has been made to keep the expenditures as low as possible consistent with maintaining the quality of the schools where public opinion requires it to be. Last year the school tax was reduced below that of the previous year, notwithstanding an increase in the number of teachers; and it is a notable fact that this was the only item of the tax levy which was reduced, notwithstanding the common council was elected with the express purpose of correcting the extravagant expenditures of the previous "combine".

It had been claimed that the cost of the schools is too high in comparison with others, and very unfair parallels have been drawn between Plainfield and some other places where very little money is spent, and the quality of the schools is in proportion to their cost. The last State report published is for 1891, and its statistics are somewhat out of date, though it is from them that all such comparisons have been drawn. It shows that the cost per head of average attendance in all the cities of the State—ranging from $13 04 in Phillipsburg to $50.56 in Bloomfield—averaged $20.83, while Plainfield was $25.12, Bordentown was $31.18, Camden $28.90, and Montclair $30.79. Thus it will be seen that in Plainfield's very superior schools the cost is less than half that of the highest, and only twenty per cent. above the average.

In the matter of school houses also the action of the board will stand the closest scrutiny. Even its bitterest accusers have not had the hardihood to impugn its acts in this respect. A witness taken to Trenton to testify in favor of the mayor's bill could only say that the board had built the best of school houses and with the utmost economy. The deputy State superintendent of public instruction has stated that no city in the State has finer school houses or more economically built. Even the mayor has expressed himself as fully satisfied with the board in this respect, though, for an unexplained reason, he has influenced the common council to pass a resolution without discussion, and sought to rush through the legislature a law to prevent the board doing anything more in this line, which law was "to take effect immediately".

7.—WHAT WOULD BE THE GAIN BY THE PROPOSED LAW?

The plan of the mayor to transfer to the common council the trust which the people have confided in the board of education, would 1st. Make a divided responsibility, wherein neither party could be held accountable to public opinion. 2d. It would place the question of when, where and how a school house should be built in the hands of a body generally selected by ward "bosses", elected by political pull, swayed by political reasons, and frequently managed by political rings, unfamiliar with the needs of the schools, and untrained in their care, rather than in a body selected by the people at large because of their adaptability to the specific purpose, familiar with and actuated only by the needs of the schools, and thus far in the history of the city, divorced from politics. Would that be a gain? And why?

The proposed law is entitled "a law to limit the expenditures for schools". Would it limit them? As stated above, the board is closely limited in the amount that it can spend, and has no power to place a lien on any taxable property. The common council, however, by a law passed March 31, 1882, has the power, without asking leave of the people, to issue bonds for the purchase of lands and the erection of school houses to an extent not exceeding ten per cent. of the assessed valuation of the city, which bonds will be a lien on every dollar of taxable property in the city. This means for Plainfield a limit of $650,000 of school bonds, if the mayor's bill becomes a law! And as the same law also provides for the taxation of one-third of this amount in one year, under the mayor's little innocent bill, the taxpayers might be called upon to pay on bonds and interest the snug sum of $256,000 in one year's taxes, instead of a possible $11,000 to $12,000 at the utmost under the present conditions. That might be a gain to some councils, but hardly to the tax-payer.

The people of Plainfield are respectfully requested to consider the above facts before deciding that there should be an upheaval of the foundations of their public school system, which has so long been the pride of the city. Plainfield has always led the State in educational matters. The first common school in New Jersey was in Plainfield, and all the legislation in the State for public instruction has been based upon what has been done in this city. To-day, as in the past, no school system in the State surpasses, if it equals this; no more competent, devoted and enthusiastic corps of teachers can be found in the United States than we have in Plainfield; the work of the schools is equal to any, and in the recent examinations in Yale the students of our High school outranked those from the most famous academies of the land. All this has been largely the result of the system under which the board of education is elected and empowered. The change which has been proposed would be seriously for the worse. Are the citizens of Plainfield ready and willing to see their fairest structure undermined?

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by T. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

We often hear people say there is only one good cough medicine and that is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the only infallible remedy.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Atty., Washington, D. C.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

QUEEN KEPT OUT OF THE PALACE

A Hawaiian Editor Arrested for Contempt of the Legislative Council—Minister Stevens Says He Has Assurances that the United States Will be Upheld—Our Vessels in the Harbor.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Another case has come to light in which Dr. Ellis Landau, who was recently arrested and discharged on the charge of performing an alleged operation on Miss Cresswell, of Altoona, Pa., who died in Bellevue Hospital about one month ago, is alleged to be implicated.

Through evidence furnished by the Medical society, Justice Ryan held the doctress yesterday in default of $1,000 bail for alleged practicing without a license and the woman is now in the Tombs awaiting trial.

Left in the house of the doctor was a girl 22 years of age, who was sick in bed, suffering from an operation. She is Ida Black, the daughter of John and Mary Black, said to be of Middletown, N. Y. She had been in the city a short time, and had come to the house of the doctor for treatment.

The only other occupant of the house was a young servant girl, who became alarmed when she heard that her mistress was in the Tombs, and would not return.

Knowing that the young patient was bad and thinking she would die in the house without medical treatment, the young servant girl hastily dressed herself and went to Bellevue hospital, where she told the hospital authorities there was a young girl sick in the house.

An ambulance was at once sent to the house, and the young girl was taken to the hospital.

As she was found to be suffering from the effects of an operation she was arrested and placed in the female prison ward.

Dr. Washburn, of Bellevue hospital, after examining the girl, decided that another operation was necessary to save her life. It was performed late last night by the doctor and his assistants.

Dr. Washburn, when seen immediately after the operation, stated that the girl was doing well.

"She had an operation performed upon her," he said, "but of course beyond that I know nothing. I think she will be strong enough to leave the hospital in a week."

Miss Black is described as a tall brunette, with a pretty face and a good figure. She has large features and is a powerfully built woman. It is said she has made no statement incriminating any one. When she entered the hospital she said that she had no occupation and was an orphan.

The police made an investigation in Mrs. Landau's house and found there her 10-year-old daughter and a month-old baby. The daughter was given in charge of the Gerry society and the baby was taken to police headquarters.

An Accident on the Chicago Spectatorium Building Results Fatally.

CHICAGO, March 8.—One man lost his life, and three others were injured, two fatally, by the breaking of the mudsson pin on the traveler of a derrick at the Mackaye Spectatorium yesterday.

William Sabkler, a bridge builder, was killed instantly. Michael Brennan, Wm. Lemoyze and John Kramer were badly mangled. Lemoyne and Kramer cannot survive.

The derrick is situated 150 feet above the foundation.

The building is owned by the Columbian Celebration company.

Did Not Cost the State a Cent.

HARRISBURG, March 8.—The recent trip of the National Guard of the State of Pennsylvania to Washington cost the State not one cent. Gov. Pattison said that the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroad companies furnished the transportation of the entire division of 7,400 men free, quarters were given the men in the War and Navy Departments by the United States Government and they supplied themselves with food.

Alexander Bell's Patent Expires.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The original patent obtained by Alexander Graham Bell on March 7, 1876, covering the only practical method of telephoning which has been invented, ended yesterday. This patent has been one of the best known and most important ever granted by the Government. This will have no effect upon the American Bell Telephone company, at least for the present.

A Rigorous Censorship to be Organized.

MADRID, March 9.—In the Parliamentary elections the advanced Republicans secured only 27 seats in Spain and two in Cuba. It is estimated that the government party in the Cortes will number 306 and the opposition 131. The government has ordered that a rigorous censorship be exercised over all telegrams, domestic and foreign, tending to foment Republican agitation.

Bitten by a Mad Cat.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Rose Celsser, 8 years old, and her 5-year-old brother John while playing in their home were attacked by a cat that seemed to have suddenly gone mad. Rose was bitten in four places on her legs and John was bitten once. An ambulance surgeon was summoned from Bellevue Hospital and he cauterized the children's wounds. The cat escaped.

Refuse Him a License.

JAMAICA, L. I., March 8.—Harry Hill of New York dance hall fame has made application to the Jamaica Excise Board for a license for a hotel at Ozone Park. The application is opposed by the Rev. Mr. Cutter of the Woodhaven church. The board deferred action upon the application until the first Monday in May, when there will be a new board.

Another Vanderbilt Road.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The New York & Northern railroad has been sold to the Vanderbilts. J. Pierpont Morgan admits the transaction. It is probable that the formalities of the sale will be completed this week, and the road will be at once turned over to the Vanderbilts.

Reversed the Result.

The Society Girl Has Changed the Current of Her Thought.

What the Lenten Days Allow and What They Forbid—The Delightful Opportunities Afforded by the Afternoon Tea—New Spring Goods.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

Lent came upon us this year before we realized it. We had just gotten well into a fascinating, bewitching round of gayety when somebody called a halt, and we were obliged to stop with such a sudden jerk that it has made us feel uncomfortable ever since. We are usually given an opportunity to gradually accustom ourselves to the change, but everything is about two weeks ahead this season, and we accordingly forgot all about the fact that the sober, quiet days for meditation were right upon us.

But we Americans are so very adaptable that it has taken us precisely three days to get over our surprise, and to send our thoughts in quite a different direction, and now the girls have stopped talking about the possibilities of the hoopskirt, and are giving all their attention instead to the cutting of aprons and dresses and petticoats for the poor. You would never guess, could you see them gathered around the table piled high with coarse stuffs, that they had not touched such things for months. They are just as particular about the cut and the seams and the neat stitch as if they had no other interest in the world, and they will accomplish a wonderful amount in these seven busy weeks.

But it isn't the only thing they do. There is a loophole, not a very small one, either, by which they can edge in considerable gayety in a very harmless manner. The afternoon tea is such a very inoffensive means of entertainment that it has not been placed beneath the ban, and you may go to a tea every day without provoking adverse criticism. Here you may retire into a secluded corner, if there happens to be one, and converse more confidentially in the fading afternoon light with your most particular male friend than in the crowded ballroom. And if the tea be given in your own home, or if you be one of the favored few selected to assist your hostess in pouring tea, you may even, with perfect propriety, wear a pretty home gown, cut rather low, with elbow sleeves. Then you will get such opportunity to display all your sweet graces as has been afforded you at no swagger evening affair of the winter past. Therefore, take heart, my pretty maid, and make the most of your opportunities.

Would you look particularly fascinating at one of these affairs, so different now from the tea that once was, with tiny cup and plain cakes? Then find out, if you can, just what sort of a one your hostess will give. If it is to be a color tea, discover the tint and gown accordingly.

Do not match the shade unless you pour tea, but dress in such color as will blend or effectively contrast with your surroundings. For instance, does the tea assume a pale, old rose tint? Then wear a dull blue. Is it gold? Get out your purple costume, is it delicate green? Wear darker greens or soft browns. I have in mind a very beautiful costume in old blue bengaline, velvet and lace that would be charming for such an occasion. The skirt is blue bengaline, with a single tiny ruffle at the foot. Above the ruffle is a row of small velvet puffs, put on stiff and straight, with no joining. The bodice has a pretty white mousseline de soie front, full, narrow and pointed in at the waist line. At each shoulder there is a small plaited semi-collarette of blue velvet, a few shades darker than the silk, lying only on the shoulders, and then sloping down the front in narrow pieces to edge the full front. Then the velvet shoulder plaits are edged with rare old lace, that falls over the big sleeve proper, and that also edges, but more narrowly, the velvet down the front. The lace finishes at the waist in a pretty little knot.

Another gown for calling, a trifle more sedate in cut, though not in combination of color, is made of dark rich green. The skirt has nothing but four or five folds of the material at the edge, and all thought is bestowed upon the bodice. Here there is a lavishness of color that can scarcely be reconciled with the unassuming skirt. Commencing in front, we find a small, full gauze front of very pale gold shade. It is edged by gallon, embroidered in pearls of all the pretty light shades. Next comes a second vest, full, of green gauze, necessarily divided by the center one and coming down below it in the center. This is also edged by the pearl trimming. Then the bodice, of miroir velvet, takes up its part, and continues on around the back. The sleeves start with big puffs, it is quite needless to remark, and end with cuffs that are alternate velvet and pearl stripes. Finally there's a beautifully-embroidered belt added.

A lovely old lady, with hair of true silver, gives a tea next week and wears the following: Silver gray crepon, exact shade of hair, with white crepe front from neck to feet. At the neck it is smocked to form a pointed yoke and then falls plain, with a tiny embroidered edge at the feet. A silver girdle clasps the looseness of the gown and deep lace ruffles fall over the delicate hands of the old lady, who has the fairest, freshest complexion in the world.

If we're are not wealthy enough to order a complete change of garments for the Lenten season, at least we can remodel the ones we have to some extent. We can take that very startling red or green wing from our hat and substitute a quiet bow or flower. We can replace the brilliant lining in our cape or coat by black, or some dark shade that will go with it. We can substitute some modest-colored glove for our glowing red one, and by these methods convert ourselves into very demure, unassuming damsels.

If you really intend to get a new costume for Lent, however, select one of the pretty new camel's hair or soft cloth materials, which are out in numerous light shades of dull blue, fawn and browns. They have such an attractive look after the repe, miroir, et al., that we have been wearing all winter. The new black grenadines are particularly inviting, and make such pretty gowns for quiet, social evenings, made over plain, light colors. These grenadines are not like the ones of old. They are found with fine, corded stripes running through them, and with other stripes besprinkled with fine jet beads. Then one pattern has a moire stripe, a grenadine stripe, and, finally, a corded stripe. Others have a satin stripe, and still others have flower patterns outlined over them, in eastern designs, palm leaves and scroll patterns. These materials hang beautifully and wear well, which fact makes them especially desirable. Some of the spring goods shade, just like the velvets do. One pretty one starts with a very faint blue and deepens into a dark, dull shade.

I saw a woman this week that wore such a sensible shopping costume that I couldn't help admiring it. She seemed to be sensible all around, and to purchase what she wanted in a quiet, business-like way, for even the gentleman that accompanied her didn't look a trifle bored, but seemed quite content to follow her from counter to counter and from shop to shop. She wore a plain, dark-brown skirt of cheviot, of new cut, with but slight flare, and a perfectly plain tight-fitting sealskin bodice. The bodice stopped exactly at the waist line, fitting so closely that she needed no belt. It was simply turned in, with no addition whatsoever. Then a plaited collarette, particularly short at the shoulders, but coming straight down to the waist, both back and front, in a broad point, finished the costume. Her hat was dark brown velvet, with velvet loops and a few graceful wings at one side. There wasn't another woman near her so simply dressed, and not another one, either, so admirably suited to the busy surroundings as she.

Man and a Flea Compared.

Burton tells us in "Anatomy of Melancholy," part 3, section 3, that "comparisons are odious," and when it comes to comparing a man to a flea it is not to be denied that he told the truth. In this case, however, it is the flea that should sue for libel, for the comparison is one of strength, and after it has been made "there will be none found to take the side of the man." Years ago some one incidentally remarked that a man, were his muscles and limbs as well set for jumping and springing as those of a flea, could stand on the dome of the capitol at Washington and make one season that would send him three and a half times around the earth. Late entomological experiments have given us opinions equally as curious concerning the strength of this obnoxious little Hercules. To be brief and to the point: It has been proven that a flea can carry a weight 888 times greater than that of his own body. At this rate a man of the average weight of 154 pounds could shoulder a "mogul" locomotive of 60 tons and run across the country from New York to San Francisco in less than an hour and a half.

How Dresses Disseminate Bacilli.

Prof. E. G. Dixon, the English scientist, has been experimenting upon the manner in which the germs of tuberculosis are spread abroad by ladies' dresses. He had a dress dragged over the ground two or three times, and on a glass slide was able to show no fewer than seven tubercle bacilli, obtained, of course, from the dust and dirt swept up by the dress. The practical lesson taught by this fact seems to be that of showing how, when trailing skirts are brushed in our homes, the germs of disease or their spores get dissipated in the air, and thus placed in a position to infect those who are well. This is another and powerful argument against trailing skirts.

THE KANSAS CONTEST.

Something About the Man Elected by Democrats and Populists.

No senatorial contest for some time past has attracted such wide attention as the great battle in Kansas which resulted in the selection of Hon. John Martin, the favorite of the combined democrats and populists. The contest even surpassed in interest the case of Edward Murphy, Jr., in New York, where President-elect Cleveland openly but in vain opposed the election of Murphy.

The battle in Kansas, however, was to decide whether the democrats or republicans were to control the United States senate, and although Martin was declared elected by the fusionists the republican state senators of Kansas and the separate house organized by the republicans will probably send a republican United States senator—J. W. Ady—to Washington to contest the seat of Martin, who was elected by the votes of 77 populists and democrats holding regular certificates of election from the state board and 9 fusionists arbitrarily seated by the populists in the house.

Martin is a native of Tennessee. He made his debut in life's arena sixty years ago, studied law in Lebanon, Tenn., and 1855 accompanied Rush Elmore, United States district judge, to Kansas, where he has since resided, most of the time at Topeka. He was clerk of the territorial legislature which met in Shawnee county in 1857, assistant United States attorney in 1858, reporter of the supreme court in 1860, member of the legislature in 1878 and judge of the district court of Shawnee county in 1883.

At Washington, Senator Gorman, of Maryland, declares that the election of Judge Martin gives the democrats control of the senate, even if the republicans should carry all the other states in which contests are pending. At present there are 39 democrats in the senate. New York, California and Wisconsin, having elected democrats, increase the number to 43. It is said Senator Kyle will surely vote with the democrats to organize the senate, which will give them a total of 44. Vice President Stevenson will have the casting vote, even if Wyoming, Montana and Nebraska should return republican senators. But Senator Gorman does not concede all of these states to the republicans.

Ready to Compromise.

"Your case," said the police magistrate, "perplexes me. You are an old offender. You have been brought before this court dozens of times for being drunk and disorderly, and it doesn't seem to do any good either to fine you or send you to the workhouse. Yet you don't seem to be a bad man at heart."

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1893. PRICE TWO CENTS

A Card to the Public.

By an arrangement this day perfected with the Manufacturers' Book Co., of Philadelphia, the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association have secured for Plainfield and vicinity the exclusive continuous control of the premiums and punch card system of these leaders in the cash premium business. Now that it is certain that the World's Fair will continue throughout 1894, by beginning now a large per cent. of our customers will be practically sure of getting a FREE TICKET to the Fair, in addition to the regular premium of a magnificent volume of some standard author which accompanies every $30 worth of goods purchased from us. The importance of this extraordinary opportunity is obvious.

CRESCENT CLUB FIGHT

Shortness of the Battle a Big Surprise to All.

FITZ ELATED OVER HIS VICTORY.

Both Men Entered the Ring Full of Confidence—For Three Rounds Splendid, Active, Scientific Fighting Was Done, With Hall Some in the Lead—The Lucky Right Hander of Fitz in the Fourth Settled the Englishman.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—The arrangements at the ringside for the Hall-Fitzsimmons fight were perfect. There was room for 13,225 people, and there was no need to squeeze.

The lights were numerous in quantity and exceptional in quality. The crowd was representative in character and thoroughly cosmopolitan.

The betting before the men entered the ring was 9 to 10 on Hall and 95 to 100 on Fitzsimmons.

The men chosen to look after Hall's interests were Lightweight Champion Jack McAuliffe, Charlie Mitchell and Squire Abingdon, John Kline holding the watch. Fitzsimmons had men with less reputations but not less faithful—Billy Fitzsimmons, his brother; Martin Julian and Frank Bosworth, D. F. O'Mally being timekeeper.

The men entered the ring promptly at 9 o'clock, Hall leading the procession. Referee Duffy took his position almost immediately.

Hall was loudly cheered upon entering the ring. Fitz came in waving the American flag, and he received a tremendous ovation.

President Neal and Chairman of the Contest Committee Joseph Sport joined the men in the ring, while Capt. Barrett took charge of the police arrangements. Referee Duffy made a speech, in which he asked the crowd to preserve order.

The men then advanced to the centre of the ring, followed by the seconds, where Referee Duffy cautioned them about fouls and the usual club rules. Capt. Barrett weighed the gloves, and, finding them of lawful weight, handed them over to Martin Julian, who took them to Hall for his choice, and Mitchell selected his principal's gloves.

Referee Duffy announced that the pivot blow was barred and the men stripped for action.

Time was called, and the great battle was on.

Round 1—Both men stepped nimbly to the centre, and feinted for opening. Fitz attempted a left uppercut in stomach, but Hall backed away. He tried again for the head, and, falling, clinched. Hall led for stomach, but received a tap on the shoulder. Fitz scored a heavy left on Hall's mouth and a right on the mouth without a return. The audience yelled. Hall made a wild left swing, and Fitz smilingly got away. Fitz landed a heavy left on the stomach and dodged a return from the same hand. Hall landed a heavy right on the ear, and Fitz clinched, Hall hitting Fitz with right on head.

Round 2—Fitz attempted a right on the body and a left in the stomach, missing both. The men were extremely cautious, but Hall received a heavy left on the stomach, responding with a left on the head. Hall landed a good left blow, but received one on the head in return. Hall tried to land his right, and Fitz shifted. Fitz forced Hall in the corner, but the latter clinched to avoid punishment. Both men in a hot rally scored rights on the head.

Round 3—Fitz was the aggressor, fainting with his left which he landed on the stomach. A moment later Fitz received two heavy lefts on the face and a heavy right uppercut; Fitz clinched to save himself and Duffy had a hard time in parting them. Fitz was clinching to avoid punishment right along and slid around the ring continuously. Both men were fighting hard when the round ended.

Round 4—Hall came up the aggressor; Fitz landed a heavy right on the jaw knocking Hall into the middle of the ring. The blow was a tremendous right hand swing and landed full on the point of the jaw. Hall was a long time in coming to but he finally drew his left hand up to his nostrils and was helped into his corner by Fitzsimmons, his conquerer.

The audience rose to its feet, and a tremendous shout went up. Hall, however, lay unconscious on the carpet, a look of agony on his face, and the crowd feared he had suffered serious injury. Hall's second, with a club official and Dr. Betts, ran to the prostrate pugilist, and, applying restoratives, gradually brought him back to consciousness.

Fitzsimmons also ran to the centre of the ring, and, pulling off his gloves, helped to resuscitate his vanquished foe.

When Hall had been brought to he was carried limp to his chair, where he remained until he was able to walk to his dressing room.

Fitz was frenzied with delight over his apparently easy victory.

The referee awarded the fight to Fitzsimmons, who waved the American flag over his head, and as he was leaving the ring received a tremendous ovation.

The fight was the easiest Fitzsimmons has had in America and the blow which Fitzsimmons delivered that knocked Hall out was universally said to be the hardest that anyone of the old ring habitues ever witnessed.

The rapid manner in which they fought and the great victory of Fitzsimmons has created much excitement here.

Speculating on Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—From an early hour this morning until lunch time Secretary Gresham was engaged at the State Department receiving visitors. The developments in the matter of appointments that have been determined on were meagre. Semi-official assurance was given that ex-Governor Isaac P. Gray, of Indiana, would be given the Mexican mission, and Patrick A. Collins, of Massachusetts, made consul-general at London.

Delay for Dishler's Trial.

ROME, N. Y., March 9.—Dave Dishler cannot be arranged or tried at the court of Oyer and Terminer now in session here. It transpires that at the Oyer Terminer held in May 1892, on motion of the district attorney, the case was sent to Court of Sessions. The next term of that court will meet in Rome, April 10. It is expected that his trial will proceed at that time.

Abbett Sworn In.

TRENTON, N. J., March 9.—Ex-Governor Abbett was sworn in at noon as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and at once took his seat upon the bench. The oath was administered by Chief Justice Beasley.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

The Crew of the Adamantine Saved After a Tussle with Ice.

BALTIMORE, March 9.—The story of the wreck of the barkentine Adamantine, the shipwrecked crew of which was landed here by the steamer Delano, is one of great suffering and adventure.

The Adamantine left St. John's, N. F., on February 18 for Liverpool. She had aboard a cargo valued at about $100,000.

Ice was encountered that night, and on the following day the bark was completely hemmed in by the huge masses which threatened to force in the steel plates.

For four days the crew worked manfully to protect the vessel with fenders and poles.

A gale was blowing and the weather was intensely cold.

Nothing could be seen above the surface but a great field of ice. The vessel had been badly damaged, and with every grinding crash the exhausted crew expected to go to the bottom.

So vicious were the attacks of the ice, that the fore-compartment was full of water, and all the cables and articles of heavy cargo forward were shoved aft to raise the bow as far out of the water as possible.

The ice crushed in the port bow and jammed the rudder. In this almost wrecked condition the crew battled hopelessly through the stormy night.

The dawn of the 24th found the vessel still in the ice.

The fenders had been smashed and torn to pieces, and three to four feet of water was in the hold of the Adamanine. The missen—gaff and der rick—boom were cut down for fenders, but the ice smashed these big spears almost before they were in position to shield the vessel.

Twenty-four hours brought no change, except the certainty that the ship was doomed.

Despite the pumps, soundings showed that there were three feet seven inches of water in the hold. Then the pumps refused to work. The water seemed to freeze as it was drawn up through the tube.

Capt. Yarker went down in the hold found and the plates riddled and water running in through the sides rapidly. The damage was repaired in a way.

During the night three immense icebergs were passed in close proximity to the vessel.

It was now so cold that the men could do absolutely nothing to save the ship. Human energy had reached its limit. The rudder was carried away during the night and the vessel was going to the bottom.

Boats and provisions having been made ready, the men were about to launch the crafts when out against the horizon appeared the outline of a large steamer. A signal of distress was run up in the rigging of the bark, which was answered by the steamship. With overjoyed hearts the half frozen men watched the steamship rushing to their rescue.

After considerable manœuvring to shelter the small boats, the shipwrecked sailors were safely landed.

The men are now on the Delano which is laying at Locust Point. They were all frostbitten from the Captain down. It was several days before the men recovered from the effects of their terrible exposure and hardships.

LOST AT SEA.

Two Coal Schooners from Baltimore With Crews are Given Up.

BALTIMORE, March 9.—Agents of the schooner Grace D. Buchanan, commanded by Capt. John Harrington, whose home was in this city, have given up the vessel as lost. She sailed from Baltimore February 8 for Portland, Maine, with a cargo of coal. On the 20th she was seen near her port of destination, but was blown from her course. The Buchanan was built in Bath, Maine, in 1888.

The schooner D. S. Williams, Captain Napolean Hazleton, which sailed from Baltimore Dec. 29, 1892, for Providence, R. I., with coal, has also been given up as lost. Captain Hazleton lived at Barnegat, N. J.

Tennessee's House Speaker Ousted.

NASHVILLE, March 9.—When the Legislature reassembled in the House yesterday, a resolution was at once introduced requesting that Speaker Davis, who was recently disbarred at Memphis, present his resignation as Speaker. This resolution was adopted, but the Speaker declined to resign. Thereupon a resolution was introduced declaring the office vacant, and it was adopted 72 to 9. Hon. Julius A. Trousdale, of Sumner, was then elected Speaker.

Dalton Sent to Prison for Life.

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., March 9.—Emmett Dalton, leader of the famous gang of outlaws, when brought into court here to stand trial for the murders committed during the raid at Coffeyville last summer, entered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree. He was at once sentenced to imprisonment for life, and left for the State prison at noon, accompanied by four officers.

Germany's Exhibit Arrives.

BALTIMORE, March 9.—The steamship Pickhuben, from Hamburg, has arrived with the German government's exhibit for the World's Fair, included in the consignment is the entire exhibit from the Saxony Woolen mills. The most valuable part of the Pickhuben's cargo is the gallery of pictures, bronzes, statuary and other works of art to be exhibited.

Timber Cut in Maine in 1892.

BANGOR, Me., March 9.—A careful estimate of the lumber cut in Maine in '92 is as follows: Spruce, 491,811,627 feet; hemlock, 73,247,248 feet; pine, 830,823 feet; cedar, 42,504,701 feet; hard wood, 3,177,147 feet. Total, 719,081,545 feet.

Orangemen Against Home Rule.

MONTREAL, March 9.—The Grand Orange Lodge of Quebec, in session here, adopted a resolution condemning the Gladstone Home Rule bill and pledging its moral and material support to the protestant minority of Ireland.

HER OWN DEATH THE HAND OF FATE

The Alleged Malpractitioner Found Dead in Bed by Neighbors—The Real Cause of Her Sudden End Only Surmised—She Had Told Acquaintances that She Had Operated on Herself, Borne Twins and Destroyed Them.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Mrs. Annie Loesch, alias Kramer, who had gained considerable notoriety for the numerous cases of criminal operation she had been engaged in from time to time has been found dead in bed in her apartments at No. 145 Humboldt street, Brooklyn. The police have had her in custody on numerous complaints beside that mentioned. It is probable that she died through a criminal operation performed by herself.

The police are still of the opinion that Mrs. Kramar, as she was best known, was the direct cause of the death of Jessie White, 19, on Stagg street, which created a sensation at the time. Since that time her escapades have been numerous.

She recently walked into a saloon, cleaned it out of its occupants at the point of a revolver, and then made the bartender give her a drink.

Her first husband, John Loesch, caused her arrest for bigamy, but when asked for proof said she had bewitched him. She was discharged.

Some time later one Kramer appeared in court and claimed to be her husband. He said she had also bewitched him.

A few months ago she was arrested for abducting a young girl for immoral purposes, but the case was never brought to trial.

Neighbors say that the woman and a stranger man passed the night drinking. The man was seen to leave hurriedly in the morning. She failed to appear, and when neighbors entered the room they found her dead in bed.

Coroner Creamer says: "Neighbors told me that Mrs. Kramer informed them that she had operated on herself. The result was that twins were born two days ago, and that she disposed of the bodies by burning them in the kitchen stove."

ANOTHER CHARLIE ROSS.

Samuel Cousins, of Toronto, Says He is the Long Lost Boy.

TORONTO, March 9.—Samuel C. Cousins, a paper cutter, 28 years of age, left here to-night to visit Christian K. Ross, whose long lost son Charlie he imagines he may be.

Cousins came here from England about five years ago.

He says he remembers distinctly the time he was kidnapped. He says he was taken to France and was baptized in the cathedral at Lomoges.

When cousins was eleven years of age the man with whom he lived took him to England where he deserted him and he has since that time drifted around the country finally coming to Canada.

Still Fighting for Sunday Opening.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Another big fight is likely to come up over the Sunday opening of the World's Fair. The local directory will not accept the $5,700,000 appropriated by Congress for paying the jurors of awards as a loan. They claim that Congress, in granting it as a loan, has violated its agreement, and it is therefore not incumbent upon the local people to observe the Sunday closing clause of the contract.

Two Priests Excommunicated.

TRENTON, N. J., March 9.—An official proclamation has been published by Bishop O'Farrell announcing that Manager Satolli had excommunicated the Treacy brothers, priests at Swedesboro and Burlington for continued disobedience to the ordens of the ecclesiastical authorities. They will also be proceeded against in the courts for refusing to surrender their church property.

The Hawley Will Sustained.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 9.—The jury in the Stephen Hawley will case has sustained the will in the Superior Court. Mr. Hawley left an estate of over $50,000, which was inherited from his wife, and her relations. He willed it to his relatives, ignoring his wife's nephew, Albert W. Gunn, of Brooklyn. Gunn appealed from the probate of the will.

A Maryland Railroad to be Sold.

BALTIMORE, March 9.—Charles A. Coombs, receiver, has been appointed for the Annapolis and Baltimore Short Line Railroad by Judge Morris of the United States Court. The road will be sold at public auction within six weeks. The bondholders and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company are prospective bidders.

At Last an "L" Road for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—Work has really been started on Philadelphia's first elevated railroad. About fifty workmen began digging holes for the foundation piers on Front street, near Arch, for the Northeastern Elevated Railroad, which is to run well out in the suburbs.

A Young Wife Ends Her Life.

WANTAGH, L. I., March 9.—Mrs. Eva Southard, 20 years old, a bright, pretty leading light of this village, committed suicide by shooting herself Tuesday in her husband's presence, because he had scolded her for remaining at her sister's all night.

Selling Human Beings for Food.

SHANGHAI, March 9.—A famine prevails throughout the northern part of the province of Shan-Si. Men are selling their wives and children for food.

RUSSELL IN CHARGE.

The Outbreak in the Massachusetts State Prison Compels Summary Action.

BOSTON, March 9.—In consequence of the troubles at the Massachusetts State Prison Governor Russell has taken direct charge of the institution. He is there in person, and will remain until the premises have been thoroughly searched for arms etc., and measures taken to restore discipline. The state of things damands especial attention.

An officer of the prison said:

"The conduct of the prisoners is simply outrageous, and the more I watch them the more I am inclined to think that the estimate of 75 revolvers in their possession is a small one.

"Only a few days ago two dozen weapons were taken from the chest of one notorious prisoner, who would think nothing of pulling the trigger if he could thereby gain his liberty.

"They are brought in in all sorts of ways, two being taken from a ton of coal that was being dumped only the day before yesterday. They have, in fact, become articles of commerce, the convicts declaring that a $20 bill only is necessary to produce one within three hours. Where the leak is I cannot say.

"The revolvers are, for the most part, undoubtedly concealed in the chests which the men have in their cells and all of which have private locks, the prisoners always retaining the keys. Now and then when a man's actions becomes suspicious his chest is searched, but even that is only done at rare intervals.

"Month by month and year by year discipline has vanished from the place. The men enjoy a change of wardens, for it usually results in extra privileges. 'We have the upper hand here,' is the confident and brazen defiance thrown in the watchman's face, and if you ever attempt to introduce discipline here again there will be bloodshed. These are not whispered threats by any means.

"The men now have gas till 9 o'clock, an hour longer than under the former regime.

"Talking goes on at all hours among the men.

LORD HOWARD'S SIDE.

Opening of the Case of De Walden Against His Wife for Divorce.

LONDON, March 9.—Sir Edward Clarke delivered the opening address in behalf of the Baron Howard de Walden in his suit for divorce against his wife, Lady Blanche, on the ground of adultery, the time of the court having heretofore been devoted to hearing the evidence in her ladyship's suit for a judicial separation, on the ground of cruelty.

Sir Edward pointed out that no act of violence had occurred, according to the testimony, since 1878, whereas it was proposed to establish to the satisfaction of the court that her ladyship had committed adultery with Capt. Winter in 1892 at the Seabrook Hotel, Hythe, where both her ladyship and Capt. Winter were visiting.

It was also proposed to prove that her ladyship had been guilty of adultery with Count Jean de Madre, at Bournemouth, also in the apartments of Count Jean de Madre, in Bury street, London, in 1890, and in a hotel at Pau in 1891, Count Jean being master of the foxhounds at Pau. It would also be shown that De Madre had visited her ladyship in her residence in Sloane street.

TO LOOK FOR THE NARONIC.

Her Sister Ship, the Boric, Will Try to Solve an Ocean Mystery.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Boric, a sister ship to the overdue Naronic, has sailed for Liverpool.

Her commander, Capt. Thompson, received instructions to maintain a sharp lookout for the Naronic, and to closely inspect any wreckage that may be sighted, in the hope of finding something that will throw light upon the uncertainty surrounding the fate of the steamship.

Though all sorts of theories are being put forward concerning the probable fate of the White Star freighter, there are few shipping men who have lost hope that she will eventually turn up somewhere.

The agents are now inclined to look to the other side of the Atlantic for the first news of the steamer.

More Panama Scandal Trials.

PARIS, March 9.—The trial of ex-Minister and Deputy Antonin Proust, Deputy Dugue de la Fauconnerie, Senator Beral, ex-Deputy Gobron, M. Blondin, M. Charles de Lesseps and M. Marius Fontane, ex-Minister Baihut and M. Sans-Leroy, on charges of corruption with the Panama Lottery Bonds bill, was opened in the Palais de Justice at 11 a. m. before a crowded court room.

John Wanamaker Off for a Long Trip.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker and party left Washington last night on a tour of the United States and Mexico. The trip will cover 12,161 miles and will traverse twenty-one states, three territories, and one province. The party will travel in a special train and are due to return to Philadelphia on May 19th.

After a Commutation of Sentence.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 9.—Lawyer Frederick A. Rex, who defended John Hill, the colored lad, condemned to die for the murder of Joseph Dodson, also colored, has presented a petition to Gov. Werts and the Court of Pardons asking for the commutation of the boy's sentence to imprisonment for life.

Frightful Brutality in a Prison.

OMAHA, Neb., March 9.—A special committee of the Legislature, investigating the penitentiery management, has reported an awful condition of affairs. They find that one convict had been murdered by being hanged by the guards, and that others were terribly beaten.

Free Gold Increased.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Secretary Carlisle has accepted the proposition of the Clearing House of Denver, Colo., to exchange $1,000,000 of the Treasury notes of the issue of 1890 for $1,000,000 in gold. This will increase the free gold in the Treasury to $2,125,000.

Guests Have a Narrow Escape.

CARROLTON, Mo., March 9.—The Jacobs hotel was burned at an early morning hour. Many of the guests barely escaped with their lives, and some were badly injured in jumping from upper stories. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $20,000.

Shoe Factory Burned to the Ground.

BROCKTON, Mass., March 9.—A three story wooden shoe factory, owned and occupied by Enos B. Reynolds, in Montesello, was almost totally burned last night. Total loss about $35,000; insurance not known.

A NOTED MEDIUM DEAD

Margaret Fox Kane Passes Away in Brooklyn, N. Y.

REVIEW OF AN INTERESTING CAREER

After Discovering that She Was a Spiritualist She, With Her Sister, Began to Give Seances Throughout This Country and Great Britain—Her Marriage to Dr. Kane—Her Death in Poverty.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Margaret Fox Kane, who died in Brooklyn yesterday at the age of 59, was well known 40 years ago as a spiritualistic medium in this country and Europe.

Her death recalls strange and interesting memories of a generation ago. Her father, John D. Fox, who was a sporting man, lost all his money, and went to live in a shanty which he had built near Hydesville, Wayne county, N. Y. He dwelt there with his wife and three daughters, Anne, Katherine and Margaret.

They had been established there but a few days when footsteps pattered over the bare floors. The peculiarity of these demonstrations was that they only occurred when Margaret and Katherine were in the house.

One night Margaret heard the sounds and called upon the uneasy spirit to do as she did. She then clapped her hands three times, and was surprised to hear the same noises in reply. The spirit was then questioned, and it told the Foxes it was the wandering soul of an old Jew peddler, who had mysteriously disappeared five years before.

The name of the murderer and the manner in which the killing was done was told, and it was finally announced that the body was buried under the house. The news of this spiritualistic interview spread all over the neighborhood, and soon the people began to dig. They found bones seven feet below the surface.

The Fox sisters became famous at once. They went to Rochester and gave seances. The sisters then came to New York, where their seances were attended by such men as Horace Greeley, Bryant, Fennimore Cooper, George Bancroft, Gen. Lynam and many other well-known men. Then the sisters went abroad and were equally successful in their spirit manifestations there.

In 1836 Margaret Fox met Dr. Elisha Kent Kane, the Arctic explorer, and, it is said, was married to him according to the Quaker rite. She lived for several years on what her husband had left, but this soon gave out, and she was left to the care of her friends.

Her mediumistic power decreased and she lived a life of solitude and retirement until death found her in absolute destitution.

MISS HALL SUICIDES.

She Threw Herself in Front of a Locomotive at Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 9.—Miss Julia Hall, of New Canaan, Conn., daughter of Russell Hall, the banker, of that town, committed suicide yesterday by throwing herself in front of a locomotive on the Connecticut Valley division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road. She was instantly killed, and her body was frightfully mangled.

Miss Hall was recently sent to the insane asylum here from New Canaan, and was the young woman who created so much excitement last November by wandering away from her home.

She disappeared twice, and on each occasion hosts of men in the vicinity of her home turned out to search the woods for the girl.

She was out walking in the grounds with an attendant, when suddenly she started for the railroad tracks, and before the attendant could overtake her Miss Hall threw herself in front of a fast approaching train.

Getting Ready for a Switchmen's Strike.

NEW YORK, March 9.—For several days past advertisements have appeared in the newspapers of this city stating that railroad switchmen and yard trainmen were wanted "away from New York," to whom good wages and steady employment would be given. It is generally believed that they are being hired for railroads in the West in anticipation of a strike of switchmen.

Irish National Federation Convention.

DUBLIN, March 9.—The Convention has resolved, without a dissenting voice, to support the Home Rule bill at the second reading and "at the proper time to obtain the needful amendments which will render the bill permanent and the nature of Irish rights a lasting bond of union with Great Britain." The Convention also voted to establish a fund for the promotion of the National movement.

Big Grocery Firm Failure.

ORANGE, N. J., March 9.—Ackerman & Co., grocers have failed and their stock was seized on attachments by the Sheriff. There are a number of creditors. The liabilities are from $18,000 to $20,000; the assets about the same amount. The cause of the failure is said to be difficulty of collections. The firm has $11,000 on its books.

Annual Report of the P. W. & B. Road.

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—The detailed report of the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore railroad and leased lines for the year ending Oct. 31, 1892, shows earnings from all sources to be $9,437,803.26, while the operating expenses amount to $7,375,175.08, leaving net earnings of $2,162,627.18, a decrease of $322,179.77.

Al Daggett Not a Democrat.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Ex-State Senator Albert Daggett, of Brooklyn, N Y, denies the published report that he has joined the Democratic party. Mr. Daggett says, over his own signature: "I have always been a Republican and I have seen no new light which leads me away from the fold."

First Lady Hears "Diplomacy."

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Mrs. Cleveland was present at the Academy of Music last night to witness Miss Rose Coghlan in the play "Diplomacy." A brilliant audience attended the play. Among those occupying the principal boxes were Vice-President Stevenson and family.

Sues the New England for $15,000.

BOSTON, March 9.—Mrs. Annie C. Graves has entered action against the New York & New England Railroad to recover $15,000 for personal injuries received in the collision at Highlandville Station last November. The liability is not disputed, the question being put upon the amount of the damages.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Seats are now on sale for "The Devil's Auction".

—Boroughites, do not fail to vote at the coming election. And vote for Saunders.

—The Alcyones will bowl on the Crescent alleys this evening, in the Journal tournament.

—An entertainment will be given at the Boys' club, Monday evening, March 13, consisting of music and a magic lantern exhibition.

—A meeting of the Plainfield members of the auxiliary of the Salvation Army will be held in Y. M. C. A. parlor this evening at 8.

—The regular meeting of the Young Ladies' Missionary society of the First Baptist church will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2, in the lecture room of the church.

—The Extract Beverage company now at Reform Hall are drawing crowded houses nightly. They will remain in town several days longer. Go and see their grand exhibitions.

—To the PRESS, News and Courier the Democrats of North Plainfield are indebted for square, truthful, complimentary remarks about Mayor Saunders and his committees, all made previous to the Republican caucus.

—"The Smalleys" have been choosing who the people shall have for mayor and council over the brook ever since the borough was incorporated, and they are now boasting that they intend to have Honeyman hereafter.

—Great bargains are being offered in second-hand upright and square almost-as-good-as-new pianos of the Chickering, Hazleton, Schumaker and other makes, for cash or on easy payments, at F. M. Hulett, 74 West Front street.

—How would the citizens of North Plainfield like to have ex-marshal Rutledge in power again, and the old disorder restored? To prevent this, vote for W. L. Saunders for re-election. It was he who gave the borough the competent marshal Pangborn.

—The late Isaac Brokaw, were he alive, and steering the Republicans' ship this spring, would never, with his sagacity, have permitted his party to name as candidates for mayor and councilman, men who were not voters or residents of the borough the previous year.

—The brick building at 14 North avenue is to be disposed of at master's sale April 18, on the premises, by virtue of a decree in chancery, issued through John H. VanWinkle, master, between Benjamin F. Moore, plaintiff, and Emma E. Moore and others, defendants.

—The Lorellas, William, Coleman and Edward, have arranged a performance of an unusual character as a specialty feature of Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening. It is filled with startling and novel surprises and is called "Frolics in Black and White".

—Hulett, the West Front street music dealer, has been trading many pianos in exchange for new ones. Being anxious to close these out and make room for new goods for his grand opening this month, he will offer some great bargains. Anyone wishing to secure a good bargain would do well to call at once.

—The transformation in Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction" to be produced at Music Hall, Saturday evening, is a wonderful work of art entirely original in its conception. It was painted by John R. Wilkins, of California. The subject is "Spring." It represents March, April and May. The change showing the latter month is remarkable for its mechanical and light effects.

—All good citizens of North Plainfield may well be proud of the record of last year's council. The business was economically and faithfully performed, as shown by the annual reports of the council, and as compared with previous years. The Republican chairman of the marshal committee, Mr. Hummer, highly complimented marshal Pangborn, who was appointed by Mayor Saunders; and the street commissioner, Mr. Stout, has the credit of paving a greater number of streets at less money than in any year before.

—The men who struck at the North Plainfield Republican ticket last year are the leaders of that party in the borough to-day, and are the ones who talk so much about party "loyalty", in urging voters to stand by the ticket. No one knows better than these men how strong the feeling is against them and their methods, both in the borough and township. The lesson was plainly written by the attendance at their caucus last week. Instead of 200 being present, as heretofore, they scarcely had 50 voters in attendance. That tells the tale.

—To fair-minded citizens of North Plainfield, the Democrats appeal for support in the approaching election. Their candidate for mayor is a progressive and well-known citizen. His record is before you. He already has the confidence of the largest tax-payers in the community. He is a practical business man, and no mayor has ever yet become so popular, in so short a time. Of the candidates for councilmen, it may be said that it is doubtful if any more responsible people or conservative men could be found than Messrs. Howell and Blackford.

A letter received from Mrs. Vanderbeek in the South reports her greatly improved in health.

The Rev. R. P. Cobb of Rahway will conduct prayers and preach a sermon, in Grace church to-night at 8.

The Rev. A. I. Martine on Sunday welcomed 15 converts into the Dunellen First Presbyterian church, and 7 by letter.

E. B. Mattison will give an illustrated lecture this evening at 8, in the Crescent Avenue chapel, on the subject: "The Physical Effects of Alcohol".

That beautiful building lot corner of Grove street and Craig place, has been sold by Alonzo DeCamp for a handsome amount to the widow of E. H. Hanigan, of 10 Craig place.

Ex-chief Jeffrys of the Burlington fire department was in Plainfield yesterday and well entertained by chief Doane, ex-assistant Saltzman and other prominent officials of his fraternity.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, gave an interesting lecture on "Manners and Social Customs", at Miss Townsend's school, 54 Park place, Newark.

The popular architect, B. Fosgate, represented Plainfield last Friday night at the first ball given in honor of Cleveland's inauguration, under the auspices of the Agawam club at Southampton, L.I.

The Rev. W. C. Kinsey, whose beautiful solos have been greatly enjoyed at young men's meetings in this city in the past, will sing and speak at the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Sunday afternoon at 4:15.

Mabel Corey, aged 14, died at her home, Castleton-on-the-Hudson, Monday afternoon. The body was buried to-day at Scotch Plains, the place of her former home. She was a niece of the wife of chief T. O. Doane.

It is reported that Miss Margaret Young, of Louisville, Ky., who has been spending the greater part of this season with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reinhart of Netherwood, has become engaged to Edward Van Buren of the firm of Stover & Van Buren of this city.

Miss Josie Sisson, who plays the soubrette part in Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening, was a successful star for three years in protean comedies. She is a dancer and vocalist of unusual ability.

R. B. Grinnell, of Netherwood, who is spending the winter in Mexico and California for his health, has been confined to his bed at San Diego, Cal., for some time. He has recovered sufficiently to move to Riverside in the same State, where he now is. He will return to Netherwood about the middle of April.

Miss Mai Estelle, a beautiful and statuesque young woman, who made the great hit in the part of "Hubert" in "The Twelve Temptations" last season, will play "Carlos" in Charles H. Yale's new production of "The Devil's Auction" at Music Hall, Saturday evening. Her costumes are unstintedly praised.

Henry M. Brown, the talented young comedian, who played "Snoro" in "The Twelve Temptations" last season, will portray "Toby" in Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening. His work has been greatly praised by newspaper critics in all parts of the country.

Signorita Adele Amore, the wonderful dancer characteristique from the Scala Theater, Milan, who appears in Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening, introduces many novel dances never before presented in this country. She is a very beautiful woman, whose talent attracted wide attention in Europe, where she filled long engagements in the principal capital cities.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Miss Annie Gray, at her home, 27 Grant avenue, last evening. About twenty young people had gathered to enjoy the evening's festivities. The time was well spent in the playing of a few games and the singing of songs, etc. The young people kept enjoying themselves until about 11, when they all departed for their homes being very well pleased. Miss Gray was greatly surprised at the honor, not having known anything about it in advance.

Funeral services over the remains of William P. Demarest, were held at his late home, 7 East Fifth street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30. Dr. Richards, his pastor, and the Rev. C. E. Dunn, his son-in-law, officiated. Mrs. J. K. Myers, Mrs. Alice Holmes-Paxon, E. E. Runyon and A. J. Gavett sang. Besides a large attendance of Plainfielders, a number of New York friends and business acquaintances were present. Interment was made in the family plot at Hillside cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. L. Force, S. F. Dunn, Charles Sullivan, Charles Simms and J. A. Demarest.

—A milk wagon was wrecked early this morning by a pitfall caused by the sinking of earth at the water-main filling-in on Seventh street near Spooner avenue.

—Wm. Wilson, while working on a bridge at Bound Brook, a day or two ago, met with a painful accident. The chisel he was using slipped from his hand and cut his left knee. The injury will confine him to his house for some time.

We often hear people say there is only one good cough medicine and that is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the only infallible remedy.

WHIPPED THE CHAMPIONS.

Great Work by the Park Club, in Defeating the Crack New Jerseys.

Last night the Park Club bowling team added one more to its already long list of notable victories. This one, however, was of more than usual interest, as its adversaries, the bowlers of the New Jersey Athletic club, have recently won the championship for ten-man teams in the Bowling League of New Jersey. The game was rolled on the N. J. A. C. alleys at Bergen Point and the result was a victory by 19 pins for the Park Club. The alleys were a little too slippery for the best bowling, but otherwise were perfect.

The start resulted in a poor frame for each side, but the men soon got down to work, the Park Club rapidly gaining until the fifth frame. Here they led their opponents by 103 pins. At this point someone was heard to remark that the home team was a scrub, containing several men from the second team. The force of this remark was lessened, however, when it was learned that the second team had made a practice of repeatedly beating the first team on the home alleys. Most of the N. J. A. C. men confined themselves to looking disgusted and ejaculating the monosyllable "Rats!" with great vehemence and feeling. After the fifth frame the N. J. A. C. took a slight brace, and managed, by dint of hard work and many more or less successful endeavors to rattle the Park team, to reduce the lead to the comparatively small margin of 19 pins.

A number of friends of the Park club accompanied them to Bergen Point, and "rooted" for the team in a satisfactory manner.

A return game will probably be played at the Park club the last of this month.

EMPHATIC DENIAL.

Chief Doane Says the Charge of the School Board is False.

Chief Engineer T. O. Doane says that the statement made by George H. Babcock, Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, J. B. Probasco, E. L. Finch and Fred. C. Lounsbury, that the city paid an agent a commission in the purchase of the new engine-house site, "is a lie out of the whole cloth".

Don't Check His Glorious Work.

The best reason for asking Democrats and Republicans to vote for the re-election of Mayor Saunders is that he has done hard and good work for twelve months, and is entitled to a second term to complete his plans for progress. This is admitted by everybody. One term of one year is not long enough for a business man who serves as mayor without salary. The term is two years in the cities, and the term of a councilman in the borough is three years.

Threatened to Haunt Them to the Grave.

William S. Hurley, plaintiff in a suit against Jacob and William Miles of North Plainfield, in which he charges them with fraduulently depriving him of a portion of the estate of his father, Samuel Hurley, testimony in which Judge Barrett has been hearing for a month at Special Term, was cross examined yesterday by Austen G. Fox for the purpose of showing among other things that he had threatened to pursue his aged uncles, the defendants, to their graves.

Shoe News.

John H. Doane, of the firm of Doane & Edsall, one of the most popular and thoroughly experienced shoe men in the State, has for the past few weeks been devoting his time in gathering together the largest and finest assortment of shoes that has ever come to Plainfield.

In their advertisement to-day especial notice is given to patent leather as the coming shoe. This firm claim that buyers will save money by using their goods.

There Are Lots Just Like This.

At the Republican caucus in the borough, a Republican from Washington Park, talking plainly, told the leaders that they had, by their "kicking" last year, given the borough a "mighty good mayor", and that he for one intended to help keep him there.

The Firemen Should Reciprocate.

The firemen should thank Mayor Saunders for taking up and vigorously carrying through the business of the borough fire department in better shape. The mayor expects to do more for the firemen. He has already given them the old council chamber for their parlors, and has returned the money which they paid out of their own pockets for apparatus. Will the firemen stand by Mayor Saunders as he has stood by them?

Gone—all the painful disorders and chronic weaknesses peculiar to the female sex. They go, with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, all "female complaints" are cured by it. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, imparting vigor and strength to the whole system. It costs you nothing if it fails to give satisfaction. It's guaranteed to do so, in every case, or the money is refunded. It can be guaranteed—for it does it. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms.

On these terms it's the cheapest. But more than that, it's the best.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

ADVICE TO THEIR CHURCHMEN.

How Plainfield's and Westfield's Pastors Talk Away from Home.

At the spring meeting of the Northern New Jersey Conference of Congregational churches, in Newark, this week, a discussion was led by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of this city, on the "Individual Responsibility of Church Members to the Church", Mr. Goodrich said the responsibility of every member of the church was equal when the covenant was taken. "Every member is equally responsible for the fulfilling of the covenant, Mr. Goodrich continued, and every one is bound to do the same amount of work in the church."

"Another form of responsibility is that each member must be a help to every other one. Like an organ, each part has to work with the other to make perfect harmony. The individual members of the body each has its certain work to perform, and so with the members of the church. The first responsibility is to keep himself free in heart and to perform his part. No one else can do that part. How often pastors hear the remark, 'Oh, I can't do that. Let some one else do that part.' We are bound to consider the interests of the church and to talk it up, and not talk it down; to feel responsible for its success. In working together the power of the body is tripled. If the rank and file will stand firm success is assured."

Mr. Goodrich spoke of the fact that people seldom forget their responsibility for any special, great occasion; but that in a life-long career one is very likely to become careless. Continuing, he said:

"The covenant each church member takes is of binding responsibility, no matter whether he has greater or smaller gifts, for the furtherance of the Church. The question of our relative ability does not alter in the slightest our individual responsibility. Political economists are seeing that the human race is a whole; that the injury of one nation is an injury to the others. A diseased organ is an injury to the whole body. And this is especially true of the Church of Jesus Christ. Every member of the church influences the body of the church. If he skirks his duties, becoming slothful or sinful, he thereby injures not merely himself, but the whole church. We are bound to consider the interests of the church as greater than our own particular interest. We should feel that every church moment is ours; that we must make it a success. Responsibility to the church is responsibility to Jesus Christ, as his inspired ones have taught us."

The Rev. C. H. Patton, of Westfield, followed with an address, "How Shall We Secure a More Systematic and Thorough Training of Our Churches and Sunday-Schools in the Sacred Scriptures?"

"I have a young lady in my congregation who had been a teacher in a Chicago school," he began, "and she had a class of twelve girls, 16 years old, from the best and wealthiest families of Chicago. One day she happened to ask who Daniel was and none of those twelve girls knew. The teacher, surprised, asked questions and found that those girls did n't know whether David or Goliah was the giant; and they did n't know there was any difference between Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

"I do n't want to cast any aspersions on Chicago," continued Mr. Patton, "but this instance shows plainly the great lack of home training. I fear that too many have vague ideas regarding the Bible."

Mr. Patton explained at length the Blakeslee system of studying Bible history, and brought forth many questions from those present. He closed by recommending most highly this system. "First it goes over the whole Bible in outline, and then gradually goes more and more into detail in a thorough scientific way."

The Rev. Frank J. Goodwin was to have followed; but so great was the interest in Mr. Patton's remarks that several others who have used the Blakeslee system, spoke of the remarkable success they have enjoyed through it. After these interesting experiences had been recounted, Mr. Patton led a discussion of the topic: "How to Conduct a Prayer Meeting."

"It seems to me," he said in opening, "that we do not properly regard the importance of this mid-week service. If it is going to be one of worth and results we ought to recognize it."

Time That Crowd Was "Sat on".

Everybody in North Plainfield knows, without mentioning names, who the Republicans were that one year ago defeated E. L. Bonny for mayor, and that stalwart young Republican Geo. Hallock, for councilman. For no other reason than pure spite, the present Republican free holder, George Bullman, who voted for a Democrat for county collector, for the simple reason that he was a faithful and thoroughly efficient officer, was turned down by the same crowd. But, fortunately for the township, he has another year, by law, to serve.

The Good Ex-Councilman Has a Chance to Get Square.

Charles Sebring, of whom many of the self-constituted leaders of the G. O. P. in the borough seem more than a trifle jealous, three years ago ran considerably ahead of his ticket. Why was he turned down?

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Atty, Washington, D. C.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

The Wonders of America.

The latest production of the "Uranla" spectacle entitled "The Wonders of America", will be given at the beautiful Carnegie Music Hall, New York, for a limited period, and the performances this week will take place on Thursday evening, Friday evening, and Saturday afternoon. Last summer Garrett P. Serviss, the well-known lecturer, and John H. Young, the scenic artist, accompanied by several skillful photographers, made a tour through the Yellowstone Park, visited the Yosemite Valley, the Alaska Glaciers, and other places of remarkable interest on our continent. The result of their journey is shown in the most realistic and fascinating imitation of nature. With the aid of beautiful electric light effects and the most remarkable mechanical devices, one can travel from the Atlantic to the Pacific, pass through a terrific thunderstorm in the Garden of the Gods, and accomplish a highly interesting and adventurous journey, in a most realistic manner, all in the space of two hours, while occupying a comfortable seat.

Some of His Notable Achievements.

Councilman Hegeman, who complimented in such high terms Mayor Saunders's record, at the last meeting of the council, said that the mayor had accomplished a great deal for the borough, and that he had other important and useful measures under way. He probably referred to the position Mayor Saunders has taken on the question of public health. Through his earnest co-operation with the local board of health, sewerage discharge in Green brook has been stopped on the borough side, and the mayor is still after the city of Plainfield, and the obnoxious North avenue sewer. It was Mayor Saunders who directed the revision of the borough accounts, which had been kept, in the words of the expert Loomis, "Merely as a set of vouchers and memoranda". They are now placed in regular shape, like the books of any good business house.

Praise for Plainfield's Soldiers.

(From The New Brunswick Home News.)

The international jubilee meeting held at the Salvation Army Barracks last night was very successful. There was a very large congregation present and all seemed to enjoy themselves listening to the songs in English, Welsh, Scotch and Swedish.

Adjt. Hunter conducted the service and Captain March and Lieut. Shannon, with about 30 soldiers from Plainfield, added much to the success of the meeting. Two colored soldiers of the Army from Plainfield sang a solo each. They are good singers and had a good effect upon the congregation.

Special meetings will be conducted every evening this week. Adjt. Hunter assisted by other officers, will conduct them.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by J. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

I suffered from a severe cold in my head for months and could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 110 Front street, New York.

BOY DROWNED.

The Mother Fainted When She Saw the Body.

John C. Shaw, the New York lawyer who owns the new hotel and casino at Finderne, has a head-gardener, John Price, who lives on the place with his family during the winter season. Yesterday afternoon the youngest boy of the Price family, Tommy, aged 8 years, was missed by his mother. He had been playing around the house and yard during the day, but for some time nothing was seen of him.

His mother becoming worried sent for the boy's father and a search was instituted.

After a long search the boy's cap was found near a cistern, the cover of which for some unknown reason was off. One of the hired men was lowered by a rope into the cistern where in the water he found the body of the boy and brought it out.

As soon as the mother saw that her child was dead she fainted away. County physician Louis T. Reed upon examination found nothing to show that the boy had not met an accidental death. He therupon gave a permit. It is supposed that the child was playing around the uncovered cistern and slipping on the icy ground fell in.

What to Expect.

One of the best known of Plainfield's druggists, while doing up a package of dyes, said: "I always like to sell diamond dyes, for I know they will give satisfaction, if their simple directions are followed. They come in about forty colors, and you see I carry a full assortment, for my customers will have nothing else in the way of dyestuffs.

TWELVE PERISHED.

A Thunder Storm Plays Havoc With an Austrian Village.

VIENNA, March 9.—Lichtenwarth, a village of 1,100 inhabitants in Lower Austria, has been swept by a terrific thunder storm.

The storm lasted for 15 hours, during which lightning was almost incessant.

Twelve houses were struck by lightning and burned.

Five persons were struck dead in the streets, and seven perished in the burning buildings.

All the trees near the town were leveled to the ground, and many cattle were killed.

TO AVENGE AN INSULT.

Two Elizabeth Men Fight Fifty Brutal Rounds Prize Ring Rules.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 8.—It has just been given that Joseph Cates and Edward Corcoran, two well known young men of this town, fought fifty rounds, prize ring rules, Tuesday night at a prominent place in Elizabeth to avenge an insult arising out of a game of cards.

The fight was a brutal one, both being horribly mutilated at the finish. Cates broke his arm in the seventh round and fought in that condition to the end of the fight. Corcoran towards the end got well out one of Cates' eyes. The police, as soon as the facts became known, secured the names of all persons present, and they have been notified to appear in court to-morrow.

All are members of society and a great sensation was caused by the disclosure.

Italian Contract Laborers Barred.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Fourteen Italians who arrived here on the French line steamship La Bretagne have been barred at Ellis Island as contract laborers. Eleven of the men were booked for Joliet, Ill., where they had secured work in an iron mill; the other three intended going to Chicago. They will be sent back to Italy.

President of the Western Union.

NEW YORK, March 9.—At the meeting of the board of directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company at noon Gen. Thomas T. Eckert was elected president and general manager of the company.

The Smoke Nuisance.

Mrs. Billus—Here you come again, smelling of tobacco. You know smoking is very offensive to me!

Mr. Billus—So it is to me, Maria. Phew! Turn down the parlor lamp.—Chicago Tribune.

Food for Reflection.

She—All men are liars.

He—Aw! really you shouldn't say that now.

She—Well, perhaps you aren't, but all nice ones are, anyway.—Truth.

A Modest Doctor.

An unfortunate woman was run over by a Broadway street car. A crowd gathered around the victim. After some delay a doctor appeared on the scene. It was too late. The poor woman was dead even before the doctor arrived.

"Oh, doctor, if you had only come a little sooner," said a voice in the crowd.

"Even if I had come sooner, what more could I have done for her?" replied the doctor, modestly glancing at the placid features of the remains.—Texas Siftings.

Not That Kind.

"One strong point about this broom," said the grocer, "is the handle. It's made of tough, seasoned wood. You could knock a man down with it and not break it."

"I think," observed Mr. Enpecque, timidly, "I would—hum—prefer one with a pine handle, if you please."—Chicago Tribune.

His Treasure.

"You wrong him, papa; he does not love me for my money. He scoffs at the world's sordid eagerness for wealth."

"What proof have you, child?"

"Why, only last night he told me he didn't care if he never was able to make a cent in his life, if he only had me!"—N. Y. Journal.

A Clashing of Interests.

Spencer—What is the matter with the parson and the doctor that they cannot agree?

Ferguson—The parson says the doctor is so contrary. Just as soon as he gets a man properly prepared for the other world the doctor goes to work and cures him, and vice versa.—Truth.

A Disagreeable Name.

Clara—Papa wouldn't let me marry him on account of his name.

Maud—His name?

Clara—Yes; he said it gave him a shock every time he heard it.

Maud—What was it?

Clara—Bill.—Brooklyn Life.

Had All She Needed.

He (after a long explanation as to why he loves her)—In view of all this, Miss Marlow—Estelle—I offer you my hand.

Secundus—But he proved that his father was a tramp.—Judge.

A New Definition.

"Mamma," said Willyboy, "I want to ask one more question."

"Very well, Willyboy."

"Are sweetbreads made of loaf sugar?"—Puck.

One More Style.

"I never saw a portrait of a face like that before."

"Neither did I. It must be a picture of Columbus."—Chicago News Record.

An Afflicted Nose.

Mamma—Frances, doesn't that flower smell sweet, dear?

Frances (aged 4)—I tan't 'mell it. I dess my nose is deaf.—Puck.

Judging from the Family.

Chappy—My brother is a fool.

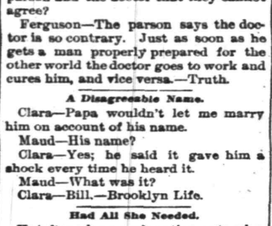
Penelope—I have never met him, but I can readily believe it.—Boston Globe.

That's How.

She—How do you like my new hat?

He—In the bandbox.—Chicago News Record.

A POPULAR SONG.



"There's music in the heir."—Judge.

A Reproof.

Fashionable Mother (languidly)—Well, Sarah, how is baby to-day?

Maid—He cut two teeth this morning, ma'am.

Fashionable Mother (still more languidly)—That was very negligent of you, Sarah. You ought not to let a young baby play with a knife.—Truth.

Fulfilling His Mission.

Miss Goodsoul—That was so true, what our minister said to-day.

Gayboy—What was that?

Miss Goodsoul—"Man lives but for a time."

Gayboy—Well, he generally has it.—Jury.

No Hope of Getting Money Back.

Artist—Just look, darling! I was short of canvas, so I've stretched a clean pocket handkerchief; see how splendidly it takes the paint!

His Prudent Little Wife—Oh, John, dear, how extravagant of you! It'll never come out.—Boston Globe.

A Talented Goat.

"Where have you been, Tommy?"

"Out in the stable giving my goat drawing lessons. I teached him how to draw a wagon."—Harper's Young People.

Over the Coffee-Cups.

"Your speech is rather sharp, I think," complained Mrs. Hawkins.

"I have to make it so to get it in edgewise," retorted Hawkins.—Truth.

SHE PROVES IT.

And the Proof is Just What Our Readers Want.

Of How It Began She Hasn't the Slightest Idea.

But Concerning Its Ending She is Explicit and Exact.

We never know just how a thing begins. But we are always certain of the results which are left.

These reflections were called out by the fact that it is so easy to drift into anything. In this world we must keep our eyes about us or we shall constantly find ourselves drifting into trouble.

We call to mind an instance in which a most estimable lady unconsciously and without knowing when or how, allowed herself to drift into what became to her a most serious matter and caused many years of anxiety and suffering.

This lady is widely known—Mrs. Mary Jane Foster of 327 West 21st street, New York City, and what she says are true and exact facts, as can be easily and readily ascertained by anyone. If experience is of any use, hers is certainly a revelation to be heeded by all.

Without knowing their meaning she had a dull feeling head, headaches, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, especially mornings. Her sleep was broken and she would wake mornings feeling tired and exhausted; after a time the appetite became irregular, there was a fullness or bloated feeling after meals, risings of gas, sour stomach, billousness and constipation—such symptoms, in fact as people frequently experience during the spring of the year.

MRS. MARY JANE FOSTER.

"Why," she said, "for years after I suffered from the worst form of dyspepsia, with gas and fermentation of food, and terrible spasms that seemed to start at the stomach and rise to the head.

"Even the lightest food caused great pain and distress after eating, and I also suffered with great exhaustion, dizziness of the head and weakness of the limbs so that I could scarcely stand on my feet.

"But I am now completely cured by the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I take pleasure in giving my experience to the public in order that other sufferers may be cured as I have been."

Look out for such troubles in the beginning. Now, in the spring, when everybody is certain to be more or less out of order and needs a spring medicine, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy immediately, for it is the best and surest of all spring medicines. It will invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and give you perfect digestion and regular action of liver, kidneys and bowels. All druggists keep it for $1.00, and it is purely vegetable and harmless.

It is the great remedy recommended by doctors for spring debility and diseases because it is the discovery and prescription of the well-known physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted without charge by anyone, either at his office or by writing to him.

IN SWELL APARTMENTS.

An Immense Hotel to Be Erected for Maiden Ladies.

Money Ready and Plans Made—No Ridiculous Rules and Restrictions or Offensive Espionage to Be Tolerated—Ready Next Fall.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

NEW YORK is going to have an apartment house for women, and, considering the five thousand women artists, musicians, journalists, bookkeepers, stenographers and students scattered around in dingy boarding houses and dark flats, there is certainly great need of at least one commodious structure that shall be well lighted, well ventilated and well appointed, where womankind can have freedom and comfort at a moderate cost, and where climbing stairs—that bane of woman's health and consumer of woman's strength—shall give way to the restfulness of an elevator.

It is a peculiar fact that, while all avenues of work and study have been opened up to woman and she has demonstrated her ability to earn her own living and take care of herself, there has never been any cognizance of her individuality, no place provided for her to live.

Bachelor apartments, with elegant entrances suggesting the luxuries within, display their aggravating signs in every quarter; old-time mansions, in convenient locations, have been thoroughly renovated and rearranged in suites and single rooms, for "gentlemen only," and even the high-toned boarding-houses imagine it adds to their dignity to advertise "gentlemen preferred."

What, then, is the business woman to do? A single woman looking for desirable quarters in New York at present will have some very amusing as well as annoying experiences. She will find it hard to get into a first-class house unless it is so late in the season that the landlady has no hope of securing another man, and she will not seldom find that she is paying a dollar or two more by the week than did the man occupying the room before her—to cover gas used in crimping her hair, extra service required of servants, etc. A woman asking accommodation for two will be met with the utmost graciousness until the landlady discovers that the second party is not a husband, but another woman; then there is crawfishing and finally a flat statement that she makes it a rule to take in "only families and gentlemen."

This sort of thing leaves the woman little choice and usually drives her into an ordinary house where she must pay eight, nine or ten dollars a week for board and a hall bedroom she can't turn around in. These hall bedrooms have no means of heat except from the hall or by a gas stove at one dollar a week extra. The coziest of them have a mantel bed and two chairs, but it is obvious that to see callers in such quarters is out of the question. It is not a home in any sense of the word.

Perhaps the woman rents a square room, furnished; here at least, she can do as she pleases. But she is compelled to go out for her meals, in all states of health and weather; only bachelor apartments have restaurants attached.

The only alternative is a flat, at from thirty to fifty dollars a month, with steam heat, and perhaps gas. In this flat there will be one light room, the front one. It will glory in the possession of two windows, while the kitchen in the rear will have but one, and the rooms between none at all unless there happens to be an air shaft or a sky light. And, by the way, these makeshifts are advertised as "light" rooms. New York being built up so solidly that every inch of light space is valuable in proportion to the ground space.

Mrs. Wheeler and Miss Lewis between them evolved by degrees and much deliberation a practical plan for a woman's apartment house in all its details, and then submitted it to a number of women of influence and wealth. It was decided to organize a stock company at twenty-five dollars a share, each share entitling the holder to a vote in the management of the company and the building. Stanford White, the well-known architect, was called into council, and drew up plans for a nine-story fireproof building, of artistic but not elaborate design in stone and pressed brick, to be erected on a corner lot, with an open court in the middle, for as many light rooms as possible. The site selected was on Fourth avenue and Twenty-eighth street, convenient to car lines and elevated stations, but the owner of the middle lot, supposing his land indispensable to the scheme, promptly went up ten thousand dollars in his price, and the committee promptly dropped that location. They are now hesitating between two other equally good, and if anything more reasonable, so the greedy landowner did not serve them so mean a trick after all.

The building will accommodate five hundred women, in single rooms or suites, according to their incomes. The architect has made out a scale of prices which are fairly accurate, and which he predicts will be an inducement to occupants and pay stockholders a reasonable per cent. on their investment.

Single rooms, furnished with heat and light, three or four dollars a week, according to location; one room and bath, five dollars; parlor, sleeping room and bath, seven dollars; parlor, two sleeping rooms and bath, ten dollars. For those desiring to "keep house" there will be unfurnished apartments with kitchen, to be leased by the year, while the others will be let from month to month, so that parties away for the summer, and who cannot afford to pay for their rooms during vacation, will not be obliged to do so. There will be two elevators in the building, and the services of a porter and a chambermaid at nominal rates.

The management of the entire house will be as in any first-class appartments. Ironclad references as to respectability and reliability will be required and will be thoroughly looked into; but once a woman is admitted there will be no espionage. Of course, if an occupant annoys a neighbor she will be asked to desist or go, or if compromising rumors force themselves on the manager of the house they will be investigated, but not to the extent of suspicion and spying without cause, as has been the bete noir of well-intentioned women from the beginning of their independence. It may be that an occasional undesirable tenant may be taken in, but it may safely be predicted that she won't stay long, and the women in general are not to be treated with any the less consideration on that account. Their friends, both men and women, may be entertained in their rooms as in their own homes—something that is not permitted in the average New York boarding house. The stenographer can open an office in her sitting-room, to save rent, and the dressmaker carry on business in connection with her living rooms. The walls will be deadened so that music teachers and pupils may practice in peace, and the top floor will be reserved for studios with the necessary top north light. In fact, everything will be done with the welfare of the workingwomen in view—something that seems too good to be true to the woman who has battled with circumstances in New York for the past ten years.

It will be essentially a woman's building, and it is to be hoped that the different clubs, schools and branches of business peculiar to women will gather under one roof, to be easily found when wanted. There will be a telegraph and telephone office with women operators and a book and news stand with women clerks. The ground floor will be divided into stores, and here should be installed manicures, hairdressers, gloves and notions, fancy work—every branch of business that a woman carries on successfully.

The restaurant in connection will be under the management of a woman, on salary if possible, so there will be no idea of gain, but merely of supplying the very best that can be afforded at moderate prices, and it will be a public restaurant, open to both men and women, avoiding the forlornness of an old maids' lunch room.

There will be a fine opening for Turkish baths, as there is but one place in New York where a woman can have a bath after one o'clock, and that is a dingy place which is practically out of the busy woman's reach, because it is not open evenings, Sundays or holidays, as the men's baths are. In a building where women live there will be the added luxury of a bath and bed directly afterward, instead of dressing and going into the outdoor air, risking one's death of cold.

The open court has already been spoken for the sale of potted plants and cut flowers by a woman florist on Long Island, and a bower of beauty it will be. A library will probably be donated as a memorial by a philanthropic woman, and the Associated Artists—an association composed mainly of women—will give their services in the interior decoration.

A large assembly room will be a decided feature of the building. Sorosis pays Sherry one hundred dollars a month for the occasional use of certain rooms; the Woman's Press club and the Twelfth Night girls are awfully crowded for space when they undertake to entertain their friends, and the various other women's clubs greatly need suitable quarters for public meetings, receptions, dinners, etc. This assembly room in a woman's building will fill a long felt want.

Anyway, next September or October will find the building ready for occupancy, just in time to get settled for the winter, and if the building proves to have been established on a satisfactory basis capitalists will see the advantage of such an investment and with other buildings will rush in where before they feared to tread

A Complete Giveaway.

Judge Duffy—You are accused of having stolen a coat from Mr. Smith's room.

Crook—No, your honor, I know nothing at all about the coat.

"It appears that it was worth about twenty dollars."

"Now, your honor, you can see for yourself what the testimony is worth. This is the very coat that I have on."—Texas Siftings.

A STRIKING BRUNETTE.

—Life.

A Simple Matter of Finance.

"I'm afraid we cannot live here on the money we have, James," said Mrs. James.

"Why, of course we can. There are eighteen grocers and fifteen butchers in the town. When our bills get up to a certain point, we can always change from one to another."—Harper's Bazar

A Difference.

"If he owes you $10 and has forgotten it why don't you ask him for it?"

"That would look sordid."

"But you've borrowed $10 from him many a time."

"I know it, but that's different. Borrowing has a sporty look about it."—Chicago Tribune.

A Dissatisfied Man.

Prison Visitor—You seem an honest fellow, and I feel an interest in you. Could anything be done to make you more comfortable?

"You bet!"

"What?"

"Let me out!"—Texas Siftings.

An Aggregation of Talent.

Billy Frontrow—Then you think you have a good company, this season?

Enthusiastic Manager—A good company! Why, they're all stars, sir! Every lady in the cast is a celebrated divorcee, and every man has won his prize fight.—Puck.

A Surprising Procedure.

Tommy Cubbage (at the Sunday dinner table)—Mrs. Tillinghast had her knitting at church this morning.

Mrs. Cubbage (shocked)—What on earth was she knitting in church?

Tommy—Her brows.—Judge.

Not a Literary Man.

Skidds—You don't know her very well, then?

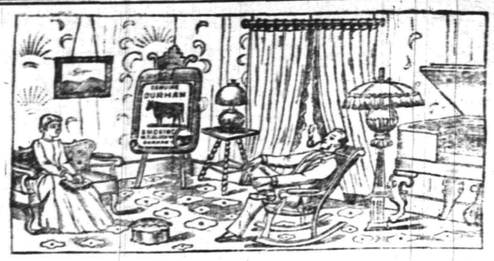
Spatts—I said I could read her like a book.

Skidds—That's what made me infer you didn't know her very well.—Truth

Very Thorough.

Mother—Is your Uncle John's wife a thorough housekeeper?

Small Son (just back from a visit)—I guess so. I was just as uncomfortable with her as I am with you.—Good News.



Ladies Do you want to keep your husband home at night, and keep him agreeable and pleasant? He likes a smoke, and yet, you don't like the smell of his tobacco. You can drive him away to his club—out of just such things come misery, unhappiness and divorce. The trouble is that he uses poor tobacco. Coax him to get BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO; its delicate aroma will not be offensive to you, and it will not fill all the curtains, hangings and clothing with that stale disagreeable odor that now troubles you. Keep your husband home, and avoid all risks by having him smoke BULL DURHAM TOBACCO. Sold everywhere.

BAIHAUT'S CONFESSION

Causing Great Consternation in France's Capital.

DISCLOSURES IN THE PANAMA TRIAL

While Giving His Testimony M. Baihaut Breaks Down—He Acknowledges His Guilt and is Willing to Take the Punishment—M. Fontane Causes a Small Uproar in the Court Room—Others Testify.

PARIS, March 10.—The developments brought out by the testimony of Charles de Lesseps and M. Baihaut in the Panama canal scandal trial are causing great consternation through the length and breadth of France.

When first called upon to answer the charge that he had demanded and accepted a bribe of $200,000 from the canal company, M. Baihaut showed a disposition to throw the blame upon M. Blondin, the go-between in the negotiations. Yesterday M. Baihaut said:

"I acted at the instigation of Blondin, to whom I gave $1,500. I have wished to restore the money I received, but I feared thereby to accuse myself."

Up to this moment M. Baihaut had spoken clearly. Now, however, he broke down, and with a pitiful expression of sorrow and despair exclaimed in a broken voice:

"I acknowledge having been led astray. I am guilty. My words express the grief and repentance I feel. I do not yet understand how I could have fallen so low. I ask pardon of my country, whose good name I have perhaps sullied."

There was a decided stir in the court room when M. Baihaut began his pitiful avowal of guilt, and this increased to a sensation as he closed in words that were almost broken through his agitation.

As soon as he regained his self control he said:

"I ask pardon from my country for having compromised its honor, if, indeed, its honor can be compromised by the fault of an individual, and I am full of respect for the justice of my country and bow beforehand to the decision which may be given. I was wrong to deny my guilt at first, but when afterwards I confessed I did so of my own accord, for I was ignorant that traces had been found of the money I had paid to the Comptoir d'Escompte."

To the questions of the judge he gave full and clear answers, telling all he knew about the lottery transactions and the parts Blondin took.

Blondin, who was next examined, denied having played the part attributed to him by Baihut and said that he had not been the instigator of the steps taken, nor had he received the 750,000 francs commission. He claimed that he had acted in good faith and believed that the million asked for by Baihut was destined for a campaign in the press against the fall and rise of Panama shares. The President then re-examined Baihut, who persisted in his statements.

In the midst of M. Baihut's statement M. Fonetane sprang to his feet and shouted: "That statement is a tissue of falsehoods. The witness has not spoken a word of truth."

Turning upon his accuser M. Baihut said slowly: "I affirm that what I have said is the exact truth and nothing but the truth."

In examining Sans-Leroy, the next witness, Judge Desjardins recalled that while a member of the Parliamentary Committee on the Lottery bill the prisoner had opposed the canal company, then making proposals to Deputies. M. Sans-Leroy harily waited for the judge to cease speaking before exclaiming angrily:

"I am amazed that the prosecution should dare hasten on a word or two, spoken by me to the examining magistrate, in order to throw me into prison, while they forget to arrest many others whom they know are really criminals."

Slight applause followed this outbreak, which Judge Desjardins dismissed, with a warning to the witness that he must speak more moderately.

To other questions of the judge he replied with much cynicism and effrontery.

After other minor testimony by Senator Berel, accused of having received 40,000 francs, Deputies La Fanconnerie and Anatole Proust and ex-Deputy Godron the trial was adjourned.

Corbett's Opinion of Fitz.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 10.—Champion J. J. Corbett, speaking of the Fitzsimmons-Hall fight, said: "It is the greatest middleweight fight that ever took place in this country, and Fitzsimmons is undoubtedly the greatest middleweight in the world. It will take a heavyweight to knock him out, and in my opinion nobody but Jackson or Slavin can beat him. I hate to admit this, but I am compelled to do so."

Decision in a Famous Case.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 10.—Judge Thayer of the Superior Court has overruled the demurrer of Attorneys Fessenden and Glover in the famous controversy between Clapp, Spooner and the Adams Express company. Mr. Spooner demurred against the previous actions of the company and asked for a trial by jury. The decision is said to have an important bearing on the result of the case.

Stabbed an Italian.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., March 10.—John Summerville, colored, 23 years old, being attacked by a gang of Italian laborers employed in making the improvements on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at this place, in defending himself, stabbed Joseph Morello, probably fatally wounding him. Summerville was arrested and locked up to await the result of Morello's injuries.

Rippey Not Yet Ready for Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—To an attorney who called on W. C. Rippey, Mackay's would-be assassin, in regard to his defense in his prospective trial, Rippey said he did not care to do anything in the matter until he left the hospital. Mackay continues on the road to complete recovery.

Rush of Divorce Cases in Oklahoma.

SAW TOOK A JUMP.

Flying Out It Kills One Man and Maims Another.

WYANDOTTE, Mich., March 10.—Herman Meine and Amos Coan were using an old fashioned machine saw yesterday converting a lot of timber into logs and sticks. Meinke placed an extra heavy and knotty piece of wood on the table. While he adjusted it he and Coan, who stood directly back of him, were engaged in conversation.

When the blade had dug its way about half through the wood it struck a snag, and the saw leaped from its bearings. In its flight through the air it took a slightly upward direction, and the blade struck Meinke squarely in the breast.

The saw severed the ribs as if they were made of paper, and, striking the heart full in the centre, cut that organ in two.

Meinke was thrown backward by the force of the blow, and the saw, thus released, flew over the dead man's shoulder, and, striking Coan on the left arm, cut that member clean off about four inches below the shoulder.

The accident was caused by the breaking of a wooden screw with which the saw had been fastened to the frame.

TRUE BILLS FOUND.

The Leechburg Bank Robbers to be Tried for the Murder of Shaffer.

KITTANNING, Pa., March 10.—The grand jury has found true bills against Sprague, Ryan, Kromer and Wyckoff, charging the first three with burglary, all four with the murder of William C. Shaffer at Leechburg on Feb. 11, and Dr. Wyckoff with keeping a gambling house.

The announcement of the finding of the grand jury was received with manifest satisfaction by the throng that filled the court room.

Attorney Clark, who has been engaged to defend the prisoners, asked for a continuance of the trial until June. Prosecuting Attorney Leason insisted that the nature of the case demanded immediate trial, and Judge Rayburn refused the application for a continuance.

The session of the Criminal Court begins next Monday, and it is likely that the prisoners will be tried during the week.

THE LICENSE STANDS.

Eaton Township Decides to Allow the Monmouth Track.

EATONTOWN, N. J., March 10.—The township committee of Eaton township, which granted the Monmouth Park association a license to race last Tuesday, has met again at Norwood hall, Branchburg, on a call of J. D. Van Note, chairman of the committee.

The object of the meeting was to revoke the license. Resolutions presented to the committee by Mr. Van Note to revoke and annul the license were put to a vote and lost two to one.

The license fee was then fixed, and instead of $1 a year being charged the committee made it $5,000 a year, payable within 30 days of Feb. 27 of each year.

TOOK 100 BALLOTS.

And Yet the Washington Legislature Failed to Elect a U. S. Senator.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 10.—The final ballot, the 100th, was taken in joint session of the Legislature yesterday for U. S. Senator.

It resulted as follows: Allen, 50; Turner, 24; Griggs, 8; Shaw, 15; scattering, 14. The joint session then dissolved.

It is expected that Allen will be appointed by the Governor.

Made Bequests to Church Work.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., March 10.—The will of the late John N. Stickney, entered for probate here, makes these bequests: American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, $5,000; Missionary Society of Connecticut, $2,500; Fund for Ministers, $1,000; American Missionary Association, $1,000; Union Church, of Rockville, $1,000; Congregational Church Building Society, $1,000; Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society, $500.

No Disregarded the Signals.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 10.—The coroner's jury in the case of George Phillips, the engineer, who was killed in the collision at Chadsford, found a verdict that he came to his death by disregarding the signals, and that he had been guilty of carelessness. Phillips' train struck a farm wagon near Kennett Square a few minutes before it struck the Wilmington & Northern freight train, but no one was hurt.

Crushed by Ice at Niagara Falls.

BUFFALO, March 10.—The weight of the ice in the gorge below Niagara Falls crushed and destroyed the lower part of the inclined railway building. The crash came with great suddenness, overturning the stove, and setting the light wooden structure on fire. Edward Lane, the ticket taker, was in the office at the time, and was rescued very badly injured, and only just alive. It is feared he will die.

Roman Catholic Day at the Fair.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Secretary Culp of the World's Fair Committee on Ceremonies has set apart Sep. 2 as Roman Catholic Education Day. Festival Hall has been engaged for a celebration from 9 a. m. until noon. The ceremonies will be carried out under the direction of Bishop Spalding. Archbishop Feehan will preside. Among the Addresses will be one by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia.

RECALL OF THE TREATY

What the Hawaiian Commissioners Think of It.

GOLD IN THE TREASURY INCREASES

Said that the Issue of Bonds Will Not be Necessary—Doings of the Senate—Naval Review Date Changed—Princess Kaiulani Visits the Theatre.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The news that the annexation treaty had been withdrawn from the executive files of the Senate by President Cleveland was not so much of a surprise to the Hawaiian Commissioners as to the general public. Mr. Thurston said that he had received an intimation yesterday that such a proceeding was likely to take place. None of them were willing to express an opinion upon the meaning of the movement, but apparently were not greatly discouraged over the situation.

"We are willing," said one of them, "to discuss the matter with the new Secretary of State, and endeavor to meet the views of the present administration. We are not bound to any particular wording of the document.

"Whether we would discuss a treaty looking to any other form of union with the United States, I cannot say just at present."

It is said to be the purpose of the Hawaiian commissioners to request a conference with Secretary Gresham at the earliest convenient time upon this new phase of affairs.

Secretary Gresham was asked whether or not there was any explanation to be made of the withdrawal.

"No," he replied; "at least, not at present."

A prominent Senator, whose relations with the Executive are believed to be more than ordinarily intimate, said:

"I can readily see how the withdrawal of the treaty does not mean antagonism by the President to the project of annexation; it means a desire on his part to become more familiar with the contents of the treaty before giving it his approval. I imagine he is going to look closely into the matter and be guided by the results of his own investigation."

It was the understanding before the Senate met to-day that the treaty should be taken up for consideration in the executive session this afternoon.

GOLD COMING IN.

No Necessity of Issuing Bonds—Parity of Gold and Silver.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Treasury yesterday received gold at several points. In New York the gain in gold was $100,000, while at New Orleans it received $20,000 in gold for a like amount in silver certificates.

No intimation has yet been received that any gold will be exported from New York to-morrow, and at the present rate of exchange it is not thought that any will be taken out of the country.

The Treasury has now more than $3,000,000 in free gold, and in the usual condition of trade this is likely to be increased rather than diminished.

It is quite plainly intimated at the Treasury Department to-day that as between the issue of bonds and the use of a portion of the $100,000,000 gold reserve, if necessary, to maintain the parity of gold and silver, Secretary Carlisle will resort to the latter plan, but that he does not anticipate that the necessity to do so will arise.

FOR FOREIGN PORTS.

Surgeons Appointed for Duty as Government Quarantine Inspectors.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—In accordance with the Quarantine act, the following officers of the Marine Hospital service have been selected by the Surgeon General for duty at foreign ports to inspect vessels before their departure for this country. The details have been approved by the Secretary of the Treasury and President Cleveland:

Surgeon Fairfax Irwin, at Marseilles; Passed Assistant Surgeon J. H. White, Hainburg; Passed Assistant Surgeon W. J. Pettus, Southampton; Passed Assistant Surgeon R. M. Woodward, Rotterdam; Assistant Surgeon G. B. Young, Naples; Assistant Surgeon B. W. Brown, Genoa; Assistant Surgeon, E. R. Houghton, Havre, Assistant Surgeon E. J. Rosenau, Antwerp.

ADJOURNED TILL MONDAY.

The Senate Opposed to the Reception Now of Legislative Business.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—To Senate had a pretty long discussion as to the reception of joint resolutions or other propositions affecting legislative business—the general expression being against their reception.

A resolution excluding such business was offered by Mr. Manderson (Rep., Neb.) and was allowed to go over without action till Monday next.

The Senate then proceeded to executive business, and after a few minutes adjourned till Monday.

Great Interest in the Panama Trials.

PARIS, March 10.—Interest in the Panama trial is increasing, and the greatest curiosity is shown as to the coming developments. It is reported that the frankness with which Charles de Lesseps told his story has caused surprise and some consternation in certain high circles, and that considerable anxiety has been felt in the same quarters as to subsequent testimony.

Brodie Arranges a Prize Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, March 10.—Steve Brodie has matched Billy McCarthy, of Australia, against George Lablanche, the Marine, for $2,000 a side, the fight to take place six weeks after the McCarthy-McCue ten-round fight at Coney Island.

LILLIUOKALANI SPEAKS.

No Need of a Change of Government—Personal Liberty Secure There.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10—A statement from the ex-Queen Lilliuokalani has been published in which she denounces Minister Stevens and gives her view of the late occurrences.

Of the events of Jan. 17, the day of the overthrow of the monarchy, the Queen says:

"I need only say that my one anxiety was to avoid violence and bloodshed. I had abundant force to quell the revolution, three times as strong as the one with which I was confronted, but the American Minister had already landed his troops, in secret understanding with the revolutionists, and no sooner was the proclamation read than he immediately recognized the Provisional Government, giving it the support of the United States forces.

"The circumstances of the case do not call for a change of government. Annexation is repugnant to the feelings of every native Hawaiian, as well as to many foreigners. Annexation is not necessary for the ends of policy or civilization, or commerce or security. The prosperity of merchants is abundant refutation to the assertions of those who bewail commercial bankruptcy.

"Personal liberty is as secure in Honolulu as in Washington. Let not the Americans commit the ignoble, un-American act of forcibly annexing a population struggling to raise itself from the traditions of recent barbarism."

WHO STOLE THE TROUSERS?

Wyoming's Governor Accuses a Friend of Committing the Theft.

CHEYENNE, March 10.—Cheyenne is just now in the throes of a sensation over a bitter quarrel between Governor Osborne and Dr. Wm. A. Olmsted. They occupy rooms in the same building and a few nights ago a new pair of trousers belonging to the Governor were missing.

The Governor accused Olmstead of taking them. The latter denied the accusation.

A search revealed the missing pants stowed away in a closet. The seriousness of the matter developed when it became known that $300 in gold, which was in the pockets of the pants had disappeared and Marshal Rankin has been instructed to investigate the matter.

Olmstead was one of the Governor's supporters during the campaign and was a candidate for Adjutant-General.

The affair has created intense excitement and will not end soon.

THE ANN ARBOR STRIKE.

Trains to be Running Soon—The Wreck Caused by a Washout.

TOLEDO, O., March 10.—When the Ann Arbor engineers and firemen went out Wednesday they left the engines and loaded freight trains where they happened to be on the road and the new hands have had all they could so far do hauling engines back to the round-houses and clearing the main track of freight cars.

The Ann Arbor officials claim to have more than enough new men to fill all the places vacated and they sent out circulars to their connections stating that they would receive freight as usual.

General Manager Ashley said that as soon as soon they new organization is in working order they will run the principal passenger trains and will put off four freight trains immediately. The ditching of No. 4, the mail train last night was not the work of strikers. The accident was caused by a washout.

ANOTHER PLAN.

Trying to Get Sunday Opening for the Fair on States Rights Grounds.

CHICAGO, March 10.—The endeavor to secure the opening of the World's Fair on Sunday will be transferred from the State Courts to those of the United States. An attempt will be made to get the United States Supreme Court to issue an injunction against restraining the opening of the gates.

To do this the suit will have to be brought in the name of the State and Attorney General Moloney has given his consent.

The grounds of complaint will be that the corporation is an Illinois one and Congress has no power to make the obnoxious restriction.

Streator Charges Insubordination.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 10. — Col. Streator of the Tenth Regiment, N. G. P., has stated here that he was not alarmed in regard to the charges made against him. He is preparing charges of insubordination against Captain Brazier and others of the State Fencibles, which will be forwarded to Gen. Snowden. He also said one of the captains of the Carolina troops witnessed the whole affair and pledged his command to assist the Tenth Regiment in case a fight occurred.

Sergeant Crowley After a Pardon.

NEW YORK, March 10.—District Attorney Nicoll is in receipt of a communication from Gov. Flower asking his opinion of the merits of the application for a pardon of David H. Crowley, formerly a sergeant of the New York police force. Crowley was charged with a criminal assault upon Maggie Morris, April 25, 1885. He was convicted and sentenced to State prison for 17 years and 6 months on May 18, 1885, by Recorder Smyth.

Another Buffalo Hanging.

BUFFALO, March 10.—Albert Summers was found hanging dead at his late home by police officers of this city. Just when the act was done is not known but the man had been missing for a week. Summers was about 45 years of age. He and his father had lived together for years until about a month ago, when the old man, who was then 75 years of age, committed suicide in the same manner as his son.

Decision Regarding Unborn Heirs.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 10.—In the McLean Circuit Court Judge Tipton decided that the interest of unborn heirs can be legally sold and the purchaser be given a perfect title. He also decided that the money derived from the sale of the interest must be preserved until it was certain who all his heirs might be.

Wisconsin Coal Find.

ORIENDA, Wis., March 10.—The excitement over the coal find on the farm of Watkins Jones, south of this city, increases. Jones has made application to the State Geological Bureau to have a diamond drill and outfit sent and to have the bed thoroughly explored.

Smallpox in New Brunswick.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 10.—A second case of smallpox at 17 Nelson street has been reported to the board of health. Adam Freeham, father of the child that was taken with it a week ago, is now down with the disease.

CROW INDIANS AROUSED

Open War Between Them and the Settlers.

LITTLE FACE, THE CHIEF, SHOT DEAD

The Indians Ordered the Settlers Off the Newly Opened Reservation—The Latter Say They Won't Go and Are Preparing for a Siege—Little Face, While Reaching for His Gun to Shoot, is Killed by a Settler's Bullet—The Braves Then Scattered

LAUREL, Mont., March 10.—Open warfare has broken out between the settlers on the newly opened portion of the Crow reservation and the Indians, and the wildest excitement exists at the new town of Wilsey and the country round about.

Ranchmen around Wilsey are moving their wives and children to places of safety, and preparing to defend their claims with their lives if necessary.

The first bloodshed occurred during the morning. Little Face, a Crow Indian, being killed. His body was brought to Wilsey.

The Indians, to whom land has just been allotted in severalty, are enraged at the encroachments of the whites, and undertook to drive off a settler named Henderson.

On Monday they drove Henderson away, but he returned with a couple of friends, all armed. The red men gathered in a clump of timber and sent Little Face forward.

He told Henderson if he remained on the tract 24 hours he would be scalped and his body fed to the crows. He then whistled and his companions began to pour out of the woods. At the same time he reached for his gun, which he had set against a tree.

He was not quick enough, however, as Henderson shot him through the heart.

With a wild yell his companions disappeared at double quick into the woods.

The Crows are making medicine and preparing for actual war. This is the first time the Crows have shown hostility to the whites.

It is expected that two or three companies of United States regulars will be ordered to Wilsey as soon as the War Department can be informed of the critical state of affairs that exists there.

The New York Team About Settled.

NEW YORK, March 10.—John J. Doyle, the crack catcher, batter, base runner and all-around player of the giants of last year has been signed by Manager Ward. The signing of Doyle makes a full nine engaged by the New York club as follows: Ward, Crane, Doyle, Davis, Keeler, Tiernan, Burke, Lyons and McQuaid. Negotiations are in progress and in a fair way of settlement for Roger Connor.

Floods in Niagara County.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., March 10.—The thaw of the past few days has covered whole fields with water, and creeks are beginning to rise all over Niagara county, between Tonawanda and Lockport, and Tonawanda and Niagara Falls. There are large tracts of land turned into lakes, and some farm houses are surrounded by water ranging from a foot to three feet in depth.

A Missing Consumptive.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 10.—Charles A. Sunburg left his home here two weeks ago, having in his possession $300 which he expected to use to gain admittance to a consumptive hospital in New York. He has not been seen since. As far as can be learned he did not enter a hospital in New York. He left a wife and mute daughter here.

Graham Given an Honorable Discharge.

HARTFORD, March 10.—Gov. Morris has instructed Adjutant-General Dudley to issue an order giving ex Brigadier-General Charles P. Graham of Middletown an honorable discharge from the date of his removal by Gov. Bulkely, and revoking the former order which discharged him for the benefit of the service. The Senate had already refused to restore him to command.

Another Chicago Strike.

CHICAGO, March 10.—About 300 architectural iron workers employed by Geo. A. Fuller have gone on strike as a result of a dispute between the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union and the Architectural Iron Workers' Union. There is no question of wages involved, the trouble being over the equal recognition of men employed.

Fatally Wounded By Robbers.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 10.—A. R. Hudson, station agent at Ensign, six miles south of this city, on the Iron Mountain road, was held up Tuesday night by two men and robbed of $12, all the cash in the ticket office. Hudson resisted the robbers, and was fatally wounded. He was shot in the arm and left breast.

To Rescue Lincoln's Grave.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Chicago citizens will meet to-day to take steps for raising a fund to put in repair the grave of Lincoln at Springfield. For years the grave has been in chare of a private company, who charged 25 cents admission to visitors. Fifty thousand dollars are needed.

No Higher Wages for Switchmen.

CHICAGO, March 10.—Without a dissenting vote the general managers of the 32 railroads entering Chicago determined at their meeting to refuse any demands for increased wages of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association. The switchmen have not yet decided what course they will pursue.

Reception to the Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Senator McPherson has issued invitations to the members of the Senate and other well-known public men to meet at his residence the new Vice-President, Wednesday evening March 15, between 9 and 12 p. m.

Strangled After Birth.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 10.—The body of a female infant strangled after birth was found in the yard of Mrs. Pease's boarding house here this morning. There is no clue as to the identity of the murderer.

Fatally Wounded in Poughkeepsie.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 10.—Rev. R. R. Farrier, has formally accepted the call to the pulpit of the Baptist Church in Poughkeepsie, which has been vacant about six months.

Gold Increases in France.

PARIS, March 10.—The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows an increase of 575,000 francs in gold and a decrease of 1,950,000 francs in silver.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-Morrow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Oriental degree was worked last evening in Franklin council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M.

—Butter, from 25 cents up, may be had at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association.

—This has been the best year ever known, under the borough form of government in North Plainfield, thanks to Mayor Saunders.

—Tickets for the Y. M. C. A. lectures may be obtained from W. H. Williams, Geo. W. Moore, Asa Collier, M. C. Dobbins, R. J. Shaw, or at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

—The fire insurance companies, through their representative, W. A. Woodruff, have adjusted the losses of the Heideloff fire on Somerset street, with the owner of the building and the tenants.

—Chas. McCutchen will conduct the prayer meeting of the Young People's League of the First Baptist church to-night at 8. The topic will be "Make your election sure". All are welcome.

—John Dalzill last evening gave one of the most helpful popular talks ever given at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. He has been secured by the association for another talk on Thursday evening, March 30.

—Does Newt Spencer, who talks so much about "Stalwart Republicanism", remember the big vote which he got from the Democrats last fall? If we are not mistaken, Mayor Saunders voted for him.

—A special feature of the divertissement in Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening, is the Watteau ballet, a novelty in terpsichorean art arranged by Mr. Yale.

—Aurelio Coccia, the maitre de ballet of Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", who has never before appeared in this country, is a most wonderful male dancer. Several special dances which he introduces this season are new and attract great attention.

—Vanderbeek & Sattels are reliable men to deal with if you are in want of a piano or organ. Their wareroom is full of instruments made by men of honor, their prices are low and the terms will be made to suit the rich and poor. Give them a call before purchasing elsewhere.

—No unnecessary arrest of school children, nor any display of a narrow-minded marshal, has occurred in the borough during the past year. This is because Mayor Saunders has appointed a marshal who has faithfully performed his services, and has not been partisan or offensive to the people.

—At Demarest's model grocery to-morrow you will find strawberries, ripe tomatoes, egg plant, cucumbers, water cress, radishes, lettuce, cauliflower, celery, new beets, green beans, rhubarb, spinach, new cabbage, new potatoes, oyster plant, Bermuda onions, green peas and lots of other good things ahead of the season. Give him a call.

HE ENTERTAINED THE CABMEN.

A Stock Raiser in Curious Clothes, Proves an Attraction.

George P. Laflin, a stock raiser from Alexander, a settlement adjoining the Chicsaw Nation reservation, on the line of the Rock Island Railroad, attracted considerable attention at the North avenue station, this morning. He entertained the cabbies, railroad men, and a PRESS reporter, with wonderful stories about the climate and fertility of the soil of his home, where crops grow in a night.

Laflin was on his way to Washington to push a depredation claim against the Government, and he expects to grow rich from the bounty of Uncle Sam in paying for alleged injuries received at the hands of the Indians.

Laflin's strange clothes formed a great attraction during his short stay, and his tales about his Indian wife were received with glee.

They Know They've No Chance.

At no time in the history of the borough was such a small caucus held by the Republicans as their late one. Everybody conceded the election of Mr. Saunders; at least so did the Courier, and that sheet claims to be on the inside with the Republican leaders of the borough and township.

A Clergyman Shoots off Commuters.

Some of the members of the Westfield Presbyterian church are displeased with their pastor, the Rev. N.W.Cadwell. Last Sunday, while all the other ministers of the town were preaching against the race-track legislation, Mr. Cadwell was busy denouncing the playing of cards on railroad trains. He denounced the practice as a far greater evil than horse-racing. A majority of the male members of the church are New York business men, who commute on the trains and play whist morning and evening to while away the two hours' daily ride. Several threaten to give up their membership in the church.

Burglar in a Church.

Someone broke into the First Presbyterian church through a basement window, Wednesday night, and ransacked the place in vain search of the silver service. Nothing of value was taken. The secretary's desk was broken open. There is no clue.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes, I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured. E. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

THAT BRAZEN ROBBERY.

$135 the Loss to the Railroad Company by a Burglar's Cool Operations.

The burglary at the North avenue station was exclusively reported in THE PRESS yesterday. Since then ticket agent Nelson has definitely ascertained the loss to be $125. When he temporarily left the office, at 7:30, he saw no one in the women's waiting room, into which the office opens. When he returned, he found that the door had been forced open and a pile of greenbacks taken from the till. The coin had not been touched. There was no confusion of things scattered about, but the work had evidently been done coolly. The door had been fastened simply by a night latch lock, and this fastening had been torn away by the strain of the robber's shoulders against the door.

No blame attaches to anyone in the matter. Agent Nelson was obliged to go out, the station policeman was on duty outside, and the burglar just saw his chance and took it. The office should have had a stronger lock.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Mabel Woodruff of East Second street is visiting friends in Harlem.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Staats of Dunellen have been confined to their room for the past week with the grip.

The Leal school cadets have issued invitations for a subscription dance to be given in the Casino soon after Easter.

After spending a vacation at home, Miss Josephine Lederer returned this morning to the Elwyn Institute, at Elwyn, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Terry have the sympathy of all in the loss of their promising son Harman, who died yesterday in his ninth year.

The Rev. Mr. Brodnax of New York will preach and hold communion service in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Evona, Sunday morning at 11.

Fond parents were sadly bereaved in the death of little Alice Whitehead at 295 South Second street, yesterday. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.

The funeral of lineman Ferguson who was killed by a fall from an electric light pole will be held Sunday afternoon at 2, from his late residence, 254 South Second street.

The Rev. Charles E. Herring of the First Presbyterian church, in his series of talks called "Character Studies for Young Men", will speak next Sunday evening on "Ruth, the Leal-Hearted".

Some of the young ladies of Plainfield's 400 are much interested in preparations for a "dove" german. It is to be a subscription affair, and the invitations are to be restricted to a chosen few.

William Hinkson, whose radiant countenance helps illumine the interior of Leggett's popular pharmacy, is again living in loneliness for a time, his good wife having gone on a visit to her parents in Princeton.

Mrs. L. D. Scofield, who lived for many years at the corner of Central avenue and Third street, and now living at Five Creek Mills, Va., is visiting Mrs. J. S. Garretson, 21 Central avenue, after an absence of 9 years.

The eloquent and gifted Henry C. Mabie, D. D., will speak of his recent tour around the world in the interests of Christian missions, in the First Baptist church next Sunday. The address will be one of extraordinary interest, on the achievements of the Gospel in heathen lands. Having made a personal tour of the mission fields in Asia, and visited recently over 200 missionaries at their work, he will discuss in a graphic manner some of the characteristic phenomena in mission life. A special and appropriate musical service may be expected.

Tribute from the Young Men's Lyceum.

WHEREAS: We, the members of the Catholic Young Men's Lyceum, of this city, have learned with regret, of the death of our fellow-member, John O'Rourke, therefore be it;

Resolved, That we express our sincere sorrow at the loss we have sustained, and be it also

Resolved, That we tender our sympathy to the bereaved widow at the loss of one who was a devoted husband, a true friend, and honored and esteemed by all who knew him. Be it also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow of the deceased, that a copy be placed in the rooms of the society, and that they be published in the local papers.

THE CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN'S LYCEUM.
Plainfield, N. J., March 10, 1893.

The Disturber to be Punished.

Trouble was caused by a fellow named Morecraft in the Salvation Army barracks last night. Contrary to the rules of the army, which provide that only during singing shall people leave the hall, an old man named French started to go out while the captain was speaking. The doorkeeper asked him to wait. Morecraft interfered, and tried to get up a fight. His language was very foul. He caused so much disturbance that he had to be ejected, and to-day a warrant was issued for his arrest. After his expulsion the meeting went happily on. The captain herself bravely quelled the disorder.

Dead Dog, But Deader Ad.

The Courier is up to its old tricks. In an effort to make a decent showing, it fills up its columns with fake and dead ads. For instance, J. F. MacDonald lost his dog "Dot". He paid for advertising in the local papers two days, and found the doggie dead in the raceway. That was many days ago. But the ad has been booming along in the Courier ever since, in spite of Mr. MacDonald's repeated order to kill it.

Both Legs Fractured by a Fall.

At 7:30 this morning Wm. Apgar of Somerville fell from the roof of the new car-wheel factory at Garwood, where he was working, and fractured both legs. Dr. Harrison of Westfield was summoned and set the broken members. Later Apgar was removed to his home.

We often hear people say there is only one good cough medicine and that is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the only infallible remedy.

SOME SARCASM.

Called Forth by the School Board's Remarkable Defense.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I have read with no small interest, I assure you, nor can I tell you with how much satisfaction, the remarkable statement of the school board in Wednesday night's PRESS. How good it is in those learned gentlemen to take all the pains they have to pacify our minds so lately stirred up by the resolution of the mayor and common council and to give us such a high testimonial as they have to the superiority of Plainfield public schools, possessed of the most competent, devoted and enthusiastic teachers in the world! What assurance will it not give to parents to learn that this hard-working, self-sacrificing board so carefully supervises the order, discipline and instruction of the pupils, and the methods and competency of the teachers, especially in the classics and higher mathematics, that they can certify to all this!

How proud we ought to be that our candidates for admission to Harvard and Yale outrank in their preparatory studies those fitted for college in the best private classical schools! And how strange it is that with all these great advantages right at our door and free (save only the paltry bit of school tax we have to pay) more than fifty families of our people will still send their sons to private schools here or elsewhere—paying to one private Plainfield school alone in tuition bills more than $12,000 a year?

Again, I was not aware until I read it in the Board's report in THE PRESS, that such rigid economy had been used in the building of our school houses. I had ignorantly supposed, on the other hand, that some extravagance and waste had been permitted—one item of about $20,000 in the Irving school-house alone.

How glad I am to be corrected on this point, and not only I but the public made to know how egregiously we have been misled.

As to the architectural beauty of our Plainfield school-houses, their fine proportions and adaptations to the purposes for which they were erected, I need not say a word. Like the ancient structures of the Aztecs they speak for themselves.

Lastly, how consoling it is to the Democratic party of Plainfield to know that this high-toned, non-partisan, non-sectarian board "Has not been selected by 'ward bosses' or swayed by political reasons", nor "Men unfamiliar with the needs of the schools" nor untrained in their care, and thus far in the history of our city, ("Credat Judaeus Appella") "divorced from politics". NON EGO.

WIPED OUT THE OLD SCORE.

That's the Kind of Team Work the Crescents Can Feel Proud Of.

The clever Alcyones, who defeated the Crescents in their former contest, at the Port, were in turn beaten by the Crescents last night. The Alcyones could not get the hang of the strange alleys, and were overwhelmingly whipped. The Crescents put up a beautiful, steady game. The score:

Old Men for Council, Young Men for Action.

The Bicycle club has both. An early function under their auspices is to be an entertainment by the Princeton Banjo and Mandolin club and the Princeton Gymnasium team. Another scheme is the building of a track for bicycle racing. It is proposed, also, to add to the club-house a committee room and a ladies' dressing room. In the fall a gigantic fair will be held. The people of Plainfield will have no need to go to Chicago. Great is the Bicycle club, and the Patriarch is its prophet.

Think on These Things.

Last year's "kickers" in the Republican party who are now on top in the borough, appeal to the "Republicanism of the voters". Why is this? Has not Mayor Saunders been a non-partisan Mayor? He appointed on the board of health the Rev. Mr. Honeyman, a cousin of the Republican candidate, and a Republican himself. He also appointed Robert Currie, another Republican. It was his deciding vote in the council that made Chas. A. Reed corporation counsel, and everybody knows that Reed has been a good one.

A Great Snap.

The greatest snap for an aspiring North Plainfield township office-holder is to become a member of the town committee. There are three members, one of whom acts as treasurer, at a salary of $200 per year according to their last annual report, while the two wooden members receive $50 each. Only a few meetings are held during the year, and one member generally does all the business.

Three peas (P. P. P.) represent Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not like the old-fashioned pills. Bad to take, and bad to have taken. Inefficient, too. Try something better. With Pleasant Pellets the benefit is lasting. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels. Taken in time, they prevent trouble. In any case, they cure it. And they cure it easily; they're mild and gentle, but thorough and effective. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. One tiny, sugar-coated Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick and Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, the smallest, and the easiest to take—but besides that, they're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. This is true only of Dr. Pierce's medicines.

A CROWN OF GLORY Is the gray hair of old age. BUT a ball pate or thin straggling locks,—ah, no! Among all the remedies for these things perhaps nothing has been so generally successful as

FREE EVENINGS WITH WHITTIER.

The Gentle Poet to Be Studied by Plainfield Audiences.

To-night at 8, there will be given in All Souls' church the first of a series of six free evenings with Whittier. "Heredity and Environment" will be treated this evening, in a paper by Edwin S. Hunt of the High school, and Miss Emma Buckle will give a recitation entitled "A New England Boyhood". The poems for reference are: Snow Bound, The Hill-top, In School-days, Memories, My Playmate, To my old Schoolmaster, Telling the Bees, The Barefoot Boy, Songs of Labor.

The programme for the succeeding evenings is as follows:

The Worm Will Turn.

With what feelings must the rank and file of the Republican party look to its handful of leaders in the township and borough! For instance, see the same old names on the township ticket each year. Why do they not make room for some new material? Talk about selfishness! Where is the personification of it? Well, there is one thing pretty evident; and that is, the rank and file are getting sick of it.

All Young Women.

Charles H. Yale's new production of the famous spectacle, "The Devil's Auction", to be given at Music Hall Saturday evening, will far surpass any effort which he has previously made. There is nothing in it that is old. There is much said in a jocular way about the age of ballet dancers. The troupe of secondos and coryphees which he has engaged for this season is composed entirely of young women of comely face and symmetrical figure, whose dancing will prove an interesting feature of the performance.

Dr. Lewis Says Folks that Won't Work Should n't Be Fed.

(The Sabbath Recorder.)

One of the philanthropic as well as economic industries of the Christian people of New York city and vicinity, is The Industrial Christian Alliance, of 113 MacDougal street. Its purpose is "to help helpless, homeless, friendless men and women, who are willing to work, back to self-support and self-respect". The founders of this institution believe in labor, and to all idle, lazy tramps they say, "If any will not work neither let him eat", II Thess. iii: 10. After men have been employed here in some simple industry, like broom making, and have shown their willingness to work and be sober, they are recommended to those who want help, on farms, or in other lines of labor. Many have reformed and become sober, industrious men through this "gospel of Christ and gospel of honest labor" enterprise. Among the incorporators we notice the name of Dr. A. H. Lewis, of Plainfield, N. J.

A Good Plan.

What's the matter with the borough and township buying a stone-crushing plant of their own? That would not only end the kicking, but would result in a decided gain to the tax-payers. Other places do so successfully. May not North Plainfield?

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Vitalized Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 68 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-15-y

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

Plainfield's Soil is an Excellent Drain but a Poor Filter.

In considering the subject of drainage it is certainly wise at the outset to reject illusions, because they are apt to be misleading. The popular beliefs that there is a river under Plainfield, and that our underground water comes from some distant elevated source of rare purity, should be given up, as they have nothing whatever to rest upon. The water in our soil consists of the rain and snow—about one-third part of it—that falls on the surface. The annual rainfall is about forty-five inches, and fifteen inches soaks away each year, amid 20,000 people and as many more animals, to replenish the supply in the ground. If we count the two Plainfields as lying one mile each away from the North avenue station, we have an area of four square miles. One inch of water on this extent of surface is equivalent to forty-eight millions of gallons. Fifteen times that amount annually passes through, or carries along, organic matter, and goes as best it can to the water-level that we tap when we sink a well.

There is also a belief, more or less prevalent, that we have a stratum under our feet that is especially hygienic in point of filtration. In the respect of drainage it is very fine and desirable, but as a filter it is not what it is reported to be. The site of Plainfield is a bed of sand and water-worn stones—coarse gravel brought down by our mountain streams, and deposited here in the course of time to a depth of about fifty feet. If there is any earthly material that admits of freer percolation than this gravel, the records are deficient. In very truth there is none. This soil of our city drains the surface handsomely, but as a filter it is very slack. Water passes through it as it would a sieve. The glacial deposits that we have read so much about—better in print than in reality—do not immediately underlie the brook section of Plainfield.

The depth of the ground water-level should not be overlooked in considering this question. It is a well-known fact that water stands at the depth of eight feet under a considerable section of the city. Under still larger sections water rises to a point ten feet from the surface. The ground water-level falls in dry weather and rises in wet weather.

Now, let us look the situation squarely in the face, unpleasant though it be. Under the city is a water supply, coming from the surface, in coarse gravel, on which 3,500 unchecked, unsealed cesspools, full of poisonous discharges, rest. In other words, 3,000 wells are sandwiched in 3,500 cesspools, all in gravel that is in the highest degree permeable. Will anyone say that inter-filtration under such circumstances is impossible? We purposely omit details. Let no one imagine, however, that there is safety in a driven well, for a chamber or cistern is formed at the foot of such a well quite equal to the water-holding section of an open well.

Animal and vegetable decomposition and excreta are readily carried in solution as all know. Organic matter does not promote health; given time and opportunity it will undermine the strongest constitution. If we drop into organic matter disease-germs, then indeed we have a mixture more potent than was brewed in the witches' caldron. Cholera is pronounced particularly a drinking-water disease. All "dirt" diseases are, however, readily transmitted in water. We are apt to think that such diseases spring up spontaneously, but if modern science is to be trusted at all, we may be sure they do not so arise; that in every instance a disease-germ has been carried to the victim—a germ of scarlet fever, or diphtheria, or typhoid fever, or of cholera itself.

Can we afford to maintain longer a makeshift system that lodges all sorts of impurities in solution in the soil that we live on and from which five-sixths of the water we use is drawn?

END OF A BUSY LIFE.

Biographical Notes of a Veteran ex-Editor.

Thomas Hale, whose death at his home in this city was regretfully recorded a few days ago, was born in Chelsea, Vt., Jan. 18, 1813; admitted to the bar in 1844; went South for his health in 1845; spent seven years teaching in a French family in Louisiana; returned to Windsor, Vt., and at the earnest solicitation of some of his influential friends gave up the law and began his newspaper career, which he followed continuously thereafter up to the time of his retirement, with the exception of six years (1867-73), when he was engaged with the Continental Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn. He spent about ten years editing the Vermont Journal, then went to Keene, N. H., bought one-half interest of the New Hampshire Sentinel, and remained connected with that till he went into the insurance business.

He was later connected with the Fitchburg (Mass.) Sentinel, founded the New England Observer at White River Junction, Vt., and afterwards removed it to Keene, N. H., and sold it to a stock company and was forced to retire from active life, owing to failure of his eyesight. He was married to Sarah Ballou Potter, in 1869; and leaves a widow and one son. Of his family of 18, only two brothers and one sister now remain, three brothers having died in two years. The survivors are the Hon. Matthew Hale of Albany, N. Y., the Rev. Safford Eddy Hale of Elizabethtown, N. Y., and Mrs. Wm. C. Herrick of Castleton, Vt.

COLLISION OF FIRE-ENGINES.

Results of Racing to Get on First Water.

NEW YORK, March 10—There was a fire at 5 o'clock this morning in the five-story double tenement 867 Second avenue, causing a panic among the tenants. On account of the dense smoke which filled the halls they had to take to the fire-escapes. Three children were carried down from the third floor by Jas. Carroll, who lived in the house. In connection with the outbreak the Fire Commissioners will make an investigation to-day regarding the conduct of the drivers of two engines, 8 and 21, that were due at the fire on first alarm. Neither of these engines got to work owing to their having collided with each other. One of the drivers was thrown from his seat and severely bruised. A second alarm had to be sounded, and it was not until the companies arrived on the second that water was got on the fire.

AN ENGINE RUNS AWAY.

Knocked Down Bumpers and Put a Hole in a Building Wall.

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Engine 1,021 of the New York Central road, about 9:50 this morning, ran off the tracks at Forty-seventh street and Fourth avenue, knocked down the bumpers at the end of a siding, ran out across the sidewalk on the avenue and knocked a hole in the wall of a brick building. There was no one on the engine at the time, and it is said to be a mystery how it started.

DID NOT SEE THE NARONIC.

The Britannic Went Out of Her Course, But Missed the Overdue Vessel.

LONDON, March 10.—The steamship Britannic, which sailed from New York, March 1, arrived in Liverpool to-day. The Britannic deviated ninety miles from her course in a southerly direction, but saw no signs of the missing White Star steamship Naronic, now out from Liverpool twenty-seven days. The insurance rate on the Naronic to-day is 45 guineas premium.

THE NEW DEVIL'S AUCTION.

Curious and Amusing Features of To-Morrow Night's Production in Music Hall.

Charles H. Yale's superb romantic spectacle, "The New Devil's Auction", will be presented by a company of fifty artists in Music Hall to-morrow evening. This production is one of the greatest successes of the the present theatrical season. Wherever it has been booked it has played to the capacity of the house and has made a most pronounced hit by its novelty, delicacy and refinement. In every respect this is a fitting performance for ladies, who greatly enjoy it. Miss Mai Estelle, a daughter of the once famous actress, Kate Estelle, plays the leading role of "Carlos". She is noted for her ability, beauty and statuesque figure. Miss Carrie E. Perkins, who was formerly the "merry little mountain maid" of "Adonis", plays "Chrystaline", the fairy protectress. She is a most beautiful woman and an elocutionist of extraordinary ability. Miss Josie Sisson, the petite comedienne, plays "Janet", the milkmaid, in love with the donkey, "Toby", transformed to manhood by the mystic art of a magic shoe which she purchases at the "Devil's Auction". Toby is played by the noted comedian, William J. Mason. The other principal characters are played by Thomas H. Plumer Ruge, W. Wallace Black, William H. Lorella and Edward Snow.

The principal dancers are Signorita Adele Amore, Signorita Concettina Chitten, Signor Aurelio Coccia and a troupe of ballerines from the Hof-Opera theatre, Vienna. The Signoritas are two of the most noted dancers of Enrope.

The music used in this production was written expressly for it by Herman Perlet, the eminent composer. The costumes are very rich in material and gorgeous in coloring and were made in London, Paris and New York, from designs by Balsche, the famous London artist.

The scenic equipment of this company is the most extensive ever used by a traveling organization. Nine full sets of scenery are required to present the piece. They are so elaborate and heavy that a special scene car, 67 feet in length, is required to transport them. Three of these scenes are most remarkable. These are called "The Council Chamber of Mephisto", "The Vault of the Benedictine Monks" and "The Advent of Spring". The first of these is the great revolving scene which has been called the greatest piece of mechanical scenery ever constructed. The second scene is filled with remarkable trick appliances. The third mentioned is said to be the perfection of scenic art.

To add interest to a most entertaining performance Mr. Yale will introduce several novel specialties, including Toner and Frobel's aerial ladder balancing act; Mason and Ruge's box mystery; Edward Snow's "Jumbo lion poodle" and the Lorella's "Follies en blanc et noir".

This is a performance which everyone will enjoy.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

So Good That 'Twill Be Repeated.

The genial hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Woodruff was enjoyed by a large gathering at their home, 45 East Second street, last evening. The occasion was a tea to members and friends of Trinity church under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work society of the church. As THE PRESS had predicted, the event was a great success, so much so that everyone present voted that it be repeated to-night, and those whom the weather prevented from attending last evening, should do so this evening. The refreshments were tastefully served, and greatly relished. There was also good vocal and instrumental music. The table was adorned with beautiful roses and carnations, and when surrounded by the guests presented a most animated scene. Mrs. Woodruff and daughter Mabel did the honors gracefully. They were assisted by Mrs. J. F. MacDonald, Mrs. E. H. Bird, Mrs. Edw. VanWinkle, Mrs. A. L. Force, Miss Ella Dunn and Miss Kittie Glenn. The statement in other papers that the tea was to include a smoker was erroneous. It probably arose from the fact that Mr. Woodruff is an inveterate smoker, and likes to have his male friends enjoy a quiet cigar with him, which some few of them did after the tea was over last night. The stated hours for the tea were 5 to 9, but it was 11 before all left.

PASS RESOLUTIONS.

City Fathers of Elizabeth Take Action in Favor of Repeal.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 10.—The Elizabeth City Council last night passed resolutions in which they said that it was the opinion of the body that the three race track bills recently passed ought to be repealed, and in which they also requested their representatives to vote for the repeal of the bills. The resolutions were adopted after a very exciting discussion by a vote of 13 to 7.

The original intention of the bill providing for a license for the Bayway tracks was abandoned when it was found that only 15 days could be secured.

The committee from the Young Men's Democratic Society of Union county presented to the council a set of resolutions passed at their meeting, condemning the action of Assemblyman T. M. Cook, one of their members, and requesting his resignation as a member of their society.

The council adjourned until March 17, when, it is said, another effort will be made by the lawyers to get a license.

Crimeline Factors in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, March 10.—A resolution introduced in the General Assembly yesterday to incorporate a company to manufacture factors in the Blackstone Valley, has created a good deal of amusement in both Houses, but it was passed without objection.

Ancient Order of Workmen in Session.

TRENTON, March 10.—The Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen is in annual session in Odd Fellows' Hall here. The reports showed that there are 53 lodges in the State with a membership of 4,131.

Lombard Directors Scored.

BOSTON, March 10.—The report of the experts employed by the stockholders of the Lombard Investment company says that investigation discloses gross incompetency and personal dealings on the part of the officers.

SOME NEW IDEAS.

Late Inventions Designed to Save Labor and Time.

Queer Electrical Devices—Pocket Flasks for "Prohibition States," Folding Bath Tubs and "Cyclone Resisters"—The Work of Many Ingenious Minds.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

It is hard to believe that an article which has a purely religious use would be patentable or that the cost of obtaining a patent would be considered a profitable investment. Yet an Ohio inventor has taken out letters patent on a folding confessional, embodying all the comforts of home.

A newly patented process of manufacturing steel has been purchased by the Carnegie steel company. Instead of forming steel by adding spiegeleisen or ferro-manganese to the charge in the Bessemer converter after decarburizing the iron by the blast, the molten metal is run into a receiving vessel which contains finely divided free carbon. A small quantity of the metal is first run in, then the carbon is spread upon its surface and finally the full converter charge is discharged. This process, it is expected, will reduce the cost of manufacturing steel.

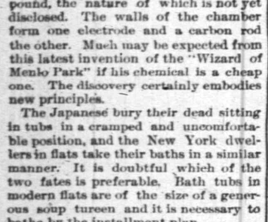
Thomas A. Edison has obtained a patent on the generation of the electric current which may lead eventually to the solution of the problem of generating electricity from combustion.

Edison's method consists substantially in generating electricity in a heated chamber, exhausted of air, from the reaction of carbon with a chemical compound, the nature of which is not yet disclosed. The walls of the chamber form one electrode and a carbon rod the other. Much may be expected from this latest invention of the "Wizard of Menlo Park" if his chemical is a cheap one. The discovery certainly embodies new principles.

The Japanese bury their dead sitting in tubs in a cramped and uncomfortable position, and the New York dwellers in flats take their baths in a similar manner. It is doubtful which of the two fates is preferable. Bath tubs in modern flats are of the size of a generous soup tureen and it is necessary to bathe by the installment plan.

A Chicago fiend, not satisfied with the present almost microscopical proportions of these tubs, has invented a folding one which may save an inch or so more of space, and which, according to him, "satisfies the most critical and artistic lover of household art." This new tub, when folded together, is about three feet six inches in height, something less than two feet thick, and slightly wider than its depth. Let down, a water reservoir, heated by a gas or gasoline jet, with a cock opening into the tub, is disclosed. The tub is made of any metal, lined or unlined with porcelain. Its appearance is claimed to be "neat, ornate and chaste," especially when the surrounding case is in the verisimilitude of a piano. It is made also in a cabinet form, with beveled looking glasses. For anyone who desires to bathe in his parlor it will be a decided acquisition.

A few years since the market was flooded with electric hairbrushes, toothbrushes, bathbrushes and belts, all warranted to cure various ailments. Whether electricity can exercise any therapeutic action more than a stimulus to the nerves and muscles is doubtful, but the medical applications of the galvanic current are constantly increasing. One of the latest departures is an apparatus for applying electricity to the eyes and ears. To reach the delicate optic nerves an appliance having the outward appearance of a pair of spectacles without the crystals is used. In place of the glasses sponge or other absorptive material is in direct contact with the eyes, and an appendix for connection with the nose is joined to the conductor. The wires are insulated and the current does not affect any part save at the points of contact of the absorptive material with the flesh. The body itself serves as a return conductor for the current.



For the ears the apparatus is shaped something like a skeleton of an ear muff, wires passing around the lobes holding the device in position. These wires are insulated conductors of the current, and from them branches an arm terminating in a small piece of sponge, which rests against the tympanum and acts as the electrode. For both of the devices a single cell battery of low potentiality is used. Too high a current might destroy either sight or hearing, and the strength must be carefully graduated.

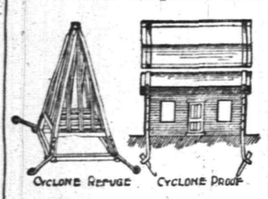
While ministers and metaphysicians have wrestled vainly with the divorce problem, an Ottawan (Canada) genius, in inventing an electric hot water bottle, has done much toward alleviating, if not obviating, one of the principal contributory causes. There is no more necessity now for cold, anæmic feet, in comparison with which icicles are cheerful and comforting, nor need any wife or husband be now tortured by glacial spinal applications. This Canadian philanthropist has devised an india rubber bottle which can be fastened to any incandescent electric light wire and which can be heated almost instantaneously by pressing the button. In size the bottle is about one foot long and some six inches in diameter, both long and broad enough to heat the sole of any foot east of Chicago. Inside the wire, which enters through a lead cylinder forming the neck of the bottle, connects with a resistance coil. This resistance coil, like all such coils which are used in electric heaters, is formed of wire too small to carry the current, so that the electrical energy not finding an outlet is transformed into heat. In a few moments, if the current is strong enough, water can be brought to the boiling point, but this temperature is never required, save in Boreas climates and in the case of unusually recalcitrant feet.

There is a man down in Virginia with an idea—not that ideas are rare in Virginia, nor that a Virginian with one is a curiosity—but this man's idea is novel. He is persuaded that the tippling habit will in all likelihood continue until the millennium comes and that until humanity in the concrete experiences a change of heart and gets religion there will be always a number of good brethren who will do their bibbing away from the profane gaze of the public. Yet there are occasions, as the observant Virginian probably knew, when a drink is necessary in a throng, even at the risk of a reputation for abstinence. It was to fill this aching void that he employed his inventive genius. He knew that canes had been converted into drinking flasks and that opera glasses had been made the receptacles of spirituous liquors; but opera glasses and canes are considered outre in Virginia, and a man developing an infatuation for either would be regarded with suspicion by strangers and with anxiety by his friends.

What is more innocent in appearance than a clothesbrush with a heavy wooden back and stiff bristles? Who would think that it contained a pint of good bourbon? Yet this combination of good and evil was the culmination of the Machiavellian Virginian's concentration upon the liquor question.

His brush, patented a few days ago, has a thick hollow back which contains a glass flask securely concealed from view, with a drinking cup fitted snugly to the reduced neck of the bottle. Either end of the brush can be easily removed and the flask taken out and refilled.

Out in the land of the tornado and cyclone some restraint is necessary to hold houses in position. These high winds have a distressing habit of elevating dwellings and barns and of transferring them in sections to the next county or even state. The first thing a farmer does out there after building his house is to place a heavy mortgage on top, with the possible object of disheartening the cyclone; but the tornado is no respecter of persons or of farm mortgage trusts, and when one comes along the mortgage, however weighty, is pretty sure to be lifted together with the farmer and the house. The uncertain and unheralded approach of these terrific gales does not tend to tranquillity or a sense of security.



At the first apprehension of a visit from a cyclone the farmer, tumultuously followed by his wife and family, packs off to his cellar or lowers himself down a well. Here he waits until all has quieted, not knowing whether he will rest in his bed or study astronomy all night. If the house has stood—but it rarely does—all is well and good, but, if it is gone, then all he can do is to build another for the fat and healthy mortgage to come back and roost upon.

A man out in Denver has patented an idea which he thinks will materially change this condition of affairs. He is intimate with cyclones, having met several in Kansas, and from his acute observation of their characteristics he is persuaded that he can knock out the strongest of them. In the piquant language of the unsophisticated west he is willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that he can stop a tornado in one round.

His plan is simple enough. A strong iron band passes over the gables and roof of the house, to which it is firmly bolted; the ends of the rod terminate in loops which are buried in the ground and carefully tacked down by large wooden stakes, a mallet and the hired man. As a sort of additional precaution a small pyramidal house of refuge is attached, also a terrifying combination of heavy anchors, sills and beams which the inventor believes will stand eternally. In addition this amateur reformatory institution has infinite possibilities as a summer house, hencoop or salle a manger for the pigs, which will commend it at once to the intelligent agriculturist.

HERR ADOLF WERMUTH.

The Imperial German Commissioner to the World's Fair.

Adolf Wermuth, the Imperial German commissioner to the Columbian exposition, is a man of great ability, who holds high place in his native country. He is privy councilor of the German empire and a valued adviser in the counsels of the government. He was selected to look after Germany's interests at the Columbian fair because of his former experience in exposition work. He represented his government at Melbourne and has also been connected with German national expositions. Mr. Wermuth has superintended all the work of getting up the exhibits Germany will send to Chicago. He recognized, when he first came here nearly two years ago, the possibilities of the Columbian exposition, and was so satisfied of its ultimate success that he urged his government to make the best possible showing. Mr. Wermuth came to Chicago in the first party of foreign commissioners that arrived. He examined the plans and prospects of the fair and then went back to Germany to work up the exhibit. In this way he traveled from one end of the empire to the other, making addresses to boards of trade, art and industrial societies and conventions of manufacturers and urging the best of them to prepare displays of their products for the Columbian show. His success in this work is readily seen when it is stated that over five thousand Germans will exhibit at the fair.

Mr. Wermuth has established a legation headquarters for the gentlemen who are associated with him in his work. There are five besides himself, and they all live at 3171 Groveland avenue, Chicago. The others of the German commission are: Franz Berg, assistant commissioner; George Franke, secretary; Johannes Radke, architect; Carl Haller, engineer, and Carl Haffacker, architect.

A Coming Quandary.

Teacher (of class in physics)—Of what is paper now chiefly made?

Pupil—Of wood.

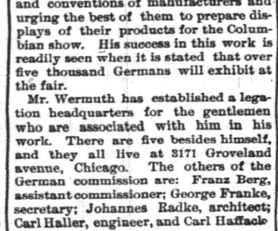
Teacher—Is the world's supply of wood inexhaustible?

Next Pupil—It is not. It is consumed in the arts and manufactures many times faster than it grows.

Teacher—Then what will the world use for a substitute when the wood is all gone?

Third Pupil—Paper.—Chicago Tribune.

ECONOMY.



Daisy—When I get big like you, mamma, I'm going to marry a doctor or a minister.

Mamma—Why, my dear?

Daisy—'Cause, if I marry a doctor I can get well for nothing; if I marry a minister I can be good for nothing.—Judge.

Dear Sister,

"They charge you with being restless, irritable, excitable, and exacting.

"They don't know the horror that oppresses you.

"Every hour pains run rampant through your body. You suffer secretly as long as you can, then go all to pieces and 'don't care' what happens.

"The iron grip of female disease is upon you.

"Dear sister, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands like you.

"It has cured me, and I want to tell everybody.

"It kills the pain. No more backache, no more 'bearing-down,' no more restless days and sleepless nights. Oh! what a blessing! take it and be well! it's a sin to hesitate." — Mrs. P. A. Quiett, North Hamlin, N. J.

BOSTON'S THIRD TERRIBLE FIRE

Probably Ten People Killed and Thirty Injured in Last Night's Conflagration.

IN THREE HOURS A WHOLE BLOCK OF THE CITY IS DESTROYED.

The Fire Started in the New Ames Building, Corner of Essex and Lincoln Streets, and Required All the Fire Force of the City and Surrounding Places to Put It Out—Many Jump from Windows and Roofs and Are Badly Hurt—Some Escape by Means of the Telephone Wires, and Others Slide Down the Poles in Safety—Fireman's Nets Did Good Service—Soldiers Ordered Out by the Governor—Engines Abandoned—Thrilling Escapes—Immense Crowds—$4,500,000 Gone—List of Dead and Injured.

BOSTON, March 11.—Last night's fire was one of the most destructive in the history of Boston. It was next in magnitude to the famous one of Thanksgiving day, 1889, and in the same district.

It broke out shortly after 4 o'clock, and before it was placed under control it had burned over more than a square, had reduced to ashes several of the magnificent new buildings recently completed on the territory burned over three and a half years ago, had consumed property valued by a conservative estimate at $4,500,000, had been attended by scenes of panic and distress never before equaled in the memory of citizens now living, and had destroyed several human lives and mangled or maimed at least 30 persons, some of whom will die.

At 4:25 o'clock the alarm was rung in. It was soon followed by a second and then a general alarm.

The flames broke out in the toy department of Horace Partridge & Co., who occupied the fifth and sixth floors of the seven-story building corner of Essex and Lincoln streets, owned by F. L. Ames. The cause is at present unknown, but the start is described by those nearest it as resembling the explosion of a fire cracker.

The flames spread with incredible rapidity, and in a very few minutes the entire interior of the building was a roaring mass of flames.

There were many employes of Partridge & Co. at work at the time, and the other floors of the building were sprinkled with human beings.

The usual avenues of escape were cut off, and then began a scramble for life which sickened beholders.

The panic stricken inmates fled to windows and roof. Some escaped by sliding down telegraph poles, others by leaping into blankets and nets. Several jumped to the pavements, six or eight stories, and were terribly mangled.

Others, how many cannot now be told, fell back into the cauldron of flames, or were overcome by the dense black smoke which suffocated all who did not speedily escape.

The entire fire department of the city was speedily on the scene. The departments of Somerville, Cambridge, Newton, Quincy and Brockton arrived later by train, and aid was requested to be in readiness from more distant cities.

Fortunately no further help was needed. Vast crowds of people began at once to flock to the scene, and as a matter of precaution Gov. Russell ordered two companies of militia under arms and proceeded to the fire in person, where he was soon joined by Mayor Matthews.

The committee of the city council, appointed to investigate the causes of recent fires, was in session at the city hall, but immediately adjourned to the scene of the conflagration.

The fire spread rapidly from building to building, and despite the heroic efforts of the entire fire system of Suffolk county was not controlled until the whole block bounded by Essex street on the north, Lincoln on the east, Tufts on the south and Kingston on the west had been leveled; also the building north of Essex street extending along Columbia street, three more on the east side of Lincoln street, and one corner of the United States hotel south of Tufts street, which corner contained the Emergency hospital.

It is believed that at least 10 lives were lost and perhaps 30 persons badly hurt. A partial list of killed and injured is as follows:

Mr. J. C. Young, manager of the Lariat Manufacturing company, located on the third floor of the Ames building, says:

"There was first a puff at the rear end of the room, followed by the screaming of the girls.

"The room was filled with black smoke within a minute, driving everybody to the windows.

"Miss Ericson and two or three others of our girls jumped from the windows before warning could be given, and we saw people in the street trying to catch them. Miss Ericson was caught in a net.

"My son, H. C. Young, E. H. Colby, of Thomaston, Me., and myself made our way along the coping to a telegraph pole. I handed Miss Rideout, an employe, to Mr. Colby across the gap; my son followed with a boy employe, and Maggie Love was then helped to the pole. All shinned down in safety.

"When I looked up the flames were pouring out of the windows we had left. Falling glass hit us, the smoke was awful, and tongues of flame were rushing overhead, though it was not five minutes from the first intimation of fire till we reached the ground.

"Our stock consists almost entirely of ropes, but we did not have time to grab them, though they were lying within a few feet."

For the first time in Boston's fire history the overhead wire system was the means of saving a life. When the fire in the Brown-Durrell building was at its height the form of a man, who subsequently proved to be District Chief Egan, of East Boston, was seen at an eighth story window. He boldly seized one of the large insulated cables which contain a large number of electric wires and proceeded to cross to the opposite building hand over hand. He had gone but a few feet when it became apparent he could not last long, and greatly to the crowds relief he threw both legs over the half inch cable, which slightly sagged, and slowly and tediously made his way toward the building, 119 Kingston street, to which the cable ran.

A large number of life-saving nets, canvases and cloths were produced, and firemen, police and bystanders vied with each other in holding them, while others hoarsely shouted to the imperilled man to drop. To have done so seemed to court instant death. Several times the voice of the vast crowd was hushed as it seemed that the poor being hanging there was lost. All at once the crowd broke into a cheer which seemed to infuse new life into the flagging spirit of the fireman. He had reached midway between the two buildings and if he could only hang out a few minutes more he would be saved.

Every inch of the street below was covered with nets. At this point the cloud of smoke cleared away and the man was recognized as Chief John F. Egan, who had only been out of the house a short time where he had been confined with a broken collar bone and other injuries received by falling on the ice. A squad of men ran upon the building numbered 119 Kingston street and slowly lowered the cable to which Egan was hanging.

At the same time a ladder was raised to meet the slowly descending man. The cable was payed out slowly and the exhausted man gradually came nearer terra firma. His body swung in closely to the burning building from which issued dense clouds of smoke, when he was but two stories from the ground.

In a few seconds he swung into the arms of his comrades, released his hold, and, as weak as a rat, was carried from the scene, truly snatched from the jaws of death. A shout of triumph and applause came up from the throats of the vast crowd.

Incoming trains from all directions were heavily loaded during the early evening, and probably over 50,000 outsiders helped to pack the streets in the vicinity while the fire was in progress.

TO CHANGE TAX LAWS.

A Bill in the New York Assembly Providing for a Complete Revision.

ALBANY, March 11.—In the Assembly Mr. Farquhar has introduced a bill embracing a complete revision of the tax laws of the State.

The bill preserves the collateral and direct inheritance tax, and makes the organization tax upon corporations one-tenth of one per cent. as in New Jersey. The organization tax under the present law is one-eighth of one per cent.

It places a tax on all corporations in the State, foreign and domestic, other than manufacturing corporations, of so many mills which is calculated to pay State expenses as nearly as possible, any slight balance being apportioned among counties in proportion to their tax roll for local purposes. This should be practically nothing.

The corporations paying this State tax are to be exempt from taxation for local purposes on all personal property and their stocks and bonds in hands of individual holders shall not be taxable as personal property.

Local option in taxation for local purposes is provided for.

The bill revises all the tax laws of the State, and is a complete system. It does away with special exemption from taxation and makes several provisions on this subject under which exemptions must fall.

Ex-Gov. Gray at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Ex-Governor Isaac P. Gray, the newly appointed Minister to Mexico, called at the State Department at noon, accompanied by Senator Turpie, who presented him to Secretary Gresham. Ex-Governor Gray called merely to pay his respects before starting home to arrange for the trip to his post of duty. He will return to Washington after his confirmation and receive his instructions.

Kaiulani Wants to See the Fair.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Col. Dickinson, secretary of the World's Fair commissioners; Col. T. T. Williams, of San Francisco, and Judge Chipman, of Michigan, have waited upon Princess Kaiulani and requested her to visit the World's Fair. She remarked that as she had never visited an exposition it would delight her exceedingly and she would endeavor to do so.

One Clause of the Army Bill Rejected.

BERLIN, March 1.—The Reichstag has rejected the first clause of the army bill fixing the effective force of the German army in time of peace at 492,068, exclusive of officers and non-comissioned officers, and also rejected Herr Richter's amendment retaining the present effective force until December, 1893. The Reichstag then adjourned until March 16.

Internal Revenue Collections Report.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 11.—The internal revenue collections for the districts of New Hampshire, comprising the States of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, for the month of January aggregated $31,681; for February, $28,163.

Whiskey Trust Committee Adjourns.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Without accomplishing anything the joint Legislative committee appointed to inquire into the allegations made against the Whiskey Trust, adjourned until Monday, March 20.

As to Irish Mail.

LONDON, March 11.—In response to several questions as to the effect which the docking of American line steamships at Southampton would have upon the transmission of the mails from America to Ireland, Arnold Morley, Postmaster-General, said that he would observe the consequence of the abandonment of Queenstown by the American line, and, if he found that the change had resulted in the delaying of the Irish mails, he would direct the attention of the United States government to the matter.

Only 40,000 Isabella Coins to be Issued.

CHICAGO, March 11.—A great many applications have been received in this city for the "Isabella" souvenir coins, recently granted by Congress to the Board of Lady Managers in recognition of woman's work in connection with the World's Fair. Owing to their limited number, 40,000, they promise to command a large premium. Mrs. Palmer thinks they will be ready for sale May 1.

Indicted for Conspiracy.

MONTREAL, March 11.—The grand jury has returned true bills for conspiracy and obtaining money under false pretences against W. A. Shepard, sr., and W. A. Shepard, jr., proprietors of an employment agency in this city. The Shepards have operated similar schemes in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Another Suicide at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, March 11.—Fred Richardson, a switchman employed by the Lehigh Valley railroad company, committed suicide yesterday by taking a dose of rough on rats. No cause is assigned which would prompt self murder.

WROUGHT IN A NIGHT

Power of Speech and Hearing Returns Suddenly.

GREAT PAIN USHERS IN THE CHANGE

The Strange Case of Aged Dr. Livingstone—The Trouble Brought on by Scarlet Fever When He Was Three Years Old—He Frightens His Wife by Calling to Her—He Has Difficulty in Expressing Himself to Others and Often Forgets and Uses His Slate.

ROSENDUT, N. Y., March 11.—Dr. Livingston, a venerable resident of the little village of Bennettsville, this State, has suddenly regained the power of speech and hearing after having been a deaf mute for 65 years. He is nearly 71 years old.

His case, so far as is known, is without a parallel.

When, three years old, a severe attack of scarlet fever left him entirely deaf, he soon forgot the little speech he had after his recovery, and since he was 5 or 6 years old he has been a mute.

One night about two weeks ago he awoke feeling a terrible pain in his head. Rising in bed he called his wife. She was greatly frightened.

She had been married to him over 40 years, and all that time had never heard his voice.

When at last she recovered the presence of mind to ask him what was the matter, he, in turn, was greatly astonished to hear her voice for the first time.

He finally told her of the great pains in his head, but had great difficulty in finding word to express himself.

When the news of the wonderful change spread through the town many persons came to Livingston's house to congratulate the old man, whom they have known for many years.

The pain soon left Livingston's head and gradually seemed to pass down his spine into his legs. It has left him entirely now, and he appears to be in excellent health.

Since the night when he recovered his faculties he has gradually regained fluency in conversation, though he is often at a loss to find the proper word to express [illegible] times after he has been in the habit of using it. He converses with his wife and children, and can write on a slate with ease. He is [illegible] him. At first, he says, the conversation of people was very annoying to him, as all sound grated upon his nerves.

He is anxious to have his case investigated by the medical fraternity. He is now the happiest man in the State. As he told his story tears of joy coursed down his cheeks.

IN HER OWN DEFENSE.

Lady Blanche Testifies in the Celebrated Divorce Case.

LONDON, March 11.—The trial of the Howard de Walden divorce and separation suits was continued yesterday.

The manager of the Seabrooke Hotel, and the servants employed at that hotel were called his witnesses to support Lord Frederick's charge that Lady Blanche had been doing wrong with Capt. Winter. These witnesses testified that Capt. Winter had visited her ladyship at the Seabrooke Hotel and dined with her there, and had accompanied her afterwards to her parlor.

Lady Blanche then took the stand in her own defense. She looked quite unembarrassed, and retained her self-possession remarkably well, answering questions promptly and smiling pleasantly, indifferently or sarcastically as the queries seemed to suggest.

Her ladyship said that she had known Capt. Winter for fourteen years. She acknowledged that he had dined with her and visited her parlor at the Seabrooke Hotel, but she swore emphatically that she had never been guilty of the slightest impropriety with him or with anyone else.

Her ladyship recounted in detail her visits to Pau and Paris and what she had done while there, and she testified positively that Count Jean de Madre had never been in her rooms at night. The count had, it was true, frequently visited her and her friends, both at Pau and Paris and in London, but there was never any secrecy about his visits.

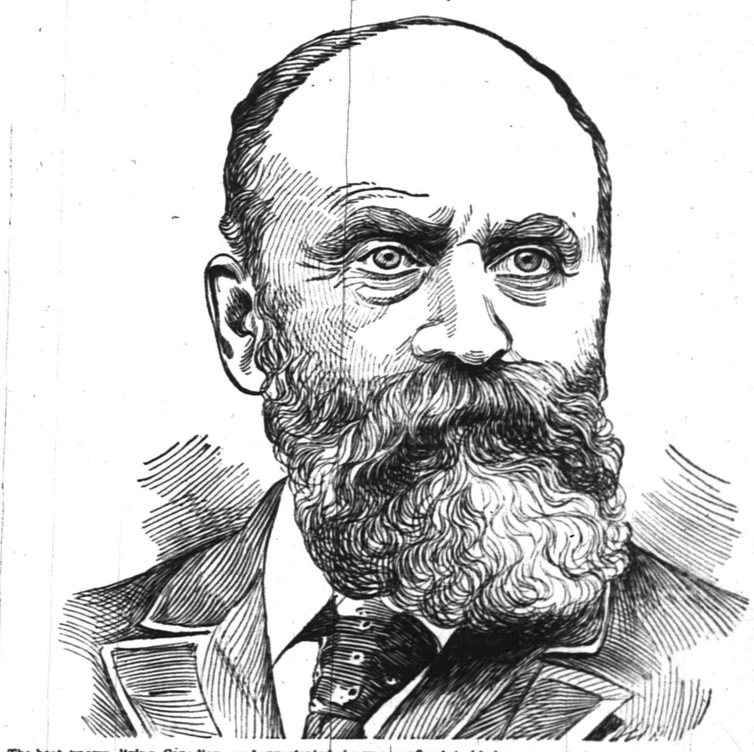
Lady Blanche denied that she had ever left her watch in the bedroom of Count Jean de Madre, in Bury street, as testified to by de Madre's former valet, Crokham. She had, however, visited de Madre there. When she went to Bournemouth to see her son, Thomas Evelyn, at school, de Madre visited and dined with her at the hotel where she was stopping, but he never was in her bedroom.

Canadian Pacific Earnings Decreasing.

MONTREAL, March 11.—The earnings of the Canadian Pacific railway company for the week ending [illegible] 7, are $330,000; for the same week last year it was $365,000; decrease $35,000.

THE MAYOR OF MONTREAL.

Hon. James McShane Owes His Health to Paine's Celery Compound.



The best known living Canadian, and undoubtedly the most prominent man in the Provinces, is the Hon. James McShane, M. P. P., Mayor of Montreal.

His reputation is not confined to the city of which he is chief magistrate, or to Canada, where he is leader, but in the United States, as well, he is highly esteemed as a politician and a business man.

He has always been an ardent and fearless champion for the masses. As a member for Montreal Centre for the local legislature, to which he was returned twice by acclamation, he was the most prominent member of the assembly. He afterwards accepted a position in the ministry where his services were even more conspicuous. The people of Montreal, irrespective of creed and party, last year called upon him to accept the highest gift they could confer—that of Mayor, and at the election he obtained the highest majority ever given to a Montreal mayor.

He has opposed jobbery and corruption in all departments of civic administration and his whole assiduous attention to the public interest has given him a name and reputation that will be remembered for years to come.

Last spring Mayor McShane, owing to overwork, was completely run down and prostrated; he was confined to his house for a time, and was a very sick man; it was a critical time and his physicians sought for the best means of recovery—the most effective recuperator, that he might be safe, with as little delay as possible, to carry on his manifold business. Upon their advice, he acted as many other men in this city have done; he decided, without hesitation, to try Paine's celery compound, having heard much of its wonderful results.

He was not disappointed; his experience with this great remedy was so satisfactory and so gratifying to his family and friends, that a few weeks ago he sent the proprietors a strong testimonial which speaks volumes and adds conclusive proof to the statements of the physicians, that of all the remedies that can be had, Paine's celery compound stands far above all others in honest and great results.

Mayor McShane says that Paine's celery compound has given him great relief and a good appetite, two requisites which every man should possess. His letter to Wells & Richardson Co. is as follows:

Gentlemen—"It is with extreme pleasure that I give you a testimonial in favor of your great remedy, popularly known as Paine's celery compound.

"I used it at a time when I was overworked and run down; the use of the compound has given me a good appetite and made me much stronger than I was before I used it.

"I cheerfully recommend it to all in need of a tonic and strengthener."

Yours very truly, J. MCSHANE.

B. M. Couch, Esq., of Northampton, Mass., is a well known manufacturer, whose remarkable cure by the use of this excellent remedy has caused an extraordinary sale of Paine's celery compound in this city.

Writing to the Wells & Richardson Co., he says: "About twenty years ago, while I was building my shop here, a staging which I was on fell to the ground; I was taken up for dead, but finally after eight days rallied so as to have my reason come back to me; after three or four years I was able to go on with my business, but I was troubled terribly with neuralgia of the heart; for years I have been expecting to drop down at any time; but my wife, who had a shock of palsy 18 months ago, wished me to get some of Paine's celery compound for her; it helped her so much that I began taking it some time since for my heart, and to-day I feel that my neuralgia of the heart is cured; I have not had a spasm for weeks, and believe I shall not have any more."

Mr. Couch's condition and his remarkable recovery has made a great stir in that section of New England. Hon. J. E. Lamb, Mayor of Northampton, Lewis Warner, president Hampshire county national bank and other prominent citizens of Northampton are well acquainted with the facts as given above.

Paine's celery compound cures; it makes people well.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The election over the brook, we are told, all depends on "The Smalleys".

—An invoice of delicious fresh candies from Huyler's arrived at Leggett's pharmacy to-day.

—The repetition of the tea at Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff's, last evening, was a delightful success.

—The signs of spring are seen in the advertisement of Charles H. Hand and J. D. Runyon to-day.

—U. B. Crane, the hatter, says he has just received a large stock of extra fine hats to meet an increasing demand for good goods.

—One merchant in this city is said to have dropped one hundred dollars on the result of the Fitzsimmons-Hall fight, Wednesday night.

—Wm. Apgar, of Somerville, who had both legs fractured by a fall at Garwood yesterday, was transferred to the Muhlenberg Hospital this morning.

—The great success of his special sale has led Sherwin, the shoe man, to continue it two weeks longer—so you have a few more days in which to get bargains in shoes.

—What's the use of an election in the borough if no one has anything to say in the matter except "The Smalleys"? Just accept whom they choose each year, and save expenses.

—At the borough election last year the votes cast were: Republican, 396; Democrat, 280. Mr. Saunders, the Democratic candidate, received 366 votes, and Mr. Bonny, his Republican opponent, 310.

—One of "The Smalleys" tells THE PRESS that they are going to elect Honeyman this year. "We elected Saunders", he continued, "but he knifed us, so we're going to elect another man this time".

—Elder Hand will to-morrow evening endeavor to define the position of the First Church of Christ in their belief of qualifications to heirship for the promises of God, or what we must do to be saved.

—Mayor Saunders is in favor of a street railway to develop the borough, but "The Smalleys" say that car tracks will interfere with their crushed-stone wagons, so "they" are going to elect someone else this time.

—Unpleasant remarks were passed between the owner and one of the "help" on the Broadway building, adjoining the rink, Wednesday morning, over the matter of walling up the rear area-way. Blows were exchanged, but no blood was spilled.

—The annual opening of spring and summer millinery will take place at Boehm's, 7 West Front street, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. It will be a grand display of which full particulars will be given in THE PRESS advertising columns Monday.

—The rain yesterday raised the Raritan river to great proportions, but no great damage was done. The water in Green brook raised so high that at some places between Dunellen and Bound Brook the stream overflowed and flooded the adjoining road-bed hub deep.

—Miss Jean Mawson who plays the part of "Madeline" in Charles H. Yale's "Devil's Auction" at Music Hall to-night, made a hit in "A Fair Rebel" last year. She is a very capable actress. Every artist selected by Mr. Yale for his new "Devil's Auction" has a national reputation.

—A reception under the joint auspices of the Dunellen and New Market social clubs was held in the hall of the Jr. O. U. A. M., at New Market, Wednesday evening. It was a most enjoyable affair, and over a hundred participated. Eugene O'Reilly of this city furnished the music for dancing.

—A horse belonging to Charles Arnold, the Liberty street butcher, caused considerable excitement this morning. The boy who is employed there was hitching up the horse when the horse slipped the halter from his head and ran down the street, snorting, and kicking his heels in the air. The boy gave chase and on Front street the frisky animal was caught.

—The Gold Dust band will celebrate its fifth anniversary on Monday afternoon in the First Baptist church at 3:45. Children are requested to return their barrels at that time. At the close of the exercises, Lord and Lady Fauntleroy with their guests will receive again, and boxes of wedding cake sold at 10 cents a box for the benefit of those disappointed in procuring it at the wedding reception.

The Rev. Robert Lowry has written a beautiful service of Scripture and song for Easter entitled "The King Immortal".

James Conneely of Madison avenue started this morning for Steubenville, Ohio, in response to a telegram stating that his mother was lying at the point of death.

Never defer a vital matter. A cough shouldn't be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it at once.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

I suffered from a severe cold in my head for months and could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York.

SCARBOROUGH CERTIORARIED.

COUNSELOR CRAIG A. MARSH CHECKS THE BISHOP.

For on His Motion at Trenton this Morning, the Supreme Court Restraining the Head of the Diocese From Interfering With the Rev. Mr. Jennings's Occupancy of the Grace Church Pulpit at Westfield.

TRENTON, March 11.—The Supreme Court to-day granted a writ of certiorari removing all the proceedings and orders of the Bishop against the Rev. J. B. Jennings to the Supreme Court and preventing any interference with his discharge of the functions of rector of Grace church until that court shall dispose of the matter as law and justice may require.

It seems that many of the Episcopal ministers of Union county, being convinced that Mr. Jennings is the victim of persecution, have come to his assistance and retained Craig A. Marsh to take the whole matter to the courts if possible.

A great point was scored for Mr. Jennings in obtaining the writ since civil courts are always reluctant to take such matters out of the hands of the church authorities.

Mr. Jennings's friends now expect to see him vindicated and retained in his pulpit permanently.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

John Milne is confined to his room in the City Hotel, suffering from a severe cold.

Edward VanBuren of this city has gone South to Louisville, Ky., to spend some time with the family of his fiancee, Miss Margaret Young.

William Charles Thompson and Ellen Jane Somerville, were married at Grace church rectory by the Rev. E. M. Rodman, last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Reinhart and family of Netherwood left home Monday for New York, where they will spend three or four weeks at the Fiaza Hotel.

The wife of Dr. Frank S. Wells, whose serious illness has been reported in these columns, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3.

Jessie May, the 14-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel T. Clawson, of 37 Brook avenue, is dangerously ill with membraneous croup. Two physicians are in consultation.

It is whispered about that Dr. R. L. Tucker, of 59 East Front street, is to be married in a few weeks to a young lady of Bermuda. After their wedding, it is said, they will take up their residence in Rhode Island.

Signorita Concettina Chitten, the premier dancer of Charles H. Yale's new "Devil's Auction", presents a new solo dance at Music Hall to-night, which is of a most novel character. It was arranged for her by Aurello Coccai, the famous European maitre de ballet.

Alfreda, the seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sarah A. Dunn of Arlington avenue, died last evening. She was a most lovable young girl, and will be greatly missed. The funeral was private, this afternoon, the Rev. G. Kennedy Newell officiating. She was a promising public school student and a faithful little member of Hope chapel.

A. Venino dined with Paderewski yesterday, and the great pianist examined with pleasure Mr. Venino's new book on Pedal Method. He pronounced it a master-work, and said it must be translated into French and German. He further did Mr. Venino the gratifying honor to guarantee its introduction into the Paris Conservatory. Mr. Venino was given another appointment for March 20.

The people of Westfield are electing literary men as trustees of the public schools. Last year the Rev. William A. Rice, D. D., and R. B. Dougherty, Ph. D., were added to the board, and now Willard H. Morse, M. D., is named as a third. Ex-freeholder James T. Pierson declines a renomination for the place, being confined to the house still by reason of the injuries sustained on the Central railroad. Robert R. Sinclair of Harper's Weekly is also named as a candidate for trustee.

Miss Etta Blatz was given a fifteenth birthday anniversary party at her home on Somerset street last evening, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blatz. An elegant supper was served, and there was singing and dancing, with music by Andrew G. Carpenter. Among those present were the Misses J. Fritz, J. Simpson, M. Steiner, L. Grogan, of Westfield, L. Fritz, C. Fritz, M. Smalley, A. Allison, M. McLaughlin, H. Lewis; Messrs. R. Clark, J. Steiner, F. Blatz, B. Steiner, W. Morrison, W. Boyd, of New Brunswick, W. Woodland, H. Drake, W. Hedden, E. Clark, H. Coddington, H. Schutt, L. Schutt.

Catharine R. Webster, the Quakeress, beloved by all, was given a charming surprise at her home, 49 East Second street, Monday evening. It was a birthday gathering planned by her housekeeper, Mary Terry, during the absence of Miss Webster. When she returned home it was in the possession of some of her many friends. An elegant supper was served, and the time passed enjoyably. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Cadmus, Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph. B. Coward, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Woodruff, Mrs. Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. F. Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene M. Laing, Miss Ida Boeap, Miss Maggie Boeap, L. C. Randolph and daughter, Miss Runyon, Miss Boice, Miss Vail, Park avenue, Mulford Estil, the Misses Vail, Mrs. Stelle, Mrs. Daniel Vermeule and daughter.

Great Head.

From the Courier of March 6 one may learn some interesting facts concerning novel writing in general and the methods of F. Marion Crawford in particular.

Through its valuable columns one becomes aware of a new school of writing whose followers are known as the "Romanists". The Courier says: "The age is called the age of steam, but it is suggested that to call it the age of novels might not be inappropriate. Of the novelists there are two schools, the Idealists and the Romanists. Of these two Mr. Crawford belongs to the latter," The brilliant intellect of the Courier writer who is responsible for this piece of intelligence, and whose ideas have become slightly muddled by the fact that Mr. Crawford was born in Rome, surely cannot stop here in his passion for the creation of schools of writing. One may expect to hear soon, from that august sheet, of "Londonists", "Bostonists", "New Yorkists", or any other "ists" attached to the name of the place where the unfortunate Novel "ist" happened to be born. Now that the literary writer in the Courier has failed to mention the adherents of romance or the Realists, these schools will hide their diminished heads, and Mr. Howells will no longer have to stand up for the latter category in opposition to the former.

Let us by all means have more information of this interesting character from the Courier.

The New Devil's Auction To-Night.

In Music Hall, to-night, Charles H. Yale will present his splendid spectacle, "The New Devil's Auction". A company of fifty artists will appear, including the famous European dancers, Signoritas Adele Amore and Concettina Chitten and Signor Aurelio Coccia. They are supported by a troupe of ballerines from the Hof-Oerntheater, Vienna. To complete the ensemble of the production, a car-load of scenery, consisting of nine full stage sets, costumes enough to equip any three ordinary companies, and original music by Herman Perlet, the eminent composer, will be utilized. Signorita Amore and Signor Coccia will interpret Mr. Yale's latest terpsichorean specialty, "The Tee-To-Tum", in which they relate a story in dance and pantomime. The transformation, "The Advent of Spring", will be found the most artistic effort of the kind ever seen on the American stage. Three great mechanical pictures represent the months of March, April and May. The finale is a beautifully illuminated tableau called, "The Genius of Spring". A statuesque young woman is disclosed standing in a barge of flowers drawn by white swans driven by cupid. Refined and delicate in every respect, this production will be found one of the most entertaining ever seen in this city.

Coasters in Collision.

An exciting accident happened to a coasting party of young people Tuesday evening. They were coasting on Johnston's drive, and as their heavy bob with its load of merry-makers sped on its way towards Somerset street, it ran into Geo. Demler's wagon, wrecking one of the hind wheels and throwing John Schenck, who was driving, out on the road. The horse ran away, but was caught further down the street. No other damage was done to the wagon, but two of the party were severely hurt by the collision.

A Lesson to be Heeded.

There was never a fire which a single pail of water, applied in time, would not have quenched. So, also, there are few cases of blindness which could not have been averted by timely attention. Remember this, and have your eyes examined at Collier's before their gradual failing sight becomes incurable.

It's a sign that you need help, when pimples, blotches and eruptions begin to appear. Your blood needs looking after. You'll have graver matters than pimples to deal with, if you neglect it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents and cures all diseases and disorders caused by impure blood. It invigorates the liver, purifies the blood, and promotes all the bodily functions. For all forms of scrofulous, skin and scalp disease, and even Consumption (which is really lung-scrofula) in all its earlier stages, it is a certain remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. It's a matter of confidence in one's medicine.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, because you only pay for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

The "Discovery" sells equally well all the year round.

KELLY WANTED A CHAW.

But When He Asked the Women, They Got Huffy and Left.

Three offenders were before the city court this morning.

James Seabring, who was found in the street unable to take care of himself, was summarily disposed of and put back in his cell in default of $3 fine.

Thomas Ingraham seemed rather pleased at being up for creating a disturbance in the Salvation Army meeting. Judge Coddington refused to receive testimony as to the boy's insanity, which excuse was brought forward to explain his conduct. The judge said that if he was insane he should be shut up. Ingraham was given $3 or ten days.

A chap named Kelly, who took a ride in the Scotch Plains 'bus pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct, as he said that he did not remember anything that happened after he got in the 'bus. According to Geo. E. Collins, the driver, Kelly made himself so obnoxious to the women passengers that they were obliged to get out and walk from Netherwood avenue to Plainfield. Not contented with rolling around the stage, he asked if any of the ladies could supply him with a chaw of tobacco. He felt much injured at having to pay $3 for a ride about which he remembered nothing.

Getting Ready to Enjoy the Season.

The days are almost at hand when you will long to speed over famous county roads on one of the silent steeds that have become so popular. Some may be deterred by the thought that they can't afford a high-priced wheel. To such Rogers speaks to-day. He has accumulated a great assortment of wheels that have been used enough to damage the cost but not to injure the machines. He will sell you a ladies' or gentlemen's wheel, cushion-tire or pneumatic, virtually as good as new, at a price to suit your purse.

Tracking the Ticket Office Thief.

One of the newsboys about the station is accused of robbing the ticket office on Thursday morning. The accused left his home that day and has not since returned. The day before the office was robbed, a gold ring mysteriously disappeared from the young man's sister's pocket-book, and the money left in the pitcher in the hall for milk was missing the same morning. Two railroad detectives were in town, yesterday, investigating the matter.

A High Average.

We are agents for the improved light running Domestic Sewing machines, without doubt at the top of the heap, for it stands alone in point of excellence, being the only machine making both a lock and chain stitch by using either shuttle or looper, wonderously fine, all other improvements thrown in. The best is the improved Domestic, and if you take another now you don't get the best; two machines for the price of one; call and see the only sewing machine up to date; liberal allowance for old machines and payments easy. Every merchant should have a Union cash registsr, it being the only one properly named, and for other reasons. The Smith Premier typewriter is the only typewriter up to date, fifteen improvements over other machines. These are taking the place of all others. The Government bought 150 for the War Department, largest order ever given. Call and see these modern machines, and don't forget Royal Tooth Powder at 10c.

COUNSELOR MARSH GIVES INTERESTING FACTS.

Here's an Opinion as Is an Opinion—The Mortgages He Speaks of Are Said to Bear a Higher Rate of Interest than Municipal Bonds of Solvent Cities Generally Bear.

To the Committee on Laws and Ordinances.

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with your request of this date, the following opinion respecting the powers of the Plainfield board of education under the several statutes to which you have referred, is respectfully submitted.

As to the act of March 31st, 1882, (P. L. 248,) which it has been publicly intimated means for Plainfield a limit of $650,000 of school bonds and the possibility of $250,000 taxes in one year if the mayor's bill becomes a law, it is enough to say that the 1882 act referred to does not give the common council power to purchase a foot of land or to run the city in debt one dollar for lands, school buildings or anything else, except upon request of the board of education. The common council has not now, and never will have, any power whatever under that act unless the board of education should confer the power of its own volition. And this is true whether the mayor's bill becomes a law or not. If the board of education should make a request of the council to act under this law of 1882, and the common council should consent, the same law limits the expense that may be incurred in any one instance to $40,000. But, as already shown, the common council cannot act at all under this law until they are asked to do so by the board or education, and the passage of House Bill 224 would in no way alter the fact. Under that law the school board would still do the borrowing, but would be required in the first instance to submit the matter to the common council for approval.

The law under which the board of education since 1882 has borrowed money to buy land and build school houses and secured payment of the money so borrowed by mortgage, is another law of 1882. See P. L. page 250. That law fixes no limit to the amount of money which the Plainfield board of education may borrow. There is a proviso, however, that not more than one school building with the necessary appliances and conveniences shall be authorized to be erected in any city in any one year. There are other limitations in the act, but the board of education here escapes from their operation because of its charter. The amount which the board determine to borrow is required to be secured by mortgage payable in less than ten years with the option to the board to renew the mortgage. The money to pay the debt so incurred with interest is required sooner or later to be put in the tax levy.

The statement has been made, without the citation of any statute, however, that the board of education cannot order assessed more than one thousand dollars in any one year in payment of the indebtedness for any school building. I am clearly of the opinion that this is a mistake, and I think the source of the mistake is easily traced. The Plainfield school law of 1867 which authorized the borrowing of $15,000 to build a school-house, and the issue of bonds to pay the loan, required all interest and $1,000 of the principal to be included in each year's tax levy. When in 1869 the legislature authorized the borrowing of $15,000 more for a similar purpose, the act provided that the bonds thereby authorized should be payable and be redeemed as directed in the act of 1867. So, when in 1875, the legislature authorized the borrowing of $20,000 more in Plainfield to build another school-house, the act provided that the bonds thereby authorized should be payable and be redeemed as directed in the act of 1867. In the cases cited, there was $1,000 of principal required to be put in tax levy each year for each school set of bonds for the several buildings until the bonded debt should be paid. In this way, probably, the impression was created that indebtedness incurred for lands and school buildings under the general State law of 1882 was also required to be paid at the rate of one thousand dollars per year for each school building.

However the impression was created, there is no legal foundation for it. The general law of 1882 provided that money to pay the annual interest on the mortgage, and the money authorized to be raised for a sinking fund to pay off the principal of the mortgage, should be raised in the same manner as the money to pay current expenses of the public schools.

The act fixes no limit for Plainfield either as to the total amount to be borrowed yearly, or as to the total amount to be assessed in the tax levy yearly.

On behalf of the mayor and common council, I stated before the House committee in the presence of counsel for the school board, that, (assuming that the school board was right in regarding the one-half of one per cent. limit for school purposes as having application to the current expenses only) there was no law anywhere to be found which put any limit on the amount to which the school board could run Plainfield in debt for lands and school houses, and I challenged contradiction. No one took up the challenge.

The counsel for the school board after a week's time for preparation of an answer to the challenge, consumed over twenty minutes in reading his carefully prepared type-written brief before the committee, and although he referred to all the laws which in his opinion had relation to the subject, he failed to deny the proposition stated. Three other lawyers have argued before the committee against the proposed law, and none of them disputed the legal proposition referred to. I see no reason for altering the opinion which I have always held on this point, and which was originally rendered to the mayor in the discharge of my official duty as counsel to the corporation.

It is also a mistake to suppose that "the only bonds which have been issued in Plainfield for school purposes were voted directly by the people". Special amendments to the school board charter in 1867, 1869 and 1872, gave the power to the board without requiring any vote of the people on the subject at all.

As to whether the board of education has issued any bonds beyond those expressly authorized by its charter, I have to say that while it is true that for sums borrowed for lands and school houses under the general law of 1882 the board has not issued bonds in the usual sense of the word, the board has in fact with each mortgage issued a single bond for the full amount borrowed, and that such bonds, principal and interest, are required to be paid by the taxpayers. The debt incurred is for all practical purposes the debt of the city, and the creditors, besides the ordinary remedies to enforce payment against the taxpayers, have the added security of a specific lien upon the mortgaged lands and buildings.

It is a mistake to suppose that the board of education can put no lien on a dollar's worth of taxable property". By virtue of the charter of the board of education, the whole amount of money legally demanded each year by the board is assessed for taxes and becomes on May 1st a first and paramount lien on the property of taxpayers assessed to raise the money.

Whatever indebtedness the board legally incurs by borrowing money with which to buy lands and erect school houses is a debt which the taxpayers of Plainfield are by law required to pay. The amount borrowed is indeed a lien on the property mortgaged, but for the amounts required annually for interest and principal of the debt, the property of every taxpayer is liable, and if any taxpayer's share of the debt is not promptly paid when due, his property may be seized, put up at public auction and sold to the highest bidder.

Respectfully submitted,

CRAIG A. MARSH,
Counsel to the Corporation.

THE BOARD'S LEGAL DEFENSE.

What Col. Tyler Told the Legislative Committee About the Plainfield School Question.

The following was supplied to THE PRESS early in the week with request for publication, but its appearance has been unavoidably deferred till now:

ADDRESS OF MASON W. TYLER BEFORE THE COMMITTEE OF MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS AT TRENTON, FEB. 28, 1893.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee:

I appear before you as a citizen of Plainfield since 1870. I have twice been a member of the common council and served one term upon the board of Education, so that I profess to some familiarity with both of these departments of our city government. I came to Plainfield from Massachusetts, the State where educational institutions are particularly appreciated, and where, I think, they have attained their highest development. One of the inducements that led me to select Plainfield as my home and place of residence was the reputation of her public schools. I heard of the place as containing the best public schools in the State of New Jersey, and made up my mind that was the place that I wanted to identify myself with. Plainfield public schools stand to-day as a monument to the intelligence and wisdom and public spirit of Dr. Charles H. Stillman. He appreciated the value to a community, of a public school system, well-founded, conducted upon liberal principles and inspired by the activity and spirit of this age of rapid growth of and thirst for knowledge, and he devoted his life to building such an institution for the city of Plainfield. It is a venerable institution to-day; it antedates the birth of the city by twenty years. It has had a most honorable and useful career. Our best citizens have served upon the board; have given to it all the aid and encouragement within their power: the teachers and the pupils alike have always had an honorable pride in its history. Its commencement occasions, at the end of each year, are the fete days par excellence of the city. No other occasion draws such a crowd; no other gathering of our citizens excites such interest and enthusiasm. The school has made a record for itself among the best schools of the country. When Mr. Rockefellow's great and wealthy Chicago university wanted a head for ladies department, they selected the lady who, for more than ten years, presided over our public schools. And I noticed by a recent report that two of the graduates of Plainfield public schools in a competition in which they met the graduates of such schools as St. Pauls at Concord, N. H., Phillips Academy at Andover, Exeter Academy and Williston Seminary at Easthampton, Mass., had received awards from two different colleges, especially commending the preparation received by these young men at the hands of the Plainfield public schools above that of their competitors. The Good Book says, "By their fruits ye shall know them:" Dr. Stillman could hardly hope to have the value of his work approved by greater or better results. And yet, after all these years of honor and success, a bill has been introduced into the Legislature which proposes radically to change the institution through which this success has been attained. In effect, the proposition is to put the board of education of the city of Plainfield under guardianship. Under the guardianship of the common council, it is not to be allowed to spend over a thousand dollars for school houses or lands upon which to erect school houses without the consent and approval of the common council. That is the measure that is before the Legislature now, but I fear that it is simply an entering wedge, and while to-day it is proposed to subordinate the board of education to the common council only in one particular, to-morrow if this succeeds, it will be stripped of all its discretionary powers in reference to that most vital of all questions, the amount and perhaps the expenditure of our money for educational purposes. Better wipe out the board of education altogether, and put the schools in the hands of the common council, than thus to deprive it of its powers of sustaining itself in carrying on its work. This scheme in dividing responsibility between two boards, is essentially vicious, an effective administration of any department wants to be under a single head or a board animated by but one purpose or object. The responsibility and the power must both be centralized. Such is the teachings of all our experiments in local self-government.

The boards in the cities of New York and Brooklyn, where the powers and responsibilities are divided between two parties, or two opposing factions, have always been the most corrupt and inefficient boards in that most corrupt city. The only way of accomplishing anything is through deals by one party or faction with the other. We do not want to introduce any such temptation into Plainfield city politics. On the other hand, the whole tendency of modern enterprise and success is in the direction of specialties. To attain the highest results in the profession or in manufactures, you have got to use and employ persons whose energies are all directed to one single point, or to the accomplishment of one single operation. That is the idea that underlies the board of education. It is a body of gentlemen selected especially to superintend the educational department of our city government. There is no politics in it; there ought to be none. The problem is to see that all the children of our community receive the most and the best education that their circumstances will permit, with the least expense to people that will thoroughly accomplish the work. It is a large problem, large enough to require the undivided attention of any body of men, and a body especially selected and charged with that responsibility, and endowed with the power to carry it out, is the only instrumentality, so far as we believe, that will accomplish adequate results.

We humbly ask that you permit the board of education of the city of Plainfield to continue the good work that it has heretofore accomplished.

Plainfield's Assemblyman Always for the Right.

(Elizabeth Journal.)

The Hon. George Kyte, of Fanwood, puts prompt and permanent quietus to the rumor that he favors race-track legislation. It was not necessary for Mr. Kyte to deny such rumor to anyone who has known him personally or who has studied his record in the Legislature. But in some unwarranted and at present unknown way the idle story got started, and in the present righteously agitated condition of the public mind it seems to have spread with startling rapidity. The instant it came to Mr. Kyte he stamped it out. Mr. Kyte favors race-tracks just about as much as the Journal does, and every vote that he has ever cast on this question is evidence of that fact.

For a Fire Department Building to be erected in the city of Plainfield, N. J., will be received up to 2 o'clock p. m., Friday, March 17, 1893 by First Assistant Engineer James Martin at Martin Bros.' store, corner Park avenue and 2d st.

All bids must be addressed to E. N. Erickson, Chairman Committee Fire and Buildings, and indorsed "Bid for Fire Department Building" Plainfield, N. J.," and same will be opened by the committee at Chief Doane's office on Friday March 17, 1893, at 8 o'clock p. m.

A certified check for twenty-five dollars, payable to the order of the City Treasurer, must accompany the "bid" as a guarantee that the bidder awarded the contract will furnish the required bonds. Right is hereby reserved to accept any or to reject any or all bids.

The bidder awarded the contract will be required to furnish bonds in the amount of $2,000.00 for the mason work; $2,000.00 for the carpenter's work; $500.00 for the plumber's work; $500.00 for heating, as per the drawings and their respective specifications.

Bids for mason work, carpenter's work, plumber's work, heating, painting and electric lighting, all including materials, must be put in separately though they may be all by the same party.

For drawings and specifications apply to B. Fosgate, architect, 61 North avenue, Plainfield, N. J. E. N. ERICKSON, Chairman Com. Fire and Buildings.

SHE WAS SURPRISED.

So Will You Be When You Read It.

It Certainly Has Been a Source of Wonder and Comment.

But the Lady Is Ready to Substantiate Everything.

CHARLESTOWN, MASS.—There has been in this place much wonder and comment of late in regard to a certain lady—a Mrs. Agnes S. Morton, who resides at 388 Main st., Charlestown, Mass. She was seen at her home and explained the whole interesting matter as follows:

"I do not know how to express myself to you and the public at large about this matter," she said, "but I feel it my bounden duty to say something.

"Everybody knows that I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia for twenty-five years and that I tried most everything and different doctors, but all were failures. I became so weak that I was unable to walk steadily, had no appetite and what I did eat was the most simple kidd of food; but my stomach was unable to retain even that.

"I could not sleep at night, had no ambition for anything, and was a total wreck. I knew I would have to do something as I could not stand it many weeks longer. Why I could not go up stairs without sitting down, and my heart would beat and I would be all of a tremble. I got a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and had taken scarcely one-half of it when I began to have an appetite and when I finished the remainder the trembling had left me, the palpitation was better and I could sleep nights. I took four bottles and then left off to see if the great benefit I had received was permanent for everything I had taken before had proved only temporary.

MRS. AGNES S. MORTON.

"But I found it was not so in this case. I have not taken it now for some time and its results are just as good and permanent.

"I must tell you I am like a new person. I have an excellent appetite, can eat anything and everything, and I feel buoyant and ambitious.

"I cannot express half I want to, and all this is perfectly true, as all my friends and acquaintances are knowing to all the facts.

"I never expected to be cured as my case had been of so long standing. I hoped for nothing more than relief for a while; but I am cured, perfectly cured. I do not hesitate to say that through the blessing of God and Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I am completely cured."

Such is the lady's remarkable story, and we doubt if such wonderful cures have ever before been made as are effected by this truly valuable discovery, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is a fact that everybody needs some spring medicine, something to tone up and strengthen the nerves, invigorate the blood and start up a healthy action of the organs; and no medicine in the world so perfectly and completely does this as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is the ideal spring invigorant and restorative.

All can secure its great benefits as it is for sale by druggists for $1. It is, too, a purely vegetable and harmless medicine, the prescription in fact of the well-known successful specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

INDIANS QUIET.

The Police Now on the Ground Only Two of the Crows Killed.

LAUREL, Mont., March 11.—Reports just received from Wilsey indicate that the reports sent out yesterday concerning the Crow Indian troubles were grossly exaggerated. So far two Indians have been killed and both men who did the killing have given themselves up to the authorities at Billings.

The trouble is on the reservation recently ceded by the Crows and is confined to a few Indians. A few settlers have holdings there and the Indians have driven off their stock.

The county authorities and Indian police will take prompt action and it is believed will prevent further trouble. No call has been made on the Governor for troops and this would have been done were the situation as bad as first reported.

A Prison Chaplain's Arbitrary Ruling.

JOLIET, Ill., March 11.—Chaplain Stephan, of the State penitentiary, has served notice on the Governor that he will not be dictated to. Last Sunday the Chaplain issued an order that hereafter none but Lutherans and Catholics should teach in the prison Sunday schools. This shuts out all Protestant churches which have been represented in the prison. The Governor demanded, that all denominations should be allowed equal rights in the State institutions, but Chaplain Stephan firmly refuses to pay any attention to orders.

Harvard Freshmen Challenge Columbia.

NEW YORK, March 11.—F. W. Shepard, Manager of the Columbia College Freshmen crew received a challenge from Harvard yesterday to a two-mile straight away race in eight-oared shells with coxswains. The race to be rowed at New London preceding the Harvard-Yale University race, and if the Yale Freshmen accept a similar challenge, the race will be a triangular one between the three crews. Columbia accepted the challenge.

PENNSYLVANIA FLOODS

Rivers Spreading Themselves Over the Country.

RAILWAY TRACKS UNDER WATER

The Ice in the Susquehanna River Breaks and Lets the Water Loose—It Surrounds the Houses in the River Villages and Compels Railroads to Abandon Trains—Port Deposit People Again Alarmed.

WILKESBARRE, March 11.—The ice in the Susquehanna river, on account of the warm rains, has broken up and moved down the stream at a rapid rate for about half an hour, when it suddenly stopped, and the stream was completely packed with solid ice for a distance of 40 miles. A few hours later this ice started with a tremendous crash.

Another gorge formed later on between here and Plymouth, three miles south of this city.

This also broke, and the river was again full of ice, which floated down the stream. The town of Plainsville, four miles north of this city, is under water, and people are imprisoned in the top stories of their homes. The Lehigh Valley, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and the Pennsylvania railroad trains are all stalled, and traffic is entirely suspended from the West and other points along the lines.

The village of Port Bewkley, between here and Pittston, is under 30 inches of water, and in many places the railroad tracks are covered with masses of ice.

In all the small towns along the line of the river the houses are all surrounded by water.

The trains on the Erie & Wyoming railroad bound for here could get no further than Fort Blanchard. Superintendent Esser of the Lehigh Valley railroad took the passengers aboard his private car in order to transfer them to the Delaware & Hudson railroad at Avoca, a place of safety. At Pittstown the water is 23 feet above low water mark and the excitement is great on the west side where small boats are in use transferring people to their homes.

At Coxton the Lehigh Valley railroad yards present a sorry spectacle. The thirteen shifting tracks are under several feet of water. A frame building used by railroaders was floating about and the telegraph station was abandoned, the water having reached the eaves. All the loaded cars were removed but there were a lot of empties remaining. Flat cars are invisible except as to their loads and freight cars contained from three to five feet of water.

The Bloomsburg division of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad is under three feet of water from Fortyfort to Wyoming a distance of four miles.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., March 11.—The flood here is higher than in the great freshet of June, 1889.

The basement of the town hall is submerged, and the water is over the foundation walls of the Jacob Tome institute. The board sidewalks of the town are washing away, and the railway station is surrounded by surging waters. The telegraph office has been removed. The water is rising rapidly.

The people are greatly alarmed over the outcome. The ice stays fast.

The public schools, which were reopened on Monday after being closed for a month by the recent floods, were closed again this morning.

Three feet of water in the basements have drowned out the fires. Boats are lashed to dwellings, ready for immediate use.

ELMIRA, N.Y., March 10.—The Chemung river has risen about 11 feet since yesterday afternoon, but it is now stationary, and no further damage has been done in this city than flooding a number of cellars.

Newtown and Hoffman creeks, which run through the eastern and western sections of the city respectively, are over their banks, and cellars in those vicinities are filled with water.

Considerable damage is reported in neighboring places.

The Erie railway bridge at Wellsburg was damaged to such an extent that trains on that road were run via the D., L. & W between Elmira and Waverly. A bridge in the town of Rathbunville, Steuben county, was carried away, and another bridge near Addison shared the same fate.

A number of bridges in Schuyler county were reported unsafe, and the probabilities are that a number have been carried away.

Havana and Watkins are both partly inundated.

NIAGARA FALLS, March 10.—The rains and thaw are causing no end of trouble in the eastern end of this city above and near the Schlosser Landing. Gill Creek has overflowed its banks and become a rushing torrent. The ice still holds in the bed of the creek, but is hourly expected to break up.

If this happens, at least three bridges will be carried away, and much damage to the streets and new houses in this locality will follow. Much of the land between Buffalo street and the river is submerged.

Most of the private property damaged so far belongs to the Niagara Power Company.

Damage By Floods in New Jersey.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 11.—The heavy rain has caused a freshet on the Raritan river, and sixty feet of the new temporary bridge here was washed away, thus cutting off communication between this city and Highland Park. It is feared that much other damage has been done along the river.

Farewell to Niagara's Ice Bridge.

NIAGARA FALLS, March 11.—The great ice bridge is slowly going to pieces. The rain, wind and warm weather are producing a disintegrating effect. The upper part of the bridge is breaking off rapidly. The bridge has stood for a longer time than any other in the past forty years.

Persia's Exhibit for the Fair.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Watson B. Sperry, Minister to Persia, has informed the State Department that an exhibit of Persian goods has been prepared for the Columbian Exposition at Chicago, and part of it is now en route. The exhibit was prepared under the direct authority of the Shah.

Cracksmen Up for Seven Years.

HONESDALE, Pa., March 11.—Judge Seeley, of the Wayne County Court, has sentenced William Watsech and William Smith, professional cracksmen, to seven years in the Eastern penitentiary for robbing Watts' hardware store, Honesdale, on the night of Dec. 19 last.

Charleston Prison's New Warden.

BOSTON, March 11.—At a special meeting of the executive council at noon Gen. B. F. Bridges was unanimously confirmed as warden of the State prison. The Senate special committee to investigate the affairs of the State prison will give a public hearing next Tuesday forenoon.

WORK OF THE SENATE

Warm Discussion Over the Appointed Senators.

NO MORE EDITOR POSTMASTERS

President Cleveland Believes His Predecessor Suffered Through Following This Course—The Senate Discussion Expected to be Non-Partisan.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The session of the Senate to-day was brief and was confined mainly to the reception of nominations from the President. Within a day or two the committees will be appointed, and the body will be in thorough working order so far as the business for which it is called together is concerned.

Reports of committees upon the nominations will begin to come in immediately, and the Senate will be occupied with them until the end of the special session.

Aside from this business is the consideration of the legal questions involved in the appointments of three Senators by the Governors of Montana, Wyoming and Washington.

The members of the Committee on Privileges and Elections have already been devoting their attention to the study of precedents and the law affecting such appointments, and will doubtless be ready to make reports soon after the credentials are taken up.

It happens that the decision of the question involved in these cases can be made without affecting the political complexion of the Senate, and it is the intention of both sides of the Chamber to endeavor to consider the cases purely on their merits and without respect to political considerations, and thus establish a precedent that will be likely to stand hereafter.

As the points involved are many, and the question itself is complex, it is expected that a debate will ensue in the Senate upon the presentation of the report of the committee that may occupy many weeks.

EDITORS NEED NOT APPLY.

They Will Not be Generally Recognized by the New Administration.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The assertion that editors are not generally to be recognized by the new administration is true. Mr. Cleveland believes that his predecessor suffered through the charge of having subsidized the press, and he does not propose to run the same gauntlet.

This decision is to be made particularly applicable to newspaper men who desire to be postmasters in their towns.

Mr. Bissell has had the names of some country editors presented to him in connection with various postoffices, but has uniformly declined to give any encouragement to the office seeker. He lays down the the principle that in small towns all the utterances of the newspaper over which he is the master editor will be regarded as the views of the administration, while, on the other hand, all praise of Mr. Cleveland's acts will be discounted because it emanates from the recipient of official favor.

Therefore Mr. Bissell does not propose to appoint any editors to postmasterships, and the President will observe the same rule in disposing of the higher offices.

Corea's Fair Commissioner Coming.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The Corean legation is informed by cable from Seol that the newly appointed Royal Commissioner to the World's Columbian Exposition has started for this country and the exhibit has been shipped to San Francisco. The Royal Commissioner Jeung Kiung Won is of high rank in the Corean government and is accompanied by many attaches.

Navy Yard Laborers Will Stay.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Secretary of the Navy Herbert says that he does not favor making changes among the mechanics of the navy yards because of politics, and will follow the practice of his predecessor in this respect.

BOTH SIDES OUT.

Priests at Swedesboro Hold Services Out of the Church.

SWEDESBORO, N. J., March 13.—The majority of the parishioners of St. Joseph's church, and especially the German element, responded to the call of Father Leahy, appointed in place of Father Treacy, who was removed by Mgr. Satolli, and assembled in Howell's hall yesterday, where he gave them a full explanation of affairs, and stated that all who worshiped with Father Treacy were excommunicated. Printed copies of the letters were distributed among the parishioners on the streets.

Father Treacy celebrated mass at a private house to about one-third of his former congregation. Both meetings were conducted in a very quiet manner.

Deputy Sheriff H. G. Garrison, into whose hands the keys of the church were put on Saturday, stood guard over the church.

Father Treacy says he will sue Bishop O'Farrell and Mgr. Satolli for $50,000 damages, and Father Leahy says that Father Treacy is surely working toward his own incarceration.

The Mayor Led the Raid.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 13—At an early hour this morning Mayor Marigold, at the head of a squad of patrolmen, raided a gambling place on Fairfield avenue managed by Sam Merritt. The place was crowded, and game was running at full blast. Forty men and much valuable paraphernalia were captured. The raid was due to an anonymus letter received by the Mayor. Among those captured were many young clerks.

Spoke Factory Burned.

CARLISLE, Pa., March 13.—The extensive spoke factory of Glauser & Son, at Newville, together with all the machinery, was totally destroyed by fire early in the morning. Loss, $20,000; insurance, $10,000. Origin, incendiary. A number of employes are thrown out of work.

Held Up in a City's Streets.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., March 13.—A number of citizens were held up early this morning in this city and robbed of their valuables by a gang of highwaymen. The amount obtained was small. Three men, who claim to live in Charleston, have been jailed on suspicion.

Hope for the Naronic Fast Fading.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The White Star steamship Naronic is still a source of speculation. A fleet of steamships has reached this port during the past few days, but none had anything to report of her. The vessels all encountered rough weather.

THEIR STOVE LEAKED.

Two Old Ladies of White Plains Asphyxiated—A Struggle for Life.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 13.—Mrs. Moses Miller, 68 years old, and Mrs. Ann Julian, 60 years old, two well-to-do sisters, living in a fine house owned by Mrs. Miller on Central avenue, were found in bed in the morning almost dead from gas asphyxiation.

The old ladies have been using a dilapidated self-feeding parlor stove to heat their sitting room and bed room rather than the furnace in the cellar of the house. Before going to bed one of the sisters, in preparing the stove for the night, left it in such shape that the coal gas escaped into the room.

Miss Mabel Hanler went to their rooms in the morning to deliver some purchases she had made for them. She knocked several times at their sitting room door, and, receiving no answer, opened the door and went in.

As she did so the gas nearly stifled her, but, realizing what had happened, she ran to a window and threw up the sash. Then she looked into the bed room and saw Mrs. Miller lying with her face buried in the pillow and Mrs. Julian with her body half hanging out of the bed and her head nearly touching the floor.

Miss Hanler went into the room and tried to arouse the old ladies, but wit hout success.

She then ran out of the house calling for help. She was answered by two women, neighbors of the old ladies. These failed to revive them, and a doctor was immediately summoned.

For over three hours he and his assistants worked incessantly, and finally Mrs. Miller came to her senses. Shortly afterward she became unconscious, and, although strong efforts were made to revive her, her condition is very critical, and she may die at any moment.

Mrs. Julian's condition is also very critical. The fact that she lay with her head hanging down caused congestion, and her chances of recovery are very slim. All efforts to resuscitate her have proved of no avail.

The doctor says that the recovery of the women is very doubtful.

AFTER THE FIRE.

Another Body Recovered from the Ruins—Condition of the Injured.

BOSTON, March 13.—The body of Henry Turner, an employe of the Jaquith company and who has already been included in the list of dead by Friday's fire, was found in the ruins by a fireman. It was terribly mutilated and identification was only possible by means of a ring that he wore.

The body of C. T. Odiorne has not been found. The condition of the injured remains about the same as yesterday, Miss Margaret Flynn, Fred Meadowcraft and Theodore Crocker still being in a very critical condition, while all the others are improving rapidly.

A large force of men are working on the ruins to-day and their movements are being watched by a large crowd of sightseers.

The loss is complete wherever the fire took a good hold. The underwriters acknowledge that they will get practically no salvage. The loss to the property owners will aggregate fully $40,000,000, and 90 per cent. of that loss will fall upon the insurance companies.

At a special meeting of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters it was unanimously decided to at once increase the rates in the conflagration district to allow for a conflagration hazard, an element for which no provision is at present made in the rates.

The advance will be $1 per $100 worth of insurance—that is, a firm paying 40 cents per hundred will pay $1.40, and a firm paying $5 per hundred will pay $6. The increase is made on the basis of a fixed charge for a fixed hazard and not by a percentage, because the board believes that the construction of a building should not be considered in a great conflagration, where good or moderate construction has very little effect in staying the progress of the flames.

Partridge's Employes Accounted For.

BOSTON, March 13.—The persons employed by Horace Partridge & Co., in the building where the fire started, met at the firms' Hanover street store, and upon roll call all were either present or accounted for. There were some 30 or more persons in Partridge & Co.'s workshops at the time of the fire, and it has been generally believed that the bodies of 12 or 15 of them were buried in the ruins, but developments prove that such is not the case.

Three Hundred Out of Work.

WILKESBARRE, March 13.—The west end breaker at Monacaqua operated by the West End Coal company has been destroyed by fire. Nearly 300 men and boys are thrown out of employment for an indefinite time. The origin of the fire is supposed to be incendiary. The loss is estimated at $40,000; partially insured.

To Head Off Cholera.

CINCINNATI, March 13.—A call for a meeting of the National Association of the State Boards of Health, to be held in New York April 5, was authorized to be issued during a meeting of the officials of the association held here to-day. The object is to adopt measures to prevent the spread of cholera in this country next summer.

Steamer Smashed by the Flood.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 13.—When the ice floe in the lower Genesee broke the steamer City of Rochester was torn from its mooring at Charlotte and hurled against the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg bridge, being completely wrecked. Two yachts and a ferryboat were carried into the lake and lost.

Major Byrne's Offer.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Major John Byrne has written to Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet, President of the National Federation of America, offering to contribute $1,000 towards a promised fund of $150,000 "to enable Ireland to sustain Mr. Gladstone's in his effort in her behalf."

SCARING THE WARDENS

Charlestown Prisoners Again Raising a Rumpus.

MATERIALS FOR ESCAPE FOUND

They Have Been Shut in Their Cells Since the Searching Began and Becoming Impatient They Shake the Building and Break Nearly Every Pane of Glass in the Establishment.

BOSTON, March 13.—There were more disgraceful scenes in the Charlestown prison yesterday. Pandemonium reigned all day, and the prisoners did not cease their noise after nightfall.

It was started by rattling the windows on the lower tier. This was the signal for a general din all over the institution.

The noise from the 600 cells seemed to shake the building, and alarmed the guards most thoroughly. There was a hurrying in various directions, as there was a fear that some of the men were trying to escape under the cover of the noise.

The convicts have been locked up since Gov. Russell's first visit, and their demonstrations since then have shown that they do not like it. The presence of Warden Lovering had no effect, for the men kept up the racket all day, and very little of the glass is left. The new warden is to take charge next week.

In ferretting among the workshops yesterday the guards found all the paraphernalia necessary for an escape. Hack and hand saws, coils of rope and scaling hooks were discovered sufficient to liberate every man in the prison if once the guards were disposed of. The equipment was most complete. No religious services were held yesterday.

LARGE AMOUNT OF BULLION.

110,000,000 Ounces of Silver at the Philadelphia Mint.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—The vaults of the United States mint, in this city, hold the largest amount of bar silver ever stored in one place in the United States. The quantity is 110,000,000 ounces or fully enough with the usual alloy to make no less than 130,000,000 silver dollars.

The steel walled treasure-holders are filled to overflowing and the bullion is being received from the government at the rate of 3,800,000 ounces a month. Besides this amount, there is sealed in the separate vaults $50,000,000 in coined silver. The seal on the door has not been broken for two years.

It has been found necessary to have another steel-lined vault constructed for the sole purpose of storing the bullion. The new vault is about ten feet from floor to ceiling, eight feet wide and thirty-five feet long. With the silver piled clear up to the ceiling, this new storage place will hold only 20,000,000 ounces, and at the present rate it will be filled in less than six months. The construction of still another storage place will be an absolute necessity should the purchase of silver continue.

Previous to 1890 it was a rare event to have stored within the walls of the mint more than a million ounces of bullion. There never was a day up to that time when there were three million ounces at one time on hand.

OPENED THE FLOOD GATES.

Troy Threatened With Destruction from the City Reservoir.

TROY, N. Y., March 13.—The recent rains have so swelled the volume of water in the city reservoir that heroic measures have been resorted to to save the city from destruction. The strain on the reservoir banks was so great that it was feared they would give way and let millions of gallons of water down upon the town.

The floodgates were opened and an immense volume of water rushed down the sidehill. Much damage resulted but no lives were lost. A bridge at Millville was washed away by the swollen Poestenkill.

The river at this point has overflowed the docks and has risen 30 inches since morning and is still rising. Merchants along the river front are moving out their goods.

Will Offer a $75,000 Purse.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A dispatch from St. Paul, Minn., says: "St. Paul lost the Hall-Pitzsimmons fight by police interference. It may secure the Mitchell-Corbett fight. The Phœnix Athletic club, composed of the wealthiest men in the city, has decided to offer a purse of $75,000 for the event. The present laws prohibit prize fighting, but a bill has passed the House which will settle the difficulty, and it is believed will pass the Senate. The managers have been communicated with.

Drowned in Their Buggy.

MIDLAND, Mich., March 13.—Fred Laisure, with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Hattie Sullivan, both of this place, were drowned a short distance from here yesterday. He was driving along the road to Sanford, and tried to cross a ravine which, on account of the over-flowed river, was full of water. The buggy, however, sank and its two occupants were drowned after a desperate struggle to reach the bank.

MANN'S BODY FOUND.

Under a Pile of Stones Covered by Snow for Three Weeks.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., March 13.—The body of a young man named Mann has been found under a pile of rocks on the South mountain, west of this place. He had been murdered.

His lower jaw was cut off, and there were deep cuts on the back of the head. He had been missing three weeks. The heavy snow on the mountain kept the body in a state of preservation.

The murdered man was a woodcutter, and his companion, Henry Heist, is suspected of the crime.

TO MOVE THE CAPITAL.

California's Legislature Suddenly Resolves to Allow a Change of Base.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 13.—The State Legislature has passed through both houses a resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment removing the capital to San Jose, provided the latter city shall deed to the State ten acres of land and a bonus of $1,000,000. The action, though hasty, appears to have been in earnest.

The immediate animus of the resolution was an article in a Sacramento evening paper headed, "Thank God, the Legislature will soon adjourn," and professing to recite various misdeeds and mistakes of the Legislature.

The article was read in the Senate and the resolutions passed promptly. Being transmitted to the Assembly it first failed of the necessary two-thirds majority, but a call of the House was ordered, the doors were closed and the sergeant-at-arms despatched to arrest absentees. A number were found and brought to the Assembly and the required vote was finally obtained.

HAVE BEGUN PLANTING.

South Dakota Farmers Taking Advantage of the Early Spring.

YANKTON, S. D., March 13.—The farmers of this portion of the great corn belt of South Dakota have begun seeding and planting, actuated by the sunshine and the balminess of the weather of the past 30 days. In this section snow has entirely disappeared, frost is out of the ground, and spring has set in and the earth is in perfect condition for receiving seed and insuring early sprouting.

The acreage in this section will be almost thrice that of last year, because thousands of acres of heretofore untilled land owned by the State or held by speculators have passed into the hands of men who will cultivate it.

Hundreds of new settlers are coming into the country from other States.

SHOOK BUILDINGS.

A Natural Gas Explosion in Pittsburg Causes Considerable Excitement.

PITTSBURG, March 13.—Escaping natural gas in the conduits of the Central District Telephone company, on Market street, caused a terrific explosion yesterday.

Every pane of glass in nearly every building between First and Third avenues were broken but fortunataly no one was injured. The concussion shook buildings for several blocks and frightened the occupants, but beyond the breaking of the windows, no damage was done.

If it had been a week day it is probable that there would have been many persons injured, as the district is one of the busiest in the city.

THE STRIKE OFF.

Labor Troubles at the World's Fair Grounds Settled.

CHICAGO, March 13.—All danger of a general strike at the World's Fair grounds was removed when the delegates representing the labor organizations and the council of administration reached a settlement of the differences existing between the striking electrical workers and the Fair.

It was agreed that hereafter the wages asked by the electrical workers, 37 1-2 cents an hour, should be paid, but only to such men as are thoroughly competent workmen. The New York Insulated Wire Company, whose men struck with the others two weeks ago, have made the same arrangement with its men.

READY TO SAIL.

A United States Revenue Cutter Supposed to be Going to Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The revenue cutter Rush is lying in the stream with banked fires ready to sail.

It is reported she has been ordered to abandon the proposed trip to San Diego and prepare for a two months voyage immediately.

Her destination is surmised to be Honolulu to carry a special United States commission there to look into Hawaiian affairs.

LADY BLANCHE WINS.

Granted Separation and Acquitted of Her Husband's Charges.

LONDON, March 13.—In the Howard de Walden counter divorce suits the jury returned a verdict that Lady Blanche Howard de Walden was innocent of her husband's charges, and that Lord Frederick Howard de Walden was guilty of cruelty.

Judge Jeune pronounced his decision granting judicial separation to Lady Blanche from her husband, granting costs to her and awarding her the custody of their son.

Woman Suicide in a New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A woman was found in the Coleman House last night dead. She came there and registered as "Mrs. F. Carter, St. Louis". When found she had a bullet wound in her breast. Beside her was a bottle containing laudanum and morphine. She was about 22 years old. She had no baggage nor anything that gave a clue to her identity.

To Wrestle Out West.

DECORAH, Ia., March 13.—The Decorah club has received a telegram from Evan Lewis, "The Strangler" to the effect that he would accept its offer of a purse for a catch as-catch-can wrestling match between him and Farmer Burns for $1,000 a side and the championship of the world. The match is to take place within 60 days.

The Mast Still Visible.

BEAUFORT, N. C., March 13.—Captain Harrigan of the schooner Harris G. Morse, reports about half way between Capes Lookout and Hatteras, in 18 fathoms of water a mast standing erect ten feet out of water; bright white bands and trestle tree visible five miles. It is exactly in track of coasters.

New Military Post.

BENNINGTON, Vt., March 13.—Capt. Pond, assistant quartermaster, United States army, has completed the recording of the deeds of the land given by the citizens of Bennington and its vicinity to the government for the new military post. The post will be known as Fort Ethan Allen.

500 Chinamen Coming to Us.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 13.—The Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce has received advices that the steamer due at Victoria, B. C., on March 15, has 500 Chinamen for the United States.

2,170 Immigrants Landed at Ellis Island.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A dozen steamships arrived in port yesterday and 2,170 immigrants, mostly Italians, were landed at Ellis Island. Several of the steamships had to be held until to-day.

SHOT FOR REFUSING HIM

Joseph Massey Probably Fatally Wounds Mary Lefave.

HAS BETTER SUCCESS ON HIMSELF

The Young Girl Would Not Marry Him, So He Waits for Her and Puts Three Bullets Into Her as She is Returning from Church—He Lived Ten Minutes After the Shooting.

QUINCY, Mass., March 13.—Unrequited love and jealousy were the causes of a probable murder and suicide at Quincy, the principals in the shocking tragedy being Mary Victoria Lefave, a comely lass of 18 years, and Joseph Massey, aged about 30 years.

The girl, who is a devout church member, had been to 8 o'clock mass at St. John's church and was returning home unattended.

When she reached the corner of Hancock and Elm streets Massey, who had been waiting for her, followed her down the street toward her home. A score of people who were also returning from church were also behind her.

When the girl had reached a point opposite the Old Miller estate, commonly known as the "Stile," Massey was seen to step up near her, and, without a word of warning, drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession, which were followed by a heart rending scream from the girl. The whole affair came so suddenly upon the eye-witnesses that they were for a moment apparently paralyzed and paid no attention to Massey, who, after doing the shooting, did not stop to see the result, but turned and walked leisurely 200 feet when the crowd, which had gathered shouted: "Stop that man, he has shot a girl."

Several men started for him, but before he could be overtaken he placed the revolver which he still held in his hand, to his head and dred, the ball entering just above and back of the right ear. Without a word he fell over on a bank of snow and expired in about ten minutes. Medical Examiner Gilbert gave the remains in charge of Undertaker Hall.

Meanwhile willing hands took the girl tenderly in their arms and carried her to her home, a short distance away, where doctors made an examination. They found that all three shots had taken effect. One had passed through the left wrist, and the other two entered the middle of the back a little to the left of the spinal column, between the ninth and eleventh ribs, fracturing the ninth rib. One bullet lodged in the left lung and one in the abdomen. The patient was very weak with scarcely any pulse and no attempt was made to probe for the balls. The physicians pronounce it a very serious case and do not have much hopes of her recovery.

The girl was the second eldest of a family of 11 children of Alexander Lefave, and lived with her parents. She was employed in a shoe manufactory here. She was a quiet, unassuming girl, and a general favorite with her shopmates, who are shocked at the terrible affair.

Massey, the perpetrator of the crime, had, up to within nine months, been employed at the same factory. He paid her considerable attention, and upon several occasions called upon her at her home. He was apparently desperately in love with her, and urged her to become his wife. His love, however, was not reciprocated, and the girl in every possible way discouraged his attentions.

Some nine months ago Massey went to Marlboro to work, but frequently came to Quincy Saturday nights, remaining until Monday morning. He had made the threat that "if the Lafave girl did not marry him she would not marry any one else, as he would shoot her first", which threat he has put into execution.

The affair has created a great deal of excitement in this city.

THE BALDWINSVILLE TRAGEDY.

Michael Sullivan Shows Little Remorse for Shooting His Son.

GARDNER, Mass., March 13.—Michael Sullivan, of Baldwinsville, who shot his 19-year old son Michael Friday, pleaded guilty and was held in $10,000 until the 25th.

The prisoner said he did the shooting in self-defense, is not sorry, and if he should get a life sentence he would be glad of it as it would keep him away from the whole crowd. He said that he had not eaten a meal with the family for a number of years.

The man has been arrested for disturbance and drunkenness a great many times and has been a tough character for years. He is 62 years old. It is thought the boy will die.

Is Mrs. Crounse the Murderer?

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., March 13.—The murder of Henry Crounse Thursday night is still the theme of much discussion in the Mohawk Valley. The arrest of two men and their release gives additional interest to the mystery. By many the story told by the murdered man's wife is regarded as singular, and there is a growing belief that she knows more of the murder than she has thus far told.

Delay to the Paris.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The American line steamer Paris will not sail until Wednesday. The Paris was originally scheduled to sail at noon Saturday, but the date was postponed until to-day on account of an accident to her port engines. She is further delayed awaiting the usual midweek mails.

Mohawk Villages Flooded.

FONDA, N. Y., March 13.—There is a general thaw in the Mohawk valley, the small streams are greatly swollen and the river is high. In nearly every village of the valley the cellars are filled with water. The country roads are in a bad condition and some are impassable.

Wants the Circular Recalled.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 13.—Governor McKinley insists that Col. Hamilton, of the Seventeenth O. N. G., shall recall a circular asking his men to contribute $1 each to help liquidate the governor's indebtedness.

Ice Gorge at Palatine.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., March 13.—There is an ice gorge in the Mohawk river below Palatine bridge. The ice is still firm above the bridge and over two feet thick. The water has been rising steadily all day and the lowlands are flooded.

Mexico Pleased.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 13.—The appointment of Isaac P. Gray as United States Minister to Mexico apparently gives general satisfaction here.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: To-morrow: Fair and Warmer.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Legislature adjourned in such a hurry that Plainfield's school bill was forgotten.

—On and after April 1, Carney Bros. will occupy the floor over Vogeler's meat market.

—Repairs have been made to the main road leading from this city to Greenbrook, so that now it is passable.

—Ferguson, the lineman who died at the hospital last week as the result of a fall, had $174 insurance on his life.

—The piano fund of the Mary E. Wilson Memorial chapel at Washingtonville, is to be benefited by an entertainment March 22.

—You are invited to attend the prayer-meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. to-night at 8, in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church.

—The sweetest music Plainfield has heard in many months was the song of the first bluebird of spring caroling in a treetop yesterday.

—The frost has left the ground, and that harbinger of spring, the festive "nightwalker" earthworm, is again able to crawl to the surface.

—A veteran commuter says it's only the young bloods from Plainfield who play for money on the trains. The older heads play only for fun.

—Building-mover Jenkins commenced preparations to-day for the removal of No. 7's engine-house to its final resting-place over the raceway.

—One of the electric street cars jumped the switch at Front and Somerset streets, Saturday, and travel over the road was delayed for a time.

—Some of the colored people of Plainfield are arranging for a ball and cake walk to be given in Excelsior Hall, Scotch Plains, the evening of March 23.

—Five of Wilson Fisk's thoroughbred dogs arrived home Saturday from the bench show in Boston. This week the dogs are entered in the show at Washington.

—It is understood that an offer of $22,000 has been made for the Penfield property, at the corner of Park avenue and Seventh street, by Pliny Fisk, who is desirous of enlarging his lawn.

—If you are desirous of learning stenography, Charles A. Case, 75 Manning avenue, will take two or three more pupils. He is a thorough teacher, and his terms are very reasonable.

—During the year ending March 1, 1893, there were 51 arrests in North Plainfield, and all but one of the prisoners pleaded guilty to the respective charges. The other one stood trial and was finally convicted. That's a good marshal's work.

—Charles Kramer, who lives on what is known as Greader's farm near Netherwood, came to town, last Thursday, in a sleigh made of a farmer's harrow turned upside down, with two scythes for runners. The combination caused much exhilaration.

—Stair-builder Sylvester Peer, of West Front street, saw a strange-looking bird on the walk opposite his house, last Wednesday morning. He captured the bird and found it to be a fullgrown woodcock, nearly frozen to death. The bird was thawed out in Mr. Peer's cellar, where it still remains.

—The good accomplished by San Francisco kindergartens is incalculable, especially in the tenement districts. Of 9,000 children taught in these schools, not one has been in the police court, though many come from families of criminals. Charles H. Ham will speak of these kindergartens, and pave the way for their introduction into Plainfield, at All Souls' church Thursday night.

—The cafe of Hotel Grenada is being removed to the rooms occupied by Brown & Hill's barber shop, and the barber shop is being transferred to the former bar room. The new cafe will be a great improvement over the old. The chief reason for the change of location is to get the bar away from the intense heat of the boiler underneath. Boniface Miller is always on the lookout for opportunities to increase his cafe in the people's favor.

—Mr. Crane will give the fiftieth and, for the present, last performance of "On Probation" at the Star theater, New York, on Saturday night, and will celebrate the occasion by distributing prettily decorated bon-bon dishes, which contain his portrait and are said to be imported from Japan. Miss Morton's "Brother John" will have an elaborate production next week. All the scenery will be new and thirty people will take part in the play, among recent recruits to the company being J. H. Gilmour, Lizzie Hudson Collier, Joseph Wheelock, jr., and Idalene Cotton, a daughter of the old-time minstrel.

—The Hon. Charles H. Ham, who is to lecture in All Souls' church, Thursday evening, says: "The history of invention and discovery in England affords a striking confirmation of the truth of the proposition that mechanical investigation, with tools in hand stimulates the intellectual faculties to the highest point of activity and excellence. The germs of nearly all the great inventions in mechanics, the benefit of which the world is now enjoying in such ample measure, are directly traceable to the workshops of Great Britain during the period 1740-1840." Mr. Ham is to lecture on this subject of manual training Thursday night.

Never defer a vital matter. A cough shouldn't be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it at once.

Head and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

ROBBERS AGAIN.

Plainfield Suffering from an Epidemic of Burglaries.

The police are greatly vexed at the frequency of burglaries committed under their very noses. Last night another bold robbery occurred, the real estate office of Joseph Thomas Vail at 49 North avenue being the scene of operations. Mr. Vail was too trustful and left his safe unlocked. Therefore when entrance was effected through the rear of the office the visitor or visitors had no trouble in securing the $130 in cash that it contained. As usual there is no clue.

Someone took the weighing machine away from the Evona station last evening. It was carried about 150 yards down the track, where it was found this morning broken and all the pennies stolen.

The poor-box in St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, was broken open Saturday and robbed of its contents.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

E. E. Bogardus, of Putnam avenue, has gone to Binghampton, N. Y., on a business trip.

The Rev. Father O'Neill of Orange will preach in St. Mary's church, Wednesday evening.

David J. Carney of North Plainfield has been offered a lucrative position in a printery at Albany.

The Rev. Father Cushing will lecture on Ireland in St. Joseph's church the evening of St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. Wm. Schorb, of North avenue, is recovering from a severe attack of diphtheria. She is now able to sit up.

John Mantz has been enjoying a trip through Tennessee, in which both business and pleasure were combined.

Mrs. James H. Searing of Madison avenue is spending two or three weeks with her brother, J. M. C. Marsh, at Westfield.

The Rev. Father Smyth, of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, returned Friday from an extended trip through the South.

Edward White has secured Robert Eick to manage his shoe department. Mr. Eick is favorably known from his long connection with Sherwin's.

Fred Obitz and Frank French of North Plainfield have gone to Fort Worth, Texas. Thence they will join the Plainfield colony at Graham, Texas.

Andrew G. Carpenter was the very acceptable organist in the First Presbyterian church, yesterday, organist Smith being called away by the death of his father.

Edward Marble, the author of George Thatcher's play "Tuxedo", was a guest at the Grenada yesterday. He has accepted a long engagement and will begin to-night to play the part of Puffergrunte in the "Black Crook" at the Academy of Music, New York.

Somerville Patterning After Plainfield.

Somerville is now equipped with the Gamewell Fire alarm system, just like Plainfield, and is rapidly getting abreast of the times. Seven boxes in different parts of the town are connected with the steam gong on the Somerville Woollen mills. The boxes are placed so that they cover pretty much of the town. Keys are conveniently placed so one can get them in case they are needed. The whole department are much pleased, the system having been put in by their efforts alone. The committee which has pushed the matter to a successful termination are Chief Joshua Doughty, John E. Wehrly of the Central Hook and Ladder company, L. M. Coddington of the Engine company, Richard Raube of the West End hose, and W. H. Cawley, jr., of Lincoln hose.

To Cure Them of Fighting and Swearing.

The Harmony Guards is a club recently organized in James Babbitt's pool place on East Front street. The membership is about sixty, and the rules and regulations are posted on the wall. The club has a president, secretary, treasurer and executive committee. The rules provide that any member adjudged guilty of using profane language, or getting into a rumpus with a fellow member, shall be fined 25 cents, and in case the fine is not paid he is subjected to the "shingle practice", whatever that is. One member took the first degree last Thursday evening, and there are more to follow.

Merciful to Morecraft.

John Morecraft, who was arrested for disturbing the Salvation Army meeting Thursday night, was up in the city court this morning. Judge Coddington said that as it was Morecraft's first offense he was disposed to be lenient with him. He added, however, that if he heard of similar complaints again he would impose the full fine and imprisonment, as these disturbances were becoming of almost nightly occurrance and it was necessary that they should be stopped. Morecraft was fined $3.

The Devil's Got Us, Says Dr. Lewis.

Yesterday in the Congregational church at Bound Brook the Rev. A. H. Lewis, the celebrated Seventh-day divine of Plainfield, preached a sermon on "New Jersey's Shame". His text was from the second chapter of St. John, 13th verse to 25th, conclusive. The first words as he stepped into the pulpit were: "New Jersey is in the hands of the devil". His discourse was listened to by a large congregation.

A Card from L. B. Blackford.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Having been spoken to by a number of friends on the subject of to-morrow's election in the borough, I wish to state that I am not the Mr. Blackford that is a candidate for councilman.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

The Mothers of the "Daughters of the King", Entertained at the Home of the Organizer.

A unique and pleasant entertainment was given by the "Young Daughters of the King", Saturday afternoon, at the home of the president, Mrs. A. W. Haviland, of Rockview avenue. This circle, composed of young girls, was organized four years ago by Mrs. Haviland, and the treasurer's report shows that during that time more than $300 has been gathered and disbursed.

The mothers of the young girls were invited to be present at the meeting on Saturday, and in addition to the usual exercises, the following programme was rendered in a most creditable manner:

Opening Exercises.....Mrs. A. W. Haviland
Report of Secretary.....Alice Thompson
Report of Treasurer.....Gertrude Haviland
Reading—"Startled Sewing Society"
Edith F. Clapp
Duet.....H. VanDeventer and Elsie Horn
Recitation—"The King's Daughter", a poem by Mary Lothrop Henderson, Marion L. Henderson
Song.....Nellie Faber
Nipped in the Bud—an original story,
May S. Shreve
Music.....Emma Haviland
Recitation—"A Sonnet".....Mary B. Wells

At the close of the exercises, the mothers gave Mrs. Haviland a hearty vote of thanks expressive of their appreciation of the time and loving thought given by her in the organization and management of the society.

Aid for the Building Fund.

The Y. M. C. A. lectures begin this week, for the benefit of the building fund. On Thursday night Major General Wager Swayne will give the first lecture in the First Baptist church. Gen. Swayne entered the service August 31, 1861, as Major of the 43d Regiment, Ohio Infantry. Winning his promotion he passed rapidly through the several grades of Lieutenant-Colonel, Colonel and Brigadier General, until he reached the rank of Major General, June 20, 1865. He shared in all the reverses and successes of the Western Army. With Sherman he marched from Atlanta to the Sea, then northward until his active service was ended by the loss of his right leg, at River's Bridge, S. C., February 2, 1865 During the re-construction period Gen. Swayne was assigned to duty in the Gulf States, and will give in his lecture some of his experiences during that eventful and trying period.

Thiers Wins the Crescent Tourney.

The old individual bowling tournament of a year ago, was finished at length last Saturday night. As the old record stood, Thiers and VanEmburgh were tied for first. Thiers owed Doane a game, and VanEmburgh one. The bowling-off was as follows:

Thiers.....151 Doane.....126
Thiers.....154 VanEmburgh.....129

Thiers thereby wins the trophy.

Base-Ball Prospects.

The success of base-ball in Plainfield the coming season is assured. A stock company, headed by C. A. Reed, George Hallock and T. Keller, will have charge, leasing the Crescent League grounds for the diamond. Stock is already being sold in shares of $25 each. Chic Hofford will probably be captain of the team, which Mr. Keller will select. Freddy Jones may be engaged, but not Willie Murphy. The stock affords good investment. The Crescents will probably lay out a bicycle diamond.

BY THE WAY.

—Michael Seader, the popular driver of Zephyr Hook and Ladder company, is confined to the house by illness.

—A regular communication of Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., will be held in masonic hall, 10 East Front street, to-morrow evening at 7:45.

—Johnson & Veit, good reputable dealers from Flemington, will sell a carload of fine horses at public auction at Taylor's hotel, Dunellen, this week Saturday.

—The Rev. Dr. H. C. Mable preached from Luke x:29, at the special service in commemoration of the centenary of foreign missions in the First Baptist church yesterday.

—The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Presbyterian churches of this city will hold their annual meeting in the First Presbyterian church to-morrow afternoon at 3:30. All interested in missionary work are cordially invited to attend.

—W. H. Griffin has kindly given the use of his studio at 2 East Front street for an exhibition of art work, for the benefit of missions, Friday, March 17, from 6 to 10. Tickets are on sale at Estil's, VanEmburgh & Son's, and Central pharmacy.

—A large pile of bricks which were laid in neat style on the lot on West Fourth street, near Park avenue, in readiness to be used soon, fell his morning by the giving way of the board fence against which they were piled, landing in a heterogeneous mass in the adjoining lot.

—Through the advice of Mr. Sebring's counsel, Messrs. Jackson & Codington, the case of the Treasurer vs. Charles P. Sebring was referred for the purpose of compromise to the mayor and corporation counsel under section 11 of "An ordinance to prescribe the duties of the counsel to the corporation." The matter has been taken up by them and disposed of.

The end of woman's peculiar troubles and ailments comes with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures them. For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womankind, it is a certain remedy. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nervine—purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless.

In the cure of periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and all "female complaints" and irregularities, "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't give satisfaction in every case, you have your money back.

You only pay for the good you get. Can you ask more?

The easiest way is the best. Regulate the liver, stomach, and bowels with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cleanse and renovate the system—thoroughly and naturally.

Still More Interesting at the 5 and 10 cent Store.

Look at our 50c. window—goods there worth a dollar marked down to 50 cts, such as china cuspadores, wash bowls and pitchers, large mirrors, bed pans, fire screens, handsome waste baskets, large toys, etc., one dollar goods for fifty cents. We are agents for the improved light running Domestic Sewing machines, without doubt at the top of the heap, for it stands alone in point of excellence, being the only machine making both a lock and chain stitch by using either shuttle or looper, wonderously fine, all other improvements thrown in. The best is the improved Domestic, and if you take another now you don't get the best; two machines for the price of one; call and see the only sewing machine up to date; liberal allowance for old machines and payments easy. Every merchant should have a Union cash registsr, it being the only one properly named, and for other reasons. The Smith Premier typewriter is the only typewriter up to date, fifteen improvements over other machines. These are taking the place of all others. The Government bought 150 for the War Department, largest order ever given. Call and see these modern machines, and don't forget Royal Tooth Powder at 10c.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION

As a Matter of Economy, Plainfield Should Abolish the Cesspools, and Keep the Wells.

Look at it as we will, the chief factor of the drainage problem is pure water. Next to air and abreast of food, water is a human want; we must have it.

We want it, too, free from vegetable and animal substances—from organic matter, and especially from nitrogenous organic matter, chiefly because such matter is the natural food and soil of germs of infectious diseases; never more so than when, confined in a cesspool, it is in a state of fermentation. Sanitarians and scientists, prone to disagreement, are agreed as to these things.

Water free from organic impurites—how shall we get it? The reply plainly is, divorce the wells and cesspools, which are appallingly intermingled in the Plainfield basin—drive out one or the other.

As only 600 out of 3,500 householders in the two Plainfields have accepted the remedy that the water supply company offers, it is plain that a large majority of our people desire to retain their wells, especially if they can be freed from the worst kind of contamination that can overtake them, namely, organic matter in a putrefying state. It is wells versus cesspools, you see. The abandonment of either will bring to hand pure water; but we cannot safely go along with both in close proximity.

If we abolish the wells, an annual household tax of at least ten dollars will be imposed, or $30,000 a year in round numbers to the end of time. If we abolish the cesspools, an annual tax of just about $7,000 for a period of twenty-five years only will solve the pure water problem, and bring us other blessings to boot.

It will deprive the festive mosquitoes of their pet breeding grounds and rallying points.

It will be a boon to the sense of smell, especially in very hot weather.

It will be a comfort to the eye, and to the inner consciousness when we can say, "we live on good honest soil, and all our impurities are speeded away to a spot where they are rendered altogether harmless".

For economy's sake, for health's sake, for the comfort of ourselves and the reputation and prosperity of our city, let us decide to keep the wells—driving out the unspeakable cesspools through the prompt construction of an admirably planned and inexpensive drainage system.

The City's Mayor Recommends the Borough's.

Even so stanch a Republican as Mayor Gilbert forgets his politics in admiration of the administration of Mayor Saunders; and has, it is understood, freely expressed himself in favor of that good mayor's re-election. The statement attributed to Mayor Gilbert is, like that made by so many others, that Mr. Saunders alone, by reason of his practical knowledge as an engineering expert, is the man to have charge of the sewerage, street railway and other matters to come up this year for settlement. He has special fitness for managing these things, and that is one of the many good reasons why Mayor Gilbert joins in endorsing him for a second term. Mr. Saunders is entitled on his record and ability to the vote of every North Plainfield citizen who desires to see the ablest judicial management over borough affairs.

Could n't Sue the Wife for the Husband's Debt.

Decision in the case of W. H. Col- against Mrs. VanHorn was rendered by Justice Crosley last Friday. The case was brought to recover a debt on contract, $75. The debt was incurred, it was said, by defendant's husband, and a promissory agreement was entered into whereby the wife agreed to stand good for the amount. The judge's decision was as follows: "After careful consideration of the statutory law of New Jersey relating to the property of married women, and the evidence presented at the trial, and also the decision of the Supreme court of New Jersey, as stated in the case of Wilson against Herbert, I am compelled to render a decision of no cause of action."

Of Course It Does.

[Westfield Standard.]

Wm. L. Saunders has been renominated by the Democrats of North Plainfield for Mayor; this means virtually that he will be his own successor.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

The Young Democracy Also Denounce It.

The Young Men's Democratic society of Union county, at a meeting held last Thursday, unanimously adopted the following:

WHEREAS, The race-track acts passed by the Legislature at its present session, at the bidding of gamblers and law breakers, are a menace to the welfare of the State and were passed in defiance of the decent public sentiment of the people and after repeated denials of their constitutional right to be heard respecting the same; and whereas, our representative in the Legislature from the First Assembly District of this county voted not only for the passage of said bills, but also to refuse a hearing to the people, even when it was asked for by members of his own district; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we denounce and condemn the action of our said representative, both in voting for the passage of said bills and in voting to refuse a hearing to the people.

Second—That by said votes our said representative has forfeited the confidence and support of the Dimocracy or this city, and we call upon him to resign from the membership of this club.

Third—That we approve and commend the action of Senator Marsh and Assemblyman Lane, two members of this club, in working and voting against the passage of said race-track bills.

Fourth—That we call upon the Legislature for the good of both the State and the Democratic party forthwith to repeal said acts.

Fifth—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Senator Marsh and Assemblymen Lane and Kelly and be published in the county papers.

All Scrambling for a Little Office.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—There seems to be a grand scrub-race for the office of postmaster of Scotch Plains. Among the most prominent competitors are William Day, Charles Haberle, James Richie, James Baker, T. M. Paff and a dark horse. The majority of the townspeople are opposed to Baker getting it, as they do not want the office placed in any store, but would much rather have it kept, as it is now, away from any mercantile business. The Democrats as a rule do not like Baker. They think he is a disrupter and disintegrator of the party.

NORMAN JONES.

Tormenting the Blind.

Percy W. Cannon, the blind basket maker at Evona, complains that Charles Davis has been a source of great annoyance to him this winter. He says that though he is helpless to avoid the missiles, Davis has repeatedly made him a target for snowballs. Davis also is accused of killing a pet bird that had belonged to the Cannon brother who was killed by the cars. Davis should be suppressed.

For Those Improved Rails You've No One to Thank But Mayor Saunders.

(From Saturday's Courier.)

Considerable talk is heard about the rails which the electric street railway company propose using on their Somerset street extension. The rails are to be much lighter than those in use on Front street, and of a different shape. It is claimed that they will not hold water like the present ones, and their shape will preclude all possibility of accidents taking place to those who drive over them. Had these rails been laid in this city, the numerous accidents of the past winter would have been avoided.

Perkins to be Sentenced Wednesday.

On the night of January 3, Benjamin Perkins, colored, who came here from Los Angelos, Cal., last fall, broke into W. E. Johnson's pool room on East Front street, through a back window, and, after slashing the cushions and cloth on two pool tables, broke open the money drawer and stole a watch, some money and other trinkets. He was subsequently arrested, admitted his guilt, and was held for the grand jury. He has since pleaded guilty, and sentence will be pronounced by the Union county court at Elizabeth this week Wednesday.

Everything Good.

The policy of daily afternoon and evening performances has been instituted at the Eden Musee and has proved very successful. The manifestations of Guibal and Greville continue to puzzle, and they have passed their 250th performance at the Musee. The pocket edition humorist, Master Walter Leon, is a very wonderful orator, and a prime favorite, especially with the ladies. Lottie Mortimer, graceful serpentine dancer, created a furore, and her movements are bewitching and invigorating. The fascinating Rogers sisters appear in mandoline and character songs, and are vocalists of much merit. Ando and Omne contribute their clever Japanese specialties, and give a most excellent show; and the four Harrison sisters produce a laughable comedy sketch. Danko Gabor's band offers excellent music, and the groups and figures are always a source of curiosity, instruction and pleasure.

The wonderful cure by Salvation Oil of Mr. M. S. Culp, a chronic rheumatic, 816 George st., Baltimore, Md., is a miracle.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough, we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

SHE WAS MISS COZZENS.

Identity of the Handsome Coleman House Suicide.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Shortly after 11 this morning the young woman who committed suicide at the Coleman House, was identified as Miss Leonide Cozzens, 18 years old, of 240 West 136th street.

She was 18 years old and belonged to a wealthy uptown family. She lived with her mother at the address given. No explanation could be had why she had taken the name of Mrs. F. Carter, of St. Louis, Mo., when she had registered at the hotel late on Saturday night.

SUSPENSE FOR HARRIS.

Recorder Smyth Not Yet Ready with His Decision.

NEW YORK, March 13. — Recorder Smyth did not render his decision in the appeal of Carlyle W. Harris for a new trial this morning, as it was reported he would do.

It is not likely the Recorder's decision will be known sooner than Wednesday next.

District-Attorney Nicoll said this morning that he could not conceive how the Recorder could do anything else but decide against Harris.

A LIBRARY FOR BOONTON.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., March 13.—The will of James M. Holmes of Boonton, has been admitted to probate in the surrogate's court in this city. Mr. Holmes was a wealthy nail manufacturer of Boonton, and died there a fortnight since. He was once Mayor of that city, and the first president of the First National Bank of Boonton. Mr. Holmes leaves to the town of Boonton his handsome mansion and a large lot for a library hall.

A POST-OFFICE ROBBED.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 13.—The post-office at Cranbury, ten miles from here, was entered by burglars last night. The safe was blown open and $150 in money and stamps taken.

The Last Despairing Gasp of the Enemy.

Of all silly things! The only argument the opposition can scare up against mayor Saunders is the false one that he is in sympathy with the race-track legislation. As a fact, Mr. Saunders was on the Music Hall stage at the anti-race-track meeting, and joined in the vote to send a protest to Trenton. He was one of those good citizens who urged both the senator and assemblyman of the district to oppose race-track legislation, which they did. To trump up such a charge shows the desperate straits to which the opposition is driven.

Honor to an Octogenarian.

A surprise party to the number of forty-two persons took possession by storm of the home of Mrs. Sims, West Fourth street, last Thursday evening. They were respected friends from various parts of New Jersey, and came to celebrate the eighty-seventh birthday anniversary of Dr. H. G. Stephenson.

The hours were happily spent. Mr. Norbury and two other friends of Grace church choir sang to the gratification of all present some beautiful old glee songs. A good spirit of sociability existed throughout the evening, and all were happy. The viands were plentiful and excellent.

A Vigorous Sermon Against the Bills

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck spoke to a large audience last evening in Trinity Reformed church on the iniquitous race-track bills passed by the last Legislature. He scored the men who voted for it, in strong terms, and gave convincing argument that it would be the means of causing all law-abiding citizens, irrespective of party ties, joining together at the next election and refusing to vote for a man unless he was in favor of repealing the disgraceful law.

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

I suffered from a severe cold in my head for months and could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week, and I believe it is the best remedy known. Samuel J. Harris, wholesale grocer, 119 Front street, New York.

Arrival at Their New Station.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—The Reading railroad has abandoned its old station at Ninth and Green streets as the place of departure and arrival of New York trains and the trains on that division now start from the new terminal station at Twelth and Market streets. The terminal is much more conveniently situated for the traveling public than the old station and an extra car is run on all trains to accommodate the increase in the number of passengers.

John L. Arrested in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 13.—John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, appeared on the stage in a theatrical performance before a crowded house last night. He was arrested along with other actors after the performance, as is the custom in Cincinnati, and was taken to the police station and charged with violation of the Sunday laws. An immense crowd followed him cheering lustily. The ex-champion enjoyed his discomfiture and remarked "I am a drawing card still."

Prof. Totten's Calculation.

NEW YORK, March 13.—Ex-Professor Totten has not given up prophecy since his retirement from duty in Yale College. He has latterly been engaged in fixing the precise time described as the midnight hour in the parable of the "Ten Virgins." By calculations which he himself finds as clear as day, the twelth stroke of the clock, which is to indicate the "midnight hour" when the Son of Man will come will sound in the September equinox of this year.

Railroad Bridges Washed Away.

OMAHA, Neb., March 13.—The big rain and thaws have created great floods in the basins of the Loup and Platte rivers. A bridge has been carried out at Bellwood, and at Columbus some railroad trestles have given way, washing into the river a stranger whose name is not known. Ice gorges were formed, and about a mile of the track near Columbus is under ice and snow.

Struck by an Avalanche of Snow.

COUNTRY SCHOOLHOUSE.

A Building That Seems Likely to Be Satisfactory.

Its Cost Complete, Not Including Furniture, Not to Exceed Eight Hundred Dollars—Interior Arrangement of the House.

Our school district has just passed through the experience of planning and erecting a new schoolhouse. As the building seems likely to prove a satis factory one, I have thought that a description might prove of value to some of the many rural districts into which your paper extends its visits.

Our site is at the junction of two roads which form a right angle at point of union. The front of the building faces the less important road, while the main street passes along the side. The size of the main room is 24x36 feet, with ceiling 13 feet high. The vestibule is 8x24; wood room, 8x8. The chimney is on the outside of the building, resting on an extension of the stone foundation of house. It measures on inside 12x20 inches, and is provided with a smoke flue of galvanized iron 9 inches in diameter, which enters the room 3 feet below the ceiling and extends upward to top of chimney. The space round this flue is for ventilation, and opens into the room through the register near the floor.

Due consideration has been given to warmth of building. On the outside of studding is a close sheathing of floor boards covered with heavy building paper, over which is a good grade of clapboards. Inside there is a sheathing of inch boards between the laths and the studding. All walls except of woodroom are finished with three coats of plastering and have a wainscoting all round three feet in height. The woodroom is finished with inch ceiling. All floors are double, with heavy paper between; top floor of southern pine.

The contract calls for black-board on front end of room and down the side to small windows. But I see no reason why a black-board should not extend along the entire back end, also.

The building is not quite finished inside, and the plan for seating has not been settled. There is room for four rows of double seats, but some of them might come rather near the stove, which is to occupy the center of the room. As we need a seating capacity of only 40, so many seats will be unnecessary, and we can have a wide space for center aisle. Perhaps six rows of single desks, with side rows close to wall, would meet our case as well as any plan. The cost of building complete, not including furniture, etc., will not exceed $800.—T. L. Hill, in Country Gentleman.

The Weight of a Thought.

A scientific journal of high repute is authority for the statement that Prof. Masso, the Roman physiologist, has invented a machine that will actually give the weight of a thought. To quote from the account mentioned: Prof. Masso shewed by experiment that the effort of thinking causes a rush of blood to the brain, this blood-rush varying in intensity according to the thought. He placed a man in the machine, which was so delicately balanced that the rush of blood turned the scale. The professor says that when the subject is sleeping, the thoughts or visions that come to him in his dreams are sufficient to cause the head to sink below the feet, and that the same takes place when the subject is disturbed by a slight sound. He further declares that the balance will indicate when a person is reading Italian and when Greek, the greater mental exertion required for Greek producing a more profuse rush of blood to the head.

To See the Heart Beat.

M. Marcey, the well-known investigator of animal movements by means of instantaneous photography and the zoetrope, has now succeeded in rendering the beating of a living heart visible to the eye. All the phases of the movement can be followed and properly examined by this new method. The heart employed in his experiments was that of a turtle.

Woman's Danger.

No man can ever know the devoted martyrdom of many women.

Unselfishly a woman works and suffers that home and loved ones may be happy.

When it seems as though her back would break, when she grows irregular, faint, irritable, loses all interest in society, gets the "blues," is crushed with that indescribable feeling of "bearing-down," she "drags along," day after day, suffering agonies that would appal a man.

The cause of all her trouble is some derangement of the uterus or womb, perhaps the development of a tumor, or cancerous humor, — anyway, give it instant attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the sure cure. It is recommended by thousands of women. Its cures are unparallelled.

All druggists sell it. Address in confidence, LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., Lynn, Mass. Lovell's Pills, 25 cents.

Probable Cause of the Great Boston Fire.

RESULT OF THE INVESTIGATION

The Fire Started in the Men's Toilet Rooms on the Third Floor and Had the Attempt Been Made It Might Have Been Put Out—A Boston Boy Missing—City Fire Marshal Investigating.

BOSTON, March 14.—Horace Partridge & Co., after a brief investigation made since their fire, make the authoritative statement that the fire originated from causes still unknown, in the men's toilet room, on the third floor near the elevator well. When discovered the flames were coming through the toilet doors. No effort was then made to stop it in the anxiety to give the alarm, so that the fire jumped the hall setting fire to the pine partition making the opposite wall of the hall in which the toilet rooms were located. Inside the partition was the stock room of toys, etc., and into this the fire at once penetrated, when it was beyond control.

The firm is confident that someone knows how and when the fire started in the closets and is making a strict investigation to ascertain who was last using them. The supposition is that someone was smoking and that the careless dropping of a lighted match or a discarded cigarette or cigar butt is the real cause.

Chauncey Paige, 11 years of age, and living with his parents at 651 East Fourth street, South Boston, is missing. He left his home Friday afternoon and was afterward seen in the vicinity of the fire on Lincoln street. He has not been seen since and it is feared that he may have been killed by falling walls.

The fire marshal has begun an investigation into the cause of the fire.

English Losses from the Fire.

BOSTON, March 14.—It is learned that the chief fire offices in London affected by the Boston conflagration are the Royal, Liverpool, Phoenix and Lancaster. The total loss to English offices is about $100,000.

THE QUINCY TRAGEDY.

Miss Lefave's Condition Very Critical—She Tells of the Shooting.

QUINCY, Mass., March 14.—Mary Victoria Lefave, who was shot by the suicide Massey, Sunday morning, is still too weak for the physicians to make attempt to find the bullets.

During one of a few conscious moments the girl told her father she did not know that Massey was following her Sunday morning and the first she knew of his presence was when she heard and felt the shots, when she instantly realized who had fired them.

She also said that the last time she saw Massey was about six weeks ago. When they parted he told her he was going home and would not bother her any more. He also told her that she had no reason to fear him, no matter what she had heard as he would do her no harm.

The girl's physicians said this morning that there were grave doubts of her recovery.

VATS OF GASOLINE EXPLODE.

Three Men Severely Burned and One Will Die.

PATERSON, N. J., March 14.—One of two large iron vats, receptacles for gasoline and and a combination of chemicals, in the wool scouring establishment of James Henry and Matthew Hopkins on Van Houton street exploded with great force last night.

The members of the firm and Henry York were hurled a considerable distance, and were all severely burned.

York is likely to die. The others will recover.

To Honor Gen. Beauregard.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 14.—Gen. T. A. Huguenin, the ex-Confederate commander of Fort Sumter has issued orders to the Fourth Brigade to send a detachment fully uniformed and with draped colors to the great memorial meeting on the 12th of April to be held in honor of Gen. Beauregard to whose great genius and courage this city is indebted for her successful defense. The Lafayette Artillery has been ordered to fire a salute of 17 guns at sundown the same evening.

Rev. W. P. Drew in More Trouble.

NEW YORK, March 14.—An additional charge of forgery has been lodged against Rev. W. P. Drew, the supposed Baptist minister, charged by Dodd, Mead & Co. with forging orders for goods. This complaint alleges that Drew forged the name of D. C. Link, a Wall street broker, to an order for a set of E. P. Roe's works which were valued at $16.

No Gold Shipments for Europe.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Treasury Department is advised that no gold has been engaged from the New York subtreasury for shipment to-night. The next day for gold shipment is Friday, and with the high rate of exchange prevailing and the high rate that money is now commanding, no gold is expected to be exported even then.

The Boston Dog Won.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 14.—A brutal dog fight occurred just across the Rhode Island line between Fall River and Boston dogs. The fight lasted 1 hour and 28 minutes and was won by Boston. About 200 sports witnessed the affair, and local men lost a great deal of money on it.

More Falling Walls in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 14.—A portion of the wall of an old building in course of reconstruction fell yesterday, crushing A. C. Briggs, a carpenter, to death. A dozen other workmen narrowly escaped. The contractors, who had not secured a building permit, were arrested.

A Farmer Has a Narrow Escape from Being Crushed to Death.

ORANGE, N. J., March 14.—The escape yesterday of John Voegele, a farmer living at South Orange, still continues to be the topic of conversation in this vicinity.

Mr. Voegele was driving down the Walker road, one of the steepest in the Orange mountains, with a load of cordwood. While descending the steepest part of the hill the breeching strap broke and the horse dashed down the incline at a frightful pace.

After running some distance the horse swerved, precipitating the wagon in a deep gully. Farmer Voegele was thrown headlong and struck with tremendous force. The cordwood piled on top of him, the wagon on the cordwood and the horse on the heap. The mishap had been witnessed by several men, who hurried to the scene and quickly removed the mass of wreckage.

It was thought that the unfortunate farmer would be found crushed to death, but he was not even seriously injured, although he sustained several ugly cuts. His escape from instant death is considered little short of a miracle.

KILLED IN COURT.

Murderer Winters Shot by His Victim's Son During the Trial.

NASHVILLE, March 14.—In the Criminal Court here yesterday Tom Jones shot and mortally wounded Joe Winters, who was on trial for the murder of Jones' father. Two of the shots intended for Winters struck John Thorp in the throat and shoulder, seriously, if not fatally, wounding him.

Winters and a brother murdered Jones' father at the Hermitage tollgate at midnight some two months ago, calling him to his door and shooting him dead.

The Winters were being tried, and, being desperadoes, had their gang here to back them.

The quarrel was forced on young Jones by Winters, who tried to bluff him from testifying. The court was in session at the time, and Jones gave himself up to Judge Anderson.

Three shots struck Winters. The greatest excitement prevails here.

NO STRIKE.

Chicago Switchmen Forced to Give Up the Attempt and Make Peace.

CHICAGO, March 14.—It is certain now that the Chicago switchmen will not go out on a strike they having returned an answer to the general manager to that effect. The switchmen were somewhat astonished by the array of public sentiment against any strike at this time, almost every paper in the city having declared that the affair savored too much of an attempt at extortion because of the immense amount of traffic incident to the World's Fair.

Besides this the general managers were so well prepared for a strike that there was but a small chance of the men being successful and the switchmen were smart enough to read the signs of the times and see that they really had but a small chance for winning.

MAP OF THE SCHOOLS.

New York's Fair Exhibit to Give an Idea of the School Buildings.

ALBANY, March 14.—To every school commissioner in the State has been sent a diagram of the county he represents upon which it is desired that the location of the school houses in each commissioner's district be affixed.

Different signs or colors will be used to distinguish the style of the different school buildings, whether of frame, stone, brick or logs. From the returns from the school commissioners a large map of the State will be prepared showing the location of every school house.

This map it is intended shall be forwarded to the Columbian Exposition by April 20.

FOURTEEN KILLED.

A Carlsbad Building Collapsed While the Workmen Were Inside.

BERLIN, March 14.—A building in the Sprudel strasse, Carlsbad, collapsed while 20 men were repairing it. Fourteen were killed.

Seven of the bodies have been taken from the ruins.

Despondency in Love the Cause.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The body of the young women who committed suicide at the Coleman House Sunday has been identified as that of Alice Cozzens, 18 years old, of this city. The identification was made by Mme. Wood, a dressmaker, who made the dress the young woman wore when she killed herself. Miss Cozzens belonged to a wealthy family and lived with her mother. It is believed that disappointment in love was the cause of the suicide.

Murdered and then Hanged.

BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 14.—Daniel Nelson, once a member of the German Emperor's bodyguard, and a veteran of the Mexican War, was found hanging dead from a rafter in the garret of his ramshackle home at Fresh Pond yesterday morning by Morris Kearber, a neighbor. Nelson's throat was cut from ear to ear, and there was a long gash on the back of his neck, which had been made apparently with a razor.

To Indemnify Expelled Missionaries.

MADRID, March 14.—The Marquis of Armijo, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has promised United States Minister Snowden that, after consultation with the Colonial authorities, he will see that the American missionaries expelled from Ponape are indemnified.

Snow Storm in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 14.—Last night old winter got out an extra edition and a new white sheet covers this section this morning. It blew considerably during the night, drifting somewhat, but there is not enough to interfere greatly with traffic.

MISS M'KENZIE ELOPES

She Again Causes a Stir at Glen Cove.

THE HIRED MAN HER PARTNER.

The Lady Left Home to Visit Relatives in New York City—Adam Webber Packs Three Trunks and follows the Next Day—Expect to Spend Their Honeymoon in the West—How and When Love Began—The Yacht Club to Have Peace Now.

GLEN COVE, L. I., March 14.—Glen Cove's historic bear has been forgotten. The excitement and fear caused by bruin's reported presence in this community has been lost sight of in the sensation caused by the reported elopement of Mary Helen McKenzie, a lady in the sere and yellow leaf of human vegetation.

Miss McKenzie gained some notoriety some time ago by annoying members of Hempstead Harbor Yacht club who had to pass her home in order to reach their club house.

She left home Wednesday, saying that she was going to New York to visit relatives. The following day her mother's man of all work, Adam Webber, also departed. Webber wore his best clothes and took three trunks, which, it is said, he checked to New York.

Before he left he is reported to have said that he was going to marry Miss McKenzie. He further stated that she had $1,700, and he had $2,000. The honeymoon was to be spent in the West.

Webber has been employed by Mrs. McKenzie for about six months. He was very mild in his manner and fond of the society of women. About two months ago he injured one of his fingers and Miss McKenzie dressed the wound and showed a deep interest in Webber. Thus were sown the seeds of love.

Since Miss McKenzie was put under $600 bonds for annoying the members of the Hempstead Harbor Yacht club for firing off pistols, she has found another method of keeping up the annoyance. She now has a large bell suspended over the well in the yard and whenever a member of the club passes, the bell is tolled mournfully.

Mrs. McKenzie, mother of the reported bride, laughs at the idea of her daughter eloping. She said that she had not heard from her daughter in reference to her reported marriage. She thought she would have been informed had such a ceremony taken place. She stated that Miss McKenzie had gone to New York on a week's visit and that Webber had left the day following.

THE BOAT WAS UPSET.

Two Telegraph Linemen Drowned in the Susquehanna River.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 14.—J. B. Maroney, of Pine, and John Joyce, of Bradford, both linemen, employed by the National Transit company, were drowned in the Susquehanna river at Wayne yesterday.

The men were stringing a wire across the river. They were in mid-stream reeling the wire off. A cake of ice caught the wire and upset the boat.

Maroney immediately started to swim to shore, but Joyce, who did not know how to swim, sank.

Maroney turned back to aid his companion, and Joyce grabbed him. Maroney started to swim ashore, carrying Joyce with him. When within 100 feet of the shore Maroney's strength gave out, and both men went down to a watery grave together.

Still Conferring About Fair Rates.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The general passenger agents of the railroads in the Trunk line association have returned from Chicago, where they held a conference with the passenger agents of the roads in the Central Traffic association, which includes the lines running east from Chicago. An agreement was not reached on the question of allowing stop-over privileges on World's Fair tickets, to which the passenger agents of the Western roads objected, and another meeting will be held in Cincinnati the last of this week.

McKinley Wouldn't Say.

COLUMBUS, O., March 14.—Gov. McKinley, when asked about the report sent out from Chicago that the subscriptions to his trustees in his behalf were sufficient to discharge his entire liability in the Walker failure, said that he knew nothing about it. He seemed very much annoyed by the publication, and was not inclined to be interviewed concerning it.

Threw Her Children Into a Well.

GALVESTON, Tex., March 14.—Otto Sanders returned last night from work, and, missing his wife and two children, instituted a search and found them in a well on the premises. The children were dead, and the mother, who had thrown them into the well and then jumped in herself, will die. No cause is known.

Pool Rooms Raided.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The police made a raid on the pool rooms yesterday, closing several and arresting a score or more of the occupants. In all something like $2,000 in money and all the betting paraphernalia in the raided rooms are now in the possession of the police.

Verdict in the Pool Room Case.

NEW HAVEN, March 14.—In the Superior Court a verdict has been awarded the plaintiff in the celebrated pool room case of Carroll against Thomas J. Brady. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

NO NOMINATIONS REPORTED.

The Senate Not Yet Ready to Announce the Committees.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Senate discussed for nearly an hour yesterday the resolution offered last week by Mr. Manderson (Rep., Nev.) intended to limit the action of the Senate in the present extraordinary session, to executive matters or to matters not requiring co-operation on the House. Mr. Gorman, (Dem., Md.) favored that policy but preferred to have it take form of unanimous consent rather than of a resolution.

Objection to unanimous consent came from the Democrats side of the chamber, and the most strenuous opposition to the resolution came also from that side, and the question finally went over without any decision. It will come up for action at the meeting of the Senate to-morrow.

The President, much to the surprise of almost every one, sent in no nominations. There is no reason to believe that he has not definitely decided upon nearly a dozen important ones that will require confirmation, some of which he intended to send in. In the morning, however, he changed his purpose because there is no time to be gained by sending them in before the reorganization of the Senate committees.

The Caucus committee spent the entire afternoon in the final arrangement of the list, and to avoid interruption to their work had luncheon served in the committee room.

The list will not be made public until it is approved by the caucus and turned over to the Republican minority in order that the remaining places on the committees may be filled.

The members are pledged not to divulge the results of their work until the report is submitted, and they say that in the meantime all statements touching the composition of the committees must be speculative, and, as is apparent from the lists that have been published, very largely inaccurate.

EDITORS MORE CHEERFUL.

Cleveland Denies that He Intends to Discriminate Against Them.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The report that Mr. Cleveland had told Congressmen that he did not intend to appoint newspaper men to office for the reason, among others, that he might be accused of subsidizing the press, does not hold good.

Congressmen Dockery, DeArmond, Cobb, Burns and Morgan, of Missouri called on the President for the express purpose of ascertaining the truth about the "no journalists need apply" rule. Mr. Dockery asked Mr. Cleveland point blank whether it were true or not that he had discriminated against newspaper men and the answer came just as straight as the question, that there was no such intention.

From this and other statements made by the President the delegation went away satisfied that the story had arisen through some misconstruction of other statements, and Mr. Dockery is very firmly convinced that the report arose from a remark attributed to Postmaster General Bissell, in substance that he would not give postoffices to editors. And Mr. Bissell's statement, Mr. Dockery says, amounted only to this: That he would not give fourth-class postmasterships to men who could not give their whole attention to the work of the office, and this rule would apply to everybody, including editors, who would not relinquish their other business while transacting that of the government.

Several newspaper men were among those who called at the White House this morning in the interest of their applications.

Issue of Silver Dollars.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints and Treasury offices during the week ended March 11, 1893, was $422,300; for the corresponding period of 1892, $331,893. The shipment of fractional silver coin from the 1st to the 11th instant aggregated $264,270.

Kaiulani Received at the White House.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Hawaiian ex-heir apparent, Kiulani, with Mr. and Mrs. Davies, were received by President and Mrs. Cleveland in the blue parlor of the White House yesterday. The Princess was charmed with the cordiality of Mrs. Cleveland.

To Vote on Moving the Capital.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 14.—The Assembly has refused to consider the vote whereby the constitutional amendment removing the State capital from Sacramento to San Jose was adopted. The amendment has already been adopted by the Senate and now goes to the people to be voted upon. At first the adoption of the amendment removing the capital was regarded as a joke but San Jose took it in earnest and quickly agreed to raise a million dollars to build a new capitol besides donating ten acres for the site.

Naronic Not at the Azores.

LONDON, March 14.—A despatch from Lisbon states: The mail steamer just arrived at Lisbon from the Azores brings no tidings of the missing White Star Line steamer Naronic. Officials will not abandon hope until after the arrival of the next two mails from the Azores, but the general opinion among shippers is that the Naronic is lost.

Collided in the Storm.

DULUTH, Minn., March 14.—Two switch engines on the St. Paul and Duluth road collided near Lakeview at noon. A blizzard has been blowing here all day and the engines came together in the storm, it being impossible to see a head more than a few feet. Six men were injured seriously and one man fatally.

Elmwood Suicide Identified.

HARTFORD, March 14.—It is now thought that the body of the suicide found at Elmwood on Friday is that of Joseph Arlowsky, a Pole, who was supposed to have been implicated in the murder of Koslick, another Pole, last fall. The suicide had but one eye, as did Arlowsky.

The Steamer Wells City's Position Better.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., March 14.—The condition of the stranded steamer Wells City, from Bristol, Eng., which came ashore here on Saturday night, is much improved and there is every promise of the vessel being early released from her perilous position.

New Line Between Detroit and Toledo.

DETROIT, March 14.—A new air line railroad from Detroit to Toledo is assured to be built this year and connect with the Pennsylvania system. It will probably come into the new Fort street Union depot. Surveys have already been made.

Miners Want to Arbitrate.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 14.—The striking coal miners of the Monongahela Valley through the executive board have made a proposition to the coal exchange to submit the question of wages to arbitration.

MANY BOATS WRECKED

Floating Ice Cleans Out Rondout Creek.

STEAMERS TORN FROM THEIR BOOKS

The Ice Gorge at Eddyville Breaks, Letting the Great Mass of Water and Ice Down Into the Creek—Everything Carried Before It—Exciting Scenes and Narrow Escapes from Death—Railway Bridges Down on the Central-Hudson—Destruction at Other Points.

RONDOUT, N. Y., March 14.—The great ice gorge below the dam at Eddyville broke yesterday. The immense body of water behind it rushed down the creek, carrying thousands of tons of ice with it. This struck the Cornell fleet, which winters here, and swept almost every steamboat and 40 or 50 other boats out into the river.

The ropes which moored the boats between the Delaware & Hudson canal dock and the mainland were snapped like thread, and even heavy anchor chains were broken. In the course down the creek many boats were badly stove, and the Pittston, valued at $10,000, and the Adriatic, at $8,000, are thought to be so badly damaged that they will sink.

The news of the great flood spread over the town, and in a very short time the docks were crowded with people. The cries of the men on the helpless boats and the crunching of the big steamers and canal boats as they were stove, added to the rush of water, caused the most intense excitement. Ropes thrown out to hold the boats availed nothing. The large side wheeler Norwich and the tug C. D. Mills, the only boats with steam up, could not save the drifting boats. They had great difficulty in saving themselves.

Besides about 25 steamboats, 80 Northern canal boats loaded with ice and 25 Delaware & Hudson boats were swept away. Many of those were crushed and sunk on the way down the creek. Some of the canal boats were occupied by families, and they were rescued with great difficulty. The sight of the women wringing their hands, and the frantic men, was witnessed with horrow by the people on shore. Those in the boats either jumped ashore as the craft swung in or escaped over the immense cakes of floating ice.

The dam below Eddyville formed Saturday. The heavy rain Saturday caused the river to rise fully eight feet. A large part of Eddyville was inundated, and families have had to leave their houses for higher ground. The damage there will amount to many thousand dollars.

The Lawrence Cement company had 10,000 barrels of cement, valued at $22,000, stored in their Eddyville mill. This is a total loss.

The great pressure of water on the ice dam caused it to give way, and the flood in Eddyville disappeared with a rush down the creek, breaking the ice before it. Boats all along the creek were swept down the stream, mingling with those moored here.

The ferryboat Transport, with about 20 passengers aboard, was caught in the mass of boats, and is now helpless. Her passengers were terribly frightened. Most of them escaped by jumping from the floating to the firm ice. The ferryboat had only just begun running.

FONDA, N. Y., March 14.—The ice in the Mohawk river from this village west is all intact, and the water continues to rise. All the lowlands are inundated with several feet of water. The Cayadutta creek is exceedingly high, and in places the Central railroad's tracks are covered with the water.

At Canojoharie and Fort Plain people who live on the lowlands have vacated their homes and moved to higher ground.

Central-Hudson passenger trains from the East are being run over the West Shore, in consequence of the tracks being washed out near Schenectady. The abutments of the New York Central & Hudson river railroad bridge over the Delaware & Hudson tracks were undermined yesterday by the flood and caved in all four Central tracks and the Delaware & Hudson tracks were blocked. The delay is serious and will take at least twenty-four hours to repair.

Unless the ice moves soon great damage will result to property between this village and Utica. The river is clear of ice east of here to Schenectady.

Pennsylvania Floods Abating.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—The floods in the western section of Pennsylvania are abating, and no further damage of a serious nature is anticipated. In the mining regions a number of mines have been flooded, throwing probably 4,000 men and boys out of work. It is expected that mining will be resumed in a few days.

Probably Murdered by the Nurse.

CHICAGO, March 14.—The coroner's jury in the case of Mary Montgomery the servant girl who was murdered last Wednesday has brought in a verdict that the girl came to her death from suffocation. From the evidence the jurors believe that death was at the hands of Carrie Henderson, the colored nurse, while she was attempting to perform a criminal operation. The colored woman contradicted herself several times in her story, and there is very strong circumstantial evidence against her.

The Mother Attempts Suicide.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Mrs. Leonie Cozzens, the mother of Alice Cozzens, who since the identification of the body now lying at Kipp's undertaking establishment as that of her daughter, has been hysterical, and attempted to take her life last night when the result of the autopsy was told her by trying to empty the contents of a laudanum bottle down her throat.

Hawaiian Mail Steamer Held.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—It is reported to night that the departure of the steamer Australia which was advertised to sail for Honolulu March 15 has been postponed until March 17 pending the arrival of important mails from the East. It is thought that instructions to Minister Stevens are to be sent with her.

Shot the Top of His Head Off.

PARIS, Ky., March 14.—In Clayesville, a negro suburb, Will Marshall shot George Jones with a shot gun loaded with slugs tearing the top of his head off. Both men are colo red. Marshall escaped.

—A child of Henry DeMott, at 175 Somerset street, is ill with scarlet fever. The case is quarantined.

—P. M. Demarest, the grocer, lost a valuable work horse Sunday morning, by death from spinal meningitis.

—An entertainment will be given Thursday evening at Mount Oliver church, by the Rev. F. G. Warnick, who will exhibit views of New Jersey.

—The regular "Y" devotional meeting will be held in the "Y" rooms to-morrow afternoon at 4. The subject will be, "Abiding in Christ".

—Mrs. Step henson is selling out her entire stock of china, crockery, glassware, lamps, etc., below cost, at 53 West Front street. Go and secure bargains.

—Messrs. Henry & Johns, who were for a long time with building-mover Jenkins, are doing the work of moving No. 2 engine-house, they being now in business for themselves.

—White announces the spring opening of his millinery parlors, under the direction of Miss Kittie Daly, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 21, 22, 23 and 24.

—Base-ball circles are much agitated just now. Freddie Jones has had an offer from Paterson; he and Bonner were sent for by the Elizabeth managers to-day, and Harkins was in town this morning.

—The Hon. Chas. H. Ham, who lectures on Manual Training in All Souls' church Thursday evening, will be present at the Boys' club Friday evening and would be happy to meet all friends of the club.

—The past year has been the most prosperous in the history of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, their gross earnings from all traffic being $14,716,236, which is a gain of $62,649 over the year 1891.

—A great meeting is anticipated at the Salvation Army barracks to-night. The meeting will be led by Adjt. and Mrs. Hunter, reinforced by about thirty of the New Brunswick warriors. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—Constable W. R. Mattox yesterday served on John F. Wiechers of Grant avenue papers in the suit of the Merchants' Bank of Canada. He found Mr. Wiechers on a ferry boat. The suit is one precipitated by the old Field failure.

—To-morrow night the Park club will bowl the Casino club team at Cranford. On Friday they will bowl the Union County Country club, on the alleys of the latter. Games have been arranged with Fanwood, and latter in the month with the New Jersey Athletic club.

—The Rev. Mr. Kingsley, pastor of the Dunellen M. E. church, preached on the subject "Our Public Schools", Sunday evening. The Jr. O. U. A. M. members from Dunellen and New Market, who are champions of the public school system, attended in a body. The sermon was very fine, and enjoyed by the large congregation.

—The members of the Boys' club had a fine time last night. Secretary Henry Manning of the Y. M. C. A. had loaned a magic lantern, beautiful slides for which were supplied by Mrs. J. D. Spicer, J. Hervey Doane and W. G. Morse. Miss Mary Lewis rendered instrumental music. The 175 boys present greatly enjoyed the exhibition.

—On Wednesday the 19th of April, sheriff Hicks will sell the property on Second street next adjoining Packer's furniture store and backing on the hotel Grenada, to satisfy the judgments of Charles A. A PUBLIC PALACE.

THE MONUMENT ERECTED TO WALDORF ASTOR BY ABNER BARTLETT.

Four and a-Half Millions of Money and Two and a-Half Years of Labor, Brings About the Consummation of a Hotel Unrivalled in the World.

A private view of the Waldorf Hotel at Fifth avenue and Thirty-third street, New York, which has just been completed at a cost of four and a-half millions of dollars by Abner Bartlett, for William Waldorf Astor, was accorded a party of Plainfield people, yesterday, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Abner Bartlett, jr., of this city. Of her guests were ex-councilman and Mrs. Arthur Gallup, the Misses Feytel, Mrs. Charles Schermerhorn, Mlle. Helene Sumbatoff a niece of Mrs. Bartlett, and John Hansen of Montclair. Upon arrival at the hotel, the party was met by the junior Bartlett and steward Hilliard, and two hours were spent under their guidance in an inspection of the magnificent building and its rare and gorgeous decorations and furnishings, from the spacious laundry in the eleventh story to the vast kitchens and wine cellars below ground.

Types cannot describe this hotel nor can even the most vivid imagination picture it. As Col. Cockerill, the celebrated New York newspaper man, said at a dinner given in honor of Mr. Bartlett last week, "It is a monument to the name". It is beyond in every way everything of the kind that has ever before been consummated. If it is equaled on the face of the globe, it is only in a small way by one or two European palaces—for even the "Prince of Wales's suite" in the Waldorf that cost $100,000 just to furnish, and for which $3,500 each was paid for the tapestry panels that cover the side walls, is only one of scores and scores of such suites that are contained in this palace THE PRESS is speaking of.

Seventy dollars a day, without meals, is the rate for some of these sets of three apartments, and they can be chosen to gratify any taste from the time of Mohammed or Marie-Antoinette to the present day. And these rooms are not only lavishly provided with the most costly furniture imaginable, but rare oil-paintings hang on the damask-covered walls, onyx pedestals grace the corners, and thousand-dollar Steinway pianos in cases of ivory, gold or natural wood, according to the style of the decoration of the suite, are a part of the furnishing.

Mr. Astor's private apartments and such public rooms on the ground floor as the men's cafe decorated in German Renaissance, the Turkish salon, the Marie-Antoinette reception room, the Garden court, the banquet hall, the ball room and the main entrance hall, are beyond any mortal's capacity and efficiency to delineate or describe. Mr. Astor's private dining room is an exact reproduction of the first John Jacob Astor's dining room, and contains as part of its furniture the table, chairs and chandelier from the latter. Yet all this the owner has never seen. Abner Bartlett, senior, to whose care the property of the Astors has been intrusted for over a score of years, has done it all. It has taken almost three years of incessant thought, wise planning, intense responsibility, excessive care and unremitting personal service. Mr. Bartlett has broken down under it and was unable to be present at the dinner given in honor of himself and his achievement the other day, and his wife sat by his bedside instead of at the right hand of George Boldt, the peer of all hotel men, who has leased the Waldorf at a yearly rental of $135,000. But Mr. Bartlett is better now, and the necklace of pearls and diamonds that was to have been presented to Mrs. Bartlett upon the occasion of the dinner, has been sent her.

The hotel's pay roll includes the names of 30 cooks and 400 men and women servants. One feature will illustrate how thoroughly complete is the service accorded the guests. On each of the ten floors is a cafe in the hands of its own steward and waiters, with its own silver, porcelain and linen marked with the floor's number, and from which everything from a cup of tea to an elaborate breakfast will be served.

A Gentle Spirit Takes Its Flight.

An affliction that is more than ordinarily sad to the bereaved ones, is the death of Miss Dolly Vashti Ryder, only daughter of ex-councilman S. C. Ryder, formerly of Plainfield. Miss Ryder was ill only a week, but the inroads of typhoid pneumonia were so rapid that shortly after midnight of Sunday death came to end her suffering. She was stricken while at the home of a friend, George Yeamans, 71 Forrest street, Jersey City. Her age was 21. She was a most lovely young lady, warmly endeared to all who knew her. She was a sister to Edward Ryder, of Central avenue, and served as housekeeper to her widowed father.

The body will be brought to this city to-morrow afternoon on the 2:30 train, and interred in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Rather risky—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Risky for them. For you, if you have Catarrh, it's a certainty. You're certain to be cured of it, or to be paid $500. That's what they offer, and in good faith—they cure you, or pay you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing.

But—is it so much of a risk? They have a medicine that cures Catarrh, not for a time, but for all time. They've watched it for years, curing the most hopeless cases. They know that in your case there's every chance of success, almost no chance of failure.

Wouldn't any one take such a risk with such a medicine?

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist fifty cents and the trial begins.

Can you ask more?

I suffered for two weeks with neuralgia, and salvation Oil gave me immediate relief. Mrs. Wm. C. Bald, Balto., Md.

ELUSIVE WILLABALD.

He Flaunts His False Mustache in the Very Faces of Plainfield's Vigilant Police.

Young Willabald, the newsboy suspected of robbing the North avenue ticket office, is being sought for by the police. It is alleged that he has been in town several times since his disappearance the day of the robbery. He is said to have bought a false mustache of Jules Boutes, and visited an auction sale Saturday night. Under his disguise he even walked some distance with policeman Flanagan, who had not, however, yet been warned to look out for the lad. Yesterday he drove through the Plainfield streets, say those who know him.

The police succeeded in tracing him to Newark, where they found he had bought a ticket to Chicago, which ticket, however, had not been used. To-day a detective is searching for the fellow in Arlington.

It is now supposed that Willibald was the Vail office thief. He had often been in the office, and would know just how to enter as it was entered, from the back. The money stolen was the personal savings of young Frank Vail, son of J. Thompson Vail.

When Willibald left town, he had $60 of the Union News company's collections in his possession.

RICH REWARD TO ALL PATRONS.

An Enthusiast Writes of the Coming Y. M. C. A. Lectures.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It has taken a long time for our great Civil War to pass out of politics to the domain of history, but it is possible now to study it from its clearly defined sources to its results in a genuine spirit of historic inquiry, and to render a just rather than a blind homage to the memory of those who in an exalted or humble sphere helped to solve the question of national perpetuity a generation ago.

The three lectures advertised to be given at the First Baptist church, in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. building fund, on the evenings of March 16, March 23, and April 4, will afford our citizens a rare opportunity to pursue their studies in this field, while incidentally contributing to an object in which all are interested.

The first of the three, by General Wager Swayne, the eminent soldier and jurist, is entitled "An Anti-Slavery Sketch", but the author's treatment in its breadth would fairly justify the title of "The History of the Rise and Fall of Slavery in America". The second, by the veteran General O. O. Howard, will hold up to view one of the grandest, perhaps the most symmetrical, of the military figures of the war, in the person of General George H. Thomas, the knightly Virginian, who, possessing to an equal degree the chivalry and pride of state which animated his great comrade Robert E. Lee, saw with clearer vision the path of soldierly duty in the crisis of the lives of both. The third, by Sergeant Charles Ezra Sprague, who is better known to New Yorkers as the scholarly and accomplished president of the Union Dime Savings bank, has for its subject "Canteen and Cartridge-Box; or, Life in the Ranks"; and the lecturer fitly illustrates in his own person the fine class of material which helped to make up the rank and file of a great army which was so often better than its commanders.

Whoever listens to one of the three lectures, will feel that he is amply repaid for the cost of the course, and that the other two are in the nature of a rich gratuity.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Walter S. Gibson is able to be out again after a week's sickness.

Dr. J. L. Hurlbut will preach to-morrow evening in Vincent chapel, at 8, a twenty-minute sermon on "The Christian Octave".

Miss Lucy A. Rafferty of East Fourth street has returned home after a week's visit with her uncle, judge Connelly, of Bayonne.

Mr. Drayton, of Crescent avenue, has leased the beautiful new residence now being completed by J. E. Martine, on East Ninth street, and will occupy it at an early date. The house is a model one in every respect.

The friends of David S. Dunavan will be glad to know that the Courier report is false that he has had a relapse and that it would be some time before he would be able to get around. As a fact, Mr. Dunavan is able to be out again.

Mrs. Mabel Frances Demarest was married yesterday afternoon at 3, at the home of her father-in-law, David M. Demarest, Crescent avenue, to David Leavitt Abbott. The Rev. Dr. E. M. Rodman officiated. Mr. Abbott recently purchased the meat market of Wallace Corriell.

Prof. T. E. Hazell, of 34 Westervelt avenue, was surprised last evening by the visit of a number of his many friends, who called to congratulate him on his —— birthday. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening spent with him and his sister, Miss Brown, and his little family, Theo. jr., Pansy and Mary.

W. M. Grinnell, brother of E. B. Grinnell, of Netherwood, has resigned his position as third assistant Secretary of State at Washington. Mr. Grinnell has many friends and well wishers in the present administration, but has concluded to return to his law business with his uncle, ex-Vice-President Morton, of the firm of Morton, Bliss & Co., in New York.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 1-16-7

A CROWN OF GLORY Is the gray hair of old age. BUT a bald pate or thin straggling locks,——ah, no! Among all the remedies for these things perhaps none has been so generally successful as

PETROLEUM HAIR TONIC

We have made and sold it for fifteen years and have heard none but good words for it. While not infallible, it certainly does cure most cases of dandruff, prevents falling out of hair and is a most agreeable hair dressing. Sold in 50 cent sprinkler bottles at

STRONG WORDS FROM THE REV. MR. WARNICK.

He Cries Shame Against Sunday-School Ginna for Voting With Those Who Argued that 'Twas Only a Nigger Church and Should n't Mind a Saloon at Its Door—S'pose It Had Been Bethel Chapel that Was Threatened!

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Again we knock at your door for space to address the public on the saloon question. Please accept thanks for your many kindnesses to my people and to me in the past.

Our city boasts itself on having a "well regulated saloon system", a well regulated system to make drunkards, paupers and criminals, to fill our insane asylums, alms-houses and jails. This prided system has again granted license to the rum shop at the door of our church. "It is orderly"—say members of the common council. Does it fill the pocket with glittering coin? It is orderly, so far as that term means anything to the rum shop—drunkards' curses and drunken brawls. Surely, it is as orderly as we may hope to see a highway to ruin. Against the protest of Col. Case, the vote of councilman Marsh, and the petition from our congregation of four hundred and fifty, the council, for what consideration we know not, granted license.

But our surprise need not be unbounded at this; the councilmen are mostly Republican, and, as they perhaps put it: "It's only a nigger church"—I would be a "nigger" of the deepest dye, if I voted for a rum shop license. Who can imagine our surprise, when the man who has taught in our Sabbath-school, and is now superintendent of the Fifth street colored mission (councilman Ginna), answered Yes, to the opening of a door of temptation in the very path of our young men and boys! Is it unjust for us to believe that he has betrayed his trust as a Christian, and, that his vote was in direct opposition to the will of God? May we not justly feel that the religion which professes one thing, and practices another, is base mockery! May God pardon us if in error. Eternity will disclose the truth. "Woe to him that putteth the cup to his neighbors' lips."

The edifice of the Mt. Olive Baptist church was erected before any saloon had been opened on the corner. For years (over 21) it has been the chief place of worship for the colored people; and today it has the largest colored congregation in the city. Yet Republican Plainfield informs us, by its council, and by some Christian (?) men, that they have no respect for our people, except on election day. A saloon at the door, and one in the rear of a Christian church! A shame to the council! A disgrace to the city! From either saloon on its "business" days, we can hear the drunken imprecations. Even as we pen this, our ears are forced to listen to vile blasphemy. We are indignant; and we have a right to be. "May my right hand forget her cunning, and my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth," when I fail to defend the religion I profess, against the wholesale impudence and inroads of the combined liquor power, and the brazen determination of the gamblers' league.

We gratefully sanction the words of Col. Case and Dr. A. H. Lewis; nay, we venture further: the professing Christian, who links hands with hell, in opening rumshops, belies his religion and defies his God. Will not Christian men and women come to our aid, in prayer and at the ballot-box? Our Father will reward you in eternity.

The Temperance Union has already been mindful of us. May many others follow its good example!

We recommend to Christian men, that they support no man of either party at the ballot box, who in any way favors the saloon. It is a lawless institution, and has no right to exist. High license, or any license, fosters the serpent and protects his ravages. As well license the murderer to kill, or the thief to steal, as to license dens that every hour send some mothers' son to an untimely grave and rob many homes of fair daughters. When a city grants license to a saloon, it opens the door to welcome all crime. The "Gamblers' league" at Trenton, is simply the younger brother of the Plainfield rum power. Whose home may not be the next to feel this monster's venomous sting? Therefore, all should use every influence against him. Bear in mind, "Ye can not serve God and mammon".

Lastly: We appeal to lovers of temperance, and to all Christians, to lend us their aid by temperance literature for free distribution, or the loan of stereoptieon views, illustrating the subject; which we may use in our warfare against the growing evil of intemperance. We propose each month to give an illustrated lecture, gratis, to aid in defeating the rum combine in our city. Dear reader will you help us? Humbly begging your prayers and cooperation, I remain yours, at home, on the platform and at the ballot box, for temperance and good government.

THE BUILDING BOOM.

It Never Lets Up in Plainfield, as Witness These Prospects.

The building prospects in Plainfield and Netherwood are unusually good this spring. Building will soon begin all along the Belvidere road in Netherwood, beginning with the unimproved ground opposite the Netherwood Hotel, where two houses will be erected by Alfred Cocks of Woodland avenue. On the high land beyond the residence of W. L. Brown two houses will be built by Aaron D. Thompson, who at present occupies the old Darling place. On the corner of Putnam avenue and Belvidere, Thomas R. VanBoskerck will soon break ground for the foundation of a handsome residence; while Frank C. Langhorne, the photographer, will build near Putnam avenue. In Plainfield, J. J. H. Pollion of Putnam avenue will build, this spring, on the block formerly belonging to the Onderdonk estate, at Seventh street and Madison avenue. Mr. Ficken will be the architect, and it is expected that the residence will be a very handsome one. John Leal, of school fame, is about to build on Central avenue, for his prospective bride. These are but a few of the many improvements contemplated this year, but it will be sure from the above incomplete list that the growth of Plainfield as a city of fine residences continues.

NO GOOD SAMARITAN.

Randolph Was Crippled, But Cried in Vain to Passers-by for Help.

Frank Randolph, of New Market, while on his way home, Saturday night, slipped on an icy sidewalk of Dunellen borough, and fractured his leg below the knee. He was passed by a farmer to whom he cried out at the top of his voice for assistance, as he lay helpless on the walk, but the farmer failed to heed him, and he was left to suffer for several hours. Finally his cries awakened Harry Gaskel, who hastened to his assistance and bore him to his home. When a physician arrived, his leg was so badly swollen as to prevent resetting of the bone, and he will be obliged to wait till the swelling subsides. He is a Jr. O. U. A. M. member, and will receive $5 per week during his sickness.

LIKE A REVIVAL.

Evangelist Brown from Plainfield Reaping Big Harvest in the West.

The many friends of Chas. B. Brown, formerly of this city, where he was assistant pastor of the First Baptist church, will be rejoiced to hear that his health has been entirely restored. In a letter to a friend, recently received, Mr. Brown speaks of the marvelous success which has attended his work among the young men of Minneapolis, about two hundred and seventy-five of whom have been brought into the Young Men's Christian association through his personal efforts in the last six weeks.

Base-Ball Success Assured.

The Crescent League Board of Governors last night decided to lease their grounds to the base-ball stock company told of in yesterday's PRESS. Stock in the new company is very desirable and is selling rapidly. Last night $300 was subscribed, at $25 a share. The nine will continue to be known as the Crescent League team. The subscribers to stock will meet soon to elect directors.

Borough Rapid Transit Soon Assured.

The rumored opposition to the extension of the street railway into the borough turns out to be somewhat visionary. The rails and all iron work needed for the extension have been ordered, and are expected here in a few days. Work will be begun just as soon as the frost is entirely out of the ground, and the job will be rushed as fast as possible.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by T. W. Randolph, 81 West Front street. Price $1.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 6-16-y

OIL TRAIN PARTED.

Caused a Collision Resulting in the Horrible Death of Three Men.

ONEIDA, N. Y., March 14.—A horrible accident occurred on the Ontario & Western railroad within a few miles of here last night.

An oil train parted on a steep grade, and the rear part collided with another oil train that was following. The crash was terrific, and an engine and four cars were wrecked and burned.

The flames from the burning oil illuminated the country for miles.

Engineer Michael Donohue, of Oswego; Head Fireman Martin Dalrymple, of Oswego, and Brakeman Burke, of Norwich, were instantly killed and their bodies terribly mangled. The engineer was thrown 75 feet. Donohue and Dalrymple leave families.

A special train took physicians to the scene, but the victims were past help.

Hanged Himself in a Barn.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 14.—Wm. Kniffer, aged 65, a prominent resident of Katonah, who was familiarly known as the "mail coach proprietor," committed suicide yesterday by hanging himself in a barn. The only cause assigned for the suicide is domestic troubles. It is known that for some time past he has differed with his wife, and five days ago he left home. At one time he was prosperous in Danbury, Conn., where he has a son in business.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The steamer Boston, from Yarmouth, N. S., brought 139 immigrants to Boston yesterday.

—The annual meeting of the Commercial Travellers' Mutual Accident Association of America, was held in Utica, N. Y.

—Fire in the business portion of Donaldsonville, La., last night destroyed $25,000 worth of property; insurance light.

—John Cartwright, a prominent lawyer and a leading Prohibitionist of Ottawa, Ill., was drowned in the Illinois river by the capsizing of a sail boat.

—The street car drivers and conductors of Newark, N. J., will probably go on a strike in a few days against the trip system by which they are being paid.

—Harry Kernell, the famous Irish comedian, died in Bloomingdale Insane Asylum, New York City, yesterday afternoon of paresis. He was 45 years old.

—Major Fukushima, formerly of the Japanese Legation in Berlin, completed yesterday at Vladivostock his horseback ride across European and Asiatic Russia.

—At Reading, Pa., yesterday two houses in the course of erection collapsed in consequence of their walls becoming waterlogged. Four workmen were severely injured.

—Attorney General Rosendale is causing a careful examination to be made of the Fire Island deeds with the purpose of securing to the State a title which shall be beyond dispute.

—Although President Diaz of Mexico decrees the free importation of maize and beans for an indefinite period, high railway rates, it is expected, will check such importation.

—John D. Marvin committed suicide at Norwich N. Y., by tying a sheet around his neck so as to cause strangulation. It was his third attempt at suicide. He was 73 years old.

—The buildings of the Blackhawk Coal Mine company at Harrisburg, Ill., have been destroyed by fire. Loss will probably reach $50,000. It is believed the fire was the work of incendiaries.

—Z. S. Kyes, a Chicago man, while in a fit of drunken rage, Sunday night, shot his wife and a neighbor, Mrs. Mary Weir, and then tried to put a bullet into his own brain, all will recover.

—Joseph Esser, a clerk, shot and seriously injured Annie Shea, an inmate of a disreputable house in Detroit, Sunday night, and blew his own brains out. The affair was the result of a quarrel.

—It is stated that Mr. Arthur Nikisch, leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra, will resign and leave Boston at the end of the present musical season, having been offered a prominent musical position abroad.

—The Chemical National bank of Chicago has just turned into the sub Treasury Department $100,000 in gold and gold certificates for transmission to Washington. Within a few days Chicago banks have sent in about $750,000 in gold.

—The New Foundland sealing fleet sailed Saturday evening to prosecute the seal fishery for the season of 1893. The fleet numbers twenty-one steamers. Nineteen will cruise in the Atlantic and bays on the east coast, and two in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Hint to Other Merchants.

Orton O. Bettyr—Didn't you say you were never going to pay that old bill of Spotcash & Co.'s?

I. McKicker—I did.

"I think I heard you say you would thrash the next collector within an inch of his life that came to your office with that bill."

"You did."

"Yet, here I find it on your desk, receipted in full."

"Yes, Old Spotcash took a contemptible advantage of me. He sent a handsome young lady with the bill this time."—Chicago Tribune.

A Cheap Substitute.

Wife—Well, what do you think Johnny wants now?

Husband—I've no idea.

Wife—He wants me to tease you into buying him a bicycle.

Husband (who has tried bicycling himself)—Nonsense. He can't have one. Tell him to go up into the attic and fall down two flights of stairs. It will be just about the same thing, and save me a hundred dollars.—Texas Siftings.

A Man's Nerves.

Mrs. Binks—Ooo! Doesn't it make you nervous to have the wind blow so this time of night?

Mr. Binks—Why?

"Just hear the windows! They rattle like everything."

"Um! It would make me nervous to hear the windows rattle if the wind wasn't blowing."—N. Y. Weekly.

Patties trying to introduce new cough remedies, should know that the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Emanuel Negus, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

Stimulate the Blood.

BRANDETH'S PILLS are the great blood purifier. They are a purgative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, the kidneys and the skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body—they may be called the purgative sudorific and diuretic medicine. They stimulate the blood so as to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors, and cures disease no matter by what name it may be called. One or two of them taken every night will prove an infallible remedy.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance has been introduced before the common council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the council to adopt the same,

F. W. RUNYON, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., March 9, 1893.

AN ORDINANCE

to divide into two Election Districts both the First and Second wards of the city of Plainfield.

WHEREAS on December fifth, eighteen hundred and ninety-two the common council received official notice that at the last general election held in the city of Plainfield more than six hundred votes were cast in each of said wards. Now therefore, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided;

The inhabitants of the city of Plainfield by their common council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the First ward of the city of Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts to be known hereafter respectively as: The First Election District of the First ward, and the Second Election District of the First ward.

Section 2. That the First Election District of the First ward shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the First ward situate on the southwesterly side of the centre lines of Richmond street and Norwood avenue.

Section 3. That the Second Election District of the First ward shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the First ward situate on the northeasterly side of the centre line of Richmond street and Norwood avenue.

Section 4. That the Second ward of the city of Plainfield is hereby divided into two election districts to be known hereafter respectively as: The First Election District of the Second ward and the Second Election District of the Second ward.

Section 5. That the First Election District of the Second ward shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of the Second ward, situate on the southwesterly side of a line beginning at the intersection of the centre line of Berckman street with the centre line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; thence along said centre line of Berckman street and the continuation thereof to the centre line of Woodland avenue; thence along said centre line of Woodland avenue and the centre line of Rahway road to the city line.

Section 6. That the Second Election District of the Second ward shall include all the territory and inhabitants thereof contained in that portion of Second ward, situate on the northeasterly side of a line beginning at the intersection of the centre line of Berckman street with the centre line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; thence along said centre line of Berckman street and the continuation thereof to the centre line of Woodland avenue; thence along said centre line of Woodland avenue and the centre line of Rahway road to the city line.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

TRUE, EVERY WORD.

A Realism Terrible in Its Intensity.

A Story Which is Without an Equal in the World.

The Exact Facts Told Exactly as They Occurred.

LEBANON, N. H.—As your correspondent I communicate the following remarkable story exactly as it came from the lady's own lips. Everybody in Lebanon, N. H., knows Mrs. S. R. Berry well; indeed she is a most highly respected resident here. The story is one which particularly interests everyone at this season.

"I was in a very bad way; such trembling in my arms and limbs, and my heart was just frightful, and those terrible sweeping chills and trembling in my limbs made me expect a shock or to lose the use of them completely.

"I could not sleep nights because my heart would palpitate and the chills or shaking would follow, and I could do but very little of anything.

"I could not sit up all day, but had to lie down a great deal, and my nerves were very weak and of no use. Why, I could not bear any noise.

"There was a terrible pain in my head, with burning both sides of the head, and I was almost a complete wreck of my former self.

"No one had any hopes of my being better; my doctor ordered a change of everything, but I was not equal to moving anywhere, indeed could not walk any to speak of, only drag about from one room to another.

"And such dull, heavy feelings, as if I was about to meet some awful doom; all the time I was depressed in mind and spirits and could not cheer up.

"My liver was swollen so I could not rest unless hot applications were used on my side, and my kidneys were very bad.

In my despair I began the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and I will say that this wonderful medicine is the greatest blessing that ever was in a family.

MRS. S. R. BERRY.

"It has done perfect wonders for me. I was soon on the right road to health and strength by its use, and I am gaining each day. After taking two bottles I could do more work than I had for over a year, and now I do all my housework and all my sewing; I can walk vigorously, indeed I have walked as far as five miles in an afternoon; yes, it is true, you can ask anyone here.

"I can now eat better than ever, am strong again and have got back most of my former looks and good color.

"I am a wonder to everyone who knows how weak and low I was before using this remedy; our doctor met me a few days ago and said that I was doing wonderfully that my eyes were bright and that I looked well.

"Oh, words are useless! I cannot tell how much I prize this great and blessed medicine; all my family join me in one loud chorus in saying, God bless this great health giving remedy! I have told every one of my friends, far and near, and you see they cannot help believing for here I am a living witness to show what has been done for me."

Can anything be added to this?

The sick and suffering should certainly use so marvellous a health giver as this great remedy appears to be; especially should all use it now for it is the most excellent of all spring medicines to invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and and regulate all the organs. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and druggists keep it for $1 per bottle.

Doctors recommend and prescribe it because it is the discovery and prescription of an eminent physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, the successful specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. The doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

ZELIE DE LUSSAN.

Success of a Young American Singer in the Old World.

The splendid success lately attained by a certain young American singer in England must start a lively train of thought in the minds of some persons of consideration in the world of criticism and of the theater in this country.

Zelie de Lussan was quite without honor in this, the land of her nativity, says the Illustrated American. The critics sneered and snarled at her. Managers denied her an engagement. Disheartened and desperate, mademoiselle went to London.

The bolder and heavy-witted Englishmen instantly discovered talents and charms in one whom the critics of the American metropolis declared impudent and presumptuous in daring to proclaim herself an operatic star.

Miss de Lussan first came prominently before the public in America as a member of the Boston Ideal Opera company. During the tour of that organization in the provincial towns she met with so much popular favor that she excited the jealousy of her elderly, though still capable colleagues.

So bitter became the ill-feeling in the company that disintegration resulted, and the young woman who had really come to be the chief attraction of the Ideals began her stage career as a star.

For a season or two she prospered fairly well "on the road," but thought it best to defer her appearance in New York city until ample experience had developed her art to a degree calculated to command success as well as to deserve it.

Finally Miss de Lussan ventured to the metropolis. On the stage of the Fifth Avenue theater she presented herself in a role that tries the talents of the most gifted lyric artist—that of Bizet's "Carmen."

It is a part in whose effective portrayal Miss de Lussan is peculiarly adapted by reason of her physical attributes, her temper, her personality. She has the coal black eyes, the raven hair, the crimson lips, the firm, lissome figure of a Spanish gypsy. There is an abandon in her movements, a wild grace in her gestures, a fire and deviltry in her presence that gave her impersonation of Carmen the life-like complexion of reality.

The music of the role, warm, colorful, impassioned, she rendered with a sympathy that showed her complete accord with all the features of the character.

nominated for congress, but declined; was a presidential elector in 1860 on the Breckinridge-Lane ticket; was private, captain, colonel, brigadier and major general in confederate service, surrendering with the Army of the Tennessee in 1865; was three times dangerously wounded; after the close of the war returned to Tennessee and resumed the practice of law; was a delegate to the democratic national convention in 1868; served on the national democratic executive committee for Tennessee twelve years; was an elector for the state at large on the Tilden and Hendricks ticket in 1876; in 1882 was elected governor of Tennessee, and reelected without opposition in 1884; in January, 1887, was elected to the United States senate as a democrat, to succeed Washington C. Whitthorne and took his seat March 4, 1887. His term of service will expire March 3, 1899.

Dexterous Workman.

The emperor of Germany recently visited a needle factory where a workman begged a hair of his head, bored an eye in it, threaded it and handed it back to the monarch, who had expressed surprise that eyes could be bored in the smallest sized needles.

FLOODS IN MICHIGAN

Kalamazoo City Threatened With Inundation.

OTHER CITIES DAMAGED BY WATER

The Danger Along the Course of the Grand River Is Now Over—Dams Breaking Along the Kalamazoo River—Pumping Out the Ironwood Mines—No More Lives Lost.

DETROIT, March 15.—The flood situation in the Grand river is not much changed from last night. The water is gradually receding at the rate of about a foot a day. Reports from Ionia, Muir, Portland, Grand Ledge and other points along the Grand river, except at the lower part, show that the danger is over.

The Kalamazoo river has risen at Kalamazoo, and all the streams running into it are higher than for many years.

Railroad tracks are inundated, and more than 100 dwellings are surrounded by water to such a depth as to render it necessary to use boats in going back and forth. Several factories have been compelled to shut down.

The Howlandsburg dam on the Kalamazoo, which holds back Gull lake, has gone out, and the Galesburg dam is in great danger. The dam at Plainwell went out yesterday, and flooded a large area. The Otsego dam holds back a lake of 8,000 acres of water, and may also be forced out. No lives have yet been lost here.

An unbroken lake extends between Saginaw and Bay City, and the Saginaw river is still rising rapidly. A large amount of lumber has been washed from the decks at Saginaw. Many cellars are flooded, and merchants' stocks have been heavily damaged.

The water in the flooded Ashland mine at Ironwood has been lowered to the tenth level, and the big pump, which was flooded, is working again. All danger to adjacent mines is now over. The mine will be emptied by April 1. The flooding has thrown nearly 500 men out of work temporarily.

ST. LOUIS, Mich., March 15.—Pine river is the highest in 17 years, and the mills and electric light works are flooded out, the town having been in darkness for five nights.

One bridge was carried away. Pine river is up 10 feet and is still rising, and bridges over it have been carried away. Unless the streams fall rapidly before the ice in the Tittabawassee and its tributaries give away a disastrous flood is feared.

A KISSING CLERGYMAN.

Why the Rev. David Chambers Was Pelted With Stones.

EAST HARWICH, Mass., March 15.—Rev. David Chambers, who has twice been pelted with stones on the street after dark, seems to have been afflicted with a troublesome mania for kissing the ladies of his church. Their friends have taken this method to avenge the insults.

One lady says that she employed the clergyman to teach her daughter painting, but ordered him from the house when he attempted to embrace and kiss her.

The clergyman at one time had a painting school in New Orleans, but his pupils deserted him, owing to his affectionate conduct.

At a church entertainment here the past winter one young woman slapped him in the face for trying to kiss her.

NINE KILLED, EIGHT INJURED.

Shocking Disaster by the Explosion of Fire Damp in an Idaho Mine.

MCALISTER, I. T., March 15.—A shocking disaster in which nine men were instantly killed and eight more so seriously injured that they cannot live, occurred at midnight in mine No. 1 of the Choctaw Coal company at Alderson, by the explosion of fire damp.

Out of 18 men employed in the level only one escaped death or injury.

Several of the victims were recent arrivals from Indiana and Pennsylvania.

Her Crew in a State of Mutiny.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 15.—Private advices received here to-day from Honolulu report the arrival of the whaling bark William Bayliss at that port on Feb. 21, having taken no oil and with her crew in a state of mutiny. Sealing schooners Matthew Turner, C. G. White, Alton, Louisa D. and Rose Sparks had been in port and departed for the Rookeries, previous to Feb. 28. The Alton had been on the railway for repairs.

To Change Wardens at Sing Sing.

ALBANY, March 15.—Superintendent of State Prisons Lathrop admits that he had written to Warden Durston asking him to assume permanent control of Sing Sing prison as its warden. Warden Durston has built up Auburn prison and made it self-supporting and the department wants him to undertake a similar task at Sing Sing. Warden Durston has not yet replied. Warden Brown has tendered his resignation.

More Smallpox in Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 15.—John McCarthy, a ship carpenter, has been found with smallpox in the Curtis boarding house. The house is filled with boarders. McCarthy formerly boarded where William Cole, who recently died at the pest house, was stricken. Both men frequently visited Long Island City, where their families live in the infected district.

Run Over by an Electric Car.

PATERSON, N. J., March 15.—David Campbell, of the firm of Morrell & Campbell, feed, grain and coal dealers, of Passaic, was struck by an electric car last night and thrown under the wheels. Two dozen men lifted the car from the track and carried the injured man to a drug store. His right foot had been cut off and he was badly bruised.

To Compete With Vanderbilt Lines.

DETROIT, March 15.—It is announced that Henry S. Ives is the principal backer of the new line which is to be built soon between Detroit and Toledo. Several other prominent Eastern capitalists and a number in this city are also interested in the new road which, it is said, will take considerable business from the Vanderbilt lines.

Another Steamer With a Broken Shaft.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The steamship American, from Rotterdam, passed the British steamer Sarnia, from Liverpool for Halifax, with a broken shaft. Assistance was offered, but was refused. The captain of the Sarnia was not at all communicative.

WILL SUE SPAIN.

The Female Baseballists After Damages for Their Treatment in Cuba.

NEW YORK, March 15.—The American Female Baseball club, composed of nine young women, and Joseph Bruckner, the manager of the team, have brought suit for damages against the Spanish government.

The party returned to this city from Havana Monday and Manager Bruckner tells a story of rough treatment at the hands of the Cuban mob in which he and the girls barely escaped with their lives. Bruckner says that the Cubans not only attacked the women and tore off their clothing, but that they dragged down the American flag which the club carried and destroyed it.

The riot took place at Almendares, Cuba, March 5, where the female baseballists were playing the Cuban Baseball club. Manager Buckner says a crowd of 10,000 people had assembled to see the game. He says that $5,000 in money representing the gate receipts was stolen, a policeman and fireman killed and several other men severely wounded in the general fight that took place.

"We have laid the matter before American Consul Springer at Havana," Bruckner said, "and he has promised to investigate the case. As soon as possible we returned to New York and we have sent a power of attorney to Havana where actions for damages have been instituted by us against the Spanish government."

THANKS FROM RUSSIA AND GREECE.

Sent Stamps to the Czar and New Year's Greeting to the King.

WALTHAM, Mass., March 15.—A young man of this town sent several specimens of the new Columbian postage stamps to the Czar of Russia. He thought nothing more of it until a few days ago he received a large envelope from the Russian Legation at Washington, sealed with the imperial arms of Russia. The letter read as follows:

"His Majesty the Emperor most graciously directed me to express to you his thanks for your letter of Jan. 1, 1893, with postage stamps enclosed. Believe me, Dear Sir, Yours sincerely,

"PRINCE CANTACUSENY."

A New Year greeting sent to the King of Greece brought forth the following letter from Athens dated Feb. 9, 1893.

"DEAR SIR—His Majesty the King thanks you most sincerely for your good wishes, which I have been ordered to convey to you. Believe me, Very sincerely yours, A. KALINSKI, Secretary to His Majesty, the King of the Hellenes."

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Several Hurt in a Bad Wreck on the Georgia Central Road.

MACON, Ga., March 15.—The fast express on the Central road was derailed yesterday two and a half miles above Boling Brooke. The engine and all the coaches save the parlor car are in ruins. The train was making its regular time and in rounding a sharp curve jumped the track.

The engine turned completely over in a ditch and the tender, reversing itself, passed 14 or 20 feet beyond. The mail and baggage car went on the opposite side from the engine and is a pile of debris. The smoker was jammed against the engine and the escaping steam forced the passengers to break through the windows. The next coach was badly broken. Fortunately this coach did not leave the track and was converted into a hospital for the wounded.

Special trains from Macon and Forsyth took physicians to the scene. No lives were lost. Engineer Ramsay is seriously hurt and the fireman is slightly scalded. Conductor Beebee escaped unhurt. Not more than a half dozen sustained injuries of consequence.

A Serious Clerical Error.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—During the last session of Congress $37,000 was appropriated with which to pay employes of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and to meet incidental expenses during the present fiscal year. It has just been discovered that the engrossed bill signed by the President only carried the sum of $87. The clerical error cannot be rectified until Congress again convenes.

More Garza Men Surrender.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 15.—Six more members of the revolutionary army of Catarino Garza have come into the garrison at Fort Ringgold voluntarily and surrendered. All of them were formerly prominent ranchmen in Starr and Duvri counties and were induced to enter the revolutionary movement in expectation that it would result in the overthrow of the Diaz administration.

Suicided From the Elevated Railway.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Charles Hayes, a cigar maker, 30 years of age, jumped off the Third Avenue Elevated road at the Seventy-sixth street station last night. He was picked up from the street and taken to the Presbyterian Hospital where he died a few hours later. Hayes is said to have been out of employment for some time, and it is supposed his suicide was due to despondency.

Lost Her Masts in a Hurricane.

HAVANA, March 15.—The Spanish steamer Gracia, from Liverpool, has arrived at this port with the British schooner Percy H. Reed, in tow. The schooner sailed from Bear river, N. S., on Feb. 14 for Barbadoes. She encountered a terrific hurricane which carried away all of her masts.

Cause of Death Mysterious.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 15.—Frederick Kuhlmann, a letter carrier, who was recently killed on the Jersey Central railroad under peculiar circumstances, is now supposed to have committed suicide. He was financial secretary of the German Building and Loan association, and a shortage of several hundred dollars has been discovered in his accounts. His wife promises to make up the deficit.

Is Blount to be a Commissioner?

NASHVILLE, March 15.—An Atlanta special says: A story from Macon seems to be straight that Congressman Blount has been appointed chairman of the special commission to Hawaii that goes to investigate the situation there. Mrs. Blount has gone to Washington, and this evening leaves with her husband for the Pacific slope. This story comes from the family.

Keeley Institute to Move.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 15.—On April 1 the managers of the Keeley institute will remove the institution from their present site to the residence lately occupied by ex-County Treasurer David Cromwell. Mr. Cromwell has lately removed into his new home.

Grossmire Will be Hanged.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 15.—Judge Morrison has denied the motion for a new trial in the Grossmire case and sentenced Ralph Grossmire to the gallows. The Governor will set the day for the hanging when he signs the death warrant.

Murderer Schultz's Life Spared.

SING SING, March 15.—Peter Schults, sentenced to be killed by electricity, has been notified that the Governor has commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life. Schultz killed his baby. He was then only 17 years old.

HIS FIFTH MARRIAGE

An Old Man's Capers Making Him Trouble.

ACCUSED OF USING FOUL MEANS

Harrison Prentice, of Springfield, Finds His Neighbors Down on Him—His Five Two Wives Widows—Then He Ran Off With Another Man's Wife, Lost Her, Then Got Her Again, and Has Finally Married Her.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 15.—Harrison Prentice, aged 70 years, has married Mrs. Mary Christie for the second time. This is the fifth time he has been married. Three week's ago he inquired for a marriage license at his fourth wife's funeral and hurried from the cemetery to the city clerk's office with his prospective bride.

Prentice has some money. His first two wives were widows. Wife No. 2 was the Widow Blackmer. Prentice found fault with her because she wanted too much sugar in her tea and was otherwise extravagant.

On October 22, 1888, Prentice enticed Mrs. Christie away from her husband, a crippled harness maker, and fled to Chicopee Falls, where they were secretly married.

Christie, deserted, and Wife No. 2, also deserted, appealed to the Superior Court to get back their respective wife and husband. At the trial, however, Christie pleaded in his wife's behalf, and she was placed on probation.

Soon after Mrs. Prentice No. 2 died, and on December 15, 1891, Lizzie Gilbert of West Springfield became Mrs. Prentice No. 4. She died last month and it was at her funeral that Prentice created a sensation by announcing his intended marriage. He became frightened at the storm of indignation that followed and retired to the three room house which he owns, with the Mrs. Christie, who has since served as his

The circumstances of the death of Mrs. Prentice No. 4 were so peculiar that the police investigated them. Mrs. Prentice died in great agony after a half hour's illness, the symptoms being of arsenical poisoning.

Curiously enough Mr. Christie had died suddenly over two weeks before. An autopsy was held after Christie's death but no medical examination was made. When foul play was rumored it was too late to exhume the bodies. Since living under the same roof Prentice and Mrs. Christie have been closely watched by the authorities. Tiring of the surveillance, Prentice went to the City Clerk yesterday with the woman, who confessed to 32 summers and four marriages. A marriage license was obtained and the ceremony was performed. Prentice still sheds tears at the mention of Mrs. Prentice No. 4.

TO MARRY HER COACHMAN.

Mrs. Hiller to Take a Husband Whom She Has Given Her Name.

BOSTON, March 15.—Mrs. Francis B. Hiller, who created a stir a few years ago by the announcement that she had a magnificent burial casket ready, is evidently confident that death is a long distance off.

She will be married Easter Sunday at the Catholic church, Wilmington, to Henry Hiller, nee Peter Surrette, her coachman.

She induced Surrette to change his name to that borne by the late Dr. Hiller to perpetuate her name.

Surrette lived in Canada and saw the notice of the eccentricity of the woman and her wealth. He came, saw and conquered.

For a New Cup Defender in Boston.

BOSTON, March 15.—Captain R. J. Bibber, son of the well known boat builder, has drawn the lines for a cup defender which, experts say is a dandy. There is talk of forming a syndicate to build her. They have secured the services of the racing skipper, Capt. Con Harrington, to sail the boat.

No Sunday Game in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 15.—The Louisville baseball clubs will play no Sunday games at home this year owing to the opposition of the church people of Parkland, a suburb of this city in which the new park is located.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT.

Paine's Celery Compound Head and Shoulders Above Competitors---Word From Mr. Wood.

Physicians prescribe it—
Because it makes people well.

No other remedy was ever so generally recommended by the medical profession.

Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, who first prescribed it, was one of the most eminent of practitioners. The formula, which has been freely given to the medical profession, has been indorsed from the first; for Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine a sarsaparilla or an ordinary tonic, but it is the true remedy for diseases arising from debility of the nervous system.

It is a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases, and kidney troubles. Says W. E. Anthony, M. D., of Providence: "I have used Paine's celery compound, and the patients expressed themselves as much pleased with the effect experienced from its use; as a tonic and restorative, it seems to meet the indications in cases of debility, such, as a rule, as are the sequel of the grip; I will be pleased to recommend its use wherever it is indicated."

E. H. Judkins, M. D., of Portland, Me., says: "Physicians do not praise patent medicines or prescribe them for their patients; honest practitioners, however, when proprietors furnish the formula of a medicine, must frankly test its merits, if it has any, and not hesitate to express their opinion of it; this I have been doing in my practice with Paine's celery compound; knowing of what it is composed and the high reputation of its discoverer, Prof. Edward E. Phelps, of Dartmouth, I gave it a thorough trial and found it to meet every want of the maladies for which it is recommended.

"While 'burning the midnight oil' myself I found it a very valuable systemic regulator. I might say renovator; to rheumatic patients it has proven of great service, and in the alarming growth of serious nervous affections in the 19th century I cannot but say when people have to keep dosing, let them take so helpful and harmless a medicine as Paine's celery compound, for it is of much benefit in this class of disorders."

Says J. H. Lindsley, M. D., of Reed's Ferry, N. H.: "I have used Paine's celery compound with the most happy results; I can cheerfully recommend it in all cases such as rheumatism, nervous affections, etc., also in cases of debility from long continued fevers, and general debility from whatever cause; I am daily prescribing the compound."

From Lewis Blundin, the well-known physician, whose home is in Hulmeville, Pa., comes this tertimonial: "It gives me great pleasure to say that my former expressed opinion of Paine's celery compound has not been altered by its continued use; wherever my prognosis and diagnosis of a case indicates its use, I freely recommend and prescribe it, with faith in its good results, and I am never deceived in them; I find it to be a grand remedy; I am much pleased with its tonic and nervine qualities; in my own case the cell tissues of the kidneys were rapidly breaking down and I was fast drifting into confirmed albuminaria, or Bright's disease when Paine's celery compound at once arrested the decay and I find myself on the rapid road to permanent recovery."

C. E. Cole, M. D., the medical director of the Prairie du Chien Medical Institute, says: "I have used considerable Paine's celery compound in my practice during the last four years, and I consider it the best preparation of its kind on the market I have used it with good results in the bilious disorders peculiar to this climate."

From Hodgdon, Me., James V. Tabor, M. D., writes: "I will certify in reference to the great relief obtained by the use of Paine's celery compound in the after effects of the grip, irregular motions of the heart, numbness of the hands and feet, partial loss of brain power and in kidney troubles; not only my patients, but both Mrs. Tabor and myself have used it with good success."

And by the same mail comes a letter from Mr. Albert Wood of Haverhill, Mass., whose likeness appears above, in which he says: "I was troubled with the asthma for some five years, and at times found it difficult to breathe; I took Paine's celery compound, which has entirely cured me; after taking two bottles I derived great benefit; I am now nearly 61 years old but can walk as spry as a young man; I was also troubled about walking; my feet would burn very badly, but that feeling all left me after taking the compound; I am very smart to-day and my friends all speak of what a change there is in me; they ask me what I have been doing to look so well, and I tell them that I took Paine's celery compound; I have recommended it to a number of my friends, and they are using it."

Dr. J. B. Jacobs of Burnham, Me., says that after suffering seven weeks with lumbago he used two bottle of Paine's celery compound and was cured; "Paine's celery compound," he says, "is a very valuable compound to me, and I use it in my practice."

Washington correspondents have recently given Paine's celery compound a great deal of attention since the most wonderful cure effected in the case of Gen. Hamilton. The medical journals of this country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any other one subject.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Allen addresses Plainfield's 400 on interesting subjects to-day.

—Seats on sale now for the Rentz-Santley burlesque company at Music Hall Friday evening.

—The chattel mortgage sale of J. G. Miller's drug store, was to-day adjourned over for one week.

—It is said that for the first time in the past twenty years, the Republicans of Mt. Bethel put a ticket in the field yesterday.

—The Dunellen bowling green will open the season about the middle of May, and the annual series of games will begin about the first of July.

—Gustav Sutterlein of Green Brook road, declares that if borough marshal Pangborn is not re-appointed he will sell his property and move away.

—The defeat of Mr. Bauersachs by so large a majority was only a part of the Democratic landslide that seems to be sweeping over everything of late.

—Get out your spring clothing to-day, take it to Hillier's, 49 North avenue, have it cleaned or dyed, and blossom out in April in brand-new toggery at very little cost.

—Tickets for the Y. M. C. A. lectures will not be sold at the door of the church, but may be procured at R. J. Shaw's pharmacy. Tickets for single lectures will not be sold.

—Conductor Sutton of the Somerville drill engine, who was until lately a brakeman on drill engine No. 200, in this city, had his right hand mashed while coupling cars at Somerville, yesterday.

—A carpenter's horse ran away on Park avenue below Ninth street, at 5:30 last evening. The cause was the breaking of one of the reins. The animal was captured under the Park avenue bridge.

—The extensive addition now being built to the Harned academy on Park avenue, is rapidly approaching completion and will probably be ready for occupation at the close of the Easter vacation.

—The "News" said yesterday that it was by Mayor Gilbert's "Advice and urging that Mr. Honeyman consented to run, Mayor Gilbert giving it as his opinion that Mr. Honeyman was sure to be elected".

—In Bound Brook yesterday, a Democratic mayor and two councilmen were elected by large majorities. Of the other eight townships in Somerset county probably five of them will elect the Democratic ticket in full.

—A big $200 pane of plate glass was broken in the front of Woolston & Buckle's store this morning, by the sudden slamming of a door by the wind. Ex-councilman Charles P. Sebring narrowly escaped being cut by the falling glass.

—A mothers meeting will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms to-morrow afternoon at 3:30, to be led by Mrs. Joseph Yates. Selections will be read by Mrs. Cahoone, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. McNaughton, and a prophecy by Mrs. Fernald. A cordial invitation to all.

—A very pretty sight, which all Plainfielders should witness, will be the flag presentation at the Crescent rink to-morrow afternoon. The Leal cadets will have a public drill from 4 to 5, and the colors which have been prepared by friends will be publicly presented.

—On account of the scarlet fever in the family of Mr. DeMott, of Somerset street, Richard Warnock will temporarily close his business in the store at that number, and will build a small shop on Grandview avenue, where he will do business for about six weeks. Mr. Warnock has laid in a full new line of meats, and everything is fresh.

—George Kesselring's rooster is gone. It was an extraordinary bird. Besides being a famous fighter and a royal head of the feathered flock, it was quite like a watch dog, as when anyone approached the house at night the bird would crow and cackle in alarming fashion. Mr. Kesselring valued the bird highly, and would like to meet the depredator who has stolen it.

—The insurance men were out on Saturday and adjusted the claims of the Heideloff estate and G. and T. Mantz, for damages to building and stock sustained by the fire on Somerset street about a month ago. The settlement, it is understood, was perfectly satisfactory. Mantz Bros. have removed their stock to the building next to the post office where they will continue in business.

—You want to be the first man or woman in line to-morrow morning to secure your seats for next Tuesday night at Music Hall. The "bill of fare" prepared by the Princeton Gymnastic Team and the Princeton Mandolin club, under the auspices of the Plainfield Bicycle club, is one which will be enjoyed by every man woman and child who is wise enough to make arrangements to partake thereof. Don't miss it!

Mr. Bacon's Pluck and Presence of Mind Stop a Fire and Save a Shock.

William Cortright's house at Fifth and New streets, where he is laid up with a broken leg, was saved from total destruction Monday evening by Frank M. Bacon's pluck, and the patient was saved a severe shock by Mr. Bacon's presence of mind in quietly crawling into the basement by himself and putting out the fire that had started in a wood-box behind the stove and was rapidly spreading.

Mr. Bacon had been calling on Mr. Cortright. After leaving the house he noticed a strange light in the lower story. He made his way in, called upstairs to the nurse who heard him that there was nothing the matter, and with the aid of some water at first and a neighbor's help later, stopped the conflagration.

GOOD MAYOR SAUNDERS.

HIS MAJORITY BIGGER THAN 'TWAS A YEAR AGO.

The New Borough Council Democratic by a Gain of One—Even Town Clerk Martin Has a Narrow Escape—Democratic Victories in Various Republican Strongholds—Fanwood's Surprise.

The people of North Plainfield by their ballots yesterday continued in office the Mayor whose record has been so satisfactory to them, and fittingly rebuked those persons who have been boasting that they had supreme control of borough affairs and always elected "their" man.

Mr. Saunders's majority was 17, greater than it was a year ago, and this in spite of the most bitter opposition that the rankest partisanship could bring to bear. The Republicans further lost one of their councilmen, the overseer of the poor, and very nearly the town clerk. Altogether, they are in a greatly demoralized state, in their former stronghold.

In the second district of the township, 14 ballots, all Republican, were rejected because they were very plainly "marked", under the strict meaning of the law. The cause of the marking was careless work by an irresponsible print-shop on Somerset street, so that on the ballots rejected the outline of the type showed heavily on the back of the ballots. The vote in the table below is as originally declared by the official board. Later the board decided that the ballots were not intentionally marked, and counted them in, so that 14 ballots should be added to each Republican's vote in the second township district below. That elects town clerk Martin.

There is little doubt that should Mr. Kline contest the returns in the courts, he would secure the counting-out of the disputed ballots and win the office.

The sudden opposition to town clerk Martin is attributed to the enemies he made in the Peace street assessment business.

APPROPRIATIONS.

[Same on both tickets.]

For Repair of Roads, outside of Borough, $1,000; $400 to be left in hands of Town Committee.

For Support of Poor, $1,500; $300 of which to be left in hands of Town Committee.

Salary of Township Committeeman, $50.

FANWOOD DEMOCRATIC.

The Tidal Wave Sweeps Over "the Banner Republican Township"—Breaking up the Kyte Ring.

For the first time for many years, Fanwood township elected a Democrat for town committeeman, yesterday.

The total number of votes cast was 284, of which Geo. C. Miller, Democrat, received 143, and L. W. Miller, Republican, 138. The Democrats also elected their constable, Geo. A. Clark, by 3 majority.

The balance of the ticket was carried by the Republicans by majorities ranging from 30 to 60, except Col. C. K. Moore for justice of the peace, who was elected by 162 majority. The Republicans account for the defeat of their candidate for town committeeman by treachery in their own ranks, as at the primary held Friday evening the the rule was adopted that all present and voting for nominees should support the ticket placed in nomination at the polls, and this was agreed to unanimously. It is claimed that this rule was not lived up to, and in fact it is openly stated that certain candidates on the Republican ticket sacrificed L. W. Miller to make votes for themselves. On the other hand, the Democrats claim that the taxpayers of the township have had enough of Kyte rule and they were determined to break the ring, and when Mr. Kyte's term expires next spring another Democrat equally as strong as George C. Miller will be elected to succeed him, thus giving the Democrats control of the town.

Much amusement was occasioned when Will Stanbury voted a straight Democratic ticket, immediately followed by David P. Hall, whose vote it is thought offset it, from the fact that it was supposed that neither one was entitled to a vote, their families having moved to Plainfield. This was afterwards explained and their votes counted.

Somerville and Bound Brook Go Democratic.

The whole Democratic ticket was elected in Bridgewater township yesterday, except W. W. Dorland for overseer of the poor. He was swamped

It was 3 this morning before all of the polling districts in the township were heard from. Wm. Logan, the Democratic nominee for freeholder, was elected over James B. Brown in spite of the fact that Logan would not pledge himself against race-tracks. H. V. Hodge was elected town clerk by fully 200 majority.

In Bound Brook a Democratic mayor and two councilmen were elected by large majorities.

The Water Company Wins.

The Democrats won every office at Westfield yesterday except that of town committeeman. The fight on that was the water-works issue.

Martin Wells, the Republican candidate, favored the project of leasing the supply from the Union Water company, Plainfield's monopoly. Theodore McGarrah, the Democratic nominee, preferred having the town own its plant.

The Anti-Race-Track Ticket Wins.

The citizens' anti-race track ticket won in Linden yesterday by a substantial majority. Every committeeman on the citizens' ticket was elected. The majority for the head of the ticket was 31. The Democratic vote for town committeeman was 92, Republican, 85, Citizens, 208.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

George Barrett, a brother of Mrs. C. Kaerth, is dangerously ill at his home in Brooklyn.

The many Plainfield friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bigelow, jr., will regret to learn that they are to remove to Brooklyn, their former home, April 1.

Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Sarah Francis Green to George R. Carter, Thursday evening, March 30, at 8, at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Mann, 46 Plainfield avenue.

THE PRESS sincerely congratulates the honored and successful candidate of itself and of the people, Mayor Saunders; also the new councilmen, Messrs. Howell and Edwards.

It is n't Col. Charles K. Moore any more, it 's judge Moore. He was elected justice of the peace of Fanwood yesterday by over twice as many majority as his opponent had votes.

At the residence of the bride's parents at New Market, this evening at 8, Miss Harriet A. Gaskill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Gaskill, and Charles Meeker, will be united in marriage by the Rev. L E. Livermore.

The Hon. Charles H. Ham, who is to lecture on Manual Training in All Souls' church to-morrow evening, will be at the church in the afternoon, a half-hour before the Goodyear lecture on Egypt, and be glad to talk with anyone interested in the evening's subject.

R. B. Keys, formerly of Plainfield and now a resident of the City of Mexico, will give a talk about Mexico this evening in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church. He will also exhibit some articles of curious interest. The Y. M. C. A. work is very efficient in that country. Having been actively connected with it he will be able to tell of the results. All are welcome to attend.

Miss Anthony, of Putnam avenue, is staying with friends in New York, where she is rehearsing for an original play to be given to-morrow evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Stone, on Madison avenue. Miss Anthony and Charles Noe Daly, who is well known in Plainfield as a clever amateur, will take the two leading parts. The play is from the graceful and accomplished pen of Miss Anthony herself, and its reading has given her circle of friends much delight.

The Letter-Carriers' Victory.

The letter-carriers of the United States are to be congratulated on the victory attained by them in the decision of the Supreme Court handed down Monday in the two test cases on the Eight-hour law question. Not only will the letter-carriers of the future be relieved from the strain of unpaid overwork, but there will be considerable back-pay compensation to come to a good many men who have been compelled to work more than eight hours a day.

Editor Powell's Indorsement.

I note with much pleasure that Hon. C. H. Ham is to lecture in Plainfield on the Kindergarten and Manual Training. He was one of the speakers on this theme in a series of conferences in New York, under the auspices of our Friends' Committee on Education, and greatly interested his hearers. He has made a special study of the subject and is well worthy of the best audience Plainfield can give him.

THAT THREE-COLUMN SPEECH.

The Censor Scores Judge Ulrich on His Rhetorical Outburst.

An amusing production is the "speech" of ex-judge Ulrich on the school question, published in a recent issue of the Courier. That paper, which goes to the trouble of filling its columns with the ex-judge's dead matter just because John is its particular friend, calls it "a telling discussion of the legal aspects of the case". Here are some of the "telling" things which the judge tells out of his head. They are not told anywhere else:

"It (the school board) merely certifies to the common council, the fiscal body of the city, the amount to be raised for school purposes."

Anybody outside of the Courier office knows that judge Ulrich is dead wrong when he makes that assertion. The school board does not certify anything to the common council.

Judge Ulrich made another "telling" assertion when he said:

"The power to assess and levy taxes resides alone where he (the mayor) would have it, viz: in the common council." Anybody who ever read a tax ordinance knows that this is not true. The common council tells the assessor how much to assess for city purposes, and the school board tells the assessor how much to assess for school taxes. The common council order the assessor by ordinance; the school board orders him by a simple notice.

The Courier says: "Here judge Ulrich read mayor Gilbert's letter to the council." The judge was much to cute for that. He did not read mayor Gilbert's letter. He knew better. Yet after the flourish which precedes the Courier's guileless remark that "Here judge Ulrich read mayor Gilbert's letter", it reads like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out.

The Censor ignorantly supposed that the people were the supreme power in our American States. Judge Ulrich enlightens us by saying that it is the Legislature which is supreme. That explains why the last Legislature authorized a lottery in violation of the constitution. As the judge says, the Legislature is supreme.

Boil down the three columns of fine print which the Courier calls judge Ulrich's speech, and there is one argument left. It is this:

(1) The legislature is the supreme power, and never makes any mistakes.

(2) The legislature gave the school board "absolute and sole authority and power of purchasing property for school purposes".

(3) Therefore any proposition to limit or supervise the exercise of such "absolute and sole authority and power" is wrong.

When a bright and interesting woman not unknown in Plainfield read the judge's rhetorical outburst that the legislature has "time and again thrown its fostering arms and protection around the school board", she quietly remarked: "How very touching! Just now, the same fostering arms and protection are thrown around the race-tracks and pool-rooms." If any bold bad man like mayor Gilbert shall ever dare to urge a change in the race-track laws, may we not expect some ex-judge to rise in his place, expatiate on the glory of the legislature as the supreme power in the State, compare himself with Daniel Webster, and denounce as an outrage on his liberties any attempt to disturb those "fostering arms".

THE CENSOR.

A Lamb Led to the Slaughter.

In its issue of March 2, the day after Mr. Honeyman's nomination for Mayor, THE PRESS said:

"It's a shame for the Republicans to try to make so good a man as A. V. D. Honeyman a scapegoat. They can't elect the best candidate they can name, and a good man should not be sacrificed. The graceful thing to do is to make no opposition to Mr. Saunders."

Yet the partisan bosses of the borough Republicans insisted on making Mr. Honeyman stand, against his own better judgment. Mr. Honeyman is a most estimable man, such an one as should not have been put up as a sacrifice. How could he win, when his chief allies were "the Smalleys", Wheeler, Groendyke, and Tom Morrison! Such a combination of friends would be fatal to the best man in the world.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., next to Broad station. 5-15-y

A PRESS REPORTER AGAINST YALE'S PICKED ORATORS.

McCready Sykes Selected to Speak for Princeton in the Joint Debate To-Night on the Annexation of Canada.

McCready Sykes, for many years a reporter on THE PRESS, who is now taking the classical course at Princeton, will close for the affirmative in the debate to-night between two picked orators each from Princeton and Yale, as to the question "That the peaceful annexation of Canada would be beneficial to the United States." A brilliant speech is looked for. His father was a famous member of the class of '59 at Princeton and an excellent orator. At the time of his death he occupied the pulpit of the Episcopal church at Scotch Plains.

Young Sykes graduated from the schools at Scotch Plains in 1884. He then began the study of law in the office of John A. Taylor, ex-corporation counsel of Brooklyn, and was admitted to the bar in New York in April, 1891.

The New York Herald says: "While studying law, however, he was also preparing himself for college, and in June, 1891, passed successfully the entrance examinations for Princeton. Not satisfied with this achievement, he applied himself during the summer months to the studies of the freshman year and in September passed all the examinations of the first college year and entered as a member of the sophomore class without conditions. Mr. Sykes still acts as counsel for the estate of Benjamin W. McCready, of New York.

"No sooner had he entered Princeton than a liberal share of the honors of his class were bestowed upon him. He served on the Bric-a-Brac committee, was soon elected as a member of the University Dramatic association and one of the editors of the Princeton Tiger. He was the winner last year of the Biddle prize for essay writing, also the sophomore essay prize in Clio Hall. This year he has been one of the most prominent writers for the Nassau Literary Magazine, having recently won their annual prize for the best story in a contest open to the whole college. He is a member also of the "Coffee House" Literary club. Mr. Sykes is recognized by all as one of Princeton's brightest men, possessing a personality which for platform effect has rarely been surpassed by any undergraduate speaker of the college. On the completion of his course at Princeton it is his intention to resume the practice of law in New York."

WORKING FOR CLEANLINESS.

Spring-Time Duties of Householders, as Mapped Out by the Health Board.

The following bulletin was issued to-day by the Board of Health for March:

Absolute cleanliness is the best preventive of disease.

Cool weather, and early in the spring, is the best time to have privy vaults and cesspools cleaned and put in good condition for the summer season. Slaked lime or dry earth or both should be dusted on the walls and bottom of vaults.

When there is no cesspool for the reception of waste water, the owner of the premises should have one constructed immediately.

Ventilators for cesspools should be at least seven feet high from the ground.

Garbage must be kept separate from ashes, as the dumping of garbage, or ashes containing such refuse, is strictly prohibited within city limits, under a fine of $25.

Place all garbage in a suitable vessel and have it removed twice a week.

Cellars should be cleaned and whitewashed and all objectionable accumulations removed from the same and from outbuildings by April. Thorough cleaning of premises is better than disinfectants.

Be sure the plumbing is in good order, and that all basins, sinks and closets are properly trapped; if not, have them put in perfect sanitary condition.

Look to the outdoor part near the house and see that it is kept in proper order; that no waste-water or decomposing matters are thrown around.

Personal cleanliness, regularity of habits, properly cooked food, moderation in eating, avoidance of stimulants and of unnecessary worry and exposure, are found to promote vigorous health that helps to ward off disease of all kinds.

The Board of Health and its members will cheerfully counsel and assist in any sanitary matters, and urgently request any citizen knowing of uncleanly backyards, or the existence of deleterious nuisances, to notify the Health Inspector, M. M. DUNHAM, at his office, 7 East Front street, or any member of the board.

I suffered for two weeks with neuralgia, and Salvation Oil gave me immediate relief. Mrs. Wm. C. Bald, Balto., Md.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by F. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am appreciably cured. E. G. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

MORE SUSPENSE FOR HARRIS.

But the Announcement of the Recorder's Decision Promised To-morrow.

NEW YORK, March 15.— Recorder Smyth did not announce to-day his decision whether Caryle W. Harris should or should not have a new trial. His decision was expected last Monday, and he then named to-day as the earliest upon which it would be ready. At his law office it was said that the decision would be ready for filing to-morrow. The Recorder did not occupy the bench to-day: He has given an almost unexampled amount of time and study to this case.

HERE'S ONE WHO KNOWS.

And He Utterly Refutes What Plainfielders Have Been Gulled with.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I ask the favor of space in your columns to protest against a statement made by one of your contemporaries. The request is unusual, but circumstances justify it. In the Evening News of March 10 we are told editorially—perhaps under the influence of partisan fatuity—that the colonies of the British Empire are "struggling with debt and moving backward", that India is in a "chronic state of poverty and distress, often hunger", and that even in "rich Australia Victoria is in a condition of great financial depression".

Whether the writer of that is simply uninformed, or whether the Evening News is deliberately venturing to presume on the assumed ignorance of its readers, it is not for me to ascertain, but the statement is false. I knows India and Australia perhaps as well as the Evening News scribe knows Plainfield, and I repeat unreservedly that he is misleading his constituents. To refute him in detail would require a page of THE PRESS, but I am prepared to defend my position when I say that all the countries named are at this moment enjoying a degree of prosperity fully averaging that of any other nation, and that they are governed with more public integrity than can be claimed by some. I have passed years among them in a capacity which enables me to write with personal knowledge, and which also causes me to wonder how an honest newspaper can seek to befog the public mind and lower the standard of journalism by such reckless and unwarrantable imaginings.

With regard to Victoria, I may mention that unlike its neighbor, New South Wales, it has adhered to a policy of moderate protection, and I was among the first, if not the first, to advocate the policy there. It is not prohibitory, and it has not been less advantageous than the free trade system of the adjoining province. If the writer in the News thinks that a public debt is necessarily a public misfortune, I must consider his condition hopeless. I would not argue with him. But for the information of others I may at least add that the public debt of Victoria has been singularly advantageous. A large part of it has been incurred for public works. Railroads there are public property, built throughout as substantially as any in the world, and owned not by self-seeking monopolists, but by the people.

I refer to these points incidentally, but I could not allow the errors so completely put forth by the News to stand without some effort to correct them.

MORECRAFT AGAIN.

He and Another Scamp Maltreat an Innocent Youth.

A strange sight was presented to the eyes of the passers-by on Front street and Park avenue yesterday afternoon, when a youth appeared from the direction of Somerset street, with a face of inky blackness relieved by a white streak about an inch wide running from his forehead down his nose to his chin. He was followed by an interested crowd as far as city judge Coddington's office. He entered the office and gave the typewritist such a scare that she recorded nothing but exclamation points for an hour afterwards. Here the youth told his story. He said that his name was Patrick McClymont, and that he had been taken, much against his will, into French's carriage shop by two chaps named Morecraft and Holmes, where by a suitable application of wagon grease, his face had been given its ethiopian hue. The artistic streak of white had been carefully made by the forefinger of one of the operators. Judge Coddington issued warrants for the arrest of Morecraft and Holmes, but they were not to be found, and McClymont returned to his home to remove the decorations of his tormentors. Morecraft is the same youth who was let off Monday with a fine of $3, when tried for disturbing the Salvation Army meeting. He will not get off so easily this time.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me, I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Reuben Rogers, Whitehall, N. Y., H. E. T.

THE PANAMA SHAME

Exciting Times in the Chamber and Senate.

MOSLEM MOBS SACKING CHURCHES

A British Victory in India—Two Hundred Natives Killed—Many Anarchists Arrested in Spain—Many Bombs and Literature Seized.

PARIS, March 15. — There has been another exciting scene in the Chamber of Deputies. M. Clagny said that he wished to question M. Ponrquery de Boisserin regarding his attack on Mme. Cottu, but President Perier refused to permit the question to be offered, for the reason that the debate had been closed.

Paul Deroulede then complained that the official report of the debate had suppressed his expression that the government was a government of liars.

M. Tirard, Minister of Finance, left his seat and walked toward Deroulede, shouting abusive terms at the Boulangist champion. A general uproar followed in all parts of the Chamber.

At length quiet was restored and M. Tirard proposed that Deroulede should be censured and excluded temporarily from the House. Deroulede exclaimed; "If I am expelled I will go to the country and declare that the Chamber is thirsting for lies and could not listen to the truth."

This created a new sensation, and ultimately, at the request of the President, Deroulede withdrew the offensive expression.

In the Senate, after a debate on the facts brought out in the Panama prosecution, a vote of confidence in the government was passed by 209 to 56.

M. Bourgeois is the hero of the hour. His vindication of yesterday was complete. There could be but one outcome, and that was his return to the Cabinet.

In the morning President Carnot drove to the residence of M. Bourgeois and asked him to resume his old position as Minister of Justice.

The effect of the vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies was visible when the trial of the Panama conspirators was resumed by the less satisfied air of the enemies of the government.

After some minor evidence was taken counsel proceeded to address the court. The lawyer appointed to De Lesseps, asking him to tell the whole truth, since it was evident that he knew more than he has revealed.

It is understood that an appeal has been lodged by Charles de Lesseps, Fontane, Cottu and Eiffel against the sentences of imprisonment declared against them at the first trial. Their appeal will be heard before the 22d of this month, probably on Monday next.

MOSLEM ROBBERS

Have Established a Reign of Terror Over Armenians.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 15.—Moslem mobs have possession of Caesarea. They have established a reign of terror over the Armenians, have robbed hundreds, and have killed many. During services in three Armenian churches the mob burst in the doors, stripped the women of their jewelry, and beat and cut the men. After the Armenians fled the Moslems sacked the churches.

They afterwards went through the streets attacking all the Armenians they met, bursting into private houses, and sacking shops.

All places of business are closed, and trade is utterly stagnant. Violence and theft continue day and night.

Christian caravans are being robbed, and the merchants murdered. The prisons are crowded with Armenian prisoners.

Most of the conspicuous Armenians of Caesarea and Marsovan have been imprisoned. A few escaped by paying ransom.

AT WAR WITH NATIVES.

British Soldiers Capture a Number of Villages on the Indian Frontier.

CALCUTTA, March 15.—The British have had a battle with the tribes beyond Chitral, where the British have been endeavoring to strengthen the Indian frontier against the possibility of Russian encroachment. The mountain tribes made an attack on the British garrison. The natives were at length driven off with a loss of 200 men.

The British then marched against the intrenched villages of the hostile tribes, storming village after village, under the command of Major Daniell, who was himself shot through the heart while at the head of his men in an assault on one of the villages.

Every point occupied by the hostile natives was carried. British loss, 23 killed, 30 wounded. The tribesmen submitted to British authority.

THE WOMAN OF FASHION.

Will Mrs. Cleveland Adopt the Inflated Skirt?

Spring Materials Carefully Dissected—Their Peculiarities and Marks of Beauty—The Spring Cape—Points on the Lenten Hat—A Lace Dress.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

Are you going to get a Cleveland dress? It will be quite the thing now, for a good long time to come, to follow the doings at the white house, and particularly those of its beloved mistress. Then, just as soon as Mrs. Grover appears in new gown, coat or bonnet, it will be ours to secure one like it in color, shape or size. It would not be good taste to have it reproduced in every particular, but would be a delicate acknowledgment of our appreciation of her taste in gowning to appropriate some portion of it in our adornment.

Let us hope devoutly that she will never don the inflated skirt. For if she forever disdains it, then may we, too, feel quite serene in our slightly flaring ones.

But we need not wait for a hint from the white house before buying our early spring gown, for all of the spring goods have something in common, and we can scarcely stray very far from what she chooses. The spring goods are alike after a fashion, and yet, after another fashion, are surprisingly unlike. As we cast one careless look over a large number of fabrics we decide that it makes very little difference which one we select, as they all look so much alike. And then, when we come to examine more closely, we wonder what gave us this first impression. For we find that there is scarcely any actual resemblance. They are, it is true, all of some dull, old shade, but, on the other hand, of almost every shade imaginable. They have, also, almost every one of them, some thread running over in a foreign color. But we discover, also, that these threads are rarely alike in shade or texture. In addition to this, we make up our minds first that the queer, crazy designs formed by these threads are rather similar, when suddenly it dawns upon us that no two of them are alike. This arouses our interest, and we begin to think them worthy of closer attention after all. Then begins the absorbing question of which one of all these bewildering fabrics we shall select for our own.

Shall it be this thin, sheer goods that has a fine silk stripe running through it, and, besides, a sort of spider pattern all over it? Or this dark blue with dull pink fleur-de-lis closely covering it? Perhaps this gauzy black stuff would be better with the fine gold thread so closely woven that it almost conceals the groundwork; and yet this dull pink with funny irregular dots of paler and duller pink over would be prettier yet; and these plainer materials with the silky stripes are very attractive. Dear, it is so hard to make up one's mind.

But it really matters little which one we take. For believe me, when you get one of them home and see it apart from the dozen other materials you are bound to like it, and it is almost sure to be becoming. For that is the beauty of them all. They are all soft, and yet there is something about each that makes it stand out. In a word, they're awfully pretty if you consider each alone. But take my advice, and don't look at too many at one time or you'll never in this world be satisfied with one. The very finest of them, with the patterns run over in silk threads, costs three dollars a yard. But numbers of them are much less expensive.

The puzzling question is, how to have them made. If it is really decided that we are not to have the hoopskirt, what, then, are we to have? And if it is not yet quite decided, how soon will it be? While the world is hovering in a state of uncomfortable suspense, wondering what will happen next, it is safe to observe the rules laid down during the last few months. At least there is one comfort for all of us, that so far the skirts have failed to flare to any considerable degree; they have remained within strictly proper bounds, so that we shall be quite safe in having the modestly flaring skirt, even on the new costume. A very pretty way to make your coming gown is to cut your plain skirt open at the left side, just enough to show an embroidered petticoat below in some plaids, harmonizing or contrasting color. Make your bodice empire, have a V embroidered just like petticoat, then the corselet plaited in fine folds at the shoulder seam, drawn down both sides of the V in front, and disappearing under a wide belt embroidered like the petticoat and the vest. Have your under sleeves embroidered also.

I have just seen a most stunning spring coat. It is extremely striking with its perfectly straight lines. It has nothing but a plain velvet yoke, edged by a bit of fanciful passementerie, from which falls the cloak proper, straight, without a fold, to the feet, front and sides. The front is of plain cloth, the sides of velvet to match, the back of cloth. The sleeves are of cloth, very slightly fulled and drooping at the shoulders very noticeably. It sounds most ordinary, but looks quite the opposite.

Then there is also the new cape. The cape will grow more and more puffed up, for it will receive even more attention this coming season than it has done all winter. Now that it will soon be too warm for the velvet and fur cape, the plain cloth one will begin to assert itself. And no sooner will this transpire than all womankind, even to the very lowest, will be able to ape the society woman and produce a garment that will by courtesy bear this name. For it will be such a simple matter to imitate the mantles of the high dames. In winter it was not so easy, for although a makeshift for both fur and velvet was to be had at very little cost, it was still at too high a cost to come within the reach of all. And so the poor, envious creatures were obliged to cling to their coats. But the cloth cape is quite another thing. It will not be long before the streets will be plentifully besprinkled with young and aspiring maidens from the lower ranks of life, all clad in garments of exactly the same cut and quality of material, feeling extremely smart and proud of themselves as they consider how stylish they look, how easily they might be taken for real swells. Then will society shed her cape in sheer disgust and wonder whether any of its pet garments will escape the contaminating touch of the people.

But the new cape will scarcely be appropriated by everyone, for it is far too dainty and expensive a thing. I saw it all in brown, the cape proper, made of a soft, fawny brown cloth, falling very slightly full, just below the hips. At the neck there was a very high collar of brown velvet, several shades deeper than the cloth, which lengthened itself into a small collarette, plaited over the shoulders. Around the high collar was a broad band of fine jet, and from the jet band, all around, fell loose pendants of jet, quite long, reaching half way down the cape, and finishing, in narrow points and jet fringes. It looked very pretty.

If you have not yet trimmed your Lenten hat, by all means purchase some palm of rich, dark green—not the genuine, unless you wish to replace it daily—and weave it in and around your ribbons, plumes or aigrettes. It looks very well, indeed, and you may put it on to suit yourself. Some new hats are out that have small, flat crowns and perfectly flat brims. The crowns are always covered with velvet, which adds richness to the effect. With all the ready-made ornaments, fancy straw edges, jeweled pins, aigrettes and plumes just ready to tack on with a few stitches, ribbon bows made with just the necessary piquant air about them, fancy crowns and all the rest, almost anyone can trim a hat like a genuine milliner. In fact, the milliner has been at it before us, getting things into shape, and all we actually do is to bring the different elements into a harmonious whole. All we need is some slight taste in selecting the shades and deciding upon the dozen or more different objects which shall adorn the hat.

Have you a quantity of rare old lace that you wish to make use of? If you have enough of it, by all means make a lace gown, or partly-lace gown. Make the skirt of three flounces of it, around the front very scant, and with plain silk or satin material at the back. The bodice may be plain, of the material of the back, with simply a lace yoke, and folds of lace in front, beneath the yoke, caught beneath a pretty belt, high and pointed at the back, but in the front fulled and crossing, fastening at one

THE SNOWSHOE DRILL.

Introduced Into the German Army by Emperor William.

The drilling of light infantry corps on snowshoes is a long-established practice in the wintry countries of northern Europe, particularly in Norway, where ski-running is the national sport. In Holland, soldiers regularly maneuver on skates, on the frozen rivers and canals. In Germany, this Arctic equipment is a recent innovation; but, the emperor having taken the fad, certain infantry regiments in Hanover and Brunswick are at present doing some energetic military snowshoeing, as shown in the picture which we reproduce from the Paris illustration. The German snowshoe, or snowskate, is a modification of the Norwegian ski, consisting of a strip of polished wood somewhat wider than the foot, and about four feet long, the front end curved upward, pointed and tipped with iron. The suboffícers are trained in showshoe practice in a special platoon, after which they take charge of squads from the rank and file.

ESTABLISHED MAY 10, 1887. PLAINFIELD, N. J., THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1893. PRICE TWO CENTS.

A Card to the Public.

By an arrangement this day perfected with the Manufacturers' Book Co., of Philadelphia, the United Tea and Coffee Growers' Association have secured for Plainfield and vicinity the exclusive continuous control of the premiums and punch card system of these leaders in the cash premium business. Now that it is certain that the World's Fair will continue throughout 1894, by beginning now a large per cent. of our customers will be practically sure of getting a FREE TICKET to the Fair, in addition to the regular premium of a magnificent volume of some standard author which accompanies every $30 worth of goods purchased from us. The importance of this extraordinary opportunity is obvious.

OUR ENVOY TO HAWAII

Congressman Blount Now on His Way There.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT

The New Names Presented Surprise Even the Democrats—Several Postmasters Receive Commissions—The Day in the Senate—More Gold Comes In—Navy News.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Mr. Blount is now on his way to Hawaii. He is accompanied by Ellis Mills, a confidential stenographer of the State Department. Mr. Blount constitutes the entire commission, and no other member will be appointed.

At first it was thought that three commissioners would be appointed, but the Cabinet decided to send only one representative, and that a special envoy instead of a commission would serve the purpose better than a commission.

In sending but one commissioner the government is following the plan of the first Cleveland administration in the Cutting affair in Mexico, when Secretary Bayard sent Mr. Sedgwick there to make an investigation.

Mr. Blount will remain at Honolulu and make his report from there. He will remain in the islands until the President recalls him, and on his report depends the future action of the President and the Cabinet.

It will take him until April 1 to reach Honolulu, and he will at once begin a thorough investigation of the subject. He is expected to make short reports by each steamer, and a final one in time for the President to act when Congress meets again in December.

Thus all negotiations are now at an end until Mr. Blount can report, and the treaty will not go back to the Senate at its present extra session.

MORE NOMINATIONS.

E. B. Whitney to be Assistant Attorney-General—McAdoo for the Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Even the Democrats were surprised when the President sent a batch of nominations to the Senate. Those that evoked the most astonishment were:

NAVY: Wm. McAdoo, of New Jersey, to be assistant secretary of the navy.

Passed Assistant Engineer Chas W. Rae to be a chief engineer. Assistant Engineer Wm. H. Allderdice to be a passed assistant engineer.

JUSTICE: Edward B. Whitney, of New York, to be assistant attorney-general, vice Abraham X. Parker resigned.

Postmasters—Robert B. Brown at Meadville, Pa.; Dale J. Crittenberger at Anderson, Ind.; Stephen Smith at Tama, Ia.; Charles H. Long at Tipton, Ia.; Joseph F. Swindlehurst at Livingston, Mont.

Proceedings in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Upon the motion of Mr. Gorman, without doing any business, the Senate, at 12:10, went into executive session. The committee not having been recognized, no business could be transacted, and while still in executive session the Senate took a recess until 3:00 to enable the Republican caucus to finish its work. This had the effect of keeping the galleries and lobbies cleared.

Massachusetts for Annexation.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Vice-President Stevenson laid before the Senate the following resolution of the Massachusetts Legislature: Resolved, That it is the sense of this general court that it is expedient that the Hawaiian Islands should be annexed to the United States and that the interests of the United States commercially and strategetically will be promoted thereby.

Company G Gets the Trophy.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The results of rifle, carbine and revolver firing of the army for the target year 1892 received by the Adjutant General, shows that Company G, Seventh Infantry, stationed at Pilot Butte, Wyoming, made the highest "general figure of merit." This company will be awarded the Nevada trophy to be held until the result of next year's firing is announced.

The Gain in Gold Continues.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The demand for small notes in exchange for gold, which started in the West has spread to the East and South and to-day propositions were received at the Treasury Department, from New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The gain in gold to-day by the Treasury is upwards of $200,000.

Appointed By Secretary Smith.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Hoke Smith has appointed M. Cooper Pope, of Washington, Ga., chief of the division of lands and railroads, Secretary's office, Interior Department, vice F. A. Weaver, of Pennsylvania, resigned.

Where Part of Our Navy Is.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Admiral Harmany reports the following location of ships of the Asiatic squadron: Alert at Swatow, Monocacy at Shanghai, Marion at Sagon, Petrel at Nagasaki, and Lancaster at Hong Hong.

The Princeton-Yale Debate.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 16.—The debate between representatives of Yale and Princeton took place last night in old Nassau. The debaters were Donald McCall, '94; J. F. Ewing, '93; McCready Sykes, '94, for Princeton, and J. I. Chamberlain, '95; W. D. Leeper, law school, and W. E. Thomas, '93, for Yale. The question debated was, "Resolved, that the peaceful annexation would be beneficial to the United States."

CAPRIVI FIRM.

Wont Compromise on the Army Bill and the Reichstag May Dissolve.

BERLIN, March 16.—After a series of conferences with Chancellor von Caprivi, Herr von Bennigsen has offered for the National Liberal party to agree to an increase of the annual number of recruits by 48,000 men above the former offer of the National Liberals and was stated by Herr von Bennigsen as the ultimatum of his party. Chancellor von Caprivi declined it.

The Chancellor still holds out for the full increase of 60,000 men provided for in the Army bill. His attitude toward Herr von Bennigsen's proposals is believed to seal the fate of the Army bill in the committee. It is generally believed that the measure will be defeated at the second reading in the committee.

Discussion of the probability of the dissolution of the Reichstag is becoming general and in some quarters the conviction exists that a Cabinet crisis is at hand. Everything points, however, to Chancellor von Caprivi's retention of his post.

FARMERS CREMATED.

Seven Overwhelmed by a Fierce Prairie Fire in Kansas.

SALINA, Kan., March 16.—Prairie fires have been raging in Western Kansas for the past two days. Seven persons were caught between two fires and perished in Russell county. The men were all farmers and were out feeding their stock.

The prairie fire had been approaching in the distance and the unfortunates had made for an open space where they hoped they might be able to fight off the torrent of fire. Quickly getting to work they cleared off the ground for several yards around them and as best they could dug a trench around the space.

Their efforts, however, were futile, for as the fire approached the wind arose and, changing just as it reached their frail cordon, whirled in one awful torrent and burned the victims' lives out before they had hardly realized their danger.

CHOKED A GIRL TO DEATH.

A Russian Fanatic Thought He Could Raise the Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—A fanatic has been arrested in Latrig, Government of Saratoff, for having murdered a 14-year-old girl. He had been preaching before a roomfull of people in a private house concerning his power to raise the dead.

At the end of the sermon he strangled the girl with her parents' consent, in order that he might demonstrate his pretended ability to bring her back to life.

After prayers and exhortations had continued for two hours the parents of the girl became convinced that he was an impostor and complained to the authorities who locked him up.

ROMANCE OF A FOUNDLING.

Offspring of an Heiress Who Hopes Some Day to Claim the Child.

BALTIMORE, March 16.—Two weeks ago Mrs. Julia Nye found a babe on her door step. Yesterday she received a letter asking her to take good care of it, as it was the offspring of a clandestine marriage.

Both father and mother are under age and are attending educational institutions here.

In the case of the mother there is a fortune at stake, which is now held in trust, and which would be forfeited if her marriage should become known.

The finder of the baby is told she will be repaid for her trouble.

SANDBAGGED IN NEW YORK.

A Vermont Man Fatally Injured and Robbed in the Metropolis.

RUTLAND, Vt., March 16.—Frank E. Briggs, a leading business man, died in Brandon yesterday from the effects of a sandbagging he received in New York while on his way home from Washington last week.

He was robbed of $1,000 in money and jewelry. He was never able to tell the details of the crime.

His brother is a lawyer, and intends to sift the matter as far as possible.

Report of the Baltimore & Ohio Road.

BALTIMORE, March 16.—The report of the Baltimore & Ohio for eight months of the fiscal year 1892-93 compared with the same months of 1891-92, February, 1893 approximated, shows: Earnings for 1892, $17,570,311, and for 1893, $17,431,656 decrease $138,655. The expenses in 1892 were $12,829,641, and for 1893, $12,747,615, increase $417,974.

New England Road Property Attached.

HARTFORD, March 16.—What is considered here to be a movement looking forward to placing the New York & New England railroad in the hands of a receiver, was made yesterday afternoon when the sheriff went to East Hartford and attached the property of the company at the car shops and yards. The attachment is for $100,000 and is made by a coal firm.

Decision Against Single Tax Men.

BALTIMORE, March 16.—The anti-single-tax upon land alone for the support of the government of this State, or any part of it, or the government of any county or municipality is not in accordance with the provisions of our present constitution, and cannot, therefore, be enforced.

Death from Typhus at Peekskill.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., March 16.—James Armitage, an Englishman, 58 years old, whom Dr. Dillingham, of the New York Board of Health, yesterday examined and said had typhus, died in the Helping Hand hospital, where he has been for 11 days.

CORPSES IN BARRELS

The Ghastly Discovery of a Freight Handler

AN INVESTIGATION BEING MADE.

The Freight Came to a Louisville Station Marked as Household Goods—A Barrel Head Came Off While They Were Being Moved and the Contents Were Disclosed—The Others Being Opened Seven More Bodies Were Found Some of Which Were Mangled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 16.—The greatest sensation this city has had for a long time is the finding of eight human bodies placed in four barrels by a freight handler of the Newport News & Mississippi Valley freight station yesterday. Five of the bodies were the remains of men and the other three of women.

Whether there is any criminality attached to the matter or whether the bodies were intended for dissection by medical students is not known.

Yesterday a young man appeared at the depot and stated that he desired to ship a quantity of household goods to Big Clifey, Ky. He gave his name as W. T. Owens, and from his appearance the clerk took him to be a professional man. He returned two hours later with an express wagon containing the goods he had spoken of on his first visit. Among them were four ordinary barrels.

That was the last seen of the man, though nothing more was thought of the matter until the horrible contents of the barrel were discovered.

One of the freight handlers began moving the barrels and had moved two of them before he discovered what he had been handling.

The third barrel was placed upon a truck, and while it was being rolled across the floor one of the pieces of the head of the barrel broke out.

This loosened the entire head and when the men attempted to up-end the barrel it broke and the head, shoulders and arms of a human body rolled half way out of the barrel.

On the arrival of the officers an examination of the other barrels was made and all were found to contain human bodies. Some of these bodies had been cut in pieces and the bones protruded through the flesh. This made the officers believe the barrels had been packed in the dead room of some medical college for the purpose of dissection.

It has been suggested that the stranger is a dealer in that kind of ghoulish goods and being unable to dispose of the bodies, he intended to ship them where he could hold them without fear of detection.

Detectives have been put on the case, and startling developments are looked for.

FOR A LONG RELAY RACE.

Runners to Bear a Message from New Haven to New York.

NEW HAVEN, March 16.—Director Thompson, of the Young Men's Christian Association, of this city, has completed arrangements for the longest relay race ever run in this country.

It will take place on Decoration Day, and it is planned to carry a message from this city by foot to New York over the best carriage road.

The Norwalk, Bridgeport, Ansonia, Stamford, Harlem and Twenty-third street branches will furnish four runners each.

Each runner will cover the same number of miles. Bicycles will go over the course with the runners and act as pacemakers and timekeepers. The men who are to participate have begun training.

Leechburg Robbery Trials begun.

PITTSBURG Pa., March 16.—The trials of Ryan, Sprague, Kreemer and Dr. Wyckoff for the attempted robbery of the Leechburg bank and the killing of Councilman Wm. Schaefer on Feb 14 have been begun at Kittanning. The trials promise to be sensational on account of the prominence of Dr. Wyckoff, who has hitherto borne a good reputation. It is alleged that the plot to rob the bank was concocted in his house, and that he was the leading spirit in the movement.

For Woman Suffrage in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, March 16.—The floor of the Senate Chamber was crowded with representative women yesterday afternoon when the Woman Suffrage bill came up for discussion in Committee of the Whole. A substitute giving women the right to vote for municipal and county officials was lost, and the original bill, which eliminates from the State constitution the word male as a suffrage qualification, was recommended for passage by a vote of 3 to 2.

Ann Arbor Strike Nearly Settled.

TOLEDO, O., March 16.—Negotiations are still going on between the officials of the Ann Arbor road and the Brotherhood officials. It is announced that an agreement will soon be reached. The only statement that can be obtained is that both sides are making concessions. Trains on the Ann Arbor road are delayed by washouts but not in consequence of the strike, and the connecting roads are all exchanging freights with it.

Cotton Mills Fired by Lightning.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., March 16.—During a terrific thunderstorm this morning lightning set fire to 110 bales of opened cotton in the Social mills. Much of the cotton was rendered useless and the loss will be several thousand dollars.

Insurance Rate for the Naronic.

LONDON, March 16.—Underwriters are asking 80 guineas per cent. insurance on the White Star steamship Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool on February 11 for New York, and has not since been heard from.

PENSION FRAUD CASE.

A New York Woman Said to Have Cheated the Government.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., March 16.—Mrs. Nancy Walrath of Charleston, Montgomery county, has been held for trial in the United States Court, at Utica, next week, on the charge of making a false claim for a pension.

She has been receiving a pension of $12 a month since 1891, as the mother of James Walrath of Company E, 153d New York regiment. Recently the Pension Department discovered that the father of James Walrath had received the pension for loss of his son. Mrs. Walrath made application in 1885 for a pension for loss of her son James, but the claim was disallowed, as the son had deserted from Company I, 111th New York volunteers.

At the hearing before United States Commissioner Moore, Mrs. Walrath's counsel claimed that his client's last application was made through ignorance. Mrs. Walrath has never heard from her son since he enlisted.

NEWS FROM CHINA.

Many Lives Lost by Avalanche, Fire and Disease—Steamer Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer City of Rio De Janeiro has arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama bringing the following advices:

Thirty-four lives were lost by an avalanche of snow at Hida, Japan, Feb. 13.

Fire destroyed 200 houses, injuring three firemen at Yawatachow, Japan, Feb. 14.

A large consignment of exhibits from Johore for Chicago has been shipped on the steamship Benlomond at Singapore.

Smallpox continues to spread in the Straits settlement. There are no less than 300 cases of the pest in the English and American settlements alone.

The Nova Scotia ship Cheshire was destroyed by fire at Samarang, China, Feb. 20. The sailors who had deserted and who had been brought back by the police, are supposed to have set the vessel on fire.

PRESIDENT M'LEOD ISSUES AN ORDER

He Appoints the General Traffic Manager of the New York & New England.

BOSTON, March 16.—President McLeod, of the New York & New England railroad company has issued the following general order:

"Mr. George E. Randolph is hereby appointed general traffic manager of the New York & New England railroad, to take effect at once.

"All other officers, agents end employes of the company will continue to serve in their present conditions until otherwise ordered."

CARRIES A HEAVY MAIL.

The Australia Sails for Honolulu—Rush Ready to Go.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer Australia sailed yesterday afterno on for Honolulu. She carried quite a large number of passengers and an unusually heavy mail. The Hawaiians will receive news of the withdrawal of the treaty of annexation by the Australia.

The revenue cutter Richard Rush is still lying in the stream awaiting orders. It is the general belief that she will carry the government investigation commissioner to Honolulu.

The Railroad Company Exonerated.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—An official inquiry made by the coroner into the collision between the Washington express and a West Chester local train on the Pennsylvania railroad near South street station on Feb. 22, by which five persons lost their lives, has resulted in the jury finding a verdict that "the collision was an unavoidable accident, caused by the slippery condition of the tracks, owing to the snow, sleet and rain."

Crows Were Eating the Body.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., March 16.—The body of Stephen Brush, an old colored man, who disappeared from his home in Huntington several weeks ago, has been found hanging to a tree near this village. Brush had evidently committed suicide. Crows had eaten most of the flesh from his bones, and it was the great number of the birds flying about the tree that led to the discovery of the body.

Chinamen Registering.

BOSTON, March 16.—About 80 Chinamen have visited the Federal building to register under the Exclusion act. May 5 is the date set for the close of registration, and after that date any Chinaman in this country having failed to register may be seized and sent to China. About 150 Chinamen living in Boston have intimated that they intend registering within the prescribed period.

Fighting Cholera in Italy.

ROME, March 16.—The mother-in-law of the workingman recently stricken with cholera in Entragus, Piedmont, died of cholera yesterday. Rigorous measures for the disinfection of the town have been adopted, and the frontier guards have been instructed to examine closely all persons coming over the border.

For Plurality Elections in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 16.—A resolution providing for a constitutional amendment fixing plurality elections in the State and also city, town and ward contests, was passed by the Senate yesterday by a vote of 29 to 2. The House received the resolution and referred it the committee on special legislation.

For Analyzing Patent Medicines.

ALBANY, March 16.—The Assembly Committee on Public Health will give a hearing next Wednesday on Mr. Diven's bill forbidding the sale and manufacture of cigarettees, and on Mr. Southworth's bill requiring the State Board of Health to analyze and report on so-called patent medicines.

The Cozens Suicide Mystery.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The efforts to discover where the suicide, Alice Cozens, spent the seven hours between the time of her leaving home and her appearance at the Coleman House, where she took her life, have been unsuccessful so far.

Daly Wants a Shield Again.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Ex-Roundsman Matthew F. Daly, who was mixed up in the Mamie Hannan case, has secured a writ of certiorari from the Supreme Court to review the action of the police board in dismissing him.

Victory for Anti-Race Track People.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 16.—The revised count shows that the victory of the anti-race track people of Linden is greater than at first reported. They polled 268 votes, against 177 by the race track men.

BLACKMAILED A DOCTOR

A Columbus Woman Caught at a Despicable Trick.

SOCIETY SHOCKED AT THE NEWS.

Mrs. Alice G. Patton Finally Arrested After a Government Detective Had Given Up the Case—Wrote Letters to Both the Victim and His Friends, Which Are too Indecent to Publish—How She Was Found Out and the Evidence Against Her.

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Most outrageous attempts to blacken the reputation of Dr. J. W. Means, one of the leading physicians of this city, have been made from time to time for several months past, and the guilty party has, without doubt, just been arrested. The affair is the most sensational that has stirred the higher social circles of Columbus for some time.

The plan pursued to ruin the physician's reputation has been a systematical one. At frequent intervals letters have been sent to his wife charging the doctor with having assaulted the writer, and demanding money. Besides this letters alleging the vilest crimes on the part of the doctor have been sent to other physicians and to the leading society people of the city. These missives would invariably be sent just before some social gathering which the physician and his wife would probably attend.

The letters all passed into the hands of the physician's attorneys, Rankin, Thrailkill & Ricketts, and formed the basis of the patient work which has unearthed the criminal.

The accused was taken before Justice Parsons, where she gave bail in the sum of $500 to appear next Tuesday. Her security was Dr. Charles F. O'Reil, a prominent physician, whom she called her uncle. She is about 40 years old, and claims to be a niece of Col. A. G. Patton, the penitentiary contractor, and also claims relationship with the late James G. Blaine.

The latter claim assisted in her detection. The attorneys for Dr. Means had letters written to her saying that a history of Mr. Blaine was being written and asking for any facts she had in regard to him. Stamps were enclosed for a reply.

The letter received in response to this was compared with the blackmailing letters and the handwriting was found to be similar. In addition to this a pretended canvasser for a city directory visited Mrs. Patton. The canvasser had no ink in his new fountain pen and she politely filled it up for him. This ink being analyzed was found identical with that used in the letters sent Mrs. Means. There appears to be no missing link in the chain of evidence formed by the attorneys.

Dr. Means was Mrs. Patton's physician when she lived in the doctor's neighborhood. It is said that she, during one of his professional visits, locked the door and demanded money of him, but did not obtain any.

Shortly after the Pattons moved to their present residence and the doctor was again called. Not knowing who it was who wished to see him, he went, and was again met by Mrs Patton with a second demand for cash. Another woman was present and urged the doctor to accept the proposition made.

The doctor refused and then the campaign of anonymous letters began and continued. These epistles are too foul, both in language and the pen pictures used, to be published. The fact that such communications have been persistently sent to Mrs. Means and other well known people of the highest character makes the affair one of the most villainous kind.

The sending of these letters began shortly before Thanksgiving and immediately a government detective was called into the case and worked several weeks but gave it up after becoming satisfied that the guilty parties were on to him and would send no more letters while he was engaged on the case.

Assigns on Account of the Fire.

BOSTON, March 16.—The Redpath Bros., manufacturing company, boots and shoes, who were burned out in Friday's big fire are financially crippled and will assign. Mr. L. H. Redpath, one of the partners, lost his life in the fire. The firm's loss all their books and accounts and their insurance was much less than the merchandise loss. The liabilities are said to be $100,000. The firm has factories in South Braintree and Lynn.

A Boon for Michigan's University.

LANSING, Mich., March 16.—In the Michigan Legislature yesterday a bill was passed providing for an annual appropriation for the support of the State University at Ann Arbor of one-sixth of a mill upon every dollars worth of taxable property in the State. The bill will raise annually a fund of about $200,000. The Senate has already passed the bill.

Seriously Injured by an Electric Car.

PATERSON, N. J., March 16.—Mrs. Patrick Shea, wife of a hotel proprietor of this place, was knocked down by an electric car during the evening and badly injured. Both of her legs will have to be amputated. The injured woman and her husband came from Scranton, Pa., about five years ago. Mrs. Shea was removed to St. Joseph Hospital.

To Increase Stock to $150,000,000.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The directors of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad have decided to increase the capital stock of that company from $89,428,000 to $100,000,000. The increase is said to have been ordered for the purpose of paying about $11,000,000 for the recently purchased New York & Northern.

A Dishonest Letter Carrier.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Edward J. Giles, a letter carrier charged with stealing money from a letter, pleaded guilty before Judge Benedict in the United States Criminal Court yesterday, and was sentenced to 18 months in the Erie Penitentiary.

Green Goods Man Indicted.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 16.—The grand jury has indicted Appo, the green goods man, under the Green Goods act, and Cassie and Hogsbeid, the North Carolina men, for assault in the first degree in shooting Appo.

Another Body Found.

BOSTON, March 16.—The body of Lewis T. Cotton, who was last seen on the roof of the Endlow building in Friday's big fire, was found in the ruins.

OUR ENVOY TO HAWAII

Congressman Blount Now on His Way There.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT

The New Names Presented Surprise Even the Democrats—Several Postmasters Receive Commissions—The Day in the Senate—More Gold Comes In—Navy News.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Mr. Blount is now on his way to Hawaii. He is accompanied by Ellis Mills, a confidential stenographer of the State Department. Mr. Blount constitutes the entire commission, and no other member will be appointed.

At first it was thought that three commissioners would be appointed, but the Cabinet decided to send only one representative, and that a special envoy instead of a commission would serve the purpose better than a commission.

In sending but one commissioner the government is following the plan of the first Cleveland administration in the Cutting affair in Mexico, when Secretary Bayard sent Mr. Sedgwick there to make an investigation.

Mr. Blount will remain at Honolulu and make his report from there. He will remain in the islands until the President recalls him, and on his report depends the future action of the President and the Cabinet.

It will take him until April 1 to reach Honolulu, and he will at once begin a thorough investigation of the subject. He is expected to make short reports by each steamer, and a final one in time for the President to act when Congress meets again in December.

Thus all negotiations are now at an end until Mr. Blount can report, and the treaty will not go back to the Senate at its present extra session.

MORE NOMINATIONS.

E. B. Whitney to be Assistant Attorney-General—McAdoo for the Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Even the Democrats were surprised when the President sent a batch of nominations to the Senate. Those that evoked the most astonishment were:

Navy: Wm. McAdoo, of New Jersey, to be assistant secretary of the navy.

Passed Assistant Engineer Chas W. Rae to be a chief engineer. Assistant Engineer Wm. H. Allderdice to be a passed assistant engineer.

Justice: Edward B. Whitney, of New York, to be assistant attorney-general, vice Abraham X. Parker resigned.

Postmasters—Robert B. Brown at Meadville, Pa.; Dale J. Crittenberger at Anderson, Ind.; Stephen Smith at Tama, Ia.; Charles H. Long at Tipton, Ia.; Joseph F. Swindlehurst at Livingston, Mont.

Proceedings in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Upon the motion of Mr. Gorman, without doing any business, the Senate, at 12:10, went into executive session. The committee not having been recognized, no business could be transacted, and while still in executive session the Senate took a recess until 3:00 to enable the Republican caucus to finish its work. This had the effect of keeping the galleries and lobbies cleared.

Massachusetts for Annexation.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Vice-President Stevenson laid before the Senate the following resolution of the Massachusetts Legislature: Resolved, That it is the sense of this general court that it is expedient that the Hawaiian Islands should be annexed to the United States and that the interests of the United States commercially and strategetically will be promoted thereby.

Company G Gets the Trophy.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The results of rifle, carbine and revolver firing of the army for the target year 1892 received by the Adjutant General, shows that Company G, Seventh Infantry, stationed at Pilot Butte, Wyoming, made the highest "general figure of merit." This company will be awarded the Nevada trophy to be held until the result of next year's firing is announced.

The Gain in Gold Continues.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The demand for small notes in exchange for gold, which started in the West has spread to the East and South and to-day propositions were received at the Treasury Department, from New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburg. The gain in gold to-day by the Treasury is upwards of $200,000.

Appointed By Secretary Smith.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Hoke Smith has appointed M. Cooper Pope, of Washington, Ga., chief of the division of lands and railroads, Secretary's office, Interior Department, vice F. A. Weaver, of Pennsylvania, resigned.

Where Part of Our Navy Is.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Admiral Harmany reports the following location of ships of the Asiatic squadron: Alert at Swatow, Monocacy at Shanghai, Marion at Sagon, Petrel at Nagasaki, and Lancaster at Hong Hong.

The Princeton-Yale Debate.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 16.—The debate between representatives of Yale and Princeton took place last night in old Nassau. The debaters were Donald McCall, '94; J. F. Ewing, '93; McCready Sykes, '94, for Princeton, and J. I. Chamberlain, '95; W. D. Lesper, law school, and W. E. Thomas, '95, for Yale. The question debated was, "Resolved, that the peaceful annexation would be beneficial to the United States."

CAPRIVI FIRM.

Wont Compromise on the Army Bill and the Reichstag May Dissolve.

BERLIN, March 16.—After a series of conferences with Chancellor von Caprivi, Herr von Bennigsen has offered for the National Liberal party to agree to an increase of the annual number of recruits by 48,000 men above the former offer of the National Liberals and was stated by Herr von Bennigsen as the ultimatum of his party. Chancellor von Caprivi declined it.

The Chancellor still holds out for the full increase of 60,000 men provided for in the Army bill. His attitude toward Herr von Bennigsen's proposals is believed to seal the fate of the Army bill in the committee. It is generally believed that the measure will be defeated at the second reading in the committee.

Discussion of the probability of the dissolution of the Reichstag is becoming general and in some quarters the conviction exists that a Cabinet crisis is at hand. Everything points, however, to Chancellor von Caprivi's retention of his post.

FARMERS CREMATED.

Seven Overwhelmed by a Fierce Prairie Fire in Kansas.

SALINA, Kan., March 16.—Prairie fires have been raging in Western Kansas for the past two days. Seven persons were caught between two fires and perished in Russell county. The men were all farmers and were out feeding their stock.

The prairie fire had been approaching in the distance and the unfortunates had made for an open space where they hoped they might be able to fight off the torrent of fire. Quickly getting to work they cleared off the ground for several yards around them and as best they could dug a trench around the space.

Their efforts, however, were futile, for as the fire approached the wind arose and, changing just as it reached their frail cordon, whirled in one awful torrent and burned the victims' lives out before they had hardly realized their danger.

CHOKED A GIRL TO DEATH.

A Russian Fanatic Thought He Could Raise the Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—A fanatic has been arrested in Latvrig, Government of Saratoff, for having murdered a 14-year-old girl. He had been preaching before a roomfull of people in a private house concerning his power to raise the dead.

At the end of the sermon he strangled the girl with her parents' consent, in order that he might demonstrate his pretended ability to bring her back to life.

After prayers and exhortations had continued for two hours the parents of the girl became convinced that he was an impostor and complained to the authorities who locked him up.

ROMANCE OF A FOUNDLING.

Offspring of an Heiress Who Hopes Some Day to Claim the Child.

BALTIMORE, March 16.—Two weeks ago Mrs. Julia Nye found a babe on her door step. Yesterday she received a letter asking her to take good care of it, as it was the offspring of a clandestine marriage.

Both father and mother are under age and are attending educational institutions here.

In the case of the mother there is a fortune at stake, which is now held in trust, and which would be forfeited if her marriage should become known.

The finder of the baby is told she will be repaid for her trouble.

SANDBAGGED IN NEW YORK.

A Vermont Man Fatally Injured and Robbed in the Metropolis.

RUTLAND, Vt., March 16.—Frank E. Briggs, a leading business man, died in Brandon yesterday from the effects of a sandbagging he received in New York while on his way home from Washington last week.

He was robbed of $1,000 in money and jewelry. He was never able to tell the details of the crime.

His brother is a lawyer, and intends to sift the matter as far as possible.

Report of the Baltimore & Ohio Road.

BALTIMORE, March 16.—The report of the Baltimore & Ohio for eight months of the fiscal year 1892-93 compared with the same months of 1891-92, February, 1893 approximated, shows: Earnings for 1892, $17,370,311, and for 1893, $17,481,656 decrease $138,655. The expenses in 1892 were $12,629,641, and for 1893, $13,747,615, increase $417,974.

New England Road Property Attached.

HARTFORD, March 16.—What is considered here to be a movement looking forward to placing the New York & New England railroad in the hands of a receiver, was made yesterday afternoon when the sheriff went to East Hartford and attached the property of the company at the car shops and yards. The attachment is for $100,000 and is made by a coal firm.

Decision Against Single Tax Men.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., March 16.—James Armitage, an Englishman, 58 years old, whom Dr. Dillingham, of the New York Board of Health, yesterday examined and said had typhus, died in the Helping Hand hospital, where he has been for 11 days.

CORPSES IN BARRELS

The Ghastly Discovery of a Freight Handler

AN INVESTIGATION BEING MADE.

The Freight Came to a Louisville Station Marked as Household Goods—A Barrel Head Came Off While They Were Being Moved and the Contents Were Disclosed—The Others Being Opened Seven More Bodies Were Found Some of Which Were Mangled.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 16.—The greatest sensation this city has had for a long time is the finding of eight human bodies placed in four barrels by a freight handler of the Newport News & Mississippi Valley freight station yesterday. Five of the bodies were the remains of men and the other three of women.

Whether there is any criminality attached to the matter or whether the bodies were intended for dissection by medical students is not known.

Yesterday a young man appeared at the depot and stated that he desired to ship a quantity of household goods to Big Clifey, Ky. He gave his name as W. T. Owens, and from his appearance the clerk took him to be a professional man. He returned two hours later with an express wagon containing the goods he had spoken of on his first visit. Among them were four ordinary barrels.

That was the last seen of the man, though nothing more was thought of the matter until the horrible contents of the barrel were discovered.

One of the freight handlers began moving the barrels and had moved two of them before he discovered what he had been handling.

The third barrel was placed upon a truck, and while it was being rolled across the floor one of the pieces of the head of the barrel broke out.

This loosened the entire head and when the men attempted to up-end the barrel it broke and the head, shoulders and arms of a human body rolled half way out of the barrel.

On the arrival of the officers an examination of the other barrels was made and all were found to contain human bodies. Some of these bodies had been cut in pieces and the bones protruded through the flesh. This made the officers believe the barrels had been packed in the dead room of some medical college for the purpose of dissection.

It has been suggested that the stranger is a dealer in that kind of ghoulish goods and being unable to dispose of the bodies, he intended to ship them where he could hold them without fear of detection.

Detectives have been put on the case, and startling developments are looked for.

FOR A LONG RELAY RACE.

Runners to Bear a Message from New Haven to New York.

NEW HAVEN, March 16.—Director Thompson, of the Young Men's Christian Association, of this city, has completed arrangements for the longest relay race ever run in this country.

It will take place on Decoration Day, and it is planned to carry a message from this city by foot to New York over the best carriage road.

The Norwalk, Bridgeport, Ansonia, Stamford, Harlem and Twenty-third street branches will furnish four runners each.

Each runner will cover the same number of miles. Bicycles will go over the course with the runners and act as pacemakers and timekeepers. The men who are to participate have begun training.

Leechburg Robbery Trials begun.

PITTSBURG Pa., March 16.—The trials of Ryan, Sprague, Kreemer and Dr. Wyckoff for the attempted robbery of the Leechburg bank and the killing of Councilman Wm. Schaefer on Feb 14 have been begun at Kittanning. The trials promise to be sensational on account of the prominence of Dr. Wyckoff, who has hitherto borne a good reputation. It is alleged that the plot to rob the bank was concocted in his house, and that he was the leading spirit in the movement.

For Woman Suffrage in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, March 16.—The floor of the Senate Chamber was crowded with representative women yesterday afternoon when the Woman Suffrage bill came up for discussion in Committee of the Whole. A substitute giving women the right to vote for municipal and county officials was lost, and the original bill, which eliminates from the State constitution the word male as a suffrage qualification, was recommended for passage by a vote of 8 to 2.

Ann Arbor Strike Nearly Settled.

TOLEDO, O., March 16.—Negotiations are still going on between the officials of the Ann Arbor road and the Brotherhood officials. It is announced that an agreement will soon be reached. The only statement that can be obtained is that both sides are making concessions. Trains on the Ann Arbor road are delayed by washouts but not in consequence of the strike, and the connecting roads are all exchanging freight with it.

Cotton Mills Fired by Lightning.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., March 16.—During a terrific thunderstorm this morning lightning set fire to 110 bales of opened cotton in the Social mills. Much of the cotton was rendered useless and the loss will be several thousand dollars.

Insurance Rate for the Narouic.

LONDON, March 16.—Underwriters are asking 80 guineas per cent. insurance on the White Star steamship Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool on February 11 for New York, and has not since been heard from.

PENSION FRAUD CASE.

A New York Woman Said to Have Cheated the Government.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., March 16.—Mrs. Nancy Walrath of Charleston, Montgomery county, has been held for trial in the United States Court, at Utica, next week, on the charge of making a false claim for a pension.

She has been receiving a pension of $12 a month since 1891, as the mother of James Walrath of Company E, 153d New York regiment. Recently the Pension Department discovered that the father of James Walrath had received the pension for loss of his son. Mrs. Walrath made application in 1885 for a pension for loss of her son James, but the claim was disallowed, as the son had deserted from Company I, 111th New York volunteers.

At the hearing before United States Commissioner Moore, Mrs. Walrath's counsel claimed that his client's last application was made through ignorance. Mrs. Walrath has never heard from her son since he enlisted.

NEWS FROM CHINA.

Many Lives Lost by Avalanche, Fire and Disease—Steamer Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer City of Rio De Janeiro has arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama bringing the following advices:

Thirty-four lives were lost by an avalanche of snow at Hida, Japan, Feb. 15.

Fire destroyed 200 houses, injuring three firemen at Yawatachow, Japan, Feb. 14.

A large consignment of exhibits from Johore for Chicago has been shipped on the steamship Benlomond at Singapore.

Smallpox continues to spread in the Straits settlement. There are no less than 300 cases of the pest in the English and American settlements alone.

The Nova Scotia ship Cheshire was destroyed by fire at Samarang, China, Feb. 20. The sailors who had deserted and who had been brought back by the police, are supposed to have set the vessel on fire.

PRESIDENT M'LEOD ISSUES AN ORDER

He Appoints the General Traffic Manager of the New York & New England.

BOSTON, March 16.—President McLeod, of the New York & New England railroad company has issued the following general order:

"Mr. George E. Randolph is hereby appointed general traffic manager of the New York & New England railroad, to take effect at once.

"All other officers, agents and employes of the company will continue to serve in their present conditions until otherwise ordered."

CARRIES A HEAVY MAIL.

The Australia Sails for Honolulu—Rush Ready to Go.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—The steamer Australia sailed yesterday afternoon for Honolulu. She carried quite a large number of passengers and an unusually heavy mail. The Hawaiians will receive news of the witherawal of the treaty of annexation by the Australia.

The revenue cutter Richard Rush is still lying in the stream awaiting orders. It is the general belief that she will carry the government investigation commissioner to Honolulu.

The Railroad Company Exonerated.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—An official inquiry made by the coroner into the collision between the Washington express and a West Chester local train on the Pennsylvania railroad near South street station on Feb. 22, by which five persons lost their lives, has resulted in the jury finding a verdict that "the collision was an unavoidable accident, caused by the slippery condition of the tracks, owing to the snow, sleet and rain."

Crows Were Eating the Body.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., March 16.—The body of Stephen Brush, an old colored man, who disappeared from his home in Huntington several weeks ago, has been found hanging to a tree near this village. Brush had evidently committed suicide. Crows had eaten most of the flesh from his bones, and it was the great number of the birds flying about the tree that led to the discovery of the body.

Chinamen Registering.

BOSTON, March 16.—About 80 Chinamen have visited the Federal building to register under the Exclusion act. May 5 is the date set for the close of registration, and after that date any Chinaman in this country having failed to register may be seized and sent to China. About 150 Chinamen living in Boston have intimated that they intend registering within the prescribed period.

Fighting Cholera in Italy.

ROME, March 16.—The mother-in-law of the workingman recently stricken with cholera in Entragua, Piedmont, died of cholera yesterday. Rigorous measures for the disinfection of the town have been adopted, and the frontier guards have been instructed to examine closely all persons coming over the border.

For Plurality Elections in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 16.—A resolution providing for a constitutional amendment fixing plurality elections in the State and also city, town and ward contests, was passed by the Senate yesterday by a vote of 29 to 2. The House received the resolution and referred it the committee on special legislation.

For Analyzing Patent Medicines.

ALBANY, March 16.—The Assembly Committee on Public Health will give a hearing next Wednesday on Mr. Diven's bill forbidding the sale and manufacture of cigarettees, and on Mr. Southworth's bill requiring the State Board of Health to analyze and report on so-called patent medicines.

Victory for Anti-Race Track People.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 16.—The revised count shows that the victory of the anti-race track people of Linden is greater than at first reported. They polled 269 votes, against 177 by the race track men.

A Columbus Woman Caught at a Despicable Trick.

SOCIETY SHOCKED AT THE NEWS.

Mrs. Alice G. Patton Finally Arrested After a Government Detective Had Given Up the Case—Wrote Letters to Both the Victim and His Friends, Which Are too Indecent to Publish—How She Was Found Out and the Evidence Against Her.

COLUMBUS, O., March 16.—Most outrageous attempts to blacken the reputation of Dr. J. W. Means, one of the leading physicians of this city, have been made from time to time for several months past, and the guilty party has, without doubt, just been arrested. The affair is the most sensational that has stirred the higher social circles of Columbus for some time.

The plan pursued to ruin the physician's reputation has been a systematical one. At frequent intervals letters have been sent to his wife charging the doctor with having assaulted the writer, and demanding money. Besides this letters alleging the vilest crimes on the part of the doctor have been sent to other physicians and to the leading society people of the city. These missives would invariably be sent just before some social gathering which the physician and his wife would probably attend.

The letters all passed into the hands of the physician's attorneys, Rankin, Thrailkill & Ricketts, and formed the basis of the patient work which has unearthed the criminal.

The affair has culminated in the arrest of Mrs. Alice G. Patton by Constable Taylor and Detectives Kelly and Kramer upon a charge of blackmail.

The accused was taken before Justice Parsons, where she gave bail in the sum of $500 to appear next Tuesday. Her security was Dr. Charles F. O'Reil, a prominent physician, whom she called her uncle. She is about 40 years old, and claims to be a niece of Col. A. G. Patton, the penitentiary contractor, and also claims relationship with the late James G. Blaine.

The latter claim assisted in her detection. The attorney's for Dr. Means had letters written to her saying that a history of Mr. Blaine was being written and asking for any facts she had in regard to him. Stamps were enclosed for a reply.

The letter received in response to this was compared with the blackmailing letters and the handwriting was found to be similar. In addition to this a pretended canvasser for a city directory visited Mrs. Patton. The canvasser had no ink in his new fountain pen and she politely filled it up for him. This ink being analyzed was found identical with that used in the letters sent Mrs. Means. There appears to be no missing link in the chain of evidence formed by the attorneys.

Dr. Means was Mrs. Patton's physician when she lived in the doctor's neighborhood. It is said that she, during one of his professional visits, locked the door and demanded money of him, but did not obtain any.

Shortly after the Pattons moved to their present residence and the doctor was again called. Not knowing who it was who wished to see him, he went, and was again met by Mrs. Patton with a second demand for cash. Another woman was present and urged the doctor to accept the proposition made.

The doctor refused and then the campaign of anonymous letters began and continued. These epistles are too foul, both in language and the pen pictures used, to be published. The fact that such communications have been persistently sent to Mrs. Means and other well known people of the highest character makes the affair one of the most villainous kind.

The sending of these letters began shortly before Thanksgiving and immediately a government detective was called into the case and worked several weeks but gave it up after becoming satisfied that the guilty parties were on to him and would send no more letters while he was engaged on the case.

Assigns on Account of the Fire.

BOSTON, March 16.—The Redpath Bros., manufacturing company, boots and shoes, who were burned out in Friday's big fire are financially crippled and will assign. Mr. L. H. Redpath, one of the partners, lost his life in the fire. The firm lost all their books and accounts and their insurance was much less than the merchandise loss. The liabilities are said to be $100,000. The firm has factories in South Braintree and Lynn.

A Boon for Michigan's University.

LANSING, Mich., March 16.—In the Michigan Legislature yesterday a bill was passed providing for an annual appropriation for the support of the State University at Ann Arbor of one-sixth of a mill upon every dollars worth of taxable property in the State. The bill will raise annually a fund of about $200,000. The Senate has already passed the bill.

Seriously Injured by an Electric Car.

PATERSON, N. J., March 16.—Mrs. Patrick Shea, wife of a hotel proprietor of this place, was knocked down by an electric car during the evening and badly injured. Both of her legs will have to be amputated. The injured woman and her husband came from Scranton, Pa., about five years ago. Mrs. Shea was removed to St. Joseph Hospital.

To Increase Stock to $100,000,000.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The directors of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad have decided to increase the capital stock of that company from $89,428,000 to $100,000,000. The increase is said to have been ordered for the purpose of paying about $11,000,000 for the recently purchased New York & Northern.

A Dishonest Letter Carrier.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Edward J. Giles, a letter carrier charged with stealing money from a letter, pleaded guilty before Judge Benedict in the United States Criminal Court yesterday, and was sentenced to 18 months in the Erie Penitentiary.

Green Goods Man Indicted.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 16.—The grand jury has indicted Appo, the green-goods man, under the Green Goods act, and Cassle and Hogsbend, the North Carolina men, for assault in the first degree in shooting Appo.

Another Body Found.

BOSTON, March 16.—The body of Lewis T. Cotton, who was last seen on the roof of the Ludlow building in Friday's big fire, was found in the ruins.

—The Salvation Army will have a big time to-night, when the local officers of the corps will be commissioned. The meeting will be led by Adjt. Hunter, aided by Prof. Trumble, the noted cornet player. Everybody come, is the invitation.

—Chief of police Grant has been searching among Irving school boys for concealed weapons. He found one revolver, and the boy promised to stop carrying it. Another boy who carries a revolver hidden in a pocket under his armpit, escaped detection.

—Strange sounds are nightly heard in a West Front street flat by the inmates, and the superstitious claim the rooms are haunted. There are some of the sterner sex, however, who say that some one will get hurt one of these nights, if he keeps up his foolishness.

—The Somerville Messenger says of the new St. Joseph's Home in North Plainfield: "Men will not be permitted to visit the cottage under any pretence. Many Protestant women who are interested in charitable work have given furniture and other useful articles."

—The beautiful silver trophy, which is to be the prize of the champion team in the Elizabeth Journal bowling league when the series is ended, will probably be finished and ready for exhibition in Elizabeth early next week. It will be placed on view in Plainfield later, but neither of the Plainfield teams will win it.

—The High School lyceum will conduct a mock-trial to-morrow at 3 p. m., in Assembly Hall. Harry C. Runyon will preside as judge, Oscar O. Campbell will act as prosecuting attorney, and Charles B. Fernald will serve as counsel for the defense. All those interested in the lyceum and its work are invited to attend.

—Early Tuesday afternoon William Burnett, an electric lineman, fell from the roof of the boiler room of the Somerville woolen-mills and was severely injured. He had put his wrench on a steam pipe, and while pressing on it the wrench slipped, precipitating him to the ground, a distance of twenty feet. He landed on a pile of bricks and received injuries which, while not serious, are extremely painful.

—It is hoped that all citizens of Plainfield interested in the public schools, and especially teachers in public and private schools, will attend the lecture this evening on Manual Training and Kindergarten at All Souls' church. Mr. Ham's articles on this subject first appeared in Harper's Monthly Magazine ten years ago. They have since been published in book form. The book called "Manual Training" is in our public library, and will be sold at Estil's book store, Park avenue, and at the church this evening.

—Plainfield is soon to have another new and attractive building on West Front street. Andrew Love will on April 1, commence to tear down his present store building and begin the erection of a handsome three-story brick structure with stone trimmings, 30x80 feet in dimensions. The entire ground floor will be turned into a single store, and the two upper stories will be cut into offices or flats. Mr. Love, sr., will retire from active participation in trade, and his two sons will form a co-partnership and carry on the business in the Stephenson building on West Front street, where the stock will be placed as soon as the work of demolition begins.

Patties trying to introduce new cough remedies, should know that the people will have Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Maj. W. D. W. Miller will entertain the Hon. Charles H. Ham this evening.

The Rev. Dr. F. M. McAllister will preach in Grace church to-night at 8.

Mrs. Luckey of this city addressed the Methodist meeting in Westfield last night.

John Bicknell, one of J. P. Homan's employes, is ill at his home in Washington Valley.

James Conneely has returned from Steubenville, Ohio. He reports the condition of his mother as much improved.

Principal Merson of the High school is a thorough believer in manual training, and will speak in its favor at the Ham lecture to-night.

Mrs. Percy C. Ohl contemplates opening a riding academy in the rink building, Broadway. She has already secured a number of pupils, and as she is an expert horsewoman there is no doubt that she will make the academy a success.

A very pleasant progressive euchre party was given by Miss May Stelle, at her home, Madison avenue and Fourth street, yesterday afternoon, to a number of her friends. The fortunate winners of prizes were Miss Mills and Miss Gillem. Refreshments were tastefully served. Blue and white prevailed in the decorations.

Capt. Nichols of the White Star Line steamer "Germanic", which arrived in port on Saturday, was the guest of Captain and Mrs. Geo. H. Phillips during Monday and part of Tuesday. The captain firmly believes that the missing steamer "Naronic" is still afloat, probably disabled by an accident to her machinery.

Richard Garretson, several years ago agent at the North avenue station, has accepted an invitation of the Plainfield W. C. T. U. to lead the 4 o'clock meeting next Sunday. It is the sincere wish of Mr. Garretson that his old friends in Plainfield will come to the meeting and hear what he has to say to them regarding his former life and his new one.

J. E. Townsend, manager of Townsend's Marble and Granite Works, left town this morning for an extended trip among the marble and granite quarries of Massachusetts, Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, and Rhode Island, for the purpose of buying finished monuments and headstones. Plainfield people may expect to see something fine in that line in the near future at his yard, 30 Somerset street.

At Rest.

The body of Miss Dolly Vashti Ryder, late sister of Edward Ryder, of Central avenue, and daughter of ex-councilman S. C. Ryder, was brought from Jersey City, yesterday, for interment, which was made in the North Plainfield cemetery. The body reposed in a white casket, which was opened at the grave to permit the large gathering of friends to take a last look at her dear dead face. The Rev. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, officiated, and spoke tenderly of the departed spirit, and comfortingly to the bereaved ones. There was a profusion of floral offerings, including three large pieces. The body was laid to rest beside that of Miss Ryder's mother. The bearers were all young men from New York, friends of the deceased—Messrs. William Luke, Charles Luke, George Ryan, Paul Silliman, Jesse Hamilton and Oscar Hyde.

Plainfield the First Stop.

At Princeton the college gymnastic team which will appear at Music Hall, Tuesday next, in connection with the Princeton Mandolin club, under the auspices of the Plainfield Bicycle club, is practising steadily in the gymnasium every evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, and the men are making progress in the various lines of work. The team is composed of the following men: Beiderwolf, '92; Grant, Dear and Hughes, '93; McColl, Hendrickson and Kellerman, '95; Turner, Brown and Hall, '96. The trip this year will be more extensive that any heretofore taken, and quite a number of exhibitions will be given. The dates which have been arranged are: Plainfield, March 21; Philadelphia, March 24; Annapolis, March 29; Washington, March 30, and Baltimore, April 1.

In Honor of St. Patrick.

Division, No. 4, A. O. H., will fittingly celebrate St. Patrick's Day to-morrow evening in Saengerbund Hall, by their eighteenth annual sociable. The music will be by O'Reilly, and there are twenty-eight numbers on the order of dance, all fit for a queen to dance by, from the grand march in honor of the A. O. H. to "Thoughts of Home Rule" in honor of Gladstone. The event is sure to be a glowing success, as the following gentlemen will manage it:

Committee of Arrangements—P. Casey, J. F. Shehan, E. Ryan, M. Nugent, T. Burke, T. Fitzgerald.

Floor Committee—Joseph Galbraith, Thomas Strapp, Maurice Fitzgerald, Michael Regan.

Reception Committee—M. Nugent, Ed. Conners, Ed. Birmingham.

The Young Men Won Easily.

They Prove the Question by Insisting on This Notice.

Are the newspapers a benefit or not? The Epworth League of the M. E. church will debate this subject in Vincent chapel, to-morrow evening. All young people are cordially invited. Think over the subject and be prepared to say something, as each person will have an opportunity.

NO NEW TRIAL FOR HARRIS.

NEW YORK, March 16. — Recorder Smyth this afternoon refused to grant Carlyle Harris a new trial, and Harris's execution for the murder of his wife must now follow.

THE FEVER BREAKS.

Base-Ball Rooters Beginning to Howl for a Return to Old-Time Somerville-Plainfield Games.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will Somerville and Plainfield play ball together this year? As some old fellow has said in days gone by "That 's the question". Now meet it both ways. If they do—and there is no reason why they should not meet on equal terms—it means good games, big gate money, and a revival of the old time interest. If they do not, it is only a question of dragging through the season with uninteresting contests, small gate receipts and smaller attendances.

Now as to why the two towns shall not play together, you who are reading this will perhaps say: "Oh, do n't play with the West Ends, they never have played square ball and never can." Now just hold on, perhaps there are any quantities of good people in Somerville who can say the same thing about the Crescents. Both were wrong at times, and maybe if the unfair dealings should be weighed in a delicate scale, it might come very near balancing. Why not let it go at that? Then, again, you may say: "Oh, well, that Somerville newspaper said such dirty things about Plainfield." Yes, 't is true, but then you liked to read the self-same mean things in the PRESS when the shoe was on the other foot. And let me say right here, that to the Somerset Democrat and the Plainfield DAILY PRESS, the only real live newspapers in their respective bailiwicks, is due the interest taken in the game. If it had not been for these two newspapers keeping the pot boiling, where would have originated the intense rivalry! What would you have had to talk about after the game if it was not that you wondered what the PRESS would say on Monday evening, and the Democrat on the next Friday?

Yet in spite of the fact that both these newspapers kept up the interest and drew the big crowds by continually fighting with one another, yet they each received the greatest amount of censure on both sides and were oftentimes actually abused by not only the ball players themselves but by men who should have seen behind the screen and discerned the true motive that prompted such newspaper talk. But then a newspaper man's heart is brave and usually his shoulders are broad, and he does not mind those things. To be stopped on the street late at night, and threatened with a sound drubbing by some brawny ball tosser, because the week before you had written that "he chased around the bases like a runaway elephant"—intending to infer that he was a sprinter—is not pleasant, but you get used to such things after awhile. They happen as a matter of course. But when men of brains apparently, and sense ordinarily, condemn you for doing what they know is advantageous, then a fellow feels like kicking. People in general do n't understand newspaper prattle, but it is only talk. So if that be an objection, drive it out of your mind, drop it with an ardent prayer for the better doings of the editors of THE PRESS and the Democrat and newspaper men in general.

Now let me say just a few words advocating the playing of the two teams. Somerville is already in the field with a strictly amateur team and a professional battery. By a resolution passed last winter they can never again have a professional team, nor by the same resolution can they hire any other professionals than a battery under any circumstances, even though defeat stares them in the face. Last year Somerville spent a pot of money trying to win the pennant, now the property of the Crescents, and they had enough. Surely the developments of the past three months ought to have taught Plainfield that she had enough, too. Now the thing is to form an amateur team in the Crescent league and hire as good a battery as possible, and, as of yore, play Somerville. Westfield has done this and has games arranged with the West Ends. Plainfield can do the same. Away back in '88 when on the Front street grounds J. Hervey Doane, Roger Murray, Chick Demarest, and other young Plainfielders, battled for fame and glory, the interest was at a fever heat! The grand-stand was scarcely large enough to hold the crowds! Large parties of the best people in the city attended the games! The fair sex nearly went mad as they waved their dainty handkerchiefs or clapped their hands at some favored player! The games were full of interest, and why? Because all of the fellows were known and played to win—not their salary, but the game. Last year's empty benches proved that true lovers of pure sport would not come out to see a lot of broken-down professionals try to hit the ball. No one cared who won; and even when in the last game with Somerville the Crescents won the pennant, did the people cheer and go crazy? No, they smiled a smole and said, "a put-up job", while the little boys with a few faint yells celebrated the glorious victory.

After this statement of facts where is the man who will not raise his voice in one grand demand for a return to amateur ball and true sport. Get the team! Somerville has always held back and said she would not play, but when the time came she did. Manager Mack cannot be so stubborn as not to see the advantage of such a course. Somerville will play when the time comes. Let us have another hack at John Harkins's curves this year. And now in conclusion let it be known that the people of Plainfield are for amateur ball of four years ago and a series of games with Somerville.

How Plainfield Women Save Money.

It is an easy thing to save many dollars a year by using diamond dyes to make the old clothing look new. The large sales of these reliable dyes in this city shows that many women study economy, and are able to make a dime save several dollars. These dyes are easy to use, and give fast and beautiful colors on silk, wool, cotton, and mixed goods.

Singular and Serious Accident.

John Boulston of Scotch Plains met with a painful and serious accident in a very peculiar manner. In walking from the table to the stove he made a false step and fell, breaking his leg above the knee. The fact of his being an old man in reduced circumstances, with only a son who is blind to attend him, makes it a very worthy object for the assistance of charitably disposed people.

How Mayor Gilbert's Honesty and THE PRESS'S Argument Helped Carry the Day.

(From Yesterday's Courier.)

The remarks accredited by the Daily Press to Mayor Gilbert, in which he was made to endorse Mayor Saunders's re-election, were used with telling effect by North Plainfield Democratic poll workers yesterday. That they were not repudiated as false made them all the more effective. If Mr. Gilbert was so emphatic in approving Mr. Saunders's re-election as the Press would have us believe to the exclusion of a straight-out Republican of Mr. Honeyman's well-known worth and ability, it is an unfortunate circumstance.

TO-MORROW NIGHT AT MUSIC HALL.

A Word or Two Concerning the Company That Will Appear Here in Pure Burlesque.

For years the Rentz-Santley company has been considered the leading vaudeville and burlesque organization of this country, and this season it is said to eclipse all previous efforts. The company is especially strong in sensational and European novelties. It is headed by such well-known performers as the clever burlesquer Florence Miller, Harry Le Clair; the excentrique comedians Pusey and Lester; the delightful soprano, Mabel Marbis; the English wizard queen, Mlle. Leoville and others, who together contribute to a programme of unexampled interest. The company will also present a new spectacular burlesque entitled, "America; or, The Discovery of Columbus", written by Frank Dumont, and in which are combined all the brightest features of comedy, opera, spectacle and burlesque. New and magnificent scenery has been especially painted for this production by De La Harpe, the well-known artist, and it is said to be a revelation to the variety stage. The piece opens with a scene showing the beautiful harbor of Palos, Spain. Here are seen the pretty Toreadors and Carmencitas, closing with the embarkation of Columbus. Next we have Columbus and his crew aboard his ship, with a fearful storm at sea. The next scene is an animated view of Brighton Beach, Eng., and here is introduced a spirited march by the English Grenadiers. Next we find Columbus in the "land of the 17th of March". The scene is a true picture of Pennybrook Fair, with the pretty colleens, the greased pole and the pig, followed by an admirable view of the Gardens of Paris, with the stately Eiffel Tower showing in the distance. This scene serves to introduce a number of sensational novelties, especially engaged in Europe for this production. The next scene is the Tropical Forests of Africa. Columbus's ship has stranded on the shore, and he with his crew are captives in the hands of the Mozambique Amazons. Then we find Columbus afloat again, and after quelling mutiny the new world, which proves to be a realistic view of New York harbor, is sighted. The scene then transforms to a beautiful picture of the World's Fair buildings at Chicago. Into the burlesque novelty acts and specialties are interwoven in especial harmony. In the scenes in which they are introduced groups of pretty girls in costumes entrancing, scenes of remarkable splendor, showing the artistic touches of the painter's hand, a chorus of beautiful voices and bright, sparkling music, clever comedians, and burlesque with plot and story make up one of the most enjoyable performances ever offered to the patrons of Plainfield's opera house.

The Courier Also Flops.

(Editor Bunyon in Yesterday's News.)

Mr. Saunders made a good Mayor. He will without doubt make as good a one the coming year.

BEFORE ELECTION AND AFTER.

Pretty Spectacle of a "Journalist" Crawling to Lick the Hand that Two Weeks Ago He Spurned.

From the News of March 4.

MAYOR SAUNDERS RENOMINATED, AND HE ACCEPTS AGAINST THE ADVICE OF HIS BEST FRIENDS, WHO KNOW OF THE FEELING AGAINST HIM.

* * * * * * *

He had a speech all prepared and intended to be very artful, in that it was an endeavor apparently to make himself appear as offering himself as a sacrifice for the slaughter. He seems to have considered it good taste to drag family and personal friends before a political meeting in trying to make capital of their well-intended private advice.

When the applause, which was not lacking in effusiveness, had subsided, the Mayor stepped forward and in his most honeyed tones and sweetest smirks said:

* * * * * * * * *

After such a speech was it any wonder that a heavy snow storm followed the uproarious applause which will, it may be, reverberating through the ages to immortalize this picture of injured innocence being blamed for the sins of others? The public, however, probably know all about who is to blame.

* * * * * * * *

After the meeting adjourned, a prominent Democrat said, "We have made a mistake."

From the News of March 15.

MAYOR SAUNDERS RE-ELECTED ACCORDING TO CUSTOM WITH GOOD OFFICIALS.

* * * * * * * *

It was admitted generally, all through the campaign, that he had made a good mayor. The Republican candidate for mayor himself took occasion to say that much before reluctantly accepting the nomination against him. He further expressed it as his opinion that no candidate ought to be run against Mr. Saunders.

PARK CLUB EXCURSION.

Charming Visit to Cranford, and Easy Conquest of Their Hosts.

A jolly party from the Park club, including many ladies, went to Cranford last night with the club bowling team. The game was with the Cranford Country club team, and resulted in an easy victory for the Parks.

The greater part of the population of Cranford assembled in the club-house and formed an enthusiastic audience. Little spirit was put into the bowling, and the playing was loose on both sides. It was not until the last few frames that anything like good bowling was done, when the Park club lifted the score up to 1408, beating the Cranfords by 118 pins.

The Cranford club has an extremely attractive house, and the alleys are fairly good; but the lighting is as bad as can well be imagined, as none of the electric lights has a reflector, and the long line of glaring bulbs makes it extremely difficult to see the pins.

After the game, refreshments were served in the billiard room and hall, and the party returned well pleased with their excursion. The way home was enlivened by songs that soothed the belated commuters who were slumbering peacefully in the car, and delighted those more wakeful.

The party broke up at Plainfield in the best of spirits.

That Scotch Plains Post-office.

The communication signed Norman Jones in THE PRESS of Monday seems to have stirred the embers of a smoldering fire at that village. Not one of the candidates for the postmastership seems to recognize the writer, and a diligent search of the county directory as well as the registration lists fails to enlighten them as to his identity. It is stated that Mr. Baker unhesitatingly questions Mr. Jones's remarks as to his popularity; he, Mr Baker, claiming to have on his petition a majority of the patrons of the Scotch Plains post-office of both parties. Others of Mr. Baker's friends question whether it is more objectionable to have the post-office in a country store or as an adjunct to a bar, even when that bar is as respectable as Mr. Paff's. The fight is now on, and all are waiting in breathless expectancy for the announcement of Mr. Jones's "dark horse"; and not a few, in the confidence of President Cleveland's civil service views as expressed in his inaugural, are willing to wager that the genial Hezekiah Hand will remain in the peaceful occupancy of the office he has so acceptably filled.

—The Somerset County Teachers' association will hold its next regular meeting in the public school building at Raritan, Saturday, March 25, at 10:15 a. m. Prof. Wm. A. Mason, a graduate of the Boston Normal Art school, and the present supervisor of drawing for the city of Philadelphia, has been secured for both morning and afternoon sessions.

JOSEPH W. REINHART'S SUCCESS.

Something About the Plainfield Man Who Reorganized the Big Atchison System.

Joseph W. Reinhart, the newly elected president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad company, is regarded by railroad men as one of the most successful financiers in the handling of railroad properties in the United States. He is also recognized as an able executive officer; fully capable of filling the place so long filled by Allen Manvel. Mr. Reinhart was at the Windsor Hotel yesterday, and he talked most encouragingly to a reporter for The Tribune about the future of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad. He says that the coming year is sure to be a successful one for all railroad companies that are properly managed, and this year he expects that the business of the Santa Fe will be increased by several million dollars. Mr. Reinhart has just returned from Chicago, where business called him, and after a brief visit to his home, Ridgeview, in Netherwood, N. J., and to Boston, he expects to return to the World's Fair city. He says he has not yet decided where he will make his headquarters, but Chicago may be selected as the place for the president's office during the World's Columbian Exposition, at least. The Santa Fe, he said, was getting its share of the World's Fair business already, and it would also have considerable to take care of for the six or seven months beginning May 1.

Mr. Reinhart is a man of striking appearance; has a finely shaped head, and is evidently a man of strong character. He is a native of Pittsburg, Penn., and has been in the railway business since July, 1869. In January, 1883, after being auditor of the Richmond and Allegheny Road, he took charge of the general auditorship of the New York, West Shore and Buffalo Railroad, and it was here that his ability in financial affairs began to show itself. He organized all the accounting in all the departments upon a system which has since been used as a model by other large railroad corporations, including the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company. After closing up all the receiver's accounts of the West Shore Road in 1886 he was made general passenger and ticket agent of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad, and in that place he reorganized the passenger department. In 1887 he resigned and came East as a special railroad expert. On November 1, 1888, he went to Boston to make an inspection and report upon the Atchison road. He made a thorough investigation of the accounts, which were presented in the famous 140-page report. Mr. Reinhart later made an inspection of every part of the Atchison system, presenting to the board early in 1889 his recommendations to amalgamate the scattered properties and work them as one railroad system. This being promptly adopted by the directors, resulted in a large increase of earnings. He then gave his attention to the financial condition of the property. It had $173,000,000 bonds outstanding of forty-three separate and distinct issues, with various rates of interest, while its annual fixed charges were $12,000,000, with net earnings of about $6,500,000. In two weeks' time he conceived and wrote out the financial reorganization known as "Circular 63", which was presented to the board, promptly accepted, and on October 15, 1889, was offered to the company's investors for acceptance. Mr. Reinhart, then as vice-president and head financial officer, pushed the plan through, and inside of two months he reported to the board its complete success. This not only placed the company on a sound financial basis, and reduced its bond issues from forty-three to two, but it also saved the vast property from almost innumerable receiverships and disintegration.

Water and Lights for Mr. Miller.

From the report of the result of the election in Fanwood as published yesterday, the vote on the appropriations was omitted. It was as follows:

For electric lighting north of the railroad, $1,000—carried by 86 majority.

For water, for fire protection, north of the railroad, $1,000—carried by 46 majority.

For improving highways, $1,000; and maintenance of the poor, $350—practically unanimous.

All the appropriations were quietly urged by Geo. C. Miller, the new town committeeman, he, like all others living on the improved north side of the track, where there are lights and water, being personally benefited at the expense of the tax-payers south of the railroad, who derive no direct benefits from either lights or water in their locality. The southsiders fought the appropriations.

Stood the Test.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are unapproachable in curative properties, rapidity and safety of action, and are the only reliable plasters ever produced. They have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of ALCOCK'S by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as ALCOCK'S," and they stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

I AM SO NERVOUS.

The Cry and Plaint of Many Thousands.

What Does It Mean in This Age of Civilization?

ARE WE BECOMING A NATION OF NERVOUS WRECKS?

THE WARNINGS ARE PLAIN AND UNMISTAKABLE.

Heed Them Now, Or It May Be Fatally Too Late.

Hundreds of thousands of our people are nervous, thousands upon thousands suffer from mental exhaustion, brain fatigue, weak and irritable nerves, sleeplessness, gloomp depression of mind and exhaustion of nerve power, especially at this season of the year; they do not realize the dangerous gravity of their condition, nor the fearful result of neglect of these symptoms: they have perhaps consulted many physicians who have ascribed their disease to any and every cause but the right one; they have adopted many modes of treatment, but all alike have failed to afford a cure. And why? Because, like the sufferer, the physicians have failed to recognize the dread character of the disease which has fastened its clutches upon the very life principle.

It is nerve and brain exhaustion which makes the brain tired, the arm nerveless, the limbs trembling, muscles weak and the whole body without strength, energy or ambition; it is loss of nerve and vital power which is slowly but surely sapping the very life itself, and unless help is sought from the right source, the end will be shattered nerves, insanity with softening of the brain, nervous prostration, heart failure, paralysis or premature death.

The question comes home to every one with keenest anxiety—is there a source of help?

The answer is positive and convincing; nature in her boundless mercy has provided a balm for every ill, and fresh from the bosom of the earth yields the nerve strengthening, nerve invigorating, health restoring vegetable medicines which certainly and unfailingly cure these terrible diseases. These valuable medicines have been prepared and compounded into the wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, the great health restorer, which is acknowledged everywhere to be the greatest nerve and blood remedy in existence and the most valuable medical discovery of the century.

Do not despair, nervous sufferer; neglect alone is dangerous; now is just the time to be cured, now when the great spring medicine will do so much for you. Use this great and wonderful remedy and the nervous, irritable, weak and trembling feelings will disappear; your sleep will be natural, calm, restful and you will wake mornings feeling strong and vigorous instead of tired and exhausted; all gloomy depression and sensa of anxiety and dread will fade from your mind.

It perfectly and completely cured Mrs. Janet Johnson, of 164 Cedar st., Boston Highlands, Mass., and without doubt saved her from insanity.

"I suffered from nervous prostration," she says, "and was so weak and prostrated I could not attend to my household duties, closed my house and gave up my home, as I was so restless I could not remain in one place; I could not sleep for weeks at a time, and insanity seemed sure to result; I resorted to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, with wonderful effect; it produced good sleep, restored my appetite and strength until I feel like a new person."

Follow her example and you will be well.

Remember that doctors prescribe and recommend this medicine; it is the prescription and discovery of the well known specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, who can be consulted in regard to any case free of charge, personally or by letter.

DUE TO A BULLFROG.

How a Sonorous Croak Awoke an Inventive Genius.

Dr. Cushman Heard It and Straightway Constructed "Talking Boxes" Which, He Claims, Antedated Prof. Bell's Telephone.

Dr. Sylvanus D. Cushman, of Chicago, claims to have antedated Bell in the discovery of the telephone. Dr. Cushman, says the Chicago Tribune, is one of the picturesque characters in the history of telephone litigation. An organization using his instrument known as the American Cushman Telephone company was enjoined from doing business at the suit of the American Bell Telephone company in 1888.

Dr. Cushman has for years claimed to be the original inventor of the telephone. He is a white-haired man seventy-four years of age, and for forty-five of these has been connected with electrical work of various kinds. The telephone, he says, was a discovery in which a colony of Wisconsin bullfrogs played a prominent part. The story of his claims has been told before in the accounts of the litigations in which he has figured. The other day he retold them before a rough painting which hangs on the wall of his office. It shows a swampy landscape, stretching into the foreground of which is a telegraph line. The wire drops to the ground and enters a box which contains at one end two iron disks, separated and fitted on their inner surfaces with platinum points, which approach each other, but do not touch. From the disk not connected with the line wire a wire is run into the ground. Another wire runs from this disk to a horseshoe magnet, about which, supported on wooden uprights, is a piece of iron stretching across the poles of the magnet. The wire which is connected with the latter from the disk emerges again at the other side of the magnet and at that point is fastened to a ground wire. Near the box is a large bullfrog seated on a little knoll.

"In 1851 I was engaged in building a telegraph line out of Racine, Wis.," said the doctor. "We ran short of poles on reaching the stream shown in the picture. I wanted a lightning-arrester and rigged up the device shown in the picture. If the wire were struck by lightning the first ground wire, I believed, would carry to the earth most of the current and the second one would provide a passage for any that was left. The use of the magnet and the bar over it was to tell me whether the wire had been struck by lightning. The device was inclosed in a glass box and buried under leaves.

"In a few days I was informed that a peculiar crackling noise was heard at the other end of the wire at Racine. I visited the box and heard a slight noise. I adjusted the metal piece over the magnets finer, and immediately heard the croaking of frogs issue from the box. The telephone had whispered its secret.

"I began to develop it at once. Boxes were made and placed one above the other and one used for listening and the other for talking. The boxes were known as talking boxes. People used them to order their groceries by, and we carried on conversations over a distance of several miles. The volume of sound in the original box was as great as that developed in the modern telephone and the latter instrument does not differ in the least from my original discovery. All of its principles are embodied in the Bell instrument."

Dr. Cushman says after the injunction tying up the American Cushman Telephone company was issued, it was found that the court's edict did not stop the manufacture of the instrument which he had elaborated out of the glass box which gave out the tidings that sound could be transmitted over a wire. He went south and a telephone exchange was fitted with his instruments at a point in Arkansas.

"We have recently fitted up another exchange in this state," said he, "and have besides gone on selling the instruments and many are in use. A broad patent is now pending which will protect us."

A Feat of Squirrels.

Squirrels are plentiful and destructive in some parts of the state of Washington. Linden county paid out forty thousand dollars in bounties on squirrel scalps last year, yet but little good effect was produced. It is proposed to tax all the lands in the county to raise funds to fight the pest and so make railroad and nonresident owners help in the work.

A Start in Life.

Notice of Order to Limit Creditors.

Somerset County Surrogate's Office.

Estate of Daniel I. Smalley, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that on the eighth day of February, A. D. 1893, on the application of Mary E. Smalley and Alfred I. Smalley as administrators of Daniel I. Smalley, deceased, an order was made by the Surrogate requiring the creditors of Daniel I. Smalley, deceased, to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the said decedent, under oath or affirmation, and present the same to said administrators within nine months from the date of said order; and in default thereof any such creditor should be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said administrators.

NOW IN THE DEATH CELL

Carlyle Harris Awaiting the Final Decision.

WILL GOV. FLOWER INTERFERE!

After Thoroughly Reviewing the Testimony Given in the Affidavits Recorder Smyth Refuses a New Trial—How Harris and His Mother Received the News—Prison Preparations.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The last hope of Carlyle Harris is gone, so far as the courts are concerned. Recorder Smyth yesterday afternoon rendered his decision denying the application for a new trial. The decision reviewed in detail the affidavits that were offered as new evidence, tending to prove that Helen Potts was in the habit of taking morphine.

It was shown that not only was the credibility of the affiants, Mary Frenette and her daughter, Ethel Harris, seriously impeached, but their testimony was positively contradicted by George Potts, Mrs. C. S. Potts and other witnesses.

It was further pointed out that the affidavit of Susan F. Jackson that Helen Potts was in the habit of using morphine while at her school during 1887 and 1888 was made of no effect by the subsequent admission of Miss Jackson to Mr. Dilworth Choate that she was not sure it was morphine that the deceased had used, but only that it was some powder she took for headache.

The Recorder called attention to the positive testimony of the parents of the deceased and the teachers of the Comstock school, which she attended shortly before her death, that she showed no signs of being ill or in the habit of taking narcotics.

The claim of Harris that, if his former lawyers, Messrs. Taylor and Jerome, had allowed him to testify, he could have disproved the charges against him, was broken by the fact that he did not in his statement furnish any of the testimony which he said he was able to offer. The decision concludes as follows:

"A careful examination of all the facts and circumstances established upon the trial of this cause, as well as of the additional facts which have been presented upon this motion by way of newly discovered evidence, leads me to the conclusion that if the defense had produced the so-called newly discovered evidence or so much of such evidence as could be legally admittted upon the trial, it would not have changed the verdict that was rendered against him. The motion, therefore, is denied."

Before this, the Recorder quotes Judge Gray of the Court of Appeals. He says:

"In determining the motion I must not only state the facts in the moving papers and the papers read in opposition to the motion, but I must also take into consideration the testimony and proceedings taken upon the trial and the result arrived at by the Court of Appeals in its determination of the appeal from the judgment which was against the defendant."

Mrs. Harris awaited the decision in the office of Howe & Hummel, her son's lawyers. She was very nervous, but otherwise composed, evidently having nerved herself for the ordeal.

When the news did come that Harris couldn't get a new trial, Mrs. Harris said: "It is just what I expected." She was quite composed.

Harris himself, who was not taken from the Tombs, said:

"It is adverse!"

This was to the man who brought the news.

"It is," the lawyer said. Then he said: "I rest content, as the world knows that I was convicted on such evidence.'

After his visitors had gone Warden Fallon gave orders that Harris' cell should be immediately changed, that he should be stripped of every scrap of his clothing, and should be subjected to the most careful search possible.

These things were immediately done by the keepers. Even Harris' gold-rimmed eyeglasses and a pearl nail cleaner were taken from him. He was taken from his old cell, No. 8, across the corridor to cell No. 11, and there searched. Nothing was found, however, with which he might have ended his life, and he was left in his new cell, which contains nothing but a cot. This had also been carefully inspected.

It will be necessary now for Recorder Smyth to arraign and resentence the prisoner, Carlyle Harris. His counsel, Howe & Hummel, say they will then apply to the Governor for a full pardon on the ground that newly discovered evidence, which has never been brought before a jury, would justify him in granting it.

Chilian Nitrate Lands Sold.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—According to advices received here by the Bureau of American Republicans a law has been passed by the Chilian Chamber of Deputies compelling the President to sell within three years the famous nitrate lands owned by the government of Chili, and which were acquired by conquest from Peru. The proposed sales are to be advertised in London, Paris, Berlin and New York.

Centre Poles to be Removed.

NEWARK, March 17.—The Essex county grand jury, in their presentment to the court yesterday, demanded that the centre poles used for the electric cars be removed to the curb line, and that pending their removal extraordinary precautions should be taken by the company. This demand is made in view of the many fatalities that have occurred.

Jumped Between the Cars.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 17.—A. V. Carlson, a Swede, 30 years old, committed suicide near Mount Joy by jumping between the cars of the day express, on which he was a passenger. He was cut to pieces. The conductor and brakemen were eye witnesses. The remains were brought to Lancaster.

Shot in a Quarrel Over Money.

MOUNT VERNON, March 17. — William Moegling was shot by John Kocher last night during a quarrel over money due the latter for work done. Moegling is seriously wounded in the neck. Kocher was arrested.

AT HER DOCK.

The Wells City Hauled Off the Ground and Towed Up the Harbor.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The steamer Wells City, of the Bristol line, which went ashore at Seabright Saturday evening, while on the way from Bristol to New York, arrived at Quarantine at 10 o'clock last night.

She was towed in by four tugs of the Merritt Wrecking Co., which have been at work for the past five days trying to haul the vessel off the marsh. The greater portion of her cargo had been removed, and she was floated at 6 p. m.

The Wells City went ashore in a dense fog at 7 p. m. Saturday. The sea was running high, pounding hard on the broadside of the steamer, and it was considered expedient to get the crew on land. This was done by the life saving crew through the aid of the breeches buoy, the only accident being a broken leg received by one of the seamen.

The point where she struck is sandy, and the only apparent damaged she received is a small hole in the bottom of her hull. She is now laid up at her dock for repairs.

THE WAR ON AGAIN.

Ann Arbor Strikers Refuse the Settlement Made by the Railroad.

TOLEDO, March 17.—With the refusal of the Ann Arbor strikers to accept the settlement agreed upon by James W. Ashley, president of the road, and State Railroad Commissioner Kirkby all negotiations for a compromise have been declared off, and it is apparently war to the knife between the Brotherhood and the company.

The strikers have shown a remarkable change of front in their attitude toward Commissioner Kirkby. They charge him with having "betrayed their cause."

They allege that he neglected the most important condition of the attempted compromise, namely, that all the men should be taken back to work without prejudice.

Chief Arthur makes the statement that the engineers on the other roads connecting with the Ann Arbor will refuse to take any freight from that line, and that if one of them is discharged for such action, a general strike will be ordered.

President Ashley says that trouble is likely to commence at any time.

SMASH-UP ON THE PENNSYLVANIA.

A Runaway Engine Crashes Into a Gondola Train Causing a Bad Wreck.

HAZLETON, Pa., March 17.—While Pennsylvania railroad engine No. 409 was going down the mountain this morning it became disabled and was run on to a siding near Delano.

Flagman Swenk who was sent out to protect the engine became confused and turned the main switch.

Lehigh Valley engine 525 drawing fifteen gondolas and a tool car, came around the curve at a rapid rate of speed and dashed into the disabled engine. All hands jumped. Both engines were wrecked and cars piled up in confusion.

John Jenkins, a cook on the tool car, was thrown through the window and badly injured.

The car immediately took fire and was destroyed.

Conductor Kleckner of the Lehigh Valley train had a leg broken in jumping, and engineer Shuman of the Pennsylvania had an arm brokrn.

One Point for Gardner.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Justice Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, has granted Charles W. Gardner, the Parkhurst society agent, a certificate of reasonable doubt pending an appeal from his conviction for attempting to extort $1,500 from Lillie Clifton. The judge says he grants the order because of doubt arising as to some of the rulings of the judge at the trial, but he does not know that such doubt should entitle Gardner to be admitted to bail pending his appeal. The judge says he will hear counsel further on the question of bail.

Robbed in the Chicago City Hall.

CHICAGO, March 17.—H. G. Fox, collector for the First National bank, was held up and robbed of $1,200 on one of the stairways of the city hall yesterday. While he was descending the dark stairway to the main floor of the building a man whom he had not seen threw his arms about his neck and choked him almost to insensibility. The man then grabbed the money, and rushing down the stairs escaped.

Hog Island to be Purchased.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretary Carlisle has selected Hog Island for a quarantine station and Attorney General Olney is now looking into the matter to see if the title is perfect before the purchase price, $1,000, is paid. The particular Hog Island in question is not the one that Mr. Cleveland took his duck hunting vacation upon.

Killed at a Crossing.

PATERSON, N. J., March 17.—Miss Rose Mitchell, 50 years old, was killed at the Kean street railroad crossing last evening by a north-bound passenger train. She had been wandering through the streets of this place for several weeks and had been locked up in the station house several nights for drunkenness.

A Million for the Treasury.

DENVER, March 17.—On the receipt of information that the Treasury would make no deductions for abrasion, except in cases where the weight is reduced to the extent of one half of one per cent, the transfer of the $1,000,000 gold from the Denver banks to the Sub-Treasury has begun.

Turns Out to be "the King."

TROY, N. Y., March 17.—The old man who has been sentenced to Dannemora prison under the name of George W. Allison turns out to be Chauncy Johnson, the king of sneak thieves. He was arrested for stealing money from a desk in H. B. Nims & Co.'s bookstore.

THE VICTIMS INTERRED.

Mother and Two Children, Who Were Burned to Death, Laid at Rest.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 17.—The remains of the victims of the fire at Rutherfordton were brought here yesterday for interment in the family plot of D. F. Dixon, father-in-law and grandfather of the unfotunate ones.

The cause of the fire was the overturning of a kerosene lamp by a baby while reaching for some small toy on the table. The lamp exploded and threw burning oil all over the mother and children.

Mrs. Dixon, who is the wife of Thomas Dixon, a traveling salesman for Cottrell, Watkins & Co., of Richmond, might have saved herself, but for her efforts to save her children. She lived for a few hours after the fire and died in terrible agony a few minutes after the arrival of her husband, who was at Selby on business, and returned to find his home in ruins, two of his three children dead, and his wife dying.

During the progress of the fire, Alex. McEntire, a colored man, bravely entered the burning house and brought the mother out, at the same time pushing a third child before, thereby saving its life.

CITIZENS TERRORIZED.

Seven Burglaries Committed in One Night —They Put Out a Fire.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 17.—An epidemic of burglaries has broken out here to such an extent that the citizens have become terrorized. The gang, which is evidently well organized, has been successfully operating for several months in this vicinity.

During the night seven residences and business houses were entered, but the booty secured was small.

At the residence of George A. Post two of the burglars stood guard over the aroused inmates with cocked revolvers in their hands, while the third ransacked the house.

While the robbers were at work a lamp standing near an open window in the dining room exploded and set fire to the house. The intruders abandoned their purpose and united in extinguishing the flames, after which they quietly departed.

EXTRADITION TREATIES.

Ratification to be Exchanged With Sweden, France and Russia.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Authority has been given by President Cleveland to Secretary Gresham to exchange with Minister Grip certificates of ratification of the extradition treaty between the United States and Sweden, recently ratified by the Senate. The exchange will take place in a few days, and the President's proclamation declaring the treaty in force will at once follow.

Exchanges of the ratification of the French and Russian extradition treaties, which also were recently ratified by the Senate, will take place in Paris and St. Petersburg respectively, probably before the end of next week.

Knocked an Editor Down.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 17.—There was a fight yesterday in the corridor of the State House. Sheridan, a member from Red Willow, struck Editor Rosewater of the Omaha Bee on account of the charge made in Rosewater's paper that Sheridan had attempted a "hold-up." E. P. Roggan of the Bee came to the rescue and was knocked down but not before he had given Sheridan a black eye. The affair created great excitement.

Mitchell to Start for England.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Charley Mitchell and Jim Hall, the pugilists, left here at midnight for New York, and will sail for England on Monday. At New York they will be joined by "Squire" Baird, who will sail with them. Mitchell expects to do some training at Baird's place and says that that it will be done under the supervision of Hall, who is to make him ready for his fight with Corbett.

Four Firemen Injured; Two Fatally.

PATERSON, N. J., March 17.—Turn Hall, a building covering half a block on Ellison and Croff streets, was totally destroyed by a fire that broke out at 4:30 a. m. Four persons wer injured during the progress of the fire, and it is believed that two of them will die. The loss is roughly estimated at $75,000. The men who were injured are firemen.

Owner Charged With Arson.

CHICAGO, March 17.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the fire of Wednesday morning at which three people lost their lives, has returned a verdict charging Stephen J. Carter, the owner of the plant, with arson. Carter is now in the hospital suffering with a broken leg and internal injuries.

Fourteen Vessels Ready for Service.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—A circular letter has been addressed to the bureau chiefs of the Navy Department by Secretary Herbert asking what vessels will be ready for foreign service by the first of May. Replies to the letter have not yet been made, but it is understood that about 14 vessels will be available.

Envoy Blount Passes Through Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Ex-Congressman Blount, who arrived here Thursday morning, has left on the Northwestern railroad for San Francisco. He refused to talk of his plans, but information was gathered that he intended to leave San Francisco on the cutter Rush as soon as he arrives there.

Redwine Indicted.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 17.—The United States grand jury has indicted Lewis Redwine for embezzlement from the Gate City National Bank, fixing the sum taken at $103,000.

Von der Ahe Releases Caruthers.

ST. LOUIS, March 17.—Bob Caruthers, the well known ball player, has been given his unconditional release by President Von der Ahe and is free to sign where he pleases.

SOUGHT UNION IN DEATH

The Bodies of Two Lovers Found Side by Side.

WOULD NOT DISOBEY HER PARENTS

The Daughter of Brewer Nunemacher, of Milwaukee, Left Her Parents in Mississippi and Went Off With W. B. Miller, a Young Lawyer, of the Same Place—The Man Used the Pistol Last—Surprise at Milwaukee.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—The bodies of Miss Alma Nunemacher, a beautiful young woman, 22 years old, and W. B. Miller, a young lawyer, both of Milwaukee, have been found in the woods near Fort Christian, Miss.

Both are from Milwaukee, Wis. The parents of the young woman are very wealthy. Her father is a leading brewer of that city.

Some time ago Miss Nunemacher accompanied her parents to Port Christian, but three days ago she disappeared, and it was supposed that she had eloped with Miller, who followed her there. The young people wanted to marry, but the parents of the girl objected.

Mr. and Mrs. Nunemacher left for Hot Springs, Ark., thinking the elopers might be there.

When the bodies were found it was discovered that the girl had been shot in the left temple and the man in the right. A large new revolver was grasped in the dead man's hand.

There were no signs of a struggle, and it looks as though the two had lain on the ground together, after which Miller shot the girl and then himself. The face of Miss Nunemacher was as calm and placid as if asleep.

Some letters on Miller, written by the girl, showed that the couple, despairing of ever gaining the consent of her parents, had preferred death to living without each other.

Miss Nunemacher was devoted to her parents, and had frequently said she would never marry without their consent.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 17.—Miller was a bright young attorney of this city, about 25 years old, and well connected. It is known that he had been engaged to Miss Nunemacher for some time, and that they were devoted to each other. Some time ago when he was sick she nursed him back to health. The Nunemachers moved in the best society here, and the news of the tragedy was a great shock.

Petition Against the Russian Treaty.

NEW YORK, March 17.—A petition sent to Secretary of State Gresham against the Russian treaty has been signed by a large number of persons in this city, among whom are Daniel Appleton, Felix Adler, Francis C. Barlow, John Bigelow, the Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer, Chauncey M. Depew, Mayor Gilroy, Richard Watson Gilder, William R. Grace, Henry Holt, W. D. Howells and Harper Brothers.

The Herbert-Hall-Winslow Divorce Case.

YANKTON, S. D., March 17.—The trial of the Herbert-Hall-Winslow divorce case began before the Circuit Court in this city to-day. Dr. Winslow and wife, parents of the playwright, are here to testify in their son's behalf when their time comes. Mrs. Winslow, the bride, is on hand with her retinue of New York friends. The case promises to be highly interesting.

Killed on the New York Elevated Road.

New York, March 17.—An unknown man was run over and instantly killed last night by a train on the up-town Second Avenue elevated road, at the Hanover Square station. The man was about 30 years old, and weighed 160 pounds. He was well dressed. The only clue to his identity was a blank book on the cover of which was written "W. Richards, 83."

He Committed Suicide.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 17.—The coroner's jury has returned a verdict of suicide in the case of Daniel Nelson, the old hermit, who was found with his throat cut and hanging from the rafters in his hovel near Fresh Ponds last Saturday, and who, it was first thought, was murdered.

Flag Story Denied in Cuba.

HAVANA, March 17.—The statement made since the return from Cuba to the United States of the "American Female Baseball Club", that, during the disorder which broke out on March 5 at Almendares, an American flag was torn down and destroyed, is here declared untrue.

Commissioner of Pensions Resigns.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The Secretary of the Interior has accepted the resignation of Green B. Raum as Commissioner of Pensions and has designated Deputy Commissioner Andrew Davidson to take charge of that office until the appointment by the President of General Raum's successor.

Chinaman to be Hanged.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Jung Jack Lin, the Chinaman, who killed his cousin, Lung Din Kok, some weeks ago, has been found guilty of murder and condemned to be hanged. No evidance was offered for the prisoner, his attorney trusting that the jury would decide that he was crazy.

Elephant Dies Under Punishment.

PERU, Ind., March 17.—Last night the elephant keeper of Wallace's circus decided to punish "Old Tobe," the elephant of the menagerie. He chained him up, and while undergoing punishment the elephant died. He was valued at $8,000.

Sixty Cases of Diphtheria.

READING, March 17.—Sixty cases of diphtheria are reported at Pikesville, this county, and the disease is still spreading. Ten deaths have occurred within the past few weeks, and many others are critically ill. There are but few families in that section that have escaped.

New England Moving Again.

HARTFORD, March 17. — The trouble growing out of the attachment by Stickney Cunyngham & Co., of the New England railroad stock was settled last night, and the cars were released from attachment this morning.

Macey Not a Suicide.

TROY, N. Y., March 17.—The suicide theory in the case of Henry Macey, who was found dead at his home in Cohoes, Wednesday, has been exploded by the verdict of the coroner's physicians, who say that apoplexy was the cause.

NEVER SUBMIT TO SICKNESS.

Ignorance Too Often Makes Lives Short —The Knowledge of Paine's Celery Compound Essential to Good Health in Many Cases—What Mrs. Vickery Says.

The persons who urge patience and submission to ill-health are to be condemned.

It is ignorance oftener than anything else that makes life short. Ignorance of the value of Paine's celery compound is to be pitied. Read this letter from Mrs. F. F. Vickery, of East Auburn, Me.:

"Some four weeks ago I was suffering from one of those awful bad headaches which have been my companion for the past year, only worse at times; my sack ached, I did not sleep well, had those frightened nights, which only those who are nervous can understand; did not care whether I ate anything or not; rather not I felt so tired all the time, and had that all gone feeling, with no strength to do my easiest home duties; one short flight of stairs took all the breath and strength I had, and then I could just sit down and cry; every little noise made me jump and my head snap, and my eyes feel as though they were being drawn in through the top of my head.

"A friend said to me, who had taken a few doses herself of Paine's celery compound—'won't you please try some of my compound?'

"Well, I took some, but with little faith. In three days I was feeling like a new person; I got a bottle myself, and when that was gone I could take the full dose; I have gained strength every day, can eat three or four times a day, and sleep like a top; my head must be a new one, as I have not had a headache since I began taking the compound; I can get up two flights of stairs now all right, and feel so much better that I wish every one in the world would just try a bottle of Paine's celery compound and be convinced of its worth."

—An official of the New York & New England road says that the report that the directors have appointed a committee to confer with the New York, New Haven & Hartford directors is absolutely without any basis in fact.

—Bishop Brown, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, died at Washington yesterday, aged 75. He had been ill for some time, and his death was not unexpected. He was eminent in the church and greatly respected and esteemed.

—The steamers Lunenburg and Newfield which have gone from Halifax, N. S., in search of the disabled Sarnia, took several carrier pigeons, and if any tidings of the Sarnia are learned news will be despatched back to the city by the carriers.

—The large and valuable collection of fossils, geological specimens, etc., with $90,000, bequeathed to Dartmouth College of Hanover, N. H., by the late Ralph Butterfield of Kansas City, has been received and placed in Culver Hall museum until the Butterfield building is completed.

—The American Society for the Extension of University Teaching has decided to establish a university extension summer meeting where all the students now enrolled in the university extension movement throughout the country—estimated at over 90,000—can convene for the purpose of continuing their studies.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Stormy and Slightly Warmer To-Morrow; Colder Sunday.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Rents Santley company to-night.

—Wild duck shooting is said to be good, and the game most plentiful, in the vicinity of Stirling and along the Passaic river.

—In his blind fanaticism for the school board, the city clerk continues to jump on the mayor and corporation counsel, in his paper.

—Sixty people enjoyed a dance given by the "Jolly Four" in Welsh's Hall, Wednesday evening. O'Reilly furnished the music.

—Prof. Goodyear concluded his Plainfield series of Egyptian lectures yesterday. They have been a source of much pleasure to his audiences.

—Hulett's vacant advertising space is filling up rapidly with the names of recent purchasers of high-grade pianos. He is doing a great business.

—In another column Howard A. Pope calls attention to his new stock of carpets, mattings, etc., and asks your personal inspection of them.

—A great special sale of groceries is now on at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association. Don't fail to call and get a price list.

—A ticket office thief in Newark was captured yesterday. Word was sent to Plainfield, but he was n't the man wanted for the North avenue robberies.

—James Frisby's Fife and Drum corps went over to New Brunswick, Wednesday evening, to attend a ball given by the colored drum corps of that place.

—Women's art work will be exhibited at W. H. Griffin's studio, 2 East Front street, to-night, from 6 to 10, for the benefit of missions. It will be an attractive affair.

—The white bridge over the creek near Smalleytown was washed away by the high water Tuesday night, and it is said that some of the milkmen had to abandon their routes the next day.

—The beautiful lantern slides of the New York Camera club will be exhibited Monday evening in the Plainfield Camera club rooms. 'Twill be pleasant and profitable recreation for those attending.

—A Bible training class, organized in Trinity Reformed church, will meet for the first time to-night at 8, in the lecture room of the church. Those interested are requested to bring note-book and pencil.

—Turner, Jones and Leidy (if the latter does not go South) and Ad. Vroom of last year's Staten Islands, are already signed for this year's Crescent League team. Bonner's intentions are not yet known.

—The lamp will hold out to burn until ten of the clock every night at Central pharmacy for those who wish—and who does not?—to secure seats for Tuesday night next. Delays are dangerous. Do n't miss it!

—The flag shanty on the Lehigh Valley railroad at South Plainfield, caught fire from an overheated stove, Wednesday night, and was burned to the ground. Flagman Thos. Dorgan lost a lot of clothing, shoes, etc.

—Two tramps broke into a baggage car on the siding at Dunellen, Wednesday night, and stole clothing and shoes belonging to the baggagemaster and brakemen. They were followed to Greenbrook and arrested by constable Warden.

—Two dollars in a letter addressed by a good woman's hand, reaches THE PRESS with the request signed "St. Patrick", that it be forwarded to "The poor man mentioned in your valuable paper as suffering with a broken leg in Scotch Plains".

—Special sales are all the rage but not all of them have the true ring looked for in a special bargain sale. Sherwin's shoe sale has just this feature about it. He reduces the price on everything. Read his advertisement and see what he has to say.

—The lecture on Manual Training, by Charles H. Ham, in All Souls' church last evening, was not so well attended as had been hoped. Mr. Ham greatly interested his audience. The matter of introducing manual training into Plainfield is warmly endorsed by school superintendent Maxson.

—Mr. Brandon, of West Front street, has disposed of all of his valuable blooded stock, consisting of five horses and two Jersey cows, to a well-known horse dealer of Chicago. One of the horses, a trotter, brought $1,000; two others, $500 each, and the remaining two, $400 each. He realized $800 for the cows.

—At Demarest's model grocery tomorrow you will find strawberries, ripe tomatoes, egg plant, cucumbers, water cress, radishes, lettuce, cauliflower, celery, new beets, green beans, rhubarb, spinach, new cabbage, new potatoes, oyster plant, Bermuda onions, green peas and lots of other good things ahead of the season.

—There is said to be some talk among the fraternity of tramps with reference to holding a State convention, the place of meeting to be the Berckman street railroad bridge in this city. This project would doubtless be approved by many of the tramps, as a good-sized colony has already been established there, and the rest of them are near by.

—One is reminded of the great midsummer babies parade at Asbury Park, by a glimpse into the ground floor of Packer's big house to-day. Almost the entire space is devoted to baby coaches. The variety is exhaustless, and as the time is nigh when many Plainfielders will have to invest in something of the sort, Mr. Packer may be said to be taking time by the forelock. Everyone of the coaches is a beauty, even of those that are surprisingly low in price.

Never defer a vital matter. A cough shouldn't be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it at once.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Horr of Westervelt avenue started for a Southern trip on Thursday.

"Solomon, the Splendid Failure", will be the Rev. C. E. Herring's Sunday evening subject.

Mrs. Phillips of West Fourth street is entertaining her niece, Miss Phillips of Jersey City.

The Rev. Father Cushing will deliver a free lecture in St. Joseph's church this evening on "The Life of St. Patrick".

Charles Dudley Warner will lecture in the Casino Thursday evening, April 6, under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon club.

Mrs. Charles Francisco, daughter of Mrs. DeForrest, died at her home on West Second street this morning after a lingering illness.

Miss Maggie Burke, formerly of this city, but now of Philadelphia, is visiting her friend, Miss Alice Callahan of East Third street.

"What is Heaven, and Who are There?" will be the theme of Dr. Lewis's discourse at the Seventh-Day Baptist church to-morrow morning.

Mrs. Lemuel Hart of West Front street, gave a five o'clock dinner yesterday to a number of intimate friends. Good music helped the hours pass pleasantly.

Gen. Swayne, who lectured in the First Baptist church last evening, was the guest of Major and Mrs. Miller of La Grande avenue during his stay in this city.

Mrs. Anna Powell Bond, a sister of Aaron M. Powell, dean of Swarthmore, will lecture, the afternoon of March 27, on Helen Hunt Jackson, in All Souls' church.

William B. Rogers, of the late shoe firm of Rogers Bros., in this city, but now engaged in the real estate business at Buffalo, N. Y., is spending a few days with friends here.

John C. Whiting will lead, and Horace J. Martin will sing, at the Y. M. C. A. boys' meeting in the Congregational church Sunday afternoon at 4:15. The subject will be "Listen!"

Henry M. Maxson, principal of the High school, contributes three columns of interesting descriptive writing, charming studies of Nature in Winter's garb, to The Sabbath Recorder of March 16.

Dr. J. L. Huribut will preach in the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday morning and evening. The evening sermon will be illustrated with the stereopticon, and will be on "The Youth of John Wesley".

A birthday surprise party was given to Fred G. Bach, at 207 Somerset street, last evening, by a number of his friends. The evening was passed with music and playing games. A handsome walking cane was presented. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

A party composed of thirty of her friends from Plainfield, Philadelphia, New York, Elizabeth, and elsewhere, dropped in (quite by accident!) last Wednesday evening, to wish Miss Katharene Thorne, of LaGrande avenue, "many happy returns". As the "surprise" was genuine, and as everyone had a thoroughly enjoyable time, all joined in voting it the most delightful of social events.

The second article by Charles E. Doane, of this city, on "Carpentry for Boys", appeared in last week's issue of Harper's Young People. It more than fulfils the high expectation incited by the information and interest of the introductory paper. These articles are particularly timely nowadays when so much is being heard on all sides as to the great benefits of manual training. The rest of the papers are to follow now in quick succession.

The Misses Swackhammer of Dunellen entertained the West End Circle very charmingly last night. Among those present from out of town as guests of the club, were: Miss Currie of New York, Miss Lizzie DeCamp of Plainfield, Harry VanEmburgh and Will F. Williams of Plainfield, Miss White of Elizabeth, J. Bauer of Elizabeth, Miss Minnie Force of Bound Brook, Mr. Tunison of Somerville, Mr. Diedrick of Bayonne, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry of Joliet, Ill. Refreshments were served in abundance. Music was furnished by O'Reilly.

She Wasn't Used to It.

A good story is told of a well-known business man in this city. On Tuesday he went to New York and on the way home he stopped in Washington Market and purchased a blue fish and a pound package of limburger cheese. Arriving home, he placed the packages on a kitchen table and went out on the street. Presently his wife detected the odor from the cheese, and declared at first that the fish was stale and spoiled. Opening the package of limburger, she nearly fainted, and not being accustomed to the obnoxious odor, without further ceremony she took the package and threw it into the garbage barrel. When her husband returned he was upbraided for bringing home decayed articles. He asked for the package and was told it was among the garbage. "Why", said he, "that's limburger cheese, and it cost me forty cents". He had been depending on an appetizer for his supper, but was euchred out of it.

—Barnum's big show will be here May 3.

—A friendly head-pin contest took place on the Crescent alleys last night, as preliminary practice for the great head-pin tournament. That tourney gives promise of being a most interesting event. All look eagerly forward to the opening night.

—George Cole will have the old dwelling-house on his land at West Second street and Exchange alley, removed by April 1, to make room for a new brick building. In this there will be two stores down stairs (one occupied by Terrill & Cole, undertakers), flats overhead, and a livery stable kept by George Cole in the rear.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

THE PATRIARCH HAS SPOKEN.

Yea, Verily: He Has Decreed that Gentle Femininity May Go to the Bi. Club Racket.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I have been asked whether the entertainment of next Tuesday night, at Music Hall, under the auspices of the Bicycle club, will be suitable for ladies? "SURE!" I suppose the question has arisen from the fact that the club's entertainments of late have been "Smokers" or "Staggeraquettes"; but even they would be "suitable for ladies" if the ladies do not object to the fragrance of the Havana.

Did you ever attend a Plainfield Bicycle club "Smoker" Why, it is so playfully innocent, so perfectly correct, so truly good, that even the smoke rises heavenward!

But, to return to Tuesday night: it will be "suitable for ladies", and it will be enjoyed by them, as they have always appreciated the development of the manly form which is secured by physical exercise. The Princeton Gymnastic team is made up of men with such forms.

A recently defunct nobleman (noble by name, at least) boasted of the great inroads he made on the feminine heart by means of his seemingly finely developed figure; but a post-mort-exam. showed this figure to be more of a figure than a fact. It consisted largely of "padding", three inches on either shoulder, and on other parts of his anatomy in proportion.

The Princeton team, however, is not built that way! They will bring their "manly forms" with them, and not leave them hanging up in the lockers of the Princeton "Gym."

The members of the Mandolin club are equally athletic; but on Tuesday evening they will content themselves (and please their audience) by discoursing sweet music.

The Gymnastic team and the Mandolin club are the best organizations of their kinds that Princeton has ever had.

"Suitable for ladies?" Why, our own handsome Captain Martin says if any citizeness is dissatisfied he will refund her money and hand her a ladies' Columbia of the latest pattern—"C. B. D."

The truth is that the entertainment, gymnastic and musical, will be suitable for everyone; and the individual who neglects the opportunity to see and hear it will miss one of the things which help to make life worth living. "Do n't miss it!"

PATRIARCH.

A CHARLIE'S SPARE.

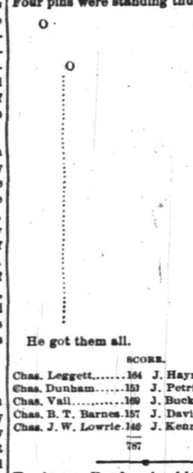
But His Side Had to Call in Bethuel and Wheaton to Win.

The game of the "Charlies" vs. the "Jays" came up last night in the Crescent League alleys, but to the great disappointment of every one, and it is supposed on account of the short notice given, the Charlies did not turn out as expected, and Captain Charles Leggett of the Charlies was obliged to take substitutes and baptized B. T. Barnes and J. W. Lowrie as Charlies.

The game was then rolled. The Jays started well but did not keep it up, and they were easily defeated by the Charlies by 41 pins.

Good work was done by captain Leggett not only in bowling but in his coaching which greatly helped in winning.

Chas. Dunham made a beautiful spare. Four pins were standing thus:



He got them all.

Engineer Dunham's Life Saved by Chance.

F. A. Dunham, on his way home from Olean, N. Y., yesterday, got a shaking up in the Erie collision at Lackawaxen.

He endeavored to secure a berth in the sleeper which was afterwards telescoped, but as there were no lower berths left, he occupied one in the car next forward. Every one in the rear car was more or less injured, including the porter of the next car who had gone to the rear of the train.

Judge Moore on His Muscle.

A big burly tramp terrorized Fanwood Householders Wednesday evening, and after scaring 50 cents out of young Russell Briggs tried to take possession of judge C K. Moore's residence. Court was not in session, but had its fighting clothes on, and recalcitrants may take warning from the way that the judge kicked the offender across the street and knocked him out with a broken jaw.

—See the "Tantalizing Widows" dance at Music Hall, to-night.

—The children of St. Mary's parish had a very pleasant joint celebration of St. Patrick's and Father Smyth's birthday to-day. They paraded about the school, with the drum corps.

—An old man with a dilapidated looking grip and a cane, was about town yesterday inquiring for "Uncle Billy" Moore. He said he knew him when he was a boy, and he grieved greatly to learn of his death.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Rastacal Magnen, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

The Cadets Have Fine Colors Now.

The Leal Cadets made a fine appearance yesterday afternoon, at the public exhibition full-dress drill in the rink. They acquitted themselves to their own and Capt. Edwards's credit; and Gen. Swayne, their distinguished visitor, complimented them. After the drill Major W. D. W. Miller presented the Cadets with the handsome flag donated by their friends. The presentation speech was happily applauded. In the evening the Cadets marched in a body to hear Gen. Swayne's lecture.

GOOD FOR THE MAYOR.

HIS A CLINCHING ARGUMENT FOR THE SCHOOL BOARD BILL.

Sound Common-Sense Reasoning in Favor of the Proposed Change—The Sole Object of the Bill, He Explains, Is to Keep the School Trustees from Running the City Into Extravagant and Useless Debt Against Its Will.

[Mayor Gilbert's argument before the Assembly Committee in favor of restricting the power of the Board of Education.]

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee:

I appreciate fully the fact that to every important public question there are two debatable sides, and therefore I am not surprised that the bill under consideration by your committee should meet with opposition. I am surprised, however, that anyone should appear before you proposing to give a good logical reason for his opposition to the measure.

The language of the bill is clear and explicit; it expresses in unmistakable terms its logical purpose; there is no ambiguity about it; no concealed danger lurks beneath its surface. It is a plain, direct, business-like proposition to give to a community through its common council—or other governing body—the body which represents it in its fiscal affairs, the body which can be readily reached and made to conform to the will of the people—the power to fix a limitation to the indebtedness that may be created against that community.

It is simply this and nothing more. The city which I represent is confronted with what may be called a legal anomaly. The board of education with reference to its power to create public indebtedness is clothed with greater power than our common council. Under the various laws which govern it, the board is authorized to raise by taxation each and every year for the current expenses of our schools, in addition to the amount appropriated by the State, one-half of one per cent. of the taxable valuation of our real and personal property. It is also authorized to borrow such further sum as in the judgment of the board may be deemed necessary for the purchase of lands and the erection of school buildings. There is no limitation whatever upon the amount that may be borrowed, the only limitation being that not more than one school-house shall be built in any one year. Whether this power is exercised wisely or unwisely by the board, our people have no voice in the matter.

During the entire period of our corporate existence, our common council has by the provisions of our charter, been prohibited from borrowing money for any purpose whatever, except in anticipation of taxes, without the consent of the people. This restriction has been modified to a limited extent by the general legislation of recent years.

That our board of education, a body composed of five men, three of whom constitute a quorum, should have greater power in this respect than our common council, the power to create public indebtedness without reference to public opinion, is wrong in theory and inconsistent in practice.

We have built school-houses quite freely during the past few years; our educational system is quite fully developed, and we think our present equipment should serve us for some years without any further heavy outlay. We boast of our school system; it stands second to none in the State; we admit all its excellencies. We respect our board of education. Plainfield has always had the good fortune to have a good school board. Nothing can be truthfully said in praise of our school system or of our board of education that we will not heartily endorse. But that is not the question at issue; OUR CONTENTION IS THAT OUR SCHOOL BOARD SHOULD NOT LONGER HAVE THE POWER TO RUN US IN DEBT WITHOUT OUR CONSENT—THAT OUR COMMON COUNCIL SHOULD AT LEAST HAVE A VOICE IN THE MATTER. Now why should this proposition call forth any opposition? I have heard it said that the passage of this bill will impair the efficiency of the school board. How will it impair its efficiency? It makes no change in the construction of the board; it does not interfere with its management in any way; the power of the board to raise by taxation each year for the support of the schools one-half of one per cent. on our taxable valuation in addition to the amount appropriated by the State will still remain. The only change contemplated by the bill is the provision requiring the board to obtain the consent of the common council before purchasing lands or building additional school-houses. In other words, THE BOARD MUST NOT RUN THE CITY IN DEBT WITHOUT THE CONSENT OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

It has also been stated that the passage of this bill will introduce politics into the school board. I fail to discover how. The bill proposes no change in the mode of electing trustees—no change in the number of trustees—no change in the political complexion of the board. One trustee will be elected each year as now, and the dominant political party will make strenuous efforts to elect its man every time. In no respect will the absolute control and management of the schools by the board be changed or interfered with. If politics creep into the board, it will not be through the agency of the proposed law. All that this law aims to accomplish is the establishment of the principle that the board of education shall no longer be empowered to run us in debt without our consent.

It is also claimed that the school board is just as truly a representative body as the common council; but this is not so. We elect seven councilmen one year and four the next. Only one school trustee is elected each year to serve for five years. We can change the entire complexion of the common council in two years; it will require five years to make a similar change in the school board. Of more importance, however, than this, is the fact that the common council is the recognized financial board of the city, and the charter under which it acts was approved by the people, while the law which empowers the school board to create public indebtedness was secured without the knowledge or consent of the people.

Mr. Chairman, we advocate the passage of this bill because we believe it to be right, and in the interest of the people; and now that an amendment has been added which provides that before taking effect it shall be submitted to a vote of the people, I cannot see how any fair-minded man can logically oppose it.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will you permit me to contradict the statements contained in this evening's PRESS that my family has removed to Plainfield and that my vote at the election on Tuesday was a matter of question. Both statements are entirely untrue. The house we are building in Plainfield is not ready for occupancy, my family and no members of it have removed from Fanwood, and my right to vote in the town in which I have lived for fifteen consecutive years was not only unquestioned but unquestionable.

Yours truly,
DAVID P. HALL.

Sports in Plainfield.

(Elizabeth Journal.)

Plainfield is to have a base-ball team and the management will be composed of Plainfield men, who, under the name of the Plainfield Amusement company, have filed articles of incorporation with county clerk Gerber. The names of the incorporators are: J. A. Demarest, C. A. Reed and Thomas H. Keller. Mr. Reed managed the Crescent team last season. The company's stock, valued at $5,000, is being sold at $25 each. A number of last year's team will be engaged, and Chic Hofford will go behind the bat as captain.

The Catholic Young Men's Lyceum of Plainfield now has a bicycle division, the organization of which was accomplished on Monday night, when fifteen members signed the roll. The club will be known as the Plainfield Lyceum cyclers, and its membership will probably reach fifty by the time the active wheeling season opens. The officers of the new club are: J. J. Lynch, president; W. J. Kiely, captain; Thomas Burns, secretary and treasurer.

The wonderful cure by Salvation Oil of Mr. M. S. Culp, a chronic rheumatic, 816 George st., Baltimore, Md., is a miracle.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by J. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 66 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 6-16-y

Latest News By Wire to THE PRESS.

IN AID OF HARRIS.

The Murderer's Friends to Hold a Mass Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 17.—Carlyle W. Harris will be brought before Recorder Smyth to be resentenced on Monday next, and then will follow the most sensational features connected with any murder trial in this city.

It will be nothing more nor less than an immense mass meeting, to be held either at the Madison Square Garden or Cooper Institute, to protest against the decision of the Recorder, and also to ask Gov. Flower to exercise official clemency in the case of Harris.

With the resolutions passed at that meeting to fortify him, William F. Howe will go to Albany and make an appeal to the Governor.

"Will you ask to have the sentence commuted to imprisonment for life?" Mr. Howe was asked this morning.

"Never," he answered, with great vehemence. "We shall ask for a complete and unconditional pardon, and nothing less. That, and that only, is what Harris should receive."

A BOMB EXPLOSION IN ROME.

The Official Residence of Minister Potter Slightly Damaged.

ROME, March 17.—A bomb exploded at half-past six o'clock this morning in the Ancini Mattei Palace, a beautiful structure which was engaged by United States Minister Potter in December last as his official residence. The explosion did but slight damage to the building, and nobody was injured. Many surmises are afloat about the explosion, but nothing definite has been ascertained.

GRADUATES' REUNION.

Schoolmates of the Class of '78 Bid Farewell to Two Departing Members.

The High School class of '78 at their reunion of 10 years ago hoped to have such a gathering every fifth year, with readings by the class historian, prophet and poet. But the scattering of the members prevented a reunion five years ago, and this year threatened to pass the same way.

Mrs. J. H. Manning, however, a member of '78, filled with the true class spirit, succeeded in spreading enthusiasm among her classmates, and accomplished the reunion that took place at her home on Park avenue Wednesday night.

The reunion was a charmingly informal affair. Most of the girls of the original 14 were present. Of those 14 only two have died since graduation. Those deceased are Miss Ella A. Holmes, valedictorian, and Miss Lillie Perry.

The especial reason for a reunion of the class at this time was the anticipated departure of Mrs. Philip Comstock (nee Hattie Smith) from Brooklyn to St. Louis, and of Mrs. C. M. Evans (nee Lillian Bleecker) from East Orange to Rochester.

Those attending the reunion besides Mrs. Comstock and Mrs. Evans were: Mrs. Manning, Mrs. John Ulrich, Mrs. John Burnet, Mrs. Elwin Leland, Miss Annie P. Thorne, and others who were not members of the class but friends. Letters of regret at not being able to attend were read from Miss Harriette H. Winslow, now teaching at Philadelphia, and Miss Mary T. Patterson, now teaching at New York.

Miss Ellen E. Niles, who is still teacher in the High school junior class, and who was '78's junior teacher, was an honored guest.

The event was greatly enjoyed by all.

Warm Praise for a Plainfield Colonel.

Col. Mason W. Tyler, of this city, was the deserving recipient of complimentary allusion from Maj.-Gen. Wager Swayne in his lecture "An Ante-Slavery Sketch", the first of the Y. M. C. A. course in the First Baptist church, last evening.

The lecturer entertained and edified a large audience. His lecture was very enjoyable throughout. During the evening Gen. Swayne referred to one war-time day at Amherst College, when Col. Tyler's father preached a sermon so effective that 50 of the students promptly volunteered for service. The first of those volunteers was the son of the College President, and the second was young Tyler himself. This youth made a most valiant soldier and gallant record, and won his title by well merited promotion.

Gen. Swayne was introduced by President Murray. Taps were sounded by cornetist Frazee. W. E. McClymont gave a brief musical programme at the organ.

The next lecture of the series will be March 23, by Gen. Howard.

—Martin Knobel, hopelessly drunk, had to be taken to the borough lockup in a wagon, by marshal Pangborn last night. When he sobered up this morning he paid judge Crosley a $2 fine.

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

OBJECT TO INTERVIEWS.

Some Statesmen Do Not Like to Talk to Reporters.

Others Tell All They Know, Which, Sometimes, Is Very Little—Our Correspondent's Experience with Gen. Sherman.

[Special Washington Letter.]

The duty of interviewing public men in the national capital is agreeable or disagreeable according to the sweetness or acidity of the stomachs of the statesmen.

Of all men in public life I think Senator Sawyer, of Wisconsin, is the easiest and best man to interview. He is a very kind-hearted gentleman who has seen much of this world and sounded the gamut of experience from penury to princely wealth. He is well informed upon all affairs, legislative, executive, political and financial. Out of the abundance of his knowledge he cheerfully gives information in a most entertaining manner to newspaper men whom he knows and in whom he has confidence.

Gen. Sherman when residing in Washington was, of course, not only the chief military officer of his age, but occupied a commanding position in social life. His sayings and doings were constantly chronicled in the newspapers, and the old warrior disliked nothing so much as newspaper notoriety. Moreover, he sincerely disliked newspaper men as a class. Upon one occasion when the New York Sun had reported that Gen. Sherman had joined the Roman Catholic church, I took the clipping from the paper and, calling upon the general at his residence, sought an interview. He received me kindly and affably in his parlor, and chatted very freely for a few moments on current events, but when I showed the newspaper clipping and asked him if its statement was true the old man rose from his seat in a towering rage, walked to the door leading into the hall and, pointing to it with his index finger, said: "That is none of your newspaper's business. It is my business if I want to join the Catholic church. You have no business to interview me on the subject, and I will not submit to an interview. Your New York Sun article is a damned lie."

The old man had given me the information which I desired. He said that the assertion concerning himself was false. Next morning the newspaper which I represented contained an account of an interview with the distinguished hero, in which it was stated that he received the reporter "with the utmost cordiality on account of the paper which he represented," and, in response to the reporter's inquiry, Gen. Sherman, while seated in his parlor, had said: "Of course I realize the propriety of newspapers seeking information concerning public men, and I have, therefore, no hesitancy in assuring you that the published statement to which you allude is without foundation."

When he was a member of the United States senate and was leading a partisan debate in behalf of the admission of South Dakota to statehood, in 1885, Senator Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana, was an easy man to interview upon the subject uppermost in his mind. At that time I was representing a St. Paul paper which circulated largely over Dakota territory, and it was my duty every day to ascertain the current news and prospective events upon that all-absorbing topic. Day after day Senator Harrison, in response to my card, came from the senate chamber into the lobby or into the marble-room and gave me full information concerning the action of the committee on territories, the influences which were being brought to bear upon various senators, and all of the detailed prospects for or against the admission of the state of South Dakota to the union. He seemed to realize the importance of everything said and done upon the subject, and no trained newspaper man could have dictated the details of the work of each day better than did Senator Benjamin Harrison to your correspondent.

Senator Joe Blackburn, of Kentucky, is a very easy man to interview because he is a young man, a genial and companionable man, and knows that the newspaper men are his friends. Senator Blackburn is about fifty-five years young, and is growing younger every day. He does not hesitate, among his newspaper friends, to give freely of all the information at his command; that is, so far as it is proper for him to give information for publication. Of course you must understand that senators and representatives are obliged to keep many matters secret from their best friends.

"I WILL NOT SUBMIT TO AN INTERVIEW."

When he was speaker of the house of representatives it was almost impossible to secure an interview from James G. Blaine. It was not an uncommon thing for him to appear on Newspaper row evening after evening calling upon his friends, the leading correspondents, and giving them valuable items of important news. But he was particular to require all of them to assure him that he would not be quoted in an interview upon any subject mentioned by him. In the spring of 1884 Mr. Blaine was at the Palmer house for one day and declined to respond to the card of a reporter for the Chicago Times, although the faithful fellow sent his card to Mr. Blaine's room every half hour during the entire day. The reporter saw him several times in the corridors going to and from his room, but Mr. Blaine constantly sent down word to the representative of the Chicago Times that he was "not in." The reporter felt that not only himself, but the paper which he represented, was not properly treated by the distinguished statesman, so he left the hotel and on his way to the Times office met an elderly friend who looked something like Mr. Blaine, and interviewed him upon the topics of the day.

When he reached the Times sanctum the reporter wrote a description of the day's walk, how often he had sent his card, the usual response, and finally the fact that he had met upon the street a man whom he took to be Mr. Blaine, and that man said—here he started a long interview in which the man who "looked like Mr. Blaine" was made to say everything which Mr. Blaine ought not to say. About noon the next day Mr. Story, the proprietor, received a telegram from his personal friend, Blaine, who was then at Racine, Wis., protesting against an interview which never occurred. Mr. Story glanced over the interview, called Managing Editor Snowden, and directed him to discharge the man who had written that interview. When the reporter came in Snowden said: "Nick, you are fired by order of the old man." Nick thereupon explained the situation and how badly the Times had been "worked." Snowden immediately conveyed that explanation to Mr. Story, who, upon realizing that Mr. Blaine had not treated his representative with becoming courtesy, said: "Snowden, what is Nick's salary?" To this Mr. Snowden responded that it was $25 per week. Mr. Story then said: "Keep Nick on the paper and give him $35 per week."

President Garfield, when a member of the house of representatives, was so easy to interview that to visit his house was more like calling upon a sweetheart than upon a statesman. Every reputable newspaper man was as welcome as the flowers that bloom in the spring in the home of James A. Garfield.

Roscoe Conkling was almost unapproachable. George C. Gorham, Frank Hatton and Stils. Hutchins were about the only newspaper men in Washington who could talk with him on a familiar basis; but even they were not permitted to interview him for publication. William F. Vilas as postmaster general could not be interviewed; but as a United States senator Col. Vilas is accessible and affable to newspaper men Knute Nelson, now governor of Minnesota, when completing his first term in the house of representatives, said to me: "When I came here I regarded newspaper men as my natural enemies and I avoided them. I would not talk in the presence of a newspaper man upon any subject whatever. Before I was renominated for a second term, however, I discovered that I needed at least one good newspaper man in my business. I commenced to hunt the boys and ascertain the best fellows in the crowd and carried news to them. I soon found that my congressional work was being reported and my people were informed of my doings, so that all the reputation I have made has been due to the fact that I got in with the newspaper men and kept on the right side of them. No reputable newspaper man in Washington ever betrayed my confidence."

Senator Vest, of Missouri, says that he never had any misunderstanding with newspaper men, but that they have been his best friends. He is frank and free in conversation with them and will give an interview at any time upon any subject with which he is familiar. Congressman Holman, the great objector; William M. Springer, of Illinois; Julius Cæsar Burrows, of Michigan, and Tom Reed, of Maine, are about the easiest members of the house of representatives to interview. Mr. Holman, who is such a holy terror to all others in Washington, is a valuable friend to newspaper men who seek information. Tom Reed, one of the greatest men of this age, occupies his seat on the floor of the house an hour or more before the gavel falls every day, and tries to write letters. He is interrupted every minute or two by some newspaper man who addresses him familiarly with some inquiry, and Mr. Reed always cheerfully drops his pen to respond; and he sometimes grants elaborate interviews in an off-hand manner. As I remarked at first, the interviewing of public men depends largely upon the sweetness or acidity of the stomachs of the statesmen and the condition of their general health. The wholesome, whole-souled fellows are the same in public life as in private life, likeable, lovable and approachable.

Revolution of the Earth.

If the earth were to revolve on its axis with seventeen times its present rapidity the pendulum would not vibrate at all, and we would weigh nothing at the equator, for the centrifugal force would be so great as to throw us off.

RICHARD W. THOMPSON.

The Chairman of the American Panama Canal Committee.

The name of Col. Richard W. Thompson, of Terre Haute, Ind., the "Ancient Mariner of the Wabash," is much in the mouths of men nowadays, owing to his alleged connection with the Panama canal scandal. But "Uncle Dick" Thompson was a noted man long before the Panama canal was thought of. He is eighty-four years old, and a man who received the compliment he did last June at Minneapolis ought to live to be one hundred at the least. The national republican convention discovered one day that it was "Uncle Dick's" birthday, and straightway suspended business. Chauncey M. Depew made a speech in his honor, and the "Ancient Mariner" was exhibited to the admiring delegates. Richard W. Thompson was born in June, 1809, in Culpeper county, Va. Both his grandfathers fought in the war for independence. His stepmother was Mildred Ball, a great-niece of George Washington. In 1831 young Thompson went to Indiana, taught school, was clerk in a dry goods store, studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1834. That year he was elected to the Indiana house of representatives. He was reelected in 1836, and at the next election became state senator. In 1840 he was one of Harrison's electors, and the reputation he gained on the stump in the stormy campaign of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," resulted in his election to congress in 1841. He held his own in congress, and it was a day of big men, too. He declined renomination, and in 1843 took up residence in Terre Haute and began the practice of law. In 1847 he was again elected to congress by the whigs over John A. Wright, afterwards governor of Indiana. In 1849 President Taylor appointed him minister to Austria, and later President Fillmore appointed him general solicitor of the land office. He declined both positions. President Lincoln appointed him judge of court of claims at Washington. He declined because his law practice was too large to leave. Lincoln also offered him the position of examiner of railroads. Thompson declined. When the war broke out he supported the union and with "War Governor" Morton was one of the conspicuous figures in Indiana during the exciting time. A recruiting camp was established near Terre Haute, Thompson was made commander of the post, and it was named "Camp Dick Thompson." He raised and drilled many regiments and sent them to the front. He was also provost marshal of the district. In 1867 he was appointed judge of the Eighteenth judicial district of Indiana. He also served a term as collector of internal revenue for the Terre Haute district and held other offices. In 1877 President Hayes made him secretary of the navy, and this is why he is called the "Ancient Mariner of the Wabash." He retired in 1881—before his full four years as secretary were up—to become chairman of the American committee of the Panama Canal company at a salary of $25,000 a year. Col. Thompson has also made his mark as an author, having published in 1887 "The Papacy and the Civil Power," and in 1888 "History of Protective Tariff Laws." Mrs. Thompson, who was Miss Harriet E. Gardiner, of Columbus, O., before marriage, died March 25, 1888. Five children are living.

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food—imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.

FERRY'S SUDDEN DEATH

Causes Surprise and Sorrow in France.

DEATH DUE TO AUBERTIN'S BULLET

After Six Years the Madman's Victim Dies—Taken Suddenly With Spasms He Lingers a Day and Expires in Great Agony—His Romantic Career and His Place in the History of the French Republic.

PARIS, March 18.—The death of Jules Francois Ferry, the President of the French Senate, has caused intense surprise and heartfelt sorrow throughout not only the Republic of France and Europe, but also in the United States. Paris, which has for months often been on the verge of an eruption, is for the time silent. The Panama trials have ceased entirely to be the topic of discussion and the newspapers, instead of containing scare head lines about M. Barboux's plea for Charles de Lesseps, are filled with sketches of the life and work of the dead statesman.

M. Ferry died at 6 o'clock last night. His death was caused by heart disease, due to the effect of a bullet striking a rib near the base of the heart at the time he was attacked by Aubertin in 1887.

He was seized with spasms early in the morning and despite every effort of the physicians who were hastily summoned, the convulsions continued to grow in violence, until at 6 o'clock when he expired in a terribly severe spasm.

For the last two weeks M. Ferry had complained of difficulty in breathing. He would start up in the night occasionally, gasping and choking. Several times he left the table and hurried to a window to get fresh air. His sleep was much broken, and his health suffered in consequence.

In the last few days he seemed to recover somewhat his former energy and spirits. He went to bed at 10 o'clock and before midnight awoke in a chill. He fell asleep again, but rested uneasily, finally awakening in another chill more severe than the first one. The doctor gave him injections of morphia and ether, also applying cupping glasses. This treatment was continued until 5 o'clock, when M. Ferry felt relieved and sank into a sound sleep.

Alternations of rallying and sinking continued through the day until 5 o'clock, when he raised himself in his seat, looked at his wife fixedly, and exclaimed, "Save me!" and fell back exhausted. His struggle for breath became agonizing and the physicians injected morphine to relieve him. After a few unintelligible words he fell into a state of comma, which ended in death.

Jules Ferry, who had just been elected President of the French Senate, was born at Saint-Die, in the Vosges, on April 5, 1842, and became a member of the bar in Paris in 1851. He was prominent among the young lawyers who offered constant opposition to Napoleon III., and was condemned at the famous trial of the thirteen in 1864. In 1869 he was elected a member of the Corps Legislatif, and was one of the few members who opposed declaring war against Prussia.

M. Ferry risked his life in putting down the Commune insurrection of Oct. 31, 1870 and presided over the Assembly of Mayors who made the search for bread on Jan. 18, 1871. He was Minister of Public Instruction in Grevy's Cabinet and introduced the famous bill to prohibit Jesuits from teaching or managing schools. This bill was passed and upset the Ministry then in power. On Sep. 19, 1880, he was called upon to form a new Cabinet. His Ministry was soon overcome by the attacks upon the Tunis exposition.

In 1882 M. Ferry was again called upon to form a Cabinet, and he started upon a policy of colonial expansion which proved very costly to France, and resulted in his overthrow in 1884. In 1887 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Presidency, and in December of the same year he narrowly escaped assassination by a madman named Aubertin. In December, 1890, M. Ferry was elected Senator.

The Panama Canal scandal, which broke down so many public men, caused many to turn their eyes again to M. Ferry, who was unsmirched by the developments, and upon the retirement of M. Le Boyer from the Presidency of the Senate last month, M. Ferry was elected President on Feb. 26.

TERRIBLE REVENGE.

A Miner Purposely Explodes a Can of Dynamite—Six Persons Killed.

BERLIN, March 18.—A miner named Boehme purposely exploded ten pounds of dynamite in the iron mine Volkmarskeller, in the Harz district. He and six other miners were torn to atoms.

Upon leaving home this morning Boehme gave his wife a letter which he said was not to be opened until noon. The letter said merely that Boehme would never return.

Boehme's motive is supposed to have been revenge as he had had trouble recently with the superintendent of the mine and was constantly quarreling with his fellow workingmen.

Bank Cashier Whyte Pleaded Guilty.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 18.—Bryce Arthur Whyte, who was a cashier in the Wallabout Bank, at Myrtle and Clinton avenues, and who was arrested on a charge of grand larceny in having embezzled the sum of $1,043 from the bank and indicted by the Grand Jury, was arraigned in the Court of Sessions and pleaded guilty to the indictment and sentence was deferred for one week.

Ex-Consul Smith's Remains Still Unburied

BENNINGTON, Vt., March 18.—The body of Timothy Smith, recently United States Consul to Odessa, Russia, who dropped dead in a Middlebury hotel, Feb. 25, is still unburied. His children, although morally certain that death has really occurred, have kept the remains above ground in deference to their father's wish that he should not be buried until after decomposition had set in.

Senator Hill Has Promised to Go.

TACOMA, Wash., March 18.—It is stated by a prominent Democrat that Senator Hill of New York has accepted the invitation to visit this State in the fall and to address the annual meeting of the Democratic society of Washington. The trip, it is said, will mark the beginning of Senator Hill's Presidential boom for 1896.

Fourteen Austrian Immigrants Fought Against Being Sent Back.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Fourteen Austrian immigrants and a reinforcement of registry clerks and immigration officials generally, have had a lively tussel at Ellis Island. The Austriana arrived here by the steamship La Bretagne last Sunday and were barred as contract laborers. They were going to Holler, Ill., and expected to be there by this time. Instead they had spent several days behind the wire netting of the detention pen at Ellis Island and were in the resisting humor when the day came for their removal to the vessel which would carry them back to their own country.

The Emergency Corps of the Immigration Department gathered round the Austrians and invited them to prepare for removal to the boat which lay at the dock. The Austrians merely shrugged their shoulders. Then a general alarm was sent out and reinforcements appeared on the scene. For ten minutes the detention pen presented a lively spectacle of tearful and struggling foreigners.

The immigrants clung tenaciously to the projecting counters and the waistbands of their enemies. Big bundles of clothing and leather bound hand bags were thrown about and trampled upon and were finally pitched out of the building, together with the resisting Austrians. The entire corps of physicians had gathered to witness the fray, but they were not needed so badly as were the services of a tailor.

Just before the men were put on the boat the largest of the Austrians broke away and fled to the end of the wharf, where he was captured before he was able to jump overboard. They were finally safely landed on La Bretagne.

RACE TRACKS TIED UP.

On Account of Action Brought to Test the Constitutionality of the Law.

TRENTON, N. J., March 18.—Chief Justice Beasley has granted writs of certiorari removing to the Supreme Court the recently enacted race track laws and proceedings taken to secure licenses under such laws at Guttenburg, Gloucester, Elizabeth and Monmouth.

The licenses already procured are accordingly suspended, pending the settlement of the question as to the constitutionality of the new race track laws.

The applications for writs were made by Richard V. Lindabury, of Elizabeth, and John Lanning, of Red Bank, in behalf of the Citizens' League of New Jersey.

In their application they allege that the first law giving power to license is unconstitutional. The second, which legalizes gambling, is claimed to be special legislation because it legislates in favor of one class of race tracks. Besides, the law is unconstitutional.

The third law, which reduces the penalty for pool selling and book making depends on the second and must fall with it.

The case will probably be heard at the next term of the Supreme Court.

TO BREAK THE COMBINE.

Minnesota's Legislature Continues Its Investigations—More Letters Obtained.

ST. PAUL, March 18.—The latest developments in the coal combine sensation tend to confirm the investigating committee in their belief in the existence of such a combine in this city.

In accordance with the order of the committee, the sergeant-at-arms has turned over to the sheriff all the books and papers, except the letter book, which was believed to contain conclusive evidence of the conspiracy.

Later a warrant was served on the sergeant-at-arms citing him to appear before Judge Egan, of the District Court, on a charge of contempt of court in not handing over all the books when ordered to do so yesterday.

Mr. Walsh, of the joint committee, has secured a batch of original letters giving further details of the combine's organization and methods of work, and the committee will soon have them under consideration.

Over $16,000 Lost in the Mail.

AKRON, O., March 18.—A mail pouch, with valuable contents, including drafts amounting to $16,000, which is supposed to have left this city on or about Feb. 23, has mysteriously disappeared while in transit between here and Pittsburg. Post office officials and railroad companies are both unable to throw any light on the disappearance, though an inspector has been at work on the case for a week.

Gardner Bailed.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, heard counsel for Agent Charles W. Gardner, of the Society for the Suppression of Crime, on the question of admitting the latter to bail pending his appeal for a new trial. Mrs. Gardner is in delicate health, and her husband desires to be with her. Judge Ingraham decided the matter in his favor, and he was released on $7,500 bail.

Iron Mills Reduce Wages.

PITTSBURG, March 18.—The employes of the Elba iron works have been notified of a general reduction of wages to take effect next Monday. In the puddling department wages will be reduced from $5.50 to $5 per ton. The plant has been operated since last June with non-union men. The reduction will affect 400 men. The men show their dissatisfaction.

Smallpox Closes a School.

A case of smallpox has been discovered here. The patient is a 14-year-old son of John Murnane, a saloon keeper. The house and saloon have been quarantined, and St. John's Parochial school, which the lad attended, has been ordered closed.

Heavy Blast in the Palisades.

FORT LEE, N. J., March 18.—A tremendous blast yesterday displaced 100,000 tons of rock. Washington's Head, an old landmark between Fort Lee and Coytesville and about 200 feet of the Palisades were torn away by the blast.

Sues for Defamation of Character.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Bronson Howard, the dramatist, has retained counsel here to bring suit for defamation of character against those who have charged that his play, "Aristocracy," was a plagiarism. He says he wants to have the law protecting dramatists from such attacks defined by the courts.

Clothing Cutters' Strike.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Clothing Cutters' Union started a series of strikes yesterday, which, if persisted in, is likely to cause a lockout of about 800 cutters by the Clothing Manufacturers' Association next week, and this will have the effect of throwing between 6,000 and 7,000 tailors out of work.

Declines the Position.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Representative Rogers, of Arkansas, whose friends endeavored to have Mr. Cleveland select him for the Attorney-Generalship, has refused the tender of the Assistant Attorney-Generalship for the Interior Department. He is a candidate for the office of Solicitor-General.

BURNING UNDER THEM

The Coal Mines at Honey Brook on Fire.

FEARS FOR NEIGHBORING MINES

The Mines Have Been Slowly Burning for Months, but Now the Situation is Growing Serious—Surface of the Ground Becoming Hot—Great Fissures Run Through the Town from Which Gas and Vapors Are Escaping—Millions of Dollars Imperiled.

HONEY BROOK, Pa., March 18.—The Honey Brook mine, operated by the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company is on fire again. It is several months since fire was discovered in this mine. It was said several times that the fire was out. At no time, however, was it thought to be of any consequence.

The present outbreak shows that it is alarmingly extensive. The surface near the stripping is so hot that water flowing over it is immediately dried up. Work on the strippings will soon have to be abandoned.

Grave apprehension is felt for the surrounding mines. Within a radius of three miles the veins known as the Wharton, Buck Mountain and Mammouth are worked by different companies. Should the fire spread to any of these the loss will be immense.

Millions of dollars' worth of coal property is imperiled. The peculiarity of the fire is that its origin is a mystery. It burned so rapidly at first that the timbers supporting the slope gave way, closing that opening before an investigation could be made. Every effort made since then to gain access

The village of Honey Brook, which is directly over the mine, is menaced by a collapse of the earth. Fissures run through the town. They have been caused by a settlement of the earth after the closing of the slope.

These cracks serve as chimneys for the escape of the gas accumulating in the interior. So thick are the vapors that on several occasions it was impossible to see any distance. The people of Honey Brook are in a state of terror.

THE BOMB EXPLOSION.

Not Intended for Minister Potter—No One Injured.

ROME, March 18.—A bomb exploded in the Ancini Mattei Palace, the residence of United States Minister Potter, at 6:30 this morning.

The palace was engaged by Mr. Potter in December last as his official residence during his term of service.

The explosion of the bomb did only slight damage to the building, and nobody was injured.

The Ancini Mattei Palace is a notably beautiful structure, blending ancient and modern art. All sorts of surmises are afloat in regard to the affair, but nothing definite has yet been ascertained.

Minister Potter called at the Foreign Office in the afternoon and told Signor Brin, Minister of Foreign Affairs, that he was convinced that the explosion was not intended to injure him or to affront the United States.

He assured Signor Brin of the sympathy of the United States and of its willingness to let the affair pass unnoticed.

Signor Brin thanked him for his visit, and two hours later returned the call to inform him that the Italian government felt the deepest regret on account of the inconvenience caused to him and his family by the explosion.

All sorts of surmises are afloat as to the affair, but nothing definite has yet been ascertained.

IN MARCH, APRIL, MAY.

Leading New York Clergymen Advise the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

NEW YORK, March 17—Says a writer in the World:

There is no body of men, taken as a class who devote greater attention to matters of public interest than the preachers of New York city, no matter of what denomination. Brought into contact with almost every phase of life and witnessing scenes of varied character, there are few matters of importance which escape their attention; so constant and stirring are their labors that very few are the preachers who do not suffer from overwork, nervous troubles and other ailments that rise from too much brain work, care and anxiety. The newspapers have recently had much to say about this overworking of our city ministers, which has caused the retirement of several prominent clergymen; with a view to discovering the truth of these statements a reporter called on some well-known pastors and interviewed them concerning the matter.

Bishop Alexander Walters of the A. M. E. church, said: "I am a sufferer from dyspepsia, and have been so for years; the doctors tell me that in my case it is hereditary; I know that it has caused me a great deal of misery, and it has interfered with my work to a great extent, because if a man is not well physically, he cannot labor for other people's spiritual welfare; I have had occasion to use some of Paine's celery compound, and was surprised at its effects; it is, without doubt, the best medicine I ever used, and is capable of curing even so severe a case as mine; it has my unqualified indorsement.

Rev. A. K. Sanford, pastor of the 35th street M. E. church, was out when the reporter called at his residence, 343 West 23d street, but Mrs. Sanford made the following statement in her husband's behalf: "During the past year Mr. Sanford has had a vast amount of extra work to do; the regular labors of his church are severe enough, but he was so anxious to accomplish a great deal that he undertook to do more than he was really able to do; the natural consequence was that he at last found himself in a poor state of health his nerver overwrought and his sleep disturbed; he felt completely run down; he rarely takes any medicine, but the merits of Paine's celery compound were so well known to him that he decided to use it as a means of restoring his health; it certainly did do that, and I have heard him speak very often of how much good he received from using it; we feel very grateful that such a remedy was at hand and shall ever praise it."

Rev. H. L. Granlienard, pastor of the French Presbyterian church, who lives at 143 West 16th st., was leaving his house when the reporter called; he said, however: "I have freequently been relieved of nervous affections by the use of Paine's celery compound; I think it is a most reliable remedy and shall recommend it wherever I have an oppostunity."

Rev. R. D. Winn, pastor of the Abyssinian church, who was seen at his residence No. 263 west 16th st., said: "My career as a minister of the Gospel has been hampered by the fact that for years I suffered from nervousness; three years ago I had an attack of nervous prostration that was so severe that I had to take an extended vacation and undergo rigid treatment in an endeavor to regain my health; I consulted several specialists, who treated my case for months, but I must say that during the past few weeks I have received more benefit from one bottle of Paine's celery compound than all the other medicines taken; I consider the compound to be a very fine remedy, and will spread among my congregation and other friends the report of my experience with it."

The words of these gentlemen should be of the greatest value to all readers; they show that even with the great and wearing strains of life health and strength can be preserved by a constant use of the right aid; the great nerve food above named has done more to bring about this state of things than anything before known, and its popularity is only natural.

What the New York clergymen say today has been said time and again by equally as prominent men elsewhere; the case of Rev. C. J. Budlong of Rhode Island, who was cured of insomnia by the use of Paine's celery compound, is fresh in the minds of newspaper readers, and the following letter from Rev. J. G. Laird, of London, Ont., whose portrait is given above, is of special interest;

"Having received great benefit from the use of Paine's celery compound, it affords pleasure to give my testimony in favor of its beneficial results; six years ago this spring I was prostrated with nervous debility; I was then closing my 38th year in the active work of the ministry in the Methodist church; suddenly I became so prostrated that I was forced to resign my charge; I could not sleep, was afraid to be left alone and could not refrain from shedding tears when speaking to any person; my kidneys, liver and stomach became weakened, so that I was a helpless invalid

"For about two years I tried everything I could hear of, such as magnetism, electricity, Clifton Springs, etc., and applied to several physicians, but obtained no relief; about four years ago a friend brought me a bottle of Paine's celery compound; I experienced some benefit from its use; I got some more and soon realized great benefit from it; soon I slept well, my organs and nervous system became restored and my dread of being alone was removed.

"I still continue to use it; if I go from home, to guard against sleeplessness, I take a supply with me; I do not expect to be made young again, as I am in my 69th year, but I am a very different man compared with what I was four or five years ago; had I known of this remedy when first afflicted with nervousness, my conviction is that, with the Divine blessing, I would not yet be on the list of retired ministers."

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Another name is added to Hulett's list to-day.

—Window shades are offered at "special" prices at Edsall's.

—"E. E. L." also, sends $2 for the relief of John Roulston of Scotch Plains.

—The Young Workers will organize at the First Church of Christ Monday night at 7:45.

—George Smock says he will not part with his property at Park avenue and Seventh street.

—Seats now on sale for Monday evening at Music Hall, John T. Kelly's second appearance.

—The A. O. H. ball last night was a highly enjoyable affair, largely attended and a great success.

—The first annual coupons of Park Club bonds due March 1 are being paid at the First National Bank.

—Sebring, the clothier, of Park avenue, is displaying a large assortment of new spring overcoats, at $10, $12 and $15.

—Bicycles and furniture, either new or second-hand, may be bought of R. Frucht, 68 72 East Front street, who also has bicycles to rent.

—The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church will have a "silver offering" entertainment at 131 Central avenue, April 4, from 6 to 9.

—Mr. Paff of Scotch Plains says that if he is appointed postmaster he will not remove the office from its present convenient location.

—The trunk department of U. B. Crane, hatter, at his new stand, 12 West Front street, covers over one thousand square feet, and is stocked with all grades at lowest prices.

—If you are out to-night for a pair of shoes, Doane & Edsall's is the place to go in order to get a proper fit, as they keep the assortment, and their prices are always the lowest.

—The regular meeting of the Exempt Firemen's association will be held in their rooms to-night at 8. Business of importance will come up, including nomination of officers and "the Wrens".

—Union county was well represented in the St. Patrick's parade in Newark, by Divisions, 2, 3 and 5. County Delegate Casey had the right of line and headed the county delegation. It was a grand affair, and Mr. Casey's delegation did themselves proud.

—When the Princeton mandolin club plays "Les Patineurs" (the skaters), next Tuesday night at Music Hall, you will think you see the gleam of the ice and hear the "zi-ip" of the skaters' steel. That is, if you have secured your seats. "Do n't miss it."

—The common council will meet next Monday night to consider the sewerage question. The sewerage committee will report in favor of the filtration plan as already detailed in these columns. The scheme will be a great public benefit, and should be pushed through to consummation.

—White's millinary opening, which takes place next Tuesday, promises to be one of the events of the season, as he has spared neither pains nor expense to make it the most successful; and it being his first spring millinery opening, everything will be of the latest quality and style.

—The second engagement of John T. Kelly at Music Hall, Monday evening, in his latest success, "McFee of Dublin", promises to be highly entertaining. The play is said to be brimful of interesting and amusing situations, and Mr. Kelly assumes the title role with all the versatility he is known to possess as an Irish comedian.

—Farce comedy, that popular style of dramatic entertainment, will hold forth at Music Hall, Monday evening, when John T. Kelly, the popular Irish comedian, will appear again in his latest farcical success, "McFee of Dublin", a collaborated effort of the comedian and Chas. T. Vincent. The special claim made by the joint authors for this skit is that it possesses a plot—something that is lacking in the conventional farce comedy of the day.

TRADESMEN WANT THEIR MONEY.

Actor Harry Gwynett Tries to Skip from Netherwood.

Long before daylight last Monday morning four heavily-loaded trucks that men had been working all night to load left the house at Netherwood occupied by Harry Gwynett, the actor. A few hours later butcher Woodruff of Westfield heard that the goods and chattels of his former customer were en route for New York city. Mr. Woodruff hated to see the goods go away, as he had been to the house so often with meat that the furniture had become dear to him, and in an hour he was on the way to Jersey City with a regular attachment for it. The vans were stopped as they were about to go on the ferryboat. Mrs. Gwynett was notified of the state of affairs and the case was placed before a justice of the peace in Jersey City. Mrs. Gwynett refused to pay Mr. Woodruff's claim and the justice directed the constable to take the goods back to Union county, and they were returned to Westfield Wednesday in charge of a constable. Yesterday two more attachments were placed on the goods by merchants who had bills owing them, and it is rumored that more claims are to come. Mr. Gwynett has been living at George Taylor's old home, corner of Belvidere and South avenues.

A Plainfield Printing-Machine Maker Enjoined.

Judge Green, in the United States circuit court held at Trenton yesterday, issued an order restraining Walter Scott, the Plainfield printing-machine manufacturer, from selling or shipping machines containing infringements of patents held by the Hoe Printing Press company, of New York. The order holds good until the final hearing of the arguments in the September term of court.

FIRE-BUGS AGAIN.

SCOTCH PLAINS STILL SUFFERING FROM INCENDIARISM.

Trano & Ryno's Blacksmith Shop Destroyed—William Messler Arrested on Suspicion—Larry Wallace Again Unfortunate.

The villagers of Scotch Plains are still excited over incendiarism. Fire of suspicious origin again visited the heart of the village at 1:30 this morning, and William Messler is a prisoner under suspicion of being implicated in its outbreak.

This morning's fire burned to the ground William Trano's blacksmith shop. All of his tools were destroyed. Wheelwright Andrew Ryno also lost his implements, he having occupied the same shop. The building was situated on Park avenue, and was owned by Robert Murphy.

Allen's livery stable stands within a few feet of it. A friendly north wind and the excellent work of No. 1 engine was the means of saving the stable. No. 1 engine is the old Gazelle of Plainfield. The "old Veteran" seemed to be imbued with her old-time vigor. He valves had recently been put in working order by master mechanic Mooney.

William Messler and Lawrence Wallace were seen early around the fire, acting in a manner considered suspicious. Messler was arrested and brought to the Plainfield lock-up by constable Hezekiah Hand this morning for safe keeping.

Messler emphatically denies guilt. Wallace is the man out on bail on the charge of causing previous fires. He may be rearrested.

The reflection of the Scotch Plains fire caused an alarm to be sounded in North Plainfield. First the old Warren bell was rung, then district No. 9 was sounded on the borough gong.

The blowing of the borough alarm was almost at the same time as that of the city for the Poilon fire. The coincidence caused much speculation among the people awakened. The recalls, some time later, were similarly coincident.

Messler was sent to Elizabeth to-day, in default of $300 bail. Justice Nash will give him a hearing Friday.

A POLICEMAN'S LUCKY APPETITE.

It Was the Means of Timely Discovery of the Poilon Fire.

Fire broke out this morning, about 1:30, at the residence of J. J. H. Poilon, corner of Putnam and Kensington avenues. The fire started in the conservatory, and was caused by one of the oil stoves in use for heating purposes. The stove became overheated, and the oil in the reservoir caught fire, communicating the blaze to the wall against which it stood. The glass was cracked by the heat, and the draught admitted by the open panes caused the wall to burn brightly, attracting the attention of policeman Mattox, who chanced to be passing the house. He rang the bell and awoke the inmates, and then sounded the alarm from box 27. Several men from neighboring houses arrived on the scene, and tried to put out the fire before the engines arrived. Extinguishers of the department finished the work. The injury was confined to the conservatory. Its contents, including many valuable ferns and palms, were almost entirely ruined. Mr. and Mrs. Poilon are at Spring Lake.

Had it not been for the lucky chance that brought policeman Mattox by the house at the moment the fire showed itself, the damage might have been great. Mattox was previously stationed in the part of town near Mr. Poilon's house, but was recently transferred to the boulevard section. Last night he felt very hungry and decided to go to his house in Webster place to get something to eat, as none of the restaurants in town was open at that hour. It was while on his way home that he saw the fire and gave the alarm. Putnam avenue at present is entirely unprotected. It would seem that either the police force is too small or that the distribution of the officers is badly arranged, for to leave without night protection a district that is as thickly built up as is this is certainly courting fire and burglary.

HE STOLE NOTHING.

Not Even Tempted by Damsels on a Straw Ride.

A mock trial was held by the High School Lyceum yesterday afternoon at 3:30 in Assembly hall. Arthur Serrell was the prisoner at the bar, charged with stealing two silver spoons valued at $50. Counsel for the defence was Chas. B. Fernald and Clinton Crane; the prosecutor was Oscar Campbell. The prosecutor made out a very good and amusing case against Mr. Serrell, and tried to prove that this was not his first offence. In cross-examining one of the witnesses, he asked if Mr. Serrell had ever been out all night. Witness said yes.

Mr. Campbell:—What was the occasion?

Witness:—A straw ride.

Mr. Campbell:—Were there any young ladies present?

Witness:—Oh yes.

Mr. Campbell (with fine scorn):—And do you mean to tell me that the prisoner was on a straw ride at night with young ladies in the party and did not steal anything?

In spite of this telling blow to the defence, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. Harry C. Runyon was the efficient judge.

To Replenish the Sick Fund.

The sick fund of the Firemen's Relief association has been getting low, through paying so many benefits for the numerous cases of illness caused by the bad weather; and to replenish it the association is arranging a benefit entertainment. To that end they have secured the famous "Wrens", who will appear in Reform Hall, April 4. The cause being such a worthy one, and the show so good, hearty support should be given. The committee in charge is composed of Alexander Titsworth, Auguste Saltzman, Andrew Jennings, Guillermo Thorn, J. A. Hubbard, William Harding and Daniel W. Littell.

MAUD HOWE AS A LECTURER.

She Repeats in New York the Reading First Given in Plainfield.

Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, sister of Mrs. David P. Hall of this city, and a well-known figure in literary and social circles, made her first public appearance as a lecturer in Plainfield a short time ago, and repeated that lecture in Daly's theater every day this week. The subject was "Through Darkest England with Booth", and it is described by the New York papers as a most interesting dramatic and panoramic lecture, which had the added charms of the lecturer's magnetic personality and sympathetic style of delivery.

In one hour and a half Mrs. Elliott gave her auditors a clear insight into the workings of the Salvation Army and a graphic description of the London slums in all their horrors, where the army carries on a work that Mrs. Elliott said no other element could in elevating their unfortunate inmates. They were beyond the reach of the churches and of the cultivating influences of Toynbee Hall and the People's Palace of Pleasure. Yet the Salvation Army did a noble work among them, as illustrated in a clergyman's epigram: "While the churches can but lift up their hands heavenward to help these people, the Salvation Army fears not to put its hands in the mire to lift them up."

Mrs. Elliott gave a minute description of the life the Army leads, the surroundings it has, and told pathetic incidents that she saw when she inspected the slums with Mrs. Bramhall Booth. The audience, in fact, learned more of the London Salvation Army from this lecture than from the best published accounts available.

INTERESTING DEBATE.

The Newspapers Victorious as Usual—Everybody Wants Them.

The debate on newspapers that was announced in these columns Thursday took place last night in Vincent chapel. It was held under the auspices of the Epworth League. The question in debate was whether or not newspapers were a public benefit. Leaders for the affirmative were Oscar Campbell and Charles Angleman, while those in the negative were Arthur Crone and Clarence Smith. The negative debaters made a very amusing case against the newspapers, but there was more wit than logic in their attacks, and their arguments were easily overthrown by the defence. The question was put to vote of the audience after the debate, and the result was largely in favor of the defenders of the press.

PARTICULAR MENTION

Mrs. A. DeCamp, of Chester, spent Friday and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Force of Duer street.

James Maynard, father of Edwin B., is very ill with pneumonia. As he is more than 70 years old, it is feared the attack will be fatal.

F. M. Hulett will dine at Delmonico's to-night, the occasion being the annual dinner given by manager Jack Haynes to Starr piano men.

"She Loved Her Mother-in-Law" and "For His Sake Only" will be the Rev. Mr. Richardson's themes to-morrow. There is not any connection between the two.

J. Finley Layton, age 61, died at Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 16, after three days' illness. He was a son of the late John Layton, for many years a resident of Plainfield.

An anthem, "O taste and see that the Lord is gracious", composed by W. E. MacClymont, organist at the Baptist church, will be sung by the choir of the Church of the Holy Cross to-morrow.

"McFee of Dublin" has been the greatest success of John T. Kelly's long professional career. His business this season has been better than ever before. He will play it for the second time this season at Music Hall Monday evening.

Mrs. M. C. VanArsdale and children left town on Thursday for Greenwich, Conn., where Mr. VanArsdale has established one of the finest shoe stores in the place, and is already doing a prosperous business. Every citizen of Plainfield will heartily indorse him as a reliable and trustworthy man to deal with.

Jacob Ostrom, the last surviving child of Capt. William B. Ostrom, of this city, died in New York yesterday of pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at 6 East 126th street, New York, to-morrow afternoon at 3. This son is the eighth child to be laid at rest beside the mother in Greenwood cemetery.

Florrie West is making her usual hit as "Molly", in John T. Kelly's new comedy, "McFee of Dublin". She is a clever comedienne, and as a danseuse is remarkably graceful and pleasing. She wears a lot of handsome costumes in this piece, and is so attractive that the audiences can hardly see too much of her.

Death of an Old Jersey Slave.

Louis Carrol, an aged colored man, died at the house of overseer-of-the-poor J. Wallace Cox at Westfield, Thursday morning. He had been a town charge for twelve years. Just how old Carrol was no one seemed to know, not even himself, but he often said he was "very near a hundred", and his appearance seemed to verify such a statement.

Carrol came to Westfield as a slave in the family of Dr. Osborne many years ago, when only a few houses marked the site of the now flourishing town. He was freed from bondage long before the late war, but, having become attached to his master's family, continued in their service for many years. He left them at last and branched out for himself, working at odd jobs about town until a dozen years ago, when his great age and a spinal disease, which bent him almost double, made it impossible for him to toil longer, and the town took care of him. The name of Carrol he inherited from some forefather who had undoubtedly assumed the name of his Southern master.

—A song service will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms to-night.

Plainfield's 400, Including Yourself

Are cordially invited to the 5 and 10c. store to see the wonder of modern times in a sewing machine, two machines in one, making either a chain stitch or a lock stitch, the chain stitch without the shuttle and the lock stitch with. Hemmers, tucking, ruffling, shirring, quilting, binding, felling and braiding attachments are given free with each machine, along with the looper, which makes the chain stitch and the Domestic machine without a rival; old machines taken in exchange, big inducements for cash, or terms easy. We think if you see the Domestic you will take no other. Will you call and get circular? Our counters and shelves are now being loaded with the latest and best in all kinds of Housefurnishings in Crockery, Tin, and Woodenware, Lamps and Glassware, Toys, Games, etc., and if we can get a portion of your trade we will try to please by giving perfect goods, no seconds, and quoting prices that cannot be approached by other houses.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

Further Facts Why Plainfield Should Have a Good System Speedily.

The contamination of drinking water is oftentimes very insidious and difficult of detection. Ammoniacal water is unusually clear and sparkling, and to those who have become accustomed to its use no offence to the taste presents itself. Such people invariably declare that their wells are exceptionally good; they have really acquired a distaste for uncontaminated water.

Thomas Dowd, the well-known contractor, of North Plainfield, illustrates this point from his own experience. While engaged in some work in a Long Island town he had occasion to drink at one of its wells. The owner considered it a very fine well, but Mr. Dowd thought he detected a taste of the common town poison, and he so stated. The statement was incredulously, not to say indignantly, met; but the subject weighed so on Mr. Dowd's conscience that he caused one of his men to procure a hundred-pound bag of salt and to pour it by stealth into the cesspool on the premises. The owner of the well came on the following day to Mr. Dowd to consult him as to his well. It had become so brackish, he said, he could not use it. Explanations followed, and that cesspool was abolished.

The books are full of European cases of soil pollution; we need not, however, cite far away evidence. On Thursday evening of last week the New York Academy of Medicine met, Dr. D.B. St. John Roosa being in the chair, and in the house participating in the discussion were Drs. E. G. Janeway, A. Jacobi, J. W. Roosevelt, and many others eminent in this profession. Dr. T. Cheeseman read a paper, from which we quote:

"That water in the vicinity of vuults and cesspools is polluted has been proved beyond question. How far the contents of a vault may spread through the soil I will illustrate by an extract from a report of the board of health of the city of Minneapolis. The health officer was asked to examine the soil of an excavation 45 by 150 feet and 12 feet deep, upon which a building was to be erected.

"He found in the centre the site of an old vault and cesspool, and for the entire distance each way the ground was saturated with ill-smelling filth. How far beyond these limits the pollution continued it was impossible to state, but the water taken from a well nearly 200 feet distant was putrid."

In closing he said: "If cholera comes to this country in the spring or summer, as is extremely probable, scattering cases are just as apt to occur among persons using the closets which empty directly or indirectly into our drinking water as anywhere else. Infection of the Croton water with the germs of Asiatic cholera may produce such consequences that no measures known to science could prevent a great calamity, no matter how well equipped the Board of Health might be, or how well able to control the spread of the disease from personal contact".

The statements and conclusions of Dr Cheeseman were accepted by the Academy without dissent, and a committee headed by Dr. Janeway was appointed to go to Albany for the purpose of presenting their views of the dangers that beset the Croton basin, and therefore of the people of New York.

If these men dread the effects of a single cesspool at Brewster, forty miles away—forty miles of open running water—what, think you, would they say of three thousand five hundred cesspools among an almost equal number of wells, many of them shallow—all resting, wells and cesspools alike, in a bed of coarse gravel.

These men, we may be sure, would not expect the saving intervention of a continuous miracle. They would not expect organic impurities once placed in that bed of gravel, to mysteriously disappear. They would expect such impurities to accumulate rather than to take unto themselves wings—to intensify in power for evil rather than to act as a cleansing agent in that bed of gravel.

These learned and scientific men of wide and sound experience would, it may confidently be asserted, look for the effect of these cesspools in cases of otherwise unexplained loss of vigor, of alleged malaria and the like; and they would be apt to look to the same quarter for an explanation of the rising tide of zymotic diseases in this naturally healthful basin—of the twenty deaths, more or less, on account of one dread disease in the two Plainfields since the first day of November.

Plainfield Women Exhibit Their Art-Treasures Handiwork.

Mrs. Robert A. Meeker, the efficient directress of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Trinity Reformed church, conducted a most attractive art exhibition in Mr. Griffin's studio yesterday. Not as many were present as there should have been, but all enjoyed the very fine exhibition of the admirable work of Mr. Griffin and of his many pupils. Quite a sum was realized for the mission fund of the Junior society.

THE RECTOR JENNINGS AFFAIR.

His Enemies Say the Appeal to the Supreme Court May Be Dismissed.

(From The World.)

Since Rector J. B. Jennings took his case before the Supreme Court at Trenton last week and obtained a writ of certiorari from Chief Justice Beasley, he seems to have got himself into a worse predicament than ever. Notionly will he now have to fight his own vestry, but having sworn when he was ordained a rector to abide by all decisions of the ecclesiastical courts, he has by this last act angered the officials in the New Jersey diocese of the Episcopal church. He has been ordered to leave his parish by the highest church courts and having appealed from their decision to the civil courts he has stirred up a hornets' nest.

No action has yet been taken by the Supreme Court in his case, but each member of the vestry has received a copy of the writ served to Mr. Jennings, across the face of which was written by the Chief Justice: "Allowed on terms that motion to dismiss may be made at any branch court on two days' notice". The vestry's counsel will probably move to have the case transferred to Newark and will make a motion early next week to have the matter dismissed.

Bishop Scarborough maintains that the vestry has acted within its canon all along and that the case will be dismissed on argument. If the courts decide against Mr. Jennings the church may refuse to pay his back salary and he will have to sue for it.

His Watch Dog Was No Good.

Peter Kline, of North Branch, keeps a country store where one can buy anything from a shoe string to a barrel of molasses. He does a good business, and lives next door to the store. Every evening the farmers living around North Branch congregate in Kline's store and tell stories around the store until about 9, when they go to roost. On Thursday night Mr. Kline closed the store and went home. He slept soundly during the night. When he visited the store early yesterday morning he found that it had been broken into during the night and several hundred dollars worth of goods stolen. Shoes, groceries, cigars and a small sum of money in the drawer, were missing. Investigation showed that the robber or robbers had effected an entrance by forcing the catch on one of the rear windows and then raising the sash. A most thorough overhauling had been given the whole stock, and the most valuable of the goods taken.

Goods that were not deemed worth taking were strewn around the floor. In one corner of the store was found a small iron jimmy and a dark lantern. Mr. Kline keeps a dog, but on this night he made no noise whatever, so the robbers must have worked very quietly. Mr. Kline loses about $400 in goods and money.

Local police officers attempted to trace the burglars, but no clue of them can be found. Since that time every farmer in North Branch has loaded his shot-gun, and midnight marauders will meet with a warm reception.

Plainfield Talent in Amateur Theatricals.

Society people of New York were given a genuine treat, Thursday night, in the initial production, before a fashionable Madison avenue gathering, of "A Previous Engagement", a charming play written by Miss Geraldine Wioslow Anthony of this city. The leading part, Mrs. VanDyne, was admirably filled by the accomplished authoress herself. Charles Noe Daly, well known in this city and elsewhere for his versatile cleverness, was an incomparable Augustus Van Dyne. Miss Helen E. Stone made of the part Miss Delancy a most lovable creation. Paul Oscanyan and Porter Stone capably filled the respective parts of Jack Highgate and Buttons. The performance was a great success.

Surprised.

A surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. James D. Anderson, of Manning avenue, Thursday evening. Among those present were Miss Jesse Cresse, of Newark, Miss Jennie Holden, Miss Rose Becker and Mr. Gallagher, of Raritan, Miss Sadie Emmons, of New Germantown, Miss Green, Miss Schenck, the Misses Wikoff, Miss VanWinkle, Mrs. Green, and Messrs. Angleman, McVoy, Barber, F. Wikoff, Westphal, Lou Bird, Williams, Harvey Dayton, D. VanWinkle and others from Plainfield. During the evening Miss Cresse favored the company with a recitation, which was much enjoyed by all present. The time passed very pleasantly.

More Costly Than Anticipated.

The fire committee of the common council last night opened bids for the proposed new fire building. The lowest bids footed up a total of $8,000. The acceptance of architect Fosgate's plans was dependent on the stipulation that the cost would be within $7,000. Mr. Fosgate insists that he knows of builders (for instance, those working at Garwood) who will agree to erect the engine-house for that sum. The committee is considering how to amend the plans so as to save expense without impairing the completeness of the arrangements.

BOWLING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

Brave Struggle of Pin Knights Against Skirt Dancers' Fascinations.

Last night the Park club and the Country club met on the bowling alleys of the latter institution. The engagement resulted in a victory for the Parks, with a margin of 92 pins.

The fact that a spectacular burlesque was going on at Music Hall, made it rather difficult to get the teams together, but a compromise was effected by the great head of one of the Park club players, and the game was rolled in sections, the players while not rolling, rushing to the theatre and enjoying glimpses of skirt dancers and tantalizing widows, and then running back to their share of work on the alleys.

"Shake" Shouts:

"It so falls out that what we have we prize not to the worth while it is ours." Shakespeare evidently intended that to apply to people who are careless about their eyesight. Prize yours at its worth by going to Collier's and having your eyes tested. It will cost you nothing to find out if they are all right or not.

Stood the Test.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are unapproachable in curative properties, rapidity and safety of action, and are the only reliable plasters ever produced. They have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of ALCOCK'S by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as ALCOCK'S," and they stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

What Power or Influence Stayed Her Hand?

Why Could She Not Burn the Book As She Twice Tried To Do.

Certainly This Is the Most Singular and Remarkable Letter.

Following is one of the strangest of letters. It is from the poetess and author, Mrs. F. Heisten, who resides at 464 Bedford ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"One day my door-bell rang. I managed to go down stairs to answer it. On opening the door, I found on the step a pamphlet. I picked it up, went back upstairs and lain it aside not having life or energy to care to read it. I read very little else but the Bible, at that time, I was so sick. I was only just alive.

"I had tried different doctors, each telling me I had a different disease, till I was discouraged of ever being well again. For three long years this had lasted. I could not eat, sleep or rest day or night. At times when I would lie down it seemed as if cords drew my head backward. My back, head and sides felt at times as if they would come apart. My memory was nearly gone. God only knows what and how I suffered! Many times, night and day when I would lie down I felt as if I should never get up again.

"One day I started to make a fire; the pamphlet lay in sight, I took it to use, and as I went to put it in the stove, it seemed a hand pulled my sleeve, and I could not do so. I again attempted to burn it, and again it seemed as though a hand pulled me back. As I had been feeling very much worse, as if I would die, in fact, so nervous and trembling, my head aching, I composed myself enough to read it. It was a pamphlet advertising Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I became so interested in what I read that I decided to use this remedy

"In one half hour after beginning its use, I felt a change for the better. That night I slept, the first night in months I continued to use it and now, thank God, I am well and enjoy good health. I wish all that suffer would use this wonderful medicine, for withgut it I should have been dead."

The above remarkable cure will influence thousands to use this wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. This is the season of the year when everybody needs a spring medicine, and all who are ailing or who are out of order from spring debility can be immediately made well and strong by this great remedy. Doctors recommend it highly. It is purely vegetable and harmless, indeed it is the prescription and discovery of a physician, Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, of 35 W. 14th St., New York.

He can be consulted free personally or by letter.

THE ISABELLA SOUVENIR COINS.

The Design Has Been Completed by the Lady Managers of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The design for the Isabella silver souvenir coins, granted by Congress to the Board of Lady Managers, and of which 40,000 are to be minted, has been completed.

It bears the portrait of Isabella, of Spain, and is to be of the denomination of 50 cents. It is the first coin minted by the authority of the United States in recognition of the power and influence of the women citizens.

It is probable that the coins will command a high premium, the officers of the board having already declined to consider an offer of $1 each for the entire issue.

PROLONGED DROUGHT IN AFRICA.

No Rainfall in Five Months—Sickness and Death Prevail.

CAIRO, March 18.—Prolonged drought is causing much damage in the North of Africa. There has been no rain fall in the vilayet of Barca for five months, and Tripoli has suffered almost as badly.

Famine and sickness is rife and the plague prevails everywhere, due to the poisonous emanations from putrefying carcasses.

One-half of the population of Benghazi, the chief town of Barca, are dead, among the victims being the Governor and Cadi of the district and many Europeans.

The Italian Consul and the rest of the rich Europeans have fled to Egypt or Malta.

Canadians Fooled by a Yankee.

MONTREAL, March 18.—A smart Yankee speculator has just played a sharp trick on the Canadian firms dealing in hair cloth. He came over to St. Catherines, Ont., and purchased the stock and output for some weeks to come of the only mill in the Dominion engaged in the manufacture of hair cloth. He then bought up all the hair cloth in Toronto, Hamilton and Montreal, some of the dealers selling in excess of their stock for future delivery. When these dealers placed their orders with the mill they were informed that the output was sold, and that the price had gone up 25 per cent., so they had to settle with the speculator at the difference.

Raided a Fat Rendering Establishment.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 18.—The Newtown Health Board, headed by Health Officer Wickham, Supervisor Heig and Town Clerk Robinson, and assisted by a gang of 30 Italians, raided a fat rendering establishment on the Old Island Mill road and destroyed the machinery. The building, which was finished on Wednesday last was rendered useless for further work of this kind.

TO PREVENT A BOYCOTT

Ann Arbor Officials Get Out an Injunction.

CHIEF ARTHUR SUED FOR DAMAGES

The Fight Now on Between the Toledo & Ann Arbor Road and Its Engineers Becoming More Serious—Engineers on Other Roads Threaten to Strike—All Roads Accept Freight.

TOLEDO, March 18.—After long days of arbitration for the adjustment of the differences between the management of the Ann Arbor railroad and the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen, the strike continues. The situation now is one of great gravity.

The powers of the United States Court have again been called into exercise in the trouble.

At Detroit Judge Taft, on the application of H. W. Ashley, manager of the Ann Arbor road, granted a temporary injunction restraining Chiefs Arthur and Sargeant from ordering a general strike of railroad employes, or in any way inciting a boycott against the Ann Arbor.

This order has been served on the Brotherhood leaders, and created no small surprise among the strikers. It is made returnable on March 27, when Arthur and Sargeant will be obliged to appear before the Federal Court in this city and show cause why they should not be so restrained permanently.

A second surprise was sprung upon Chief Arthur when he was served with the papers in a suit filed by the Ann Arbor company, wherein it seeks to recover in the sum of $300,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by certain alleged acts of his. When seen Chief Arthur had only this to say:

"I propose to obey the laws."

The commercial feature of the strike is unchanged. Freight was offered by the Ann Arbor to the Pennsylvania and Wheeling and Erie roads, the former taking 60 cars without any objection on the part of its employes.

The Wheeling has not yet moved any of its consignment, and it is reported that the engineers on that road will refuse to handle it.

Chiefs Arthur and Sargeant have left the city, leaving the management of the strike in the hands of a local committee.

The officials of the Ann Arbor are assuming the aggressive, and the other roads are in sympathy with them. It is reasonable to suppose that Toledo's 21 roads will experience great trouble within the next few days.

The situation is critical for railroad men, as a general World's Fair strike all over the country may cause.

Murder on Board a Coal Barge.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 18.—Joseph B. Dundere, captain of the coal barge Allendown, shot and killed John Cross, a boatman, on board the Amentown into Jamesburg Basin. Cross is 18 years old, and lives at Lancaster, Pa. He surrendered to the police at daybreak and informed them of the tragedy. Dundere says that Cross boarded the barge at 8 o'clock, and was allowed to sleep on the floor. Near midnight he saw Cross trying to break open a trunk. A struggle ensued, and Cross, he says, was shot in self defense.

Fair Contractor Wants $148,000 Extra.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Contractor Frank Agnew has astonished the World's Fair directors by putting in a bill for $148,000 for extras in the construction of the big Manufacturers' building. The directory is now considering the bill and will probably refuse to grant any portion of the bill. The extras are for damages to the walls by by winds, an advance in the price of lumber and extra work not in the contract.

Decorated Beauregard's Grave.

NEW ORLEANS, March 18.—An incident which will not soon be forgotten by the men "who wore the Gray," occurred here at noon. The ladies and gentlemen of the Charleston delegation were driven to the cemetery and General Hugenin, president of the survivors association of Charleston deposited a wreath of palmetto leaves upon the tomb. The tombs of other Confederates were visited.

To Search for the Narenlo.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Although no news have been heard from the missing steamer Naronio, all the leading steamship men down town believe that she is still afloat. It is said that the White Star line will despatch a steamer from Liverpool on Monday in search of the vessel. Fifty guineas per cent. reinsurance were paid to day in London on the vessel's cargo.

Columbus' Descendant on the New York.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Duke of Neragua, of Spain, Columbus' descendant, accompanied by an extensive retinue, is expected to arrive in New York city from Southampton on the steamer New York. The usual customs courtesies will be extended to the distinguished guests, who come to attend the opening of the Columbian Exposition.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., March 1 .—Ernest Krquicher, a carpenter and builder of South Mount Vernon, a village just south of this city, Thursday night shot William Moegling, a baker, inflicting, probably, a fatal wound. He then went home and shot himself in the head, but will recover. Dispute over business the cause.

Farmer Attempt Suicide.

MATTITUCK, L. I., March 18.—Madison Young, a farmer, living near this village, was found by a neighbor early in the morning in his barn with with his throat cut. The self inflicted wound is not sufficient to cause death. It is believed that Young became temporarily insane from an attack of the grip.

Another Blizzard in the West.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Reports were received here this morning of a blizzard and snow storm in the Western and Northwestern States that extends as far as the Rockies. In Kansas and Nebraska the storm is particularly severe, all trains are delayed and traffic is generally demoralized.

Appropriation for Statues.

CONCORD, N. H., March 18.—The House passed a bill appropriating $10,000 for statues of General John Stark and Daniel Webster in National Statuary Hall.

Another Negro Vagrant to be Sold.

MEXICO, Mo., March 18.—George Harden, colored, has been found guilty in a Justice's court of vagrancy and will be sold at public auction on Tuesday.

She Used the Wrong Spoon.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 18.—Mrs. James Flaherty and five small children were accidentally poisoned by the mistake of Mrs. Flaherty, who mixed oatmeal for breakfast with a spoon that her husband had used in stirring "rough on rats." All were violently ill last night from arsenical poisoning, but the doctor now thinks he can save them.

Settles Compulsory Chapel Attendance.

NEW HAVEN, March 18.—The work of constructing an addition to Battell chapel at Yale has been begun. The addition will accommodate 300 more students. The erection of this addition effectually settles in the negative the question of making chapel attendance at Yale optional owing to limited seating accommodations.

STILL ANOTHER BIG ONE

Tremont Temple in Boston Destroyed by Fire.

HOTELS THROWN INTO A PANIC

The Blaze Started in the Temple and by Desperate Efforts Was Kept from Spreading to Other Buildings—Its Third Destruction Since It Was Changed to a Church from a Theatre—Two Men Hurt.

BOSTON, March 20.—Another big fire visited this unfortunate city yesterday. It broke out about 7 a. m. in Tremont Temple, on Tremont street, opposite the Tremont House, and in a few hours the entire structure where Wendell Phillips made his anti-slavery speeches was gutted, entailing a loss of about $375,000.

Fireman Patrick Dunn, of Engine 26, had a leg broken, and an unknown man is reported to have been seriously injured.

The fire was first discovered by a guest on the fourth floor of the Parker House. He thought it was in the hotel and smashing the glass on one of the signal boxes on his floor sent in the first alarm. When the number was rung in an employe of the Parker House sounded the gongs of the different floors to arouse the guests, and quickly the occupants of the rooms hurried out in great excitement.

When it was seen that there was no immediate danger of the fire reaching the hotel, the guests proceeded to remove their trunks. The damage to the Parker House by water is believed to have reached $50,000. No mishaps are reported to the guests.

Tremont Temple, which has been one of the most conspicuous public buildings of Boston in the present generation, stoood on Tremont street adjoining the Parker House and opposite the Tremont House. Originally the structure was widely known as the Tremont theatre, an old time resort of dramatic entertainment for a bygone generation.

Since 1848 it had been celebrated all over the country as the largest Baptist church in New England, if not in America, and the local headquarters of that denomination. It was burned March 31, 1852, and again on Aug. 14, 1879.

The auditorium was one of the largest in the country, being 122 feet in length, 72 feet in width, and 60 feet in height. The seating capacity was equal to an audience of 2,000 persons. Beneath this great hall was the Melonia, with a seating capacity of 1,000.

MRS. SHAW CONFESSES.

She Says Gallin, the Hired Man, Killed Her Husband With a Hammer.

BAKER CITY, Ore., March 20.—The widow of Alfred H. Shaw, the farmer found dead in his barn in Canyon City, has made a confession charging Gallin, the hired man, with murdering Shaw. She declares that Gallin killed her husband with a hammer and then carried the body to a barn in which was stabled a stallion. He then dispatched a boy to town to spread the report that Shaw had been kicked to death by the horse.

Mrs. Shaw has been twice divorced, Shaw being her third husband. She had been married but a few months. Gallin, immediately after Shaw's death, assumed his place in his house.

His Disappearance Accounted For.

SANDWICH, Mass., March 20.—The mystery attending the whereabouts of Herbert Smith, of Cedarville, has been solved by the finding of his body in the ice in Great Herring pond. On the afternoon of Jan. 7 Smith left his home to go to the home of his brother in Bourndale, and attempted to skate across the pond. A driving snow storm prevailed at the time, and it is supposed that he skated into an open place. He was 17 years old.

Cleveland Was 56 Saturday.

WASHINGTON, March 20. — President Cleveland was 56 years old Saturday and he celebrated the occasion in the way he has passed nearly every day since his induction into office. For three hours he was busy receiving a seemingly interminable line of officeseekers and their Congressional friends. These visitors were in greater number than on any previous day this year.

Shot His Wife and Not the Man.

MADISON, Ind., March 20.—Captain Wm. Paine, a prominent produce dealer, who on Sunday shot and seriously wounded his wife, whom he found in a compromising situation with James Whitby, the bullet being intended for Whitby, but the wife throwing herself between her husband and her paramour as the former fired, is now in jail, along with his wife's paramour.

Hamilton Again Respited.

SING SING, N. Y., March 20.—James L. Hamilton, the wife-murderer, who was sentenced to die March 13 and who was respited to March 20, has been again respited by Governor Flower until April 20. He expected that his sentence would be commuted to life imprisonment, and was much cast down when told of Governor Flower's action in his case.

Ancient Relics for the National Museum.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Truxton Beale, United States Minister to Greece, Roumania and Servia, has informed the State Department that Mme. Schliemann, widow of the famous explorer of buried and ancient cities, has determined to present to the United States National museum a portion of the relics unearthed at Troy by her late husband.

Murderer Quietly Lynched.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 20.—Jesse Jones, who shot and killed Sheriff John Burnett, of Campbell county, on a Knoxville & Ohio train, was taken from the jail at Jacksboro and hanged to a gate post. There were not over a dozen men in the mob, and the lynching was done so quietly that the citizens knew nothing of it until the morning.

Against Home Rule.

LONDON, March 20.—It is stated that the Unionist Alliance proposes, before Easter, to send 500 British workingmen to Ulster to become impressed with the antagonism there against Home Rule. Three thousand in all will be sent at different times during the next few months.

Murderer Dies of Consumption.

SING SING, N. Y., March 20.—Guiseppe Longobardi, the artist, who was sentenced by Recorder Smyth on March 23, 1888, to 20 years for manslaughter, is dead in the prison here of consumption.

TWO WERE KILLED.

They Escape in the Wreck, But Are Caught By Shifting Trains.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 20.—The most disastrous freight wreck on the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania railroad for years, has occurred near Barre this county, involving the destruction of three locomotives and 25 loaded freight cars, and delaying all traffic for four hours. A fireman on one of the engines was buried under the wreckage but he was rescued with only slight injuries.

After the accident Brakeman Jacobs, of Lewistown, and a teamster whose name could not be learned were killed by shifting trains.

TRYING TO SETTLE.

Cotton Spinners Offer to Split the Difference With the Masters.

MANCHESTER, March 20.—The operative cotton spinners of this city have offered to resume work forthwith if the reduction of wages be limited to 2 1-2 percent. They also suggest arbitration as the means of settling future disputes between masters and men.

This strike of the cotton spinners, which has lasted almost five months, was caused by an attempt of the masters to enforce a five per cent reduction.

United Garment Worker's Strike.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Matters have reached a culminating point between the clothing manufacturers and United Garment Workers and unless the suit is amicably settled before the 23d of March a lockout of 200 cutters will be declared which will be followed by a strike of between 7,000 and 8,000 tailors. This will mean a fight between the Knights of Labor and the Federation of Labor.

Treasury Unable to Accept Gold.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The Treasury Department is receiving offers of gold for small notes in such numbers that it cannot accept them all. Saturday it accepted an additional offer of $1,000,000 from Chicago. It is thought that the free gold now in the Treasury aggregates between six and seven millions. A gain of $300,000 in gold was made at New York. No gold was taken for export.

Hurled Against a Post and Killed.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., March 20.—William Slade, a farmer, living at Bennet's Corners, in attempting to hold his young horse from running out of a blacksmith shop, was hurled against a post and killed. He was 45 years old and well known throughout Fulton county.

HER FRANTIC RESISTANCE A SHAM

The Young Man and His Friends, Disguised as Bandits, Beat and Rob Her Parents and Carry Off the Struggling Girl—Finally Found Married and Living Happily in a Fashionable Hotel—The Culprits in Jail.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 20.—A sensational elopement, with remarkable circumstances attending it, has been brought to light by the police of this city. The residence of Refugio Martinez, a wealthy and prominent citizen living near Chapultepec Castle, was entered a few nights ago by seven masked men.

Mr. Martinez and his wife were severely beaten by the supposed brigands. The house was searched and a few hundred dollars in money taken. The robbers then departed, carrying with them the beautiful young daughter of Martinez, who made a great show of resistance. The police were notified of the crime soon after it had been committed and detectives were soon put to work on the case.

Mr. Martinez and wife were grieved over the loss of their daughter. The detectives traced the bandits to this city and, after a search, located one of them at a fashionable hotel. They were surprised on further investigation to learn that the criminal was Luis Salazar, a prominent young man, and that he was living with the abducted daughter of Mr. Martinez.

Salazar was arrested and has made a confession of the whole affair. He says that he was the lover of Miss Martinez and that her parents opposed his suit and forbade her seeing him. In order to gain possession of his sweetheart he arranged the attack with a party of friends disguised as bandits.

They raided the house and carried off the prize, who, he says, was not taken against her will. They were married on the day following the abduction. The daring young lover and his companions must answer to the charge of robbery and assaulting Mr. and Mrs. Martinez unless the latter refuses to prosecute them. The culprits are in jail.

WESTERN ROADS DISGUSTED.

Growing Weary of Delay in Establishing Rates to the Fair.

CHICAGO, March 20.—The delay which has occurred in the establishment of rates to the World's Fair has caused some of the roads in the Western Passenger Association to become disgusted, and they have gone gunning for business on their own account. Some of them, in fact, have made contracts to transport large parties to the Fair at rates which are under those generally considered probable for the Fair.

The men whom these roads accuse of being the cause of the delay claim in their turn that the roads which are causing the delay because they are afraid that their cheap rates will become generally known.

There seems to be the making of a first-class row in the Western Passenger Association before the matter is finally adjusted, and Chairman Caldwell apparently has a big job cut out for him if he succeeds in keeping away from the row.

Killed Her Child With Laudanum.

KINGSTON, N. Y., March 20.—John Blake, of Hasenbern's Mills, married a widow named Parkes last fall who had a 6-year-old son, who has always seemed to be in their way. A few days ago the mother went to the village drug store, and, purchasing a quantity of laudanum, gave the child a teaspoonful of the drug. The boy died in a few hours. Public feeling is strong against her and her husband, who have been held to await the action of the grand jury. The wife has served sentences for various crimes.

Russia Still With Us.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 20.—The commission appointed to define the term "territorial waters," as used in the Behring Sea case, has decided that the term applies to all waters within 30 leagues of the coast line. Even here there is little expectation on that their decision will be accepted by any foreign power except, perhaps, the United States.

Lively Anarchist Meeting.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Red was the prevailing color at the celebration of the proclamation of the Paris commune, in Thalia theatre last night and the atmosphere was filled with the heated utterances of the hereditary lovers of all forms of anarchy and chaos. Speeches were delivered in Hebrew, German, Bohemian, and English. Johann Most was one of the speakers.

To Strike for Universal Suffrage.

BRUSSELS, March 20.—The general council of the Laboring Party of Belgium, composed of delegates from workingmen's societies throughout the country, have resolved unanimously to proclaim a general strike in case Parliament should not vote universal suffrage. The council has passed similar resolutions before, but never have put them into effect.

Lord Salisbury Sick Abed.

LONDON, March 20.—Lord Salisbury is confined to his bed and has been forbidden by his physician to attend to any business whatever. He has sent a despatch to Belfast saying that he hopes to be able to address the Unionist meeting there April 4.

Did They Poison the Pope's Physician?

ROME, March 20.—La Patria says that the authorities are about to open an inquiry respecting two well known ladies of the Catholic aristocracy who are accused of poisoning Dr. Ceccarelli, the Pope's physician, who died recently.

QUIET AT TOLEDO.

Much Discussion Going on About Judge Rick's Late Decisions.

TOLEDO, O., March 20.—The Ann Arbor strike situation has been quiet after the stirring events of Saturday. The Brotherhood of Engineers held several meetings yesterday at which the order issued by Judge Ricks, compelling the Brotherhood to bring its by-laws and constitution into court, was the sole topic of discussion.

The men who were seen said that the proceedings of Judge Rick were unusual. They asserted that he had read his views on their actions before one scrap of evidence had been heard; that there was nothing but the affidavits of the railroad company's for him to gain his information from, and thus he seemed to have formed the belief that the men were guilty as charged. They feel that the proper time for him to have expressed his views would have been after hearing the case.

The Ann Arbor has had a full quota of freight trains yesterday and to-day, and General Manager Ashley says there is no danger of a blockade.

It is stated that the company is arranging to place 10 new locomotives and 1,000 cars in service within the next few weeks.

It is given out this morning that all the engineers on the Wabash will go on strike within the next 24 hours in sympathy with the Ann Arbor men.

Won't Take Ann Arbor Coal.

EUCYRUS, O., March 20.—A notice is posted to-day in the roundhouse of the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad to this effect: "The embargo on all Toledo, Ann Arbor & Northern Michigan coal has been put on again. You may comply with the Brotherhood rules at once." The notice is signed by the chairman of the committee, and it is understood that none of the Ann Arbor coal will be received.

BOTH SAID MASS.

Fathers Treacy and Leahy Still Keeping Up the Seige at Swedesboro.

SWEDESBORO, N. J., March 20.—Mass was said by both Father Treacy and Father Leahy yesterday. Father Treacy's hearers gathered in the house of Edward Monaghan, while the home of James Crewans sheltered the followers of Father Leahy.

Both sides are resting awaiting developments. At present a deputy sheriff is in absolute possession of the church and all it contains, while Father Treacy is in actual possession of the parish house.

If anything is removed from either building, or Father Treacy's comforts in the parish house are abridged in any way, his attorney's will compel Father Leahy to remove without delay everything in the two buildings, and Father Treacy will say mass in the church regardless of the consequences, which are sure to be serious.

Bishop O'Farrell will appear on the scene on next Sunday and will attempt to rescue the church for Father Leahy. That he will be successful, even to a small degree, is very doubtful.

DOWN ONE HUNDRED FEET.

Crowds of People Witness a Suicide Into the Susquehanna River.

WILKESBARRE, March 20.—A. B. Schooley, a prominent resident of Edwardsville, while in company with his brother yesterday, jumped from the North street bridge into the Susquehanna below, a distance of nearly 100 feet.

The leap was made without a moment's hesitation, and was witnessed by nearly 1,000 people who were enjoying a Sunday outing.

The body floated down the river a quarter of a mile or more before it was recovered. The suicide was 32 years old, and leaves a widow.

Twenty years ago an uncle of his hanged himself in a barn.

It is claimed by those who knew Schooley that he lost heavily in the defunct bank of Rockafellow & Co.

A Locomotive Explodes.

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., March 20.—The boiler of an engine standing on the siding of the Reading railroad in the central part of the town exploded, totally wrecking the engine and scalding Engineer Schuyler and Fireman Wells so badly that they cannot recover. Both men were blown into the air. The hot coals from the fire box were scattered in all directions, and, falling on several buildings in the vicinity, set fire to and destroyed them. Many buildings were badly shattered by the explosion.

Large Cotton Thread Factory Burned.

NORTH EASTON, Mass., March 20.—The burning of of J. W. Morie & Co.'s large brick cotton thread factory at this place early yesterday morning, throws about 75 hands out of employment and was the largest fire in the history of the town. When first seen the blaze was in or near the engine room. The loss on building and machinery is estimated at from $175,000 to $200,000, only partially insured.

No Strike on the New England Road.

READING, Pa., March 20.—The report that the employes of the New England division contemplated going on a strike is denied by the Reading officials. During the past week the company sent 10 engines and crews to that division to assist in raising the coal and freight blockade. The men were sent from the main line division, and it is expected that they will return there this week.

Shot His Rival in the Face.

FULTONVILLE, N. Y., March 20.—Daniel Fitzgerald and Charles Gates fought about a woman to whom they were both paying attention, and Fitzgerald shot Gates in the face with a shot gun, inflicting a serious wound. Fitzgerald escaped, it is supposed, by an East-bound New York Central freight train. Montgomery county officers are in pursuit of him.

Smallpox on the Aurania.

NEW YORK, March. 20—The steamer Aurania, just arrived at this port, reported that Carl Glad, aged 27, a native of Finland, a steerage passenger, was taken ill March 16 of smallpox and was immediately isolated in ship's hospital. On arriving at Quarantine the patient was transferred to the reception hospital.

The Big Shaft Shipped to Chicago.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 20.—The largest shaft ever forged in America has been sent from the Bethlehem Iron Works to the Chicago exposition. It weighs 89,320 pounds and will be the axle of the perpendicular hurdy-gurdy, 264 feet high, invented by a Pittsburg engineer.

Smith Challenges Corbett.

PITTSBURG, March 20.—On the arrival of James J. Corbett in this city to-day he was met by a challenge from Michael Connelly, one of the backers of "Denver" Smith, for a fight to the finish for $10,000 a side and the largest purse procurable.

SARNIA REACHES PORT.

She Was Delayed Nine Days by the Breaking of a Crank Shaft.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 20.—The Dominion line steamship Sarnia, nine days overdue at this port, arrived off the harbor last night and came to anchor at Quarantine, and at 9 o'clock this morning was towed to her dock.

She limped in with a patched-up shaft which threatened to give way with every revolution. Her arrival had been expected hourly, as the Furness steamship Madura reported having sighted the disabled boat March 28.

The Sarnia had broken her shaft and was compelled to lie-to in the ocean to await repairs. The engineers had, after working night and day, repaired the broken shaft so that the steamer took in her sea anchors at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon and went ahead under steam at about eight knots an hour.

Her arrival has taken a great load from the minds of the inhabitants, who, although they did not believe the steamer to be lost, nevertheless had fears that she might have gone down.

The vessel will be put on the dry dock as soon as her cargo is discharged.

THE SENATE PROGRAMME.

Many Appointments Expected to be Confirmed During This Week.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—There is some reason to expect that the Senate will enter in earnest this week upon the business for which it was called together. So far not a single nomination has been acted upon except the Cabinet appointments. Excluding half a dozen army and navy promotions, there are now 16 Presidential nominations which have not yet been passed upon even in committee.

It is, however, the intention of the committee having charge of these nominations to get together either to-night or to-morrow morning, and it is probable that within a few days there will be some material in hand upon which the Senate may act in executive session.

Saving the possibility of a contest over an attempt to reorganize the force of employes, the open sessions of the week do not promise to be frequent, long, or interesting, as it is hardly probable that the Committee on Privileges and Elections will be able to report on the Senatorial appointment cases, which are sure to prove a subject of discussion within that time.

HAD SEEN HEAVEN.

A Supposed Dead Man Leaves the Coffin and Tells Wonderful Stories.

MILAN, Tenn., March 20.—There is much excitement in the community of Marshall's Chapel over the death of Robert Bell. He apparently died after a short illness of typhoid fever. His body was prepared for burial and preparations made for the funeral. In the midst of the services a noise was heard in the coffin. Quickly bursting the lid Mr. Bell sat up, was removed to his home and in a few hours was feeling much better.

He claimed to have been in heaven and to have seen many friends. His wonderful stories drew many people to the house. Last night he became sick and suddenly called out: "They are coming for me" and fell back dead,

His physician claims that he was in a trance and, awakening in the coffin, his mind was wrecked.

STRIKE ON THE BIG FOUR.

The Switchmen Have Again Tied the Road Up—What They Demand.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 20.—The entire force of Big Four yard switchmen have gone out on a strike, and the yards are again tied up.

The switchmen claim that they have struck because the road has not lived up to its agreement to take the men back under the compromise of two weeks ago.

The switchmen demand the discharge of Yardmaster Carney, pay for overtime, and the reinstatement of all the switchmen, 34 in number.

The President in His Old Pew.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The President and Mrs. Cleveland attended religious services yesterday at the First Presbyterian church. During the latter part of his former administration Mr. Cleveland was a regular attendant at this church. Soon after his inauguration he selected a pew, and each Sabbath morning, with but few exceptions, found him in his accustomed place. They will continue to use the pew which was formerly occupied by them.

Panic in a Theatre.

PHILADELPHIA, March 20.—A burning odor preceding a white smoke at the Broad Street theatre caused a panic among the audience, and had it not been for the efforts of the few who retained their self-possession it might have resulted in loss of life. After the audience had again become quiet it was explained that a slight blaze had been caused behind the scenes by the wearing away of the insulation on the electric light wires.

Another Letter to Women.

May 25, '92, Syracuse, N. Y.

"Dear Madam:

"I want to tell you what your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done for me.

"I was so bad with falling of the womb and Leucorrhœa that I could not stand.

"I had doctored so much without benefit I was entirely discouraged. I expected to die.

"One evening I read in the 'Herald' about your medicine. I got some, and took 2 bottles of the Compound, and used one of the Sanative Wash.

"I am now well and strong, am never troubled with either of the complaints. If more women would use your Compound, there would be less suffering in the world." — Mrs. Ida Casler, 126 Olive St.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Light showers To-Morrow; Slightly Warmer.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—McFee to-night at Music Hall.

—The much-needed watering-cart made its first appearance to-day.

—A regular meeting of Easter Lodge, K. of H., will be held this evening.

—The common council will meet to-night, to act on the sewerage question.

—Young Willibald was in town again Saturday night. The police did n't catch him.

—Go to the Camera club rooms to-night and see the lantern slides of the New York Camera club!

—It is devoutly to be hoped that the belated snow squall of this morning is the last of the season.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will meet in regular communication to-morrow evening.

—Hezekiah Hand, postmaster at Scotch Plains, has sent in his resignation to the Postmaster-General.

—The front of that popular hostelry, Hotel Grenada, is now suffused in a ruby glow at night from a red electric lamp.

—F. M. Hulett is among actor Harry Gwynett's creditors who are after him as stated in Saturday's PRESS. To-day Mr. Hulett levied for a debt on a piano.

—The mountains to the northwest of Dunellen were ablaze, last evening, and the beautiful spectacle was witnessed by many persons about the station square.

—Florrie West, Adelaide Randall and a number of other pretty young women comedians, singers and dancers, with John T. Kelly, at Music Hall, this evening.

—Trinity Commandery, No. 17, Knights Templar, of this city, will this evening elect officers for the coming Templar year. The Eminent Commander hopes to see a full attendance of Sir Knights. Fatigue uniform.

—Saturday was a great day in White's new shoe department. The new square-toe shoes that he has, just suit the ladies. Being made with the common sense heels and a medium square toe they insure comfort and give the foot an elegant appearance.

—Tempus fugits and this is the last call for to-morrow night at Music Hall. Have you secured your seats? Do n't forget that there will be music by the Princeton Mandolin club—including flute and violin. The evening will be divided between music and muscle. "Do n't miss it!"

—Tom Sheridan's shock of red hair illumined the city court room this morning. He had been mixed up with a crowd in annoying night watchman Nicholas Myers at the water-works. Judge Coddington suspended sentence with a warning to keep out of trouble in the future.

—Alfred Holmes of East Fifth street is in town from Princeton. He says that Hughes, captain of the Princeton gymnasium team, who appears in Music Hall to-morrow night, is "a dandy athlete"; that is, "dandy" in the revised interpretation of the word—superb. He is a good "all around athlete; and as a wrestler he has gone far beyond his class (that of lightweight) and laid down one who weighed twenty pounds more than he. "Do n't miss it!"

—At Music Hall to-night, for the second time this season, John T. Kelly, the celebrated comedian, will present the new comedy, "McFee of Dublin". Unlike most comedies of the present day, "McFee of Dublin" has an interesting story running throughout; the complications, situations and specialties bringing out the humor of the play. Mr. Kelly has an enviable reputation in the character of an Irish comedian, his methods being original and isoltimate, and his brogue mellow and striking. The scenery and costumes are new and elaborate, one scene, showing the Palisades on the Hudson River, being particularly attractive.

FIGHTING CATHOLICS.

RELIGIOUS ELEMENTS AT WAR IN DUNELLEN.

Romanists and Protestants Struggling to Control the Local Public Schools—The Women and the Jr. O. U. A. M. Join in the Battle—The School Trustees Resign in a Body—Prospective Changes in Westfield and North Plainfield.

Bitter religious warfare is waging in Dunellen over the question whether the Protestants or the Roman Catholics shall control the local public schools.

The school management in that thrifty borough has long been turbulent, so much so that it was to get rid of the unpleasant strain that the former principal resigned. His successor has been too firm a disciplinarian to suit the older classes, and a delegation of girls demanded his removal.

The board of school trustees has been controlled by the district clerk, the Rev. L. E. Livermore. He became so disgusted last week, at the state of affairs that he resigned his office and induced all the other trustees to resign with him. They therefore all went out of office in a body, leaving the schools without any government.

A strong Roman Catholic parish exists in Dunellen, and its members long have desired a voice in controlling the school affairs. In the present emergency they saw their opportunity, and began to lay plans for the election of Catholics to school board membership.

News of their purpose leaked out. The Jr. O. U. A. M., whose motto is "America for the Americans", is well organized in that section, and induced the Rev. Mr. Kinzie, the local Baptist clergyman, to preach against "The Enemies of Our Public Schools".

This sermon was taken to be an admonition for the other factious to unite in firm opposition to the Catholic element. Since then the warfare between Protestants and Catholics has been quite open, and a lively and exciting school meeting is in prospect for to-morrow night, when the election is to take place.

For the first time in the history of the borough, the women of the place will accept the privilege of voting; they will turn out in large numbers, in aid of the two respective forces.

The only contest in previous school elections in Dunellen has been whether clergymen or laymen should be chosen. This time the fight will be to elect Catholic men or Protestant women. Miss Bodine is proving herself an active campaigner in leading the women.

From present indications, one may judge that the Protestant force, as backed up by the Jr. O. U. A. M., is slightly the stronger. In that case the entire new board will be of women headed by Miss Bodine, the protestants agreeing that the gentler sex should be given a chance to heal up all the troubles.

Indeed, all through this section of the country the sentiment is growing in favor of having women help run the schools. It is argued that they are likely to be more devoted to the needs of the children whom they as wives and mothers surrender to the State's educational institutions.

In Westfield R. B. Sinclair of Harper's Weekly, and others who were stated by the voters to be elected at to-morrow night's district meeting, have gracefully withdrawn in favor of women candidates.

Some North Plainfield mothers are not entirely satisfied with the way the school has been conducted, and will to-morrow night make their initial appearance at the polls in an effort to elect two women to membership on the school board.

THREE TIMES STABBED.

An Unfortunate Machinist Fouly Assaulted by a Plainfield Tough.

"You're a very bad boy" said judge Coddington this morning to James Donovan, who was a prisoner on the charge of stabbing John Porter.

Porter is a machinist at Potter's Press Works. He was so intoxicated Saturday night that he does not remember what happened to him. Witnesses, however, state that Porter visited the auction shop at 33 West Front street and was plagued by young fellows who kept pulling at the bottle of rum in his pocket. He struck at the crowd and hit James Donovan. Donovan pulled a knife and gave Porter three ugly slashes—one on the shoulder, one on the face, and a cowardly thrust in the back. Porter's left eye just missed being gouged out.

Policeman Frederickson saw that a rumpus was in progress, and charged on the mob. He caught Donovan as that youth was running, and locked up him and Porter.

This morning judge Coddington let off Porter with a $5 fine.

Donovan told the court a number of lies in one breath, and the judge got disgusted and said "I do n't believe a word you say. Your very countenance shows your wickedness and guilt." Donovan sneered at this, and the court sent him to jail for 60 days.

When locked in a cell the youth said "I'll kill Porter when I get out." The grand jury will be asked to indict him and give him a longer term.

Donovan is about 18 years old, with a closely-cropped bull head, an incipient beard of fuzz, stooping shoulders, a sneaklish hang-dog look, and a tattooed ring on the middle finger of his right hand.

A sensible woman will not fail to keep a bottle of Salvation Oil on hand for cuts and bruises. It is unrivaled. 25c.

CARLYLE HARRIS PLEADS FOR LIFE.

SENTENCED TO DIE EARLY IN MAY.

When Asked Why Sentence Should Not Be Pronounced the Convicted Man Responds Calmly.

NEW YORK, March 20—For the second time Carlyle W. Harris stood at the bar of the Court of General Sessions to-day to hear sentence of death pronounced on him for poisoning his young wife, Mary Helen Nellson Potts.

Harris was sentenced at fifteen minutes to twelve o'clock to-day to be executed in the week beginning May 8, 1893.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Recorder Smyth entered the court room and took his seat on the bench.

"Carlyle W. Harris to the bar", called the clerk of the court, and from the pen in the rear of the room the prisoner was led down the central aisle of the court room between the police officers. His face was pale and worn; he evidently had keen appreciation of the position in which he was placed, but his bearing was calm and resolute.

Immediately District Attorney Nicoll arose and after stating that the defendant having been convicted of murder in the first degree and his appeal for a new trial having been denied by the Court of Appeals he moved that a day be fixed for execution.

HARRIS SPEAKS.

The opening preliminaries had been hurried through and it was only five minutes after ten o'clock when Harris was asked what he had to say why sentence should not be pronounced on him. He began with a great effort the address he had promised he would make.

Behind him sat his counsel, William F. Howe, who had provided himself with a bottle of brandy, a portion of which, mixed with water, he had placed on the counsel's table, within reach of his client.

Harris began to speak in a tone that was low, almost inaudible even within a few feet distance.

"Your Honor," he commenced, "in the first place it has been stated that I would come to this court to-day to rail at you and at justice. This is not so, and, indeed, I have no intentions of doing anything of the kind."

Here Harris was interrupted by conversation in the court room, and the Recorder ordered the noise to stop and threatened to have the conversers ejected. Harris resumed and said that he had requested his friends to refrain from making any demonstration or doing anything to protest against the Recorder's decision. Here Judge Martine came in and sat on the bench with the Recorder.

"Your Honor," resumed Harris, "Mr. Nicoll has stated that the Court of Appeals went out of its way to say that my conviction was just. It may be that he is right, Your Honor."

"Before I am taken away, and while I am in the custody of the Sheriff, I would ask that I be allowed to remain at the Tombs for two or three days.

"I will suggest it to the Sheriff, said the Recorder."

Harris called his trial "Choate against Harris" and said that Mr. Wellman prostituted his official position for the sake of private reputation.

"I thank God," said Harris, in conclusion, "that in the light of new testimony he may read who will, inscribed upon my tomb 'Not guilty'."

"COUNT" VAN NESS.

HIS LEGAL ENTANGLEMENTS GETTING COMPLICATED.

Rather Than Run His Neck into Other Waiting Nooses, He Stayed Out of Court and Forfeited His Bail on the Forgery Charge—Now to Be Indicted and Taken from Plainfield by Extradition.

When the case of lawyer John K. Van Ness, the "Count" of Sam Allen's farm, was called in the Tombs Police Court, Saturday, the accused was riding about the streets of Plainfield, and as he failed to appear his bail bond of $2,000 was declared forfeited. His surety was Mrs. Mary Jones of 398 Ninth avenue. She was notified, and a bench warrant was issued for Van Ness's arrest.

Previous to Saturday there had been six adjournment of the case at the request of Charles Benton Van Winkle, who has been working hard for the accused lawyer, devoting much time to consultations at the Allen farm where Van Ness claimed to be laid up with a sprained ankle.

Vanness was counsel for James A. Waldron in a suit between him and his brother, Dykeman Waldron. A verdict for $1,000, the amount claimed, was rendered in favor of Van Ness's client, and Dykeman gave the lawyer his note for $1,000 payable to his brother James. It is claimed that Van Ness added the words, "or John K. Van Ness, attorney," and cashed the check, appropriating the money to himself. It was on this forgery charge that Van Ness was arrested.

Several other civil suits are pending against him, and deputy sheriff Upham was in court to arrest him Saturday, should he appear, on a judgment of $4,300. Several lawyers' clerks were also present to serve him with papers in various other civil actions. But the "Count" stayed home. An effort to indict and extradite him will be made this week.

Van Ness is a short, red-bearded man, often seen about the City Hotel and on Plainfield's business streets. He always carries a black sachel.

He says that the reason he was not present in court Saturday was because the counsel on both sides had agreed to a postponement until Wednesday. He will go to New York to-day, his lawyer says. The claim for $4,300 is all right according to Van Ness himself. He'll go into court and not only agree that he had it but will show what he did with it and present his claim for a lot more, he alleges, is due him from the same source and which he proposes to get.

Father Cushing's Eloquence.

The Rev. Father Cushing delivered one of the most eloquent and heart-touching sermons, on the passion of Christ, last night, in St. Joseph's church, ever delivered by any preacher in this city. There was not standing room in the church and one who was there says "I must confess I have never heard an abler preacher. I would like to see a little more room in that church for our young people, as a great deal of good will be derived from the sermons of this good preacher."

THE "REV." ROBERTSON AGAIN.

New York Papers Continue to Call Him a Venerable Fraud.

The methods of Plainfield's "Rev." D. F. Robertson were again exposed by a New York paper yesterday, this time by the Sunday Advertiser. In a long article the Advertiser tell how the "Rev." Robertson ran the "New York Juvenile Guardian Society" for more than forty years. Indeed, the institution is said to be still in existence, though much discredited and emaciated through the persistent exposures of the newspaper press. Nature had richly gifted Mr. Robertson, it seemed, with the physical and mental attributes requisite to success in his peculiar line. Tall and venerable looking, his naturally fine appearance had been added to by time, silvering his locks and imparting a patriarchal dignity to his aspect. Impelled by divine inspiration to "serve the Lord in the foreign mission field", Mr. Robertson left Scotland at an early age, and when he came to New York decided to stay, "as there was a great field uncovered here".

The Advertiser gives a telling showing of the "society's" finances. The lesson taught by these figures is, that in order to distribute $825 in charity, the New York Juvenile Guardian society was obliged to expend $3,891. A truly remarkable financial exposition! Mr. Robertson's own explanation of this surprising condition of things is, that by the time he took out his salary, the collectors got their percentage, "and the other expenses were paid", there was "very little left for charity".

It should be borne in mind that Mr. Robertson always had a genius for finance. He tells himself of his first notable transaction in this line, when in 1845 he was accused of misappropriating $11,000 subscribed for the building of a church. "But, by the help of the Lord, I went through it all." Quite a suggestive way of putting it. When business is slack—a now not infrequent occurrence—at the Bleecker street office of the society, the growler is said to be worked by the staff in order to dispel ennui. This practice became so notorious at one time that Mr. Lietaud, the landlord of the premises, complained about it to the "Rev." Mr. Robertson, who as a rule is not much in the office but takes things easy out at his home in Plainfield, and when he comes to town does so at a fashionable hour.

Coming This Time Sure.

The attraction at Music Hall this evening will be John T. Kelley, who has long been a favorite here. On this occasion he will again present his new comedy, "McFee of Dublin", a rollicking Irish piece, that is full of innocent mirth and that pathos which can be so easily woven into even the most ordinary story.

The play was written by Charles T. Vincent and Mr. Kelly, and it differs from other comedies of the present day in that it does not depend solely upon specialties, songs and dances for its success. It has a very clever and coherent story, running throughout and the interest is maintained to the end. The new piece has met with great success everywhere since it opened here last September, and Kelly is credited with having made the biggest kind of a hit in the title role.

The supporting company is the best he has ever had, including Florrie West, Adelaide Randall, Flora Veldran, Nellie Page, Josephine Ditt, Mildred Mosely, Marie Pixley, Harry Kelly, C. Jay Williams, Frank W. Holland, James Quinn and Leo Wright. The production will be handsomely staged and costumed, and will be complete in every detail.

The Best of New York's Plays and Players for This Week.

John Stetson's company will present the "Crust of Society" at the Broadway theater, New York, to-night. The production will be the same as was seen earlier in the season at the Union Square theater. The company includes Carrie Turner, Jane Stuart, Helen Kinnird, May Dana, J. E. Kellard, E. L. Davenport, Jos. E. Whiting and Harry Saint Mauer.

The return to New York of the Coghlan company after a trip of several months, during which its prosperity has been exceptional, was fittingly welcomed last week and has proved once more that a really good thing need never fear lack of recognition upon the part of our play going public. "Diplomacy," as presented by the Coghlans and their associates, filled the Star theatre for many weeks last autumn, and will doubtless prove equally profitable at the Fifth Avenue theater. Miss Coghlan is now at the height of her powers. Her art is ripe and convincing. In general spirit as well as in minute detail she masters the problem before her, and gives us now better than ever a forceful, graphic picture of one of Sardou's most interesting women. The play is one of Sardou's best, and the interpretation is worthy of it. Miss Rose Coghlan brings to the part of the vindictive and yet suffering Zicka all the tigerish force of such a nature, and yet succeeds in suggesting by an infinity of delicate touches the latent womanliness that pervades the character. One cannot avoid the feeling that, as the Countess Zicka says in her last piteous appeal for mercy, in happier circumstances she might have been a good woman, worthy of any man's love.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 31 West Front street. Price $1.00.

SHE LOVED HER MOTHER-IN-LAW

Unselfishness and Industry the Works of True Character—So Said the Rev. Mr. Richardson in the Park Avenue Baptist Church, Last Night.

As announced in Saturday's PRESS, at the Park Avenue Baptist church, last evening, the preacher took for his text, the words found in Ruth 1: 4, "And they lifted up their voices and wept again. And Orpah kissed her mother-in-law, but Ruth clave unto her". The speaker emphasized the traits of womanly industry as exhibited in Ruth, and combatted the modern idea that labor depreciates feminine dignity. He said: "Ruth went out into the fields to glean barley, that she might support her mother-in-law. She is an example of true womanly dignity. Art and literature sing her praises. Industry can not make worse a true woman. Ruth stands as a rebuke to the artificial ideals of modern society as to what surroundings and occupation constitute ladyship. There is a false idea that refinement consists in soft white hands, and an ignorance of work—labor is considered unladylike. But industry is as honorable in a woman as in a man. The pure girl who supports herself and mother by earnings from store or factory, may be as much of a lady as she who reads novels and plays on the piano. In ancient times before luxury and indolence had created the artificial distinctions which now divide society, the deft hands of an industrious woman received approval from the state. The wife of Tarquin wove so exquisitely, that after her death, her spinning wheel and a robe were placed in the temple of fame, as an example to Roman wives and daughters. In the wide realm of history, a nobler generation of women cannot be found, than the dames and maidens of the Revolution. They could weave, and knit, and churn with their own fair hands: and yet to them are we indebted for the culture and refinement that gave us Washington, Jefferson, Hancock and Warren. That modern sentiment, which deprecates and cheapens industry in woman, is the fruit of a false education which should be assisted out of our civilization on the double-quick! False distinctions should be buried aside. There is a quiet education of the masses going on, and the time will come, when, character not money, when industry not luxurious indolence shall be the crown-mark of a true lady. God speed the time when days of trifling, and nights of folly, and the customs of fashionable extremes, shall cease to be a coveted realm! O the structure of a newer and grander womanhood is rising—a womanhood that shall exalt virtuous industry wherever found, and banish to some Elba the frivolities of fashionable indolence. Young women should give their approval to honest industry as exhibited in some modern Ruth. You, in your comfortable home, with all wants supplied, can have no conception what it means to thousands of girls who are compelled to work for weary sick mothers and helpless sisters. Instead of disdain, recognize Ruth's heroism though it be displayed behind the counter. A dainty smile from you, a word of encouragement uttered as you stand before the counter, or receive work from a pair of tired hands will have an influence for good far beyond your estimation. We need more smiles: more thank you's: more unself-loving words in this cold keen world. We can spare the Xantippe and Jezebel of society: all our hearts are open for Ruth.

Capt. Martin's Latest Venture.

(From The New Brunswick Home News.)

Frank L. C. Martin, a successful bicycle agent of Plainfield, has decided to start a branch store in this city, which will be ready to supply the people with all wheelmen's necessities. He will occupy for this purpose the store on the corner of Church and George streets now occupied by Leitheiser & Zimmerman's barber shop. Kelsey Wyckoff, of Bayonne, has secured the management of this branch store, and intends establishing here as soon as possible.

A "Correction".

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The proposed fire-department building that the total of the lowest bids amounted to $8,000, as stated in THE PRESS of Saturday, is for a building supplemental to that put in competition, and not the original, and accurately stated amounts to $8,197.

A SERMON AGAINST HARRIS.

Pastor Schenck Says a Mass-Meeting Would Be a Violation of Decency.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, preached a sermon last evening on "The Problem of Murder". In his discourse he denounced the mass-meeting which is proposed to be held in Cooper Union, New York, for the purpose of awakening public sympathy in behalf of Carlyle Harris.

"Carlyle Harris, a former resident of this city," said Dr. Schenck, "is now under sentence of death for a cruel and deliberate murder. The proposed meeting would be a violation of public decency and an attempt to try over again by an ignorant jury what an intelligent jury had already decided. Sympathy has nothing to do with the case. The evidence was clearly against him and he should be punished for his crime."

Tunis in Hard Luck.

Tunis N. Hewitt, age 13, of East Third street, was whittling a stick yesterday when the knife slipped and he cut a bad gash in the fleshy ball of the thumb. Dr. Paul carefully dressed the wound, being compelled to take 6 stitches in it. Hewitt is just getting over a fracture of the arm.

IN MEMORY OF '48.

An Orderly Celebration Held in Berlin—Red Pamphlets Suppressed.

BERLIN, March 20.—The celebration yesterday in memory of the patriots who fell in the revolution of 1848 was quiet beyond all expectation. The police had made elaborate preparations to quell any disturbance, but found no need of interfering with the small and orderly groups that went out to the Friedrichshain to lay wreaths on the graves of the revolutionary martyrs.

The outdoor meetings for which arrangements had been made were rendered impossible by the weather, which was windy, snowy and bitterly cold.

As most of the men who observed the day were poor workingmen, the vendors of red flowers and red rosettes did little business. The red Socialistic pamphlets and leaflets which were to have been scattered broadcast throughout the city, did not appear, as the police had seized them all earlier in the week. No disorder whatever prevailed in any part of the city.

The Social Democrats have decided not to observe next May Day. They give as their reason for abandoning their plan for an eight-hours demonstration the impoverished condition of the workingmen throughout the empire. The men, they say, have no money to spend on celebrations as they need all they can get to save them and their families from starvation.

FERRY'S FUNERAL.

So be Observed on Wednesday With Great Solemnity.

PARIS, March 20.—The body of Jules Ferry was placed in the coffin yesterday, and to-day was removed to the great hall of the Senate, where it will lie in state to-morrow.

The services at the funeral on Wednesday will be conducted in accordance with the Augsburg Confession, as were those of Renan.

M. Ferry was reared a Catholic, but after his marriage adopted Protestantism. His wife is also a Protestant.

The funeral will be celebrated with great solemnity. The entire garrison of Paris will attend as military escort, and Premier Ribot will deliver the funeral oration as representative of the Government. M. Constans, the former Minister of the Interior, who is Senator from Haute Garonne, is spoken of for the office of President of the Senate as successor to M. Ferry.

TERRIBLE FIRE IN SPAIN.

Twenty-one Known to Have Perished and Many Others Missing.

MADRID, March 20.—At 3 o'clock in the morning fire broke out in a pastry cook's shop in Saint Sebastian. A keg of spirits exploded, spreading the fire to the adjoining houses, which were densely tenanted. All the occupants were sleeping, and the flames were around them before they could be warned.

Two families on the top floor of a four story house were suffocated in their beds. Fifteen persons jumped from windows. Ten of them were killed, and three received mortal injuries.

Twenty one persons are known to have perished, and several others, whose fate is not known, are believed to have been burned or crushed in the ruins.

Protestants Not to be Persecuted.

LONDON, March 20.—John Dillon, Nationalist member of Parliament for East Mayo, in speaking to a Glasgow audience last evening, scouted the idea of the persecution of Protestants by Catholics in Ireland. Nevertheless, he said, the Irish were willing to submit to the humiliation of having clauses for the protection of Protestants in Ireland inserted in the Home Rule bill.

COL. LYNDE WAS NERVY.

How He Managed a Bold, Bad Border Bragyart.

Instead of Running Away He Faced Out-law Dawson and Frightened Him Out of His Wits with an Old Pocketbook.

When the branch of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway was extended in 1872 from Parsons, Kan., to Denison, Tex., it went, says the New York Herald, through a section practically preempted by the marauding half-breeds, the rustlers, and the criminals who subsequently had to immigrate to "No Man's Land" in the Texas Panhandle. Respect for law was an unknown quantity in that neighborhood, and as the military were not ordered to help the progressive railway corporation, men in charge of the work were greatly embarrassed in attempting to protect the interests of their laborers.

The towns along the line of railway gradings are almost as bad as those at the end of the track, which in the west are proverbial for original iniquity. While this road was in course of construction the bold monte men, their sisters in sin and as fine a coterie of criminals as ever went unhung, hyena-like, swarmed about the tent towns to prey upon the hard-working "hoboes" (railway laborers). Shooting was as common as swearing, and the cannibalistic saying was that it was exceptional if a man was not "served for breakfast every morning." The officials lived in caboose with extra timbered sides, sort of fortresses on wheels. These precautions were not in vain, as added tonnage from numerous stray bullets testified before they were sent out of service.

Col. Edward Lynde had the contract for the road—not an enviable one, considering the country from which he had to secure his supplies. He was a fine-looking man, tall, lithe, active, alert and a stranger to fear. He managed to carry on his task with good grace through the Cherokee nation, but things grew tougher in the Choctaw district.

Col. Lynde made an engagement for transporting supplies with one Bill Dawson, a veritable "border braggadocio," who had a stunning record as "a killer" noted in the handles of his pistols. Dawson promised by contract to bring a hundred yoke of oxen to the present city of Enfalfa to carry supplies south. He simply went out and rounded up a similar number of Texas steers, and, yoking these up with difficulty, started out. The novelty wore off for the beasts after the first two days out and there was a grand stampede, in which wagons were overturned and steers broke away and confusion reigned supreme. To add to the trouble, half-breeds began to "loot" the wagons, and teamsters had plenty of pistol practice. Dawson made no attempt to modify matters, but rode away south.

Col. Lynde soon heard of the confusion, and, after putting a guard over the wrecked wagon train, started after the sharper with a big muleteer named Jim. A fifty-mile chase brought them up with Dawson, who was accompanied by a villainous Mexican. Dawson reached for his guns, but was promptly "covered" by big Jim. The Mexican, who attempted to throw a murderous knife, dropped it with a strange oath when he got a bullet through the wrist. Dawson was tied up with ropes like trussed chicken, thrown in the wag and carried back to the end of the line, where he was made to "square accounts."

Dawson did not relish this, and swore that Col. Lynde's life should pay for his inconvenience during that ride, also making a promissory "notch" for big Jim.

One night about a month after this affair Col. Lynde drove into the hamlet of Avoca, adjoining from his uncle board, went to the "hotel." The bar was redolent of smoke, full of border men, and in the midst of the largest group stood Dawson. Every man in the room was accounted "a man of experience," and all had heard of the bully's boast.

Col. Lynde had never carried a gun, for reasons best known to himself, but here was a dilemma where nerve must show. He walked over to Dawson and pushed him aside, remarking in a loud voice that he would shoot him on sight if he ever crossed his path again.

Early next morning Col. Lynde went to the stage office, his intention being to get away from the town without trouble as quickly as possible. The office was a long, narrow room, with a railing at one end, behind which the agent was ensconced. Col. lynde was sitting within discussing the chances for peaceable exit when there was a commotion in the street. Dawson burst in the door and reeled in with a revolver in each hand, with a loud oath and an inquiry for Lynde. That worthy leaped over the railing, and, drawing a huge, old-fashioned pocketbook from his hip pocket, started for the would-be murderer, shouting: "I've got you now!" Dawson evidently thought he had struck a Kansas cyclone with a shooting novelty. He simply turned and fled as if spurred by the evil one himself.

Col. Lynde was never disturbed thereafter by border ruffians.

POOR JOHN RUSKIN.

The Famous Critic Not Expected to Live Many Days.

It will be sad news to many to hear that John Ruskin, the celebrated writer on art, has gone mad. The breaking down of this great mind has not been sudden; on the contrary, the brain has been diseased for some time, and at intervals Ruskin has been temporarily insane. These intervals of insanity have been getting more frequent, and this last giving way of his brain will prove, it is feared, final and permanent. Almost from childhood Ruskin has been physically weak, but his extraordinary mental energy has kept his body under control. Fighting nobly but constitutionally the inherent weakness of his constitution, he has accomplished an amount of literary work in the past fifty years which would have killed many a man of far stronger physique.

John Ruskin, says the Illustrated American, has long been considered the most eloquent and original of all writers upon art and a strenuous preacher of righteousness. He was born in London on February 8, 1819. He was an only child; his father was an Edinburgh man, but he settled in London. He was educated in his father's house, first in London and afterwards at Denmarkhill, till he went, as a gentleman commoner of Christ church, to Oxford. There he gained the Newdigate prize for English poetry—by a poem on "Salsette and Elephanta"—in 1839, and took his degree in 1842. He studied painting under Copley, Fielding and Harding; but his masters in the art were, he says, Rubens and Rembrandt.

Ruskin is or was primarily a critic of art; but, as the titles of his works indicate, his teaching has extended over a wide area. Art for him is closely and inseparably bound up with truth, with morals, with religion; and in most departments of political philosophy, in social and political economy, Ruskin has been constant, in season and out of season, in lifting up his testimony against what he conceives to be low views, perverted ideals, coarse and vulgar complacencies. Like Carlisle, whose pupil he professes to be, he holds the world in these latter days to have gone on a wrong tack; in his views of nature and life he is, he says, "alone in the midst of a modern crowd which rejects them all," and has to "maintain himself against the contradiction of every one of his best friends." Within the sphere of art criticism he declares that an important part of his life-work has been to teach "the supremacy of five great painters, despised till he spoke of them—Turner, Tintoret, Luini, Botticelli, and Carpaccio."

MRS. O'LEARY'S COW.

One of Her Horns Has Been Turned Into a Jewel Case.

A strange relic has reached the American Exchange hotel at San Francisco and has attracted a great deal of attention. It is the horn of Mrs. O'Leary's cow, the celebrated bovine of Chicago that, in 1871, kicked over the now historic oil lamp. H. C. Atkinson, who owns the relic, gave $8 for it right after the fire. The hide sold for $120. Mrs. O'Leary's cow didn't have a very big horn according to this. What became of the other horn nobody knows. This one was beautifully fashioned by Mr. Atkinson's brother into the form of a fish. A niche had been cut into the edges of the open end, and eyes of glass inserted on the sides, while ivory fins decorate it in the proper places. It is lined on the inside with red plush, and thus with its mouth on a bias and its curved tail it looks for all the world like a trout or a salmon as it jumps out of the water. A hook is in its gill, and a ribbon on the hook, so that all complete, while a fish, it is a handsome jewel case. This is the use to which the horn of Mrs. O'Leary's cow has come at last. With the strange relic is the following:

MADE FROM THE HORN OF MRS. O'LEARY'S COW THAT KICKED OVER THE LAMP AND CAUSED THE GREAT FIRE OF CHICAGO.

"I wouldn't take $500 for it," said Mr. Atkinson to an Examiner reporter. "I have had many offers for it, but won't sell it at all. I am going to keep it and hand it down as an heirloom in my family." Mr. Atkinson is superintendent of the Donaldson Manufacturing company, Louisville, Ky., and is with his family to remain some time in California.

Queer English Lunatics.

An English lunatic believes she is an envelope containing a letter, and with this idea she fixes a penny stamp on her forehead and imagines that she goes through the post to visit her relatives. The next day she sticks on another stamp for the return journey. A male patient is convinced that he is a bad half-crown, and, being a very conscientious man, he makes imaginary rounds to various tradesmen, warning them not to take him in payment for any article if his wife should attempt to pass him at the counter.

$100,000 for the Fight.

ST. PAUL, March 20.—The Phoenix Athletic club of this city wants the Corbett-Mitchell fight and will present a communication to the Chamber of Commerce to-day asking for the sanction of that body to the offering of a $100,000 purse for the fight. They also ask aid in securing the passage of a law allowing boxing contests before incorporated athletic clubs.

The Girl in a Trance May Soon Awake.

BALTIMORE, March 20.—Annie Ensor began taking food to-day, but is apparently unconscious all the time. A spoon containing beef tea was pressed against her teeth, her mouth opened mechanically and she swallowed the liquid. She moved a little and this leads to the belief that the singular trance will soon be over.

Two Englishmen Stabbed by an Officer.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 20.—While two Englishmen were attempting to prevent the arrest of a comrade by a policeman the officer stabbed one of the two to the heart with a knife, causing instant death. The other Englishman was stabbed in the abdomen, but will recover.

Surveyor Port of New York.

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 20.—A special from Binghamton says that Charles Davis of that city has been offered the position of surveyor of the port of New York by President Cleveland, and that his nomination will be sent into the Senate next week.

SEVEN CENTURIES OLD.

A Cedar Plank Remarkable for Its Longevity.

For Five Hundred Years the Log Was Imprisoned Under the Roots of a Mammoth Tree — A Surprise to Scientists.

Science and research have many times been directed toward computing the longevity of natural wood, but there are as many obstacles in the way of a satisfactory conclusion as there are species of wood. The action of climate, water, minerals, acids, contact with vegetable and animal matter, atmospheric changes, unnatural influences, all have their effect. Fragments of vessels which have been beneath the waves for hundreds of years have shown the timbers to be as firm and solid as when placed in position, yet this state of preservation is due to the action of the briny substances with which the wood has been saturated offsetting the destroying influences.

But the life of a wood, cut off by storm or the act of man or beast from the nutriment of the earth, when that life and resistance to decay is extended into centuries, proves wonderful to the most conservative scientists. Instances are rare where the wood, dead as far as connection with the vital force of roots and earth is concerned, and left exposed to the action of climate and vegetable and animal matter, has failed to succumb to decay within a century.

In the office of the Pacific Coast Lumber company in Chicago is a specimen of wood remarkable for its longevity and presenting a valuable lesson in natural history. It is a small slab of fragrant cedar, compact and unseamed, presenting the appearance of a carefully seasoned piece of wood. It is certainly well seasoned, for it has formed part of a piece of timber that has lain at the mercy of wind and storm for a period extending over at least 700 years. There is nothing remarkable in timber being taken from trees known to have lived thousands of years, but this little slab is taken from a log that has been dead, according to expert calculation, at least 700 years.

Near the town of Fairhaven, Wash., and a few miles from the Fairhaven & Southern railroad is a spruce and cedar forest. For years the inhabitants and visitors have viewed with interest a peculiar natural formation, and it became one of the sights of that section. It was a huge spruce tree, towering high in the air and far above many of its sturdy neighbors, healthy and sound, although its feeders were exposed in many directions. Down among its roots, yet above the surface of the ground, was a good-sized cedar log, and about this log grew the roots of the tree. Firmly secured was it, only to be removed by the hand of man through the destruction of its protector.

The woodsman, scientist and mathematician have decided that the spruce tree was at least five hundred years old, and from the size of the log it must have taken in the neighborhood of two hundred years to attain its growth. The ends and major portion of the body of the log had been exposed all these years, and last fall, anxious to gain some idea of the longevity of Washington cedar, some responsible men cut the roots away and liberated the well-seasoned prisoner. The log was milled, being cut into small slabs, and the result was a surprise to the most sanguine. Not a weak spot existed, and the slabs presented the appearance of carefully nurtured and cured wood. The fiber is firm and solid, the grain is almost artistic in its perfection, the color is rich and dark, and the fragrant odor of cedar still remains. In its perfection it has proven a surprise and gives the palm for everlasting life to Washington cedar.

Their Military Expenses.

A comparative statement of the military outlay in different European countries shows the percentage of the cost for the army and navy to the budgetary expenditure. The figures, which apply to the fiscal year 1892-'93, are these: Great Britain, 36.9; Russia, 20.7; France, 27.1; Italy, 22.4; Germany, 17.8; and Austria-Hungary, 17.6 per cent. The expenditure for the interest and sinking fund on the public debts of the different countries amounted in Italy to 43.8, in Austria-Hungary to 29.8, in France to 28.4, in Great Britain to 27.9, in Russia to 25.7 and in Germany to 12.9 per cent of the whole budget.

Age of Trees.

Information gathered by the German forestry commission assigns to the pine tree a life of 500 to 700 years as a maximum, 425 years to the silver fir, 375 years to the larch, 345 years to the red beech, 210 years to the aspen, 200 years to the birch, 170 years to the ash, 146 years to the alder and 130 years to the elm. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. The holm oak alone escapes this law. But in England there are several famous old oaks of gigantic proportions, and with ages variously estimated at from 700 to 1,500 years. The latter age, however, seems incredible.

A Modern Cook.

A New York gentleman hired a cook because her recommendations were good, and moreover she asserted that she had cooked for a gentleman whose good table is celebrated. Much to the disgust of her employer, her cooking was simply horrible, so he called her into his presence and said:

Why Named.

Trivial circumstances give names to children. A gallant Irish soldier was the father of two girls, named respectively Jane and Phœbe.

Some one asked him why he had selected the latter name, and he replied:

"Well, sorr, ye see our eldest was born in January, so we called her Jane; and the other was born in February, so we just called her Fayble."

The story would be better still if there had been a third daughter, born in March and named, of course, Marcia.

SALTED PEANUTS.

An Excellent and Toothsome Substitute for Almonds.

Perhaps all women are not aware that for "salting" the peanut is an appetizing substitute for the almond, and, as it is less expensive, it is worth while to know how to prepare it.

Being this moment flushed with triumph—my effort at the "salting" to-day having proved a shining success—I will, while the matter is fresh in my memory, "tell my experience," especially as some of the "things" I did were done by accident instead of "by directions," and are therefore discoveries.

I bought the green or unparched peanuts. This was an of-course procedure and would not be mentioned, except that already two housekeepers who have eaten of my salted nuts have asked if I started with the ordinary roasted peanuts.

I used the nut cracker, gently crushing the shell to avoid breaking the nut. By using boiling water the peas are readily blanched, the red envelope being easily rubbed off. In my first essay the water was not scalding hot, and that led to my first "discovery."

In order to bring to the requisite heat I set the dish containing water and peanuts in the oven. Then there was a short call on my attention, causing me to forget the nuts, and on going to the oven I found the water gently boiling—simmering. I feared the nuts were ruined by this parboiling. But after rubbing off the skins, I spread the nuts on a tin dish, treated them to butter and set them in the oven again. It was then at a baking or browning heat, but was not a quick oven. This, too, worried me, since the "directions" called for a quick oven. This second mistake, I was sure, would complete the failure.

The nuts were in that oven for a half-hour at least before they were browned or sufficiently parched, that is, until they had turned a light snuff-color. Then I took them out and salted them hot.

Were they spoiled? They were superior to any salted almonds that I ever ate.

A similar verdict has been pronounced on them by a half score of skilled "tasters."

I now consider the peanut for salting preferable to the almond, because it is more moist and will, therefore, bear a long, thorough, slow cooking before scorching. Deep browning ought to be avoided, with both almonds and peanuts, since this renders the nut in either case bitter.

While the ordinary roasted peanut of the market is trying to weak stomachs the salted peanut is purely harmless and may safely become one of our common delicacies.—Mary Maxwell, in Chicago News.

Why Women Are Not Humorists.

A writer in the open-letter department of the Century asks why in literature there are no lady humorists. He then goes on to answer his question by explaining that from childhood man finds the sawdust dropping out of everything, and soon discovers the worthlessness of much that passes for valuable. Therefore he learns to smile and say: "Is it not absurd?" instead of allowing his passion for something to adore to override his growing desire for truth. But, on the other hand, a woman's idols are so much a part of her life that when they are broken she cannot snap her fingers nor seek mirth as an avenue of escape. Women may possibly grow satirical; but satire is only a form of humor. "When life ceases to be in some way holy, or at any rate ideal, then woman's creative faculty terminates," says the writer. "She ends where man's talent as a humorist begins."

To Pack Silk and Wool.

Whenever you have occasion to pack away silk or woolen goods which you are afraid may turn yellow break up a few cakes of white beeswax and fold the pieces loosely in old handkerchiefs that are worn thin. Place these among the goods. If possible, pin the silks or woolens in some old white linen sheets or garments. If it be inconvenient to use linen take cotton sheets. Of course, it is important that the clothing shall be perfectly clean when put away.

Dry Process for Cleaning Gloves.

Lay out the gloves on a clean table or board, then rub into them a mixture of finely powdered fuller's earth and alum in equal quantities. This will work a dirty color, and should then be brushed off; then sprinkle the gloves with dry bran and whiting. Lastly, dust them well. Those who have glove trees will do well to put their gloves on to them, instead of laying them out on a table.

LIT BY BALLOONS.

Aerial Ships with Electric Lights Will Illuminate a City.

A balloon with electric lights attached to it for lighting cities is the latest idea of turning the "light of lights" to a practical use. This idea may seem very visionary, but C. A. Smith, of No. 112 Grove street, one of San Francisco's inventors, has sufficient confidence in the scheme to commence operations of constructing a balloon for that purpose, says the Call of that city.

This balloon will not be of the ordinary silk bag pattern, but will be made of aluminium and in the shape of a cigar, pointed at both ends. It will be about forty feet long and fifteen feet in diameter at its largest point, and will contain sufficient gas to sustain it in the roughest kind of weather. Fans will be constructed so as to hold it point up to the wind and help it from dipping, and in calm weather it will be so balanced that it will remain perfectly level.

A cable containing the electric wires will hold it at a sufficient elevation, so that the light will be spread over the area to be illuminated to the best advantage.

The balloon will sustain six arc lights, or it can be so made as to be covered with incandescent lights, each one of which will be inclosed with a reflector, so as to concentrate the rays of the light and throw them downward.

An appliance will be provided for hauling the balloon to the earth for trimming the light or making any repairs that might become necessary, or raising or lowering it so that the light may be advantageously distributed.

The inventor claims that, counting the first cost of the balloons and their maintenance, the total cost of lighting a city the size of San Francisco will be reduced considerably, as one balloon will suffice for from four to six blocks. At the same time the tangle of deadly and unsightly wires from the streets will be removed and danger from fires reduced.

Mr. Smith, in addition to the lights, has invented an arrangement of mirrors, which will be placed on the under side of the balloon, so that a person on one street can see what is transpiring on the next, even though blocks of buildings intervene, and this mirror arrangement, the inventor says, will be of great service to the fire department, as the location of flames can be easily ascertained should they break out from a building.

"Perhaps the best use to which this system of lighting would be turned would be to harbors," said Mr. Smith. "Three or four of these balloons placed over San Francisco bay would make the harbor as light as day.

"The members of the San Francisco Electric association have discussed my scheme pretty thoroughly, and they claim that it is not only possible, but one that would be very useful as a system of city lighting."

GEN. BEAUREGARD.

The Career of the Confederate Veteran Who Died Recently.

Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard was born near New Orleans, May 28, 1818. He graduated second in his class, rank at West Point in 1838. He was assigned first to the artillery and then to the engineers, and in 1838-39 to assistant in the construction of Fort Adams, Newport, and at Fort MacHenry, Maryland, in 1844-45. At the beginning of the war with Mexico he was engaged in the construction of defenses at Tampico, in 1846-47; siege operations at Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Chapultapec and City of Mexico, where he was twice wounded. Shortly after he was brevetted major. He attained full rank of captain of engineers in 1853 for fourteen years of continuous service as lieutenant. On returning to the United States he was assigned to engineering in the construction and repairs of fortifications on the Mississippi river and in the construction of the custom house at New Orleans. His supervisory duties extended over the gulf coast from Florida to the Rio Grande. He offered his services to the southern confederacy in 1861.

On the refusal of Maj. Robert Anderson to evacuate Fort Sumter he opened fire soon after daylight on April 12, 1861. He was practically in command at the battle of Bull Run, where he was again victorious. He nearly succeeded in routing the northern army at the battle of Shiloh, and held Petersburg against the federal advance and defeated Butler at Drury's Bluff. He surrendered his army to Sherman in April, 1865. After the war he became president of a railroad, adjutant general of the state and manager of the Louisiana state lottery. Gen. Beauregard has, until recently, been engaged in many important enterprises in the south.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The city is to have a new $250 road scraper.

—T. H. Keller has signed Bonner for the Crescent base ball team.

—Most of the carpenters in the city are now busy, and many of them are overrun with work.

—Every North Plainfield voter, male and female, should turn out to the school meeting to-night.

—Willett talks interestingly about Easter shoes to-day. He already has a complete stock of fine russets.

—The fine residence of Frank P. Huff, at 158 Park avenue, is to be sold by Sheriff Hicks, April 26, to satisfy a mortgage.

—The record for the past three months at Scotch Plains, is six fires, and the total loss aggregates many thousands of dollars.

—Edward Love, agent of the "New Howe" bicycle, invites you to be sociable and call at 67 North avenue and look it over.

—In this issue the stock and fixtures of one of the oldest established drug businesses in the city are announced for sale, at auction, to-morrow.

—C. A. Westerfield of New street is the owner of a cat with seven distinct toes on each foot. He is considering whether or not to send it to the World's Fair.

—There was the usual exodus of Plainfield sports into the borough, Sunday, and some of them got into a fight in an unlicensed place along the railroad track.

—Theodore Gray of Webster place is packing up his household effects and arranging his real estate matters, preparatory to removing his family to Portland, Maine.

—Two special officers now parade the streets of Dunellen in citizens' clothes, every Sunday, with orders to arrest all persons found drunk or wrangling on the streets.

—C. M. Fine, the tobacconist, has gone out of the cigar business, and will engage in the insurance business hereafter. M. C. Dobbins will occupy his store after this week.

—The Courier is getting worse and worse. Last night it called a man "Creater" instead of curator, and published side by side two columns reading exactly alike.

—A petition protesting against moving the Burlingham house along Park avenue, as it would block avel and injure shade trees, has been referred to the committee on fire and buildings.

—Music Hall, to-night. "Suitable for ladies!" Why, nine of them, big and little, will cling to the skirts of the Patriarch. And "Music, heavenly maid", will herself be there. "Don't miss it."

—The two web presses that form part of the Potter Press Works exhibit for the World's Fair, are completed and will be shipped this week. Two lithographic presses will be shipped later on.

—The amended ordinance regulating the hack limits was adopted on final passage last night, as were also the ordinance subdividing the First and Second wards and the house renumbering ordinance.

—One young man of this city went all the way to Dunellen, Sunday evening, to get a bottle of whiskey. When returning he dropped the "loaded" flask on the sidewalk on Park avenue, breaking it into fragments.

—The Union county annual School of Methods of the Woman's Christian Temperance union will be held in the chapel of the Presbyterian church, Cranford, Thursday, March 23, all day and evening, commencing at 10 a. m. An interesting programme has been provided, as already published in these columns. Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson of this city will preside, and Mrs. J. C. Fernald will have charge of the mothers' meeting.

THREE FIRES.

Incendiaries Destroy the Barn at Sam Allen's Farm.

At 8:25 last night box 45 called out a section of the Plainfield fire department. The glare of a fire was seen, evidently over Isaac Rushmore's place. The fire was miles away, however, and the firemen returned.

Sam Allen's dogs woke him at the farm on Mountain avenue, North Plainfield, near Scotch Plains, at 2 this morning. He got up and chased away some unknown visitor. A short time afterwards fire broke out in the barn, which was destroyed with all its contents. Jacob Coles owned the barn; his loss is $500; insurance, $300. Allen's loss on tools, hay, grain, etc., is $500, uninsured.

At 7:35 this morning hot coals started a fire in an ash barrel under the back stairway at Jules Boutes's, 7 West Second street. Box 13 was sounded. The fire was put out after a damage of $100.

TO BOND OR NOT TO BOND.

That Is the Question to Be Settled by the Voters of Plainfield.

The common council last night unanimously adopted the recommendations and resolutions of the following report:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March 20, 1893.

To the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN:—Your committee on water and sewers having duly considered the subject are of the opinion that the Intermittent Filtration system of sewerage, as recommended by the committee of citizens in their report submitted to the common council March 6, 1893, should be adopted for the city of Plainfield. It will cost about one-half the amount of any other system which can be adopted considering the location and surroundings of the city; the system has passed the experimental stage and become one of the standard methods of sewerage, especially for inland cities; it is approved by the highest expert authority in that line of engineering, and is rapidly growing in favor; it will require the same general plant as for a system having its outlet in the Raritan river or elsewhere, so that in case it should prove unsatisfactory another could be adopted with small loss, if any, to the city. These considerations, and the additional one that if the Raritan river plan (which is the only practical one) should be adopted, the city may at any time be shut out by hostile legislation based on the undoubtedly growing opposition against polluting streams with sewerage, are some of the reasons which have influenced your committee in its recommendations.

To introduce and complete a system that will be adequate to meet present requirements and make a wise provision for the future, will cost, as near as estimate can be made, from $90,000 to $100,000. The only practicable method of raising such a large amount for immediate use is by the issue of bonds, and your committee suggest that the question as to whether the money shall be procured in such manner for the purpose, be submitted to vote as early as practicable.

It is also suggested that the financial features of the citizens report be referred to the committee on finance.

In pursuance of the foregoing suggestions the committee recommend the adoption of the annexed resolutions.

Respectfully submitted,
RUFUS K. CASE,
E. N. ERICKSON,
WM. G. E. SEE,
Committee on Water and Sewers.

Resolved, That it is the judgment of the common council that the Intermittent Filtration System of Sewerage, as recommended by the committee of citizens to common council in their report submitted March 6, 1893, should be adopted for the city of Plainfield, and that measures should be taken to put it in operation without delay, provided the citizens, by vote, authorize the raising of the necessary amount of money.

Resolved, That the committee on finance be and are hereby requested to arrange for a special election at which the question of issuing sewer bonds for an amount not exceeding $100,000 shall be submitted to the city.

Resolved, That the committee on finance be and are hereby requested to take under consideration the financial features of the citizens' report on the matter of sewerage and report to the common council their conclusions with such recommendations of approval, or change, as they may conclude are for the best interests of the city.

A Fine Course at All Souls' Church.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of this city, is now staying at Cleveland, Ohio, with Mrs. Sarah M. Perkins, who is to lecture in Plainfield April 11. Mrs. Hall writes thus of Mrs. Perkins: "She is a very bright woman and an active worker and thinker, editing a newspaper and belonging to five literary clubs, in addition to her regular lecture work. Her lecture on 'Margaret Fuller the thinker, and Mary Lyon the worker', meets with high praise from many quarters, and will, I am sure, be much enjoyed and appreciated in Plainfield. Mrs. Perkins's daughter, Miss Emma Perkins, is professor of Latin at the Womans' college here, and is rapidly following in the footsteps of her mother. She has already gained distinction as a writer and instructor. She is a Vassar graduate, and was valedictorian of her class."

This lecture is one of a course of six afternoon lectures (one dollar for the course) to be given at All Souls' church. The first lecture is on "Helen Hunt Jackson", by Mrs. Elizabeth Powell Bond, March 27, at 4 p. m.

Fast Company for Keeler.

The New York Herald, in speaking of the fact that captain Ward of the New Yorks is aiming to get a base-running team, questions the eligibility of Keeler, formerly of the Crescents, to travel in such company. The paper says:

"In the few games he played at the Polo Grounds last fall Keeler gave some excellent display of base running. And yet his record in the Eastern league, where he played ninety-three games and is credited with only twelve stolen bases, is not calculated to inspire great hopes for work from him in that line this year. Keeler may fill the "Giants'" third base, but I doubt it. He led the Eastern league in batting last year with a percentage of .373, but a .373 batting average in the Eastern league cannot be duplicated by the same batter in the National league. His fielding was far from excellent, being little, if any, better than that of "Denny" Lyons or "Charley" Bassett. Ward intends to give him a fair trial, I believe, and if he has the ability to keep fast company and the grit to hold on to it Davis will remain in the outfield."

Stood the Test.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are unapproachable in curative properties, rapidity and safety of action, and are the only reliable plasters ever produced. They have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of ALCOCK'S by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as ALCOCK'S," and they stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

DIVORCE COURT SCANDAL.

A Plainfield Woman with a New England Conscience Testifies Against Her Own Daughter.

Charles J. Kimball, a clerk, formerly of this city, where he was employed in Edward Love's block-cutting shop, brought suit for an absolute divorce from Anna A. Kimball; and the trial before Justice Patterson of the Supreme Court, yesterday, had the novel feature of a mother smirching the character of her own daughter in behalf of her son-in-law.

Kimball testified he married Anna on March 21, 1886, in Brooklyn, and lived with her less than a year. Mary J. Hobby, of Plainfield, a thin, careworn woman, then testified that she was the mother of Anna, who has lived with her since the separation. Her daughter had two children, Frank, of whom Kimball was the father, and a girl, Anna, born in December, 1891. Frank was kidnaped by his father from his mother in North Plainfield last year. Mrs. Hobby said her daughter told her that a young man of Plainfield was the father of the girl.

Justice Patterson asked in surprise of the witness:

"How did you come here?"

"I had a letter from Mr. Kimball asking me to come," said Mrs. Hobby.

"Had you any talk with Mr. Kimball about the case?" asked the Judge.

"No, sir."

"So you came here for that reason to testify against your own daughter!"

"Well, I thought it was my duty to come. I thought it was right."

The Plainfield youth sheepishly corroborated Mrs. Hobby. He is a clerk in New York City. He had not provided for the support of the child, he said, but had once given Mrs. Kimball $5. Mrs. Kimball interposed no defence. Decision was reserved. Judge Patterson expressed great disgust over the case.

The New Game Law.

The new game law, which has received the Governor's approbation, has but few changes. Governor Werts knows all about shooting and fishing and probably looked at the provisions of the law closely before affixing his signature. A digest of the new code is as follows:

Open season for deer, October 14 to December 16; squirrels, September 14 to December 16; quail and rabbits from October 31 to December 16; ruffed grouse from September 30 to December 16; woodcock, the month of July and from September 30 to December 16; English snipe, March and April, and from August 25 to December 16; reed birds, rail and marsh hen, from August 25 to December 16; upland plover, from July 21 to December 16; pinnated grouse and wild turkey, from October 31 to December 16; hen birds of the European partridge, European grouse or European pheasant, protected for five years from the passage of this act; male birds of the above species can be killed from October 31 to December 16. Small birds generally are protected at all times, but game commissioners may issue licenses to collect for scientific purposes. It is forbidden to capture deer or game birds by means of traps, snares or nets, except that incorporated associations may trap such animals or birds alive for the purpose of preserving them alive during the winter, providing that they be released again in New Jersey not later than April 15 the following spring. Black bass or Oswego bass may be taken between May 30 and December 1; trout between March 1 and July 15. Black bass measuring less than nine inches and trout less than six inches may not be taken, except for stocking purposes.

The penalty for violating the law is a fine of $20, for each and every piece of game or fish illegally taken, and the method of procedure is as follows: A justice of the peace is required to issue a warrant on the complaint of one or more persons and the warrant can be served by any constable, policeman, fish warden or deputy. Any such officer seeing the violation of the law has the power to arrest without a warrant. All actions brought under the law are to be tried the same as any other complaint, over which a justice of the peace has jurisdiction.

Quite a Difference.

There is a vast difference between the labor of using old-fashioned dyestuffs and the ease with which dresses, coats, etc., can be dyed with diamond dyes. The colors made by the diamond are fully equal in beauty and fastness to the spring goods at the dry goods stores, and a diamond-dyed dress cannot be told from the latest importations.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. PLAINFIELD'S WATER RATES.

Editor Bowen of Netherwood Perturbed Over the Change from Meter to Contract.

H. E. Bowen of Netherwood, Brooklyn editor of the Mail and Express, contributes the following to his paper:

THE WATER SUPPLY COMPANY AFTER LARGER DIVIDENDS.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March 20 (Special).—There is a prospect of a lively war in Plainfield over the action of the Water Supply Company removing all the water meters in the city. The company charges that the meters are defective and do not register correctly.

At the time the contract was made last May it was the understanding by the members of the Common Council that the citizens should have the privilege to either pay by the year or use water meters. The Water Supply Company, at the last moment, refused to accede to these terms and changed the wording of the contract.

For some days past employes of the Water Supply Company have been removing meters from the houses of its customers who are not supposed to have "influence".

Evidently the meter has only just been taken out of Mr. Bowen's house, else he would know that the water company long ago began abolishing meters in dwelling houses and supplying water by contract according to the number of faucets in a house. The people have to submit to the change, or else give up the use of the water and return to wells. There is n't any such lively war in prospect, nor is any such favoritism to "influential" customers shown, as indicated in the article republished above.

The Company John Crane is Superintendent of.

John M. Crane, of this city, the genial and efficient General Superintendent of the American Casualty Insurance and Security company of Baltimore, contributes to the Insurance Critic, of New York and Chicago, an interesting article on "The Broad Scope of Casualty Insurance", to which, that paper says, "we invite special attention and which we are confident will be extensively read, both on account of the importance of the subject and the wide popularity of the author, as also the vigorous manner in which he handles the theme. Mr. Crane makes no direct reference to the pushing and progressive organization with which he is prominently identified, but it will doubtless occur to many that the American Casualty Insurance and Security company is in itself a grand illustration of the proposition which, in the article referred to, Mr. Crane so ably maintains. The marvelous rapidity with which the American Casualty Insurance and Security company has risen to its present commanding position makes it especially conspicuous as an example, under the broad guage plans adopted by its general managers, of what has long since been requisite in the business of underwriting in order to succeed. This company is not alone indeed in putting to practical use the idea of multiformity in insurance, but by springing into prominence with such rapidity it exemplifies in a striking manner the possibilities of a well matured scheme operated by the combination of a high degree of enterprise and requisite skill. The personal elements in the management are of course a prominent and very influential factor. Within a period less than three years of business the company at the close of 1892 reports total assets aggregating $2,607,675.76, of which the sum of $139,756.99 is reckoned as net surplus, the capital being $1,000,000. Four hundred thousand dollars appear by the official report to have been added to the resources of the company last year. Casualty insurance, therefore, in the broadest form and widest scope practiced, appears to be made to yield correspondingly wholesale and satisfactory results in the course thus far pursued by the American Casualty Insurance & Security company. The general managers of this enterprise, Messrs. Beecher, Schenck & Co., while making no ostentation by loud "tom toms" or other bombastic manifestations of their operations have apparently succeeded, in the most deftly and unique manner possible, in actually distancing some of their competitors and really outgeneraled their opponents before they were aware of the fact that this vigorous infant had much more than entered the arena of competition for public patronage. In all of the essential features of the successful workings of the methods pursued by the management of the American Casualty Insurance & Security company, may be observed traces of the masterly hand of Robert Sewell, general counsel of the company."

—The Westfield dog case is on trial before judge Nash to-day.

—The common council last night authorized the board of health to spend $2,000 in buying and furnishing a pest-house somewhere in the outskirts of the city.

Every season brings a new crop of cough remedies, but they cannot compete with that grand, old Dr. Bull's cough Syrup.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. IN THE THEATERS.

The Best of New York's Attractions.

Theater-goers in New York have come to look upon "A Trip to Chinatown" as one of the unending delights of the metropolis. The production is Hoyt's funniest and best, and has amused the public longer than any other one play continuously. Its run has been most phenomenal, and its popularity shows no sign of abatement. The theater, (Hoyt's Madison Square) is filled nightly, and the Saturday matinees are as popular as ever. "A Trip to Chinatown" has been improved continually, wherever room for betterment could be found, and before the present season closes every Plainfielder who enjoys a night of pure and hearty fun should witness the famous production. Performances are over in ample time for suburbanites to have a lunch and catch their train.

"Americans Abroad", Sardou's great play, is in the last two weeks of its highly successful run at the Lyceum theater, and opportunity should be taken to see the splendid drama before it is taken from the boards. The play is a strong one, beautifully staged, and full of intense dramatic force as well as bubbling humor. The various members of the Lyceum company are seen to excellent advantage, and ably sustain their reputation. The Lyceum's matinees are Thursdays and Saturdays. "Americans Abroad" is one of the charming society plays such as the Lyceum is noted for.

One of the most remarkably realistic and impressive scenes ever produced on the stage is the thunder storm in the Garden of the Gods, in the new Urania spectacle of that most entertaining lecturer and learned scientist, Garret P. Serviss, at Carnegie Music Hall. The Garden of the Gods is depicted in all its glorious beauty. Suddenly a faint reflection of lightning is seen beyond the farthermost mountain-range. The reflections continue, growing gradually brighter. Inky storm clouds advance, their dense black masses swirling and rushing with the wind. The glare of the lightning flashes now is vivid, and the blackness of the lowering storm is alternated with a dazzling momentary light which shows the ice-clad giant peaks towering and gleaming high above the depths of forests and canyon shadow. From low grumbling and far-away muttering, the thunder has become a roar that seems to shake the earth, and the storm bursts all about with tremendous fury. A hissing, crackling, snapping bolt darts now and then from the jagged edge of a cloud, cleaves the air in zigzag outline, prickling and tingling the sensibilities in its momentary flight, and pierces and rends some veteran tree-trunk that it has aimed as its victim, with a terrific crash that reverberates from crag to crag as deafening as if it were all the real artillery of heaven instead of man's wondrous imitation. This is a truly wonderful experience, this perfect reproduction of a thunderstorm. Yet the Urania has many other triumphs, which only a visit to Carnegie Music Hall can reveal in all their glory.

GENIAL GEORGE.

Getting Famous Out of Town for His Good Looks and Integrity.

The likeness of G. A. Hallock, of this city, was published by the Elizabeth Journal yesterday as treasurer of the Journal bowling league. The Journal says: "Mr. Hallock is an enthusiastic lover of bowling and was one of the charter members of the old Plainfield Bowling club, which has been merged into the Crescent League.

"Among the Crescent League members Mr. Hallock is very popular and he takes a deep interest in the welfare of his club. He is not only general secretary of this popular Plainfield club but is also a member and secretary of the board of governors.

"When the Journal league was being formed, Mr. Hallock was the Crescent League's representative, and he added his efforts to those of the other representatives in forming the present organization. When the league elected their officers they wanted a man of integrity and business to care for their treasury, and Mr. Hallock was the unanimous selection."

Yes You Would!

(From a California Exchange.)

Of course this paper is not worth a "cuss", and you could make a better one without half trying. We know it, and we are surprised that you have not found it out sooner. Of course if you could n't make a better one, you would go off and die? Of course you would. And you would n't be afraid to publish all the choice bits of scandal and give the guilty ones "particular fits!" Of course you would n't. In fact, it would be a picnic for you. There is n't half enough news in the paper, but if you had it you would fill her up full. Of course you would. You would take "ads" from the merchants for the honor of having them. Of course you would. You would give everybody a polite personal and a dozen copies of paper containing same free as a token of esteem. Of course you would. And you'd never think of asking a subscriber to pay up till he felt like it. It would never do to insult a man like that. Certainly not. You'd—yes, you'd play the deuce running this paper, you would.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Fanwood Falls an Easy Victim to the Park Club's Prowess.

The last game in the series of contests between the Park club and the Fanwood team was rolled on the Park alleys last night and resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Parks with a margin to spare of 252 pins. Last night's game was the deciding one as the Park club had already won 6 and the agreement was to roll for the best 7 out of 13 games. Ten games have been rolled in all, Fanwood capturing only 3.

The great success of the Park team has induced captain Matthews to try his luck with the very best teams he can find. Arrangements are now in progress for a game with the Elizabeth Athletic club, whose team recently rolled the tremendous score of over 1800 pins in a game with the New Jersey Athletic team. The date of the game has not been decided.

There are still some games to be played with the Union County club, the record at present standing 5 to 2 in favor of the Parks.

In last night's score, Lyman 180 was high man, while the lowest rolled was by Thomas, 133, compared with 97 as Fanwood's low score.

The score:

OUGHT TO BE KNOWN.

A Most Seasonable Item of Good News.

Something That the Public Can Depend Upon at this Trying Season.

And Something Which Is Easily Within the Reach of All.

Newburg, N. Y., has had a sensation.

It seems that H. S. Shorter, Esq., an old resident of 75 years of age, who lives at 391 Broadway, Newburg, began to grow languid, got tired easily, was nervous and debilitated, until at last he became so weak and exhausted that he was just able to drag himself around. He lost strength so rapidly and became so alarmingly prostrated that his friends and relatives despaired of his life.

Now came the marvellous change.

Suddenly Mr. Shorter was transformed from his condition of extreme weakness to one of strength; his nerves grew strong and steady: his muscles became vigorous, his blood was revived and enriched, he gained 15 pounds in weight and to-day he is in sound and perfect health.

Such a remarkable transformation in a man of his age was a nine days' wonder.

Of course the cause was eagerly looked for.

And the following astonishing facts are stated exactly as they fell from Mr. Shorter's own lips:

H. S. SHORTER, ESQ.

"I feel like a new man!

"What do you think of taking an old man of 75 years, physically weak and broken down, and making him feel like a boy again! Giving him new life, health and strength and adding 15 pounds of solid flesh to his weak and debilitated frame!

"And all in two months, with three bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy! Well, that is just what has taken place in me; instead of being weak, debilitated and exhausted, just able to drag myself around, I feel now like a new man! I advise all to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy."

This is the best news possible, especially at this season of the year when everybody is thinking about taking a spring medicine. This wonderful remedy is just what you need, and if you use it you will find that it will make a new person of you in feeling and health. It is the ideal spring medicine, because it is the most perfect blood invigorator and nerve strengthener.

It is purely vegetable and harmless and druggists keep it for $1. Doctors recommend it, indeed it is the prescription and discovery of one of our most prominent physicians, Dr. Greene, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, of 35 West 14th st., New York. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Judging from the Family.

Chappy—My brother is a fool.

Penelope—I have never met him, but I can readily believe it.—Boston Globe.

That's How.

She—How do you like my new hat?

He—In the bandbox.—Chicago News Record.

A POPULAR SONG.

"There's music in the hair."—Judge.

A Reproof.

Fashionable Mother (languidly)—Well, Sarah, how is baby to-day?

Maid—He cut two teeth this morning, ma'am.

Fashionable Mother (still more languidly)—That was very negligent of you, Sarah. You ought not to let a young baby play with a knife.—Truth.

Fulfilling His Mission.

Miss Goodsoul—That was so true, what our minister said to-day.

Gayboy—What was that?

Miss Goodsoul—"Man lives but for a time."

Gayboy—Well, he generally has it.—Jury.

No Hope of Getting Money Back.

Artist—Just look, darling! I was short of canvas, so I've stretched a clean pocket handkerchief; see how splendidly it takes the paint!

His Prudent Little Wife—Oh, John, dear, how extravagant of you! It'll never come out.—Boston Globe.

A Talented Goat.

"Where have you been, Tommy?"

"Out in the stable giving my goat drawing lessons. I teached him how to draw a wagon."—Harper's Young People.

Over the Coffee-Cups.

"Your speech is rather sharp, I think," complained Mrs. Hawkins.

"I have to make it so to get it in edgewise," retorted Hawkins.—Truth.

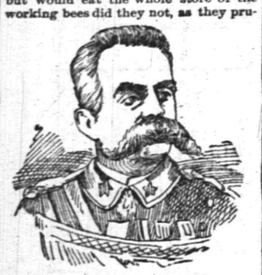
THE ITALIAN ARMY.

It Crushes the People by the Cost It Entails.

The Social Consequences of Conscription—A Huge Mass of Living Forces Lying Absolutely Idle—Democratic Sentiment.

The army is a sore point with the Italian people, whom it crushes by the cost it entails. The military recruiting takes away the wage earning population for three years—i. e., all men who have entered their twenty-first year. The social consequences of conscription are of various kinds. The military service leads to the desertion of the rural districts, modifying the customs of the people; on the other hand, the boor who enters the army acquires before leaving it some instruction and a little polish, says a writer in the Leisure Hour. Weighing one thing against another, the conscription is perhaps temporarily useful, and forms a powerful agent for the future formation of the Italian people by making those from different regions acquainted with one another, and also by diffusing the correct spoken tongue. Students and professional men can serve their time under certain favorable conditions in one year, but they can never have absolute exemption from military service, a fact which bears very hardly upon their scientific training, often temporarily unfitting them, and in any case frequently proving a serious delay and interruption in their course of study and commencement of earning. The day can surely not be far distant when compulsory military service, the cause of notable weakness to all European states, will be abolished. A time may come when the people will no longer bear these heavy, useless, unchristian and provocative burdens. When everything that can be said in favor of the system is said, it corresponds to several years of idleness on the part of half the nation, and in the best time of their lives, when they should be fitting themselves to become useful members of their country.

The huge military and administrative establishment has brought another evil upon Italy. This multitude of officers and employes acquire at the comparatively early age of fifty-two a right to a pension, and this represents a mass of living forces lying absolutely idle. Their life as public servants has robbed them of every idea of initiative and they reenter the national hive like to those bees of male ~~sex~~ who produce no honey, but would eat the whole store of the working bees did they not, as they prudently do, make a yearly sacrifice of them. Unfortunately, in the human hive such sacrifices for the sake of the common weal are not permitted, and hence they may eat the bread of idleness and drain the resources of their working fellows.



HUMBERT, KING OF ITALY.

There is one noticeable point in Italy, and that is that no trace remains of the ancient feudal system. This was destroyed by the republics and the foreign conquerors, who hoped by this means to bring about concord; and when for the republics was substituted the government of the indigenous signori, so far from restoring feudalism, this extinguished its last spark. In Italy, therefore, no aristocracy exists in the political sense of the word. There are princes, dukes, marchesi, counts in plenty, but more than half of these have no right to the titles they bear, many of which are self-imposed. There are proud and humble titled men, poor and rich, some of ancient lineage and some of new creation, but they all have this in common, that they have no importance outside the drawing-room. The country has been given over for so many years to the democracy that the democratic instincts run in the veins of all. The court understands this, and acts on it by being affable to all men of all ranks.

Guns for Our Navy.

Eighty-two high-power guns have been completed for the United States navy during the last year. The greatest progress has been made with the rapid-fire gun, of which twenty-eight four-inch and eleven five-inch have been completed since the last report. These guns, upon which little had been done up to last year, owing to the time required to perfect a suitable breech mechanism, are now rapidly approaching completion. The difficulties experienced in the manufacture of suitable metallic cartridge cases have now also been overcome. Of the six-inch guns, the manufacture of which was most advanced, one hundred and thirty-five have now been completed. Contracts have been made for forgings for six new six-inch guns of forty calibers in length, to be used with brass cartridge cases as rapid-fire guns, and to be supplied to the fastest cruisers.

French Men and Women.

From statistics covering the last thirty-two years it is computed that the average life of women in France has been 38 years and of men 36 years. During last year, however, the average rose to 40 years for both sexes.

Good Scheme.

To guard against poisoning a law has been passed in Germany that all drugs intended for internal use must be put in round bottles, and those which are only used externally must be placed in hexagonal bottles.

A New Definition.

"Mamma," said Willyboy, "I want to ask one more question."

"Very well, Willyboy."

"Are sweetbreads made of loaf sugar?"—Puck.

One More Style.

"I never saw a portrait of a face like that before."

"Neither did I. It must be a picture of Columbus."—Chicago News Record.

An Afflicted Nose.

Mamma—Frances, doesn't that flower smell sweet, dear?

Frances (aged 4)—I tan't 'mell it. I dess my nose is deaf.—Puck.

Every Smoker's Nose knows when it is pleased. It is always pleased with the fragrant and peculiar aroma of and saw enough of it, your digestive organs may perhaps be equal, ostrich like, to any task you impose—even to the digestion of lard-cooked food.

If however, like thousands of other people, you have learned that you must "draw the line at lard," this is to remind you that there is a clean, delicate and healthful vegetable substitute, called which if used in place of lard permits you to eat pies, pastry, patties and such "good things" without fear of dyspeptic consequences.

There's abundant proof, but none so convincing and so pleasant as a trial for yourself. We invite it. For sale everywhere.

Five Hundred Chinese Causing Trouble in Canada.

TO BE PUT ACROSS OUR FRONTIER

These Celestials Were Landed at Victoria and Are Being Sent on East and Dropped at Unguarded Points Along the Route—Upper New York and Maine Exposed—Victoria's Quarantine Worthless.

MONTREAL, March 22.—Five hundred Chinese, who were landed from the ship Tacoma at Victoria, B. C., last week, are causing the health authorities of the provinces of Quebec a great deal of anxiety. It is reported that smallpox has broken out among them, and if they come here the plague is sure to spread.

These Chinese are bound for Eastern Canada, where a few of them will probably remain, but the great majority of them have their destination in the United States, where they have friends.

It is well understood that the Chinese will be dropped at different points along the line of railway and smuggled into the States.

The principal points exposed are Rouses Point, Fort Edward, Cape Vincent and Ogdensburg, while some of them will go into New Brunswick and attempt to cross into Maine.

The health officers here say that the quarantine at Victoria is worthless, and if the outbreak among the Chinese threatens to become serious health officers will be stationed at all the points of entrance between Quebec and Ontario, and none will be allowed to enter this province.

SHE WILL SEE HIM DIE.

Mrs. Harris Declares That She Will Go to the Death Chair With Her Son.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Mrs. Harris, mother of Carlyle W. Harris, in an interview, said that her son had begged her not to hold a mass meeting, and in deference to his wishes the project has been abandoned. She said that the petition sent out would contain a digest of all the new evidence.

"If Carl is executed," she said with tragic energy, "I shall stand in the death chamber by the chair with Juror Mason's affidavit in my hand, and see my boy murdered. I'll have the affidavit buried with him in the coffin."

Mrs. Harris said that District-Attorney Nicoll had told Mr. Howe that he would not allow her in the court room Monday. She believed he feared a popular uprising in Harris' behalf.

THE COAL COMBINE PROBE.

J. J. Rhodes Brings Suit Against the Investigating Committee.

ST. PAUL, March 22.—Considerable feeling still exists in the Legislature over the detention by District Judge Egan of one of its members. H. H. Horton has offered a resolution amounting to practical apology on the part of the House, but it was scornfully voted down.

A mass meeting has been called for tomorrow evening to discuss the coal combine and the action that should be taken.

J. J. Rhodes, whose letter book was taken, has brought suit for $50,000 against Representatives Walsh, Ignatius, Donnelly, Winston, Bjorge, Boggs, Horton, Lockwood and Moorse, who compose the investigation committee.

Boston Carriage Workers' Demands.

BOSTON, March 22.—The carriage and wagon workers of this city have issued a demand to the manufactures of Boston and vicinity that on and after Monday, March 27, 1893, nine hours shall constitute a day's work, with eight hours on Saturday, and ten hours pay, also an increase of ten per cent. for piece workers. A strike seems likely, as many of the manufacturers say they will resist the demands.

Five Thousand Resignations In.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Robert A. Maxwell, whose nomination as fourth assistant postmaster-general, was confirmed by the Senate on Monday took formal charge of the office to-day. There are on file in the Department more than five thousand resignations of postmasters, many of the fourth class, and these cases will be considered and disposed of before any cases of removals are taken up.

Pilot Boat Exhibit For the Fair.

NEW YORK, March 22.—An exhibit for the Columbian Exposition of Chicago, is being prepared by the New York Pilot Commissioners. It consists of a model of a pilot boat, full rigged and a number of paintings and engravings. Among these are ship Norway passing Sandy Hook, pilot boats in a hurricane, and a New York pilot boarding a steamship in a gale.

GIVE AMERICA A CHANCE.

Chicago's Mayor Thinks Foreign Saints and Kings Should Not Have All the Holidays.

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mayor Washburne, in sending an order to the heads of departments in the city hall calling their attention to the council order declaring to-day a holiday in honor of Emperor William's birthday, took occasion to give expression to some rather cutting sarcasm.

While nominally obeying the order, the message will have the actual effect of nullifying it. The order closes with the following paragraph:

"I desire to here commend the spirit which dictated the setting apart of this day and the setting apart of March 17 by the city council as American holidays, and I trust that the council, having recognized the cosmopolitan character of our population by granting holidays to the different nationalities whose blood commingles here in the production of the American citizen, will not deprive the city employes of other nationalities of opportunity to properly commemorate the birth of all dead saints and heroes, as well as the birth of all reigning monarchs.

"If the catalogue of dead and living saints and monarchs be not sufficient to exhaust the secular days of the year, I would suggest that the council, as a change, appropriate the few remaining days by closing the city hall in order that we may commemorate the birth of some American hero."

A BOX OF BODIES.

The Horrible Discovery of a Hunter on the Missouri River.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 23.—Compton McCoy, a farmer, residing a few miles south of this city on the Missouri river banks, while duck hunting on a sand bar, discovered a large drygoods box floating with the current. He pulled the box to the shore, and, breaking it open, was nearly overpowered by a terrible stench that arose from it.

An investigation disclosed that the box was filled with dead bodies in an advanced state of decomposition, the remains being so badly decomposed that identification was impossible.

Coroner Reynolds made an investigation, and found that the remains were those of four men and one woman, and appearances indicated that they had been murdered, their remains placed in the box and then set adrift.

The community is in a terrible state of excitement. It is supposed the remains are those of a family of emigrants who disappeared in a mysterious manner from Rulo, 40 miles north of this city, last fall.

MACKAY IMPROVES.

Denial of the Sensational Report That the Millionaire Was Dying.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—John W. Mackay is better to-day than he has been for a week past. There is no truth whatever in the sensational report sent out yesterday that peritonitis had set in from something being lodged in the vermiform appendix.

Neither has Mr. Mackay sent for his wife and family in Europe and there is also nothing in his condition that makes an operation necessary.

Turkish Minister to Report the Charges.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Mavroyeni Bey, Turkish Minister to the United States, called at the State Department and in respect to the charges made by Representatives of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, that the mail of American missionaries and of American official representatives in Turkey had been tampered or interfered with by Turkish authorities, said he should call the attention of his government to the charges and that he was satisfied they would be completely disproved.

Gone Crazy Over His Loss.

TOLEDO, O., March 22.—Joseph Flynn, who owned the two buildings that were crushed to the earth Monday night by the falling of the walls of the Wheeler Opera House that had been standing since the late fire, has become insane on account of the loss of the buildings on which he had not a cent of insurance. He raved and became so violent that he was placed in a padded cell at the police station.

Eagles Carry Off a Small Dog.

WEST POINT, March 22.—During the past month at least a score of magnificent North American eagles have made their home in the woods north of West Point. The top of Dade's monument is their favorite resort. Joe Miller, the lighthouse keeper on Gees Point, believes they have carried off his small dog.

Caught in the Act

TROY, N. Y., March 22.—Charles Quinn, who was pardoned last December by Gov. Flower, after having served six of a twenty years sentence for arson, was arrested yesterday while in the act of burglarizing a cigar store on Congress street. John Curran, alias Kearns, was also arrested.

Roy's Body Recovered.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 22.—The body of Robert J. Hoy, the saloon keeper, who it was thought was murdered and his body thrown into the Christiana river several weeks ago, has been recovered. Suspicion of murder is still prevalent. The coroner is investigating the case.

Gains Admission to the Fair Grounds.

CHICAGO, March 22.—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has gained an important victory in a condemnation suit which will give it a clear right of way into the grounds of the World's Fair. The Illinois Central heretofore was the only road having an entry into the grounds.

Miners Strike Near the End.

PITTSBURG, March 22.—The great strike by the Monongahela river coal miners, which has been waged so bitterly and at such tremendous cost on both sides for the past seven months, may be declared off tomorrow week.

MORE PANAMA VERDICTS

Baihaut and Blondin Sentenced With de Lesseps.

AFFECTING SCENES IN THE PRISON

All the Others Were Acquitted of the Charges Against Them—Six Bomb Explosions in Rome—De Cobain Convicted—Hunting for Arton in Germany—Dunraven to Accept the Yacht Club Challenge—Mayor of Moscow Shot.

PARIS, March 22.—When Maitre Demenge had concluded his address in behalf of Antonin Proust, accused of corruption in connection with the Panama scandal, the jury retired to consider their verdict. After being out a short time they returned and gave out these results of their deliberations:

Charles de Lesseps, accused of corrupting ex-Minister of Public Works Baihaut to support the Panama Lottery Bonds bill, was found guilty.

Baihaut, who confessed his guilt in open court, was also found guilty, as was also Blondin, who acted as go-between in the bribery of Baihaut.

All the other defendants were acquitted.

These are Martin Fontane, Panama Canal director, M. Sans-Leroy, ex-Deputy, who was accused of changing his vote in committee on the Panama bill as the result of bribery; Senator Beral, accused of being bribed by Baron Reinach; and Deputies Dugue de la Faneonnerie, Gobron and Antonin Prout, who were accused of corruption.

The court sentenced M. Baihaut to imprisonment for five years, to pay a fine of $150,000 and the loss of civil rights. M. Blondin was sentenced to imprisonment for two years, and Charles de Lesseps to one year, the one year to run concurrently with the five years' sentence already imposed upon him. All three of the convicted prisoners were condemned to pay the costs and damages demanded by the civil parties to the proceedings.

The court also ordered M. de Lesseps, Blondin and Baihaut to pay M. Monchicourt, liquidator of the Panama Canal company, 375,000 francs, the amount taken from the treasury of the company to pay to M. Baihaut for his influence in favor of the Lottery Loan bill.

The sentences of Charles de Lesseps and Blondin were made comparatively light on the ground of extenuating circumstances.

Charles de Lesseps received his sentence calmly, although the strain of the trial has rendered him exceedingly haggard and nervous. When he rose, before the retirement of the jury, to reaffirm his innocence, he spoke with difficulty and occasionally hesitated for almost a minute to compose his feelings.

He told the jury with apparent earnestness that he had always tried to do his duty as a director of the company, and that where he had erred in judgment he had at the time supposed that he was acting for the best interests of the canal company and the State.

When his wife visited him in his cell shortly afterward, however, he broke down and wept like a child.

M. Baihaut talked for an hour in his cell with his wife and two daughters. Despite the hopelessness of his case, he evidently was unprepared to bear the full weight of his sentence, for during the interview with his family he sobbed repeatedly and begged their forgiveness for the disgrace that he had brought upon them.

M. Bloddin was hardly less effected when he bade good-by to his son and daughter.

Italian Cruiser on Her Way Here.

ROME, March 22.—The Italian steel cruiser Etna, under the command of Admiral Maghaghi, has sailed from Spezzia for New York to take part in the Columbian naval demonstration. The Etna is a comparatively new vessel, having been completed in 1885, and steams 17 knots an hour.

Dunraven Will Accept.

LONDON, March 22.—It is understood that Lord Dunraven will accept the conditions of the race for the America's cup submitted by the cup committee of the New York Yacht Club, but will suggest that an earlier date than Oct. 5 be set for the first race.

Russia Guarding Against Cholera.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 22.—The Minister of Public Works is about to start on a tour of sanitary inspection along the lines of railway in the provinces of Nijni-Novgorod, Yaroslav and Orel, where a number of fatal cases of cholera are reported.

Shot by a Nihilist.

MOSCOW, March 22.—The Mayor of Moscow who was shot in the abdomen with a revolver by a man named Adricanoff cannot recover. Adricanoff was arrested and in the sole of his shoe was found the following: "The lot has fallen on you."

De Cobain Convicted.

BELFAST, March 22.—Edward Samuel Wesley de Cobain, formerly Conservative member of Parliament for the East Division of Belfast, was found guilty yesterday of unnatural crimes. He was sentenced to one year at hard labor.

M. Arton Wanted in France.

BERLIN, March 22.—In compliance with the request of the French government the Public Prosecutor in Strassburg has been directed to secure the issue of a warrant for the arrest of M. Arton, the fugitive Panama lobbyist.

Takes Charge About April 15.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Ex-Senator Eustis, who has been confirmed as Minister to France, expects to take charge of his mission about April 12. N. B. Eustis, his son it is said, will occupy the position of Assistant Secretary of Legation.

SECRETED A GIRL.

Angry Paterson Women Cause a Shoemaker to be Locked Up.

PATERSON, N. J., March 22.—Joseph Amon, a crippled Belgian shoemaker, had a narrow escape from being killed by an indignant crowd of women who assembled in front of his shop at No. 144 Mill street, yesterday.

Mrs. William Collins, who occupies squalid quarters over the shoemaker's cellar, had informed the neighbors that Amon was not only harboring but secreting 13-year-old Mary Nolan in the inner recesses of his dug out. When he saw the angry women on the sidewalk, Amon locked the basement door.

Mrs. Collins called to her husband to go for a policeman, telling him that she would guard the door and prevent the escape of the shoemaker and the girl.

Collins soon found a policeman and accompanied him to Amon's shop. The shoemaker denied that the girl was in his place, but the patrolman refused to listen to him and grouped his way through the cellar which ran back nearly 100 feet.

When about to give up the search he heard some one breathing behind an ash barrel and stretching out his hand in the darkness caught hold of the girl's hair. He ordered her to accompany him and she unwillingly obeyed. The shoemaker was taken to the station house followed for three blocks by a hundred excited women.

Both of Mary's parents are dead and up to Washington's birthday she lived with her uncle in Vine street. Since that time she is supposed to have been harbored by Amon.

PAPER PRISONERS.

Ex-Sheriff Suttliffe's Method of Getting Back His Election Expenses.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., March 22.—At the trial here of ex-Sheriff Suttliffe one of the witnesses, Charles Smith, who was constable at the time the steal is alleged to have been worked, testified that he had frequently taken prisoners to jail without commitments, and secured the papers afterward.

Another constable, George Ecker, testified that it was his custom three or four times a week to take six or eight commitments without the prisoners and to deliver them to the jail. They were paper prisoners. This practice, he said, covered a long period.

He talked with the sheriff about it, and when another man was elected constable the sheriff asked him to post the new man on the matter. The sheriff said that his election had been expensive, and that he proposed to get his money back.

The People have rested their case, and the defense is arguing for a non-suit.

SALOON KEEPERS JAILED.

And It Will Take a Small Fortune for Them to Get Out.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 22.—Great excitement was created here when it was learned during the night that Gov. Lewelling had ordered the arrest of all violators of the prohibition laws.

By 6 o'clock this morning 30 saloon keepers were behind the bars of the county jail.

The men are arrested on counts ranging in number from 10 to 36, and if the minimum penalty is inflicted for each count it will require a small fortune for each man to obtain his liberty.

It is a move instigated by the temperance people of Fort Scott to suppress the sale of liquor, which has been legalized by the municipal authorities for the past month, despite the prohibition laws.

Decided That Fritz Was Murdered.

PATERSON, N. J., March 22.—After a lengthy discussion the coroner's jury has decided that George Fritz, the man found dead in a kneeling position in a snowdrift near Centreville, nearly two weeks ago, was murdered. The fact that the revolver with which he had been shot was not found, convinced the jury that some unknown person decoyed the man to the edge of the thick woods, and shot him in the back of the head.

Oklahoma Swept by Prairie Fires.

GUTHRIE, O. T., March 22.—Everything in the Territory is as dry as tinder and prairie fires are doing a great deal of damage. In the Cheyenne country whole townships have been swept by fire and hundreds of cattle perished. Near Evansville a number of farms were swept clean of all buildings and at one point in Lincoln county a large amount of timber was destroyed.

Guilty With a Recommendation to Mercy.

JAMAICA, L. I., March 22.—The jury in the trial of Frederick Haupt, charged with the murder of George Seiffert, a fellow farm hand, on Sept. 1, last night brought in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to mercy in the County Court. Haupt broke two of Seiffert's ribs with the tail board of a farm wagon. Seiffert died two days later in the Flushing hospital.

Library for the Printers' Home.

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.—A meeting of the committee which is engaged in raising funds for a library for the Childs-Drexel Home for Union Printers at Colorado Springs, was held in this city yesterday. Enough money has been secured to purchase about 2,000 volumes, and the selection of the books was the principal subject before the meeting.

An Old Baymas Hangs Himself.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., March 22.—Captain John Franklin, one of the oldest baymen of Oyster Bay, was found hanging from a crossbeam in his barn at 10 a. m. He was 73 years old, and four years ago married a widow, a Mrs. Hamilton. He has been despondent of late, and only a week ago attempted to take poison.

Thrown from His Hearse and Killed.

WILMINGTON, Del., March 22.—S. P. Short, an undertaker, of Bridgeville, was instantly killed yesterday by being thrown from his hearse. The horse reared and plunged, throwing the undertaker off. He struck upon his head, dying instantly. The coffin in the hearse was thrown out upon the ground.

Fatal Result of a Quarrel.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., March 22.—At Pitkin, two miles south of here, two young men named Curtis and Caudle became involved in a difficulty. Caudle cut Curtis with a knife, killing him almost instantly. Curtis was intoxicated and was a dangerous man when drinking. Caudle surrendered.

Carbolic Acid Works Burned.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—The Western Chemical works, the only laboratory manufacturing carbolic acid in this country, burned yesterday. Loss, $10,000. This is the third time the works have been destroyed by fire in six months.

WHO WILL WIN IN COURT

Ann Arbor Strike Case Now Before Judge Ricks.

VICE-PRESIDENT ASHLEY'S VIEWS

The New Rules Which He Proposes to Put in Force on His Road Will Call Upon Men to Enlist—Samuel Gompers Thinks that Judge Ricks' Decision Will Not Stand Against Gresham's—Arguments of Counsel.

TOLEDO, O., March 22.—When Judge Ricks began proceedings in the United States Court the building was crowded to its utmost capacity with locomotive engineers, conductors, firemen, railway officials, attorneys and spectators. One of the most important features of the Ann Arbor strike came up. The Lake Shore attorney, E. D. Potter, and assistant counsel, and the Hon. Frank Hurd and Hon. John H. Southard constituted the legal talent acting in the case.

The point was made that Ann Arbor freight had been refused in violation of the Interstate Commerce law. The great issue, Mr. Potter declared, was as to the right of the trainmen to leave their situations.

The Lake Shore attorney began his address to the court by reading the first restraining order issued by Judge Ricks, in which the connecting lines of the Ann Arbor railroad company, with their employes, were enjoined from refusing to handle the freight cars of that company. He also read several rules of the company, which are issued to the engineers and firemen when entering the service of the Lake Shore.

They referred particularly to the duties of the men in obeying the orders of their officers, and of the care and handling of the property of the company.

He offered in evidence the order of the Lake Shore company relating to quick service, in which 100 miles wages are allowed for that distance or less. The order relates wholly to time allowed to engineers and firemen.

The defense sets up the plea that the men admit leaving their engines as soon as they discovered Ann Arbor cars coupled in the trains, but claim that they had not yet received notice of the remarkable court order.

The taking of testimony then followed. Among the witnesses called were Master of Motive Power Stevens and Foreman Sexsden of the Lake Shore railroad and the striking engineers. The testimony thus far does not bear out the defense of the strikers.

The Brotherhood men are becoming desperate, and Chiefs Arthur and Sargent both declared that if the court's orders are carried out their organizations are practically dead. The present case will undoubtedly go against them.

NEW YORK, March 22.—J. M. Ashley, jr., vice-president of the Ann Arbor railroad, speaking of the orders of Judges Taft and Ricks prohibiting railroad employes from boycotting the freights, takes the ground that the best way out of the difficulty would be to have definite contracts with employes which would bind both parties.

"The service rendered by railroad companies," said he, "is a public service, regulated and controlled by law. This regulation and control relates directly to the corporation and managing officers, and affects by implication only the employes of railways, whose services are essential to the public welfare."

He further stated that he had no doubt that the decision of Judge Ricks would be sustained and that the decision of Judge Gresham in the case of the C., B. & Q. strike will eventually be overturned.

Mr. Ashley had a typewritten copy of a new code of rules which he proposes to introduce at the next annual meeting of his road in April. By these rules the services rendered by the railway companies shall be controlled by law, entrance into the railway service is to be by enlistment for a definite period, and all applicants are to be examined as to their mental and physical fitness for duty. Oath is to be taked also by the applicant to support the Constitution of the United States and to obey the laws of the State and nation. Sixty days' notice is to be given by either side of a desire to terminate their relations, boycotting and blacklisting are to be prohibited and made a felony with suitable punishment, and the compensation of employes is to be fixed at the time of "enlistment" by mutual agreement.

Samuel Gompers, after reading this proposed code of rules, said:

"It would put the applicant in the position of entering the army or navy. I do not believe in it, and in any case applicants must be mentally and physically competent to perform their duties. Further, I don't believe that the decision of Judge Ricks will stand, while I believe Judge Gresham's decision will hold good."

Miss Ensor Awakens from Her Trance.

BALTIMORE, March 22—For the first time since a week ago last Thursday Miss Lizzie Ensor has spoken. The girl at last awakened from her trance and startled her mother by asking; "Why, mother is that you?" After this she began to talk in a rational manner. She has no recollection of anything that occurred within the last two weeks.

SCHOOL MEETINGS.

NORTH PLAINFIELD'S NEED OF MORE ROOM.

Not a Dissenting Voice in the Big Gathering of Voters.

The turnout at the North Plainfield school meeting last night was unusually large. Not a woman attended.

Everything was harmonious and unanimous, and the choice of the voters for trustees was:

S. St. J. McCutchen, for 3 years.
Stephen B. Josephs, for 1 year.

The only matter discussed was the proposition to give more school accommodation. The report was made that the pupils were crowded into quarters utterly inadequate, and one class of little ones was compelled to study in the basement, which was dark, badly ventilated and reeking with dampness. Two plans were suggested, one for erecting new primary schools removed from the present school; this was deemed too expensive. The other was to enlarge the present building, and a resolution was adopted authorizing the trustees to prepare plans and estimates for the work. They will report at a public meeting April 25.

The appropriation adopted was $3,500, the same as last year.

FANWOOD'S HARMONY.

The Women Join in Cheering David P. Hall's Report.

The annual meeting in school district No. 14 was held in the audience hall of the school-house at Fanwood last evening, pursuant to call. Promptly at 8 order was tapped by the district clerk, and Geo. B. Nicholl was elected chairman.

After thanking those present for the honor conferred, Mr. Nicholl stated that "we are here for business" and properly assigned the district clerk as secretary of the meeting.

The district clerk, David P. Hall, then read the call for the meeting and also the report of the school trustees, which was listened to faithfully and approved by all. When Mr. Hall referred to his long services to school district No. 14, and his intended removal to Plainfield, he could not avoid showing his feeling at the severance of his connection with the district he so ably represented.

"There are the books", said he, as he lifted them one by one; "nothing has been concealed, and they have been open at all reasonable times for inspection."

More than one who heard Mr. Hall's report thought of the contrast between his manner of administering school affairs and that of the Plainfield board of education. The financial report was then read, and the trustees' recommendation as to the amount required for the ensuing year related.

The amount as stated by the trustees was $2,600, and in accordance with the law was ballotted for; the Rev. Dr. Parks and L. J. Briggs, jr., acting as tellers. The vote was: Total, 117. To appropriate $2,600—99; the others scattering, practically endorsing the trustees' advice unanimously.

The nominations for school trustee for the full term vice David P. Hall were then called for. Hezekiah Hand nominated Thomas J. Nicholl. That being seconded and no other nominations being made, George Kyte moved that the nominations be closed and that the secretary cast the ballot, which was carried. Mr. Nicholl gave thanks for his unanimous election, and said he would endeavor to fulfill the duties of the office for the best interest of the school district.

A vote of thanks was then unanimously tendered the chairman to which he fittingly responded.

The chair next recognized Judge Moore, who moved a standing vote of thanks to the retiring district clerk and trustee, David P. Hall, for his untiring zeal and successful endeavors in placing School District No. 14 in the position it now occupies.

The motion was seconded from all quarters and unanimously carried, immediately followed by "three cheers for David P. Hall" started by John Robison and responded to with a will.

The nicest compliment that any board ever received was evidenced by the number of ladies present at the meeting, who heartily endorsed the board's report and when Mr. Robison called for cheers for the retiring member vied with the men in their enthusiasm.

It should be stated that the report as presented, congratulated Mr. Goodenough, the principal, on his untiring perseverance in raising the school to the standard it has attained under his management, and also paid a graceful compliment to the ladies of the school who have so faithfully performed their arduous duties.

Although, as Mr. Hall stated, "there is a rise in the market for teachers", it was generally expressed by the parents of the children attending the school that an amount sufficient might be raised to retain the present instructresses whom the children love and all respect.

THE WOMEN WERE THERE.

But Everything Was Harmonious, and the Expected Contest Was Averted.

The annual meeting of School District, No. 2, which includes Dunellen and New Market, was held in the Whittier School building at Dunellen, last evening, and contrary to expectations the meeting was one of the most harmonious ever held in the district. It had been reported that an effort would be made at the meeting to elect one or more Catholics on the board of trustees, but nothing of the sort was even mentioned at the meeting. Fully four hundred people crowded the school hall, in preparation of the anticipated contest, and many of these were ladies, who were there to assert their rights.

District clerk, the Rev. L. E. Livermore, called the meeting to order; W. J. Hamilton was elected chairman, and Harry Gaskill secretary. The latter read the call, in which $2,700 was the amount asked for running expenses during the coming year. This amount was granted.

The president's report was read and accepted. It showed a balance on hand at the beginning of the year; the total receipts were $8,355.31; expenditures, $5,859.12; balance on hand, $2,496 19.

The annual report of the board of trustees with reference to buildings, improvements, etc., took the same course. It also showed that at the May census there were 348 children in the district, between the ages of five and eighteen years, and that the total enrollment for the year was 272; of this number seven reside outside of the district.

The following trustees were then unanimously elected: Rev. A. I. Martine and Harry C. Gaskill. Each gentleman signified his willingness to serve on the board, and they were declared elected.

In a communication, the Rev. Mr. Livermore tendered his resignation on account of his proposed change of residence, and it was accepted with much regret. The Rev. Mr. Livermore said he had been most heartily sustained in his labors, and his interest in the schools would never waver. The unanimity which has existed in the schools he considered something remarkable. Special thanks were extended to the retiring board, and a vote of thanks was given the entire board.

The following persons were appointed on the auditing committee: F. R. Wynkoop, Alva Gray and T. C. Bodine. The board now stands: Martine, 3 years, term expires 1896; Gaskill, to fill unexpired term of the Rev. Mr. Livermore, 2 years, term expires 1895; Thomas L. Thomas, holds over, term expires 1894.

NOTES.

At the Dunellen school meeting last evening, E. J. Swackhammer declined re-election.

One lady, Mrs. T. C. Bodine, was nominated for school trustee at the meeting in Dunellen, last evening, but she most modestly declined. She was placed in nomination by Frank P. Haffner. Among other things he said that 95 per cent. of the purity of mankind is in the women, and he thought they should be represented on the school board.

Washingtonville's Good Selections.

The election of two school trustees at Washingtonville, took place last night.

George Bullman was chosen chairman; and Andrew Wilson secretary. Robert Clark was chosen to fill out the unexpired term of 2 years caused by the removal of B. Luersen. George Bullman was elected for 3 years.

The finances made a good showing, there being a surplus in the treasury.

THE WESTFIELD DOG CASE.

Editor Pearsall Finds It Costly to Shoot Another's Canine.

The case of James M. French against Clifford E Pearsall for damages for the killing by Pearsall of a Scotch terrier "Carlo" ten years old, belonging to French, was tried yesterday before judge Nash and a jury. The parties are from Westfield. The evidence showed that the dog was on Pearsall's property and had just been in his chicken yard. Mr. Pearsall said he took his gun and went out in the yard and "yelled" at the dog, which instead of running away ran at him with open mouth and he shot it in self defence. On cross-examination he broke down as to the self-defence plea. Much amusement resulted from Mr. Reed's cross-examination of this witness.

Chas. N. Coding, esq., of Westfield, the lawyer for Pearsall, also claimed that the dog was cross and a nuisance and that the killing was therefore justifiable. However, borough counsel Chas. A. Reed succeeded in convincing the jury that Pearsall had no right to shoot the dog, and they brought in a verdict of $40 and costs against Pearsall.

New Yorkers Looking to Plainfield for Summer Homes.

The New York Evening Post, that excellent journal which can always be relied on for early and trustworthy information, especially in matters of finance and real estate, has been making a specialty of accurate suburban news, and in a recent issue gives Plainfield and its environs the following valuable free advertisement:

The builders of Plainfield have, in spite of the severity of the season, been busy all winter with the work of erecting more houses to meet the expected demand. So many who were formerly New Yorkers and Brooklynites have made Plainfield a city of commuters' homes that each summer the list grows larger of their friends who desire to spend the outing months near them in the country. Last year there were scarcely enough modern houses to fill the wants of Plainfield's summer visitors from the city, and contractors have been rushed with orders for new houses in every part of the place. Though the number completed is extraordinarily great, every one of them is likely to be occupied, judging from present prospects. Plainfield is now well equipped with desirable houses for people of moderate income, which she long lacked. The number of local changes of residence will be somewhat larger than usual on moving day, but most of these will be among chronic movers; and the thrifty real-estate men are taking care that the houses left vacant are such as people from out of town want. For weeks the Plainfield agents have been busy negotiating for houses for newcomers for the season. Every promise, they say, is for a very much larger spring rental than ever. In this good fortune North Plainfield of course has her accustomed share. The train service of the Jersey Central Railroad is the especial joy of commuters, and metropolitan business men are finding that they can reach a home in Plainfield more quickly and more comfortably than many a nearer locality is reached by other routes. The establishment of an electric street railway in Plainfield is opening up attractive homes in the outskirts. The beautiful drives have been a chief source of Plainfield's attractiveness to summer visitors, and the fact that the recent extension of these fine macadamized roadways throughout the county is becoming widely known may account for the extraordinarily early and unusually large rush for country homes for the coming season. By the completed system of hard and smooth country roads every loveliness of the surrounding country is unfolded, and the delights of the hills to the north are easily accessible.

Fanwood, Westfield and Cranford being included in the same system of roadways, they too are reaping a large benefit, and available houses in all of these places are renting rapidly. Their building movement has likewise been brisk, in anticipation of just such a demand as is now realizing. Pretty Fanwood has developed considerably, and Westfield and Cranford are enjoying decided booms. Netherwood's residents are all-the-year-round people, occupying their own homes, but the Hotel Netherwood will open as usual in June, and its manager is now booking a larger number of families than ordinary. Hotel Albion, at Plainfield, has the same excellent prospects. At Glenside Park, a rare nook hidden away in the mountain and valley back of Scotch Plains, nearly all of the cottages have already been negotiated for. The same story of good business comes from the less thickly built country places roundabout Plainfield. Bound Brook has been putting up a considerable number of new houses to rent, but by June 1 will again be able to maintain her proud boast, "There is n't a vacant house in town".

Go There and Save Money.

Already the spring trade is provided for by the wide-awake, people's favorite clothing house, Marshall & Ball, the Broad street clothiers, Newark; and you can go there now and select just what you want. The goods are superior, and the prices are low. For square treatment of customers Marshall & Ball are proverbial.

They will fit you out in the latest style at lower prices than New York houses.

Do not let your dealer palm off on you any new remedy for colds. Insist on having Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by I. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

THE SEWERAGE QUESTION.

A Good Sewerage System Cheaper to Each Householder Than the Present Cost of Cesspools.

Assuming that as a result of the proposed special election the intermittent filtration system of drainage will be adopted as the best in sight all things considered, and that the taxpayers will prefer to pay for it in the course of twenty-five years as set down in the table prepared by the Sewer Commission, let us see what the cost will be to the owner of a property, of average valve. Let us take a residence property, for example, worth three thousand dollars, and valued by Assessor Hubbard at fifteen hundred dollars. How will the proposed system affect such a property?

By the table referred to such a holding will be taxed for twenty-five years to come, taking one year with another and striking an average at the rate of seventy-one-thousandths of one per cent. or just about one-fifteenth of one per cent. A tax of one per cent. on the property under consideration would amount to fifteen dollars, and the sewer tax, for both principal and interest, would therefore be one dollar.

A residence property, worth in the market three thousand dollars, can, in other words, secure complete house and stable drainage for one dollar a year paid through a period of twenty-five years.

But the owner of the three-thousand-dollar house will say: "I cannot use the new drainage without a supply of water for flushing purposes, and that will involve an annual payment to the Water-Supply company of from ten to twenty dollars a year." Water from the pipes in the street would be a luxury, not a necessity. A tank at the top of the house, fed from the roof or from the well, or from both as the weather changes from wet to dry, will fully answer the purpose. The cost of a tank, including the necessary plumbing and connection with the sewer in the street, would not exceed one hundred dollars. Let us accept that sum as maximum. We now have the total annual expense involved: Tax, one dollar; interest on plumbing, six dollars; repairs, one dollar; total, eight dollars. It should be remembered that through the charge of six dollars water is secured for other than flushing purposes.

What would the owner of the property get for the eight dollars? A brief enumeration will present some of the returns of the annual outlay.

1. The disappearance of the cesspool on the premises, and the resultant omission of the visits of the Odoriferous Excavator brigade—an annual saving ranging from ten to fifteen dollars.

2. Total relief from the poison that goes with a cesspool—poison in the air and poison in the soil.

3. Increasing values as a result of increasing population in a suburban town.

4. Lessened danger of infectious diseases in our homes and school buildings.

5. A general feeling of security against rival towns, and an indefinable public spirit that attends cleanliness, pure water, good sanitation and general decency.

Some of the advantages of a delivery from the primitive cesspool system cannot be estimated in dollars and cents; but if the net result of the aforesaid eight dollars is not improved health and improving values, then the history of other towns is misleading. It goes without the saying that some of these results would be quickly felt in Plainfield, which is practically an outlying district of the metropolis.

Each One by a Noted Woman.

At All Souls' church the following course of afternoon lectures, each at 4 o'clock, is to be given:

March 27—"Helen Hunt Jackson." Mrs. Elizabeth Powell Bond.

April 6—"Margaret Fuller, the Thinker, and Mary Lyon, the Worker." Mrs. S. M. Perkins.

April 18—"Voltaire." Mrs. J. F. Waller.

April 25—"What can the More Fortunate do for the Less Fortunate." Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell.

May 9—"The Kindergarten." Mrs. A. N. Chadwick.

May——"Books and Reading." Mrs. Florence Howe Hall.

Excursions to Washington.

Personally conducted tours to Washington have been arranged via Royal Blue Line, to be run at frequent intervals from New York and Philadelphia to Washington. The next excursion will be on April 6. For programme, describing these tours, write to Thomas Cook & Son, Agents B. & O. R. R., 261 and 1225 Broadway, New York, or 332 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

—Grand bargains may be had on good second-hand pianos, upright and square, at Hulett's, West Front street.

—The Rutgers College Glee club will give a concert April 27 for the benefit of the Plainfield Young Woman's Christian union.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

THE PRINCETON GYMNASTS.

Having Delighted Plainfield, They Now Will Perform Before Mrs. Cleveland and Baby Ruth.

The entertainment by the Princeton Gymnastic team and the Princeton Mandolin club, under the auspices of the Plainfield Bicycle club, which had been heralded for a week, filled a festive two hours last night at Music Hall.

Filled, the hours surely were, and the performance was pushed with a rapidity worthy of professionals.

Owing to the length of the programme laid out, some of the numbers which were to have been given by the Mandolin club, were eliminated, but the work of the gymnastic team was irreproachable. It was, in fact, the best work of the kind ever given before a Plainfield audience. Its excellence is the more surprising when it is known that Princeton is without a gymnastic instructor.

It is expected that next year the famous Professor Goldy will fill the "gymnastic chair", but it is doubtful if he can bring out more superb work than has been done by that "little giant", Capt. Hughes, of this year's team.

Where everything was so well done, it is difficult to particularize; but the double trapeze, by Captain Hughes and McCall, was probably the chef d'ouvre of the evening. Everything, however, from the opening horizontal bar to the closing pyramid, was fine. The wrestling was a new thing to many of the audience, as it was their first acquaintance with scientific work.

The question as to whether it was a suitable performance for ladies to witness was settled in the affirmative "by a large majority".

The ladies of the Philadelphia 400 have set the seal of their approval on the coming exhibition in that city, and their names appear as patronesses of the event, which will be followed by a reception. In Baltimore and Washington it will be a society function, also, and in the latter city it is expected that Mrs. Cleveland will be the leading patroness, with Baby Ruth a close second.

TO GO IT ALONE.

All the Sporting World Glad to Learn that Plainfield Is to Have an Independent Club.

[From The Sporting Life.]

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March 13.—Editor SPORTING LIFE:—We won the State championship last season against great odds, after a hard struggle, and although Plainfield is by far the best ball town of its size in the country, the game did not pay. This was mainly due to the fact that there was but one team in the League, Somerville, that was a drawing card with us, and our playing away from home on alternate Saturdays was a dead loss. This season the New Jersey State League is not in existence, and Plainfield will go it alone, playing only Saturday and holiday games.

The affairs of the club, heretofore in the hands of the Crescent League, will be taken care of by a stock company that has been formed by last year's president, Charles A. Reed, Manager T. H. Keller and others. Catcher "Chic" Hofford will again captain the team and will also manage it, Mr. Keller's business connections as general traveler for the United States Cartridge Company not giving him time to look after it. The team last year was one of the best of its class ever seen on a ball field, and the majority of the old players have gladly signed.

I notice that Billy Keeler, our little short stop, has been re-signed by New York, and his many friends here hope for his success. He is one of the most modest and unassuming players ever seen here, and could time a hit with the oldest in the business. Plainfield has turned out several good men, but none with such bright prospects as Keeler. At the opening game of New York he will undoubtedly see many of his old friends. MACK.

A Just Verdict.

The ladies of this city have rendered the following verdict:

"We find that diamond dyes make rich, bright unfading colors; are easy to use; and work wonders in making old gowns, jackets, ribbons, feathers, etc., look like new. They come in the fashionable reds, greens and browns, as well as all the standard shades."

The Youngest in His Regiment.

Albert M. Runyon died at South Bethlehem, Pa., Sunday, March 19. Deceased formerly lived in Plainfield, N. J., and was a relative of the late Martin Giles. He enlisted in Co. C., 14th Regt., N. J. Vols., Aug. 20, 1862, when he was 18 years of age. He served through the war and was wounded at the battle of Locust Grove, Va., Nov. 27, 1863. His remains will be interred at South Easton, Pa., tomorrow, March 23, under the auspices of Post No. 576, G. A. R. Comrades of his regiment, E. P. Thorn, Alonzo C. Towaley, Wm. Pangborn and Abraham King, of this city and North Plainfield, sent as an offering to his funeral an elegant floral piece representing the Sixth Corps badge, prepared by Miss Lincoln of Park avenue.

The Opening Event.

Nothing interests the ladies more than fine millinery, and from the number of ladies who attended the spring opening at White's there was only one verdict—that it was, by far, the most beautiful display of spring hats ever seen in Plainfield.

The opening continues every day this week.

THEIR ROOMS OUTGROWN.

These Earnest Workers Need and Deserve a Chapel.

The Pink Ribbon society of the Third Street mission gave their second monthly entertainment last night. The entertainment was given chiefly for the employes of Scott's Press Works, and a number of these were present with their families, the committee of this society having taken special pains to give them invitations. The room was tastefully decorated, and pink streamers hung in graceful curves from the ceiling. A large motto was suspended from the wall, reading: "Welcome to our friends from Scott's Press Works. God bless you." The programme was as follows:

Piano solo	Miss Mary Berg
Recitation	Miss Etta Raybert
Cornet solo	Miss Susie Berg
Vocal solo	Miss Bessie Blair
Piano duet	Misses Mary and Susie Berg
Vocal solo	Harry P. Yaeger
Cornet solo	Miss Susie Berg
Zither and banjo	Prof. H. Vaneps and Son
Recitation	Miss Etta Raybert
Vocal solo	Miss Bessie Blair
Banjo solo	F. Vaneps
Vocal solo	H. P. Yaeger
Vocal solo	Mr. McCready

After this was rendered, refreshments were served in abundance. The officers and teachers of the Sunday-school of this mission deserve great credit for the way in which they have enlarged the Sunday-school, which now has a membership of 85. The rooms which this mission occupies are far too small for their purpose, and some day these hardworking people hope to have a fine chapel in that part of the city.

THE NAVAJO GODS.

A Mythology More Poetic Than That of the Greeks.

Strange Superstitions of This Savage Tribe — The Great Hole Through Which the Other World is Visible —Tile and Sand Paintings.

[COPYRIGHT, 1893.]

The coat of arms of the Indian gods is a writhing spiral. It is drawn with loose, flying ends to represent in its snaky coil the trail of the wind. Its symbolism as it grows into the whirlwind is the double helican line. This symbol with the Navajos and other tribes is impressed on the palmar aspect of the terminal joint of every human finger tip, the myth being that the wind god, when he breathed into man the breath of life, went in at the mouth and came out at the tips of the fingers, leaving on them its trail in those fine, waving lines, whose wizardry told in those tingling tips the rush of the current. It is the trail of the wind in the fingertips that produces that electric glow across the forehead when the ends of the fingers are drawn rapidly over it, as well as the kindred phenomena of spirit rapping, table turning, etc. The name of this coiled serpent among the Navajos is Niyol Bithin, the trail of the wind. It is, therefore, a prime trait of the Indian to sleep with the wind, and wake with the wind, knowing that its current always takes the same course, and that, like the tides, when the wind goes out the current of emotion runs low and the death rate runs high, but that when the trail of the wind comes in it is felt clean to the fingertips in the electric excitement of winwossed ether with which the Leyden of every human being is charged. It is for the same reason, if you watch the phenomena carefully, that the eyeballs of a cat rise and fall with the coming in and going out of the tide.

The traditions of Olympus fade into immortal insignificance before the Indian mythology of the American continent. Its congress of nationalities grafted on an indigenous stock, each with its own peculiar idiosyncrasies of language, dialect, custom, habit, trait, tribal government, belief, etc., far surpasses in its polytheistic cult that of any other country in its beauty, its variety, its simplicity, and especially in its teachings. There is a splendid sententiousness beneath each myth that is full of the very finest practical wisdom. The Indians are natural linguists. They speak as nature speaks. They have grown up among her voices and the rushing eagle, the flowing water, the trail of the wind, the twilight of a blush, the leafy sheet of summer, the absent-minded reverie of the undertone all, all these natural objects are painted in their words. What wonder, then, that these words should take the very music of the winds and waters on their onomato poiea. Let me trouble the fastidious translator of Greek, Roman or Norse mythology to find in all the gleaming palimpsest of the oriental past such crystallized concentrations of beautiful thought as lurk in the occidental pantheon of the Indian gods. Concentration is the core of thought. It is in this capital trait that the occidental savage surpasses the oriental savant. It colors all his unwritten literature. Take the Navajo nation alone. Greece has given names to a spring of water. Has she anything that approaches the name of the Navajo for a spring (Cobinakia), the One-Eyed Water (or) the name for the storm (Clyeiece, Dsilyi, Neyani, Gailaci)? "'Tis I, Reared Within the Mountains," "Who art thou," or the name of the wind-god, Tsegahilicini-behogan; the House of Rock Crystal (or Tsenahale), the "breath-feather of the downy plume," above the fletching of the great plumed arrow, swallowed in the dance of the "katso yisean" (or Acadsil), the the Leaf mountain, in which stands under the dewdrops (caco behogan), the House of Dew (or Kac-so-ka-tee 'equ), Lone Juniper standing between cliffs.

The Navajo nation is still a race of wild, blanketed Indians. They will draw up their beautiful hand-woven blankets over their heads if you look at them, and peek at you archly sideways as they walk off. Sometimes they will make awful faces at you and spit at you. They are superstitious, and will not, as a general rule, allow you to take their pictures. They think their time has come when the curtain falls on the camera, and when they see the picture they walk all around it in a circle and declare, with frightened countenance as it follows them, that "the eyes move." They think it is their (chinde) devil-ghost. Some of the chiefs who have more sense, and therefore less superstition, will sit for a picture provided you pay them at least from five to ten dollars. They are not fools. They know that you have come a long distance, and that you want the picture so badly that you are willing to pay for it because you must. It is a very dangerous thing to try to cheat them or steal their picture from them by stealth or surprise against their will. The Indian despises meanness. No man with impunity can snap a kodak on a wild savage in his lair without incurring, to say the least, the possibility of arousing his anger. Always fire them money first, and let it be in bright silver or flashing trinkets.

In the same coy way they show you their same pictures or portrayals of the gods, that are graven on the tiled floor of the medicine lodge. The Navajos, it is true, are a wild people, but not, after all, unprogressive. They have traveled that long road in the journey of human progress which separates the hunter from the herdsman. In the art of weaving they began with mats and have graduated into blankets. They have many curious specimens of handicraft in textile industry. They remain, however, to this day, in spite of their material progress, by means of which some of them have grown wealthy, the same superstitious pagans they were when Columbus first set foot on Watling's island. This persistent paganism is all the more remarkable when it is remembered that they have had intercourse for three centuries with those most zealous of all proselyters, the Spaniards. But though the Pueblos have acquired at least a vague knowledge of the tenets of Christianity, the Navajos still remain unchanged in their beliefs. This indisposition to change their faith for that of the Christian is unspeakably exasperated by the want of Christianity, as exhibited too often in the lives of those set to teach at the frontier.

Among the cold, snow-touched summits of the San Juan mountains, where the peaks spread their white veils forever to the sky, there lies with upturned eye a lake, bounded by precip itous walls. At the center of this lake there is an island with a hole in it. It is an extinct crater. Something has been left by the stone carving ages cracking up, slant height perpendicular like the top of a ladder, out of this hole. The superstitious Navajos never approach near to it, but stand on high summits all around it and view from afar their natal waters, and reverently chant their songs on solemn birthdays to the spot through which their ancestors emerged from out the fourth world.

The myth that lies below this huge rock hole is this:

On the fifth day after they came to this world the sun arose, climbed to the zenith and stopped. The day grew hot. They longed for the night to come, but the sun moved not. Then the wise coyote said: "The sun stops because he has not been paid for his work; he demands a human life for every day that he labors; he will not move again till somebody dies." \At length a woman, the wife of a great chief, ceased to breathe and grew cold, and, while they all drew around in wonder, the sun was observed to move again, and he traveled down the sky, and went behind the mountains. And now he never stops and we know that every day some one must die.

They laid the dead body to rest among the rocks and all wondered, where the living part had gone; and they searched every whither, but found her not, till one, braver than all the rest, ventured to look down into the hole through which she had fled from the lower world. There he saw her seated by the side of the river, combing her hair. Seeing that a shadow was thrown from above she looked up, saw the Indian peeping through the hole and invited him to come down, but he feared to do so. Then she said to him: "Hither have I come and hither all our people must come when they die." He returned and told what he had seen and heard. Soon he fell sick.

That night the moon stopped in the zenith as the sun had done during the day. The wise coyote told the people that the moon also demanded pay and would not move until it was given. He had scarcely spoken when the man who had seen the departed woman in the nether world died. Then the moon with a satisfied smile moved to the west. Thus it is that some one must die every night or the moon would not move across the sky. And because he who gazed upon the death met death so soon after, it is not well to look upon the body after it has been buried, and so with strange mortal dread no Navajo has ever dared to look down into the hole through which they came to this world.

Thus spoke Le-len-cha, the old singer of Navajo songs and teller of stories. This old Indian is upward of one hundred years of age, but he still remembers all the unwritten lore of his legendary race.

The Indian mythology has no great first cause. They begin their cosmogony with an already existing world in the dim twilight of time and go on with it to the thither shore of time. Zoolatry is at the bottom of it all. It climbs up into anthromorphic forms and personifies its gods in living, breathing prophets in the religious dances. All the creatures in the first world are able to fly away on wings from the rising waters of the flood; in the third and fourth world they seek protection in the hollow of a great reed which grows higher as fast as the rising flood advances and bears the fugitives upward and out of danger. Arrived on this, the fifth world, men multiplied, races formed and wars arose. Tribes devoured each other over and over again. Then came the great hero god Nagenezgani and killed the demons. After this the true mortal Indian came upon the earth.

The Navajo has no faith in Monogenesis. He believes in special creations. The gods made men in the old times by a singular process. They took two ears of corn, one yellow and one white. From the yellow they made the female and from the white the male. To this lay among the Navajos yellow corn is called female corn and white corn male corn. The gods laid these two yellow and white ears of corn on a large dish of pure turquoise and covered them with embroidered blankets of brilliant colors and with sacred buckskin taken from deer not slain but smothered. These ears were laid with their points toward the east. But before they were laid down they were handed round from one god to another, and each god turned them in a different direction. This is the reason why the Navajos even today never dwell long in one locality, but wander about restlessly from place to place.

As the ears of corn incubated the shape of man came upon them, and then it was that the wind god entered under the blankets and gave them life, through the mouth to the finger tips, as before described. The god of the white rock crystal gave them mind, and the goddess of the grasshoppers gave them voices. Then they rose, a dark cloud enveloped them, and they became the people of the dark cliff house (Tsel-finkini), the oldest genus of the present Navajo nation. All Indian flesh is largely derived from corn, which comes out of the ground from which man sprang. Thus Genesis and Navajo paganism are after all one and the same sprout from the same primeval stock with the wind as GOD'S breath at second hand.

Now, with man on his feet, for the great God that governs him. Who is he? In the early days, first man and first woman, the coyote and the windgods, and above all the sea monster appear as personifications of prime importance. But gradually these mythic mist-shapes all vanish before Chohanoai, the sun-god. He dwells in a beautiful mountain palace wrought of turquoise. The sun is a bright shield which he carries on his arm. He is more nearly the counterpart of Zeus than of Phœbus.

A VERY EXCITING TRIAL

Unexpected Developments in the Ann Arbor Case.

THAT BY-LAW PRODUCED IN COURT

Witnesses Did Not Want to Testify—Warned by the Judge—Chairman Watson Embarrassed by Having By-Law No. 12 Read—An Uproar in the Court and the Judge's Anger.

TOLEDO, O., March 23.—Several interesting features were developed in the continuation of the hearing of the Lake Shore strikers in the United States Court. What probably created more of a sensation than anything else was the introduction of one of the rules of the Brotherhood, furnished by Chief Arthur himself.

The testimony of the various officials showed that the order of Judge Ricks was not shown to the men until after they had said that they would not handle the Ann Arbor cars. The officials intended that the order should be the last resort after persuasion had failed.

The testimony brings out the fact, however, that the men before they said they would not handle the cars had said: "We quit the service of the company."

The engineer's attorney, Mr. Southard, saw in this a good point, and dwelt upon it in his cross-examination.

Questioning Superintendent Sheldon on the point, he asked: "You showed the men the order after they had said that they had quit?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Sheldon.

"Had you re-engaged them when you showed them the order of the court?"

"No."

At this point Attorney Potter, of the Lake Shore, placed in evidence a rule of the company to the effect that the men must look at the bulletin board before they take their train. On the night in question the order of the court was posted on the board.

It was during the examination of J. B. Watson, a Lake Shore engineer, who is one of the members of the Brotherhood grievance committee, that the document was produced.

Watson had been summoned to bring into court all the rules and laws of the order on the subject of boycotts, but had furnished nothing but a set of by-laws that threw no light on the secret work of the Brotherhood.

Just as he had stated most emphatically that he knew of no other secret laws governing the strike question, Mr. Hurd remarked that Chief Arthur had furnished a rule which the witness had not mentioned. Rule No. 12, which is as follows, was then read:

"That hereafter when an issue has been sustained by the grand chief and carried into effect by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers it shall be recognized as a violation of obligation for a member of the Brotherhood who may be employed on a railroad running in connection with or adjacent to said railroad to handle the property belonging to said railroad or system in any way that may benefit said company with which the Brotherhood is at issue until the grievance or issue of whatever nature or kind has been amicably settled."

The reading of the rule immediately after Watson's positive statement that he had mentioned all the secret laws of the order created a sensation and the witness was visibly embarrassed. His only explanation was that he had not properly understood the questions of the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Another fact that will have a great bearing on the case was made known when it was shown that of all the strikers attached only two of them, James Lennon and Leonard Clark, are members of the Brotherhood.

The latter, when examined, testified that he had not seen the order of the judge when he resigned; that it had been partially read to him, but that he had not understood it and that he had not discovered yet just what the contents of the order were.

He made a most difficult witness and evaded the questions of Attorney Potter to such an extent that he was thrice warned by the judge. After a tiresome struggle that lasted for over three-quarters of an hour, Mr. Potter succeeded in pinning him down on the following question: "What motive had you for not wanting to run a train on which Ann Arbor cars were attached."

The witness, when finally commanded by the Judge to answer, blurted out, his voice trembling with emotion: "Well, I'll tell you why I refused to handle Ann Arbor cars. I'm pretty near the grave now, and I did not want to live the rest of my life a scab engineer."

For a moment there was a complete silence in the court room, then a confused noise, and finally a perfect storm of applause from the 200 spectators who packed the room to the doors.

Judge Ricks was extremely indignant at the interruption. "Gentlemen," he exclaimed hotly, "this is a court of justice. Whatever your feelings may be you have no right to express either approval or disapproval. The next man who interrupts the proceedings of this court will be ejected from the room."

Silence once more restored, the examination of witnesses proceeded. Affidavits were introduced by the defense signed by each of the strikers, in which the affiant swore that he had resigned from the company before reading Judge Ricks' order, that he had quit work of his own free will and not at the solicitation of the Brotherhood, that he considered himself no longer an employe the moment he refused to run the train, and that he had merely exercised the rights of citizenship in not obeying the orders of the company while no longer its servant.

Several of the witnesses swore that even now they did not know the purport of the judge's decision, while others were cornered into admitting that they had either heard part of the order read, or had refused to listen when it was served upon them.

Watson, of the grievance committee, in the cross-examination, after a great deal of evasion, admitted that any member of the Brotherhood who refused to strike after having been ordered by the chief to do so was liable to expulsion from the order and forfeiture of life insurance and all the benefits attached to membership.

The examination of witnesses will be concluded to-night, and the arguments of the attorneys in the case will be begun at the opening of the court to-morrow.

MADE HIM CRAZY.

A Theological Student Looses His Reason from Worrying About His Soul.

PITTSBURG, March 23.—Through worrying over the condition of his soul, W. R. Newell, a student of the Western Theological Seminary, Allegheny, has gone crazy. He was a brilliant man, 27 years old, of attractive appearance and bid fair to become one of the most talented of his profession.

Since January last Mr. Newell's actions have been strange, but not until a few days ago did his condition attract special attention. Almost daily Mr. Newell would inquire of his fellow students what he could do to save his soul. He felt that he was lost and as this idea became fixed, his mind gave way.

At night he would wander along the quiet streets of Allegheny softly praying for his soul's welfare, sometimes remaining on the streets throughout the night.

He was a believer in faith cure for all his ills. Acting on this belief the faculty were compelled at one time to interfere to save the life of Newell's room-mate, who was ill.

Mr. Newell's father, who is a prominent Presbyterian minister, has arrived here to take his son to their home at Kineman, O.

STONED THEM AWAY.

Whites Would Not Not Allow Japanese to Take Their Places on the Road.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 23.—L. R. Fields, Superintendent and Acting Manager of the Oregon Division of the Southern Pacific railroad, has called upon United States Marshal Barin for the protection of a gang of Japanese employed to take the places of white men on a section of the railroad near Drains, Douglass county.

When the Japanese attempted to work they were stoned away from the line, and at night the section lodging house was saturated with oil. The city marshal of Drains and the sheriff of Douglass county refused to interfere.

A special car with a posse of United States marshals has been sent to the scene to protect the Japs.

REVOLT IN INDIANA.

Labor Men Indignant at a Presidential Appointment—Cleveland Exonerated.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 23.—The first open revolt against any of President Cleveland's appointments was made here last night, when a large mass meeting, called by President Gruelle of the State Federation of labor, denounced the appointment of Frank Burke as United States District Attorney.

Speeches strongly condemnatory were leveled at Burke, Senator Voorhees and Congressman Jason Brown, who were instrumental in securing the appointment. In fact, the latter gentlemen were excoriated in stronger terms than Burke.

President Cleveland was absolved from blame, and resolutions were adopted and forwarded to him.

HOISTED THE FLAG.

Two Young Men Arrested in Illinois for Being Patriotic.

LINCOLN, Ill., March 23.—Abraham Lincoln Harrison and John A. Hobler have been arrested for hoisting "Old Glory" over the Atlanta township schoolhouse. This is the only schoolhouse in the district without a flag, and Miss Nellie Cole, the teacher, petitioned the school directors to buy one, but the directors voted against it. Citizens then purchased a fine flag.

When Harrison and Hobler hoisted the flag on the schoolhouse they were arrested on the charge of trespass and malicious mischief.

The county is greatly stirred up, and attorneys from Chicago and Springfield have been engaged to defend the young men.

Divorce Suit Lost Through Woman's Tears

YANKTON, S. D., March 23.—Herbert Hall Winslow, the dramatist, has lost his case in the divorce suit against his wife Daisy Edna Winslow, in this city. The verdict was a surprise as it was the popular opinion that Mr. Winslow had an unusually strong case, while the defense was weak. The sympathy of the jury was worked upon through the tears of Mrs. Winslow and the presence of her little 2-year-old son in the court roooom.

The Cushing Being Painted Green.

NEWPORT, March 23.—The U. S. torpedo boat Cushing is fitting out at the torpedo station for the coming naval parade. Her appearance will be greatly changed by the coat of slate colored paint being replaced by one of bottle green, which is close to that which the sea assumes at night, and it is said that even bright search lights will fail to locate this speedy craft hereafter.

Ran Down a Street Car.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 23.—A northbound freight train on the Northern Pacific railroad collided with a street car a few minutes before 9 o'clock. The driver and the horses escaped injury. The injured are: Miss Carrie Swasey, leg cut off and injured internally; C. W. Davis, cut and bruised about the head and chest.

Will Take Many Pictures.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The New York Camera club has chartered the steamer Sandy Hook for the use and benefit of its members, their families and friends, for the purpose of viewing the great naval review and parade, which will take place in the harbor on Tuesday, April 27.

The Funera of Jules Ferry.

PARIS, March 23.—The funeral M. Ferry took place place yesterday in a mortuary chapel erected in a courtyard of the Luxembourg. Senator Bardoux, Deputy Melibe and M. Ribot delivered orations. The body was taken to Saint Dis for interment.

Jay Gould Memorial Church.

ROXBURY, N. Y. March 23.—A new stone memorial church will soon be erected here by the children of the late Jay Gould in memory of their deceased father. It will be presented to the Presbyterian congregation, whose church was burned a year ago.

ONLY THREE CONFIRMED

The Senate Does Not Grind Fast Enough.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS SENT IN

A Long and Fruitless Discussion in the Senate—New President of the Senate—Surprise Because Mr. Whitney's Confirmation is Delayed—Secretary Carlisle Cutting Down Expenses.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—A provision of the last executive appropriation bill required the appointment by the Speaker of the House and the presiding officer of the Senate of the 54d Congress of three Representatives and three Senators of the 53d Congress as a committee to inquire into the workings of the general executive departments of the government.

Mr. Cullom, Republican, of Illinois, who was one of the Senators so appointed, applied to be relieved of his duties on the commission, but it was developed in the course of a discussion that the law did not provide the means of filling any vacancy that might occur.

The subject gave to Mr. Hoar, Republican, of Massachusetts, an opportunity for challenging the constitutionality of recent appointments by the President of the United States of Senators as delegates to the Brussels Monetary Conference and in other civil capacities, and he thought the question of sufficiently grave importance to have it referred, with Mr. Cullom's resignation, to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Finally, in view of the difficulties of the case, Mr. Cullom withdrew his request, and Mr. Hoar's motion fell with it.

Mr. Manderson, Republican, of Nebraska, resigned his position as president pro tempore of the Senate, and Mr. Harris, Democrat, of Tennessee, was elected in his place.

In executive session only these three nominations were confirmed:

Frank B. Burke, of Indiana, to be attorney of the United States for the District of Indiana; David T. Guyton, of Mississippi, to be marshal of the United States for the Northern District of Mississippi, and William B. Hawkins, of Indiana, to be marshal of the United States for the District of Indiana.

Some comment has been caused by the failure to confirm Edward B. Whitney, of New York, nominated to be Assistant Attorney-General. This nomination has not, it is said, been reported from the Judiciary Committee, although that committee met last Monday. An objection would carry it over until the next meeting of the committee.

Secretary Gresham has issued commissions to the gentlemen whose nominations were confirmed by the Senate on Monday. They included Ministers Gray and Eustis to Mexico and France respectively; Consul-General Collins to London; Assistant Secretaries Quincy and McAdoo. All of these are now authorized to enter upon the discharge of their duties.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The President has sent the following nominations to the Senate:

John S. Seymour, of Connecticut, to be Commissioner of Patents.

Silas W. Lamoreux, of Wisconsin, to be Commissioner of the General Land Office.

William H. Sims, of Mississippi, to be First Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Edward A. Bowers, of Washington, to be Assistant Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Henry C. Bell, to be Second Deputy Commissioner of Pensions.

Horace H. Lurton, of Tennessee, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Sixth Judicial Circuit.

To be marshals of the United States—Frank P. White, of Nebraska, for the district of Nebraska. George Pfeiffer, jr., of New Jersey, for the district of New Jersey.

Max Judd, of Missouri, to be Consul General of the United States at Vienna.

John J. Carter, of Louisiana, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the district of Louisiana.

Force Reduced in Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Secretary Carlisle has reduced the force in the Treasury Department 15 employes, the services of five in the architect's office and ten in the Treasurers office, being dispensed with.

Custom Receipts Increasing.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The custom receipts at the port of New York for the first 20 days of March were $8,105,500, against $6,570,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Gaudaur-Hanlan Scull Race.

TORONTO, March 23.—The second deposit of $300 in the match for the sculling championship of America between Gaudaur and Hanlan has been made. Orillia, Ont., was chosen as the place for the race. Gaudaur says his race with Stanbury for the championship of the world will be rowed at Austin, Tex., next June.

Shore Line Express Stoned.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 23.—When the Shore Line express was passing the Pembroke street crossing a shower of stones was hurled at one of the passenger coaches. Some of the stones crashed through the windows and Frank J. Brisadale of this city was severely injured. The police are working on the case. They believe it to be the work of three boys. Several trains have lately been stoned at the same point.

The Chinese in the West Registering.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 23.—In the short time the part of the Geary law in relation to the registering of Chinese will become effective. As the time approaches when the penalty of deportation will be inflicted on the unregistered, the Chinese are beginning to appear, and in one day fully fifty have appeared before Collector Harrell and been put upon lists.

HARRIS AT SING SING

The Condemned Man Taken There This Morning.

SANDWICH-MAN GETTING SIGNERS

The Last Day in the Tombs Was a Busy One—Much Time Spent on a Statement Not for Publication—His Mother's Visit—Many Letters Coming In.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Carlyle Harris was removed from the Tombs and taken to Sing Sing on an early train to avoid the crowd. There he will be kept in solitary confinement until that morning in the second week of May when he will be led to the fatal electric chair, unless Governor Flower in the meantime shall have commuted his sentence.

Mrs. Harris called on her son not long after noon yesterday, and for an hour the two talked together in low tones. At last when they arose Mrs. Harris threw her arms around his neck and wept.

"Good-by, my boy," she said, patting him as if he were still a little fellow. She said she would see him again this morning. She did not know it was the last time she would see him in the Tombs.

Harris busied himself writing for a long time after she went away. He declined to say what he had written, except that it was a memorandum for his counsel. He received a group of reporters at 4 o'clock. He was pale and complained of neuralgia. Nevertheless he was as polite as usual.

"Will you kindly publish to-morrow," he asked, "the statement that a large number of persons, some known and more unknown to me, have sent me messages of sympathy, small amounts of money, books and food. I have not had time or strength to acknowledge these many kindnesses individually."

Harris remarked that he received 50 letters a day from persons who desire that their names be affixed to the petition to Gov. Flower for clemency.

"I am thankful," said the condemned man, "not on account of any hope on my part, but for the sympathy the letters show."

It was a busy day for the clerks in Howe & Hummel's office handing petition blanks to people who wanted to circulate them and get signatures of those who asked clemency for Harris. One young man said he was a student in the College of Physicians and Surgeons. This is the college where Harris studied medicine two years.

An unkempt old fellow with gray hair and a straggling gray mustache got a bunch of petition blanks at noon. He rushed up to Canal street, disappeared in a cellar and came up presently wearing a "sandwich" of signs urging people to write their names on the Harris petition. He stood at the corner of Canal street and Broadway and soon drew a tremendous crowd. Men signed by the score. Some held the blanks on his back while they wrote their names. Others signed on his arm.

Presently the crowd blocked Broadway and the police drove the old fellow away. He returned in a few minutes and jammed the street again. Then he was "fanned" off the sidewalk by an active bluecoat.

Petitions were extensively circulated during the day in all sorts of places. Clerk Ira Miller said at 6 o'clock that five hundred men had called for petition blanks at Howe & Hummel's office.

Many letters have been sent to the newspapers. Here is an extract from one:

"I think if Harris is executed the judgment of God will be visited on those who are responsible for the deed. I believe he is an innocent man.

A CLERGYMAN'S WIFE."

A most remarkable one is the effusion of a Brooklyn crank.

I wish you'll be kind enough to publish and inform Mr. Dilworth Choate and Mr. Wellman that they shall leave the State of N. Y. within 5 days otherwise they'll knifed dead sure because they know pretty well that Mr Carlyle W Harris he is not guilty of Murder and to day he stand convicted for such crime of course Harris die by electricity and Wellman and Choate die by a secret knife under an oath.

Signed

(A picture of a knife thrust into a heart.)

Some hand at it!

Hundreds of letters are being received by Howe & Hummel and by Mrs. Harris from people who express their belief in Harris's innocence. They are from Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Georgia, South Carolina and a dozen other States, from people who say they have followed the case and who believe Harris should have a new trial on the evidence he produced.

No less than three possible clews are now being looked up outside of this city which Harris' friends hope may result in new developments in time to place them before the Governor.

The statement Harris wrote is not for immediate publication, if at all. He has insisted, all along, that there were matters connected with the case which he would never make known, although his lawyers knew them and, because of them were convinced of his innocence. It is possible that he was putting in writing, for future preservation and possible verification, certain statements not yet brought into the case.

Each Lost a Man Overboard.

PANAMA, March 23.—The American bark Nellie Smith, Captain Day, which sailed from Savannah for Colon on March 3, has arrived at the latter port. She encountered a severe storm during which Mate Anderson was swept overboard and drowned and the schooner lost her deckload of lumber. The schooners Topaz, and Clifford, from Halifax, have arrived at Colon and both report the loss of a man during a heavy storm.

Two Counterfeiters Caught.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 23.—Chief John P. Brooks of the United States Secret Service, last night arrested Joseph A. Walsome and Fredericka Baumann here on the charge of counterfeiting 25 and 50 cent pieces. A quantity of coin and moulds were seized. The prisoners were locked up in the Hunter's Point station.

Pope's Doctor Wasn't Poisoned.

ROME, March 23.—Several newspapers assert that the autopsy in the case of Dr. Ceccarelli, the Pope's physician, shows that he died a natural death. The suspicion which led to the autopsy was that Dr. Ceccarelli was poisoned at the instance of a relative and a Catholic woman of high birth.

Hereafter to Break Stone.

FONDA, N. Y., March 23.—The Board of Supervisors of Montgomery county acting on the suggestion of Sheriff Thomas Liddell, will hereafter put prisoners in the county jail at work breaking stone. Heretofore the prisoners have not been obliged to work during confinement in the jail.

AN AWFUL DEATH.

Young Lover Puts His Head Under a Locomotive's Wheels.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 23.—News of one of the most sorrowful tragedies that has ever taken place here has just been received. Because of unrequited love, Will Fry, aged 17, laid his head on the Louisville Southern track near Shelbyville, Tuesday, and suffered decapitation.

He has been in love with a school girl living in his neighborhood for some months past and while she was always affable and kind to him she did not encourage his attention any more than she did a number of other young fellows who were equally as devoted.

Young Fry, on the fatal afternoon, asked to be excused from school and, walking to a point on the railroad where there was a sharp curve, waited for the train, which was soon due. As it approached he laid his head on the track. When the engineer saw the young man it was too late for him to defeat his purpose.

The teacher heard the train stop and as it was something unusual, she called several of her older pupils, including young Fry's sweetheart, to go with her to investigate. When they reached the track a sickening sight met their eyes. Lying in a pool of blood by the side of the track was the decapitated body of the young man, while under the wheels of the engine lay the head.

The remains were carried to the school by the railroad employes and the boy's father and mother notified of his tragic death.

POISONED BY HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Mannering Accused of Killing Her Husband by the Use of Strychnine.

ROXBURY, Conn., March 23.—Coroner Higgings has just reported his finding in the poisoning case of Edward Mannering, who died Feb. 19. It is that he came to his death by poison administered by his wife, Jane Mannering.

Strychnine was bought by his wife and traced to a drug store. Two pigs owned by Mannering died the same day, having eaten swill into which the dregs of the fatal cup of coffe had been poured.

An analysis of the stomach by State Chemist Smith, of New Haven, found the poison the same in all.

Mrs. Mannering, who has been arrested by Sheriff Allen, is sick, and will remain in a keeper's charge until well enough to be tried for murder.

William Whitman is under arrest for complicity in the crime.

WANTS $10,000.

Mary Murphy is Suing a Former Lover for Breach of Promise.

UNIONVILLE, Conn., March 23.—Mary E. Murphy, of this place, has brought suit against Michael J. Scanlon, formerly of New Haven, but now a merchant of Lyon, Col., for breach of promise, claiming $10,000.

Miss Murphy is 18 years old, and it is alleged in the complaint that while in New Haven in 1890 she and the defendant fell in love with each other.

He went West to build up a home, amassed a fortune of $20,000, sent her many letters calling her his intended wife, and also sent her an engagement ring. Suddenly he stopped writing to her, and shortly afterward she heard that he had married.

Scanlon has offered to settle for $5,000, which has been refused.

Hand Car Jumps the Track.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., March 23.—In an accident on the Rockaway Valley railroad near Peapack six men were severely injured. They were on a hand car going from Whitehouse to Peapack, and when near the big trestle at Peapack the hand car jumped the track, throwing the men and the car down a steep embankment. Joseph Hoffman had his leg broken, George King had his collar bone broken, and Frank Smith received a fracture of the thigh. The others were much bruised.

Don't Want to be Postmaster.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., March 23.—Gladstone N. J., is eight miles from Somerville. It is a hamlet of about two hundred persons, fully nine-tenths being Democrats, and yet there is not one among them who wants to be postmaster under President Cleveland. The office pays a little over $300 a year. The present postmaster is a Republican, appointed under President Harrison, and is so well liked that no one wants him thrown out.

A Double Tragedy.

STOVERSTOWN, Pa., March 23.—Daniel Hamme, a married man, yesterday shot a married woman named Glatfelter, with whom he had been intimate, and fatally wounded her. He then turned the revolver on himself and put a bullet through his brain dying almost instantly. The deed was committed in Mrs. Glatfelter's home, her husband and a number of neighbors being present at the time of the tragedy.

Presented to Carnot.

PARIS, March 23.—T. Jefferson Coolidge United States Minister, and Lord Dufferin, British Ambassador, presented to President Carnot at the Elysee to-day the members of the Behring Sea Commission. The members were recieved with military honors.

The Bombs Found Not Exploded.

ROME, March 23.—The police deny the statement sent out yesterday that six bombs were thrown in the city on Monday. They admit, however, that two unexploded bombs were found by them on Monday.

—The store of Marshall & Ball, the Newark clothiers, will remain open evenings during the week previous to Easter, for the benefit of out of town patrons.

—Miss M. M. Godown will on April 10 open dressmaking parlors at 17 East Fifth street. She may be relied on to give thorough satisfaction to all patrons.

—Hulett's spring opening will take place on Monday and Tuesday. A good musical programme will be rendered both days. All are cordially invited to attend.

—The interior of the meat market of A. Lutkins, 36 Park avenue, is very handsome in its new coat of paint, and very modern with its latest improved ice chamber.

—No. 1 engine team—the big gray and black—have been promoted to pull the new truck, and "Tom and Jerry"—the little grays—have been transferred to engine duty.

—Meyer Leichtentritt, the affable Plainfield manager for the enterprising Sherman Outfitting company, is presenting his customers with elegant large Easter easel cards.

—The Salvation Army will hold a special meeting at their hall, to-night, led by Adjt. Bell, the noted violin player, aided by Capt. Damon, the boy preacher. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—Edgar Sheppard, of this city, the bright and trustworthy Jersey Central stenographer at Somerville, says he saw the missing newsboy Willibald in that place yesterday afternoon, loitering about to catch a coal train.

THAT SOMERSET STREET CHEAP NEWS SHOP'S A HOODOO.

Its Boss's Favor Helped Defeat the Republican Candidate for Mayor, and Its Job Printer Has Probably Elected the Entire Democratic Township Ticket.

The political bigotry and bias of the town committee of North Plainfield, in taking its printing to a cheap and dirty shop on Somerset street just because it was Republican, will possibly result in the defeat of the entire Republican township ticket which was counted in at the recent election.

There were about forty Republican ballots found in the box smeared all over the backs with ink by a dollar-a-week boy, that were accepted and counted although the law is very plain against such marking. They might have been used to check voters who were bought—possibly they were—and therefore the Democratic candidate for town clerk, Levi Kline, who is elected if these ballots are fraudulent, will make a contest for the office.

He has received legal opinions from a number of sources, and all agree that the law has been violated in the counting of the marked ballots. A protest signed by a number of Republicans as well as Democrats, has been drawn up, asking for a test of the law in the case as a matter of principle with no thought of the empty honor that will come to the ones declared elected.

Should the ruling be that the cheap ballots must be thrown out—and the law is very plain—every Republican will be bounced and the entire Democratic ticket declared elected.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

DISABLED AT SEA.

The Pomeranian Showed Signals of Distress But the Belgenland Refused to Help Her.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The Red Star steamship Belgenland which got in to-day from Antwerp passed on March 21 the Allan State line steamship Pomeranian disabled off Newfoundland.

At 2:30 a. m. the Belgenland saw signals of distress shot up about five miles north of the western track.

Capt. Ehoff steered in that direction, and soon learned that the signals came from the Pomeranian.

On coming near Capt. McCullough of the Pomeranian said the steamship's piston rod was broken and the machinery was disabled.

He asked to have the Belgenland take him in tow to some port.

Capt. Ehoff, of the Belgenland refused to do so, and continued on his way to this city.

He stated this morning that he refused because the Red Star Company had issued orders to that effect.

ON FIRE AT SEA.

NEW YORK, March 23—The Allan State line steamship Grecian arrived here to-day from Glasgow and reports having passed a burning schooner at sea.

HARRIS TAKEN TO SING SING.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Carlyle W. Harris, the condemned murderer of his wife, Helen Potts, was taken from the Tombe prison to Sing Sing to-day.

The eighth and last dance of the season, under the direction of Chas. S. Day, of New Market, and Walter Apgar, of Dunellen, was held in Friendship Hall, New Market, last evening, and notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the weather, there were about fifty present. The affair was indeed one long to be remembered and all must certainly regret that this merry twain have decided to discontinue these pleasant times for the present. It is hoped that in the early part of next season they will again begin another series and give as pleasant times as have been enjoyed during this winter. The management should also be congratulated on the high class of people who have attended their socialdes.

Entirely Satisfactory.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes.

"JUDGE BUILDING,
Cor. 5th ave. and Sixteenth st.,
NEW YORK, January 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

WHY HIS SLEEVE IS EMPTY.

Soldierly Career of the Man Who Is to Address Plainfield To-Night.

To-night in the First Baptist church Maj-Gen. Oliver Otis Howard will deliver the second lecture of the Y. M. C. A. course, on Maj.-Gen. George H. Thomas. It is in September, 1850, that we first hear of O. O. Howard as a cadet at West Point. The uneventful years of that decade were well spent by him in preparation for the events which so rapidly made history after the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumter. His native State soon sought him out and he entered the field in the summer of 1861 as the Colonel of the 3d Maine Infantry Regiment. Promotion rapidly came to him and he wore the star of a Brigadier General on September 3, 1861. He was assigned to duty as Commander of a Brigade which, during the winter of 1861-62, was encamped in front of Alexandria, and which eventually became the First Brigade of the First Division of the 2d Army Corps. Sunday, June 1, 1862 was a memorable day in his life as well as in the history of the First Division.

On this beautiful summer day this division, for the first time met the enemy in deadly conflict. Victory, hardly won, crowned this, the first struggle, but it was won at a great cost. From that day on, Gen. Howard has worn an empty sleeve. Sharing the fortunes of the Army of the Potomac, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, each bore evidence of his soldierly qualities. The Congress of the United States showed their appreciation of Gen. Howard's services at the battle of Gettysburg by passing resolutions as follows: "The gratitude of the American people and the thanks of their representatives in Congress are hereby tendered to Major-Gen. O. O. Howard and the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac for the skill and heroic valor which at Gettysburg repulsed, defeated and drove back, broken and dispirited, beyond the Rappahannock, the veteran Army of the Rebellion." From Atlanta to the Sea, he marched in command of the right wing of Sherman's Army, and thence northward with the same commander until Johnson eventually capitulated and the war was ended.

Johnie Kean Reaching Out For Newark, Now.

The New Jersey Light and Heat company was incorporated in Newark yesterday morning. It is supposed to be the result of a consolidation of the Citizens' and Newark Gaslight companies, and it is said that holders of large interests in gas works in Elizabeth are interested. The names given in the incorporation are George R. Gray, State Treasurer, Emerson McMillan of Columbus, O., and Henry B. Wilson of New York. It is understood, however, that John Kean, jr., of Elizabeth and Henry S. Little of Trenton, are interested.

An Accident Agent Killed by an Accident.

Alexander B. Bird, who was in Plainfield a few days ago adjusting a loss, was killed at Rahway Tuesday morning. He was supervising agent in the State for the Travelers' Accident Insurance company and went to Rahway on business. Instead of going through the tunnel after leaving the train he walked down the platform and started to cross the tracks. He was struck by an east-bound express train going at full speed and was tossed in the air. He was dead when he struck the ground. He was 45 years old, and was a native of Sussex county. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Death of a Former Plainfielder.

Adam Freehan, formerly of this city, but later of South River, died at New Brunswick, Saturday, of small-pox. Interment took place Sunday night.

Mr. Freehan was a cigar maker by trade, having learned his trade with Charles Zuckswerth, a former cigar manufacturer on Park avenue, in the old Coward building, and his mother still resides in this city. Deceased was a Liember and past officer of Riverside council, No. 33, Jr. O. U. A. M. of South River.

All Are Invited.

The seventieth anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Mission society of the First Baptist church will be held to-morrow in the church.

The afternoon meeting, beginning at 3 will be addressed by Mrs. Downie of India. An entertainment will be given in the evening at 7:45, conducted by Mrs. Downie, illustrating the manners and customs of the Telegus.

A cordial invitation is given to all to be present at these meetings.

A Fine New Building for Plainfield.

The Westfield Standard says that arrangements are anticipated for the erection of a new building to be known as the Royal Arcanum building, by Plainfield council, to be located somewhere in the center of the city. The advisability has been considered of forming a stock company and issuing stock to the amount of $15,000, to forward the construction. It is likely the building will cost $20,000 or $25,000.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies but none gave me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 30 Woodward ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

After using Ely's Cream Balm two months I was surprised to find that the right nostril, which was closed for over twenty years, was open and free as the other, and can use it now as I could not do for many years. I feel very thankful.—B. H. Cressengnam, 275 18th street, Brooklyn.

BRET HARTE COMING BACK.

Plainfield to Be Visited by the Literary Lion.

For the first time in fifteen years, it is announced, Bret Harte will visit his native land and his family in Plainfield during the coming summer. From Plainfield he will go to the World's Fair. In 1878 Mr. Harte was appointed Consul for the United States at Dusseldorf, in Germany, and shortly afterward was transferred to Glasgow in a similar capacity, where he remained until Mr. Cleveland took office for the first time as President. Since then Mr. Harte has resided in London, in the district known as St. John's Wood, and has devoted himself entirely to literature. He is said to be much sought after in London society, for which he has but little inclination, although he is a member of several clubs.

Mr. Harte's literary reputation has continued to grow abroad during the years of his residence there, while it has declined very materially in the United States. Germany is said to afford him his most profitable field, but his works sell much less readily in his native land than formerly. In fact, it is reported that there is a smaller demand for his stories in America than anywhere else. Nevertheless he makes about $15,000 a year by his work and devotes but about six months to the actual labor of composition. He writes very slowly and carefully and writes nothing that is not solicited. He has an agent in London through whom all orders must be given.

Mr. Harte is said to be a very handsome man still, with a slender but broad-shouldered figure, fine, erect carriage and a youthful-looking face, crowned with silvery white hair. His latest photograph presents quite a contrast to those that have hitherto been familiar to Americans, showing him in a suit of broad checked cloth, with baggy knickerbockers.

Mr. Harte has had a decidedly romantic history, though it is not very well known to his countrymen. He was born in Albany in 1841, and lived there till he was ten years of age, when he removed to New York city where, at the age of eleven, he wrote and secured the publication of his first poem, "Autumnal Musings". His relatives, rather prosaic people by all accounts, looked upon his literary instincts as little less than criminal, and severely and effectively discountenanced any further ventures of the kind. Two years later he ran away from home and school and crossed the plains with an emigrant train to California, then the Mecca of all youthful minds. His "Waif of the Plains" narrates much of his actual experience on this adventurous expedition.

After arriving in California he tried all sorts of things. He did some mining, set type, taught school, was an express messenger, and tried his hand at frontier journalism. At the age of seventeen he was appointed Deputy Collector at his own request. His ambition caused no little merriment among his friends, for no taxes had ever been collected up to that time, and the mining districts were wild and lawless. He was very successful, nevertheless, and every tax was paid. He was never molested, and, though he carried no firearms, he never received an unkind word from any of the rough characters among whom his business took him.

In 1864 Mr. Harte was appointed Secretary of the San Francisco Mint, a position that afforded him considerable leisure, which he devoted to study and literature. It was at this time he produced "Pliocene Skull", "Society of the Stanislaus", and other things which became famous, including his celebrated "Condensed Novels", which may be said to have inaugurated the era of the short story.

When the Overland Monthly was started Mr. Harte was chosen for its first editor. His "Luck of Roaring Camp" was printed in the second number, in spite of the adverse judgment of the entire staff of the magazine, and was the real beginning of Bret Harte's fame. It is said that 30,000 copies of the story have since been sold.

Another Plainfield Denomination.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

WHY HE FAILED.

(With apologies to The Dunellen Call.)

This man went into business
And hoped to make it pay;
His venture did not bring success;
He closed his store to-day.

His custom did n't pay expenses,
And his sales grew less and less:
He advertised on railroad fences
Instead of in THE PRESS.

To his creditors a statement he did make,
And it caused them much distress:
His advice to others is to stake
All they have on an ad. in THE PRESS.

BIBLE SUPPORTERS WON.

The Rev. Mr. Patton Worked Not to Have It Read in Schools.

The question of reading the Bible in the public school, says the New York World, was the issue of the regular spring election for two school trustees, held in the new school building at Westfield, Tuesday night. Several months ago the Rev. C. H. Patton, of the Congregational church, delivered a sermon in which he objected to the reading of the scriptures to the public schools. He claimed that it was interfering with the idea of free religion, upon which this country prides itself.

The sermon created a sensation at the time, and many prominent members of his church threatened to leave if their pastor continued to talk such a doctrine, claiming the public school system was founded upon the Bible, and that it would mean the overthrow of these institutions in the end if this book were taken out. Mr. Patton did not repeat his remarks, and the matter was smoothed over and nearly forgotten.

As the spring election drew near, however, it was rumored that Mr. Patton had succeeded in placing two candidates, J. B. Greene and Miss Bridges, in the field, and that they were opposed to the Bible in the schools. Miss Bridges is a member of Mr. Patton's church.

This aroused public feeling at once, and when ballots came out bearing these two names the Jr. O. U. A. M. an organization whose rockbottom principle is to uphold the reading of the Bible in the public school, took the matter up and nominated Dr. Sherman Cooper and H. L. Fink.

Mr. Patton spent all Tuesday electioneering for his candidates, and the Jr. O. U. A. M. boys worked like beavers for theirs. At the meeting the voting was spirited, and many hot speeches were made on both sides. The result, as announced near midnight, showed that Cooper and Fink had been elected, although it was a close race.

STEPPED IN FRONT OF AN EXPRESS.

John Cook, of Elizabeth, Got Off the Wrong Side of His Train.

John Cook, aged twenty, a painter, who lived with his parents at 200 East Jersey street, Elizabeth, was struck and killed by a train last evening on the Central railroad, below Reid street.

Cook, with a companion, George Wetzal, who had been doing some work in Jersey City, took train 41 for Elizabeth that is due in Plainfield at 5:34 p. m. When it slacked up east of Reid street to let the Royal Blue Line express pass it, the men thought they would get off, as it was near their homes. Wetzel stepped off on the right-hand side of the track and Cook leaped off on the opposite side, directly in the path of the express which was whizzing by. He was thrown about fifty feet into a ditch and was badly mangled. He died a few minutes after being removed to the baggage-room at Elizabeth. County Physician Westcott of Scotch Plains was notified.

A Pushing Plainfield Man at the Head.

The Constitution, of Atlanta, Ga., speaking of the great prosperity of the Georgia Electric Car and Light company, refers in flattering terms to Harry Edgar the popular and talented young electrician who married Miss S. Kate Potter of Mt. Pleasant. Says the Constitution:

"Mr. Edgar is now general manager of the company. He is from New York and is an expert electrician. His brother has charge of the famous Edison Lighting company of Boston, and is one of the most noted electricians of America. The new manager of the Georgia Electric company is a young man full of energy and will make Atlanta a good citizen. He has been here only a short while and it was not necessary for him to catch the Atlanta spirit of push and enterprise, for he brought a good stock of that with him."

That Old Gag Again.

(Newark Evening News.)

It is reported that mining for copper is to be resumed in the mountains back of Plainfield. Three mines were abandoned five years ago because the copper was not found in paying quantities. Now it is said that a company of New York capitalists, after wearing out about a dozen drills prospecting, has obtained satisfactory evidence of an abundance of the metal in a part of the mountain hitherto unworked.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

WINSLOW REFUSED A DIVORCE.

But the Finding of the South Dakota Jury in Favor of the Sister-in-Law of Samuel Mulford of this City, Causes a Surprise.

Herbert Hall Winslow, the dramatist, has had all the toil, worry and expense involved in an attempt to secure a divorce in South Dakota for naught. The jury yesterday at Yankton, returned a verdict against him and in favor of the defendant, Daisy Edna Winslow, sister of the wife of Samuel Mulford, son of E. C. Mulford, of this city.

The jury got the case at 10 Tuesday night after hearing exhaustive and eloquent pleas by the attorneys on both sides, and at 5 yesterday morning reached an agreement. The verdict was a surprise, as it was the popular opinion that Mr. Winslow had made an unusually strong case.

The defense was weak, but the presence of the two-year-old son, Herbert Hall Winslow, who played about the court-room, was an all-powerful influence with the jury. Mrs. Winslow's frequent weepings also had their effect, and the sympathy of the twelve men in the jury-box was worked upon to the fullest extent.

Mr. Winslow was much affected by the blow to his hopes and has announced his intention of assigning another cause for action and trying it again. He says he will never live with his wife. There is a possibility that the verdict will be set aside, but it is not probable.

Herbert Hall Winslow is the playwright, the author of the farce-comedy "The Idea", now being presented by Hallen and Hart, "A Barrel of Money" and "Birds of a Feather". His home in New York city is at 70 West Ninety-third street.

He went out to Yankton, S. D., in June last to acquire a legal residence, which ninety days gave. Then he applied for a divorce from his wife, Daisy E. Winslow, nee Rowell, on the ground of desertion. Notice was served, as usual, by publication.

Mrs. Winslow, who lives with her stepfather and her two-year-old son Herbert Hall Winslow, jr., in New York, saw a notice of the suit in a newspaper and promptly fainted away.

Then with a woman's determination she appeared unexpectedly in Yankton in November with her mother, Mrs. H. Smith, and her brother-in-law, S. P. Mulford of this city, responded in person and to contest the suit. She was granted $60 alimony and counsel fees pending trial of the case in March.

Mrs. Winslow came back to New York and in January had her husband arrested charged with non-payment of alimony.

This case was settled and both sides prepared for a legal fight in March. Mr. Winslow's father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Winslow, of 32 West Twentieth street, accompanying him to Yankton.

Mr. Winslow married Miss Daisy E. Rowell over three years ago, and the young couple made their home with her parents. Winslow says that life there became unbearable. Then he provided rooms, he says, at his parents, but his wife would n't accompany him, so he went alone. Whereupon he charged her with desertion.

Mrs. Winslow on the other hand denied every charge and said that her husband deserted her. She has said that he, though twenty-five years old, was completely under the control of his mother, who wished him to get rid of her.

She declared that Herbert never dared to have his hair cut without his mother's consent and would always leave her about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning to return to his mother's house in time for breakfast.

CONTRADICTORY REPORTS.

Not Known Whether Moscow's Mayor Is Dead or Alive.

Moscow, March 23.—Owing to the extreme care exercised by the authorities to suppress all information concerning the shooting of Mayor Alexejeff, it is impossible to get more light on the case. Even the fact of his life or death is enveloped in mystery.

The Novoe Nremya in the morning announced that he was dead. In the afternoon an official bulletin denied this report, and stated that the surgeons had extracted the bullet and the mayor might recover.

Two hundred policemen surround the city hall and keep back the crowd, which has decreased but little since the first news of the shooting went out. Only the family of the mayor, the authorities and two surgeons are allowed to enter the building.

It is reported to-day that Adrianoff is a half-crazed Nihilist, once arrested in St. Petersburg for conspiracy, but adjudged insane and sent to an asylum.

TERRIBLY ANNOYING.

Something the Bravest of Us Are Worried By.

It Makes Us Feel Out of Sorts, Irritable and Even Cross.

And Why People Will Endorse It in More Than We Can Understand.

Biliousness is the plague of people.

And, as everybody knows, it is always worse in the spring.

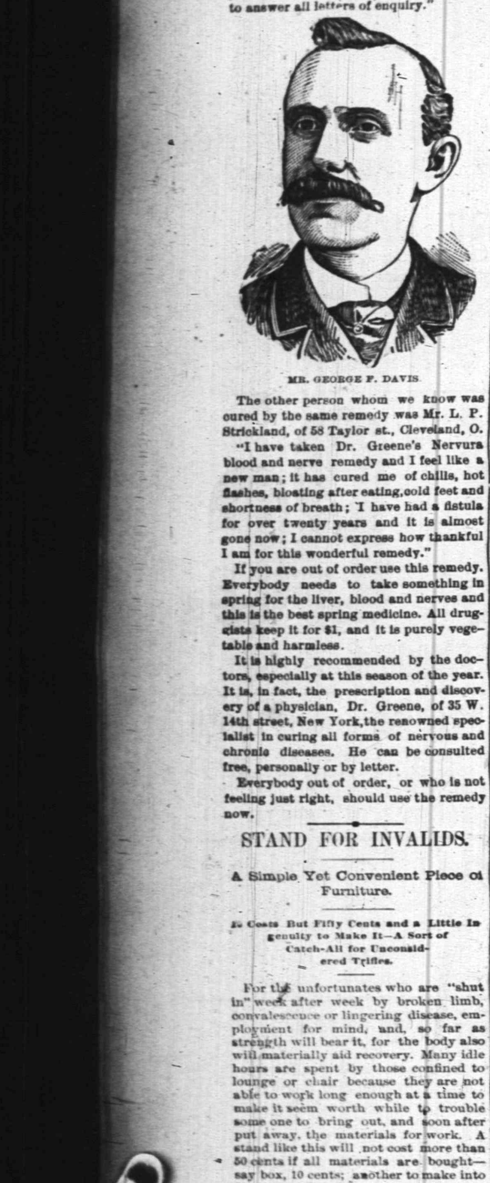
Now as we know something which will surely cure it, we will give the experience of two gentlemen whom we know.

George F. Davis lives at 187 Mill street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

"I had terrible attacks of biliousness and bilious colic," he said, "every four to five weeks, with a gradual increase in severity; Although I sought a cure through four of our leading physicians, the best they could do for me was only temporary relief.

"I used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and while taking the first bottle I had only one bilious spell; when the second bottle was about half taken I had one more attack, but very much lighter, and this was the last attack I had.

"At the end of six months I was in better health than for five years before, and now I consider myself completely and permanently cured. I would be pleased to answer all letters of enquiry."



MR. GEORGE F. DAVIS.

The other person whom we know was cured by the same remedy was Mr. L. P. Strickland, of 58 Taylor st., Cleveland, O.

"I have taken Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and I feel like a new man; it has cured me of chills, hot flashes, bloating after eating, cold feet and shortness of breath; I have had a fistula for over twenty years and it is almost gone now; I cannot express how thankful I am for this wonderful remedy."

If you are out of order use this remedy. Everybody needs to take something in spring for the liver, blood and nerves and this is the best spring medicine. All druggists keep it for $1, and it is purely vegetable and harmless.

It is highly recommended by the doctors, especially at this season of the year. It is, in fact, the prescription and discovery of a physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 W. 14th street, New York, the renowned specialist in curing all forms of nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

Everybody out of order, or who is not feeling just right, should use the remedy now.

STAND FOR INVALIDS.

A Simple Yet Convenient Piece of Furniture.

It Costs But Fifty Cents and a Little Ingenuity to Make It—A Sort of Catch-All for Unconsidered Trifles.

For the unfortunates who are "shut in" week after week by broken limb, convalescence or lingering disease, employment for mind, and, so far as strength will bear it, for the body also will materially aid recovery. Many idle hours are spent by those confined to lounge or chair because they are not able to work long enough at a time to make it seem worth while to trouble some one to bring out, and soon after put away, the materials for work. A stand like this will not cost more than 50 cents if all materials are bought—say box, 10 cents; another to make into drawer and shelves, 10 cents; castors, 15 cents; curtain, 5 cents; wall paper to line inside, 2 or 3 cents; nails, 2 or 3 cents. The box should be 27 inches high, 15 deep and 18 wide or thereabouts. If bottom of box is not one inch or thicker put board across each end to receive the castors.

Put a drawer 6 inches deep in the bottom, divided into compartments for knitting needles and work, for crochet hooks and yarns, for sewing materials, thread, silks, pieces, etc. Over this place a shelf, which is to be left clear that the work may be laid safely away for a moment's rest. Above this a shelf, 6 inches wide, for medicine bottles, cups, etc., if the invalid must be her own nurse and look after these herself. Draw a curtain before the stand if wished. Above this another shelf, on which may be laid a few books, magazines or games. A railing in front of the shelves to keep things from jarring off when the stand is rolled, is made by sawing into a narrow board at intervals of one and two inches and removing the two-inch alternates. A top can be added and be made to project an inch or more. If liked.

The inside finish may be some cheerful fine figured pattern, or plain blue or straw-colored wall paper. The outside may also be painted, the cracks first being filled with putty, or papered, or hung with a cloth-like curtain, put on slightly fulled. A white oilcloth cover or a fancy towel may be laid across the top. A few screw hooks placed near the top of the inside for hanging shears, scissors, etc., is a convenience. Nail a narrow strip of board at one side and three inches above tack a strip of web elastic, putting in a tack at intervals of an inch, thus making a place for inserting pen, pencil, ruler, knife, etc. Tack pockets upon the inside for holding paper, envelopes, letters and postals; also for pincushion and flannel leaves for needles. Hem the curtain. A piece of large wire passing through the curtain hem rests in screw eyes at each corner, or the wire may be bent up at ends and a putty ball put on, which may be painted or gilded.

A writing tin is a convenience which no invalid who uses a pen should be without. It is a sheet of tin about 7 by 10 inches, with one or two elastic cords around it. Slip the paper under these cords to hold it, in place for writing, or to lay one side for a brief rest. The tin is firm, smooth, and yet so light that it can be held in one hand, or rested against the knee when it is in use.—Orange Judd Farmer.

A Woman Did It.

It has remained for a woman to invent and patent glass doors for ovens. The wonder is that the idea has not long ago been thought of by some woman who cooks. All cooking instructors lay the greatest stress on the care to be observed in opening an oven door to watch the progress of cakes or muffins. Maria Parloa, making sponge cake, touches the knob with the most delicate care and lightness, dreading even to jar the cake within, and peeks through the smallest crack that will afford the necessary glance. What a relief to walk boldly up to the oven and through these transparent doors, which the genius of a Michigan woman has discovered, study at leisure the progress of rising cake dough or crisping fowl.

Apple Sauce Dumplings.

Pare and core eight large sour apples, stew soft in a syrup made of one cup of sugar, one cup of water, one teaspoonful of butter, and one-fourth of a grated nutmeg. Mix one quart of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a cup of butter, a little salt and water enough to make a soft dough. Roll thin, cut into diamonds or rounds, place them upon the surface of the boiling apple sauce, cover and cook twenty minutes. Serve in sauce plates. These conveniently and speedily-manufactured dumplings are light and delicious.

Flavoring Caused Pears.

Pears that after canning prove to be tasteless can be made delicious by heating and adding pineapple in the proportion of one can of pineapple to three of pears. Cut the slices of apple quite small, and if the pears are in halves, divide them again. Heat all together, taking care not to let them cook so that they lose their shape. When putting up pears it is very little trouble to add pineapple to a few cans, and the result is excellent, since the pear becomes perfectly flavored with pineapple, and yet is far more easily digested.

An Insuperable Objection.

"Barrows' wife is a very handsome woman."

"But she has one abominably homely feature."

"What is that?"

"Barrows."—Harper's Bazar.

NOT THE ONLY ONE.

Mrs. Lafferty—Oi was a big fool to marry yez, so Oi was. If it wasn't for me ye'd shtarve to death.

Mr. Lafferty (haughtily)—Don't be so stuck-up, Mrs. Lafferty. You needn't t'ink dthere sir no other fools in dthis wor-r-rld besides yoursilf.—Puck.

Well Said.

Flattery, when delicately administered, cannot fail to be acceptable. "You forget that I am an old woman," said a lady, in response to an admiring remark from one of the old school. "Madam," was the reply, "when my eyes are dazzled by a diamond it never occurs to me to ask a mineralogist for its history." Horace Walpole in dining with the duchess of Queensborough on her eightieth birthday, said, in proposing her health: "May you live, your grace, until you begin to grow ugly!" Her ladyship's tongue was as ready as his own. She replied: "I thank you, Mr. Walpole. May you long continue your taste for antiquities!"—Waverly Magazine.

Some Mista ke.

Cubbage—Did you say Snooper could play the French horn?

Rubbage—Yes.

Cubbage—It's all a mistake. He doesn't know a word of French.—Judge.

A Contest in Wealth.

"My papa owns a gold mine," bragged Wallie.

"That ain't anything," retorted Polly. "My mamma owns a check-book, an' just writes all the money she wants."—Harper's Young People.

He Was One.

Cholly—Don't you believe what I saw myself? Perhaps I am an idiot.

Trotter (dryly)—My dear boy, don't make such a statement—there's no perhaps about it.—Truth.

Exchange of Confidences.

Mrs. Gofrequent—My husband is a bear on 'change.

Mrs. Flyabout—So is mine. Never gives me a cent.—Chicago Tribune.

The Great Lottery.

"Marriage is a lottery which
"The law," she said, "devises."
"Quite so," he said, "and one in which
"The women get the prizes."
—Demorest's Magazine.

A Good Reason.

"Why did he call his new hotel the Columbus?"

"So he could use one of the new Columbian stamps for a sign."—Detroit Tribune.

Health and Comfort are Destroyed by the use of poor smoking tobacco. The one tobacco that has held its own through all the changes of time and against all competitors is Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco.

WHY?

Because it's always pure, always the same, always the best. Such a record tells more than pages of "talk." It's just as good to-day as ever and it is the tobacco for you. If you smoke, you should smoke

Destructive Cyclone Visits Mississippi and Tennessee.

SNOW AND RAIN IN THE NORTHWEST

Very Meagre Reports from the Storm-Swept District—All Telegraph Wires Down—The Storm Also in Kentucky and Indiana—Many Reported Killed and Injured—Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed—Milwaukee Cut Off.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 24.—The only reports which have been received from the points in Western Tennessee and Northern Mississippi, which were visited by yesterday's cyclone have been brought in by carriers and over the railroads. They indicate that a terrific cyclone whirled up the Mississippi valley from the Southwest, crushing and sweeping away everything in its mad path. Telegraph wires in every direction were twisted into tangles and communication with the storm swept district has since been exceedingly difficult and unsatisfactory.

Trains from the East reaching the city late last night brought reports of widespread destruction. Passengers on the Yazoo & Mississippi valley train told of the destruction of Tunica, Miss.

The Birmingham train due in Memphis at 5:30 o'clock could not get to Memphis until very late, men being compelled to chop and remove trees off the tracks between here and Kelly, which is a station about 12 miles out of this city.

The swath of the storm as it crossed the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham road seemed to embrace a territory between Caperville and Olivebranch. Dozens of houses, huge trees and barns were razed to the ground by the violence of the storm.

The damage at Tunica, Miss., was great. About 3:30 o'clock the sky in the north west began to darken inkily, and a low wailing sound announced a storm. Within a few minutes the wind came along with terrible velocity, and with a swish and a whirl that portended danger. The first hard blow gave way to the cyclone following, and houses were crushed like egg shells.

The ruthless visitor lingered over the town only two minutes, and yet in that short time the greater part of the town was destroyed.

The Knights of Pythias and Masonic hall is now only a heap of timber.

The roof of the court house was carried away.

When the storm subsided cries and screams of children were heard from the colored school house, where 150 children had been gathered at their lessons. The building, a two-story frame, had been blown down, and beneath the ruins was a mass of struggling children.

So far as known, none was killed, but there were many maimed and bruised, some with broken arms and some with fractured skulls.

The full extent of the damage is not known, but the loss to property will go into the hundreds of thousands.

Trainmen on the Kansas City, Memphis & Birmingham railroad report that Kelly, Miss., was wiped off the face of the earth, not a soul being left to tell the tale. A special train has left Memphis for Kelly to investigate.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—A windstorm of remarkable violence visited this city last night, doing, so far as can be learned, about $100,000 damage and injuring two persons. The damage was confined to the suburban district, northwest.

The Brown-Ketcham Iron works were partially unroofed. One of the big mills of the Cerealine company was unroofed, and the roof in falling struck Chas. Meyers, a workman, breaking his leg.

The third story of the Indianapolis Coffin factory, three blocks away, was blown off. Next to the factory is the boarding house and saloon of Charles Benkhe, which was unroofed, and Mrs. Benkhe had her foot crushed. Her husband was bruised. A number of sheds, stables and two houses in course of construction were demolished.

It is reported at Louisville, Ky., that the cyclone has devastated Bowling Green, in that State. All the wires are down at that point and nothing definite can be learned concerning the disaster.

The town of Cleveland, Tenn., is also reported as wrecked, how serious can not be learned.

STORMS IN THE WEST.

Telegraphic and Telephonic Communication Cut Off—Thunder Storm at St. Louis.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Advices from the Northwest this morning state that one of the most furious storms known for years began yesterday and is still raging. At Duluth after a foot and a half of snow had fallen it turned to sleet. A similar state of affairs exists both in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Throughout Wisconsin there was almost a cyclone, accompanied by rain, snow and sleet. Particulars from that State are difficult to obtain, owing to the almost universal prostration of the wires.

Milwaukee is absolutely cut off from the outside world.

In Minnesota few wires are working, and the telephone system is wrecked.

At St. Louis the first thunder storm of the season is raging. The lightning is terrific, and has caused great delay to telegraphic business.

Hit by a Stray Bullet.

PASSAIC, N. J., March 24.—Baker Charles Seitz, of Jersey City, was struck on the right temple by a stray bullet, while driving past the Passaic County Hotel. The bullet struck the bony socket of the right eye and glanced off leaving a slight flesh wound. It apparently came from a Flebert rifle, or a small revolver. If the ball had struck an inch further to the left it would have penetrated Seitz's brain and killed him.

Doctors Against the Keeley Cure.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The American Association for the study and cure of inebriety last night entered a strong protest against the use of the Keeley cure in the case of drunkenness. Inebriety, the physicians claimed, is a disease that can be cured only by first cleansing the system and then keeping it free of alcoholic stimulants.

A Premier in Financial Trouble.

SYDNEY, March 24.—Sir George Richard Dibbs, K. C. M. G., Premier and Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, is in financial difficulties and has given up his estate to satisfy the demand of his creditors. He has resigned his seat in Parliament, although he still retains the Premiership.

HEBREWS AROUSED.

Boston Police Make a Raid and Carry Off Their Consecrated Liquors.

BOSTON, March 24.—Much excitement has been caused among the Hebrews of the North end on account of the seizure by the police of what is claimed to be consecrated liquor for Passover uses. It is claimed that the Adath Israel congregation, in pursuance of a time-honored custom, ordered in New York some wine and brandy to be consumed in church and at home during the Passover celebration.

The goods were shipped to Boston and stored at Mr. Kavalavitch's house. The custom is to distribute the consecrated importation to the lesser congregations at the north end of the city.

The police raided the house of Mr. Kavalavitch and seized all the wine and brandy on a warrant charging the keeping and exposing for sale of intoxicating liquors. The Hebrews intend to fight the case to the last extremity.

The police claim that this is an old dodge of certain Hebrews, and that among the alleged consecrated liquor was some whiskey "bad enough to kill a dog," which they think could hardly have been consecrated.

ON THE LOOK-OUT.

Chicago Railroad Men Believe That a Strike is Yet Probable.

CHICAGO, March 24.—That the labor situation is still regarded as somewhat uncertain by the management of the various roads centering in this city is evident from a circular that has been sent out to all general managers. The circular announces that the iron-bound organization called "the General Managers Association," will be continued indefinitely and have offices in the Rookery building.

The original intention of the general managers was to dismiss all the employes of the association and send them back to the railroad offices whence they came, subject to immediate call in the event of a declaration of hostilities, but this order makes it plain that the general managers will be on the look-out constantly.

The staff will consist of experienced clerks, typewriters, etc.

WORK ON THE NEW BRIDGES.

Active Operations Will Not Commence Until About May 15.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The contracts for the construction of bridge No. 1 of the East River company will be given out as soon as the lawyers have the property on Cannon and surrounding streets condemned. These proceedings have been begun and will be completed within a few weeks.

Chief Engineer Cornell stated that the actual work on the structure will not be commenced before MAY 15.

The company is under no obligation to complete both bridges at the same time, but it will be ten years before both are finished.

A Priest Maltreated in Corea.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—According to Corean advices, M. Joseau, a Catholic missionary, was terribly maltreated by a mob recently. As he passed along the streets with a teacher and a boy the mob set upon him, beat and kicked him unmercifully, pulled out his beard, and tried to bury him alive in the sand. At last, somewhat alarmed at the consequences of a possible murder, always a serious matter in Corea, the mob dispersed, leaving the priest and his companions lying half dead on the ground.

After Nebraska State Officials.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 24.—After a hot fight lasting from early morning until late in the afternoon the House has adopted resolutions providing that a committee be appointed to institute impeachment proceedings against all State officials and ex-State officials who are shown to be guilty of malfeasance or negligence sufficient to warrant prosecution. The resolutions also provide that steps be taken to recover such State funds as are alleged to have been misappropriated.

Grouse Murder Case Investigation.

FORT PLAIN, N. Y., March 24.—An important clue, it is said, has been discovered in the Crouse murder case by a New York detective named Price, who has been working on the case for several days. The inquest is being continued. Mrs. Crouse, the widow of the murdered man, is still confined to the house. Her mind wanders, and she says, when talked to about the murder, that all will be right later on.

Swienturth to Go to Colorado.

ASPEN, Col., March 24.—A. T. Washington of St. Louis, the business agent of the notorious Swienfurth of Rockford, Ill., who claims to be Christ, is in this city, with a view of locating a church and college here. The indications are that Aspen will be made the seat of this new religious sect and in such an event Swienfurth will take up his residence here and take charge of the college.

Disastrous Prairie Fire in Oklahoma.

GUTHRIE, O. T., March 24.—Prairie fires have been doing great damage in the Cherokee strip, destroying all pasture and much timber. Several parties of boomers have had narrow escapes and it is feared that all have not escaped. In the Osage reservation much damage has been done and at Paushuska, the council house of the Osage Nation, and several stores were burned.

Longer Life for a Bank.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The corporate existence of the First National Bank of Ashburnham, Mass., has been extended to April 11, 1913, and the First National Bank of Morris, N. Y., capital of $50,000 has been authorized to begin business.

Dr. Fischof Dead.

VIENNA, March 24.—Dr. Adolf Fischof, the Austrian writer on political subjects, is dead at Klagenfurth of inflammation of the lungs, aged 77 years. For many years he had lived in retirement near Emmersdorf, in Lower Austria.

IN A SCIENTIFIC WAY

A Medical Student Seeks Death by Morphine.

ITS BEARING ON HARRIS' CASE

As a Result of a Love Affair, Alfred Stille Ives Goes to a Hotel, Places a Young Lady's Picture on the Table, Fills His System With Morphine and Chloral, and Proceeds to Die—Saved by the Strenuous Efforts of Doctors—A Valuable Experiment in Medical Science.

NEW HAVEN, March 24.—A case of interest to the medical profession, on account of the recent trial of Carlyle W. Harris and of the present trial of Dr. Robert W. Buchanan, both of whom are charged with killing their wives by morphine poisoning, has come to light in this city.

On Monday, Feb. 27, Alfred Stille Ives, a medical student, who is taking a post-graduate course at Dartmouth college, came to this city. He is a son of the famous Dr. Robert S. Ives, of this city, and a grandson of ex-Provost Alfred Stille of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Ives is an expert in toxicology, and Dr. Stille is one of the most eminent theologians in the country.

Young Ives was studying toxicology, and has already made great progress in it. He was an expert chemist.

On his arrival at New Haven he tried to enlist in the army, but was not enlisted because he told the enlisting officer that he had run away from college. He afterward went to the Hotchkiss hotel in Hartford and secured a room, to which he immediately retired.

The next morning the chambermaid found young Ives lying on the bed partially undressed. She looked in at 9 o'clock and again at 10 and found the young man in the same position. Then she notified the housekeeper, who informed the clerk.

Dr. Wolff happened to be in the hotel attending a patient. He went to the room and found the young man dying of morphine poisoning.

On a table beside the bed was a picture of a girl and a sealed letter. The original of the picture was the daughter of G. Pierpont Davis, medical director of the Travelers' Insurance company, of New Haven. Dr. Wolff opened the letter. It contained a statement to the effect that the young man was disappointed in love, and, therefore, intended to commit suicide.

He said he wanted to make his death a contribution to medical science. He had, therefore, taken 96 grains of chloral and 12 grains of morphine in this way: Into 2 ounces of a 10 per cent. solution of chloral he had put 12 grains of morphine.

Of this he took 1 dram at 9:45 o'clock. At 10 o'clock he took one-half of the remainder, and finished the dose at 10:15.

There was enough chloral in this to kill several men, and enough morphine to cause the death of several more. He recorded his symptoms until 10:20, at which time he stated that he was barely able to place the note in the envelope.

Dr. Wolff began work on his patient at about 11 o'clock, 13 hours after the first dose had been taken, giving him violent exercise all that day and administering large doses of strong black coffee. His efforts were successful and he saved the life of the young man.

This gives added interest to the case, since it shows that even after an exceedingly large dose of morphine has been taken, and so great a length of time as 13 hours has elapsed before the patient's discovery, the life of one who has not been addicted to morphine can be saved. The young man is now at the home of his father in New Haven and is almost free from the effect of the drug.

Insane Smallpox Patient Escapes.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 24.—John Burns, 18 years old, an insane smallpox patient, escaped from the pest house late last night, and the entire police force reserves were sent out to try to run him down. There is a big salt meadow on one side of the hospital and a thick woods on the other, and it is thought he is either lost in the woods or mired down in the marsh.

Young Beecher Wants a Place.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Herbert F. Beecher, son of Henry Ward Beecher, has filed an application for appointment as special agent of the Treasury. Young Beecher was collector of customs at Port Townsend, Wash., during the last Cleveland administration, and was investigated and retired under very peculiar circumstances.

Anxiety for the Safety of the Stura.

NEW ORLEANS, March 24.—Some anxiety is felt for the safety of the steamer Stura which sailed from Genoa, Jan. 1 via Messina and Palermo and which passed Gibraltar Feb. 23, bound for this port with a cargo of fruit. She is now six days overdue. The average time of steamers from Gibraltar to New Orleans is 22 days.

Yale's Profitable Athletic Season.

NEW HAVEN, March 24.—The annual report of the Yale Football association has been published. The receipts for the year were $31,900.71, and the expenditures $14,550.82, leaving a balance in the treasury of $16,749.69. This is the largest annual financial account ever produced by a college athletic association.

Engineers Hold a Secret Meeting.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—A secret meeting of locomotive engineers is in session at English's hotel. Most of the visitors were assigned to rooms without having registered. There was a conference in the afternoon another at night and the men have been in session again to-day. They decline to state what the meeting is called for, except to say that it "Is to consider matters pertaining to the welfare of the Brotherhood".

SENATE IN SESSION.

Among the Nominations Confirmed is that of E. B. Whitney.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A duration of only 10 minutes marked the session of the Senate. Mr. Walthall was appointed a director of the Deaf and Dumb Institute of the District of Columbia in place of Mr. Hawley.

A resolution offered by Mr. Call, of Florida, in regard to the commission to inquire into the several executive departments, upon which Mr Call proposes to make some observations, was ordered printed and laid on the table.

After spending about three-quarters of an hour in executive session the Senate adjourned until Monday next.

In the executive session the following nominations were confirmed:

Theodore Runyan, of New Jersey to be Minister of the United States to Germany.

Walter D. Dabney, of Virginia, to be Solicitor for the Department of State.

Edward B. Whitney, of New York, to be Assistant Attorney-General.

James G. Jenkins, of Wisconsin, to be United States Circuit Judge for the Seventh Judicial Circuit.

Charles B. Stuart, of Texas, to be Judge of the United States Court for the Indian Territory.

Abner Gaines, of Arkansas, to be Marshal of the United States for the Eastern District of Arkansas.

Joseph W. House, of Arkansas, to be Attorney of the United States for the Eastern District of Arkansas.

Clifford I. Jackson, of the Indian Territory, to be Attorney of the United States Court for the Indian Territory.

Ernest F. Baldwin, of Maryland, to be First Auditor of the Treasury.

Thomas Holcomb, of Delaware, to be Fifth Auditor of the Treasury.

Robert B. Brown to be postmaster at Meadville.

THE MINISTRY TRIUMPHS.

Unsuccessful Effort in the Deputies to Overthrow the Government.

PARIS, March 24.—The government has again been successful in the Chamber of Deputies. A critical debate took place in the Chamber on the question offered by Deputy Lucien Millevoye as to what further action the government intended to take in regard to the bribery and frauds in connection with the Panama Canal enterprise.

The enemies of the government hoped that the discussion might lead to the overthrew of the Ministry, but after some exciting speeches the government succeeded in carrying the order of the day by a show of hands, which proved the attack on the Ministry to be hopeless, for the time at least.

Although the furniture has been removed from M. Eiffel's office in the Rue Pasquier, and no trustworthy information regarding his whereabouts can be obtained at his private residence, the police do not confirm the rumor that he has fled the city.

Big Run on a National Bank.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., March 24.—A run was started on the Merchants National bank here yesterday morning, and depositors crowded the tellers' windows until the bank closed in the afternoon. The officials say that the run was maliciously started by certain persons with intent to injure the bank. They say they are prepared to pay every dollar and have $100,000 remaining. There is not much alarm felt among the business men.

Rutgers Freshmen Expelled.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 24.—Rutgers College students are very angry, especially as the freshmen, because six members of the freshmen class have been dismissed by the faculty because they did not confine themselves sufficiently to their studies. The warning theys received from President Scott seem to have done no good.

Accidentally Killed His Bride.

NEW YORK, March 24.—While examining a revolver at a party in his home, Ritta Barbano accidentally discharged the weapon. The ball entered his wife's head, killing her instantly. They had been married but a month. Barbano disappeared, and his friends think he has killed himself, as he was devotedly attached to his wife.

Another Aged Suicide.

PELHAMVILLE, N. Y., March 24.—John Scully, aged 62 years, one of the oldest residents of this village, has been found dead in his barn by a neighbor. It is supposed that it is a case of suicide. Mr. Scully's wife is lying at the point of death and it is thought that her condition was the primary cause of the suicide.

Burglars Again at Work at Hackensack.

HACKENSACK, N. J., March 24.—Burglars, who last summer gave the New Jersey & New York railroad so much trouble, broke into the Essex street and Central avenue depot at this place by forcing a front window, emptied the money drawer of its contents and opened the automatic weighing machine and robbed it.

Orientals for the World's Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The steamer Castle, from China and Japan, brings exhibits for the World's Fair from China, Japan, Java, Corea, Borneo, etc.; 20 Japanese men and one woman, who will remain during the Exposition, and a Japanese village, accompanied by over 100 peasants.

Two More Gambler Suicides.

NICE, March 24.—Two men from New Orleans have committed suicide on the casino grounds at Monte Carlo. Their names are given as Weill and Robb. They had been playing heavily at the casino for several days, and on Wednesday and Thursday lost enormous sums.

American Citizens in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 24.—The annual report of the Interior Department just made public shows that there were 53,000 immigrants landed in Canada last year and that 513 American citizens bought land and became citizens of Canada.

FIVE PERSONS PERISH

Disastrous Fire in a Cleveland Apartment House.

FOUR WOMEN AND A CHILD BURNED

The Fire Had Made Good Headway When Discovered and No Alarm Was Given for Some Time—Mostly Women in the Building—Many Narrow Escapes—List of the Dead and Injured.

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—The fire which started in this city yesterday in which the lives of four women and a child were lost and during which four persons were badly injured, is unprecedented in the history of the city. The crowds which gathered at the scene as soon as the alarm was given have not apparently diminished. All day the ruined building has been the centre of attraction to not only the citizens but also to many who have come in town from the surrounding country. The whole city is filled with sadness and mourning for the lost ones.

The fire occurred at the Morgan, a fashionable boarding place at No. 908 Prospect street. The building was a three-story and basement brick structure containing 45 rooms, and it had nearly 40 inmates. Just at the hour for luncheon, Mrs. J. H. Miller, one of the boarders, discovered flames in the hall on the second floor. Escape by the stairway was cut off, so Mrs. Miller jumped from the second story window and gave the alarm.

The fire spread rapidly through the halls and the hundreds of people who congregated on the scene at once attempted to rescue those who were in the building. Nobody thought, however, to turn in a fire alarm, and at least half an hour elapsed before a steamer arrived or a policeman had been sent to the place.

The utmost excitement prevailed and it was not until the flames had been subdued that the extent of the catastrophe was learned.

As soon as the engines began working, the three street car lines which pass the building were blocked and the crowd grew to thousands. Many of the spectators assisted the firemen in trying to rescue the persons in the burning structure, and several of them were badly burned as they were driven back by the flames.

The names of the dead are as follows:

Mrs. Mary E. Abbey, widow of the late Judge Abbey, aged 78.

Mrs. P. G. Somers, a blind woman.

Mrs. Emma Somers, her stepdaughter.

Mrs. F. R. Hunt, daughter of Mrs. Emma Somers, and Percy Hunt, her 18-months-old son.

Mrs. Hunt, who lives in Brooklyn, a suburban town, was visiting her relatives when the terrible event occurred. The blind woman was terribly burned, while others died from suffocation. The baby boy was alive when taken from the building, but died a few minutes after being rescued. The injured are:

Dr. C. Von Klien, face and hands burned while rescuing inmates.

Mrs. J. H. Miller, who gave the alarm and jumped from a second-story window, badly bruised.

Mrs. F. M. Gifford, jumped from an upper window and was caught in a blanket, badly bruised.

Mrs. Sampliner, badly burned in rescuing a daughter.

It was reported during the progress of the fire that Mrs. Sarah K. Bolton, the well known authoress and poetess, had been burned to death. Further inquiry, however, showed that Mrs. Bolton was out shopping at the time of the fire.

The cause of the fire is unknown, although it originated in the basement near the furnace. A thorough investigation will at once be made as the building is said to have been a fire trap.

W. J. Morgan, the litgographer, owned the building, which was rebuilt less than two years ago at a cost of $25,000. He estimates his loss at $18,000; insurance, $12,000. Mrs. M. Hanna, who was the lessee, will lose $12,000 on furniture. The losses of tenants will foot up $10,000.

Honors to Moscow's Murdered Mayor.

MOSCOW, March 24.—The Czar has ordered that the funeral of M. Alexejeff, the murdered Mayor, be public. The body lay in state at the city hall yesterday and thousands of citizens filed past the coffin many stopping to kiss the dead man's hand. The honors shown to M. Alexejeff's memory by the Czar and people are unprecedented for a man of his official rank.

Lizzie Hill's Lover Apprehended.

NEWARK, N. J. March 24.—Charles Rosin the lover of 17-year old Lizzie Hild, who died of malpractice on Feb. 17, has been arrested at his father's house, 64 Broome street. He denied his acquaintance with Lizzie Hild, but modified his story, however, when twenty "letters" which had been written by him to the unfortunate girl were produced.

Moody's Great Fair Meetings.

CHICAGO, March 24.—Mr. Dwight L. Moody has surrounded himself with a staff of able Christian workers from every part of this country and Europe, and preparations have been made to hold evangelical services each night during the World's Fair in every part of this city, beginning May 1.

Murderer Hallissey Sick at Sing Sing.

SING SING, N. Y., March 24.—Thomas Hallissey, convicted of murder in the second degree for killing Thomas McLaughlin August 1891, has arrived at the prison in charge of Under Sheriff O'Donnell. He is very sick and was placed in the prison hospital. He is under a life sentence.

Rippey Says He Was Insane.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—Wesley G. Rippey, the would-be assasin of John W. Mackay, has hinted that when his case came to trial his defense would be temporary insanity. He said that he was not in his right mind for some time previous to his attempt upon Mackay's life.

Miners Resolve to Continue the Strike.

MONONGAHELA, Pa., March 24.—About sixty delegates, representing the river mines met in a conference here yesterday afternoon and after a careful survey of the situation, determined to continue the strike until a three and a half cent rate is granted by the operators.

Fatally Injured in a Drunken Brawl.

PITTSBURG, March 24.—Edward James, an iron worker, is dead as the Allegheny General hospital from the effects of injuries received during a drunken brawl in Harrisburg two weeks ago.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-Morrow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—At Demarest's you'll find strawberries, asparagus, and new spring butter.

—Try a can of Neuman Bros' grated or sliced Florida pineapple. It is a delicious article.

—The Plainfield Courier calls Westfield a "one-horse town". Mules are jealous of horses.—Leader.

—The entertainment that was to be held in the Washingtonville chapel last evening, is postponed until Monday evening.

—The electric lights in the borough council chamber are bad, and cast a gloom over the otherwise attractive looking room.

Richard Bertron, formerly a mason in this city, died at Newark on Tuesday, aged 45 years. The funeral took place to-day.

—Take advantage of the big reduction on sugar, butter, eggs, etc., at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association.

—The annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan association, for the election of directors, will be held Monday evening at 8.

—The Cecelia Bradford trio of New York, will give one of their famous concerts in All Souls' church, Tuesday evening, March 28.

—Perseverance lodge, No. 74, K. of P., will meet in regular session this evening, when the grand orient degree will be worked on several candidates.

—At a regular meeting of Franklin council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., the oriental degree was worked on two candidates, Joseph Sohl and Howard Lance.

—John Schump, a sixteen-year-old lad of West Fourth street, tripped and fell, Tuesday afternoon, breaking two of the bones in his arm. A physician set the broken bones.

—In a chicken contest between Elizabeth and Scotch Plains last night, at a point between Elizabeth and Newark, Scotch Plains won 7 out of 9 battles, with lots of boodle for the boys.

—On Thursday evening, April 6, State county deputy Mills, of Bound Brook, will pay a fraternal visit to Franklin council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., and install the officers to be elected next week.

—Interesting meetings are held in the basement of Reform Hall every Sunday morning and afternoon. Next Sunday Henry VanMiddlesworth will lead the 9:15, and A. G. Nicholson the 4:15 meeting.

—Willie Mullen, a young son of plumber J. Mullen of North avenue, while playing on the railroad track in the rear of his home, Wednesday afternoon, fell, and, striking his head on the rail, cut a deep gash in his forehead.

—The following cases are returnable to justice Nash: Burke vs Robinson, landlord and tenant, March 30; Collier vs. Mrs. Fulton, on contract, March 30; Kimball vs Brennan, landlord and tenant, March 29; Phillips vs. Babcock, contract, March 30.

—At Demarest's model grocery to-morrow you will find strawberries, ripe tomatoes, egg plant, cucumbers, water cress, radishes, lettuce, cauliflower, celery, new beets, green beans, rhubarb, spinach, new cabbage, new potatoes, oyster plant, Bermuda onions, green peas and lots of other good things ahead of the season.

—William Netherwood, in the employ of the Scott Printing Machine company, drew back from the tool box he was stooping over, yesterday afternoon, and struck his forearm against a paper-cutting knife that a fellow employe was filing. A three-inch cut into Mr. Netherwood's bone, was the result. He was able to walk home, but will be laid up for some days.

Every season brings a new crop of cough remedies, but they cannot compete with that grand, old Dr. Bull's cough Syrup.

PLAINFIELD AMUSEMENT COMPANY.

Its Organization This Morning, Its Officers and Its Present Intentions.

In advance of the annual meeting of the Plainfield Amusement Co., to be held Saturday evening, April 22, at which all the stockholders will be entitled to take part and choose permanent officers, a preliminary meeting of the incorporators was held this morning and the following temporary officers were elected:

President—Charles A. Reed.
Secretary and Treasurer—James A. Demarest.
Manager—Thomas Keller.

The principal office of the company will be at 3 North avenue. It has purchased all the property of the Crescent League ball team and acquired a lease of the grounds. All kinds of outdoor sports, and amusements summer and winter, will be provided.

The ball team will play always at home, and already a number of games with the best clubs now organized, have been scheduled. Hofford will captain the Plainfield team, and most of last year's best men are signed, including Bonner, Jones and Leidy. Daly wants to come back, and Vroom of last year's Staten Islands, and Murray of Somerville, have been secured. A battery good enough has not yet been found.

WHAT A NEW YORK PAPER CALLS NEWS.

Two Women Get Nervous on a Stand Pipe Stair.

Under the head line, "Their Awful Peril", the New York Recorder says that "Miss Mary Schreiber of Waverly and Miss Lulu Corman of Netherwood had a thrilling experience on Wednesday. Accompanied by E. Apgar of Evona, the three accomplished the difficult feat of climbing to the top of the stand-pipe of the water-works near Netherwood. The pipe stands nearly 150 feet, the top being reached by a stairway winding round the outside of the pipe. But one other woman had ever before succeeded in reaching the top.

"When the party began the descent Mr. Apgar was in front, and had gone but a short distance when a cry of alarm caused him to look back, to find that both of his companions had become dizzy and were in danger of toppling over the narrow handrail to the ground below.

"Apgar caused both ladies to seat themselves until more composed, and then, by descending a few steps at a time and resting again, he finally reached the ground with his two companions in an exhausted condition.

THEY WANT A NEW ASYLUM.

The Odd Fellows Will Spend $20,000 for Their Orphans.

A circular has been sent to Plainfield by the Odd Fellows' Orphanage association of the State of New Jersey, requesting lodges to look up sites in the different cities, as it is the intention of the order to build a new orphan asylum to cost not less than $20,000, so as to relieve the present one in New Brunswick, which is overcrowded at present. Trenton has already offered three acres, Mays Landing five, and Arlington five. The committee on sites will meet in Trenton on April 4, when the locations offered them will be decided upon.

Agreeably Surprised.

Horace Huff, chief salesman with Garret Q. Packer, was given a delightful surprise party at the home of Mrs. E. V. Lorton, 38 West Fifth street, last evening. The originators were Mrs. Canfield and Miss Ida Lorton. The event was a complete success. Choice refreshments and lively dancing were an enjoyable feature of the evening. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Woolston, Mr. and Mrs. John Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. William Westphal, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Haberle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Canfield, Mrs. Lorton, and Misses Grace Phillips, Ada Woolston, Stella Bittenbender, Lizzie Bittenbender, Ida Lorton, Smith, and Messrs. James Trewin, Howard Woolston, Elias Haberle, Walter Clark, Harry Ramsey, Bound Brook, Joseph Hankinson, Newark, Robert Giddis, Dunellen, Victor Lorton and others.

They All Voted for Him.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Permit me to deny, in behalf of the very large majority of the Democrats who attended the recent school election in North Plainfield, the statement made by certain residents of the Park that the Democrats were bent on defeating Mr. McCutchen. On the contrary, the Democrats who were present at the meeting went there for the express purpose of aiding in the election of Mr. McCutchen.

A BOROUGH DEMOCRAT.

THE TOWN CLERK CONTEST.

Martin Sworn In by the Republican Committee, But Kline Will Fight in the Courts.

The North Plainfield Township committee met in the new council chamber in Spencer's hall, last evening. Messrs. Voorhies, Allen and Smith being present. Clerk H. J. Martin, who took the oath of office before justice Crosley less than six days after election, according to law, called the meeting to order and an organization was perfected by the election of A. P. Voorhies, chairman, and W. C. Smith, treasurer.

The clerk stated that the newly-elected officers had been notified to appear and qualify, but few of them had done so.

The bond of overseer of the poor John Mackey, for $500, with the names of Harrison Coddington and B. S. Braider as sureties, was accepted, and he was sworn in.

Collector H. N. Spencer's bond for $15,000, with the names of Elias Allen and Wm. C. Smith, was accepted, and ordered recorded.

J. W. VanHorn was sworn in as constable, and his bond with J. F. Pierson and Thomas Butledge as sureties, was accepted.

Township physician, Dr. J. H. Carman, sent in a communication, agreeing to attend to the poor, furnish all medicine, etc., for $150 per annum; or, for the same fee as last year, $100, for attendance only. The total expenditure for physician's services, medicine, etc., last year was $169.75. Dr. Carman's offer was accepted.

The following claims were presented and tabled until such time as the treasurer shall have given bonds; F. W. Runyon, $25; L. E. Barkalew, $12.13; W. L. Force & Bro., $4.50; R. W. Vail, $13.-63; W. H. VanWinkle, $13.99; George B. Stewart, $12.13; W. H. Lunger, $12.

At this juncture in the proceedings, Levi P. Kline arose in the audience and said that he was present to be sworn in as town clerk. He claimed that he had been legally elected, and protested against clerk Martin acting in that capacity.

The clerk stated that it was necessary for the township clerk to qualify before a justice of the peace, within six days after election. Mr. Martin was unanimously declared the clerk.

The committee took the stand that even if Kline was elected, he vacated that office by not qualifying; and to make Martin's place secure they appointed him to fill the vacancy. Mr. Kline will fight it out in the courts.

The bond of Job Coddington for $500, with himself, N. B. Smalley and H. J. Martin as bondsmen, was accepted, and he was sworn in as constable.

Clerk H. J. Martin presented his necessary qualifications. J. P. Humble was sworn in as surveyor of highways, and the meeting adjourned to Wednesday evening next for the payment of bills and the transaction of routine business.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

"Heaven a Source of Help as Well as Place of Rest" is Dr. Lewis's sermon tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Winans of Stone street, have the sympathy of the community in the serious illness of their child.

"Absalom, the Fast Young Man" will conclude the Rev. C. E. Herring's young men character study series of sermons, Sunday evening.

Mrs. A. DeCamp and daughter, Miss Lizzie, of Chester, Morris county, returned home to-day after a pleasant visit among friends in the borough.

Dr. Ripley, of Ripleyville, has offered Bishop Wigger a lot for a new Catholic church on the Westfield boulevard, and has been elected president of the burying ground.

Charles S. Alvater, the popular and expert operator of the local Postal Telegraph office, will take charge of the Lehigh Valley railroad telegraph office at Flemington, April 1.

The funeral of Mrs. Henrietta P., relict of the Rev. P. L. Jacques, was held in North Plainfield to-day and the remains were taken to Easton for interment. She was the mother of architect Charles Jacques formerly of this city.

Robert E. Speer, junior secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church, whose eloquent words have thrilled so many audiences in this country, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday at 4:15 p. m. All men are invited.

The first item under the head of "Assorted Sweetmeats", in the Westfield Leader, is this: "Chas. A. Reed is in for it, and Plainfield is to have a baseball team." THE PRESS, however, would inform its country contemporary that Mr. Reed is a selected sweetmeat.

Mrs John F. Clapp, at her home, 84 Mercer avenue, Thursday afternoon, gave great pleasure to the Current Events club and a number of their friends. By her invitation, Charles Opdyke, of Broadway, read his paper "One Monk and One Nun", previously read for the benefit of the Unitarian church. This Spanish story, translated into French, has been retranslated by Mr. Opdyke, who has preserved in a most happy way the quaint tone and style of the original. Added to the dramatic interest of the story, Mr. Opdyke's manner of reading is full of quiet ease and grace that delight his listeners.

FRANCES DRAPER WELLS.

Her Obituary by the Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis.

Frances Draper, wife of deacon F. S. Wells, and granddaughter of the late Rev. Thomas Fisher, was born at DeRuyter, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1861. She passed from the earthly life into the heavenly rest March 10, 1893. Her first public avowal of faith in Christ was made in the Seventh-day Baptist church at DeRuyter. She was baptized June 16, 1878, and united with the M. E. church. From the age of sixteen to twenty-eight she was a successful teacher, ten years of that time being at Cleveland, Ohio.

On the third of August, 1892, she was married to Dr. Wells, and a few weeks later came to her new home in Plainfield. Being already a Sabbath-keeper, she joined the Seventh-day Baptist church on the fifth of Nov., 1892, and entered at once, and heartily, into the work of the church with ability and devotion which promised much good.

Insidious and unsuspected disease soon compelled her to withdraw from active life. Seen only from the earthly side, her going hence was all too soon; since a life was thus cut short which promised so much to a happy home, and to the cause of Christ. She belonged to that class of women whom to know is to love. When such are called, the shadows grow deeper, and the only light comes because, enfolded in the love of God, they rest where no night can be; "where they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for the Lord God giveth them light". If no "after glow" came back from such lives, death would be an unexplainable problem, and an unavailing sorrow. But claiming Christ's promises we lift our sorrow-blinded eyes, that God may wipe away our tears, even as his loving touch has already made it impossible for the redeemed ones to weep again. Abundant evidences of sympathy and regard showed how fully Mrs. Wells had found her way into the hearts of the church, and community. But amid such sad experiences, sweeter even than the sympathy of friends, are the messages of the gospel, and the balm of Gilead which the "comforter" brings.

The morning before her death, which came before the following midnight, her "daily reading" included the following stanza, which she sang with deep fervor:

When through the deep waters I call thee to go,
The rivers of sorrow shall not overflow,
For I will be with thee, thy troubles to bless,
And sanctify to thee, thy deepest distress.

She did not go through the deep waters, but up the shining way, and through the golden gates into everlasting rest. The "earthly tabernacle" in which she had dwelt was laid away clad in her bridal robes, fit symbol of the truth that she had gone to be a guest at the "Marriage Supper of the Lamb", in the home where sorrow is not and the touch of death is unknown.

A BANQUET TO SENATOR MARSH

He Returns From His Shooting Trip to Receive It.

Senator Marsh returned Wednesday afternoon from Sedge Island, Barnegat, where he had been duck hunting for several days.

He had not intended, when he went away, to return quite so soon, but while there he received a call to come home at once to attend a complimentary banquet tendered to him by a number of his political and personal friends.

The banquet was given in New York city, and Gov. Werts was present, the only one invited outside of the city of Elizabeth. It proved to be a highly enjoyable event, the more so as it was a perfect surprise to Senator Marsh.

Speaking of his duck hunting he said it was very successful and he enjoyed it greatly. He had no one with him but his dog and guide, and spent the time in hunting ducks and geese from blinds. Barnegat Bay, he said, was full of brant and geese. On Tuesday last he brought down two very handsome geese, one of them weighing thirteen pounds. He was fortunate in getting a large number of ducks, and was much benefited by his trip.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by J. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY MEETING.

An Unanimous Vote of Sympathy and Deep Sorrow Expressed for Frank S. Wells.

From the official report of the recording secretary, Arthur L. Titsworth, is taken the following extracts of the meeting of the executive board of the American Sabbath Tract society in regular session in the Seventh-day Baptist church, Chas. Potter, president, in the chair.

Nineteen members and three visitors were in attendance.

The report of A. H. Lewis as representative of the society before the Pennsylvania Legislature in the discussion on the repeal of the Sunday law of 1794 was received and ordered placed on record. (An account of this appeared in a recent issue of THE PRESS.)

A committee consisting of D. E. Titsworth, A. H. Lewis, L. E. Livermore, G. H. Babcock and W. M. Stillman was appointed with power, to consider the advisability of uniting the work of the Sabbath Recorder and the Sabbath Outlook.

The Rev. A. E. Main was requested to furnish a copy of a sermon recently preached by him in Plainfield, for publication.

A. H. Lewis, H. M. Maxson and A. L. Titsworth were appointed a committee on plans and methods for celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the society.

Edgar H. Cottrell was elected a director in the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rudolph M. Titsworth.

A. H. Lewis was appointed a committee to prepare suitable resolutions on the death of Dr. C. D. Potter, late associate editor of the Sabbath Outlook.

Pursuant to the unanimous vote of the board, the recording secretary was requested to indict a note to Bro. Frank S. Wells, expressive of the sympathy and deep sorrow of his brethren in this dark hour of his affliction through the death of his wife, Frances Draper.

THE PRESENT CHURCH TOO SMALL FOR HIM.

Kansas City Methodists Will Build a Larger One for the Rev. C. B. Mitchell.

The Grand Avenue Methodist church in Kansas City, since the Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell, formerly of this city, stepped into its pulpit, is overflowing, and it is intended now to build, in the near future, a large People's church on its present site, which will have a seating capacity of 2,500, and in addition there will be all the conveniences and appliances of a modern aggressive church.

The present edifice is far too small for the congregations. Every Sunday night for three months from 100 to 400 have been turned away after all the space in the church had been occupied. Recently the official board ordered the purchase of a large number of folding chairs. The church is now undergoing a thorough cleaning and repairing inside and out. The board recently refused $100,000 cash for the property.

A Letter From Plainfield to Alfred Centre.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SABBATH RECORDER:—In response to an invitation, we report some of the work done by the Woman's Society for Christian Work, of Plainfield, N. J. Since the removal of our old church, and during the building of the new one, our Society has been deprived of a permanent house: the work, however, has not been interrupted. One of our members has opened her hospitable home for the sewing meetings, held every two weeks, and many pleasant hours have been spent together while working for others. Our Society not only does its share toward supporting the denominational work, but is largely interested and represented in the charities of the city. The demands are many, and we strive to do faithfully our part toward each. We feel that the hearts of our members are warm to respond to every call of the poor and needy, trusting that we may be led to do the wisest and best things.

When our new church-home is ready for use, we hope to enter it with hearts fully prepared to accomplish more efficient work for Christ, doing it all in His name.

The society holds a sociable every month, being entertained at the homes of its members. These are pleasant occasions, always well attended, and bringing the church members in closer social relations. We are interested in the work done by our sister societies. Although our work lies in different fields we are glad to hear of the progress of other societies, since we are all working in the same cause and for the same results.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

Read and Reflect.

PAY FOR HER SERVICES.

Mrs. Mailland Rewarded for Her Care of the Dying.

The case of Elvira Mailland vs. Abner B. Coriell, administrator of the late Eveline Williams, to recover $200 for services rendered, came up before justice Nash and a twelve-men jury, yesterday afternoon. All of the parties concerned live at New Market. Wm. R. Codington appeared for the plaintiff, and Nelson Runyon for the defense.

Mrs. Williams, the deceased, died in July, 1892, leaving a snug little estate, She was 83 years old, and for sixteen months previous to her death she was almost helpless. She was an eccentric old woman and preferred living alone. Neighbors were in the habit of taking her dainties and doing chores about the house, which, they testified, were done as "neighborly acts".

From the evidence produced it was shown that Mrs. Mailland had cared for the old woman more or less for the past sixteen months, and from Nov., 1891, up to the following July, when the death occurred, Mrs. Mailland had taken entire charge of her, cooking her meals, attending the fires, washing and dressing her and doing the general housework. She had also been told by Mrs. Williams in the presence of witnesses that she would be well paid for her services. It was on this account that she brought in a claim against the estate for services rendered. The defence tried to show that Mrs. Mailland had rendered her services gratuitously, and that she had said that she had no claim against the estate. It was also brought out at the trial that an effort had been made to settle with Mrs. Mailland for $10, which amount she refused.

Many witnesses testified on each side, and it was nearly 7 o'clock when the case was given to the jury. A verdict for the full amount was given in favor of the plaintiff. An appeal will in all probability be taken.

WALLACE DISCHARGED.

The Alleged Fire-bug Brings Suit for $10,000.

Chief Keron, accompanied by prosecutor Marsh, both of Elizabeth, brought Lawrence Wallace, the alleged Scotch Plains fire-bug, to Plainfield for trial to-day, before Justice Nash.

The prosecutor said he had no evidence to convict by, and Wallace was discharged. This was on the charge of burning the Murphy building, the last fire. He is still under bonds for the previous charge.

Wallace promptly retained counselor Craig A. Marsh to bring suit for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment.

Wm. Messler, who was held as a witness, was discharged.

The Y. M. C. A. War Series.

A large audience, including a body of G. A. R. veterans, enjoyed Gen. O. O. Howard's lecture on Gen. Geo. H. Thomas, in the First Baptist church last evening. High tribute was paid to Gen. Thomas, who entered West Point in 1836. He had the faculty of never losing what he once had gained. He never blamed others to shield himself. Like Grant, he was strong and fearless in striking a match no matter who made it, always gladly accepting good plans from others.

The third and last lecture of the Y. M. C. A. course will be from the standpoint of a soldier in the ranks. Sergeant Chas. E. Sprague, of the "Ellsworth Avengers", the 44th N. Y. Infantry, will on April 4 tell the story seldom heard, of how the private soldier lived, suffered, fought and died. Sergeant Sprague came from fighting stock. His father, Chaplain Ezra Sprague, of the 119th N. Y. Infantry, set his son and namesake a good example of how one could pray and fight. The subject will be "Canteen and Cartridge Box, or Life in the Ranks".

Excursions to Washington.

Personally conducted tours to Washington have been arranged via Royal Blue Line, to be run at frequent intervals from New York and Philadelphia to Washington. The next excursion will be on April 6. For programme, describing these tours, write to Thomas Cook & Son, Agents B. & O. R. R., 261 and 1225 Broadway, New York, or 332 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

—An individual in a dingy mackintosh, claiming to be Dr. J. H. Westcott, and falsely asserting his residence as Hotel Albion, tried hard but vainly to get 20 grains of morphine at each of Plainfield's drug stores, a night or two ago.

Oh, What a Cough!

EARTHQUAKE KILLS 12.

Sinking of a Mountain Ridge in Colombia—Inhabitants Fly in Terror.

PANAMA, March 24.—A tremendous and destructive phenomenon has occurred in the Department of Cauca, in the Republic of Colombia. The volcano of Sotara had been unusually active, and the people in that region were greatly excited by the rumbling of the earth and the extraordinary violence of the volcanic eruption.

Suddenly, while the volcano was belching forth flame and smoke to a great height, the earth began to shake as if a most violent convulsion were in progress, and the mountain ridge called Cruz Loma suddenly sank along its entire extension. The inhabitants in the vicinity who had a chance to escape, fled in terror from the scene, and not too soon, as the sunken ridge dammed up three rivers and added devastation to the terrors of earthquake and volcano.

Twelve persons are known to have perished, and many cattle were destroyed, and more destruction is feared, as the rivers, whose usual channels have been obstructed, are rising rapidly.

Great suffering prevails in Gauca, usually the most flourishing department of Colombia, and many people are starving, owing to the failure of the crops, and this new and unexpected calamity has added greatly to the general wretchedness.

MILKMAN BANGERT FATALLY INJURED.

Struck by a Pennsylvania Express Train at Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, March 24.—Jacob E. Bangert, milkman and farmer, living at Union, was fatally injured at the Fairmount avenue crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Elizabeth, this morning.

He waited for a freight train to pass and the flagman, not seeing an express train going in an opposite direction, raised the gates and Bangert drove upon the track. The train dashed into his wagon. Both horses were killed and the wagon demolished, and Banghert's skull fractured.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none gave me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

After using Ely's Cream Balm two months I was surprised to find that the right nostril, which was closed for over twenty years, was open and free as the other, and can use it now as I could not do for many years. I feel very thankful.—E. H. Cressengham, 275 18th street, Brooklyn.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

MOLASSES IN WINTER.

A Synonym for Rapid Transit in New York.

Mr. Tompkins, the Harlem Barber, Expresses His Honest Opinion and Manages to Lose Most of His Customers.

[Special New York Letter.]

Rapid transit reform is a question that interests every resident of New York; but nobody can have more pronounced views on the subject than Harry Tompkins, the silver-tongued Harlem barber. There were a number of candidates present in his tonsorial parlor, but, like Mr. Sanford, of Long Island city, I was in the chair, and the rest were "Gleasonites," so to speak. They were emphatically not in it.

"If New York don't get rapid transit pretty soon the live men of New York might as well make an assignment and move over to New Jersey," remarked

RUNNING FOR A CAR.

Tompkins, as he tucked the cloth around my neck preparatory to administering a shave.

"But, Mr. Tompkins, have we not got rapid transit already?" I asked.

He stepped backwards, and gave me a look that will haunt me in my grave. Then he sneered audibly, and, while he was stropping his razor vigorously, he said:

"Yes, I know it is called 'rapid transit.' There is also a liquid at the New York boarding houses called tea that is too weak to run out of the pot."

An East side dude, whose mother keeps a boarding house on Madison avenue, and who was waiting to have his tresses curled, got up and sailed out with his head thrown back and his tall feathers spread, so to speak.

"Yes," continued Tompkins, "it is called 'rapid transit,' but there are also stores where they sell genuine nutmegs made of bass wood, where pure raspberry jam contains everything except raspberries, where the genuine coffee contains more peas than pepper, and the sugar has got sand enough in it to be used for building material."

A bald-headed grocer who does business near One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, and was going to have his moustache dyed, stalked out, saying something about punching somebody's head. "I don't mind it," said Tompkins, getting in some fine touches with the lather brush, "I'll have my say about this so-called rapid transit if I don't have any customers but myself. As I was saying, it is called 'rapid transit,' but we have also a genuine dollar that contains only sixty-four cents worth of silver. Genuine Turkish rugs are made in New York by genuine Turks from Ireland—and we have the same brand of genuine rapid transit. Bah!"

"But you certainly must concede that the elevated trains are a great convenience compared—"

"Compared to a paralyzed clam," he interupted, stopping my flow of eloquence with his lather brush. "As I was going to say when I was stopped," he continued, "our so-called rapid transit is sapping the life blood of this city. A photographer can now take a picture quicker than a mule can kick, and, thanks to modern science, eleven-year-old whisky can be manufactured inside of five days."

COLD DRAFTS ON THE ELEVATED.

A Harlem liquor-dealer gave Tompkins a look that would have done credit to Richard III. himself, and withdrew from the meeting, closing the door with emphasis.

"A photographer can now take a picture quicker than a mule can kick," repeated Tompkins, "but the elevated trains are slower than they were ten years ago, and this is New York, and late in the afternoon of the nineteenth century."

"What are your principal objections to our rapid transit?" I asked.

"I maintain," he said, with forced calmness, "that the elevated railroad system is accomplishing the physical and financial ruin of the average New Yorker; and I can prove it to the satisfaction of any man who is not, too far gone with paresis," and he gave me a significant glance, as he held up a hair and severed it with a flourish of his glittering blade.

"Would you mind giving me your views?" I asked.

"In the first place, I will demonstrate that we are being ruined physically by this fraud of a corporation. The New Yorker who lives in the upper part of the city, and does business downtown, must spend about two hours a day on the elevated cars. To make up for lost time he has to bolt his food in an unmasticated condition. His manner of eating breakfast is far more like feeding a patent corn sheller. According to medical authority, to be healthy we must eat slowly, and rest awhile afterwards. This is out of the question with the business man, two hours of whose time is spent in enforced idleness on the cars every day. The result is dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach and other kindred diseases. He has to swallow his coffee while it is scalding hot, which is the real cause of cancer of the stomach, but that is nothing compared to the other diseases for which our 'rapid transit' is responsible," and he paused to catch his breath.

"What other diseases?" I asked, incredulously.

"You certainly do not ride much on the elevated cars, or you would have found out in the bitter school of experience," said Tompkins, with a pitying smile, as he rubbed my cheek. "For some mysterious reason, when the weather is cold enough to wear fur-lined muffs the cars are colder than a church sociable."

The pastor of the Harlem Church of the Financial Embarrassment, who needed a shave badly, looked very hard at Mr. Tompkins, who continued:

"But when the thermometer indicates that it is ten degrees hotter than where we are go—than in Timbuctoo, the cars are so thoroughly warmed up you almost wish you were there already."

The clergyman withdrew quietly from the caucus, closing the door softly.

"If you don't let up, Tompkins, you will not have any customers left," I remarked.

"I don't give a cent. I was awake all night with the neuralgia I got on those accursed cars, and am suffering the pangs of perdition. As I was saying, they have lovely facilities for pneumonia, which carries away the best of us. A Spanish proverb reads:

"'If cold winds reach you through a hole,
Go make your will and mind your soul.'

"On the elevated cars the cold winds reach you through two holes, one at each end of the car, at every station, and go through you like a darning needle. Of course, the tough citizen manages to pull through the winter, but he has a sore throat, and coughs, and coughs, and coughs until he feels like a live porcupine turned inside out, or as if he had swallowed a hedgehog.

"The general manager of the company, Col. Hain, may not know it, but he is shoving us all into our tombs, and making us pay our own traveling expenses. No wonder you read so many patent medicine advertisements on the elevated trains and in the cars. I believe the company gets a 'commish' from the druggist, doctors and undertakers."

Here the barber coughed, and asked me if I didn't think he had made out his case as far as implicating the elevated railroad company with the physical ruin of the modern New Yorker was concerned.

I may mention that the working majority was still further reduced by the secession of a druggist and an elevated railroad official, and an undertaker.

"Where does the financial ruin come in?" I asked.

"That's too self-evident for serious discussion. No less than 500,000 people ride on these cars every day. If we had real rapid transit a passenger would save probably an hour a day. As time is money just think what this would amount to in a year. Again," said the artist, as if clinching the argument, "business men are so worried by the delay that they are not in a condition to transact business properly, particularly if they are jammed together like sardines, and the losses they sustain are simply incalculable.

"Who can calculate the value of time?" asked Tompkins, in a melodramatic tone of voice. "Do you remember that line from Dante: 'Think that today shall never dawn again?' I know that to-morrow is another day that has not been touched yet. Some people say that there is going to be plenty of eternity in the future, so we need not worry about time; but are we live New Yorkers to indulge in such dolce far niente nonsense? Not much. We must realize that time slides past faster than a toboggan. When you ride on Third avenue in particular you cannot shake off the impression that you are going to a funeral. One would imagine that eternity was made for no other purpose than to give the elevated trains a chance to get to city hall."

"Is that all of your indictment against the present system?"

"No, I could make a dozen more points in favor of real rapid transit," added Mr. Tompkins, as he jerked away the tablecloth, and shouted "next."

But there was no "next." We were alone; so, as there was no quorum present, it was moved and seconded and carried unanimously that we adjourn to a banquet hall where we moistened our swear-offs to the toast:

"Here is to real rapid transit for New York, and as suddenly as possible."

COL. SHEPARD'S DEATH

The Well Known New Yorker Killed by Ether.

UNEXPECTED END OF A USEFUL LIFE

The Surgical Operation Was Never Begun, as He Began to Sink Immediately After the Drug Was Administered to Him—All Efforts Failed to Revive Him—Sketch of His Career—His Marriage—The Shepard Family—Funeral Arrangements.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Up to a late hour to-day the final arrangements for the funeral of the late Col. Elliott F. Shepard had not been made. So sudden and unexpected was his death that the family can scarcely believe that it is necessary to provide for the funeral.

It is probable that the ceremony will be held Monday afternoon in the church of which he was an officer and will be conducted by the pastor, Dr. John Hall.

Col. Elliott Fitch Shepard, editor of the Mail and Express, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his residence. His death followed the administration of ether by Dr. Charles McBurney and the family physician, Dr. J. W. McLane, who were about to make an examination to ascertain whether the Colonel's suspicion that he suffered from stone in the bladder was correct.

He had been in good health, but nearly a month ago he noticed symptoms that led him to believe that he was afflicted with stone in the bladder. He let it go, and did not consult a physician until a week ago, when he went to Dr. McLane and told him of his suspicions.

The doctor confirmed them, and advised him to at least submit to an examination and to undergo an operation should it be deemed necessary. He agreed to this, and yesterday was decided upon for the examination.

Up to the morning he had attended to his business in the usual way. He was at his office every day, and no one there knew of the contemplated operation. He merely told his manager, A. B. DeFreece, that he might not be down on Friday, but would Saturday.

In the morning about 9 o'clock before the arrival of the doctor he complained of severe pains, and said he thought he would go to bed. But first he went to the telephone, called up the office of his paper, and gave a number of instructions about the future conduct of the paper should anything happen to him.

As nobody in the office knew he was ill these instructions caused considerable wonder, but it was never the habit of anyone there to question anything he did, and not even an inquiry was made as to what might be the matter.

He had induced his wife and his youngest daughters, Marguerite and Alice, who were at home, to go off to Scarboro for the day. His son, Elliott F. Shepard, jr., was at home.

About 1 o'clock, the nurses and surgeons being on hand, Col. Shepard said that he was ready for them, and they began the work of putting him under ether. He had inhaled the drug but two or three times when the physician detected dangerous symptoms and stopped the inhalation. He sank rapidly, and for a time it was feared that he could not be rallied. Powerful restoratives were administered. At the end of an hour's work with oxygen he was restored to partial consciousness, and he continued apparently to rally until about 4 o'clock.

Then, without warning, and for no apparent reason, he began rapidly to sink. The oxygen treatment was resumed, but it was of no avail; at 4:20 o'clock he died. He was unconscious and his death was peaceful.

The cause of the death given by the physicians was oedema of the lungs.

Immediately before Col. Shepard's death messages were sent to Mrs. Shepard announcing that he was very low and that he might not live. She hurried to the city but did not reach the house until about 6 o'clock.

Immediate friends of the family began arriving at about 6:30 o'clock. Cornelius Vanderbilt was one of the first. Dr. John Hall came about 7 o'clock. Chauncey M. Depew was the fourth or fifth visitor. A string of carriages was continually at the Fifth avenue side of the house all the evening.

Elliott Fitch Shepard was born in Jamestown, Chautauqua county, N. Y., July 25, 1833. He was educated at the University of the City of New York, admitted to the bar in 1858, and for many years practiced in New York city.

In 1861 and '62 he was aide-de-camp on the staff of Gov. Edwin D. Morgan, was in command of the depot volunteers at Elmira, N. Y., and aided in organizing, equiping and forwarding to the field nearly 50,000 troops. He was instrumental in raising the Fifty-first New York regiment, which was named for him the Shepard rifles.

He was the founder of the New York State Bar Association in 1876, which has formed the model for the organization of similar associations in other States. In March, 1888, he purchased the New York Mail and Express.

In 1867 Col. Shepard became acquainted with Margaret Louise Vanderbilt, the eldest daughter of Wm. H. Vanderbilt, whose father, the Commodore, was then the head of the family. It was at a reception of the Governor's staff. He fell in love with her and after a long courtship proposed marriage to her. It is said that the union was opposed by Miss Vanderbilt's father, but the daughter had her own way, and in 1868 they were married.

Mrs. Shepard, at the death of her father, inherited $12,000,000 as her share of his estate. The property is safely placed in the securities of the New York Central railroad, with the other Vanderbilt property, and is so arranged that the principal can not be touched. The income of the family is about $1,000,000 a year.

Col. Shepard was largely interested in religious work and was a leading member for many years of Dr. John Hall's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church.

He was president of the American Sabbath Union, and also vice-president of St. Paul's Institute in Asia Minor, which was mainly endowed by him.

In politics he was a Republican. He never ran for any office. He was a delegate to the last Republican convention which renominated Mr. Harrison, whom he strongly supported in the last Presidential campaign.

Although he was spoken of as a candidate for Vice-President, his name was not formally proposed at the convention.

He was a delegate to all the Republican conventions and was liberal in assisting the cause.

Col. Shepard's family consists of his wife and five children, Mrs. William J. Sheffield, the eldest daughter, Miss Edith, Miss Alice, Miss Marguerite and Elliott F. Shepard jr.

Miss Edith Shepard is now on her way to Europe with her aunt, Mrs. William Sloane, on the steamship La Burgoyne, and the only son, Elliott F. Shepard Jr., a boy of about 16 is at a Lawrenceville N. J., school.

Camden's Chief of Police Refuses to Make Way for His Successor.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 25.—There are two rival chiefs of police on duty at police headquarters here. Chief Dodd, who was removed Thursday by the Democratic commission, put in an appearance early at his office and occupied his desk as usual. He refused to surrender to Justice Davis, who was appointed by the commission as his successor.

Justice Davis also appeared in the office, but had to content himself with sitting at a small desk just opposite his rival, Chief Dodd.

Chief Dodd, who is a Republican, says that he will continue to be at the head of the police force, and refuses to recognize the order removing him. His men seem inclined to stand by him.

TWO YEARS AT JOLIET.

The Trial of Dis De Bar Ends in Her Conviction.

GENEVA, Ill., March 25.—The jury in the Vera P. Ava case has returned a verdict, in consequence of which Miss Ava, otherwise Ann O. Delia Dis De Bar, will serve two years in the penitentiary at Joliet. The verdict was received by the defendant without a murmur, although she had evidently expected to be acquitted.

During the entire progress of the trial she made herself very obnoxious by her constant interruptions of witnesses and attorneys.

A motion was made for a new trial, which will be argued before long.

During her stay in Geneva she has created quite a sensation.

Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Missing.

HACKENSACK, N. J., March 25.—Arabella, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David McCord of Ramseys, Bergen county, on the Erie railroad six miles below Tuxedo, is missing. She went to her room at 11 o'clock last night, but left the house by a rear window at midnight. Neighbors of the McCords said they heard a carriage pass about midnight. The girl, it is thought, eloped with a young man of Paterson.

TRIED TO WRECK A TRAIN

Ann Arbor Strikers Accused of a Despicable Trick.

NARROWLY ESCAPED AWFUL DEATH

The Train Was Going Very Slowly and the Engine and Two Cars Only Ran Off the Track—A Switch Was Thrown and the Target Lamp Taken Off—The Road Officials Angry—Gompers to be in Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., March 25.—Sensational facts in the Ann Arbor trouble has come to light. It seems that on Wednesday night an attempt was made to wreck the Ann Arbor train in which General Manager H. W. Ashley of the road was a passenger. The matter was hushed up in hopes of obtaining the names of the perpetrators.

The derailment occurred one mile north of Owosso, Mich., on the north approach to a long and high bridge. Had the train been going at its usual speed it must have gone into the stream and great loss of life would have resulted.

It is supposed that the attempt to wreck the train was an attempt to murder General Manager Ashley. He had been up the road and was on his way home when the train was derailed. He is very angry and will leave no stone unturned to catch the train wreckers.

An examination showed that the switch had been broken and turned and the colored lamp taken away. The strikers insist that the affair was not of their doings.

The company has offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension of the men who caused the derailment.

Mr. Ashley says he means business. He thinks the strikers either opened the switch or instigated it.

The strikers on the Ann Arbor have sent a notice to the commissioner of railroads of Michigan informing him that the road is daily breaking the law which compels all trains to come to a dead stop before crossing junctions.

They say the non-union engineers know nothing of the rules of the law or those of the company. As proof of this they present the following order, which has been posted on the Ann Arbor bulletin boards in this city, and, the men say, along the road:

"For a week commencing to-night you will flag before passing over crossings and when target is properly set. Signal trains ahead by lamp during the night and by hand during the day at Manhattan Junction, Milan, Durand and Owosso Junction. Section foremen will hire men to do this work at night. This is authority to do so.

"J. B. CONNORS, Supt."

The strikers are making all the capital out of this that they can. They say that last night engine 9 was made useless through the incompetence of the engineer. He was pulling the south-bound passenger, and at Milan his engine stopped and wouldn't go on. The men say the reason it stopped was because for three days he had not oiled his valves. They add that while he was looking around to find what was the trouble the engine was burned out and completely ruined. A freight engine was sent after the train.

The report that President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, would come to this city seems to have greatly encouraged the men. They have much confidence in him and believe that he can help them.

There has been talk of the Ann Arbor freight handlers, even down to the Polish coal shovelers, going out so as to assist the engineers. The strikers think that President Gompers will have something to do with starting such a movement. They also say that a large number of coal handlers who were laid off for lack of work a few weeks before the strike have refused to go back to work when asked to do so by the officials.

Chief Arthur has sent word that he will be here to-morrow.

A conductor has been discharged, who says he was let go because he sympathized too earnestly with the engineers.

Well Known Railroader Discharged.

NEW HAVEN, March 25.—One of the oldest employes of the Consolidated railroad, George Parker, for twenty years a valued conductor, has been discharged for inattention to his duties. Parker was one of the best known railroad men in New England and a general favorite with the traveling public. For years he has had charge of the train leaving Springfield at 7:35 A. M., and the one leaving New York at 4 P. M., two of the fastest expresses on the road.

Wife Murderer and Suicide.

BUTTE, Mont., March 24.—In the Key West house yesterday James Cosgrove shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide. Her refusal to live with him caused the tragedy. His last threat to kill her was made this morning and she had him arrested. She had just returned from court when the shooting occurred.

Training Ship Ready for the Review.

BOSTON, March 25.—The Massachusetts training ship Enterprise this morning came out of the dry-dock where she has been for several weeks fitting for sea. On April 8, the ship will leave on a two or three weeks practice cruise, after which she will go to New York for the review.

Died of Typhoid in Chicago.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Peter Franklin a palace car porter, was found dead on the steps at 1834 Dearborn street, Chicago, yesterday. A physician was called and said that Franklins death was caused by typhoid fever. Franklin lived in New York city.

The Kaiser's Brother-in-Law Coming.

BERLIN, March 25.—Duke Ernest Gunther of Schleswig-Holstein has obtained a year's leave from his military duties, and will sail in April for Chicago and the World's Fair. He is a brother of the Empress of Germany.

A FILTHY COUNTY HOUSE.

An Unheard of State of Affairs in an Ohio County Institution.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 25.—For years the County Infirmary of Columbiana has been in a notoriously bad condition. The attention of the State Board of Health was finally called to it and an investigation was ordered. Secretary Probet conducted the investigation in person, and has just filed his report, which is perhaps one of the most scathing reviews of the situation of affairs ever made by a similar official.

He describes with nauseating detail, the condition of affairs, showing that the institution is a disgrace not only to the county, but to civilization, the inmates being huddled together in the midst of surroundings that leave nothing to the imagination of the reader.

The insane department is described as particularly horrible, there being no apparent effort made to secure even a pretense of cleanliness, and a proper conception of sanitation has evidently never entered the minds of the directors.

A NOBLEMAN IN DISGRACE.

Lord Hastings Fined for Insulting a Girl in Regent's Park.

LONDON, March 25.—George Manners Astley, who has a seat in the House of Lords as Baron Hastings, was arraigned in the Marylebone police court on a charge of having acted indecently toward a girl in Regent's Park.

His Lordship, who is about 35 years old, looked very much ashamed as he was called up to answer the charge. The court found him guilty and sentenced him to pay a fine of 50 pounds or go to prison for three months.

Astley moves in the Prince of Wales' set, and the Princess of Wales stood sponsor for his daughter, Alexandra Rhoda.

LOST AND WON.

A Strapped Gambler Gets His Money Back by Using His Gun.

CHICAGO, March 25.—A wild-west device suddenly introduced here caused a flurry among the gambling fraternity. Louis Marks, a Halstead street dealer, found himself without warning looking into the muzzle of a 38-calibre gun held by a red-whiskered stranger who had been steadily a loser.

The 20 people in the room as well as the dealer were stupified. Mr. Marks retained enough presence of mind to hand over without delay all the funds in sight to the stranger, who backed out of the place and escaped.

HUMAN FLESH ON AN ENGINE.

Parts of Two Bodies Carried Into Toledo by a Lake Shore Train.

TOLEDO, March 25.—Upon the arrival of the midnight train from Chicago over the Lake shore road the driving wheels were found to be covered with blood and bits of human flesh.

A man's hat lay on the pilot and part of a woman's leg hung on some of the machinery.

The engineer says he felt his engine jar somewhere between here and Adrian.

A Produce Exchange With Jews Excluded.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 25.—Many grain speculators and merchants are arranging to form a new produce exchange from which Jews shall be excluded. Their principal reason for such action, they say, is that the Jewish grain men are guilty of scandalous adulteration of grain and cause by their dishonesty immense losses to the government whenever large quantities are purchased for the army or navy.

Action Against the Standard Oil.

NEW YORK, March 25.—George Rice has begun an action in the Supreme Court against the trustees of the Standard Oil company, John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, William Rockefellor, John Archbald, Benjamin Brewster, Henry H. Rogers, Wesley H. Tilford and G. B. Jennings, for an accounting under the trust agreement made Jan. 2, 1882, and under an accounting and dissolution of the trust on Oct. 18, 1883.

Destroyed County Records of Deeds.

NEWTON, Kan., March 25.—The vault in the Register of Deeds office has been broken open and the county's records destroyed. A hole was made through a two foot brick wall into the vault with a pick. The records were piled on the floor, saturated with kerosene and set on fire. There is no clue to the perpetrators. The loss can not be made good for less than $100,000.

Earnings of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—The earnings of the Pennsylvania system for the month of February show a decrease of net earnings on the lines east of Pittsburg of $385,571 and on the lines west of Pittsburg of $419,796, a total net decrease on the entire system of $755,367. The loss is directly attributed to the freight blockade in Chicago.

For a Cigar Exhibit at the Fair.

HAVANA, March 25.—Many of the American tourists now sojourning here make a point of visiting the Flor de Cuba cigar factory. The attraction drawing them thither is a splendid wooden kiosk built especially to be sent to the World's Fair, In it will be displayed an exhibit of the cigars made in the establishment.

Shot While Cleaning an Old Gun.

CORNING, N. Y., March 25.—Michael Ryan, 56 years old, accidentally shot himself at his home last night while cleaning an old gun. The charge entered his left side and passed through his left lung. He will die.

Charleston Ready for the Review.

FORT MONROE, Va., March 25.—The United States steamer Charleston has completed repairs at Norfolk and has dropped down to Hampton Roads and saluted Admiral Walker's flag.

DOCTOR AND PATIENT.

Paine's Celery Compound Cures where Physicians Fail.

The position of the physician who deals with the nervous and feeble, the pain worn the hysterical, the sleepless, is one of the utmost gravity.

Prolonged strain of mind and body, or both, is apt to result all too quickly in sudden collapse.

One of the greatest physicians the world has ever seen who was for years the most prominent man upon the faculty of Dartmouth, realizing the extent of the physicians' responsibility, set about to discover a remedy that should build up the nervous system, and cure the ills that result from impoverished blood and diseased nerves; he discovered that greatest of all remedies, Paine's celery compound, and submitted the formula to fellow physicians.

There was no secret about it; the formula from that time till now has been furnished, whenever asked for, to reputable physicians, and they have time and again examined it, and knowing that it is good, have recommended it to those who are sick.

No other remedy was ever so highly endorsed and so generally used and recommended by physicians.

W. J. LITTLEJOHN.

Dr. William Horne, who for a dozen years has been one of the most prominent editors of, and writes for, medical journals, writing in May of last year, said:

"I have been using Paine's celery compound for six weeks for myself and wife; I am like all graduated M. D.'s, opposed to proprietary remedies; I was induced to try the celery compound after reading Commodore Howell's letter; I feel conscientiously inclined to testify to the building-up qualities of the celery compound; I am just finishing the sixth bottle; I have recommended the compound to many.

"For five years I have been afflicted, each season, with excessive nervousness; so sensitive was I that any little noise caused me to start and flutter; for five seasons I have been full of itching, red, eruptive spots; three weeks ago this condition came upon me again, but with much more excessive nervous prostration I commenced taking the Paine's celery compound; my unpleasant nervous condition is entirely gone; I sleep well and have a good appetite; my dyspepsia is gone and I easily digest all I eat.

"I enclose the case of Mr. Littlejohn of Janesville, Wis.

"Some four years ago last June, Mr. John Littlejohn complained to me of a peculiar sensation in his head and neck, right side; I examined him closely, and told him he had a blood clot at the base of the brain, I thought, or a small tumor pushing upon the nerves at the base of the brain; I recommended him to one of the best physicians, Dr. J. B. W.; he went, and the doctor made his diagnosis; I saw the doctor the next day, and he said he had found some undue pressure at the base of the brain; Dr. W.'s diagnosis was the same as my own, although we had neither of us known anything about the other's diagnosis; there was some unsteady twitchings of the facial muscles on the right side, and especially of the right eye.

"Mr. Littlejohn seemed to be completely unbalanced and 'jerky' and quite unsteady he tried every conceivable remedy, by the recommendation of some eight or ten physicians in Janesville, Chicago and Milwaukee and other places; all the treatment failed to relieve him; I recommended Paine's celery compound.

"He tried it, and by a steady, persistent use of the celery compound, he completely cured himself of the worst case of extreme nervous prostration and excitability that I ever saw; Mr. Littlejohn informs me that he has spent over $5,000 in doctoring, without good; he thoroughly tried celery compound; it completely cured him."

Mr. Littlejohn himself writes:

"I have been a traveling man for a great many years, and the exposures and worry that follow business transactions, caused me to break down with nervous prostration so that for several days they thought I was dying; besides this, I had the creeping paralysis in my left arm, hand and side so that they were almost entirely useless, and I had a most severe case of catarrh to the extent that it almost destroyed my eyesight and ruined my hearing; I had no sense of taste whatever for two years; I had all this so that I was used completely up for five years, so you can judge of my condition; and after all of these doctors failing, I finally cured myself by using Paine's celery compound."

Is there a sick person who can afford not to try a bottle of this wonderful remedy?

For New Jersey: Generally Fair; Northerly Winds; Colder Sunday Morning and Evening.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Get a Victor of Rogers.

—To-night a song service in the W. C. T. U. rooms.

—The easy payment system at Rogers's puts a Victor within the reach of all.

—A regular meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, will be held Monday evening.

—No service will be held in the German church Wednesday; but instead, on Good Friday evening at 7:45.

—W. H. Sebring, the clothier, invites your attention to his large stock of spring overcoats for $10 and upwards.

—Hoagland the expressman is prepared with a large new truck to remove furniture with the utmost despatch and care.

—At the regular meeting of Plainfield council, Royal Arcanum, next Monday evening, there will be initiation and the grand officers and staff will be present.

—Edward White has been a very heavy buyer at the late trade sales of matting, and will offer two hundred rolls of fine matting at less than import prices.

—The Park Avenue Christian Endeavor society is wide awake. Among their many good works, they have contributed $25 toward the support of a native scholar in India.

—That hustling West Front street merchant, C. M. Ulrich, has added another improvement to his establishment, having placed a telephone in his office. 141 is the number to ring up when you want fine meats of any kind.

—The fog of last night was probably the densest ever experienced in this locality. It was so thick that the nearest street lights looked like fireflies. It is said that people hacked out big chunks of the mist and stored them away as relics.

—A meeting conducted by Mrs. Ballington Booth will be held in the Crescent Avenue church, Monday evening at 8. Ensign Edith Marshal, head of the Auxiliary League of the Salvation Army, together with Bro. Bjorksten, the celebrated tenor, will take part in the meeting.

—John Heffernan, of East Third street, a helper in Scott's foundry, is laid up with a crushed foot. He was unloading pig iron from a car when a pig dropped on his foot. He was taken home in a cab. This is hard luck. Heffernan had but recently gone to work after being out of employment a long time.

—Richard Garretson, a former well-known resident of Plainfield, who led the W. C. T. U. four o'clock meeting last Sunday afternoon, will again lead that service to-morrow afternoon, at the rooms, corner of Broadway and Fourth street. The service last Sunday was very largely attended, and it is hoped to-morrow's will be as popular.

—If the North Plainfield electric light company expect to get full pay for lights on Duer street and Craig place, in front of the German Reformed church, they would better put the lights in that locality in order, and give the people of that neighborhood the light that the borough pays for. The lights in the neighborhood named have only burned "just a little" for ten nights past.

—The Glorious Gospel is a new and highly commendable venture of the Park Avenue Baptist church. The first issue is at hand, and it is a most creditable publication. The purpose is to produce a number each month, containing one of pastor Richardson's great sermons, church notes and comment. There is no subscription fee, but distribution is gratuitous. The committee consists of Edwin B. Day and David M. Runyon. The Glorious Gospel is issued in the highest style of the printer's art, and as it is a thing of beauty THE PRESS fervently hopes it may be a joy forever.

OBITUARY.

The Rev. E. A. Embury.

The Rev. Edmund A. Embury died this morning at his late residence, 43 Washington avenue.

Mr. Embury was born in New York city, April 13, 1809. He was a graduate from Columbia College and from the General Theological Seminary.

After finishing his education he became pastor of the Emanuel Episcopal church in Brooklyn, and afterwards of St. Mark's church of the same city. From Brooklyn he came to Plainfield, in 1861.

The existence of the Church of the Holy Cross in North Plainfield is due to his generous liberality, as he built it and presented it to the parish.

He was rector of this church for a number of years, and only gave up active work in the church when he became too feeble to have the responsibility of the parish on his shoulders.

Since he retired the Holy Cross has seen four pastors—Revs. Ward, Camp and C. W. Fiske, besides T. Logan Murphy, the present rector.

Mr. Embury was especially noted for his parish work. Wherever he chanced to be rector he organized the work of the parish so that much was accomplished under his efficient guidance.

He has been failing gradually for some time, and his death this morning was not unexpected. The end was extremely peaceful.

Deceased was in his 84th year; he leaves two sons and two daughters. He was possessed of considerable wealth in lands.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Caroline F. Randolph is home from Wellesley college for Easter.

Mrs. Emma Ryno and daughter, of Newark, are spending a few days with friends on Lee place.

Mrs. Seymour Marsh of Putnam avenue is suffering from serious injury to her knee, caused by a fall.

R. W. Rice returned this morning from Pennsylvania, where he has been on a business trip of several days.

The marriage of Miss Annie Watterson of Manning avenue to Richard Warneck of Grandview avenue is announced for June 20.

The fine new residence of J. B. Dumont corner of Crescent avenue and Seventh street is finished, and the family will move into it in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cadmus, and their lovely baby, Helen, are visiting Mrs. Cadmus's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Cole, 178 Duer street.

Judge Wm. A. Coddington and ex-judge Wm. R. Codington both had their eye and expectation on S. C. Shaen's house on Sandford avenue. The ex-judge captured it.

James T. Anthony, of Putnam avenue, has returned from Boston, where he has been executing some business for the Cape Cod Ship Canal company, before the Massachusetts legislature.

The sudden death of Elliott F. Shepard, brother of A. D. Shepard of Scotch Plains, which is fully told of in another column, is a most distressing blow to the afflicted family, with whom the fullest sympathy is expressed.

The Bound Brook Chronicle: "Rev. Mr. Goodrich, who filled the Congregational pulpit last Sunday morning, greatly pleased his audience. He will graduate from the Yale Theological Seminary in May. His parents reside in Manchester, N. H., and he is a brother of Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of Plainfield."

BY THE WAY.

—Rogers the bicycle dealer has a full supply of second-hand wheels from which you may select just the bargain you want.

—Strawberry crush in all its delicious purity, fresh from the ripe fruit, may be had at Reynolds's pharmacy, Park and North avenues.

—A carload of chestnut ties has arrived and been placed on a lot on Somerset street, for the borough extension of the street railway.

—The newsboy Willibald was seen twice this morning at 5 o'clock, by different people, in the meadows about A. E. Hoagland's house.

—Hallock & Davis show some very beautiful effects in the flowing-end styles of neckwear now so fashionable. Their prices are the lowest.

—Hulett has had to postpone his great opening till after Easter, owing to delay in the shipment of some of his magnificent Glidermaster & Kroeger pianos, which he wants to exhibit at that time.

—The Ladies' Aid society connected with the Monroe Avenue chapel will on next Tuesday evening give an orange tea. If the weather Tuesday night should be stormy, the tea will be postponed until Wednesday evening.

—At the next meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, in Exempt Fireman's Hall, Coward building, 9 Park avenue, at 8 p. m., next Monday, grand officers and staff will be present. There will also be initiations.

—Those having invitations to the meetings to be addressed by Mrs. Ballington Booth in the Crescent Avenue church Monday evening will be admitted at the side doors of the main church building until 7:45. After that time, seats will be free.

—THE PRESS regrets to state that the enterprising house of Fulper & Bingham, United Tea and Coffee Growers, is temporarily embarrassed. The partners have arranged with some of the creditors to continue the business as heretofore, and hope to do so with all.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none gave me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 20 Woodward ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

After using Ely's Cream Balm two months I was surprised to find that the right nostril, which was closed for over twenty years, was open and free as the other, and can use it now as I could not do for many years. I feel very thankful.—E. H. Cressingham, 278 18th street, Brooklyn.

The Motormen Gave Him a Chair.

A pleasant party was given to Joseph Taylor at his home on Lee place last evening. The gathering was to commemorate the twenty-first birthday of Mr. Taylor. There were about sixty young people, from various parts of the city, present to enjoy the evening's festivities. The evening was well spent in the singing of songs and the playing of games. The presents were many, among them being an elegant chair presented by the motormen and conductors of the street railway; also two other very fine gifts given by the members of his Sunday-school class. Ice-cream and other refreshments were served in abundance. The Misses Lizzie and Laura Mattis, who had charge of the affair, did their part well as to the comfort of those present. Later the rooms were cleared for dancing. This pastime the young people kept up until early morning. Then the merry crowd left for their separate homes, being very well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

Tell the Truth; If You Cannot, Remain Silent.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The freak that manages the lying department of the so-called News oversteps his vindictiveness when he says there was beer used at the Democratic headquarters in North Plainfield at the late election. Such men as he, and I am very sorry to say North Plainfield has more than her share of them, made it possible for the Democrats to win the victory they did a few days ago.

By following the Golden Rule and telling the truth, he could probably be of some service to the two or three friends he has in the borough. Now, if this egotistical idiot can furnish one bit of evidence, circumstantial or otherwise, that will prove a basis for his assertion that beer was used at all, I will become a subscriber to his fast decaying idiotic mutterings.

TRUTH.

Easter Music at Park Avenue.

[From The Glorious Gospel.]

Our volunteer choir, under the excellent leadership of chorister Roe, and assisted by our young and talented organist, Miss Alice Coard, promises attractive features for our Easter celebration. The regular choir is being augmented for the occasion. Mrs. Nelson Runyon, Mrs. H. E. Ryder, and Frank S. Runyon have kindly consented to assist, so that the Easter chorus will number from sixteen to twenty voices. Mrs. E. R. Bird and Robert Gorton will act as soloists, and the following anthems are in preparation for rendering on that happiest Christian feast day of all the year:

"Easter Bells are Chiming".....Lord
"Awake up, my Glory".....Barnby
"At the Sepulchre".....Steele
"There is a Green Hill".....Somerset
"Christ our Passover".....Holden

We think it will not be necessary for anyone to go elsewhere "to hear good Easter music."

Park Avenue's Excellent Contributions.

In the "Church Notes" of the new Park avenue paper, it is said:

"It is with justifiable pride we report the largest contribution ever made by our people for Home Missions. One hundred dollars was the response to the earnest appeal from the pastor. When we consider the past, that this amount is about three times greater than ever before raised, it is astonishing.

"The Women's Home Mission Society, connected with our church, have received very grateful letters, acknowledging the safe arrival of the barrels of clothing, which had been sent to the Rev. Mr. Patterson—missionary at Creston, Iowa. Also, from the Colored School at Little Rock, Ark. The estimated value of the articles sent, is placed at $150."

The Lesson of Hoke.

Hoke Smith has turned out to be a bone and flesh reality, notwithstanding the Sun's suspicions. So, too, that weakness of the sight your child complains of, and which you think imagination, may prove a serious reality unless given immediate attention. Take her to Collier's without delay and get the advice of a skilled optician.

Plainfield to Chicago.

A possibility exists that a special excursion may be run this coming summer, directly from Plainfield to Chicago and return.

The Young Men's Christian association is considering the feasibility and expediency of such an undertaking, and while the question is by no means decided as yet, the chances are that it will be attempted if the idea meets with proper encouragement.

The general arrangements would be something as follows: Leave Plainfield in the early evening; arrive at Niagara next morning; spend nearly a whole day there, in sight-seeing and drives, and reach Chicago the next morning. While at the exposition the party would be entertained at one of the best of the new hotels, where they could receive all due care and comfort, and there they would remain either a week or ten days as may be hereafter decided. All expenses would be covered by about $80 for one week, or $90 for ten days' stay, and these prices would secure excellent and select accommodations of all kinds.

The excursion if carried out would afford a most desirable opportunity for ladies and young persons generally to visit the exposition, as the excursion would be under the personal charge and supervision of trustworthy people, and every care and precaution would be exercised to promote the comfort and enjoyment of each member of the party. The exposition could be seen under the best auspices and with congenial companions.

The secretary of the association, Mr. Manning, or any of its officers and directors, will be glad to give all information possible to any one who may desire to inquire concerning the plan.

OBITUARY.

JOHN TAYLOR JOHNSTON.

The Distinguished Plainfielder Passes Away at His New York Home—Biographical Sketch of His Notable Career.

John Taylor Johnston died at his winter residence, 8 Fifth avenue, New York, yesterday morning, in the seventy-third year of his age. Creeping paralysis, beginning in 1877, caused his death. Thus closed the career of one who, until the last few years when increasing infirmity compelled him to withdraw from business and social life, was one of New York's and Plainfield's best known and most useful citizens. The Metropolitan Museum of Arts and the Central Railroad system of New Jersey, in the foundation of both of which he took the leading part, represent his most important achievements.

He was born in New York on April 8, 1820, of old New York merchant stock. His father was John Johnston, of Boorman, Johnston & Co., and his mother was Margaret Taylor, daughter of John Taylor. Both his parents were of Scotch birth. John Taylor Johnston was their eldest son, and with the loyalty characteristic of their Scotch blood, it is not strange that he should have received a part of his early education at the Edinburg High school in their native country. He was graduated in 1839, at the age of nineteen, from the University of the City of New York, of which his father, John Johnston, was one of the founders. He studied law in the Yale law school at New Haven with Charles Astor Bristed, Daniel D. Lord, Henry G. de Forest, and other New Yorkers of the generation which is fast passing away. He afterwards became a student in the office of Daniel Lord, sr., and was admitted to the Bar in 1843.

He remained but a short time in the active practice of his profession, for in 1848 he was induced to take take the presidency of the insignificant Somerville and Easton railroad, which he and his associates developed into the comprehensive system now known as the Central R. R. of New Jersey, and with which his business career will always be associated. His presidency continued uninterruptedly from 1848 until 1877, a period of twenty-nine years, when his fortune, invested almost entirely in the enterprise which he had so successfully developed, was almost entirely sacrificed in a vain effort to sustain the credit of the company through the disasters of that period which were common, except in degree, to all the anthracite carrying roads. At that time Jersey Central stock went down to 19. He had faith in the Jersey Central, bought in all the stock he could at that figure and held it; thus in time recouping his fortune. He resigned the presidency of the road soon after it went into the hands of a receiver in 1877, and was never actively associated with it afterwards. Since then his public activity was largely confined to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and to other educational and benevolent institutions with which he was connected.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey owes to him, first of all, the broad foundation on which its system was built up. It was his forethought which led to the acquisition of the Lehigh and Susquehanna railroad in Pennsylvania and its appurtenant coal lands, and linked the traffic of these coal lands permanently to the Central railroad system. It was his forethought, too, which secured the great terminal facilities of this company in New York harbor, which have attracted to it by natural laws the traffic of the Baltimore and Ohio, the Reading, and more recently the Lehigh Valley. Almost alone on his board of directors, he advocated the building and leasing of the New York and Long Branch railroad. Many years before any other railroad men initiated a policy of suburban development, he foresaw its importance, and by frequent train service and attractive station grounds, built up central New Jersey between Jersey City and Somerville. His expenditures to secure low grades and good alignment and to avoid grade crossings were far in advance of the railroad science of his time and were ridiculed by some of his competitors. He also laid out extensive systems of roads specially designed to develop the country in connection with the railroad line. The mountain-top road in North Plainfield bears his name, his property in city and borough is one of Plainfield's most prominent attractions, and central New Jersey between Elizabeth and Somerville owes him a debt of gratitude for its progress and development.

He was always interested in art—an interest fostered by two years' residence abroad after graduation from the law school. His picture gallery was, up to the time of its sale and dispersion in 1877, the most important in America. It was always thrown open generously to the public on one day of each week and it was his habit to assemble in it all the artists of New York at least once a year. Among its noted pictures were Church's "Niagara", now in the Corcoran gallery at Washington; Muller's "Last Roll Call" in the Conciergerie, now belonging to Mr. Astor; Turner's "Slave Ship"; and representative works of Meissonier, Jules Breton, Brion, Fortuny, Madrazo, Daubigny, and the Barbizon School. Three hundred and twenty-seven such paintings he sacrificed at auction for a total of $330,972.

His taste in art was thoroughly Catholic. The American, German, and English schools were all represented, as well as the French. He was a natural leader in organizing the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and gave from its first inception until his infirmities incapacitated him from all business, his watchful and earnest care. Of all the many enterprises with which he had been associated, this stood nearest to his heart. He was the first president of the museum and continued to occupy this office until 1889, when he was forced to resign because of his condition of health, and was succeeded by Henry C. Marquand. He was then elected honorary president for life, a position which he held at the time of his death. The acquisition of the earlier collections of the museum was largely due to his generosity. His presidency was no honorary one. His last public appearance was at the annual meeting of the museum in 1892, and the annual meeting for the present year was the first one from which he was ever absent.

Nor was his activity confined to the public enterprises which have been named. The University of the City of New York, of the governing body of which he was president; the Presbyterian Hospital, the Woman's Hospital, the St. Andrews' Society, and the Boards of the Presbyterian church: all claimed and received their share of his attention. He followed his father as an elder in the old Scotch Presbyterian church and took his full part in church councils. He was an influential member of several general assemblies, in which he represented the New York Presbytery.

He never permitted his business or public duties to interfere with his family life, which, until the death of his eldest son and wife occurring in 1886 and 1888 respectively, was an unusually happy one. He married Frances Colles, daughter of James Colles, in 1851. One son, J. Herbert Johnston, and three daughters, all married, Mrs. Robert W. deForest, Mrs. Pierre Mali, and Mrs. Henry E. Coe, survive him.

The funeral will be on Monday from the Old Scotch Presbyterian church in Fourteenth street. The burial will be at Greenwood.

What Is It That Mothers Need?

The regular monthly meeting of the Plainfield Branch Alliance of Unitarian and Other Liberal Christian Women, will be held in All Souls' church, next Tuesday at 3 p. m. The subject will be "Physical Education." Discussions on the following topics will take place:

1. "Health and work."
2. "Manual training, its influence upon character." (An abstract of Mr. Ham's lecture.)
3. "Is it physical, moral and mental strength, or 'balance' that mothers need?"
4. "Relation of physical and moral well-being."
5. "Is a contented spirit necessary to wealth?"

To these subjects others of equal interest at this time have been added to the regular programme. Papers will be read on "Sloyd" and "Cycling for women."

Mrs. George Phelps Mellick of this city, will also read a paper on "Personal Hygene".

All women are invited.

The Corpse Denied It.

It was reported yesterday that John Porter, the man who was stabbed in three places by James Donovan, in a row at a West Front street auction shop, last Saturday night, had died of his injuries. A representative of THE PRESS who called at his house this morning found that the story was entirely imaginary. At the time the reporter called, this morning, Porter was enjoying a smoke and perusing his morning mail. It seems that he has entirely recovered from his injuries.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have aversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

SUCH THINGS SHOULD BE FIXED.

And They Doubtless Will Be, Now that Complaint Is Made.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I would like to call your attention and that of the public to the present condition of Grant avenue between Front and Fourth streets. This part of Grant avenue, previous to the advent of the street railway, was one of the best macadamized streets in Plainfield, as smooth and hard as a floor.

The street railway people destroyed not only the good condition of the street, but lowered it so that it is not only difficult but dangerous to attempt to reach the sidewalks in wet or icy weather, or at night, while the mud in the driveway is if anything worse than that of an unkept country road, it being absolutely dangerous to cross the track with a carriage in many places as the rails are so much higher than the surface, to say nothing of the distance from the point where the wheels find a firm resting place to the top of the rail.

I do not wish to be understood as opposing the general extension of the street railway, but I would recommend that the mayor and council take an object lesson from this locality before granting a permit for any further extension without taking a good bond from the company, under which they agree to restore the streets through which they pass, to at least as serviceable a condition as the taxpayers' money had put them into before they were torn up by the street railway company. What makes this particular case more annoying, is the fact that after the rails were laid, such cracked stone as had not been carried from the vicinity, was scattered along the middle of the track. Upon the writer's protesting to such a flimsy attempt at restoration (to the man who was in charge of the work) he was told that "that was all right, that if I did not like it, I could complain to the counsel about it. That it was all the railway company was obliged to do".

If the charter of the water company is so limitless as to permit of placing four hydrants in one unoccupied block on Grant avenue, and charging the taxpayers for the use thereof, the city can at least see to it that the conditions of future franchises are properly drawn so as to protect the public's interest.

Without hope of removing the present burden, this is offered with a humble trust that it may influence the bestowal of future privileges. TAXPAYER.

Mrs. Tomlinson Was the Graceful President.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

The Union County School of Methods met in the Presbyterian church at Cranford, Thursday. The county president, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, of Plainfield, presided with her usual dignity and grace, which always wins all hearts. After addresses of welcome by the president of the Cranford union, and the pastor of the church, a paper on "Scientific Temperance Instruction" was read; much has been accomplished since this department was organized, but much still remains to be done. There are yet nine States without a law compelling scientific temperance instruction in the public schools, of which nine New Jersey is one, but we hope she will not be long without such a law. Our State president was present, and spoke encouragingly of the work throughout the State and of the need of training workers for the different departments of our work.

Very instructive talks and papers were given on the work of the Loyal Temperance Legions; mothers meetings, and the duties of officers. After an interesting report of the National Convention at Denver, by our county delegate, the School of Methods adjourned. An able address by Mrs. E. A. Boole, vice-president of New York State was listened to with much interest by a large audience in the evening.

Excursions to Washington.

Personally conducted tours to Washington have been arranged via Royal Blue Line, to be run at frequent intervals from New York and Philadelphia to Washington. The next excursion will be on April 6. For programme, describing these tours, write to Thomas Cook & Son, Agents B. & O. R. R., 261 and 1225 Broadway, New York, or 332 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

Entirely Satisfactory.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes.

"JUDGE BUILDING,
Cor. 5th ave. and Sixteenth st.,
NEW YORK, January 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will sure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

Want a Gallery Now.

Pastor Richardson's church officers say: "We are greatly encouraged by our increasing congregations. When the fact is considered, we have just experienced the most severe winter season in nineteen years, and walking has been all but desirable. Notwithstanding this, the attendance at all the services have steadily grown, particularly at the evening services.

"Pastor Richardson's course of sermons to the 'Young Men and Women of Tomorrow', were forcible, instructive and instrumental in bringing many young people to attend the services of the Lord's house.

"We look forward to the time when additional accommodation in seating capacity must be provided. A gallery at the rear of the church would meet the occasion, and enhance the attractions of the interior of our house of worship."

The children's health must not be neglected. Cold in the head causes catarrh. Ely's Cream Balm cures at once. It is perfectly safe and is easily applied into the nostrils. The worst cases yield to it. Price 50c.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am now perfectly cured. E. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

SPRING NEEDS!

In Considering Your Wants Do Not Forget This.

If You Do You Will Make a Serious Mistake at This Season.

Something of Deep and Peculiar Interest Just Now.

There are many needs during the spring months, but none more necessary or urgent than the use of a spring medicine. The blood requires it and the nerves, liver kidneys and bowels must have it if you desire to keep strong and vigorous and maintain your good health. Those who are weak, tired and nervous must take it, and those who do not feel just right must do so, or serious ill health may follow.

Mrs. Charles Krueger, of 520 East 86th st., New York City, tells you what is by far the best remedy to take in the spring:

MRS. CHARLES KRUEGER.

"For several years I have been suffering from a complication of malaria, kidney and liver complaints, and dyspepsia in its worst form.

"I began taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy; I have used six bottles, and now feel entirely relieved of all my former complaints, and do cheerfully recommend it to anyone who may be afflicted with any of the above troubles."

Mrs. Jennie Anthony, who resides at 21 Green st., Lynn, Mass., says:

"I must tell what Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has done for me. I had terrible headaches for 30 years; at last they got so bad I felt that I should go insane and made my husband promise that he would not put me in an asylum; I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now I have no headaches, sleep and eat well, am not nervous my kidneys are healty and blood pure.

MRS. JENNIE ANTHONY.

"In short, I was saved from that terrible fate, insanity or prostration by this wonderful remedy."

You will see therefore, that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is just what you need to invigorate and enrich your blood, strengthen your nerves and get the liver, kidneys and bowels in a natural and healthy condition. It is purely vegetable and harmless and is for sale by druggists for $1. Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York, discovered it and he is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

TIPPED BY THE DRUMMERS.

Railroad Conductors Discharged for Letting Traveling Men Ride at Half Fare.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Six conductors of the New York Central railroad, five of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg and two of the West Shore have been summarily discharged by the managements of the roads for alleged fraud.

Detectives were employed to watch the conductors who were suspected of receiving money from commercial travelers for allowing them to ride at half fare. The detectives assumed the role of drummers themselves and secured the confidence of other drummers who were in the conspiracy to cheat the railroad.

The names of a large number of drummers from the upper part of the State were secured, and other frequent travelers were also accused of being in the conspiracy. No New York city drummers have as yet been accused of being among those receiving favors from the discharged conductors.

Miss Day Arrives at Oregon.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 25.—Miss E. Day of Portland, Ore., the young woman who is racing around the United States against Miss Bessie Mitchell of Chicago, passed through here last evening on an east-bound Northern Pacific train, enroute to Chicago. She is hopeful, enthusiastic, and expects to reach Chicago Monday at 10 o'clock and to leave ten minutes later.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Antonio Sivori, the oldest Italian citizen of New York, is dead of paralysis, after an illness of five years.

—The Lincoln National bank, of Pittsburg, capital $200,000, has been authorized by the government to begin business.

—A dinner was given last night in New York to Thomas Bailey Aldrich, the author. Many well known men were present.

—It is reported that the German steamer Gluckauf, which left Stettin March 4 for New York, is ashore on Blue Point, Fire Island.

—The Intercolonial Postal Conference at Brisbane has agreed to a resolution to establish a Pacific cable between Australia and Vancouver.

—It is stated at the Treasury Department that the probable shipment of gold by steamer from New York next Tuesday will not exceed $300,000.

—By a premature explosion in the Flay mine at Lake City, Col., John McCarthy and Peter Sance were both instantly killed. The bodies were terribly mangled.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Senators Do Not Want a Protracted Fight.

INSIST ON FOLLOWING PRECEDENTS

E. C. Graves Will Probably be Appointed Treasurer—A Business Man for Commissioner of Pensions, No Politician—Capt. Wilise Calls on Secretary Herbert.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The indications at present do not point to a protracted fight in the Senate over the reorganization of the elective officers. If the statements of some Democratic Senators can be taken as an index to their feelings on the subject, they will capitulate without much of a struggle.

There appears not to be a consuming desire to enter into any protracted debate that will prolong the present extra session beyond the time when the President will have notified the Senate that he has no further communication to make, and certain well known Senators have said that they intend to leave the city, regardless of the fact whether there was any reorganization or not.

The Republicans say they will insist upon a strict following of the precedents, and if they have the strength to stand up for that resolution it looks as if they will be able to force the Democrats to hold off until the commencement of the regular session next December.

Senators on both sides of the Chamber are preparing to leave the city, and it is not unlikely that immediately after the decision of the contested election cases there will not be a quorum of Senators in town.

A rumor apparently well founded is current in the Treasury Department that the President has decided to appoint E. C. Graves, now of Seattle, Wash., and formerly of New York, United States Treasurer. Mr. Graves was the chief of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Mr. Cleveland's first administration, and was before that Assistant Treasurer under President Arthur.

WHO WILL HE BE?

President Cleveland's Views on a Man for the Pension Office.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Mr. Cleveland saw few visitors yesterday, the regular Cabinet meeting interfering.

To one of the callers, Representative Enloe of Tennessee, he made the important statement that he would appoint "no demagogic politician" to be Commissioner of Pensions. It is inferred from this significant announcement that the President will appoint to the office of Commissioner of Pensions a man more closely connected with business than with politics. In fact he has expressed his intention to divorce the office from politics and to select a commissioner who will conduct it purely on business principles.

A number of names for appointment to the commissionership have been presented to Mr. Cleveland and it is said he was proceeding warily in the hope of selecting a man who can keep his skirts clear of the unpleasant notoriety which has come to that office in recent years.

The resignation of Representative McCreary as a member of the International Monastery Conference and the doubts raised as to whether the President will appoint new commissioners to represent the United States brought Senator John Sherman and Senator Teller, holding opposing views on the silver question, to the White House this morning. They had a talk with Mr. Cleveland on the selection of a new commissioner.

Besieged by Reporters.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Captain Wiltse, who commanded the cruiser Boston during the Hawaiian trouble, called on Secretary Herbert yesterday. He refused to talk about his conference with the Secretary, stating only that he had been besieged by reporters in San Francisco, Chicago and New York relative to affairs in Hawaii and that he had nothing to say.

Thought to be Redwine's Accomplice.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 25.—Considerable excitement here is manifested over the arrest of Mrs. Jeannette Hammond, who is supposed to be implicated as an accomplice with Lewis Redwine, the defaulting cashier of the Gate City National Bank. The officers intimate that the woman is supposed to have something like $35,000 of the missing money. Hammond is a divorced woman, who has figured in several sensations.

Skull Crushed by a Falling Brick.

CHICAGO, March 25.—W. F. Weed, owner of a portion of both the Northwestern Druggist and the Chicago Graphic, was instantly killed by a falling brick last evening. He was passing a building in which extensive alterations are being made by the Western Union Telegraph company, when a brick was dropped from the tenth story by a workman. It struck Mr. Weed squarely on the head crushing his skull.

Counterfeiters Plead Guilty.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Joseph A. Walters, Henry Hertz and William Brown, who were arrested Wednesday night for making and passing counterfeit 50-cent pieces, have pleaded guilty and are held for the grand jury. The Baumann woman, who lived with Walters in Brooklyn and who was arrested with them, was discharged.

Slipped in the Dock and Drowned.

UTICA, N. Y., March 25.—Henry M. Hayes, a mill owner and prominent business man of Constable, slipped from the dock back of one of his mills yesterday and was drowned. He was 40 years old and a member of the firm of Duggett, Hayes & Co.

High Wind in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Fifty miles an hour was the record of the wind in Chicago yesterday. A more serious matter to the railroads was the disturbance to traffic resulting from snow and excessive rains. Mails on nearly every road were from two to five hours late.

Cambridge Wins This Time.

LONDON, March 25.—The 23d annual chess team match between Oxford and Cambridge was played in London yesterday and was won by Cambride, 6 games to 1. Cambridge has now won 15 and Oxford 6 matches, and 1, in 1884, was drawn.

First Legal Hanging in 40 Years.

MARTINSVILLE, Ia., March 25.—Lewis Michel, colored, was hanged here yesterday, the first legal hanging which has taken place here in 40 years. He made a speech from the gallows protesting his innocence.

Barbano Gives Himself Up.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Louis Barbano, the Italian, who shot his young wife accidentally at their home, came to the district-attorney's office, in company with his counsel, and surrendered himself. Barbano was taken to the coroner's office and remanded to the Tombs, where he is at present locked up.

Shot His Stepfather.

ALBANY, March 25.—Daniel Hurley of East Albany shot his stepfather through the head last night. The bullet entered just back of the ear and came out in the forehead. The act was the result of a series of quarrels between them. The man will probably recover. Hurley is under arrest.

FASTEST ARMORED SHIP

The Cruiser New York Wins That Proud Title.

RESULT OF HER PRELIMINARY TRIAL

A Great Record Made by the New Addition to the Navy—Detailed Report of the Trial—Only One Exciting Incident—She Will be Ready for the Official Test by the Government Within Three Weeks.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—With the proud distinction of having broken the record of all preliminary trials, and the satisfaction of being the fastest armored vessel in the world, the cruiser New York has returned to Cramp's ship yard. From the hour she steamed down the Delaware until her return, naval experts have awaited with deep interest the result of the great war ship's initial performance.

Despite heavy rain squalls and a biting wind from the southeast, fully 5,000 patriotic Philadelphians were present to wish the the war ship Godspeed as she backed out into the stream and stood down the river on her trial trip.

The New York was headed up the stream which at this point is only a trifle wider than the war ship herself. A strong ebb tide was running and the wind blowing half a gale.

To turn around in this narrow space was a difficulty, if not impossible undertaking, and a $3,000,000 ship was not a toy to be played with. As soon as the moving lines were cast adrift, however, Captain Chambers, an old Delaware river pilot, who has handled all of the Cramp ships, directed the tug Newcastle to make fast to a steel hawser which was let out from the starboard quarter. Though the powerful little boat steamed away at full speed, she had no perceptible effect upon the heavy warship, in fact, was herself towed bodily astern.

Another tug, the Frederick K. Munn, was then given a line from the port bow, so with one at each end of the lever, the New York was turned short around and headed down the Delaware.

The run down the river and bay was made with fires half banked and under natural draught.

The maximum pressure of steam carried was 120 pounds to the square inch. Starting with 45 revolutions, a speed of 10 knots was attained and held until Greenwich Point was well abaft the beam.

After this the new vessel seemed to warm up to her work, the throttle was thrown open, 93 revolutions reached, and the speed increased to 17.5 knots.

This made it rather uncomfortable for the figures of Liberty and Justice on each side of the stem as they were deluged with cold spray from head to foot. The vessel seemed to glide through the water as noiselessly as a yacht, however, and there was scarcely any vibration throughout the ship.

At the end of an hour's run the steward came aft in a great state of excitement and reported the compartment in which his provisions were stored ankle deep in sea water.

Careful examination of the forward part of the vessel revealed the fact that the water had been forced in through the forward torpedo tube.

At anchor, this opening is a few feet above the water line, but at a high rate of speed it is almost completely buried in the sea.

Constructor Nixon placed a watertight buckler over it in place of the temporary one, and the leak gave no further trouble.

The question now arose as to how the compartment could be quickly emptied, for sea water and mess stores are not the most agreeable shipmates. Nixon cut the Gordian knot by having a small hole drilled through the steel deck. This drained the compartment into another on the deck below—one that could not be injured by the introduction of a small amount of water.

Wednesday was cold and damp with a fresh breeze from the northeast. At 8 o'clock the cruiser got under way for the purpose of correcting her compasses and adjusting the compensating magnets. This accomplished, the vessel returned to her anchorage to wait for good weather to begin her trial.

By Thursday morning the wind had hauled to the westward and the weather was clear. Fires were lighted at daylight and before 6 o'clock the New York was under way running for the Five Fathom Bank lightship. The race was to be between this and the Northeast End lightship, a distance of 9.88 nautical miles, the depth of water being 12 fathoms. The following table tells the story of the two trials:

Five Fathom Bank lightship to Northeast End lightship, course north by east, distance 9.88 nautical miles. Starting, 8:24:15; finish 8:38:53; difference 29 minutes 38 seconds; speed 19.97 nautical miles; average for the two trials 19.95 miles. In the afternoon, the cruiser was headed to the eastward in search of deeper water. In a run of four consecutive hours, she maintained a speed of 20.38 knots per hour, reaching as high as 20.57 as the water deepened.

With these satisfactory results, the New York steamed back to the ship yard. She will be ready for her official trial within three weeks.

Women Will Play an Important Part in Kansas Municipal Elections.

TOPEKA, March 27.—Women will play very important part in the municipal ections all over Kansas April 4.

Reports from the different cities show that the registration is remarkable for the heavy registration of women.

Thousands of them are now qualified and ready to vote.

In Kansas City the women have shown an unprecedented interest in municipal politics, and this vote will be a large factor in the election.

Killed Over a Game of "Craps."

PITTSBURG, March 27.—A number of non-union coal miners employed at the Snowden mines on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad quarreled over a game of "craps," and James Totten shot and almost instantly killed Roland Parks. The murderer made his escape. A negro named Duffy, who loaned Totten his revolver, has been arrested as an accessory to the murder

AFTER HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Mutell Follows Her Erring Spouse to the West.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 27.—The domestic upheaval in the Mutell family, caused by the desertion of his wife by Charles W. Mutell, who attracted much public comment by his attentions to Miss Lela Wolston, the pretty alto singer of the choir of the Church of the Unity, and who was driven by Mrs. Mutell from her house, where she boarded, is still an exciting topic among the members of the church.

Mr. Mutell has long been treasurer and manager of the Mutell Manufacturing company, a concern dealing in secret society regalia.

For a year past Mutell's attentions to the fair singer have aroused public comment, particularly during the summer absence of Mrs. Mutell and daughters at Squirrel Island. Two weeks ago Mrs. Mutell drove Miss Wolston from her house. The wife then carried her grievance into church, causing Miss Wolston to leave the choir and return to her home in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mutell resigned as president of the Odd Fellows' Mutual Relief Association of the Connecticut valley and started on a Western business trip. A week later he shipped his samples home from Chicago and wrote that he never intended to return, giving his wife power of attorney to sell his share in the Regalia company.

Mrs. Mutell promptly started in quest of her husband and is now supposed to be in Michigan.

Mutell leaves a small indebtedness, but all tangible property is now in his wife's name. Both have been prominent in charitable work. Mrs. Mutell being secretary of the Children's Aid society. One daughter recently married Powers Norris, jr., of Boston. The other is unmarried and is lef alone.

REMARKABLE OPERATION.

Surgeons Remove a 180-Pound Tumor from a Woman.

PITTSBURG, March 27.—One of the most remarkable surgical operations on record was performed at the Allegheny General hospital by which a tumor weighing 120 pounds was removed from the body of a female patient.

The operation was performed by Dr. W. S. Sutton, of Allegheny, and several assistants and was witnessed by a large number of medical men.

The doctors will not reveal the name of the patient, but the woman was brought to the hospital last Wednesday, and as she could not have lived much longer, an operation was decided upon and carried.

The length of time taken to remove the tumor was 45 minutes. There is some hopes of the woman's recovery.

The largest tumor on record before was one weighing 112 pounds, removed from a dead body in Edinburgh, Scotland.

CAN NEVER PREACH AGAIN.

Rev. Mr. Ball Receives Notice of His Approaching Death Tranquilly.

BALTIMORE, March 27.—Rev. Wayland D. Ball has been informed by his physicians, who are eminent in their profession, that he can never again enter his pulpit. The reverend gentleman received this notice of approaching death in a very tranquil spirit.

He was prostrated while preaching some weeks ago. His physicians after a time decided that an operation was necessary and it was performed.

When the knife had opened the abdominal cavity it was found that a fibroid growth was encircling the bowels and that to attempt to remove it would mean almost immediate death. At that time the tumor was nearly as large as a man's head, and it has continued to grow.

He is 40 years of age. He has been pastor for 12 years of the Associate Reformed church.

COL. SHEPARD'S FUNERAL.

Ceremonies To-morrow Morning—Interterment on Staten Island.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The funeral of Col. Elliots F. Shepard will take place tomorrow.

The interment will be at the Moravian cemetery on Staten Island. The body has been embalmed.

A death mask of the Colonel has been taken by a prominent sculptor.

New York City's Health.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The report prepared by John T. Nagle, Chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, shows that during the past week there have been 1,135 deaths, against 1,100 the preceding week. There were 16 deaths from grip; last week there were 11. The deaths from pneumonia numbered 263; from bronchitis 58; from consumption 121; from diphtheria 15, and from whooping cough 20. There is nothing in the number of deaths from bronchial troubles to show that grip has become epidemic. The typhus fever record for the week was 10 cases and 7 deaths.

Striking Miners Giving In.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 27.—Breaks in the ranks of the striking miners are reported, and unless the miners succeed in inducing the miners to come out again, there will be a general resumption by the middle of this week. The men employed by Watson, Jones, Hilldale and other operators have decided to go back at the three cent rate. No concessions were made by the operators.

International Socialist Congress.

BRUSSELS, March 27.—Socialist delegates from Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, England, Switzerland, France and Italy, at a meeting in this city, have decided that the International Socialist congress in Zurich shall begin Aug. 6 next and last one week.

Chief Clerk of the Census Bureau.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A. F. Childs, the Chief Clerk of the Census Bureau, has resigned and Mr. J. H. Wardle, the present Assistant Chief Clerk, has been promoted to the vacancy.

MIKE KELLY "SINGS."

Makes His Appearance at a Chicago Theatre and is Unmercifully Guyed.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Mike Kelly, the baseball player, made his first appearance on the local stage last night.

He appeared at the Madison Street Opera house and did a turn which, according to the printed programme, was the singing of a song.

Kelly is not built for singing and his audience lost no time in telling him the truth about himself in a good-natured way.

Kelly took everything pleasantly and "sang" again, winding up his performance with "Casey at the Bat."

He was unmercifully guyed, but every body was in good nature on and off the stage.

COL. PEYTON'S LATEST.

Wants to Celebrate the 19th Centennial of the Birth of Christ in Jerusalem.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—Col. Peyton Haddenfield, N. J., the father of centennials in this country, is working to develop another centennial.

The colonel now proposes to celebrate the 19th centennial of the birth and death of Christ, several years hence—during the year A. D. 1900—in the city of Jerusalem.

New Orleans Street Car Strike.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—The street car strike on the Carrollton line has fizzled out completely to-day. As the cars were running without interruption and the Union men saw that they were being shut out, the strike was declared off. When the men applied for their old jobs only those who had formerly been mule drivers were taken back.

Ferry's Successor.

PARIS, March 27.—The Senators who belong to the Left held a caucus for the selection of a candidate for the Presidency of the Senate in place of the late Jules Ferry. Three ballots were taken resulting in the selection of M. Challemel-Lacour, Senator from Bouches-due-Rhone, and newly elected member of the French Academy, as the candidate of the Left for Presidency.

Royal Reception to the Transport Eridino.

PORTLAND, Me., March 27.—The city of Portland is to give the Italian royal transport Eridino a royal reception when she enters the harbor on Wednesday. She comes direct from Italy and has on board the Italian exhibits for the World's Fair. The city government has appointed a committee to arrange for the reception.

McAuliffe to Meet Leeds.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—Jack McAuliffe, the champion light weight, will meet Horace Leeds, of Atlantic City, N. J., the champion amateur light-weight boxer of America, in a four round bout at the Academy of Music next Saturday night.

Approval of Manhood Suffrage.

ANTWERP, March 27.—The unofficial referendum has resulted in the approval of manhood suffrage by 18,794 of the 19,701 men who voted. Forty-three per cent. of the electors went to the polls.

The Salary Too Small.

BRIDGPORT, Conn., March 27.—John McMohon, the baseball catcher, refuses to sign a contract with the New York Club, because the salary offered is too small.

Oswald Ottendorfer Out of Danger.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The condition of Mr. Oswald Ottendorfer is reported to be so much improved that he is considered out of danger.

Julia Force May Die.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 27.—Miss Julia Force, who killed her two sisters and has since been confined in jail here, is reported ill and it is feared she may die.

Coal Combine Case.

ST. PAUL, March 27.—Two prosecutions will be begun at once against the parties charged with engineering the coal combine.

Volcano in Eruption.

CITY OF MEXICO, March 27.—The volcano of San Martin is now in a eruption after being extinct for more than a century.

Satolli Speaks in England.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—For the first time in his life Monsignor Satolli delivered an address in English.

Liberty Bell to Go to the Fair.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—It has been decided by the Councilmanic World's Fair sub-Committee that the Liberty Bell, the ringing of which proclaimed the independence of the thirteen original States, shall be taken to Chicago, the date of departure from this city being fixed for April 18. The bell will be transported in a special car and four stalwart policemen will go along as its special custodians.

Lincoln's Successor Not considered.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—In reference to the reported rumor that ex-Secretary Whitney had been appointed ambassador to Great Britain, it is stated on unquestionable authority that neither Mr. Whitney nor any other man has been selected for the position. It is asserted positively on the same authority that the matter of appointing a successor to Mr. Lincoln has not been considered.

Blondin Has Incipient Paralysis.

PARIS, March 27.—M. Blondin, sentenced to two years' imprisonment for having conducted the negotiations for the bribery of M. Baihaut by Charles de Lesseps, is suffering from incipient paralysis. His physicians say that imprisonment will kill him, and urge that he be sent to a private asylum.

Berardi Pronounced Insane.

ROME, March 27.—Two physicians have examined Berardi, who threw a stone at King Humbert, and pronounce him insane.

TO MEET IN SEPTEMBER

Mr. Cleveland to Call an Extra Session of Congress.

HIS FIRST FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Secretary Carlisle to Furnish Data for a Tariff Bill—Consideration of the Repeal of the Sherman Silver Act—Senatorial Forecast for This Week—Other News of Interest from Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 27. — President Cleveland has finally made up his mind to call an extra session of Congress next September. He has made this statement to several prominent members of both Houses of Congress.

This course has been believed to be the one most likely to be pursued by him, but the formal announcement has not heretofore been had.

As a consequence the politicians are arranging all their plans with a view to coming back to Washington for a long siege with the tariff and other perplexing problems, beginning some time in next September.

The first work that will come before Congress will be the consideration of a tariff bill and a bill to repeal the Sherman Silver Purchase act.

Secretary Carlisle will soon be engaged in the work of drafting a Tariff bill for submission to the Committee of Ways and Means when Congress convenes.

Some indignation was displayed by the Democrats when it was suggested that the administration would present a tariff bill.

Secretary Carlisle has subdued this rancorous feeling by explaining that he would only submit the necessary data for a tariff bill.

SENATE FORECAST.

Rights of Governors to Appoint Senators to be Discussed at Length.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The indications are that this week the Senate will undertake the discussion and perhaps the decision of one of the most important constitutional questions that have arisen in that body in late years, namely, the right of a Governor of a State to fill a vacancy in the United States Senate which occurred while the Legislature of the State was in session.

The report of the two factions of the committee will be presented, and as the disposition is, when once these cases are before the Senate, to push them to a conclusion as rapidly as is consistent with the proper expression of the views of all Senators who have examined the questions involved and desire to make their sentiments known, it is probable that instead of taking a three days' recess the Senate will sit almost daily.

The unknown quantity in the calculation of the week's work is the disposition of the leaders on either side touching the matter of reorganization.

It is expected that the Democrats, through Mr. Gorman, will present the caucus nominations for Senatorial offices tomorrow or next day, and if a serious controversy threatens to follow the matter may be brought before the public through proceedings in open session.

THE SENATE JEALOUS.

Ministers Promoted in Rank to Ambassadors Must Be Reconfirmed.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senators at the Capitol are a unit in the belief that if the President sees fit to promote United States Ministers to the rank of Embassadors, as he will be autorized to do in the case of our representatives to such powers as send Ambassadors here, such promotion will amount to a new appointment and must be subjected to the approval of the Senate.

The Senate is very jealous of its authority and the notifications to the State Department by Sir Julian Pauncefote and Patenotre that their credentials as Embassadors from Great Britain and France respectly are on the way here have caused the subject to be discussed pretty generally.

From the statements of Senators it is judged that they will consider any promotions of existing officials as new nominations and will act upon them as if the names had never been before the Senate.

The Constitution, they hold, makes a distinction between Ministers and Ambassadors and prohibits the apointment of either without the consent of the Senate.

SPAIN'S OFFER.

Will Give Us the Reproduction of the Flagship of Columbus.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The government of Spain, through the State Department, has officially tendered to thd United States as a gift the reproduced flagship of Columbus, the Santa Maria, now somewhere in the Gulf of Mexico en route to this country to participate in the naval review and form a part of the Spanish exhibit at Chicago.

The ceremonies of presentation will take place on some date to be named hereafter, near the close of the World's Fair.

It is the intention to bring the Santa Maria to Washington for permanent exhibition.

Judge Morse Goes to Glasgow.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Judge Allen B. Morse, a one-armed veteran of Michigan, is to be appointed consul to Glasgow, Scotland. The emoluments aggregate $12,000 a year. He was the Democratic candidate of Michigan and a candidate for the Vice-Presidential nomination at Chicago last year. He served a term on the Supreme Court of Michigan, defeating Judge Cooley, the eminent jurist.

Increase in Trade With South America.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—One result of the efforts to increase trade with the countries of South and Central America seems to be the increase in the exportation of American agricultural implements. Figures at hand in the Bureau of American Republics as to one country, the Argentine Republic, alone show an increase from $327,000 to $1,381,000 during the year.

Newark and Bennington at Fort Monroe.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Rear-Admiral Benham, with the flagship Newark and the gunboat Bennington, have arrived from Havana. They go to Norfolk this afternoon for coal and repairs.

To Inquire into His Sanity.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A writ for an inquiry into the sanity of Col. Wm. B. Remy, ex-Judge Advocate General of the Navy, has been signed by Judge Cox. The writ was suspended for the time being.

WORLD'S FAIR RATES SETTLED.

Presidents of the Chicago Roads Took Matters in Their Own Hands.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The presidents of all the Chicago roads have settled on the World's Fair rates. The matter was ostensibly left in the hands of the special committee of the Western Passenger Association which was to report at the next meeting of the association, but the presidents took matters into their own hands, settled the rates, and will hand their conclusions over to the passenger agents, who will approve them, and they will then be formally adopted as the regular rates to the exposition.

It is not definitely known just what rate will be adopted, but it will either be one and one-third or one and one-half, with the probabilities in favor of the former.

The presidents have been compelled to take the question into their own hands because of the impending danger of a general demoralization of passenger rates which would have been the legitimate outcome of a delayed decision on the subject. Many of the roads were quietly preparing to handle excursions at their own figures, and it would have been only a short time before there would have been a general scramble for business which the presidents were afraid would bring rates too low for profits.

SELECTING HIS COMPANIONS.

Four Members of the Peary North Greenland Expedition Chosen.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—It is learned from private resources that four members of the Peary expedition to North Greeland had been chosen. They are Dr. F. A. Cook of New York city; Samuel W. Entrikin, of West Chester, Pa.; Eyvand Astrup, now at Christiana, Norway, and Matthew Henson, of Philadelphia.

All of the four men have visited Greenland before, three of them—Cook, Astrup and Henson—accompanied Peary's North Greenland expedition of 1891; while Entrikin was a member of the Peary Relief Expedition of last Summer.

It is the intention of the explorer to take at least three and perhaps five companions with him on his next journey across the Island icecap.

These will be divided into two parties one of which will survey the northeast coast and the other accompany Peary in an attempt to decline the land masses north of the coast and if conditions are favorable to reach the Polar Sea over the frozen ocean.

THE LEATHER TRUST.

All the Large Tanners to Become Members.

BOSTON, March 27.—The officers of the much-talked of Leather Trust, will, it is said, be Thomas E. Proctor of Boston, President; Edward R. Ladew of New York, Vice-President; Josiah T. Tubby of New York, Secretary, and James R. Plum of New York, Treasurer.

The United States Leather company will be the name of the corporation. It has not been definitely settled as to whether they shall incorporate in New York, New Jersey or Massachusetts. The laws of New Jersey are thought to be the most favorable for corporations, and the company will probably be incorporated there.

The company will be capitalized at a sum not much less than $50,000,000. It is said, although that is still a matter to be determined. All the large tanners of the East and a few from the West will belong to the company, which will control at least 75 per cent of the sole leather manufactured.

THE BEHRING SEA QUESTION.

Papers on the Seal Controversy to be Published This Week.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The compact of secrecy between the United States and Great Britain regarding the cases, counter-cases and arguments in the Behring Sea arbitration, having expired by limitation, all the documents will be sent simultaneously to the Senate of the United States and the Parliament of Great Britain about the middle of the week.

The matter will include a preliminary report of the Behring Sea Commissions appointed by each government in support of its claims, the counter-cases, arguments of counsel thereon and appendices to the argument.

There are also two portfolios of maps and sketches. The whole will form a publication of six or eight volumes.

REWARDS OFFERED.

Milwaukee City and Business Houses After Incendiaries.

MILWAUKEE, March 27.—Mayor Somers has issued a proclaimation offering a reward of $2,500 for evidence that will convict any party or parties of incendiarism in the city of Milwaukee during the next 30 days.

The firms that have suffered from fires the past 10 days also offer a reward of $1,000.

The entire police department is on the lookout for the fire bugs, a good description of whom was secured as two fires yesterday

Mrs. S. W. White

Tells of a family blessing.

Thus she writes to Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for 10 years with female complaints of the worst form, accompanied by severe spinal trouble, causing incessant backache, weakness of the stomach, and nervousness.

MRS. S. W. WHITE

"I gave up all hope of ever being well again. Just then I began to take:—

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I followed your directions and treatment until I am now a perfectly well woman.

"I gave it to my two daughters, aged 14 and 16 years, and they are fine, healthy girls.

"It is surely a blessing to our family."—816 Holly St., West Philadelphia, Pa.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair and Warmer To-Morrow.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Mrs. Mary T. Lathrop will speak in Plainfield, April 18.

—Go hear the Bradford trio in All Souls' church to-morrow night.

—The entertainment that was postponed last week will be given in the chapel at Washingtonville this evening.

—A regular communication of Anchor lodge, No. 149 F. & A. M., will be held in Masonic Hall to-morrow evening, at 7:45.

—Mrs. Gen. Daniel T. VanBuren, and family, will move into their beautiful Queen Anne home on Central avenue, this week.

—Leggett's soda-water fountain is supplied with the choicest of strawberry syrups, newly crushed from the fresh fruit.

—Charles B. Clifton has offered to build the Crescent League a new club-house at the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street.

—A Christian Endeavor consecration meeting will be held to-night at 8 in the lecture room of the Trinity Reformed church.

—Notices were read in nearly all the churches of Plainfield yesterday giving a general invitation to attend the union services to be held at Grace church Good Friday night.

—Among the other attractions in the window of Hallock & Davis, the West Front street haberdashers, is to be seen the handsome bowling trophy that the Crescent League did not get.

—A meeting for the organization of a Citizens' League against race-track gambling, and for further enrollment of members, will be held in the city council chamber, Thursday evening, at 8.

—A fractious horse threw a gentleman from Metuchen out in the road near the corner of Park avenue and Fourth street, Saturday afternoon at 4. A little girl who accompanied him managed to stay in the carriage.

—The Westfield Standard says: "Plainfield's crack whist team was 'done up' by Fanwood's team the other evening. But it made Messrs. Briggs, Bates, Kelb, Downer, Henry Kyte and Simpson work to win by one point."

—A fine picture of President Cleveland and his Cabinet adorns the wall of THE PRESS office, thanks to the courtesy of James Whelan of Stoutenburgh & Co. Those popular Newark clothiers are issuing the pictures to their patrons.

—Leidy, who was laid up for so many days with a strained back, during the winter, is almost afraid to play ball this summer, and may go home for a rest. Lever is anxious to secure his place in the Plainfield Amusement company's team.

—The meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon was very largely attended, and was addressed by Robert E. Speer of New York, Mr. Tsutsumi, a native of Japan, and Charles F. Powlison, secretary of the correspondence course of the Springfield training school for general secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.

—One of Plainfield's ladies who has been doing considerable shopping in New York remarked in Edsall's the other day that she was through going to New York now, as she declared that she had to pay just as much for her goods there as she did at Edsall's and then she had all her trouble and expense for nothing.

—Wallace V. Miller has made of his new cafe in Hotel Grenada a most attractive apartment. The furnishings are new and handsome, and the decorations highly artistic. Mr. Miller is a most enterprising boniface, and deserves his popularity. Patrons will find the Grenada a most desirable hotel, and the cafe likewise fully equipped.

—The Salvation Army will hold a special meeting to-morrow night. The meeting will be led by Adjt. and Mrs. Hunter, assisted by eighteen of the most talented officers of this district. A grand time is anticipated. There will be an enrollment of recruits. The music will be by Mr. Trumble from New York city. All are welcome.

Marvelous Plate Collections.

The plate collection in the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday morning, was $2,251. It was for foreign missions. The amount contributed last year in all was over $2 300, but to yesterday morning's collection is to be added whatever the Sunday-school collects and all contributions sent in up to next Friday by those absent from church.

The Sunday collections of pennies taken up in this school for the past year, not including whatever was given yesterday afternoon, amounted to $1,111.

Palm Sunday at St. Joseph's.

Palm Sunday was observed in the above church yesterday, with ceremonies befitting the occasion. In the evening the church was filled by a large congregation, to hear the Rev. Father Cushing preach. He delivered a very forcible sermon on "The Cross", and urged his hearers to particulary observe this (Holy Week), the most solemn of the penitential season. The congregations at this church are becoming larger every Sunday evening.

The Central's All Right.

(Elizabeth Journal.)

The death of John Taylor Johnston not only removes a man of large influence in the olden days, but recalls the early and most successful history of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. Under his management it was one of the best paying roads on this continent. But he made the mistake of allowing the Lehigh Valley road to be built, thus losing to the Central the enormous coal carrying trade, and from that day to this the road has had a varied experience.

WILLIBALD CAUGHT.

THE NEWSBOY THIEF SURRENDERS AND CONFESSES.

But Only to the Union News Embezzlement, Not the Railroad and Vail Robberies—Defied the Police to the Last—Had Squandered His Funds in Fast Living, and Was Reduced to Five Cents and a Bottle of Poison—On the Verge of Suicide, a Lawyer Saves Him—Kept His Love Letters from Pat.

Newsboy Freddie Willibald, who successfully played hide and seek with the star police of Plainfield, is at last a prisoner through no fault of the "finest". What the bluecoats could n't accomplish, lawyer George DeMeza did; and thanks to him the young fellow is no longer at large.

Young Willibald was employed at the Union News company branch in this city. The Plainfield agent entrusted him with funds to be put on the train and conveyed to the company's headquarters. He appropriated such funds to the amount of $68 and left town the same morning the North avenue station of the Jersey Central was robbed of $130. Suspicion of that robbery attached to him, as did also the theft of $135 from J. T. Vail's safe. Willibald soon reappeared in Plainfield, however, and was easily accessible to other people, though the police seemed not to be able to get their clutches on him.

Saturday night attorney DeMeza saw him and interested himself in the case. Willibald confessed to the embezzlement of the Union News funds, but emphatically denied all connection with the railroad and Vail robberies, in spite of the fact that the evidence against him is so strong. Mr. DeMeza advised him that the best thing he could do for his own peace of mind was to surrender himself and he as a lawyer would strive to have him treated as lightly as possible. Therefore Willibald was taken before justice Nash and committed for a hearing. He insisted on riding in a hack, "so that the police should n't nab him". The police were very sore to find that the very much "wanted" youth had been caught without their aid, but they said they would have captured him by Sunday morning anyway, on the evidence of PRESS carrier Hoffman. Hoffman had several times seen Willibald loitering about A. E. Hoagland's barn, always in early morning, evidently after having spent the night there.

When Willibald was talked to by Mr. DeMeza, he was in a great state of mind; in fact, on the verge of suicide. He said he felt great shame and remorse for the wrong he had done, and was sick of having the people he met look at him so queerly and point him out as a thief. He had not been able to sleep for two nights, and for 48 hours had not eaten a morsel. Only 5 cents remained of the stolen money. He had bought a new overcoat, and the rest had been squandered in bad company in Newark and New York. He had a list of questionable resorts in his pocket; also a bottle of laudanum, purchased in New Brunswick, and a farewell letter to his mother. In his desperate repentance he contemplated taking the poison. At his request, Mr. DeMeza took charge of a batch of letters from a girl whom he spoke of as sweetheart. He said, "Don't let Pat Lynch see those".

Mrs. Willibald was almost heartbroken at her son's confession. She says his head is not right, and that flights of insanity caused by epileptic fits are responsible for his misdoing.

HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY.

This afternoon before justice Nash Willibald waived a hearing and was held for the grand jury in default of $400 bail. Detective Morris of the Jersey Central is working up evidence against him on the station robbery case, and on that Willibald will be given a hearing Thursday afternoon at 2.

Funeral of John Taylor Johnston.

The funeral of John Taylor Johnston, who died Friday at his New York home, 8 Fifth avenue, was held at the Old Scotch Presbyterian church, West Fourteenth street, this morning at 10. The pall-bearers were John A. Weeks, George F. Betts, John S. Kennedy, William Paine, Henry G. Marquand, James R. Taylor and Gordon Norris. The Rev. Dr. William R. Richards of this city, assisted by the Rev. John C. Bliss of New York, conducted the services. The burial was in the family plot at Greenwood.

The council of the University of the City of New York met yesterday morning at the church to arrange to attend the funeral in a body. Mr. Johnston was for forty-seven years a member of the council, and for twelve years its president.

The officers of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, of which Mr. Johnston was for many years president, also attended the funeral.

Upon the entrance of the pall into the church, the organist, John White of the Church of the Ascension, played Chopin's Funeral March. While the mourners still filed into the church the quartette sang "I Heard a Voice from Heaven." Dr. Richards then read from the Scriptures, and the quartette sang the hymns "Just as I am, without One Plea" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." The Rev. Dr. Bliss made a brief address, in which he referred feelingly to his own personal relations with Mr. Johnston and extolled some of the salient features of the dead man's character. As the procession was leaving the church the quartette sang "Abide with Me."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

PARTICULAR MENTION

A. C. Vail of Madison avenue is very ill of the grip.

Miss May Waring, of Park avenue, will give a tea in Easter week.

David M. Moore's son, Horace, 18 years old, of East Fifth street, is ill with scarlet fever.

H. B Nichols and family left to-day for Boston, where their home will be 14 High street.

Miss Jennie Wolley of Newark spent Sunday with her cousins, the Clarke, at Washingtonville.

Mr. Wentworth of Philadelphia is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Foote, of Putnam avenue.

Charles Williams is out of the hospital again after several weeks' confinement with an injured foot.

Wm. T. Kirk of West Seventh street has broke away from the clutches of the grip and is out again.

It is reported that a play is in course of rehearsal, to be given by the Sub Rosa club in Easter week.

Hardy Wharton, brother of Clifton Wharton, jr., of Crescent avenue, left this morning for Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Mary Patten, daughter of the Rev. A. S. Patten formerly of Netherwood is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Love.

Very extensive additions and improvements, including a massive stone porch, are to be begun at once to ex-councilman Waring's home.

Harry Clifford VanEmburgh left town this morning for Whitson, N. Y., near Sing Sing, where he will engage in surveying for F. A. Dunham.

"Practical Suggestions on Observation" will be the subject of a very interesting talk to be given by John Dalziel at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Thursday evening of this week.

Maj. W. D. W. Miller of LaGrande avenue, who arranged the course of three war lectures for the Y. M. C. A., says that the course will net $500 for that institution.

Thomas Keller of the Plainfield Amusement company, was referee Saturday at the Berkeley Oval, where that swell club enjoyed a live-bird match between Brewer and Apgar.

The season for gardening and farming being at hand, A. M. Griffen is fully supplied at his store, 13 East Front street, with seeds, fertilizers and agricultural implements.

George W. Grant, though still suffering, is able to resume his place at the head of the police force, after a serious seige of the grip. It is hoped he may soon fully recover.

Ex-mayor John H. VanWinkle was at his law office for a few moments this morning, after an absence of ten days, caused by la grippe. He did not feel strong enough to remain, however, and again went home.

John Burke of Dunellen, a member of Winfield Scott Post, 73, G. A. R., died at the Soldiers' Home, Newark, Friday evening. The post meets to-morrow afternoon at 1:30 to attend at 2 o'clock his funeral at his late residence, Dunellen.

Mrs. Charles Hyde, of East Front street, who returned from Hot Springs, Ark., last week, much benefited by her stay, was called from home yesterday morning to the bedside of her son Frank, who is seriously ill with pneumonia at Titusville, Penn.

Augustus D. Shepard, of Scotch Plains, president of the American Bank Note company of New York, is also vice-president of the Mail and Express company, of which his brother, the late Elliott F. Shepard, was president. The death of Elliott F. leaves the charge of the paper in the hands of Augustus until the will of the former is read. As Elliott F. Shepard held a controlling interest in the Mail and Express, the reading of his will will determine the fate of that journal.

PLAINFIELD NOT IN IT.

Elizabeth's Young Men Capture the Bowling Trophy.

The Young Men of Elizabeth are the winners of the Journal trophy. They settled the tourney by beating the Field club last Friday night. They are thereby champion bowlers of Union county, and will bowl the N. J. A. C. for the State championship. Charlie Sauer of the Young Men is probably the winner of individual honors, having the highest average. The Elizabeth Young Men lost never a game of the series. Plainfield's Young Men and the Crescents are both far below them.

A Missionary's Appeal Answered With Cash.

Yesterday morning Robert Speer, of the Board of Foreign Missions, preached a most eloquent sermon at the Crescent Avenue church. The annual collection for foreign missions was taken up and amounted to $2,251, notwithstanding the fact that many prominent and wealthy members of the congregation were not able to be present. When all are heard from and the Sunday-school receipts are counted this sum will undoubtedly be much larger.

Mr. Speer is only 23 years old, but he is such a valuable acquisition to the Board of Foreign Missions that his engagements to preach on this particular subject fill every Sunday for the coming year.

PLAINFIELD PRIZES DESTROYED.

Mrs. Gavett and Mrs. Rankin Lose Their Rare Needlework Specimens That Were to Be Exhibited at the World's Fair.

By the great fire in Boston, the Barbour Brothers' company was a severe sufferer; and with that company 250 women in all parts of the country, the two leaders being Plainfielders, were involved. These women were successful competitors for the cash prizes, amounting to $3,000, given annually by this company for work made with Barbour's linen thread. This year's competition had been decided and the work of the successful ones was lying in the store of the company at 67 Lincoln street, Boston, when the fire destroyed these beautiful pieces of lace with the rest of the stock.

The loss these skillful women have sustained is irreparable. Patient months of skill and labor were spent on each piece of lace, and their handiwork was the finest collection this firm has ever had. Many of them were intended to be sent to the World's Fair. The competition is intended to show what can be done with the needle threaded with flax embroidery floss, and in the language of the report of the board of lady judges this little instrument "is no longer surpassed, even by the artist's brush, as a decorator. Indeed the varied colors were so harmoniously blended as to produce the effect of painting, in many instances". The prize series is divided into ten departments, in each of which prizes ranging from $5 to $50 are given. The competitors reside in nearly every State and Territory in this country and the Canadas, and it is a decided distinction to win a prize in this competition. The Plainfield women whose work was lost in the fire were: Department 5, first prize, Mrs. W. L. Gavett, 17 Sandford avenue; third prize, Mrs H. W. Rankin.

IS SO HEALTHFUL

That it should be used in every family at least once a week.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY EXTRACT OR TONIC,

For soda fountains, bars and the kitchen.

This is the Triple Extract of our famous Kalamazoo Celery, prepared directly from the plant, and not a mere flavor of the seed. It makes an elegant drink, when drawn from a soda fountain; cooling, delicious and beneficial, having the rich, nutty flavor of our celery. As a morning bracer it has no equal, is excellent for beef tea and celery, and a dash in a Manhattan makes life worth living. In the house it is indispensable, for making soups, ice creams and ices, celeryades, etc. Ask your grocer or druggist for it, take only the Kalamazoo brand, all others imitations.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE PELLETS.

These pellets are prepared directly from our famous Celery, and contain all of its well-known curative properties. They are invaluable as a household remedy. They are guaranteed to be purely vegetable and to be a sure specific for all cases of nervous prostration, headaches, impotency, insomnia, all stomach troubles, chronic constipation (the bane of the American people) and are positively the only Pellet that will not cure the system constipated. 25 cts. per package.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE AND TONIC

Our Nervine and Tonic is prepared directly from our famous Celery, and in connection with other herbs of well known valued medicinal qualities, forms without a doubt the best family medicine for the nerves, the stomach and blood. It is nature's own remedy for building up and restoring a run down or exhausted nervous system; as a spring tonic it has no equal. Ask your druggist for these preparations that come direct from nature's celery garden. Take no others. If you cannot get our preparations at your druggist, send 25 cents in stamps and we will mail you a package of the Nervine Pellets and one of our beautiful Embossed Celery Recipe Books free.

OWED TO SPRING.

[Written for THE PRESS by "A Reader".]

Ho! the merrie, merrie springtide
The Joker of the pack,
Dewgre, all ranks, prepare for pranks,
The spring is coming back.

Ah there April! 'Tis easy seen
Why winter's loath to leave her,
In that coy smile, we'll bask awhile,
And get la grippe, or fever.

She'll throw her dust into our eyes,
Turn we this way or that,
Her handmaid wind tiptoes behind,
And pouf—beheads our hat.

Now smiles Old Sol while nipping blasts,
Yclept mild zephyrs, blow;
Now balmy flowers coax timid flowers;
Anon they turn to snow.

In pensive mood we watch the lakes
And dream of seraph's wing—
Great Scott!—a slide, Thanks, Yes, I'll ride
You mad, bad, sad, glad spring!

I won't take off my furry wraps
For I've been here before;
My overshoes I still will use;
I'll be your dupe no more.

My swell umbrel, alas! keeps Lent
This slower one must do
My neckerchief I'll wear, in brief
I'm safe—Atchoo—a—Atchoo!

Ho! the berrie, berrie springtime
The Joker of the back.
All ranks beware, for branks brebare,
False spring is here, alack!

Dunellen Catholics Claim that 'Twas Misrepresentation for the W. C. T. U. and Jr. O. U. A. M. to Charge Them with Wanting to Secure Public School Trusteeship.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—If you would kindly spare me a little of your valuable space, I would like to state my views as an impartial observer of some recent events in our town.

By the published statements of the situation in Dunellen, in regard to the late school election, it would seem very evident that an American institution was in great danger of being wiped out. It was rumored that the Catholics of this place were to attempt to capture the election for trustee, which was to be held in a few days, and there is no doubt that in the vivid imagination of those Dunellenites who started the story a trainload of Jesuits were already on the way to subject them to lifelong servitude.

It shows how ridiculously absurd this whole affair must have been to a disinterested onlooker, when one is informed that of the inhabitants of this school district hardly two per cent. are Catholic; that they have always been very much pleased with the management of the public schools here, and to which they send their children; that they never at any time had a grievance or gave voice to one; that they did not think or speak of trying to elect one of their faith as a school trustee; in short, they were perfectly satisfied with the existing state of affairs.

Thanks to the eloquent zeal of one of our preachers, Paul Jones as a hobgoblin never caused the consternation in an English nursery that was raised in the manly breasts of our patriotic citizens by this handful of law-abiding Catholics.

On the night when this dreaded election was to take place, there assembled at the largest of the school-houses about three hundred of the good citizens of Dunellen and the sturdy farmers of the neighborhood, with their wives, their sisters and their aunts, to lend them encouragement not only with their smiles but with their votes in fighting the devil and the enemy of American institutions in the person of six peace-loving members of the Catholic church.

The meeting was called to order amid ominous silence. The nominations were made and the trustee elected, and strange to say unanimously, and with nothing dreadful happening.

The Pope with his horns and clever foot, as he is depicted by sixteenth century fanaticism, did not rise up in their midst, much to the surprise, no doubt, of the aforementioned eloquent preacher.

The Rev. A. E. Martine was the unanimously chosen trustee, and he has the respect and confidence of the entire community, including the six peace and liberty-loving Catholics. He is reported to sleep well and is not troubled by hobgoblins. He is also well up with his times and believes it is not Americanism to be terrified by the squeak of a mouse or to oppress the weak.

Thanking you for your kindness, I remain, AN IMPARTIAL OBSERVER.

"NEAF" APGAR'S CLEVER WORK.

The Plainfield Marksman's Creditable Showing Against Crack Shot Brewer.

Shooting contests at live birds were begun at Berkeley Oval Saturday under the auspices of the Oval Club, a new social and sporting organization, which has leased that fine property for the purposes of a country club. The shooting was merely an exhibition, but a remarkable one on the part of Captain John L. Brewer, the famous wing shot. Mr. Brewer had "Neaf" Apgar, of this city, a very promising shot, to oppose him in the exhibition. Each man sighted at fifty pigeons, and out of that number the Captain laid low just forty-nine. Under more favorable circumstances he would have killed every bird.

The Oval Club is made up of the Country Club set and others in the Four Hundred, and as its members intend to make pigeon shooting a feature this season they conceived the idea of inaugurating the sport with as fine an exhibition as possible. So they induced Captain Brewer to lend a hand, and with Mr. Apgar he gave an example of some very fine work with a shotgun.

The onlookers gave the Captain due measure of applause as he dropped difficult drivers, incomers and quarterers. The Captain was the first to face the traps, which, by the way, are situated in the northeast corner of the big athletic field.

BREWER'S DEADLY AIM.

Superintendent Murphy, to whom credit is due for the excellent arrangements for the shoot, had provided an average lot of birds, and to this fact is attributed Captain Brewer's single miss. If, as the crack shooter said, the birds had all been fast, then each man would have been keyed up for sharp work.

As it was the pigeons were not all alike as to liveliness, a fact which somewhat puzzled the cracks. Ten birds previous to the thirty-second, which the Captain missed, were either flutterers or slow drivers, easy victims of the Captain's deadly aim.

The thirty-second, aided by circumstances, got away. He was a dull slate colored bird, small and lively as a cricket. When the trap was sprung he hesitated a moment; then when the flag went up he started swift as a bullet, and drove directly ahead, low down. The sun shone directly in the Captain's face, and although he used both barrels he did n't check the flight of the bird in the least. After that the captain went on killing every bird with an easy grace that delighted the club men.

Young Apgar did remarkably well considering the fact that he had not previously shot at live birds for nearly six months. He was phenomenal with his first barrel.

At the conclusion of the shoot the members were so well pleased with captain Brewer's exhibition that he was engaged to take charge of all the club matches during the coming season. It was also announced that the club would back captain Brewer against any live bird shooter, the contest to take place on the Oval's grounds.

The scores follow:

Brewer—21211, 21212, 22211, 12222, 22222, 12122, 20212, 12112, 22112, 12222—49.

Apgar—12121, 21221, 11100, 21221, 11111, 10111, 11111, 21221, 12112, 12210—46.

	Killed.	Missed.	Singles.	Doubles.
Brewer	49	1	17	32
Apgar	46	4	31	15

Referee—T. H. Keller.
Scorer—Alan Sterne.
Modified Hurlingham rules governed the shooting.

IN MEMORY OF BROKAW, THE HERO.

The New Monument to the Brave Young Man to Be Completed by May 1.

The Brokaw Memorial Building, erected on the Brokaw Memorial Field, at Princeton College, as a tribute to the memory of Frederick Brokaw the popular young Plainfielder and Princeton student who was drowned June 24, 1891, while trying to rescue a drowning girl in the surf at Elberon, will be completed May 1.

The building will be one of the finest in the country. The plot of land on which it will stand was given by the college, and is 350x1,000 feet in dimensions. $10,000 has been spent in grading it.

The building will be in colonial style, of limestone and terra-cotta. The main part will be 30x80 feet, two stories and a half high, and will be occupied entirely for dressing-rooms. The part adjoining to the right will be 40x120 feet, and will contain a swimming pool 25x100 feet. The walk around the pool is on a level with the basement.

The main building will stand on a terrace fifteen feet high, and the basement will be approached through a passage on a level with the field.

Through the barrel-vaulted passage the main walk of the college will pass, and all rooms of the building will open on it. Besides private bathrooms, the building will contain 400 lockers and will be finished in hardwood throughout. It will be heated by steam and have every improvement in light and ventilation.

An octagonal copper cupola, supported by graceful stone columns, will surmount the whole, relieving any heaviness in appearance the general squareness might convey. In the main passage, within a niche, will stand the memorial tablet, given by the employes of Brokaw Bros. It will consist of a bronze casting placed upon a slab of Florentine marble, with a trident and a wooden life preserver at the top of the casting. Below will be the inscription:

Erected to the memory of Frederick Brokaw, who on the 24th day of June, 1891, so heroically sacrificed his life at Elberon, N. J., in the noble effort to save another. A tribute of respect and sympathy from those who had hoped to be associated with him.

The cost of the building will be over $50,000 and was given to Princeton College by the young man's father, Isaac V. Brokaw.

THAT'S RIGHT.

Mawkish Sentiment Has No Business to Interfere With the Due Process of Fact and Law.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March 23, 1893.

Editor CENTRAL HERALD:

My attention has been called to an article in the HERALD in which it is stated that "Pastor Schenck, a Plainfield minister presumably of the Gospel, went out of his way last Sunday to demand that Carlyle Harris should suffer death"; that "the pulpit is no place for such tirades", etc. Will you kindly allow me to add for the information of your readers that I did not demand that Carlyle Harris suffer death, that I did not deliver a tirade against the prisoner. The subject of the sermon was not Carlyle Harris but "The Problem of Murder in the United States". We sought to show that the increase of this crime is out of all proportion to the increase of population, and that the punishment for it, while crime is constantly increasing, is constantly decreasing. For example, in 1891 for the 5,906 known murders committed, there were tried by the law and executed 123 persons. In 1892 for the 6,791 murders committed 107 persons were tried by the law and executed.

In assigning the causes for this state of things I mentioned as a fourth one the sentimentalism which exists in favor of the man who kills, so that those who possess it waste all their sympathy on the criminal and have none for his innocent victim. Such people seem to pretend to think that the enforcement of all law is but the exercise of a tyranny which works oppression, when it seeks only to protect the innocent from the designs of the wicked and vicious. In illustration of the sentimentality of which I was speaking I said that "it was reported that a mass meeting was to be held in Cooper Union in behalf of Carlyle W. Harris; that it was proposed to settle at a mass meeting, by sentiment, what could only be settled in the courts by evidence". I then added, and do again add, "that such mass meeting would be inconsistent with propriety and decency." Both Mr. Howe and Mr. Harris saw the impropriety and abandoned the project. I affirmed neither the innocence nor the guilt of Mr. Harris. That I would not presume to determine; nor would I consent that it be settled at a mass meeting, nor yet by public clamor, prejudice or sentiment.

Accord the prisoner every privilege—give him every right which is his under the law. Let him say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him,—that is his right! Let appeal be made to the Governor—that is his privilege! But whatever is done, let it be done decently and in order, legally and not extra legally.

Respectfully,
CORNELIUS SCHENCK.

His Terrible Revenge.

"Now, confess, Harold Vere de Vere, [illegible] regarding the young woman with a stern, pitiless case, and have cast me aside. Mabel Featherbone, in order to get a rich widower, have you?"

"If you choose to speak of it in that coarse manner, Mr. Vere de Vere," she replied, raising her head and meeting his gaze haughtily, "I have, sir! I have promised to marry Mr. Wagonsellers."

Harold Vere de Vere crushed his hat down over his eyes and started for the door.

"Mabel Featherbone," he said, pausing with his hand on the door-knob, "you have thrown me over for a man with a bar'l! You will find he is not the only man with a bar'l. I have one at home filled with your love letters! I shall sell them to the ragman! Good evening!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Happy Suggestion.

Histrionic Aspirant—Now, my dear Mr. Scribble, won't you write me a play suitable to my attainments?

Scribble—Why, yes, Mrs. Holloway. Suppose I write a comedy in which you appear as an amateur actor? You could do that splendidly.—Puck.

Too Thirsty to Talk.

"I notice that your husband has never much to say in the morning when he has been out late at night," said the wife's mother.

"No," was the reply of the wife, "he's mum then, extra dry."—N. Y. Press.

My Best Girl.

Although she hates all woman's rights,
This funny fact remains—
When we go sleighing she delights
To always hold the reins.
—Judge.

Spectacular Tastes.

"Boston seems to be fond of ballets and other gorgeous shows; don't you think so?"

"I do, indeed. Why, even the girls wear spectacles."—Truth.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none gave me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

POTTER BREAKS SILENCE

The Millionaire Replies to the Charges Against Him.

DENIES THE DUNNIVANT STORY

Says He Had Nothing to Do With Putting the ex-Newsboy in Prison to Get Him Away from His Daughter—What He Has to Say Concerning His Connection With the Wards Estate.

CHICAGO, March 27.—O. W. Potter, the millionaire iron manufacturer, who was sued by Ernest Dunnivant, an ex-newsboy who claimed $100,000 because, as he alleges, Potter had him railroaded to the penitentiary to keep him away from Gertrude W. Potter, the daughter of the millionaire, has broken his silence on the case and addressed a letter to the press upon the subject. He also alludes to settlement of the Wards' estate at Detroit which he is alleged to have mismanaged. The letter is as follows:

"I am fully aware that the constant dropping of water will wear away a stone and with this in mind, in view of the constant publication in the newspapers of articles intended to damage my reputation, I write this letter and ask for its publication that I may not seem indifferent to my reputation or to the good opinion of my friends who are very dear to me.

"The Dunnivant suit which would have been tried before this but for the absence of the judge before whom it was set, is based upon the charge that I was guilty of causing an innocent boy to be sent to the penitentiary for four years. To this charge I give an unqualified denial.

"I had no connection, directly or indirectly, with his arrest, prosecution or conviction and am absolutely and entirely innocent of the charges made against me.

"The insinuations and statements so freely made that I caused Dunnivant's arrest in the case now pending before a police magistrate, seem too absurd to call for denial, but their continued repitition induces me to say that I did not cause his arrest and had no connection directly or indirectly with his arrest or confinement and did not know that he was in the city until I was charged with having spirited him away.

"On the first page of the morning papers is printed a full synopsis of a bill filed nearly a year ago in Detroit by certain of the legatees under Captain Wards' will. The charges made in this bill are not only maliciously false but my answer in detail to all of the charges is on file, yet not one word of the answer to the charges was printed in the papers.

"At the time of Captain Wards' death in 1875, practically all of his estate except that devised to his widow, was mortgaged or out of his possession as collateral to his notes. Nearly a million dollars of debts was proved against his estate, to pay which only about $1,000 was turned over to me in cash.

"His property had to be sold to pay his debts. The property was nearly all sold at public auction and, owing to the financial condition of the country and the character of the estate, the property brought much less than it was worth. I made reports of all my accounts as executor to the probate court every three months and the disposition of the estate by me was known at the time to the court, to the public and the parties interested.

"The estate was settled and I was discharged as executor nearly nine years ago and yet no complaint was ever made against me until the filing of this bill. Mr. Ashley Pond of Detroit was my attorney as executor and my acts as executor were done by his advice and under the direction of the probate court at Detroit.

"I have all of my books and vouchers still in my possession and there is not a single charge in the bill that I have not the data to disprove and to conclusively prove that the charges are made either through ignorance or malice.

"Captain Wards was the nearest friend I had in the world and it was this fact and the urgent solicitations of his sister that induced me against my wishes to become sole executor or administrator of his estate, which was practically insolvent at the date of his death. The details of the answer to the charges made are too voluminous to state in this letter but I will have a synopsis of the same prepared and furnished to you and I hope it may be as fully published by you as the charges have been.

"It was my desire and intention to meet the charges against me in the courts rather than to discuss them in the newspapers but I felt that a denial of the charges is due to my friends and the public.

"All I desire is an opportunity to present my proofs in open court and that in the meantime I may have fair treatment at the hands of the press. O. W. POTTER."

TO REMOVE DAVIS' REMAINS.

Gen. Glynn, of the U. C. V., to Have Entire Charge.

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—Mayor Ellyson, of Richmond, and General Glynn, of the United Confederate Veterans, and his staff have come to these conclusions respecting the removal of the remains of Jefferson Davis:

1—That all the details for the removal in New Orleans are left to the direction of Gen. Glynn as Commander of the Louisiana Division, U. C. V., and Gen. Glynn will name the escort to accompany the remains to Richmond.

2—Lee Camp Confederate Veterans, in Richmond, will make all arrangements at Richmond.

3—The Jefferson Davis monument association will select the route and arrange for transportation of remains and escort.

Massachusetts Man Murdered in Mexico.

WINCHESTER, Mass., March 27.—News has just been received of the murder of Henry Messenger of this place, in Mexico. The deceased was a paymaster in a mine. On pay day he had $1,200 in his possession. This money and a gold watch were taken by the murderer. Mr. Messenger is a son of Horation N. Messenger, who was mysteriously murdered several years ago.

Hallisey Confesses His Guilt.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Thomas Hallisey, who was recently convicted on circumstantial evidence of the murder of William McLaughlin on the night of August 1, 1891, and sentenced to life imprisonment in Sing Sing, has confessed his guilt to Assistant District Attorney J. F. McIntyre, who conducted the prosecution against Hallisey.

AN ORDINANCE

To Provide a New system of street numbers,

The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the several parcels of real estate fronting on the streets, lanes and alleys of the city of Plainfield shall be renumbered, and each of said parcels shall be known and designated by the number or numbers indicated on the official maps adopted by resolution of the Common Council February sixth, eighteen hundred and ninety three, on file with the city clerk, and entitled as follows: "Map of the city of Plainfield, Wards No. 1, and No. 2, showing new system of numbering, 1893." and "Maps of the city of Plainfield, Wards No. 3, and No. 4, showing new system of numbering, 1893," made by F. A. Dunham, C. E., and said maps are hereby adopted as the official maps of the city of Plainfield for the purpose of establishing street numbers.

Section 2. That the owner or owners of each and every dwelling house or store which now fronts upon any of the public streets, lanes or alleys of said city, shall within sixty days after this Ordinance goes into effect, cause the proper number of such dwelling house or store to be placed in figures in some substantial manner in some conspicuous place on the front part of such dwelling house or store, so as to be plainly visible from the sidewalk, and in default of compliance herewith, shall be liable to a penalty of five dollars for each and every offense.

Sec. 3. That the owner or owners of every dwelling house or store that may hereafter be erected within the limits of said city, shall, within thirty days after the completion thereof, cause the proper number of such dwelling house or store to be placed in figures in some substantial manner in some conspicuous place on the front part of such dwelling house or store so as to be plainly visible from the sidewalk, and in default of compliance herewith, shall be liable to a penalty of five dollars for each and every offense.

Sec. 4. That to enable the owner or owners of any parcel of real estate fronting on any of the streets, lanes or alleys of said city to ascertain the correct number thereof, it shall be the duty of the city clerk, upon application made to him, to furnish his certificate in writing giving the necessary information, to be derived from said official maps and said official maps shall also at all proper times be open to the inspection of the public at the office of the city clerk.

Sec. 5. That in case the owner of any lot or lots shall at any time desire the renumbering thereof he shall be at liberty to apply to the Common Council by petition, which petition shall be accompanied by a properly prepared map showing the changes desired, and clearly showing how the numbers for the entire block would stand in case such renumbering is ordered. The applicant shall present with his said petition, proof by affidavit that a copy of said petition together with notice of his intention to apply to the Common Council has been served upon all of the owners of property fronting on the said block or published in all the official papers of said city at least ten days prior to date of presentation of such petition, and thereupon the Common Council may in its discretion by resolution order said block to be renumbered in the manner specified in such application or in such other manner as they may deem best. In case the Common Council order any change in the numbering of said block, a map duly authenticated shall be filed with the city clerk showing the changes as made, and upon said map being so filed, the numbers designated thereon shall, as to the block in question, supercede those on the original maps referred to in this ordinance.

Sec. 6. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances, so far as they are consistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Adopted by the Common Council March 20, 1893.

Approved by the Mayor March 22, 1893.

GLADSTONE SUSTAINED

Balfour's Attempt to Secure a Vote of Censure Defeated.

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

The Grand Old Man and Secretary Morley Defend Their Irish Policy—The Liberal Leaders Discuss Their Position—Home Rule Bill to Have a Second Reading on April 6.

LONDON, March 28.—Mr. Balfour, leader of the Unionists spoke at length on his motion, of which he gave notice last Thursday that the Irish executive be censured for condoning serious offences and thus bringing the law into general contempt. He made his attack upon the government with exceptional vigor and evoked repeatedly loud cheers from the opposition benches.

The present deplorable state of affairs in Ireland, Mr. Balfour said, was largely the consequence of a compact between the government and the forces of disorder. The ministry had made with the Irish party an agreement by which the administration of the law was being defeated. The government had fomented outrages by suspending the Crimes Act, and had instigated crimes by the release of the dynamiters. The government had not hesitated to take steps which were in direct antagonism to the decisions of the courts.

He stated that the practice of boycotting had been revived in all its pristine ugliness and vigor, and that the government had taken no steps to protect the victims. These outrages could not be expected to cease before the Chief Secretary for Ireland should rally his courage, free himself from the trammels of his previous policy and use in the defense of the law the powers which parliament had entrusted to him.

In answering Mr. Balfour, Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, directed attention to the fact that the leading charge against the government, by Mr. Balfour was that they had a concordat with the Irish party. He would not deny that the present administration tried to govern Ireland in sympathy with the Irish people. If that was the heinous concordat, he would plead guilty to being party to it. As to the specific charge that he had refused police protection to those who enforced the law, he would say that he had declined to protect night seizures and he felt justified in this action. The law on the subject was far from clear and the highest authorities differed in their interruption of it.

Mr. Morely proved that under the present executive agrarian crime had decreased 11 per cent.

After a few uncomplimentary remarks by T. W. Russel, of Ulster and Smith-Barry, of South Huntingdon, Mr. Gladstone reproached the opposition with resorting to a license of language which they could not possibly justify with facts. He stated that he had as great a desire as any of his predecessors to preserve law and order in Ireland, and that the government had submitted mildness and clemency for coercion, and that the result had proved thus far successful.

Lord Randolph Churchill, after alluding to Mr. Gladstone's "fascinating eloquence," pronounced the proposed vote of censure to be more than justified by Mr. Morley's endeavor to hush up and conceal Irish crime from the knowledge of Parliament. He severely arraigned the Liberal party after which a division on Mr. Balfour's motion followed, which resulted in a majority of 47 for the government, the vote standing 317 to 272.

WILL ACT COMPACTLY.

Harmonious Meeting of the Liberal Leaders—Their Position Discussed.

LONDON, March 28.—A Liberal party meeting was held at the Foreign office under the Presidency of Premier Gladstone, to discuss the position of business and the course of the Liberals in Parliament.

It was proposed by Mr. Gladstone that the Irish Home Rule bill should be put on a second reading on April 6, and that the Home Rule bill should have precedence of all other business every day except Wednesdays, and also that the House should sit in the morning on Fridays.

Mr. Gladstone expressed a hope that the party would give the government all the aid in its power to expedite the Home Rule bill issue, and the Parish Council bill, and assist the government in fighting obstruction.

Mr. H. Labouchere, M. P., for Northampton, suggested that the Ministers as well as private members should curtail their speeches on the Home Rule question.

The Right Hon. William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that if the Liberal party only acted with prudence and according to proper rules of discipline, they would soon carry to a successful issue the glorious policy with which the nation had entrusted them.

The meeting was harmonious throughout, and a general purpose was shown to act compactly in support of Home Rule, and the other great Liberal issues.

President of the French Senate.

PARIS, March 28.—The Senate to-day elected M. Challemel-Lacour, the well-known statesman and writer and Senator from Bouches-du-Rhone, President of the Senate in place of Jules Ferry, deceased. The election is very satisfactory to President Carnot and the supporters of the government, and is all the more popular on account of the recent election of M. C. Challemel-Lacour to Renau's seat in the French Academy.

Second Destruction of a Church.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 28.—Elm Park Methodist Episcopal Church, partially destroyed by fire December 3 last, at a loss of $100,000, and which had been almost reconstructed, has again been burned. The structure is now a complete ruin, nothing standing of the walls but the tower. The estimated loss will reach fully $125,000, on which there is $30,000 insurance. Believed to be the work of an incendiary.

MRS CARSE REPLIES

Her Answer to the Attacks on Her Financial Management.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Mrs. Matilda D. Carse, whose energy and devotion made the magnificent Woman's Christian Temperance Union temple possible, has furnished the press a reply to the attacks on the financial management of the enterprise.

After detailing the persistent attempts of interested persons to discredit the project from its inception and answering the charges in detail, Mrs. Carse says in conclusion:

"The building does not yet belong to us in fee simple, nor did we in the last expect that it could so belong when we resolved five years ago that it should be built, but everything looks hopeful. The stock is already controlled by us, and we have ten years in which to raise the money which will enable us to call this splendid edifice all our own."

DARING BANK ROBBERY

Two Bold Outlaws Invade a Kansas Town.

SECURED ABOUT $4,000 IN CASH.

The Caney County Bank Officials Locked Up and the Vault Rifled—The Bandits Cooley Walz Out to Their Horses and Make Their Escape—A Posse in Pursuit but Thought to be on the Wrong Trail.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., March 28.—The Caney Valley Bank at Caney, Kansas was robbed late yesterday afternoon and $4,000 secured by the robbers.

The robbers were Henry Starr, who killed United States Marshal Floyd Wilson some weeks ago, and his pal. Ed Newcomb, both of them being half-breed Indian outlaws.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the outlaws rode into Caney from the south and dismounted, tying their horses about one hundred yards south of the bank. Unmarked they proceeded up the street and entered the bank, where they found Cashier P. S. Hollingsworth, Teller Harry A. Scurr, and M. McEnerey, a local customer of the bank.

With a "hands-up" ordered they captured the astonished inmates and marshalled them into a rear room, where they were locked in. The robbers then coolly proceeded to abstract the money in the vault, some $4,000, and after securing this and the Winchesters and revolvers, which were a part of the bank's fixtures, they walked out to their horses, and it was not until they were riding off that their presence was observed by the citizens.

The Caney Valley Bank was organized in 1889 with a paid-up stock of $15,000. The bank had a surplus of $1,500, and its credit will not be affected by the loss.

Starr was in this city on Thursday of last week, but his presence was not known until he was seen riding out of town shooting his Winchester. He is a typical Territory bad man. A message received from Caney to-night asks that a posse be sent south from here, as the Caney pursuers are on the wrong trail.

Henry Starr is one of the notorious Dalton gang and only recently escaped from jail.

An alarm was given and a posse started after them, but as they secured a good start it is feared that the chase will prove fruitless, for the pursuers. No one was hurt during the robbery, which occurred when the streets in the vicinity were crowded with passers-by.

SHOT THROUGH A DOOR.

A Canadian Murdered While Defending His Property.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 27.—The story of a murder which occurred in Canada about half way between Cananoque and Rockport, Ont., last Friday, has just reached here.

Charles Shipman, a farmer, had a dispute with John Fitzsimmons, a hotel keeper at Halsteds Bay, over the possession of a small piece of property. Shipman, as he supposed, purchased the property from a relative of Fitzsimmon's who claimed to own it, but Fitzsimmons was the real owner and he ordered Shipman off. This not refusing to go, Fitzsimmon's carried the case through the Canadian courts and was successful. The sheriff appeared and evicted Shipman.

Four weeks ago Shipman returned and tried by force to regain possession of the property. A lively scrimage ensued, but Shipman did not accomplish his purpose.

On Friday, however, he approached the place accompanied by his son, his daughter and son-in-law, and armed with a shotgun. Seeing Fitzsimmons through the window, he fired at him, but the shot only grazed his shoulder. Fitzsimmons then placed himself against the door to prevent Shipman from entering. Shipman placed the muzzle of the gun against the panel of the door and fired, the charge passing through the wood and into the breast of Fitzsimmons, killing him instantly.

Shipman and his party have been arrested and taken to Brockville.

MANN WANTED A DIVORCE

His Counsel Surprises the Court by Asking for a Dismissal of the Suit.

New York, March 28.—The suit of Joshua J. Mann, who acquired notoriety in the Robert Hay Hamilton expose, for absolute divorce from Eva L. Hamilton, is among those on the calendar before Justice Patterson in the Supreme Court.

Mr. A. H. Hummell appeared for Mann When the case was called Mr. Hummell surprised the spectators by moving to strike the case from the calendar. He said that Mann was insane, suffering from paresis. Affidavits to that effect were submitted.

Valuable Property Sold for Taxes.

TOMS RIVER, N. J., March 27.—At the sale for taxes of the property of Barnegat Park by Collector A. S. Tilton of the Berkley Township for the unpaid tax assessment of 1891, the Holland Trust Company of New York bid in the 6450 acres of outlaying woodland and William H. Marsh, who already claims to have purchased the hotel at a sale held under the Mechanics lien act, bid in the hotel, "The Pines," and 500 building lots at the Park.

COL. SHEPARD'S FUNERAL.

The Interment Entirely Private at Calvary Cemetery, Staten Island.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The funeral services of the late Col. Elliott F. Shepard were held this morning at 10 o'clock at Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church corner of Fifty-fifth street. There was a short private service at the house previously, Rev. Dr John Hall conducting both services.

After the services the remains were conveyed to the Moravian Cemetery at New Dorp, Staten Island. The interment was private.

The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers:

Chauncey M. Depew, John Sloane, James MacDonnough, John A. Sleicher, Logan C. Murray, Col. John J. McCook, John S. Kennedy, Warren Van Norden, Warner Miller and ex-Judge Noah Davis. The interment will be in the Vanderbilt Mausoleum in the Moravian Cemetery, at New Dorp, Staten Island.

The statement of Drs. McBurney and Lane regarding the sudden death of Col. Elliott F. Shepard while under their operations throws very little new light upon the mystery, although it discloses several new facts.

One of the most startling is that when the patient's condition became so alarming that extreme measures were called for, the operation of tracheotomy, or opening the windpipe, was performed to remove anything that might possibly have found its way into the windpipe.

The surgeons say that no foreign substance was found, although a rubber tube was passed down into the windpipe, and the bronchical tubes, making use of a powerful aspirating syringe, without discovering anything but bloody mucus. This, they think, shows that death was not the result of strangulation caused by the entrance of anything from the stomach into the windpipe during the vomiting which followed the administration of ether.

They also intimate that the patient regained consciousness for some time, while efforts were being made to restore him. What occurred during this interval is not stated. It is reported, however, that Col. Shepard recovered sufficiently to realize his critical condition, and that he expressed a wish that his wife should be sent for immediately that he might see her before he died. This report could not be verified.

It is said that the doctors only made the public statement under pressure, and at the earnest request of the members of Col. Shepard's family, in order to allay the suspicions which were current and answer the criticisms of those who believed that there had been negligence or carelessness in the treatment of the patient.

Despite the fact that the doctors in their statement declare that the primary cause of death is unknown to them, it is not felt that any autopsy will be necessary. Coroner Schultze said as much when he signed the death certificate on Saturday. All the members of Col. Shepard's family are strongly opposed to any such proceeding.

SUFFERING FROM RABIES.

Mrs. Delamore Bitten by a Three Month's Old Pup—She Will Recover.

CHICAGO, March 28.—Mrs. Annie Delamore, wife of a laboring man was taken to the Cook county hospital in a police ambulance suffering from what is supposed to be rabies.

The actions of the woman while undergoing one of the convulsions resembled very much those attending genuine hydrophobia.

Mrs. Delamore was bitten six weeks ago by a three months old pup. The wounds were not cauterized and they healed nicely. Then she was suddenly taken with a violent spasm. The ambulance was ordered.

For a time after the arrival at the county hospital the patient's hands were secured with handcuffs. The physicians at the hospital say that her recovery is assured.

TWO WHITECAPS SHOT DEAD.

Negroes on a Georgia Estate Had Been Lying in Wait for Them.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., March 28.—Whitecaps attacked the negro quarters at S. H. Bassett's plantation and the inmates fled. Mr. Bassett met the trespassers in the darkness and forbade them to go any further.

The Whitecaps disregarded the order and would have continued their search, when several of the negroes who were concealed near by opened fire on the intruders and shot William Hatchet and Marion Eryant dead. The others fled.

The coroner's verdict was justifiable homicide. Bassett's plantation has been visited before, and as a result the Governor offered rewards of $100 each for the malefactors.

Important Supreme Court Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The United States Court has decided in the Huber patent case that a patent having lapsed, by reason of non-payment of taxes, an American patent granted thereafter for the same invention is void. This action, it is said at the patent office destroys Edison's Quadruplex Telegraph patent and also his three microphone patents, leaving the Bell company, after January next, to stand wholly on the Berliner patent.

Cherokee Indian Factional War.

PARIS, Tex., March 26.—The factional war in the Cherokee Nation, engendered by the gubernatorial campaign of last summer, has broken out afresh, and a collision between the factions seems unavoidable. Antlers, forty-two miles north of here, presents the appearance of an armed camp. Armed bands of Indians are marching upon the town. Both factions are bitter and very determined.

Incorporated With a $5,000,000 Capital

ALBANY, March 28.—The International Pump Company has been incorporated with a capital of $5,000,000 of which $2,000,000 is preferred, to mine and deal in sale, mine and deal in stone and minerals and for supplying electricity for light and power purposes.

Millionaire Mackay's Condition.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Dr. Kenney said in reference to Mr. Mackay condition that he was quite well, but that he did not think he would let him leave his room this week. With quiet, rest and freedom from business cares he says Mr. Mackay will soon be entirely convalescent.

Annual Inspection N. G. S. N. Y.

ALBANY, March 28.—Gen. Porter has issued a special order providing for the annual inspection of a number of the separate companies of the National Guard of the State.

THE LAKE SHORE TRIAL

The Strikers' Attorney Says They Violated No Law.

CANVING THE COURT'S POWER.

The Hon. Frank Hurd Declares that Judge Ricks Had no Jurisdiction to Issue an Injunction—The Case Against Sargeant Dismissed—Arthur's Case Still on Trial.

TOLEDO, O., March 28.—In the Ann Arbor strike case in the Federal courts yesterday, Emery D. Potter, Jr., for the Lake Shore railroad company, opened the arguments for the prosecution. He said:

Every man in this country has the right to go where he pleases and say what he pleases, so long as he does not do a wrong or place in jeopardy the lives and property of his fellowmen. This is the law, and it is God's law. The trouble with the members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is this: They have been led into the belief that, as an organized body, they can say and do what they please, even though they trespass on the rights of others.

These men did not comply with the order of the court and the law. The company is in the performance of an important public service. Engineers accepted a high and important public function, which they are now not permitted to lay aside for the reasons which they did in this case. Serious injury might result from the abandonment of duty if it was perhaps half completed.

Courts have already held that officers and employees performing the duties of a quasi public nature cannot evade the responsibility for refusal or neglect by resigning, and where they do so it has been held that they shall continue to act until their successors are engaged.

Hon. Frank Hurd, the free trade apostle, opened for the defense as follows:

The Supreme court of the United States has held that proceeding in contempt is a criminal proceeding and is, therefore a proceeding in which there is neither grand jury nor preliminary hearing. I shall submit the following propositions:

The court had no jurisdiction to issue this order.

It was not a violation of the order of the court, as the engineers supposed that their contracts could not be enforced by mandatory order.

The road had no power to attach its employees for refusing to handle Ann Arbor freight.

Had this court jurisdiction to issue this order? Is there a federal question involved in this bill? It is stated that the refusal to handle interstate commerce freight is a violation of what is known as the Interstate Commerce act. No federal questions are involved. Therefore the court can only acquire jurisdiction on account of citizenship.

Mr. Hurd closed by saying that the Lake Shore had no right to institute proceedings to compel its employees to handle Ann Arbor freight, and claimed that the men had purged themselves of any contempt that may have existed. They have all disclaimed any disrespect to this court, and I submit should be found not guilty.

At the close of the argument Judges Ricks and Taft took the case under advisement and a decision will be rendered today.

When the case was called against Brotherhood Chiefs Arthur and Sargent, on the issue joined by the injunction issued against them enjoining them from issuing or promulgating any order to members whereby they were to refuse to handle boycotted cars, Hon. T. W. Harper of Terre Haute, Ind., chief counsel for the firemen, moved to dissolve on the ground of non-jurisdiction. Mr. Sargent residing without this United States circuit.

Judge Taft promptly dissolved this portion of the injunction, and Sargent at once left the courtroom, receiving a rousing ovation as he passed down the aisle.

The case against Grand Chief Arthur was at once taken up, and telegrams and orders were offered in evidence, as well as the depositions of General Superintendent Caniff, of the Lake Shore. This case will be concluded to-day, and the decisions given in both cases. Tuesday and Wednesday will probably consume all the cases which have marked an epoch in the railway and labor world.

SHE BECAME A COUNTESS.

A St. Paul Heiress Married to a German Nobleman.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 28.—The upper circle of society is greatly interested in the announcement made yesterday of the marriage of Marion Lamprey to Count Carl Hines, of Elberfield, Germany.

Though the ceremony was performed at Milwaukee one week ago, it was kept a profound secret until yesterday. Miss Lamprey is a great belle and heiress, and only recently returned from abroad where she met the count.

A marriage was proposed, but the family feared that the German nobleman was simply a fortune hunter and consent was withheld.

Time passed and it was supposed that Miss Lamprey had outgrown the infatuation, but suddenly the count appeared in St. Paul and pressed his suit with renewed fervor, only to meet the same opposition. The next heard of the young pair was from Milwaukee where it was announced that the St. Paul belle had been transformed into a German countess.

The parents very sensibly made the best of it, and they themselves made the announcement to the world.

Denounce the Sole Leather Trust.

HAVERHILL, Mass., March 28.—The Lasters Protective Union of this city today adopted resolutions denouncing the proposed Sole Leather Trust and calling upon the State to "protect them from this octopus whose prime object is to render imperitive every law of free competition."

Refused to Grant Special Allocatur.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—The Supreme Court has refused to grant a special allocatur in the cases of Anarchists Henry Bauer and Carl Nold, of Pittsburg.

Tammany Chieftain Croker Ill.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Richard Croker, the leader of Tammany Hall, is confined to his home by illness. His indisposition is not supposed to be serious.

Thirty Dollars More for Conscience Fund.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A conscience contribution of $30 from an unknown person, in Philadelphia, has been received at the Treasury Department.

Two More Banks Fail.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 28.—Two more banks have failed. There is great excitement.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For New Jersey: Fair, Stationary Temperature, Northerly Winds.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Wheelmen find many ugly dogs at Cranford.

—The county roads are in fair condition for cycling.

—Ice fully a half inch in thickness formed during last night.

—Plainfield lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., met last evening and worked the third degree on four candidates.

—An action on contract brought by Goltra vs. Foster is set down for trial in justice Nash's court on April 3.

—A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Board of the First Presbyterian church is being held in the church parlors this afternoon.

—The annual meeting of the First Presbyterian church and congregation will be held in the chapel to-morrow evening at 8:15.

—The telephone business between New York and Plainfield is so enormous that manager Runyon is having another circuit put in to meet the rush.

—The services in the First Presbyterian church, next Sunday morning, will be under the auspices of the Sunday-school, in commemoration of Easter.

—There now is a closing-out sale of groceries at cost, at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association. Attend early and secure the bargains.

—A tempting profusion of Easter lily plants is displayed at the greenhouse of Miss Lincoln, 40 Park avenue, for a special sale to be held all day to-morrow.

—Manager Runyon of the telephone office is about to put a motor in the place to furnish power to ring you up. The current will be obtained from the trolley system.

—John H. Tier & Sons are out with a freshly touched-up delivery wagon. The painting and lettering was done by D. W. Kelly, a step-brother of Wm. Brown of East Third street.

—Justice of the peace Elias Mosher will be ready for business about the 1st of May. He will hold court in a newly-fitted up room in the building adjoining his store on North avenue.

—Peter Russ, one of the foundrymen at Pond's, has been ill with the grip for some time past and he has been allowed five dollars a week from the fund of the Pond Mutual Aid association.

—The Pond Mutual Aid association is in a flourishing condition. During the past year but two assessments of fifty cents each have been made, and several hundred dollars have been paid out in sick benefits.

—The Sherman Outfitting company is just what its name implies. The house is fully supplied with goods to fit out every want in the line of wearing apparel or household furnishings. Go to the great spring opening and see their big bargains.

—While on the way to the North avenue station to catch a new York train, yesterday morning, Horace Kimball of East Fifth street slipped and fell on the sidewalk under the Peace street railroad bridge, sustaining severe bruises about the head and body. He returned to his home.

—Complaint has been made of a certain scavenger in this city, who, it is said, is in the habit of dumping his refuse in close proximity to the Netherwood Hotel. Only a few days ago a four-horse load of cesspool refuse was deposited along the roadway, less than a hundred yards east of the hotel.

—A tangled-up collision occurred at the Peace street terminus of the street railway this forenoon, when Sharkey's wagon and Conover's truck were mixed up with one of the cars, through careless driving. In the confusion the Sharkey horse got turned completely around in the shafts. No serious damage was done, except to the temper.

—The residents of Netherwood and vicinity are circulating a petition for signatures, which is designed to present to the council at its next meeting, asking to have Belvidere avenue put in proper repair. They claim that the roadbed has been neglected and that it is now badly cut up in many places. A petition will also be presented from West Front street asking for repairs in that locality.

—Three well-known young men of this city were frightened nearly out of their wits on Friday evening, while the fog was most dense. They emerged from a hotel about 2 in the morning, and were standing on a corner conversing, when officer Cooney approached unobserved, and flashed a bulls-eye lantern on them. The officer may have taken them for suspicious characters, but they were not; they had simply been spending the evening with a "friend".

—Thomas Jennings, the chicken fancier, had a curiosity in the shape of a game rooster with three distinct tumors on it, each one nearly the size of a coffee cup. The fowl was full blooded game and valuable. Thomas undertook the difficult operation of removing one of the tumors from the rooster's comb, and the result was that the bird bled to death, Saturday. Relatives of the dead bird were in the main at Waverly, last Thursday night, and won the fight by big odds.

Entirely Satisfactory.

W. J. Arkell, publisher of Judge and Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, writes.

"JUDGE BUILDING,
Cor. 5th ave. and Sixteenth st.,
NEW YORK, January 14, 1891.

"About three weeks since, while suffering from a severe cold which had settled on my chest, I applied an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER, and in a short time obtained relief.

"In my opinion, these plasters should be in every household, for use in case of coughs, colds, sprains, bruises or pains of any kind. I know that in my case the results have been entirely satisfactory and beneficial."

THE 1105TH DEGREE.

It Was Worked Successfully on Plainfield Council, and Caused Much Merriment.

The regular meeting of Plainfield council, 711, Royal Arcanum was made merry last night by the visitation of the Sherman Boomers (11 in number), from Sherman council, 1340, Jersey City. There were also present three grand officers of the State, and representatives from Fanwood council, Scotch Plains.

Regent Fred Green presided, and royally welcomed the visitors.

A new member was initiated, and the visiting brethren made good-fellowship speeches. After this the "Boomers" initiated the grand officers in their celebrated "1105th degree". This was the cause of much fun, and all grew fat on the general hilarity. Brother Ely of North Plainfield and Orator Rae entertained the lodge with recitations. After the formal adjournment refreshments were served.

The attendance was the largest in a long time. The council is prospering even greater than ever.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. J. Wesley Johnson and sons are with her brother B. Frank Coriell, in the south.

The engagement is announced of Miss Beardslee of East Millstone to George White of North Plainfield.

Miss Kunena McKay, of New York, spent yesterday with her sister, Mrs. C. Hanson, of West Second street.

A pastor for the Plainfield M. E. church will be appointed at the session of the Newark Conference in Jersey City April 5.

Jacob Field will this week remove his family from the Miller block on Park avenue to the Sebring flats on North avenue.

J. P. Emmons, the mason and builder, is adding a two-story extension to the Washington avenue side of his cozy home.

W. Winnas of 27 Vine street, accompanied by his daughter Thresia, left home yesterday for an extended trip through the south.

Alexander Fisk and family of New York took up their residence at the corner of Park avenue and Sixth street, this city, to-day. Mr. Fisk is a brother of councilman Charles J. Fisk.

The Rev. N. W. Cadwell, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Westfield, paid a visit to Plainfield yesterday and looked into the new Seventh-day Baptist church now in course of completion. He thinks it a beautiful structure.

Father Cushing went to Albany to-day to intercede with Gov. Fower for commutation of the sentence of Michael Sliney, who was convicted of the murder of Robert Lyon. Sliney wants his death sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

Louie Vernon Smith, who has been spending some months at Hazen's on Broadway for his health, died of consumption Sunday. He was the youngest son of Dr. Daniel A. Smith of Sumner avenue and Decatur street, Brooklyn, where funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

BY THE WAY.

—A meeting of the Citizens' League, headed by the Rev. W. R. Richards, to protest against the race tracks, will be held in the council chamber Thursday evening at 8.

—Bartholomay's bock beer is now on draught at Charles Smith's, No. 1 West Front street. Buckwurst and other appetizers are also to be found there in great variety.

—A new Herring safe for the city, weighing 4340 lbs., was put into the city's offices in the Coward building this morning. It is for the city treasurer, and the tenth safe in the building.

—A great "War Memories" meeting will be held in the Salvation Army hall to-night, to be led by Adjutant and Mrs. Hunter, assisted by a host of field officers from surrounding corps. The meeting is to commence at 8 sharp.

—The last of the series of winter socables given under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Willow Grove Sunday-school, took place Friday evening, and was a most enjoyable affair. The programme consisted of music, recitations, and the serving of refreshments.

—As THE PRESS stated Saturday, unexpected financial embarrassment caused an assignment by the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association of this city, and to-day begins the sale of all the goods in stock for the benefit of the creditors. The old firm as agents under possibly another name, will eventually continue the business.

—Harry Jenkins, Plainfield's reliable building mover, has been called to Somerville to move a large house to make room for the new Reformed church about to be built at that place. The people of Somerville made no mistake in contracting the work to Mr. Jenkins. He is a careful, reliable man, and thoroughly understands his business.

—An explosion in front of the Coward building last night drew a crowd. Policeman Kiely investigated. The explosion was of a giant firecracker, and the joker who had lighted it had disappeared. It was said that it had been thrown in jest at the agent of the defunct Iron Hall who was in town trying to get the victims to reorganize, and that when he saw the supposed bomb he ran for his life and has n't been seen since.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am now parently cured. Z. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

SHALL PLAINFIELD YIELD TO RIVALS?

Rather Let Her Provide Herself with Modern Improvements as Other Towns Are Doing.

Plainfield's position renders a sewerage system an economic necessity; for this is not an independent isolated trade-center, dependent on the trade of the surrounding country, or on shops or factories. Plainfield is a city of homes, largely for people who do business elsewhere, and who as a rule are quite free to reside where they can be best accommodated—where health and the conveniences of life can be had in the largest measure.

These people to a man know what sanitation and drainage are worth. To them cesspools are an abomination, to be endured perhaps temporarily, but not permanently.

All the towns of homes in New Jersey from Summit to Somerville either have secured drainage, or are planning to secure it. Plainfield will soon be surrounded by sewered towns—by Somerville and Bound Brook, New Brunswick and Rahway, by Elizabeth, Roselle and Cranford, if not Westfield.

What do such surroundings mean to Plainfield, if she remains undrained? This is a question that comes home to every owner of real estate, to every merchant whether he deals in coal or in ribbons, to every man who has or expects employment here: to every individual, in short, who considers Plainfield his home. It is a question that goes to the very root of our permanent prosperity; for we may be sure that we can not, circumstanced as we are, securely build upon soil that is daily charged with impurities from three thousand cesspools. It would be wiser to build upon the sand and let the floods come than to build on polluted ground where rival towns are rapidly substituting modern drainage for the primeval sink-holes.

As an economic question—a plain matter of dollars and cents—we can not afford to cling to the cesspools. It will not pay us to do so when a tax-rate of one-fifteenth of one per cent. will secure to us and to our children a system that will drain Plainfield as clean as a whistle, and compel her rivals to admit her superiority in that as in all other respects.

Plainfield's New Shakespeare Club.

A Shakespeare Club was recently organized in Plainfield, by about twenty-five representative society people, for the purpose of becoming more familiar with the works of the immortal bard. The club meets at the houses of the various members, and parts are assigned to each to read. The play being read at present is "Twelfth Night". Among the members are: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Goddard, Miss Newton, Miss Scribner, the Rev. C. L. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Mellick, Mrs. Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. Herring, Mrs. Munn, J. W. Whiton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. Bret Harte, Mr. and Mrs. VanVliet and Mrs. Andrew Mellick. Mr. Goodrich is president.

SHOCKING!

Another Correspondent Distressed Over the Really Bad Condition of Some Plainfield Streets.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I noticed in your issue of Saturday, the 25th inst., an article signed "Taxpayer". Every statement made by him is absolutely correct; still he might have added, that the crushed stone taken from Grant avenue, and afterwards used by the Street Railway company, was purchased by the property-owners along the route; the city did not pay one cent towards its purchase. Is it to be supposed that the property owners must again purchase stone in order that said avenue may be restored to its former excellent condition? It is now, nothing less than a quagmire, while it was "one of the best macadamized streets in Plainfield".

It might be a good idea for the chairman of the street committee to take a trip occasionally toward the west end of the city, to see how the land lies; and I would suggest that just at the present time he be sure to go by the way of Front street to Grant avenue, thence to Fourth street, stopping over at Third street, when he might learn something about sidewalks. To reach the walk at this point he would be obliged to climb a bank some four or five feet high. If it should be wet or icy on that day, he would find this "a great piece of work". Those going daily to Grant avenue station, during the past winter, have at times found it almost impossible to reach the sidewalk on account of the slippery condition of this bank.

Should a person slip and fall from its summit, who would be responsible for any damage which might result therefrom—the city, or abutting property-owners?

This point should be inspected at once, and property-owners should be ordered to have this sidewalk brought to grade.

ANOTHER TAX-PAYER.

The Dead Christ at St. Joseph's.

The sacred ceremonies of Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday this week will begin in St. Joseph's church, Manning avenue, each of those days, at 7:30 a. m., with evening service on Wednesday and Good Friday at 8 p. m. The reclining figure of the "Dead Christ"—nearly life size—which was purchased this week for St. Joseph's church, is a beautiful and impressive work of art. It is now in the church, within the sanctuary, resting on the platform of one of the side altars, and is attracting the pious attention of all who enter the church.

THE SAME OLD GAME.

Plainfield's Experience Was a Warning to Prospective Somerville Victims of a Sharp Swindler.

A cute confidence man tried last Friday to work the same game on the First National Bank of Somerville as was successfully gone through with in Plainfield and Elizabeth, but the trick failed.

The sharper visited Somerville early Friday morning, and went to the law office of George W. Anderson, where according to the old Plainfield programme he presented a letter purporting to come from lawyer Frederick Frelinghuysen of Newark, introducing him as a Mr. Gordon and asking Mr. Anderson to assist him in every way possible. "Gordon" said he was to make some real estate transactions above Raritan. Anderson had an engagement, but promised to meet Gordon at the 3.35 train and go to Newark with him to look over some papers. The stranger then asked Anderson to accompany him to the First National Bank and introduce him, as he wanted to open an account there. This Mr. Anderson did, and then started for Raritan. On his way there he thought of the game played on Wm. A. Coddington of Plainfield, and hastily getting out of the stage he returned to the bank, where, on pretense of arranging financial negotiations, he called cashier Taylor to the back of the bank and told him not to give the man any money on his introduction as he did not know him. As he came out, he noticed "Gordon" standing at the desk and spoke to him. The swindler deposited $1,400 in checks and asked to have his own check cashed for $200. Mr. Taylor told him that he could not cash his check until he heard from his deposit checks, as it was against the rules of the bank. At this "Gordon" became very angry and said he would go to Geo. Schenck, landlord of the Brick hotel, and have it cashed. Going out, he went to Dunster's livery stable and said he was a relative of Mr. Schenck and that he wanted to go to South Somerville to catch a train on the Lehigh Valley railroad. The liveryman sent a boy with him. When near South Somerville the man said he guessed he would go to Dunellen, and induced the lad to drive him there. He took a train from there, and did not pay for the rig. Lawyer Anderson went to the 3.35 train, but found no one to meet him. He then went to Newark, where lawyer Frelinghuysen said the letter was a forgery. The swindler had an engagement with the Hon. A. A. Clark for Saturday, but did not keep it. The bank officers can thank Mr. Anderson for warning them, else they might have been out $200, or more.

Charles Coghlan Reappears.

After what promised to be a severe illness, Charles Coghlan resumed his place last night in the cast of "Diplomacy" at the beautiful Fifth Avenue theater.

His reappearance made the strong and intense scene in the second act doubly impressive. Mr. Coghlan's artistic byplay and suppressed emotion admirably balanced the strong scene between John T. Sullivan, as Julian, and Mr. De Belleville, as Count Orloff.

The greeting Mr. Coghlan received was sincere and hearty, and kept him bowing for some moments on his first entrance.

As now presented "Diplomacy" is one of the strongest and most finished pieces of acting now before the public. The house last night was larger than ever, and showed its appreciation of the admirable work of Mr. and Miss Coghlan, Mr. Sullivan and Mr. De Belleville and their splendid support, by constant applause.

Plainfielders will find an evening at the Fifth Avenue theater the most enjoyable source of entertainment they can possibly seek in all the metropolis. The play is a truly great one, and the strength and finish of the company's performance is largely due to the rare experience and ability of its manager, F. Dietz, who is one of the most talented and highly esteemed men in the theatrical profession.

Bold Robbery at Somerville.

Some time after midnight, this morning, the large safe in the office of the Chicago Beef company at Somerville was blown open by burglars and a considerable amount of money, valuable documents, etc., stolen. The robbers entered the place through a window, drilled a hole in the safe near the combination lock, and exploded it. The police in this city were notified to look out for the robbers.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, dures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

JOHN HARKINS IN THE BOX AGAIN.

The Somervillians Disgusted and Accuse Manager Mack of Buying and Selling Games.

According to a despatch in the Sun from Somerville, this morning, "The West End Athletic association will put a strong base-ball team in the field this year. The battery will be professionals, the rest of the team strictly amateur. John Harkins of New Brunswick will pitch, while Francis of the same place, will catch. The village people were disgusted last year with the buying and selling of games, and this season demanded amateur base-ball. It is not likely that Somerville and Plainfield will battle on the diamond this year, as Plainfield is again to have a professional team."

The Crescents Rank Third in Pin Average.

The teams of the Elizabeth Journal bowling league, with the exception of the Alcyones and Arthur Kulls, have each one more game to roll, and the series will be finished this week with the one exception of the Y. M. C. L. A.—C. Y. M. L. game. Until the clubs have finished their race the full report of their work can not be given, but that the interested ones may know how the clubs will probably finish their present standing is given in the following table of

TEAM AVERAGES.

	Won.	Lost.	Per Cent.	Average Pins.
Y. M. C. L. A.	14	0	1000	1528.3
E. F. C.	11	3	786	1509.1
Arthur Kull	9	6	600	1467.8
Alcyone	9	6	600	1435.2
C. Y. M. L.	5	9	357	1398.5
Crescent	4	10	286	1474.0
Roselle	4	10	286	1405.4
Pioneer	3	11	214	1368.5
Average pins per game				1451.5
Average strikes per game				18.9
Average spares per game				36.2

In the individual races Charlie Sauer took the lead last Friday night with an average of 166.4; Warner dropped to second with an average of 165.3, and R. Davis to third with 165.

If the Plainfield Young Men succeed in defeating the Elizabeth Young Men in their fifteenth and last game, it will be the first time the Elizabeth Young Men have been beaten.

Crane's New Play.

In "Brother John", the new play now being presented at the Star theater, New York, William H. Crane has got another "Senator". It has made an undeniable hit and promises to place Miss Martha Morton, its young authoress, among the list of great American playwrights. How a woman could conceive such a strong story and construct it so ably is a wonder to many. The strong point about the play is its simpleness. It tells a plain, direct story, and what is more there is not a bad man or woman in it. Four plays now being presented in New York picture female adventuresses of the lowest type, and the contrast between these plays and "Brother John" is very great. Miss Morton's play tells a strong story of the heart which appeals to everyone. It has its little bits of pathos that touch the inner feelings, and it also has vivid flashes of humor. Mr. Crane has a part to play in which he is allowed to work upon all the strings leading to the heart, and it has generally been conceded that he never appeared to such excellent advantage in any other play in his life.

Lots of Work in Nash's Court.

Justice V. W. Nash was overrun with official business, yesterday afternoon. Besides the Willibald case, he tried two other cases, and issued a search warrant. In the landlord and tenant suit of Kimball against Brennan, for possession of premises on Arlington avenue, judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The contract case of D. S. Roberts against J. W. Drayton for $100, for carriage hire, and breaking up a rig, came up, Harry C. Runyon appearing for the plaintiff. There was no defence, and judgment was given the plaintiff for the full amount, together with interest.

Used His Last Nickel for Cigarettes.

Young Willibald, the youth accused of robbing the ticket office at the North avenue station and also of Vail's office and the Union News company's stand, was taken to Elizabeth by special officer Dagnell, last evening. He had but five cents of the money left, and with this he purchased a pack of cigarettes.

To Dye Cotton Goods—Use the special diamond dye fast cotton colors. There are twelve kinds—turkey red, black, dark green, purple, etc. I have used many packages of them in the past year, and find them perfectly fast colors. Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

At the Grave of Helen Hunt.

The lecture of Mrs. Anna Powell Bond, in All Souls' church yesterday afternoon was greatly relished by a large audience. The subject was the ever-interesting one of Helen Hunt Jackson, and a pleasing addition to it was the personal reminiscence given by Mrs. T. J. Mumford of this city, who told very charmingly of her visit to the grave, and other incidents of her experiences in the region so loved by the Indian's friend.

The lecture was such a success in point of attendance that the remainder of the course will be given in the church proper, the lecture room being insufficient to accommodate those interested. The next lecture will be by Mrs. S. M. Perkins on "Margaret Fuller the Thinker and Mary Lyon the Worker".

The Mother Defends the Son.

When Charles Bartling attempted suicide at the home of his brother Harry, 22 Sycamore avenue, Feb. 28, the borough police were informed that it was because the lad was in trouble through forging a check and insulting his niece. That statement was given to newspaper reporters as authortative and official, and so published in various papers.

Mrs. A. E. Bartling, mother of Charles, however, claims to have made a thorough investigation, and fully exonerates her son from those grave charges. She says she is satisfied that they are entirely false, and in justice to Charles he is given the benefit of this statement.

A Dishonest Servant Girl.

On complaint of Mrs. Ella B. Smith of 27 Arlington avenue, justice Nash, yesterday afternoon, issued a search warrant against the premises 8 and 12 Arlington avenue, and also 66 East Fourth street. Mrs. Smith had a servant girl working for her until a few days ago, when she left, taking with her, it is believed, a lot of costly clothing, silverware, lace, etc. When the girl left she was discovered in the act of making way with some of the garments. The warrant was placed in the hands of constable Moffett this morning to serve.

The Chimney Was Dirty and Got a Bath.

Box 43 was sounded at 11:50 this morning because of a fire at 132 South Second street. The chimney had not been cleaned in years, and the soot was burning fiercely. The firemen flooded the chimney and cleaned it out. A baby carriage and some other goods in the lower part of the house were damaged, by the spread of flames from the chimney. Ed Kline owned the house, and Nelson Peterson lived in it. The damage was not great.

A TICKLISH JOB.

"Hi there, Jenny!"

Sensible Cows.

Aunty—You are very fond of meat, aren't you?

Little Niece—Yes, indeedy, if it's lean. Where does meat grow?

"It comes from cattle."

"Cows?"

"Yes."

"And do they have to be killed so I can have meat?"

"Yes."

"I didn't know that, but I guess the cows does, 'cause they act awful mad when I comes around."—Good News.

A Kind Mistress.

It was raining in torrents. "Julie," said madame to her maid, "be quick and run across to the milliner's and tell her not to forget my hat."

"Can I take Azor out with me, madame?"

"Are you mad, Julie? Can't you see for yourself that the weather is not fit to turn a dog out of doors?"—L'Evenement.

A Genuine Antique.

Mrs. De Fad—That old clock is very handsome, and I'd like to have it, but I'm afraid it is not such a genuine antique as Mrs. De Rich's.

Store Boy—Does hers go?

Mrs. De Fad—Oh, yes.

Store Boy (triumphantly)—This one doesn't.—Good News.

On the Face of It.

"Where are you going, my pretty maide?"
"I'm going a-milking, sir," she saide.
"What is your fortune, my pretty maide?"
"My face is my fortune, sir," she saide.
"Exactly what mine is, my pretty maide."
"I pity your poverty, sir," she saide—
And the lowly herd wound slowly o'er the lea.
—Life.

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me Emanuel Meyers, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm: It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease. Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Att'y, Washington, D. C.

ARE YOU WEAK?

Do You Feel Tired, Nervous and Prostrated?

Here Is Some Advice for You by Two Prominent Women.

Spring a Dangerous Time—You Should Heed This Matter Now.

This is not only the season of sickness, but everybody feels weak, tired, languid and enervated as the spring approaches; you need something to strengthen your nerves, invigorate your blood and start up the action of all the organs; in other words you need a spring medicine, and should use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Here is what Mrs. Lydia A. Cornen, of Bidgefield, Conn., says of this great spring restorative:

"I was sick with extreme prostration and for three months I was on my bed; no one knows what I suffered; many times I thought I was dying; I saw Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy advertised in the papers, and sent at once and bought a bottle.

MRS LYDIA A. CORNEN.

"I commenced to improve, and when that bottle was gone I was able to go down stairs; I got another bottle and when that was gone I was able to ride 8 miles; I have had no more of that nervous sickness; I have taken a great deal of medicine, but I never had any that did me the good that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has."

Read also what Mrs. E. F. Meigs, of 178 Fifth ave., New York City, says of this wonderful invigorator:

"Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy cured me of that tired, languid feeling, and extreme nervousness; I took medicine from several doctors and got no relief; I never saw such a wonderful medicine as this; it cured me completely."

MRS. E. F. MEIGS.

You know that you feel weak and tired, you know that your nerves need strengthening and your blood invigorating; besides, your liver kidneys and bowels do not act just right; what you require is Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy; if you will take this wonderful spring medicine, it will restore you to perfect health, strength and vigor.

All druggists keep it for $1, and it is purely vegetable and harmless; doctors recommend it as the best of all spring medicines; indeed it is the prescription and discovery of the eminent physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, who can be consulted in all cases free of charge, personally or by letter.

Easily Started.

Aunty—I hear there was a terrible panic and stampede at your school today. What was the cause? Did some one cry fire?

Little Boy—I didn't hear just what it was, but it doesn't take much to start a panic w'en the weather is pleasant an' th' lessons is hard.—Good News.

A Cold Spot.

Landlady—I don't know how it is, but I cannot keep the milk from getting sour, although I always keep it in the refrigerator.

Boarder—Why don't you try the oil stove that's in my room?—Detroit Free Press.

Wanted to Get It.

"Mamma," said Tommy, "does sugar ever cure anybody of anything?"

"Why do you ask, my boy?"

"I thought I'd like to catch it," said Tommy.—Harper's Young People.

As the Clock Struck Eleven.

Mr. Staylate—Really, Miss Travers, I'm very much put out at your treatment of me.

Miss Travers—Put out? You don't seem to be.—Chicago News Record.

Worked in the Dark.

Small Boy—Mamma says you are a self-made man.

Mr. Pompous (proudly)—Yes, my son

Small Boy—You didn't have any lookin' glass, did you?—Good News.

A Growing Pleasure.

He—Aren't you pleased with the way my mustache is growing?

She—Yes, indeed! I'm more tickled with it every time you call.—Brooklyn Life.

Alphabet of Love.

George—Have I come too early, dear?

Laura—No, George. We have just had tea, and u always ought to come right after t.—Chicago Tribune.

Drowned.

"Why was the match spoiled?"

"The old man threw cold water on it. That would spoil any match."—Harper's Bazar.

MONONGAHELA COAL STRIKE ENDED.

Great Rejoicing Throughout the Valley Among the Business Men.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 28.—The great strike of the Monongahela Valley Coal Miners has practically ended and before the end of the week it is probable that all of the 70,000 old men will be back to work. Fully 3,000 strikers have returned to the mines in the second and fourth pools and the third pool men have also weakened.

The strikers were so anxious to get their old places that they did not wait for the convention called for to-day at Monongahela City, at which it is expected the strike will be officially declared off.

The strike was broken by the men at Looeyville and Rosco returning to work on Saturday. As soon as this was learned there was a general scramble to get back. The strike lasted seven months and it is estimated, cost the operators and miners $4,000,000.

Of this amount the strikers lost $1,200,000 in wages. There is rejoicing throughout the valley, particularly among merchants and storekeepers, over the ending of the strike.

AN INTERESTING FAIR EXHIBIT.

The Government to Send Samples of Every Piece of Paper Money Issued.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The United States Government's exhibit at the World's Fair will be made up of exhibits from the several executive departments. These exhibits are now being sent to Chicago.

Among those that have already gone was the exhibit from the register's office, Treasury Department.

This will be one of the most interesting exhibits at the Fair. It consists of 640 samples, each one distinct and seperate, of every piece of paper money ever issued by the United States Government.

In the exhibit also will be found rare samples of colonial and continental money of the date of 1735 and up to the formation of the Government. Sample old wild-cat money and samples of broken State banks confederate money and bonds and an unbroken line of United States money and bonds are also contained in the exhibit.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. will ship $500,000 gold on the steamship Trave.

—The Chicago Base Ball Club started south yesterday to display their alleged skill against the clubs of the Southern league.

—Mrs. Anna F. Richards has been appointed matron of the New Hampshire World's Fair building, by the New Hampshire commissioners.

—The announcement is made that the elastic web concerns of the country which manufacture rubber goring for the shoe trade are about to pool their issues.

—Ex-Pension Agent Fred N. Webber, a prominent character in Iowa politics has been arrested at Des Moines, Iowa, on a charge of attempting to murder his wife at Newton.

—Essex-Hudson Light and Heat company, of New Jersey, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $2,000,000. The object of the company is the absorption of gas and electric plants.

The Parole Bill.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—Governor Markham's approval of the Parole bill will release from the two State prisons over 1,000 convicts who have served one year of their first term. Many of the convicts who may be paroled are desperate criminals who have come here from the East.

Typhus Fever in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—The health officer yesterday reported finding a case of malignant typhus fever in a Front street boarding house. The man is James Riley, a roustabout, who worked on the steamer Eagle at New Orleans and other southern places. The man was placed in the Marine hospital, and active measures have been taken to prevent a spread of the disease.

Mexican Bandits Surrender.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A telegram has been received at the War Department from Gen. Wheaton, commanding the Department of Texas, announcing the surrender to United States troops at Fort Ringgold, of three Mexican bandits, one of whom is said to have been a leader in the Garza revolution.

Reception to Gen. Henry L. Dawes.

BOSTON, March 28.—Hon. Henry L. Dawes was tendered a reception and dinner last evening at the Hotel Vendome by his friends, who also presented him with a handsome testimonial in token of their appreciation of his distinguished and long continued services to the commonwealth and nation.

Loss of Valuable Horses

MASON CITY, Io., March 28.—The Stock barns owned by Kirk Bros. burned yesterday. The famous Storm, holding the fastest 5-year-old stallion pacing record of the World, Brown John by Brown Hal, Rees by King Reme, Red Clay by Red Wilkes, and Edmunds C. by Red Clay were burned, loss on horses alone fully $100,000.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., March 28.—Ex-City Clerk Thomas P. Burke, who disappeared in December last after giving Mayor Gleason a certificate of election, has been arrested.

Two Birds.

He—Will you marry me?

She—No.

He—Then will you marry Harry Sawyer? He wanted me to ask you for him, too, while I was about it.—Texas Siftings.

Making Him Happy.

Tailor—I am glad you called in, sir. I called the other day when you were out.

Travers—Yes. I heard that you called, so I thought I would come in and order another suit.—Brooklyn Life.

Corroborated.

Miss Smilax—Mr. Bulfinch has been complimenting me very highly; he said I was the prettiest girl in the room.

Charlie Stringer—I know it; I never saw such a looking set.—Jury.

The Girls to Blame.

Querieus—How do you account for there being so many sleighing accidents every winter?

Cynicus—I attribute it to the habit of driving with one hand.—Life.

Out of Their Class.

Cholly—Teddie is not considered one of us any moah.

Chappie—Why not, deah boy?

Cholly—He was caught thinking.—Town Topics.

Time Is Precious.

Citticus—I wonder how it is that so few women stutter when they talk?

Witticus—They haven't got time.—Jury.

Retribution.

Daughter—Our iceman is dead, papa.

Father—What an awful change it will be for him!—Judge.

LATIMER JAILED AGAIN

The Twice Murderer Run Down at Last.

HIS EARLY LIFE IN WESTERLY, R. I.

After Having the Freedom of the Country for a Day He Appears in a Shoe Store, is Recognized, Chased and Finally Caught—Used Prussic Acid to Kill His Keeper—His Old Associates Shocked at His Latest Crime—Probably a Patricide as Well as a Matricide—Will Michigan's Law be Changed?

JACKSON, Mich., March 29.—R. Irving Latimer, the escaped convict who murdered his keeper at the prison here Monday night, was captured last night at Jerome, a little town in Hillsdale county, about twenty miles from here. He went into a store to purchase a pair of shoes. The people in the store recognized Latimer, who became frightened and fled down the railroad followed by a crowd. After a long chase the murderer was captured, and the whole party started toward here, where they arrived at about one o'clock.

Upon his arrival at the prison the twice murderer was placed in the "dungeon," and the former liberties which he has been accustomed to enjoy are not allowed to him. He is completely fagged out from his excursion throughout the surrounding towns. He refused to say where he had been while at liberty.

It is not known yet whether or not he will be brought to account before the courts for this second crime, although it seems as though there should be one severer degree of punishment than imprisonment for life, which he already has.

The escape and capture of Latimer has revived discussion of the subject of capital punishment. The laws of the state will not permit the infliction of the death penalty, no matter how atrocious the crime and this seeming inadequacy of punishment in certain cases has brought about several interesting lynchings in the state in the past few years.

There are now pending two or three bills providing for the infliction of capital punishment in certain cases, one of which bills, in view of the murder and escape at the State prison, is likely to become a law. The members of the Legislature have been canvassed upon the subject, and a majority are said to favor the passage of one or the other of the bills. It has been found where Latimer purchased the prussic acid that killed guard Haight. The second vial of the drug was obtained last Saturday from a drug store, having been ordered from New York some time before. The first vial was purchased some months ago, but evidently Latimer did not find it to his liking. When the order was sent in for the second vial it was for a kind more carefully prepared and not kept in drug stores here.

The firm refused to fill the order, but the clerk of the prison came in himself and said it was all right. He said that Latimer wanted the Prussic acid to develop some photographic plates. The vial came last Saturday, and it was sent to the prison at once.

WESTERLY, R. I. March 28.—The news of the escape of the boy murderer R. Irving Latimer, from the jail at Jackson, Mich., which reached here yesterday, has caused great excitement.

Only a few years ago there was no family in southern Rhode Island, more widely known and prominent in the best social and business circles than the Latimers. Irving was a popular lad, and he was known all over the town of Westerly as a favored son of one of the largest manufacturers of this section.

For 22 years Irving resided here, and at that age he went to Jackson, Mich., with his father who failed in his business enterprises in about Westerly.

The young man was a member of the Sunday school taught by the United States Senator from this State, Hon. Nath. F. Dixon, and he was a graduate of the Westerly High School. While residing here he was regarded as a trustworthy and quiet young man. After his departure west, however, there was a story of his connection with a former Westerly woman and her daughter, and it is the talk of the town to-day that he planned to get another young lady to leave the town and meet him in Chicago at the time of the murder and robbery of Mrs. Latimer, his mother.

Some of the people here have very clearly defined opinions about the death of the father of young Latimer, and the general impression seems to be amongst the acquaintances of the Latimer family that the fugitive murderer also killed his father by narcotic poison. The killing of keeper Haight undoubtedly makes the third murder committed by the fugitive during his brief lifetime.

Senator Dixon, who is home for a few days during the election period, expressed his horror and amazement at the awful record of crime made by his former Sunday-school scholar. He said that Latimer was a good boy and very quiet when he knew him.

SLINEY'S ALLEGED INSANITY.

Gov. Flower May Direct an Inquiry Concerning the Murderer.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Counsel for Michael T. Sliney, who is awaiting death at Sing Sing for the murder of Bob Lyons, have appealed to the governor for clemency, urging that Sliney is insane.

Mr. Nicholl satisfied himself before the trial that Sliney was then insane and his sanity was not disputed on the trial. Nevertheless, he points out to the governor a defect in the law under which the death sentence is now carried out.

Under the old law the sheriff had the custody of the condemned man, and the statute directed him, if reasonable doubt of the man's sanity arose, to impanel a jury and try the question. The law still stands, but the condemned is not in the custody of the sheriff and under the new statute cannot be produced before a sheriff's jury even if the sheriff should become aware of reasonable doubts about his insanity.

Mr. Nicholl concludes that only the executive can direct an inquiry into Sliney's sanity. It is probable that Gov. Flower will cause an inquiry to be made.

GAVE HER LIFE FOR HER CHILD.

Saved the Little One from Death But Did Not Survive.

FORT EDWARD, N. Y., March 29.—Mrs. Louis Garmarch, 42 years of age, the widow of Louis Garmarch, is dead from the effects of burns she received while saving the life of her child.

Mrs. Garmarch's 3-year-old daughter, while alone in an upstairs room, set fire to her clothing with a match. The mother heard the child's screams and ran up stairs.

She succeeded in smothering the flames, and dropped the little girl down the stairway.

In the meantime her own clothing had caught fire. She lost her presence of mind and screamed for help. A neighbor ran into the house and wrapped an overcoat about the poor woman, but she was so badly burned that she died soon after in the greatest agony.

The child is not badly burned.

CAUGHT IN NEW YORK.

Pawling Bank Robbers Arrested With Evidence of Guilt With Them.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The two men arrested at High Bridge yesterday morning as they stepped from a New York and Northern train have been turned over to the custody of Superintendent of Police Brynes.

There seems to be no doubt as to their being the men who robbed the Pawlings, N. Y. bank.

$338 in cash, $200 worth of jewelry, and over $5,000 in stocks and bonds were found in their satchels. They claim to have no acquaintance with each other.

Deny the Story.

BOSTON, March 29.—In regard to the despatch from Chicago stating that the publishers of the official organ of the L. A. W. had abrogated their contract, the following statement is issued: "The report in circulation to the effect that the publishers of the L. A. W. organ have abrogated the contract and the league is without an organ, is entirely untrue. The contract has not been abrogated, will not be abrogated, and the L. A. W. Bulletin will still continue to be issued."

Unearthed a Gang of Counterfeiters.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 29.—Deputy United States Marshal Fleming has unearthed a gang of counterfeiters in the State penitentiary. Two of the gang have been arrested. J. W. Lofton, a guard, sent up for one year for murder, and Tom Johns, who was sent up for horse stealing. Four pairs of plaster of paris molds were found, two in Lofton's guard-house and two in Johns' cell, besides several counterfeit silver coins, dollars, halfs and quarters.

Military School Man Charged With Fraud.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Belden F. Hyatt, who says he was for three years commandant of the Military Academy at Peekskill, and subsequently founded military schools at Cornwall and Roslyn, was arraigned in Jefferson Market Police Court on a charge of passing worthless checks. In the prisoner's possession were found a dozen worthless checks drawn to his own order. He was remanded.

Wants to Decrease Expenses.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—A letter from Secretary Morton has been addressed to every bureau and division chief in the Department of Agriculture asking whether any reduction could be made in the number of his employes without impairment of the public service, it being desirable in the interests of economy to lessen the expenses of the Department.

Fear Another Big Strike.

LYNN, Mass., March 29.—About thirty of the finishers and putters-out in A. B. Martin's morocco factory requested an increase of wages from $10 to $12 per week on Monday. They were refused, and yesterday left the factory. It is feared that unless some satisfactory settlement is soon made, it may precipitate another big strike.

Son of Burr's Prosecutor Dead.

TAMPA, Fla., March 2 .—D. C. Wirt, of Oak Grove, a son of William Wirt, Attorney-General of the United States under President Monroe, and assistant prosecutor in the trial of Aaron Burr, is dead. He had been ill only five days with inflammation of the bowels.

Coroner's Verdict in the Cleveland Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., March 29. — Coroner Hall has rendered his verdict in regard to disaster at the Morman apartment house, where five people were burned to death last Thursday. He finds that the building was unsafe, not having a sufficient number of fire escapes.

GEN. KIRBY SMITH DEAD

The Confederacy's Last Full General Passes Away.

A PEACEFUL ENDING AT HIS HOME.

He was the Last to Surrender to the Union Armies and was Also the Last to Yield to the Grim Messenger—The Last Days of His Life—Sketch of His Career.

SEWANEE, Tenn., March 26.—Gen. E. Kirby Smith, Professor of Mathematics in the University of the South since 1875, is dead at his home here.

For two years his health has been declining. Two weeks ago he was taken sick in New Orleans and was confined to his bed for five or six days, but recovered sufficiently to travel and reported at Sewanee, ready for duty, Monday, March 19. Two days afterward he caught cold and a relapse ensued. His condition being complicated by conjestion of the right lung.

Everything in human power was done to save him but from the first it was evident that the chances were against his recovery. Once or twice during temporary periods of semi consciousness his mind wandered through past scenes and he ordered the batteries to come up.

Early in the morning he became totally unconscious. His end was very peaceful. His wife and six of his family were with him.

One of his last connected utterances was a verse from the twenty third psalm: "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me."

Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith was of Connecticut lineage. His father, Joseph Lee Smith, was born in New Britain, and was a jurist and a soldier, winning promotion from gallantry in the War of 1812. Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith was born in St. Augustine, Fla., on May 16, 1824, and was thus 69 years old.

He was graduated from West Point in in 1845. In the war with Mexico he was brevetted for gallantry at Oarro Gordo and Contreras. He was assistant professor of Mathematics at West Point from 1845 to 1852.

He was made Major on January, 1864, but resigned from the army when Florida acceded from the Union, and was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel in the Confederate army. He became a full-fledged General in February 1864. He was severely wounded at the battle of Bull Run. He led the advance of General Bragg's army in the Kentucky campaign, and defeated the Northern forces under Gen. William Nelson.

In 1864 he opposed and defeated Gen. Nathaniel P. Banks in the Red River campaign. His forces were the last of the Confederacy to surrender.

Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith was President of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company from 1866 to 1868, and Chancellor of the University of Nashville from 1870 to 1875, when he became Professor of Mathematics in the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. He married Miss Cassie Selden of Virginia in 1863, who, with eleven children, survives him. His eldest son, E. K. Smith, Jr., has been for some years a civil engineer in Mexico.

The funeral services will be held Friday.

Do Not Credit the Report.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The agents of the White Star line in this city do not credit the published report that carrier pigeons have arrived from the Naronic. The pigeons which were on board the missing steamer were fancy birds intended for the poultry show in the Madison Square Garden, and if they had been liberated would not have come this direction. The pigeons are thought to be from some private loft or maybe a yacht.

Two Fishermen Thought to be Lost.

WINTHROP, Mass., March 29.—Two well-known fishermen, George Davis and Anthony Corey, left here Tuesday morning in a 20-foot dorey to set their lobster traps down the harbor. They have not returned, and it is feared that they have been drowned.

James Mulligan Dangerously Sick.

BOSTON, March 29.—James Mulligan, who is well known in this city and throughout the country through his connection with the Blaine-Fisher letters years ago, is very sick with pneumonia at the New England house, where he has lived for many years. He may not recover.

Husband and Cousin Poison the Wife.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 29.—Al Keller and his pretty cousin, Miss Ella Hickman, both well known here, have been arrested charged with putting poison in medicine prescribed by a physician for Keller's wife, who, it is alleged, the couple had reason to want to put out of the way.

VASSAR'S BENEFACTOR.

Mr. Spring is a Chicago Bachelor who has a Friendly Feeling for the College.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Chas. A. Spring the Chicagoan who twice this year has endowed professorships at Vassar has been looked up. It turns out that he is a pleasant faced, stylish looking bachelor about 50 years of age.

In reply to questions, Mr. Spring said his gifts were made from a friendly feeling.

"Then you have not a daughter at Vassar."

"Well I should say not" and the old bachelor laughed heartily, and pointing to a picture of Vassar on the wall of his parlor, he said: "That institution receives few gifts and I was happy to endow the college that trains so many of our American girls."

LIKELY TO BE A FIGHT.

Strikers Say They Won't Allow Italians to Be Put in Their Places.

KEYPORT, N. J., March 29. — There promises to be an interesting time between contractors Hillcot and Ayers, who have charge of the construction of the water works here, and the seventy-five men who went out on strike Monday.

The contractors say that they will pay off the men, and will place fifty Italians at work instead of the strikers, whom they will not take back. The substitution of the Italian laborers is what is likely to cause the trouble, as many of the strikers say that they will not permit the men to fill their places.

The contractors have requested the local authorities to protect their men.

SMYTH EXPLAINS.

Says His Duty in the Carlyle Harris Case Was a Disagreeable One.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 29. — Recorder Smyth, to a Camden lawyer, wrote as follows in reference to his course in the case of Carlyle W. Harris:

"I believe that I decided the motion for a new trial as the law and the facts required. It is not always that a judge who is called upon to perform a disagreeable duty such as the one I had recently to perform can satisfy the public. He must perform his duty as his conscience and the law as he understands it requires."

Fishery Outlook Very Depressing.

ST. JOHNS, March 29.—The fishery this year will probably be the worst on record. Last year the take was over 350,000. This year it will probably be one-third of that, worse even than in 1882, the smallest number in 70 years. This misfortune has a terribly depressing effect upon St. Johns, as it was hoped that a good fishery would have helped to rebuild the town. It is now feared the general business of the country will be greatly cramped.

Testing Iron For Chain Making.

BOSTON March 29.—At the Charlestown, Navy Yard, a series of tests of contract iron for chainmaking has been begun by a delegation of officials from the Equipment Bureau at Washington, and upon the results will depend the existence of a rolling mill and furnace at this yard. Another point of great moment will be determined —the relative qualities of iron for chain and forge purposes when made from scrap or from pig.

Growth of a Packing Firm.

CHICAGO, March 29.—The packing firm of Swift & Co., has increased its capital stock from $7,500,000 to $15,000,000. Thirty years ago the business consisted of a little butcher shop at Cape Cod, Mass., with one wagon.

Their Services Dispensed With.

WASHINGTON, March 29. — Owing to insufficient appropriations for the special service of the General Land Office, the services of many special agents have been dispensed with.

Navigation on the L. & H. Canal.

HONESDALE, Pa., March 29.—Navigation on the Delaware and Hudson canal between Honesdale and the Hudson, will open April 24.

War Between Rival Chiefs.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 29.—The police commissioners have ordered Lieutenants Lee and Foster to appear for trial to-morrow on charges of insubordination, preferred by Democratic-Chief Davis. The chief was ordered to arrest the deposed officers if they appeared on the streets in uniform. Chief Dodd (Republican) served a writ of certiorari on the commissioners, issued from the Supreme Court.

Sank With the Captain Inside Her.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A lighter belonging to the Old Dominion S. S. Co., loaded with barrel staves for the bark Wakefield, sank in her berth. Her captain, name unknown, was supposed to have been on board, and it is believed that he was drowned. Only a small part of the cargo was recovered. The lighter is on the bottom, and only the top of her spars are visible.

New Jersey's New Laws.

TRENTON, N. J., March 29.—Gov. Werts has signed the following: For the annexation of the Essex troops to the National Guards; fixing the term of Overseers of the Poor in second-class cities at three years; authorizing the Boards of Freeholders to employ an engineer to survey county roads and prepare specifications for macadamizing the same.

Street Railway War Over.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., March 29.—The Cayadutta electric railway people have purchased a controlling interest in the Johnstown and Gloversville street railroad, recently equipped for electricity. These two companies have been in open warfare for some time, and this deal makes the Cayadutta people master of the field. The purchase price was fifty per cent. above par.

MacLeans' Reunion During the Fair.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Arrangements have been completed for the great gathering of MacLeans in Chicago in June. All MacLeans everywhere, without regard to present manner of spelling their name, together with all connected with the family marriage, are under invitation to be present.

An Old Lady Disappeared.

PIERMONT, N. J., March 29.—Mrs. Margaret Maroney, 65 years old, disappeared very mysteriously Monday noon, and thus far the most diligent search has revealed no clue to her whereabouts. Parties to search for her have been formed in the neighborhood.

Agricultural Specimens for the Fair.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Department of Agriculture has made another shipment of specimens for exhibition at the World's Fair. At present there are ten men from the Department at Chicago, and twenty more will be sent shortly.

Squabbling Over Adjournment.

ALBANY, March 29.—The Assembly has adopted a concurrent resolution providing for final adjournment on Friday, April 14, but the Senate refused to concur, and returned the resolution to the House.

A Bad Bill Beaten.

ALBANY, March 29.—The Senate has defeated—4 years to 15 nays—Assemblyman Hennessy's bill to exempt medical appointments in cities from civil-service rules.

Will She Keep Her Promise?

NEW YORK, March 29.—Martha Bell, who for years boasted that she would come back after death and demonstrate the truths of spiritualism, was stricken with apoplexy at her home in Brooklyn, and died before medical attendance could reach her.

George B. Galt Dead.

NEW YORK, March 29.—George H. Galt, one of the best known men in the art world of New York, died suddenly at his studio. He was English by birth, but had dwelt in this city for many years.

Ten Applications on File.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Up to date there are ten applications on file in the Department of Agriculture for the assistant secretaryship.

IT MAKES PEOPLE WELL.

Best Spring Remedy in the World.—Paine's Celery Compound.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter, Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

The medical journals of this country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well, than to any other one subject.

—John Dalziel will give one of his very interesting and suggestive talks at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow evening. The admission will be free. The talk that was given by him two weeks ago will be long remembered.

—W. J. Tunison, of 65 Broadway, has on hand a full supply of lawn dressing which is also suitable for grass, trees, plants and shrubbery, and guarantees a rapid growth. He has also a full line of flour, feed, grain, hay, etc., which he is disposing of at most reasonable rates.

—Messrs. Windham & Crowley, proprietors of the Central Hotel, make their announcement in THE PRESS advertising columns to-day. They have opened a first-class pool room in the basement, and have added two new tables of the Griffith & Co. make. Their bar is stocked with a full line of fine wines and liquors for table and medicinal use.

—To make a good appearance and save money is the aim of every thrifty man. To supply that man with fine clothing at a saving over other dealers' prices is the mission of C. Schepflin & Co., in their retail department. They have opened up a large stock of spring goods at wholesale prices, and whether your want is a spring overcoat or suit, or both, they can meet it best.

—The Easter number of Table Talk is now ready, and its multitude of readers will find it fully prepared to meet the appetites of those whose Lenten fasting has paved the way to occasional feasting. The average housewife often perplexed with the question, "What shall I get for dinner?" If she is a reader of Table Talk her perplexity does n't last long. The magazine is the housekeeper's best friend.

BEDLOW A LA DISS DEBAR.

THE LAST OF THE OLD PLAINFIELD FAMILY THREATENS SUICIDE.

He Sends Out a Note to Prove that He Is Drowned—An Attempt to Make It Appear that He Jumped Off the Nineteenth Street Pier—The Woman Who Married Him Last Month Says the Letter Is a Hoax—The Missing Man a Grandson of Col. Bedlow, of Bedlow's Island.

In the mail delivered to the World yesterday morning was an envelope addressed to "Mr. Edeter, New York World, New York City", and containing a badly spelled note. The letter was posted at Station D, and was stamped 10 p. m., March 27. The note read:

dear sor I fond this her letter in A cote and Vest on the dock I kep the cote and Vest I am pore and want them bad maybie you now wat tu du about it I am puer and dont now.

TOMASS MCNANAMARA

P S I font them on the dok last night fot of 1963 t T M

The penmanship indicated that the writer is not so uneducated as he would try to make himself appear. Inclosed in the letter was another sealed envelope, addressed to "Mrs. H. A. B dlow, No. 272 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street, city, care of Turner".

At first sight it looked as if some unfortunate had flung himself into the river and had chosen the World as the medium to announce his death to the only one he believed would be interested in his fate. Investigation, however, showed that in all probability, Henry A. Bedlow, of a good old family whose home was long in Plainfield, had imitated spook priestess Ann O'Delia Diss Debar so far as to write a letter threatening suicide as a means of accounting for his disappearance. Bedlow's motive, it is believed, was to deceive and worry the wife to whom he was wedded last month.

The pier at the foot of West Nineteenth street is used as one of the dumping grounds of the street cleaning department. A World reporter found a policeman of the Steamboat Squad there yesterday and informed him of the alleged finding of a coat and waistcoat, and asked him if he knew anything about it.

"Not a word", replied the policeman. "The letter is undoubtedly a hoax, so far as anybody's drowning himself or anyone else's finding clothing on the pier. In the first place, if a man jumped off the pier he would land in the garbage; but, even if he did get into the water, we should have heard of it. There's a policeman in this neighborhood all the time, day and night. Then that name, McNamara or whatever it is, is Irish, and no Irishmen are employed around here. They're all Italians. If an Italian laborer found a coat or vest he would not be writing of it to the World. If clothing had been found the police would know of it. Coats and vests worth carrying away are so rarely seen on this pier that the find would have furnished plenty of talk."

The reporter examined the surroundings and they confirmed what the policeman had said. A more unsuitable place for suicide by drowning could not well be found along the river front.

Mrs. Henry A. Bedlow rents two rooms on the second floor of 272 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street from a family named Turner. She is about forty-five years old, of medium height, stoutly built and has brown eyes, and very black hair which is worn back from a broad, well-formed forehead. Her rooms face Eighth avenue and are comfortably furnished.

When the World reporter handed her the letter addressed to her, she hastily tore open the envelope, and, as she read the contents, her eyes filled with tears.

The following is the letter, which was written with a lead pencil:

11:30 a. m., March 28, 1893.

DEAR WIFE:—By the time you receive this I shall have ended my troubles and heartaches in this world. Darling, I have tried honestly and faithfully to do right, but without your love my life would be darkness itself. I cannot live without it, and you have told me so often lately that you do not care for me that I fear that I can never again recover what I have lost, so I shall end it all.

Darling, even as I am writing now, you slur and say things which are entirely uncalled for.

Oh, love, I cannot realize that your love is all gone. Perhaps, darling, in after years you will look back upon the few happy days we have spent together.

Darling, there is so much I would like to say, but I dare not trust myself now, for it is better that I finish what I have begun. Good-by, my darling wife, good-by, and may God bless and watch over you will be the last wish and prayer of YOUR OWN BOY.

Dear little wife, I love you, and do till I die. Good-by. HARRY.

"Yes", sighed Mrs. Bedlow, when she had read it, "it is, what you say the policeman called it, a hoax. It is not the first time that my husband has so cruelly sought to frighten me. I have at length grown sceptical of all his threats. We were married only about eight weeks ago—on Feb. 1—and since then he has repeatedly threatened to commit suicide".

Mrs. Bedlow removed her spectacles to wipe the tears away, and then added:

"My husband is thirty-three years old and is or was employed in the Department of Public Works, but, as I have been led to believe, under an assumed name. He is the last of the Bedlows, a grandson of Col. Bedlow, after whom Bedlow's Island was named. Henry met me first three years ago when I was living with my first husband, now dead. Henry was a constant visitor at our house, in fact, he was almost one of the family. My first husband and Henry were great friends. Very few of my friends know of my second marriage, and for no consideration would I have my dead husband's mother know of my troubles, though she is my best friend and I am greatly indebted to and dependent upon her.

"For the same reason I must conceal my maiden name. The last I saw of Henry was on Monday night. He appeared to have been drinking and left me early that same evening. He did not say where he was going.

When asked if she thought there was any other woman in the case Mrs. Bedlow replied, after some hesitation, "Yes, there is, and it is about her that we have quarrelled. I believe that Henry is infatuated with her. She used to live in East Twenty-second street, but from letters I have found I think she is now residing on East Seventeenth street."

Mrs. Bedlow said she believed that the letter to her was written by her husband in their rooms on last Sunday morning. She was in the same room with him when he was writing it, but he made no allusion to the letter's contents.

Howard P. Frothingham, a time loan broker at 2 Wall street, married Miss Julia Bedlow, Henry's sister. Mrs. Frothingham is an invalid and resides at the Plaza Hotel with her husband. She was shocked at hearing of her brother's threats to kill himself.

"I have seen very little of him", she said. "The last time was when he called here with his wife a week ago Sunday. We are of the old Bedlow family, the only one bearing that name in America, and do not know much of my sister-in-law, but as my brother married her she must be an estimable woman."

Mr. Frothingham, who was found at his office, expressed great surprise at the news, but said that he did not care to talk about it.

The Bedlows were for a long time one of Plainfield's most prominent families, and members of the family still live here. The Bedlows concerned in this story are all from Plainfield originally.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A Woman's Narrow Escape.

About 9 this morning some woman by the name of Doyle while engaged picking coal on the track was nearly struck by a freight train. The engineer blew his whistle when about 25 yards from the woman, but she took no heed of the warning until the engine was nearly upon her, when she got out of the way.

Perkins Gets Six Months.

Benjamin Perkins, the colored man who broke into William E. Johnson's pool room on East Front street, during the winter, cut the cloth of his pool tables, and stole some of the property, was sentenced this morning at Elizabeth to six months' imprisonment in the county jail.

This Applies to the Raritan.

Of late years there has been considerable trouble and ill-feeling created among the fishermen and residents along the Raritan river regarding the alleged right to place gill and other nets in the waters of the river below the dam near Bound Brook during the shad season. The law was plain about hauling seines or nets within one thousand feet of the dam, but parties insisted that holding a hand net in the waters with which to catch shad or any other fish that might be ascending the river was not violating the law. The recently enacted law, Senate No. 76, entitled "An act for the protection of certain kinds of birds, animals and fish, and to provide a procedure to recover penalties for the violation hereof", specifically says that it is a violation of the law to so place nets in the waters of the Raritan, as will be seen by the following section:

SECTION 26. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, either on his own land or on the land of any other person, at any time whatsoever, either by day or by night, to put, place or haul any gill, drift, fyke or other net or nets, or any eel pot or pots, basket or baskets, or any other contrivance whatever for the taking or catching of fish in any of the waters of this State above tide water, or to keep any gill, drift, fyke or other net or nets, or any eel pot or pots, basket or baskets, or any contrivance whatever for the taking or catching of fish in any of the said waters mentioned, or to catch or assist in taking or catching any fish in manner aforesaid, or to put, place, haul or keep, or assist in putting, placing, hauling or keeping in any of said waters any of the aforementioned contrivances therefor, or to spear any game fish in any of the aforesaid mentioned waters, or sell or expose for sale, or have unlawfully in possession after the same has been killed, any fish caught by any contrivance prohibited by this section, or to place, keep or use any set line or lines in waters inhabited by bass, pickerel, pike or trout, under a penalty of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars for each and every offence, at the discretion of the justice of the peace, police magistrate or district court before whom said conviction is had: provided, that said penalty shall not apply to the legitimate catching of fish commonly called minnows for bait with a seine not over sixteen feet in length, if the young of bass pickerel, perch, trout and other species of fish known as game fish be not destroyed thereby, or to the catching of fish at any time by or under the orders in writing of the fish and game commissioners of this state; or to the legitimate catching of minnows for bait with a net over sixteen feet in length; provided, a special permit in writing be first obtained from the fish and game commissioners; and provided further, that this penalty shall not apply to the owners or lessees of private ponds which are in no manner runways for migratory fish; and provided further, that this section shall not apply to the river Delaware.

It is to be hoped, therefore, that certain parties who have been in the habit of netting in the above waters will heed the law and save themselves trouble and expense. Senate No. 76 repeals all other laws relative to this subject.

Capt. Davis as a Vertebra.

The Elizabeth Journal says, in connection with publishing his picture:

"While captain J. W. Davis, of the Plainfield Crescents, has not been a member of the executive committee of the Journal league, he has done considerable for the league by his untiring efforts in its behalf. When the Crescents were in a state of uncertainty as to whether or not they would disband, captain Davis, who is one of the strongest vertebra in the Crescent league's backbone, managed, in the face of almost utter disregard of the individual members as to the club's welfare, to keep a bowling team together that met every scheduled game in the Journal league. And the men were not poor bowlers either, but have kept their team the third in pin average for several months. All of this reflects great credit on their captain, whose enthusiasm for the popular winter sport led him with the others to form the first bowling team Plainfield ever had—the Plainfield Bowling club. Later this club was merged into the present Crescent league, and captain Davis was the man who led the Crescent bowlers. He is now serving his second term.

"It is unnecessary to tell of the manner of good fellowship which captain Davis always has, as he is known to every bowler in the county for his jolly, joking disposition."

Plainfield Genius Gleams from Its Pages.

The second and current issue of that beautiful publication, The Quarterly Illustrator, might be called the George Wharton Edwards number, from the space deservedly given to that Plainfield genius. Ferriton Maxwell, a famous authority on art, contributes under the title "A Decorative Illustrator" an entertaining story of Mr. Edwards's career. The bulk of this is the same charming story told originally in the New York Press and these columns, supplemented by honest criticism of Mr. Edwards's later work. The article is profusely illustrated with reproductions of pictures representing the various types of the artist written of.

Mr. Edwards himself contributes many pages of art notes of real interest, and an article in graceful style on "The Illustrations of the Quarter", in which he ably considers the merits of the choicest illustrations that have appeared in the leading publications of the past three months.

The Quarterly Illustrator is a most sumptuous feast of good things, and should adorn the library table of every cultured home. Harry C. Jones is the publisher, at 92-94 Fifth avenue, New York.

Funeral of the Rev. Embury.

The funeral services of the Rev. Edmund Embury took place yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Holy Cross. A short service was held at the house for the members of the family, just previous to the service in the church. The vested choir and clergy met the casket at the entrance to the church, and proceeded up the middle aisle of the church, the rector repeating the words "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord." The officiating clergymen were the Rev. Dr. J. P. Taylor and the Revs. T. Logan Murphy, E. M. Rodman and S. P. Simpson. The musical portion of the service was excellently rendered by the vested choir.

As the remains were borne out of the church the choir and clergy preceded them singing as a processional hymn "O Paradise O Paradise, who doth not long for rest". All the service was said in the church. To-day the remains were taken to Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, for interment.

Let Everybody Go.

The Wrens who will appear in Reform Hall next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Exempt Firemen's Relief Association fund for the sick and disabled, are highly spoken of wherever they have entertained. Says the Elizabeth Herald: "Oliver W. Wren possesses a cultivated and flexible voice, and with his well-developed power of personating character, renders him very popular with all lovers of comic in song, as well as the more grave and pathetic in musical performances. Mr. Wren sang the wonderful story of 'Robinson Crusoe'; he was recalled three times, and delighted the audience with his comic productions, keeping the house in a roar of laughter. Mrs. Wren is one of the most charming of comediennes."

Building Loan Election.

At the annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan association, March 27, the following directors were unanimously re-elected: Lewis E. Barkalew, Wm. R. Codington, B. F. Corlell, John Chandler, E. D. Fluck, John Hickey, Nathan Harper, Henry Liefke, J. F. Sheppard, E. W. Titsworth, Jacob Voehl and Wm. A. Woodruff.

At a subsequent meeting of the board, officers for the ensuing year were chosen as follows:

President—Lewis E. Barkalew.
Vice-president—Henry Liefke.
Treasurer—Wm. R. Codington.
Secretary—Nathan Harper.
Solicitor—John H. Jackson.
Finance Committee — Messrs. Chandler, Corlell and Voehl.

Who Is the Most Popular?

Der Somerset Bote of Bound Brook is running a ballot contest to decide who is the most popular German in Somerset county, Dunellen and Plainfield. There are many contestants, including Joseph Blatz, Fred. Caspar, Chas. Dresselt, John Richter and Peter Conde, all of Plainfield. H. Reimer of Somerville leads with 2597 votes, while policeman Charles Giese of this city is a close second, having 2559 ballots to his credit. The victor will be awarded a beautiful set of the poet Schiller's works. In a notice, Mr. Caspar gallantly transfers his votes to Mr. Giese.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

THE NEW BOARDER WAS A THIEF.

He Ransacked the Lodgers' Rooms and Got Away with Abundant Booty.

Mrs. Z. Pearson, of 21 West Second street, keeps a boarding house, and her boarders are mostly machinists. On Monday night a stranger applied for board, representing himself as agent for some patent face powder. He wanted to remain for two weeks. Strange to say, the man was not even asked his name, but was assigned a room on the second floor. Yesterday morning after the other boarders had gone to work the stranger ransacked their trunks and stole $109 in money, a gold watch and chain, some gold rings, and a quantity of clothing. He then left the house unnoticed, and the robbery was not discovered until the chambermaid went to make the beds and found the rooms in great disorder. The heaviest loser is Chas. Linmark, a machinist, who lost $100 in money. The police were notified, but the thief is still at large. The man is described as about 40 years old, medium height, smooth face and fairly well dressed.

A Charming Concert.

Naught but praise can be said of the concert given by the Bradford trio in All Souls' church last evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

While each of the young people composing the trio displayed remarkable musical ability and much study and cultivation, the violin playing of Miss Cecelia was especially delightful, her rendering of the "Seventh Concerto" by DeBeriot, and Cavitina by Bohme being perfect.

Each number on the programme was calculated to make glad the heart of any lover of music, and that the large audience assembled last evening were pleased and delighted was evidenced by the frequent and deserving applause.

Sudden Death of an Old Resident.

John W. Moore of 95 Grove street was found dead in his bed this morning. He had been suffering from the grip, which affected his heart, and paralysis of that organ is given as the cause of death. Mr. Moore was one of the borough's best known citizens, and was a prominent wholesale flour merchant in New York. He was a widower, and leaves one son, Harry, who succeeds him in business.

The funeral will be from the house Friday afternoon at 2:15.

The Safe Upset the Horse.

That big new safe for the city offices in the Coward building is causing no end of trouble. This afternoon after much effort it was hauled part way up the stairs when it began to slip back again. The horse hauling it by ropes and pulleys was dragged back as it slid down stairs, and after ineffectual struggles thrown to the ground. There was much excitement, and a big crowd gathered. Finally the difficulty was overcome, and the work of hauling was resumed.

A Plainfield Workman Hurt.

At 10 this morning a collapse occurred of the Pennsylvania railroad trestle elevation at Broad street, Elizabeth, precipitating engine, flat cars, derrick and iron girders, to the pavement. Four men were badly shaken up and cut and bruised, among them Lewis Coddington, formerly of Plainfield, and brother of James who works at Compton's.

Now the Streets Will Be Clean.

The new road scraper for the city arrived last night. It is a dandy. When taken from the cars, Gazelle's and Zephyr's horses were attached, and street commissioner Meeker mounted it with Gazelle's driver Mike Seader and had a sort of triumphal parade. To-day the machine was put to work, and found to be highly satisfactory.

His Leg Hurt by the Locomotive.

Night flagman Michael Gould at the Church street crossing was struck on the leg by locomotive 328 about 3 this morning. It was at first thought that the leg was broken, but later it was found it was only bruised. He was able to go on the 5 o'clock train to his home at Bergen Point.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

I suffered for more than ten years with that dreadful disease, catarrh, and used every available medicine which was recommended to me. I cannot thank you enough for the relief which Ely's Cream Balm has afforded me. Emanuel Mayost, Winfield, L. I., N. Y.

DRIVEN OUT OF FRANCE

A German Newspaper Correspondent Assaulted in Paris.

THEY WANT TO KNOW WHO "X" IS.

Not Only the Correspondent but Also Wife and Daughters are Insulted, One Daughter Receiving Seven Cuts—Police Gave no Protection.

PARIS, March 29.—Otto Brandes, Paris correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, who was ordered from the country on suspicion of having been the author of an article charging Ernest Carnot of receiving Panama money, went to the police bureau and gave notice that he would start for Germany at once.

His house in Asnieres, a suburb of Paris, had already been covered with insulting placards, and when he left it with Mrs. Brandes, a crowd of men and boys began hooting and groaning at him. The crowd followed Mr. and Mrs. Brandes to the train without an effort from the police to drive them back.

Shortly afterward Mr. Brandes' daughters left the house to meet their parents in the city. The young women were surrounded by forty men and boys, were insulted and hustled about, and, before they could get to the train, were struck repeatedly with sticks and lumps of dirt. One of the daughters received a severe cut on the head, and required the services of a physician before she could leave the city.

The Government made no effort to protect the Brandes family from such abuses, but even allowed them to travel without the usual escort of gendarmes.

The Panama Inquiry.

M. Andrieux, ex-Prefect of Police, was before the Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry in the Panama case yesterday to testify concerning the mysterious "X" who received 500,000 francs from the Panama exemption fund.

He repeated his statement that "X" was either a conspicuous diplomatist or a member of the Carnot family. He had been driven by force of circumstances to reveal "X's" correct name to M. Clemenceau. Cornelius Herz, who first knew "X's" correct name, had authorized him to make it public. Motives of honor, however prevented him doing so at present.

M. Andrieux added that if the Government would place at his disposal a special official with a warrant he would agree to arrest M. Arton, the fugitive Panama lobbyist, within a week.

Denies That Americans Are Persecuted.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 29.—The Government denies the reports of anti-Christian riots in Caesarea and other cities of Asia Minor. The reports, it says, were great exaggerations of a trivial quarrel between a dozen school children and two pupils of the American Protestant school in Marsovan. The trouble was rendered notable by the intervention of an employee of the American consulate.

FOR SUNDAY GAMES.

A Syndicate After the Philadelphia and Washington League Teams.

BALTIMORE, March 29.—It is reported that a syndicate has been formed in Philadelphia for the purpose of purchasing the franchises of the Baltimore and Washington baseball clubs. According to the rumor the syndicate is composed of some of the leading sporting men of the Quaker City and they are prepared to make an offer of fifty thousand dollars for the two clubs, a consideration of big figures.

One feature of the deal is said to be Sunday games at Alexandria, Va. It has been an open secret for some time that the Washington managers intended to sell out their Washington franchise, and Mr. Von der Horst will consider a fair offer for the Baltimore club.

Famous Ball Player Dying.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—A private telegram from Hot Springs, Ark., says that Robinson, the greatest second baseman the St. Louis Browns ever had, and who was with the club the four years when it was the champion of the American Association, is dying there of quick consumption. He is reduced to a mere skeleton, weighing 75 pounds.

Is a positive cure for all those painful

Ailments of Women.

It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, all Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, of the Womb, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life. Every time it will cure

Backache.

It has cured more cases of Leucorrhœa than any remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors from the Uterus in an early stage of development, and checks any tendency to cancerous humors. That causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the laws that govern the female system, and is as harmless as water. It removes

Irregularity,

Suppressed or Painful Menstruations, Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Flooding, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility. Also

Dizziness, Faintness,

Extreme Lassitude, "don't care" and want to be left alone" feeling, excitability, Irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. These are sure indications of Female Weakness, some derangement of the Uterus, or

Womb Troubles.

The whole story, however, is told in an illustrated book entitled "Guide to Health," by Mrs. Pinkham. It contains over 90 pages of most important information, which every woman, married or single, should know about herself. Send 2 two-cent stamps for it. For and Backache of either sex the Vegetable Compound is unequaled.

Kidney Complaints

PEEPERS FROM A UNIVERSITY.

Warrants for Two Students in Georgia for Peeping at Boarding School Girls.

ATHENS, Ga., March 29.—Miss Rutherford, principal of the Lucy Cobb Institute, has decided to cause the arrest of two of the best known young men in the State University here for Peeping through the windows at the institute.

On Friday night last Miss Rutherford discovered the boys peeping through the blind, watching the calisthenics class of young ladies in the regular drill. This conduct made Miss Rutherford very indignant, and on Saturday she sent for the young men and told them that if they did not leave town she would have them arrested. They did not leave and she swore out warrants requesting their arrest on the charges of trespass.

The young men are well known as society leaders. One of them is the head of the leading social and dancing club of the city. It is said that Miss Rutherford is sustained by Chancellor Boggs of the University.

Cholera Has Come Again.

KALAMAZOO CELERY

IS SO HEALTHFUL

That it should be used in every family at least once a week.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY EXTRACT OR TONIC,

For soda fountains, bars and the kitchen.

This is the Triple Extract of our famous Kalamazoo Celery, prepared directly from the plant, and not a mere flavor of the seed. It makes an elegant drink, when drawn from a soda fountain; cooling, delicious and beneficial, having the rich, fruity flavor of our celery. As a morning bracer it has no equal, is excellent for beef tea and celery, and a dash in a Manhattan makes life worth living. In the house it is indispensable, for making soups, ice creams and ices, celeryades, etc. Ask your grocer or druggist for it; take only the Kalamazoo brand, all others imitations.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE PELLETS.

These pellets are prepared directly from our famous Celery, and contain all of it's well-known curative properties. They are invaluable as a household remedy. They are guaranteed to be purely vegetable and to be a sure specific for all cases of nervous prostration, headaches, impotency, insomnia, all stomach troubles, chronic constipation (the bane of the American people) and are positively the only Pellet that will not cause the system constipated. 25 cts. per package.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE AND TONIC.

Our Nervine and Tonic is prepared directly from our famous Celery, and in connection with other herbs of well-known valued medicinal qualities, forms without a doubt the best family medicine for the nerves the stomach and blood. It is nature's own remedy for building up and restoring a run down or exhausted nervous system: as a spring tonic it has no equal. Ask your druggist for these preparations that come direct from nature's celery garden. Take no others. If you cannot get our preparations at your druggist, send 25 cents in stamps and we will mail you a package of the Nervine Pellets and one of our beautiful Embossed Celery Recipe Books free.

NARONIC HEARD FROM

A Bottled Letter Found on the Virginia Shore.

STRUCK BY AN ICEBERG AND SUNK.

The Watchman on the Beach at Ocean View Made the Find—John Olsen, a Cattleman, Wrote It Feb. 19, Just Before the Ship Went Down—In the Midst of a Storm—Is of Course Some Doubt of the Genuineness of the Letter.

NORFOLK, Va., March 30.—The report that news has been received from the lost Naronic has caused a great sensation here, and many doubt the genuineness of the source. While the word of the finder of of the evidence is not doubted still he may have been made the victim of a trick. If no trick is discovered all speculation regarding the long overdue freights will end and she will soon be forgotten.

William Johnson, the winter watchman at Ocean View, Va., a summer resort near the mouth of Chesapeake Bay, has picked up on the beach at that place a bottle with several corks tied about its neck and with a letter enclosed, giving alleged information from one of the crew of the sinking of the White Star Line steamship Naronic. The letter reads:

8:30 a. m. Feb. 19, S. S. Naronic, White Star line, at sea.

To who picks this up: Report when you find this to our agents, if not heard before, that our ship is fast sinking beneath the waves, and it's such a storm that we can never live in the small boats.

One boat has already gone, with her human cargo, below. God let all of us live through this.

We were struck by an iceberg in a blinding snowstorm and floated two hours.

Now it is 8:30 a. m. by my watch and the great ship is deck level with the sea.

Report to the agents at Broadway, New York, M. Kersey & Co. Good bye all.

JOHN OLSEN, Cattleman.

Whether or not the bottle could have drifted from the neighborhood of the Grand Banks, or the Labrador current, which skirts the west edge of the Gulf Stream, flowing southwest, is a matter for the students of the eccentricities of currents to find out. From the date of the bottle message, Feb. 19, to yesterday, thirty-eight days elapsed.

The Naronic was, if she were not crippled, within about five or six days of this port. This conjecture allows her several days more than her usual time for the turbulent weather encountered by nearly all steamships throughout February.

The question is, could the Labrador current bring the bottle down from the north of the Grand Banks, about 1,100 miles, in thirty-eight days.

Icebergs have been sighted several times in February in the track of freighters from northern Europe; but none of the steamships of the regular lines, that take safe tracks, observed any bergs, although some field ice was passed.

For Alienating His Wife's Affections.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30.—Rudolphe H. Fonda, of Home Place, a confidential clerk employed by the Adams Express company has brought suit against John H. Norton, of Meriden, for the alienation of his wife's affections, claiming $10,000. The complainant alleges that the defendant counselled the plaintiff's wife to get a divorce from him and has deprived him of her affections. The papers in the suit have been served and the case is returnable to the Superior court the first Tuesday in May.

New York Times Publishing Company.

ALBANY, March 30.—The New York Times publishing company of New York city has been incorporated with the Secretary of State. The capital stock is $1,250,000 and the company is formed to publish the New York Times and any other newspaper or newspapers, daily, semi-weekly, weekly or otherwise or magazines which it may hereafter acquire or establish. The directors are Charles R. Miller, Charles E. Mellen, Samuel Ordway, New York city; George F. Spinney and Henry Yonge, Brooklyn.

Received Forged Checks.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 20.—It is learned that a forged draft for $10,000 on the First National Bank and another for $500 on the City National Bank have been received by the banks named. The drafts came from the First National Bank of San Francisco and are signed "Allen L. McDonald." The person signing them is under arrest in San Francisco awaiting information from this city.

Ten Years for Murder.

VINCENNES, Ind., March 30.—The jury in the Bohannan murder case has returned a verdict, finding the defendant guilty of voluntary manslaughter and fixed his punishment at imprisonment for ten years. The evidence showed that Charles Bohannan and George W. Doane were in love with Sallie Gladden and the girl favored Doane, and for that reason Bohannan shot and killed him January 29, 1893.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The President has sent to the Senate the following nominations:

Treasury—Herman Stump, of Maryland, to be Superintendent of Immigration, vice Wm. D. Owen, resigned.

William P. Thompson, of Maine, to be Collector of Customs for the District of Belfast, Maine.

Brooks' Statue Sculptor Chosen.

BOSTON, March 30.—Augustus Saint Gaudens of New York has been selected as the sculptor who will design and make the statue of Phillips Brooks, which will be bronze. The details of the statue will be left largely to the judgment of Mr. St. Gaudens. The exact location of the statue has not been decided upon, and is not likely to be at present.

Not Accessory to Freda Ward's Death.

MEMPHIS, March 30.—Miss Lillie Johnson, who was indicted as accessory to the murder of Freda Ward by Alice Mitchell has been discharged, there being no evidence against her. Miss Mitchell is still in the insane asylum at Bolivar, Tenn.

A Runaway Boy from Springfield.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., March 30.—Daniel Hennessy, fourteen years old, is held by the local police as a runaway. He confessed that he had run away from his home, in Springfield, Mass., and that his father's name was John Hennessy.

THE FLEET GATHERING.

Gherardi Leaves the Brooklyn Navy Yard for Hampton Roads With Five Ships.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Admiral Gherardi sailed for Hampton Roads this morning. His fleet consists of the Philadelphia, Baltimore, Vesuvius and Cushing leaving only the Bancroft, which was docked yesterday. As soon as she leaves the docks she will sail to join the other vessels.

The arrival of these vessels will make the fleet in the roads number thirteen, the Chicago, Concord, Newark, Bennington, Atlanta, Charleston, San Francisco and Dolphin being already there.

The Bancroft, added to these will complete the fleet of our ships that will take part in the naval parade.

THE WAR AT ANTLERS.

Loche and His Men Still Hold the Town—Another Attack Probable.

PARIS, Tex., March 30.—Antlers is very quiet to-day, but all are in an expectant state. The militia have gone away and it is reported that they have disbanded. Loche, who is at Antlers with but a few trusty men, says he will not leave. The examining trial of the men arrested Tuesday night is going on to-day.

There is a strong belief that the town will be burned. Solomon Bartlett, who was shot by Loche and his men is reported to be dying.

It is believed that the militia will make another attack on Loche at the first opportunity.

BOYS ON A STRIKE.

Demand an Increase of Pay for Work in an Iron Mill.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30.—The boys employed in the finishing department of Painter's Iron Mill, southside, numbering 200, have struck for an advance in wages. The boys are employed by the rollers and eight finishing mills are affected.

They have been orderly so far, but the firm fearing trouble have requested police protection.

The strikers are not permitted about the plant.

They are confident of winning.

Albany Argus Under New Management.

ALBANY, March 30.—One half of the stock of the Albany Argus has been transferred to Wm. M. Speer, the legislative correspondent of the New York Sun, who secured the Cassidy and Smith interests. The probable outcome of the transfer will be that James H. Manning, the president of the Argus company and managing editor of the paper will resign and that the policy of the paper will be changed from that of a Cleveland organ to a state democratic organization paper.

Change of Name Denied.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Vice-President Tuttle, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. denies absolutely the report that the name of that corporation is to be the "New Haven & Old Colony R. R. Co." The old name is regarded as a valuable railroad trade mark. The question of the new five-hour trains to Boston over the Shore Line probably will not be decided fully until the summer arrangement is made; but no doubt is entertained that such trains will be put on.

Keyport's Strike Ended.

KEYPORT, N. J., March 30.—The strikers on the water system have returned to work, the contractors having paid the men. The strikers made threats that if Italians were brought here they would not let them work. It was deemed best by the contractors to let the men return, and operations were resumed. The work will now be continued until it is finished, which will be about May 1.

Young Shepard to Become an Editor.

NEW YORK, March 30.—It is stated that there will be no change in the late Col. Shepard's management of the Mail and Express. It is understood that the paper will be managed in the interest of the minor son, who is now at a collegiate institute in New Jersey. It is said that under the terms of the will the young man will take charge of the paper on attaining his majority.

The Cup Defenders.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., March 30.—Captain William Hanson, who is to sail one of the New York cup defenders, now building at Bristol, in conversation about the probable speed of the boats now being built, said he thought the Boston boats would be fast in light weather, but not good in heavy weather. He thought the increased size of the fin keel might help them.

Fear a Quarry Strike at Barre.

BARRE, Vt., March 30.—Some anxiety is felt here lest a strike should occur among the granite quarrymen, which would entail much damage upon employers and employed. The quarrymen were not included in the strike or subsequent settlement of last year and they demand that their union be given recognition by the manufacturers.

Troops Detailed for Duty at Chicago.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Superintendent of the Military Academy at West Point will detail one non-commissioned engineer officer and two first-class privates for duty at the World's Fair. The commanding officer of Willet's Point, N. Y., will detail one non-commissioned officer and four first-class privates for like duty.

Maxwell Begins Work.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell has appointed 69 fourth class postmasters. All but thirteen of these involve removals.

Old Man Burned to Death.

CORTLAND, N. Y., March 29.—Horatio W. Millar, 80 years old, was burned to death at his home on Snyder Hill, three miles from here.

AN ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

Young Couple Lock the Door and Turn on the Gas.

IS THE GIRL ARABELLA M'CORD

After Much Trouble the Pair Find a Minister Who Would Marry Them to Elizabeth—The Hotel People Break Open Their Door and Succeed in Bringing the Two to Life—Next Day They Left for Parts Unknown.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 30.—It is believed that Arabella McCord, of Ramsey's who is said to have eloped a week ago, was married here and that she and her husband speedily repented and attempted suicide. A young man, accompanied by a girl answering the description of Miss McCord, registered at Ryan's Hotel, in Elizabeth, last Thursday. The young man entered his residence as Pennsylvania. This strengthens the belief that the young woman was Miss McCord; as her friends believe that she has eloped with some young man whose acquaintance she made while in Philadelphia.

They sat in the parlor of the hotel for a while talking earnestly. Then the young man asked the clerk of the hotel if he would send for a minister. The clerk did not comply and the couple appealed to Manager Sexton, whom they asked for this favor. Mr. Sexton suggested that they get a hack and go to the home of some clergyman and have the ceremony performed.

Hackman John White was summoned and drove the couple to the homes of two clergymen and to two justices of the peace. All declined to marry the couple without witnesses. The couple were then driven around until persons were found who were willing to become witnesses. The marriage, it is alleged, was then performed by an assistant pastor of one of the churches.

The couple then returned to the hotel and a room was assigned them. During the evening Mr. Lonely, one of the guests, detected the odor of gas in the hall and reported to the clerk. An investigation was made and the gas seemed to be coming from the room occupied by the newly married couple. The clerk knocked on the door but there was no response.

The clerk and some of the guests forced open the door. When they entered the room they found the couple nearly asphyxiated by gas, which was pouring from two burners, both turned on full force. The young woman was lying on the bed and the young man sitting in a stupor on a chair. Fresh air was admitted to the room and the young couple resuscitated.

They departed early Friday morning. Both seemed to be intelligent, and it is suspected that the condition in which they were found was not the result of accident.

YALE'S CREW.

Capt. Ives Makes His Final Selection for This Year.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 30.—Capt. S. B. Ives of the Yale crew has selected the ten men who will compose the Yale crew during the remainder of the season. As usual, the number of candidates for the crew have several times been cut down the past two months, the last reduction leaving thirteen aspirants for seats in the boat. This is the last cut of the season.

The names of the fortunate oarsmen and their present positions on the crew are as follows:

Stroke—Galladdet.
7—Ives (Captain).
6—Paine.
5—Beard.
4—Folger.
3—Rogers.
2—Messler.
Bow—Johnson.
Substitutes—Chatfield and Goetchius.

These men will remain in the city through the Easter vacation and practice on the local harbor twice a week under the direction of ex-Captains Stevenson, Cowles, Rogers, Hartwell, and probably "Bob" Cook.

The new launch has been put upon the water, and everything is in readiness for a hard week's vacation practice.

Word has been received from Van Huyck, the absent member of the crew, that his eye is improving. He hopes to be back in his old seat in No. 3 by April 15.

World's Fair Rate Settled.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A meeting of the joint committee of the passenger and freight agents of the Trunk Line Association was held yesterday. The question of the World's Fair rates was under discussion and it was agreed to issue round trip tickets to Chicago at the reduction previously settled upon, which is twenty per cent. reduction on regular fares on ordinary trains between Chicago and New York.

Cone Makers on Strike.

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 30.—Seventy-five cone makers employed at the Worthington Pump Works have struck work on account of the firm's refusal to discharge a non-union man who has been employed at the foundry for two weeks. The company employs over four hundred men, and unless the strikers return or their places are speedily filled the works will be so crippled as to cause a suspension of operations.

Fifteen Died of the Flames.

BERLIN, March 30.—The mining town of Kaernten, near Bleiberg, is burning. Two churches and sixty-five houses have been destroyed and the fire still spreads. Fifteen persons are known to have died in the flames and several others are missing.

Kearsarge Off For Haiti.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 30.—The United States war vessel Kearsarge left for Port au Prince, with the object, it is understood, of protecting American interests in the event of a revolution in Haiti.

HARRIS NERVOUS.

The Prison Physician Says He is Not Failing in Health.

SING SING, March 30.—Prison Physician Irvine says that Carlyle Harris, who is confined in the death house awaiting the time for his execution, is not failing in health, but merely suffering from nervous headaches, probably produced by the severe mental strain which he has undergone for several months.

Harris has impressed Dr. Irvine that he is well up in medicine, but the doctor does not think it would be wise to allow Harris to take antipyrine powders at his own discretion for headaches.

The powders are given to Harris in limited numbers, so they cannot possibly do him any harm.

Warden Brown is exercising extraordinary precautions to prevent Harris from committing suicide, should he feel disposed to do so.

Every person and article that goes to Harris is closely scrutinized.

MAD AT THE GOVERNOR.

The Colorado Senate Passed a Bill Over His Veto—Harsh Things Said.

DENVER, Col., March 30.—By far the stormiest session which the Senate has yet had was held yesterday when the bill abolishing the railroad commission was passed over the veto of the Governor.

The matter was called up by Senator Ralsinger, who declared that Governor Waite was a deliberate liar when he declared that the Republicans of Gilpin were corporation tools. He referred to Gov. Waite as "that long haired populist crank" and declared that he was a disgrace to the party. He characterized the entire message as a tissue of falsehoods.

Senator Balsinger publicly divorced himself from the Populist party, and when the roll was called the bill was passed by a vote of 29—6, four Populists voting against the Governor.

The chances for the bill to pass the House are good.

OHIO COAL MINE BURNING.

The Fire Got a Good Start and Can Not Now be Put Out.

TRINDLE, O., March 30.—A fire has started in the Phoenix Coal Company's mine No. 2, at Jacksonville. The fire caught from a shot which ignited the gas, carrying the fire to the fine coal which had been shoveled aside.

The shot that resulted so disastrously was fired just before the miners left the mine and was not discovered until the men went to work in the morning, thus giving it a good start.

The fire is still raging and the mine will prove a total loss.

Say He Was Leprosy.

OAKLAND, Ill., March 30.—There is great excitement here on account of a man named Allison, who, the doctors say, has the genuine leprosy. Allison was married only a few weeks ago, but his flesh is sloughing off of his bones and his face is as spotted as a leopard. The physicians say that the disease is contagious and as his wife has had a chance to catch it she will be quarantined.

The Stage Children's Bill.

NEW YORK, March 30.—A. M. Palmer, Dan Frohman, Mark Klaw, Joseph Jefferson and Charley Thomas have gone to Albany, where, as a delegation of theatrical managers, they will appear before the Committee on Codes and argue against Elbridge T. Gerry and in favor of the Stage Children's bill introduced by Assemblyman Sullivan, and which is now before the Legislature.

Death of a 526-Pound Man.

RAHWAY, N. J., March 30.—Joseph Tavmor 60 years old, a native of Staffordshire, England, is dead here. He was more than six feet in height and weighed 526 pounds.

An Aged Woman Burned to Death.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 30.—Ellen Connelly, a cook, employed in the family of Mrs. Mary F. Southworth, this city, was burned to death. She was 72 years old.

THE OFFER ACCEPTED

Andrieux Commissioned to Find and Arrest Arton.

TREATMENT OF BRANDES RESENTED

One Paris Actress Mutilates a Rival's Face With a File—The London Tabernacle Elects Their Former Preacher's Son to Fill Their Pulpit—A German Mining Town Burning—Many Perishing—Cholera Making Inroads in Russia and Austria.

PARIS, March 30.—At the session yesterday of the Parliamentary Commission of Inquiry appointed to examine into the Panama scandal, M. Andrieux, ex-Prefect of the Parisian police offered, if the Government would place a special officer at his disposal, to arrest Arton, the alleged go-between in a number of bribery transactions, within a week. It has been more than hinted that the government was not at all anxious to have Arton arrested, fearing the effect of the revelations he might make. The government however has shown that it really desires to have the man in custody, and M. Ribot, the Prime Minister, has notified Andrieux that his offer to arrest Arton had been accepted, and that M. Clement, who is an experienced officer, had been detailed to assist him in capturing Arton.

Since the scandal was made public Arton has been reported to be in many European capitals and smaller towns, where he is said to have spent money lavishly and with no apparent fear of his mode of life attracting attention to him and thus leading to his arrest.

His whereabouts at present is not a matter of public knowledge.

THE GERMANS OBJECT.

Caprivi's Paper Says that the French Government's Policy is Weak.

BERLIN, March 30.—The Norddeutsche Allegemeine Zeitung, the organ of Chancellor von Caprivi, contained yesterday a strong leader concerning the treatment of of German newspaper correspondents by the French Government. The mobbing of Otto Brandes' family in Paris is the text from which the article was written.

The object of the French Government in its unjustifiable proceeding against German correspondents, says the Norddeutsche, is to divert public attention from the Panama scandal and to direct the passions of the French people against foreigners. After enumerating the Germans who have suffered from this policy, the writer continues thus:

"It undoubtedly is the right of the French Government to expel every obnoxious foreigner from the country without assigning any reason. We do not dispute this right, but we say that an appeal to popular hatred is always a dangerous weapon and that if this weapon be drawn against the Germans in France to assist the Government in escaping the consequences of the Panama and other scandals, it will have results which is not difficult to estimate. We shall know what is to be expected when the French Government finds it necessary to surmount still more serious difficulties than the present one by diversions against foreign countries."

Rippey Wants a Speedy Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The grand jury is working on the case against Rippey, Mackay's assailant. It is said Rippey will be indicted for assault to commit murder, and that he will not have a preliminary trial in the police court. Rippey when told about the possible indictment said he was satisfied and wanted a speedy trial.

Bank Failure Excitement Over.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 30.—The financial situation is remarkably quiet. There is not even the slightest suspicion of excitement. The Mechanics Bank, which was slightly affected by the failure, is paying those who wish to check out. The deposits, however, with this bank are large.

For Aged and Invalid Women.

"Are you sure that you wish to live to be three score and ten?" asked a reporter says the Boston Globe, of an old lady in Roxbury the other day.

"Yes," she replied, "if I could be sure of living the last days of my life in the Home on Burton avenue."

The Roxbury Home for children and aged women occupies the building, a picture of which is given above.

It is one of the best institutions of its kind in the country; its board of managers is composed of some of the best known men and women in Boston, of whom Solon W. Bush is president.

It affords a temporary home for many worthy persons, but preference is given to those who are residents of that part of Boston formerly known as Roxbury.

When one considers that only one person in a thousand dies of old age, the only disease that should rightfully claim any of us, it occurs that there is need of some thing to correct the fatal tendencies of modern living.

Good nerves are the well-spring of life, and to impoverished blood and a diseased nervous system, are due primarily more untimely deaths than all other cases put together.

It was in view of this that Paine's celery compound was first prescribed by the most eminent practitioner of these latter days; after years of study and investigation, a practical food for the nerves and blood was found which has proved in years of practice a certain cure for the ills sleeplessness, dyspepsia, kidney troubles, neuralgia and the rest, the result frequently from overwork or improper living.

This Paine's celery compound makes people well, as thousands of persons in the country have testified every year, but no better testimonial has been received than that from the Roxbury home for aged women, the matron of which says: "We realize that Paine's celery compound has been very beneficial."

One of the inmates, Mrs. Hannah Patterson, 90 years old, has been greatly benefitted by Paine's celery compound; she can sew as well as she could at 50, which she has not been able to do for ten or twelve years, because she was unable to hold the work in her hands.

Miss Lucy Mann, another resident of the Home, has been cured of general prostration, and these and others could not say enough in praise of the remedy that has made them well.

Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine, a sarsaparilla, or an ordinary tonic, but is as superior to them all as the diamond is to ordinary glass. It is to be had at any drug store, and in these months of March, April, May, when as everybody knows, a true nerve tonic and blood purifier is essential, it is in greater demand, the world over, than all the hundred and one nostrums that people are from year to year beguiled into using.

—Edward White has something interesting to say to the ladies in regard to Easter wants and fixings. He is offering special inducements in kidgloves, etc. Every purchaser gets a beautiful painting.

—The Courier stated last evening that Arthur Scott was confined to his home on West Third street with an attack of rheumatism. Mr. Scott wishes this denied, as he is able to go out and attend to his work.

—Those who wear clothes want, besides clothes that wear, clothes that are cut in the latest style, faultlessly trimmed and that fit to perfection. At no establishment are all these requirements more complete than at George Watson & Co's, corner of Broad and Market streets, Newark, one block from the Central railroad station. The spring walking and business suits now shown are high-class in every particular, but low in price.

Willibald Can't Leave the Jail.

The hearing in the case of officer Corsa against Fred. Willibald, who is charged with stealing $130 from the ticket office in the North avenue station, was to-day indefinitely postponed. The prisoner waived examination on one charge, that of stealing from the Union News company, and a hearing in the other matter was set down for this afternoon. Prosecutor Marsh, however, refused to release Willibald from the Elizabeth jail without bail, and he must therefore remain in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

A Double Bass in This Quintette.

At Mr. Venino's concert, April 13, in the Casino, the audience will be treated to a novelty, a quintette for violin, viola, 'cello, double bass and piano. On account of the unusual combination (most quintettes being written for first and second violins, viola, 'cello and piano) Mr. Venino had to engage an extra man, being desirous of giving his audience a rare and beautiful, as well as new, composition.

Charming Girls Won Pretty Prizes.

Miss Maud Benton of Dunellen charmingly entertained her friends at progressive euchre yesterday afternoon. Miss Phebe Mills again captured first prize, Miss Stelle luckily won the second. After refreshments were served, all bade their hostess good-bye, agreeing that the afternoon had been a very pleasant one.

Pistr and Shovels Flew Promiscuous.

Annie Fisher and her sister went to Betty Brown's on Kensington avenue, yesterday, and got in a wrangle. Betty punched Annie in the eye with her fist, and hit her with a shovel. Ferdinand Brown, the husband of Betty, knocked Annie's sister down. Annie got a warrant for Betty.

Select Dramatics in the Borough.

The members of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein are arranging for a grand dramatic entertainment to take place in their hall the second Monday in April. As it will be for the members and their families only, admission will be by invitation.

They're a Pretty Sight.

Leal's Cadets hold daily drills, in full uniform, on Broadway. Under the instructions of Commander Edwards, the cadets are becoming highly expert in military tactics.

There Are Many Complaints Like This.

One of the street lights on Craig place, North Plainfield, was out for five successive nights, last week, and the vicinity of the German Reformed church was consequently thrown in total darkness.

Oh for Macadam!

One of George Conover's furniture vans got stuck in the mud hub deep, on West Fourth street, Tuesday afternoon, and it was necessary to dig the van out with shovels.

To-morrow being Good Friday, there will be a service and sermon in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Clinton avenue, at p. m.

A Card.

Special at Neuman Bros., for Friday and Saturday, two jars of imported strawberry jam, 35 cents.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

A LANDMARK DESTROYED.

Hyde's Mill Burned to the Ground, With Its Contents and Adjoining Buildings.

Fire early this morning destroyed the old landmark known as Hyde's mill, situated along Green brook at the rear of Mr. Hyde's private residence on East Front street.

About 4 o'clock some belated wayfarer saw a fierce light in that direction, and ran down Norwood avenue shouting "Fire!" He told the night watchman of the district, and an alarm was sent in immediately from box 16.

The Plainfield firemen were quick to respond, but when they reached the scene the mill was found to be a mass of flames, and the fire was spreading to adjoining buildings. There were no hydrants in reach, and the water had to be pumped from the brook. The lack of hydrants was felt by the firemen, who find them much more serviceable than the engines.

The burning buildings were on the North Plainfield side of the brook, and when borough chief Fairchild ran to the fire and found it was in his territory he went to Warren engine-house and sounded the call for district 3. By that time the fire was under control, and the Plainfield firemen yielded the work to the borough department. Warren's men stayed on duty till 7:30, when the last spark was extinguished.

The mill was occupied by Charles H. Randolph as a grist mill. His stock of grain, kindling wood, etc., was consumed. The ice-house adjoining the mill, with its new crop of ice, was destroyed, and the dwelling occupied by John L. Ludlum's coachman, which backed up close to the ice-house, was badly damaged. Yet the stable between the mill and ice-house was saved, also the $500 sluice-way of the mill, and one or two small outbuildings.

Mr. Hyde estimates his loss at between $4,000 and $5,000. He had no insurance; in fact, never carries any on his outbuildings. He has lost seven barns by fire, with never a cent of insurance.

Miller Randolph's stock was worth about $2,000, on which the insurance was 1,500. The burned dwelling was worth probably $2,500. Mr. Ludlum's loss is $1,000 partly insured. Chas. Jedder, his coachman, loses $400 on furniture and household goods. His insurance is $600

The burned mill was one of Plainfield's landmarks. It was one of the oldest sites in town, and was built fully half a century ago, by Lewis M. Force, father of the publishers of THE PRESS, who when it was farmland owned the large estate running from Front street to the mountain. That estate was sold 35 years ago for $6,000, which was considered a fair price in those days. Plainfield's great future was not foreseen. The mill was used at one time as a pin factory, but grinding grain has been its greatest usefulness. The pond was dug out and built by all the people of the neighborhood, at an old-time "frolic". The original overshot water-wheel was only recently replaced with a turbine.

The mill was popularly known as Hotchkiss's, Mr. Hotchkiss having owned it for years previous to Mr. Hyde's purchase.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Mr. Hyde has the gratitude of the firemen for his generous donation to them.

GOOD NEIGHBORS AT ODDS.

Two Business Houses Occupying the Same Premises Engage in a Row and Lawsuit.

A. G. Voegler and Carney Bros., West Front street merchants, are at odds with one another, and the cause of the difficulty is likely to be ventilated in the courts. The trouble, which has been brewing for some time, came about in this way: Some two years ago Mr. Voegler purchased from Jacob Voehl the meat business at 13 West Front street, where he is now situated. At the time, the upper floor was occupied by a private family, and no objection was made to that. Soon afterward the family moved out, and the place was then utilized as a tailor shop. The noise from the machines, Mr. Voegler says, became almost unbearable, but he put up with it. Early this year the upper floor was leased to Carney Bros., the plumbers, for a shop. The noise now, Mr. Voegler says, is even worse than it was before, and has been one of the main causes of ill-feeling between the parties concerned. Voegler had two expensive signs painted on canvas which he intended to string across the sidewalk at the ends of his wooden awning, "to protect his windows from the sun". One of them has been in position for some time, but when he attempted to adjust the other one, this morning, Mr. Carney peremptorily refused to let him put it up and a genuine old-fashioned set-to between the two men, in the presence of a large crowd, was only averted by the prompt arrival of captain Grant and officer Giese. Mr. Voegler declares that the sign will go up, and Mr. Carney is equally confident that it won't. The latter claims that it shuts off the light in the hallway leading to his place of business, and that Voegler is infringing on his rights to the extent of the width of the hallway. Both sides have engaged counsel, and interesting developments are expected.

The Torment of Garbage Trespassers.

It is not at all unlikely that the Independent Gun club of this city will change the location of its grounds, unless some restriction is placed on the garbage collectors, some of whom have deliberately dumped their garbage on the club's grounds. The land is leased by the club, it is kept up by the club, and is the club's own property while in possession of the members. Yet their rights are ruthlessly ignored.

Read and Reflect.

The great mass of mankind lose their health through inattention to catarrh of the head and throat. This insidious disease was considered incurable until the discovery of the American Catarrh Cure. For sale by L. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.00.

ARE THE COUNCILMEN FAVORED?

"They Won't Take Out My Meter", Said One of Them, with a Wink.

In a recent issue of THE PRESS, a clipping was published from the Mail and Express, relative to the removal of water meters from many of the houses in Plainfield. The clipping referred to the unjust discrimination made in removing the meters, and said that those who had "influence" were not troubled.

THE PRESS learns on excellent authority that the original copy of the article in the Mail and Express read "influence among the councilmen", but that the political editor did not choose to be so explicit. THE PRESS also hears that the information which led to the publication of the howl in the New York paper came directly from a member of the common council of this city, and implied that while others are obliged to pay for their water according to the number of faucets in the house, members of the common council and those others who have influence with that body still retain their meters and get cheaper water rates. Indeed, when asked by what right the company took out the meters and raised the rate, one councilman winked and said "They won't take out mine".

That the council that granted the clause in the franchise of the water company, allowing them to take out meters at their own discretion, should be exempt from the effects of that clause, is significant. If the company cannot make enough money with the meters in, let them remove them from all houses, and not discriminate in such removal.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Mabel Wilder, of Central avenue, will give a reception next week Wednesday.

Mrs. Elias Mosher, of East Fourth street, is confined to the house with the grip.

Miss Ethel B. Harte, of Putnam avenue, will spend her Easter vacation in Troy, N. Y.

Miss Maud Middledith of Park avenue will give a dance for young people, Tuesday, April 4.

Ex-councilman Ira Riker is very ill at his home on Mountain avenue, threatened with pneumonia.

The Rev. T. Logan Murphy will preach at the communion service in Grace Episcopal church to-night.

Albert Runyon, book-keeper for Boice, Runyon & Co., is ill at his home in North Plainfield, with a heavy cold.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, of Netherwood, will return to their home from New York for the Easter dances.

During alterations of their residence on West Seventh street, James Clark and family are living at Hotel Albion.

Louis Brown, who for many years past has roomed with the family of Jacob Field, is now a guest at Hotel Grenada.

Edward Mosher, of Jersey City, has leased C. C. Dilts's house on West Fifth street, and will remove there with his family about April 1.

Elizabeth, wife of Simas Coon, died yesterday at the age of 60 years. Funeral services will be held from Warren chapel to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

George Wharton Edwards has an abundance of his charming pictures of Dutch life in the story "The Violoncello of Jufrow Rosenboom", in the March Century.

Cards are out for a tea to be given by the Misses Edith and Martha Tracy and Miss Mary Bushnell at the residence of the Misses Tracy on West Eighth street, Monday, April 3.

Mrs. John O'Rourke, whose husband died March 2, at his home, 59 West Fifth street, of pneumonia, has had a relapse of the same disease, and is in a critical condition at Muhlenberg Hospital.

Frank Hyde, who has been dangerously ill with pneumonia at Titusville, Pa., is out of danger, and his mother, Mrs. Charles Hyde, who went to Titusville on Sunday, returned to Plainfield yesterday.

Henry Demarest Brewster, of Brokaw Bros., the New York clothiers, has leased the Charles Sandford house on Washington avenue, for the summer, and will take possession of the same about the middle of June.

Mr. Ely, son of the president of the New York Stock Exchange, who has won quite a reputation as a comic speaker in Plainfield, received great applause for his selections at the jovial meeting of the Royal Arcanum in this city Monday night.

William G. Hoffman, formerly a well-known resident of this city, will on April 19 join the army of Benedicks. His bride is Miss Carrie E Apgar, and the wedding will be at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Johnson, Califon, Hunterdon county.

Mr. and Mrs. Constantine P. Ralli gave a dinner last night at their charming residence, "Roseneath", in Netherwood. The guests were Major and Mrs. Robert L. Burnett, Miss Minnie Wood, Miss Maude VanBoskerck, and Messrs. Rice and Fairfax from New York.

Eliza Cross, widow of John H. Cross, formerly of Bound Brook, died at Newark March 28, aged 88 years. She was a sister of Mrs. A. T. Nelson of West Front street, and aunt of ticket agent Edward Nelson. Funeral services will be held from the residence of her son-in-law, E. P. Moore, 331 Summer avenue, Newark, to-morrow, at 2 p. m. Interment will be made in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

N. Everit Bogert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bogert, formerly of this city, and grandson of the Rev. N. E. Smith for many years pastor of the Congregational church in Second street, now the Trinity Reformed, is dead at VanPelt Manor, Long Island, in the 27th year of his age. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30, in the Dutch Reformed church at that place. A train leaves Thirth-sixth street and Fifth avenue, Brooklyn, at 1:45.

When Greek Meets Greek.

Those old rivals, the Saengerbund and the Dunellen bowling teams, will contest on the Dunellen alleys Easter Monday night.

A CROWN OF GLORY

Is the gray hair of old age. BUT a bald pate or thin straggling locks,—ah, no! Among all the remedies for these things perhaps none has been so generally successful as

PETROLEUM HAIR TONIC

We have made and sold it for fifteen years and have heard none but good words for it. While not infallible, it certainly does cure most cases of dandruff, prevents falling out of hair and is a most agreeable hair dressing.

CHOLERA NOT CONTAGIOUS.

Plainfield People Need n't be Scared by Atlis and the "Courier".

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—The Courier, while indirectly serving some private interest, is trying to pose as a prophet by anticipating a visit from the cholera. Attempts to excite alarm by directing undue attention to an evil that is as yet but a bare possibility, and which if it materialize will only be intensified by fear, cannot be too strongly deprecated. Last year the New York World was one of the worst offenders in this direction, and the Herald ran a good second by paying an English correspondent to sleep in the bed of a cholera victim in order that it might advertise itself. The example thus set is bad, and the Herald's experiment was, I assure you, quite safe.

True, the cholera may visit us, although I have not full faith in those comforters who insist that it is inevitable. Much may be done to avert it if the authorities act intelligently; and if it come, much may be done by the people to lessen its malignity if they act reasonably. In truth it need not be as dangerous as typhus nor as difficult to control as diphtheria. It is not contagious. I speak not without experience. I have taken part in a series of experiments on that question; I have lived in the midst of cholera in India; I have seen it as an epidemic in European cities; and I have passed many weeks in the cholera wards of a hospital without once leaving the building during that time. I feel therefore justified in urging the people of Plainfield to give little heed to sensational screeds, but if the worst should happen to live well and regularly, to attend to simple rules of sanitation, and to free their minds of all anxiety on the subject. Doing that they will divest the cholera of every exceptional terror.

I am not seeking a gratuitous advertisement; therefore subscribe myself merely A. M., M. D.

THE TWO JOHNS.

What New York Thought of Them.

There was a great audience at the Opera House last night to welcome "The Two Johns" and their worshipers. The fame of the beauty of many, and the cleverness of not a few of the cast, had gone abroad, and there was a genuine eagerness to see just what this excellent company had to offer of an amusing and diverting nature. Well-founded rumors of the beauty of Miss Stewart and Miss Fair had brought into the front rows of seats, not a few of the gilded youth of the town, and balcony and parquette were crowded with people long before the curtain was raised on this screaming comedy success. The gallery was crowded to the rafters with keen critics of the younger species. Altogether it was rather a phenomenal first-night audience, and very amiably disposed. It greeted the company with a perfect cyclone of enthusiasm. The two fat men of the play are supremely funny, and took the audience by storm. The balance of the company are superb. "The Two Johns" comedy company will fill the popular mind with complete satisfaction. The great audience last night was kindly inclined to place the company well up in the list of favorites.—New York World.

Closing Lenten Services at Fanwood.

The last of the Wednesday evening lectures of Lenten season was delivered the Rev. Edward H. True, the minister in charge, at All Saints' church, Fanwood, last evening, the subject being "Judas Iscariot". The church was well filled, as has been the case at all of the mid-weekly services.

Good Friday, at 11 a. m., full morning services will be conducted by Mr. True, who will take as his text "It Is Finished".

Great interest is being taken by the ladies of the parish having charge of the floral decorations for Easter Sunday, and the responses to their appeal for assistance have been highly satisfactory. The Easter services will be:

10:30 A. M.—Morning prayer, sermon and Holy communion.

The offertory at this service, as by resolution of the vestry, will be applied to the reduction of the church debt.

3:30 P. M.—Evening prayer with full choral service by the children of the Sunday-school.

The Lenten offerings for foreign and domestic missions will be collected from the pyramids returned by the children.

Let There Be No Discord This Year.

The members of the Grand Army posts in this city are already arranging for their Memorial Day celebration.

The American Catarrh Cure

Is the result of twenty-six years' study and treatment of the disease. One bottle convinces the most skeptical. It is always ready for use, needing neither douche nor atomizer. It restores the hearing, cures the hawking cough and expectorating, removes the headache and nose bleeding, increases the appetite, produces sound sleep, invigorates the whole system and increases the vitality. Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by J. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

A RIVAL OF THE COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION.

Newspaper Men to Hold a Fair in May That Will Almost Equal the World's.

There is going to be a Fair in New York next May, which in some respects will equal, if not surpass, the Columbian exposition at Chicago and which will be worth a visit to the metropolis to see. The New York Press club will hold a great Fair and Trade and Industrial exposition during the entire month of May, for the benefit of its Building and Charity fund, and the arrangements already made insure an exhibition that will excel anything of the kind ever given in this country.

The Fair will be held in the Grand Central Palace, a newly finished building at Lexington avenue and Forty-third street, which contains four times the floor space of Madison Square Garden and which is perfectly adapted to exposition purposes. It will be a surprise even to old New Yorkers to learn that there is such a building in the heart of the city, as it will be opened to the public for the first time by the Press Club Fair.

On the main floor above will be the Ladies' fair, comprising 80,000 square feet covered with quaint and artistic booths, presided over by the prettiest, brightest and best known women in New York. Prominent among the booths will be those of the art committee, to which leading artists have contributed paintings, presided over by Mrs. Algernon S. Sullivan; the flower booth, in charge of Mrs. John A. Cockerill, assisted by a bevy of pretty society girls; and a booth of autographs and photographs, under the supervision of Mrs. John W. Keller, wife of the president of the Press Club. Among those who have offered to assist at this booth and sell their autographs and photographs are Lillian Russell, Rose Coghlan, Sadie Martinot, William H. Crane, Ned Harrigan and many other stage favorites. There will also be on sale signed photographs of Henry Irving, Sara Bernhardt, Ellen Terry, Jane Hading, Jean and Edouard DeReszke, Emma Eames and famous people in art, literature and politics all over the world.

Another notable feature of the Fair will be the electrical department, which will be the most complete ever seen in this country.

The committee has secured the distinguished assistance of L. Stieringer, consulting electrical engineer of the Chicago fair, and other eminent electricians, and some beautiful and wonderful electrical devices have been designed, including a wonderful electrical cascade, similar to that which created such a sensation at the Paris exposition, which was also designed by Mr. Stieringer. Other attractive booths will be the Children's booth, managed by the Baby Ruth Sunshine league and presided over by the charming children of the stage; a model of Blarney Castle in which will be sold a ring composed of a genuine fragment of the blarney stone set in diamonds; the Brooklyn Press club's booth, the Newspaper Women's booth and many others.

She Has a Kind Heart, and Will Not Prosecute.

Mrs. Baker, who boards with Mrs. Neighbour of East Front street, was knocked down by a bicyclist on the sidewalk at North avenue and Broadway, yesterday afternoon, and painfully bruised. The wheelman thus violating the law was said to be a painter named Rafferty of Fourth street. Mrs. Baker was thrown by the collision flat upon her face, but though urged by indignant bystanders to prosecute she accepted the wheelman's apology and forgave him.

All Will Join in the Chorus.

Prior to the lecture to be given by Sergeant Sprague next Tuesday evening, April 4, there will be singing of popular patriotic songs, in which the audience will be asked to join in the chorus. It is understood that David E. Titsworth, with a quartette, will render some fine music. Those who desire to purchase tickets should secure them before the lecture, as none will be sold at the door of the First Baptist church where the lecture will be given.

Quarantine Raised.

The quarantine card has been taken down from the house of Frank J. Shatle on South Second street where his son has been confined to his bed with scarlet fever. The young man is doing nicely, and will be able to be out in a few days.

Bedlow Did n't Keep His Threat to Kill Himself.

Henry A. Bedlow, who wrote to his wife, who lives at 272 West 123d street, New York, threatening to commit suicide, did not execute his threat, but came home yesterday morning just as if nothing had happened. Mrs. Bedlow was not very much surprised, as he had frequently threatened to commit suicide before. She was a widow when he married her, and is considerably older than he.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

ANOTHER GRACE CHURCH.

This is in the Borough, and Is of the Methodist Denomination.

The Park place congregation, having outgrown its chapel dependency on the mother church, as told of in these columns weeks ago, permanently organized last night into an independent church, with the official title Grace Methodist Episcopal church of North Plainfield.

At last night's meeting C. S. Ryman, presiding elder of the district, preached an interesting sermon on "Woman's Work in the Church".

After the service the first quarterly conference was held, and the following stewards were elected:

J. Valliant, A. A. Taft, J. S. Lunger, E. R. Stevens, W. H. Griffen, L. A. Hummer, J. Voehl, J. W. VanHorn, T. W. Powell, E. A. Vermeule, H. DeMott, E. Loomis, W. H. Lunger.

The Song of the Lawn Mower Soon Will Be Heard.

Early vegetables are being planted in gardens about town, and one farmer at Evona sowed oats yesterday. There is but little or no frost in the ground, and where there is any left it is in places where the soil was left bare nearly all winter, through the wind drifting the snow away.

His Friends will Rejoice in His Recovery.

John Werthheimer, formerly employed at Rogers's sea-food market, but for the past ten weeks a patient in the Flower Hospital, Sixty-first street and Avenue A, New York city, suffering from very bad rupture, has been discharged cured.

What THE PRESS Said.

The Press says "Cohen would n't have voted to abolish winter racing."—Westfield Leader.

THE PRESS said: "Kyte voted against the bill to abolish winter racing. Cohen would n't have done that." Would n't have voted against abolishing it. See? Stupid!

Why Is It, Mr. Meeker?

The people of that neighborhood are inquiring why street-commissioner Meeker does n't serve the notices which he has had for seven or eight days, requiring the taxpayers on Elm place to pave and curb the sidewalks. They hint at a "pull" on the part of a large property-holder who wants to shirk the expense.

The Seven Words of the Cross.

St. Peter's congregation will hold German Lutheran services to-morrow at 10:30, without Sunday-school. The theme will be: "Die Sieben Work am Kreuz." The Rev. Edward Kionka, pastor, will preach.

This Street a Stumbling-Block.

Complaint is made of the bad condition of Race street near the Edison electric light station in the borough. The roadbed is little better than a mud-hole, while heaps of lumber, old wagons, etc., line the streets on both sides, rendering passage almost impossible.

The Oldest Inhabitant.

Probably the oldest woman in Plainfield is Mrs. Sarah B. Ross, widow of Peter Ross, of 31 LaGrande avenue, and mother of ex-councilman John Ross. She celebrated her 92d birthday anniversary March 2.

"The Farm" Again to the Front.

A series of individual cock fights between birds owned in Piscataway and Hilton took place in an old barn near "the farm", Tuesday night. Seven battles were fought, the Piscataway birds winning four out of the seven.

To-Morrow Evening at 8.

Union Good Friday services, of all the Protestant churches, will be held in Grace church to-morrow evening in accordance with the programme published in these columns last Saturday.

City Business Took a Breathing Spell.

While the new safe for the city treasurer was being hoisted up into the Coward building, yesterday afternoon, access to the offices in the upper stories was practically shut off.

It Should Be Repaired.

The board sidewalk on the North Plainfield side of Washington avenue, near the bridge, is in a dangerous condition. Several narrow escapes from bad falls are reported by pedestrians.

Getting Ready for the Summer Strain.

A new wooden bridge is being erected by Charles Hyde over the creek at the driveway from Mountain avenue to the camp-meeting grounds.

The March of Street Railway Progress.

Two carloads of steel rails are in town for the street railway extension on Somerset street. The work of laying the tracks will now proceed.

Safe and Effective.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS are the safest and most effective remedy for indigestion, irregularity of the bowels, constipation, biliousness, headache, dizziness, malaria or any disease arising from an impure state of the blood. They have been in use in this country for over fifty years, and the thousands of unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and their constantly increasing sale, is incontrovertible evidence that they perform all that is claimed for them.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

TWO LIVES LOST BY THE SINKING OF A CANAL-BOAT.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The canal-boat Edward Hayes of Port Liberty, N. J., was sunk in the East River at Thirty-seventh street about 2 this morning, and a man and a baby three months old were drowned in it. The man was David Williams, an old canal-boatman, a guest of the captain; the child was Mabel Carman, a daughter of the captain, David Carman, who, with his wife, was saved from the wreck.

The sinking of the canal-boat was caused by the heavy pounding of the E. M. Wrighting, which was lying next to her. This was caused by the action of the water and could not be avoided. The Edward Hayes was an old boat, and the blows stove a hole in her side. The boat and cargo were valued at $6,000.

A FERRYBOAT SUNK BY A SCOW.

Rescue of the Passengers and Crew in a Life-Boat.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The ferryboat S. T. James of the New York and College Point Ferry company was run into and sunk by one of the city dump scows off Astoria, L. I., at 6:25 o'clock this morning. The passengers on board the ferryboat escaped with the crew in a life boat

Mrs. Bartlett's Niece the Coming Female Rubinstein.

Miss Helen Sumbatoff, a young Russian pianist, niece of Mrs. Abner Bartlett, jr., of West Front street, recently returned from abroad, and will be heard at F. M. Hulett's coming spring opening concert. Miss Sumbatoff is a young Russian lady of good social position. She has been studying abroad, and also with Clara E. Thorn, the distinguished Chopin pianist, of New York, who recommends her heartily. Miss Sumbatoff has played in several concerts in New York, with great success, also at the Worcester Musical Teachers' association, where she has been congratulated on her marvelous technique and brilliant touch. The young lady will open a studio in Plainfield, and all communications can be left at Hulett's music store. She will also take engagements to play at musicals and entertainments. Paderewski pronounces her the coming female Rubinstein.

CATHOLICS IN COURT.

Rev. Mr. Leahey Secures an Injunction Against a Fellow Priest.

TRENTON, N. J., March 30.—Vice-Chancellor Bird granted an order to-day requiring Rev. William P. Treacy and his adherents of the Swedesboro Roman Catholic Church to show cause why they should not be restrained from interfering with Rev. Mr. Leahey in the discharge of his duties as pastor of the church.

Also why they should not be enjoined from interfering with the followers of Mr. Leahey in the enjoyment of the property and buildings of the parish as a place of worship or burial and as a residence.

Fire in Auburn Prison.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 30.—A fierce fire broke out in shops of the prison at noon. The old furniture shop, the pearl button shop, the broom shop, Stickley & Simonds cabinet shop and the molding shop were destroyed. As usual the fire department was not admitted until after unwarrantable delay at the gates and the fire had obtained great headway. The convicts were all locked in their cells and no trouble occurred. The fire was soon under control. Loss, $90,000; insurance $85,000.

Large Knitting Mills Destroyed.

CAMDEN, N. Y., March 30.—The carding and spinning, packing stock and boiler buildings belonging to the plant of the Camden Knitting Co., in this village were destroyed by fire. The main building, however, was saved. The loss is estimated at from $60,000 to $70,000. The fire is thought to have started in a card.

Sick Immigrants Haven't Cholera.

HALIFAX, March 30.—The condition of the two immigrants who were removed to the hospital here from the steamship Lake Superior, continues very favorable. The hospital authorities declare positively that they are not suffering from cholera or any other dangerous or infectious disease.

ACTRESS ASSAULTS ACTRESS.

Savage Attack With a File in a French Theatre Dressing Room.

PARIS, March 30.—During the play at the Theatre de la Gaite last night Mlle. Mealy, one of the actresses, invited Mlle. Joanne Richard, another actress, to call upon her in her dressing room. Mlle. Richard supposed that Mlle. Mealy gave the invitation out of pure friendliness, and after the last curtain hastened to the dressing room.

The moment she entered Mlle. Mealy's maid sprang upon her and threw her to the floor. Mlle. Mealy then caught Mlle. Richard by the throat, drew a file from her pocket and began lacerating her face with it. Mlle Richard's screams brought other members of the company to the room, and they rescued her, but not until her face was raw and covered with blood.

After Mlle. Richard had been removed Mlle. Mealy explained that her purpose in making the attack was to avenge herself for disparaging remarks made about her character by Mlle. Richard.

THOMAS SPURGEON CHOSEN.

The London Tabernacle Wants the Son of Their Great Former Pastor.

LONDON, March 30.—A special church meeting was held at the Tabernacle yesterday to take steps toward deciding upon a permanent pastor. The principal candidates have been the Rev. Arthur Pierson, of Philadelphia, the Rev. James Spurgeon, brother of the late Charles Spurgeon, and the Rev. Thomas Spurgeon, son of the late Charles Spurgeon.

The resignation of the Rev. James Spurgeon from his temporary pastorate was accepted, and the meeting passed by a majority of 2,000, a resolution that the Rev. Thomas Spurgeon be invited to officiate in the pulpit for one year, with a view toward becoming the permanent pastor of the congregation.

The Rev. Thomas Spurgeon will begin his duties in June.

Cholera Spreading in Austria.

VIENNA, March 30.—Cholera has appeared at Zaloscz, a market town in Galicia. Every attempt has been made by the authorities to check the disease, but despite their efforts it is spreading. Three deaths from cholera have already occurred and a number of new cases were reported yesterday and to-day.

Fifty Deaths a Week From Cholera.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—It is stated in an official report that an average of 150 new cases of cholera and 50 deaths from the disease are reported every week in the province of Podolia. A quite extensive trade is carried on between Podolia and Austrian Galicia, and also between Podolia and Germany.

May Test Turf in the Reviews.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—There is every probability that the new cruiser New York will take part in the naval review on April 27. Officials of the William Cramp & Sons Company have expressed themselves as willing to man the ship if the government wants her to appear before she goes into commission and while incomplete.

Bookmaker Troy Ruled Off.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—John Troy, a well-known bookmaker, has been ruled off the turf by the Crescent City Jockey Club for alleged crookedness. It is charged by the club that Troy attempted to bribe a jockey to pull a horse. Troy is widely known in turf circles, having booked on all the Southern and Western tracks for many years.

LIT BY BALLOONS.

Aerial Ships with Electric Lights Will Illuminate a City.

A balloon with electric lights attached to it for lighting cities is the latest idea of turning the "light of lights" to a practical use. This idea may seem very visionary, but C. A. Smith, of No. 112 Grove street, one of San Francisco's inventors, has sufficient confidence in the scheme to commence operations of constructing a balloon for that purpose, says the Call of that city.

This balloon will not be of the ordinary silk bag pattern, but will be made of aluminium and in the shape of a cigar, pointed at both ends. It will be about forty feet long and fifteen feet in diameter at its largest point, and will contain sufficient gas to sustain it in the roughest kind of weather. Fans will be constructed so as to hold it point up to the wind and help it from dipping, and in calm weather it will be so balanced that it will remain perfectly level.

A cable containing the electric wires will hold it at a sufficient elevation, so that the light will be spread over the area to be illuminated to the best advantage.

The balloon will sustain six arc lights, or it can be so made as to be covered with incandescent lights, each one of which will be inclosed with a reflector, so as to concentrate the rays of the light and throw them downward.

An appliance will be provided for hauling the balloon to the earth for trimming the light or making any repairs that might become necessary, or raising or lowering it so that the light may be advantageously distributed.

The inventor claims that, counting the first cost of the balloons and their maintenance, the total cost of lighting a city the size of San Francisco will be reduced considerably, as one balloon will suffice for from four to six blocks. At the same time the tangle of deadly and unsightly wires from the streets will be removed and danger from fires reduced.

Mr. Smith, in addition to the lights, has invented an arrangement of mirrors, which will be placed on the under side of the balloon, so that a person on one street can see what is transpiring on the next, even though blocks of buildings intervene, and this mirror arrangement, the inventor says, will be of great service to the fire department, as the location of flames can be easily ascertained should they break out from a building.

"Perhaps the best use to which this system of lighting would be turned would be to harbors," said Mr. Smith. "Three or four of these balloons placed over San Francisco bay would make the harbor as light as day.

"The members of the San Francisco Electric association have discussed my scheme pretty thoroughly, and they claim that it is not only possible, but one that would be very useful as a system of city lighting."

GEN. BEAUREGARD.

The Career of the Confederate Veteran Who Died Recently.

Pierre Gustave Toutant Beauregard was born near New Orleans, May 28, 1818. He graduated second in his class rank at West Point in 1838. He was assigned first to the artillery and then to the engineers, and in 1838-39 to assistant in the construction of Fort Adams, Newport, and at Fort MacHenry, Maryland, in 1844-45. At the beginning of the war with Mexico he was engaged in the construction of defenses at Tampico, in 1846-47; siege operations at Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Chapultapec and City of Mexico, where he was twice wounded. Shortly after he was brevetted major. He attained full rank of captain of engineers in 1853 for fourteen years of continuous service as lieutenant. On returning to the United States he was assigned to engineering in the construction and repairs of fortifications on the Mississippi river and in the construction of the custom house at New Orleans. His supervisory duties extended over the gulf coast from Florida to the Rio Grande. He offered his services to the southern confederacy in 1861.

On the refusal of Maj. Robert Anderson to evacuate Fort Sumter he opened fire soon after daylight on April 12, 1861. He was practically in command at the battle of Bull Run, where he was again victorious. He nearly succeeded in routing the northern army at the battle of Shiloh, and held Petersburg against the federal advance and defeated Butler at Drury's Bluff. He surrendered his army to Sherman in April, 1865. After the war he became president of a railroad, adjutant general of the state and manager of the Louisiana state lottery. Gen. Beauregard has, until recently, been engaged in many important enterprises in the south.

Great Wine Cask.

The most capacious wine cask in the world is the celebrated tun of Konigstein, constructed under an edict issued by Frederick Augustus, king of Poland, in 1735. This greatest of all tuns holds 1,889,136 pints.

Age of Trees.

Information gathered by the German forestry commission assigns to the pine tree a life of 500 to 700 years as a maximum, 425 years to the silver fir, 275 years to the larch, 245 years to the red beech, 210 years to the ash, 146 years to the alder and 130 years to the elm. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. The holm oak alone escapes this law. But in England there are several famous old oaks of gigantic proportions, and with ages variously estimated at from 700 to 1,800 years. The latter age, however, seems incredible.

ONLY NINETEEN HOURS

A New Train from New York to Chicago.

REDUCES THE TIME BY FIVE HOURS

The New York Central Management Has Decided to Run the "Empire State Express" Beyond Buffalo—Train to Consist of Five Wagner Vestibuled Cars—Higher Extra Fare—To Begin April 30.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Ever since the Empire State express train has been running from this city to Buffalo over the New York Central and Hudson River railroad there has been a desire on the part of some persons interested to have a somewhat similar fast train to un clear through to Chicago.

The matter has come up for discussion at a meeting of the Presidents of the Vanderbilt roads, and it has been decided to begin such a train service on April 30.

There were present at the meeting, Cornelius Vanderbilt, W. K. Vanderbilt, Chauncey Depew and others.

The train is to leave the Grand Central station every day at 3 p. m., and arrive in Chicago at 10 o'clock the following morning. This makes its running time nineteen hours, or five hours less than the fastest train which is now scheduled over any road.

It will be drawn by locomotives of the pattern used on the Empire State Express, and will consist of five coaches, one buffet combination coach, one dining coach, and three sleepers, all of the Wagner vestibuled service.

The fare on this train is to be $25, $2 more than the rate on the limited, $5 more than the regular first-class rate, and $8 more than the cost of passage on the best trains run over the lines which have agreed upon differentiated rates.

THE RUSSIAN TREATY.

Full Correspondence Between the Countries to Be Given Out.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The criticisms that have been made upon the Russian treaty, whether just or not, have had the effect of putting the Senate on the defensive, and it is understood that when it is finally decided to give the treaty out, it will be accompanied by the draft of the convention as it came to the Senate, so that a comparison may be made between the treaty as ratified and the one upon which the Senate acted.

Accompanying this will also appear the correspondence, for it is understood to-day that the State Department has given its consent to the publication of the messages that passed between the representatives of the contracting powers.

Great care has been taken that this treaty should be kept as a profound secret, and it has been almost impossible to get anything like an accurate insight into the much-discussed convention.

Political clauses are not at all rare in treaties made by the United States, for from early days the right of asylum has been protected in all conventions that have been negotiated. The crime of forgery, by which is meant—as stipulated in the treaties—the utterance of forged papers, and also the counterfeiting of public, sovereign and governmental acts, which appears in the Russian treaty, appears in many other treaties, but the fact remains, as stated on the floor of the Senate when this particular treaty was up for discussion, that no country maintains a frontier guarded against the escape of its citizens at all comparable with the rigid discipline and strict surveillance maintained by the government of the Czar. What might be a simple provision intended to provide for the capture of criminals pure and simple, in any one of these other countries, becomes, under the peculiar conditions that exist in Russia, a standing menace to the safety of every man who may be able to get out of that country and reach the shores of America.

Suicide and Murderer Reynolds Was Crazy

NEW YORK, March 31.—Coroner Messemer has looked into the killing of Miles V. Kelly by William T. Reynolds and the suicide of the latter in the gun store of Hartley & Graham Wednesday night. He has decided that the act was that of a mad man, and that Reynolds was suffering from progressive paresis. Reynolds was shut up in beleaguered Paris in 1871, and, with Gambetta, managed to escape from that city in a balloon.

Plans for a New City Hall Adopted.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The plans for the new city hall have been adopted. The new building is to be a marble structure, five stories high, with a basement and attic. The roof of the basement is to be 20 feet from the ground. Each floor will have an area of 60,000 square feet. The building is to be fireproof throughout.

Reading Report for February.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—The statement of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company for the month of February, 1893, shows gross traffic receipts $1,631,347.07; traffic expenses, $1,207,184.60; profit in operating $424,162.47. Receipts from other sources $78,056.26; leaving profit for the month of $442,218.73.

Dixon to Have the Belt.

NEW YORK, March 31.—George Dixon, the featherweight champion of the world, will have the Police Gazette featherweight championship belt. He has put up the necessary security, $500, to fight any man in the world, according to the rules governing the trophy. The belt will be presented to him to-night.

Columbian Coins All Struck Off.

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—The last of the 5,000,000 World's Fair souvenir half dollars was struck off in the mint in this city yesterday. The preparations for the mint exhibit at the exposition are nearing completion, and it is expected to move the press and cabinet of coins next week.

To Investigate the Prison Management.

LANSING, Mich., March 31.—It having been alleged that loose management resulted in the escape of Convict Latimer from the State prison at Jackson, the upper House of the State Legislature has ordered an investigation into the prison management.

B. & M. Leases a Road.

NASHUA, N. H., March 31.—The Boston & Maine officials have made a 99 year lease of the Peterboro road for $15,400 a year, subject to approval of the stockholders. The original 20-year lease expires to-day.

FACTS ABOUT THE FAIR.

Things Concerning the Great Exposition Which will Interest Visitors.

CHICAGO, March 31.—The following are facts of general interest concerning the Columbian Exposition. They are given out over the signature of President Higinbotham:

1—The exposition will be opened in readiness for visitors on May 1.

2—An abundance of drinking water, the best supplied to any great city in the world, will be provided free to all. The report that a charge would be made for drinking water probably arose from the fact that hygeia water can also be had by those who desire it at one cent a glass.

3—Ample provisions for seating will be made without charge.

4—About 1,500 toilet rooms and water closets will be located at convenient points in the buildings and about the grounds, and they will be absolutely free to the public. In addition to these there will also be nearly an equal number of lavatories and toilet rooms of a costly and handsome character, as exhibits, for the use of which a charge of five cents will be made.

5—The admission of 50 cents will entitle the visitors to see and enter all the exposition buildings, inspect the exhibits, and, in short, to see everything within the exposition grounds, except the Esquimaux Village and the reproduction of the Cotorado Cliff Dwellings. For these, as well as for special attractions on Midway Plaisance, a small fee will be charged.

6—Imposition or extortion of any description will not be tolerated.

7—Free medical and emergency hospital service is provided on the grounds by the exposition management.

8—The bureau of public comfort will provide commodious free waiting rooms, including spacious ladies' parlors and toilet rooms in various parts of the exposition grounds.

Harris Not Troubled With Headaches.

SING SING, March 31.—Carlyle Harris continues the same as when first placed in cell No. 8 of murderers' row. He eats, sleeps, says he feels well, and appears to be perfectly contented. He has not yet been informed of the new law introduced by Senator Coggeshall, of Oneida. Principal Keeper Connaughton says that Harris has not been troubled with headaches, as was reported, and that he took only two antipyrine powders.

Signed by Gov. Flower.

ALBANY, March 31.—Gov. Flower has signed Assemblyman Clancy's bill amending the grade crossing act so as to provide for the crossing by street railroads of steam railroad tracks pending litigation; amending the charter of Jamestown regarding the powers of the common council to cause the construction of sewers; fixing the salary of county clerk of Monroe county at $4,000 per annum.

Disappearance Puzzling His Friends.

HACKENSACK, N. J., March 31.—W. W. Harper, one of Hackensack's oldest residents, a jeweler, suddenly disappeared a few days ago, and his whereabouts is puzzling his friends. He is 63 years old, and has four sons living in Hackensack. His wife committed suicide a few years ago while ill. Since then he has been morbid and despondent.

Want to Be Morton's Assistant.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Three more applications have been filed in the Department of Agriculture for the Assistant Secretaryship. They are: Dr. J. A. Meyers, of the West Virginia Agricultural Experiment station; ex-Gov. George W. Glick, of Kansas, and J. M. Banaman, of Mississippi.

Bath, Me., Block Burned.

BATH, March 31.—Fire broke out in the Opera House block at 2:35 a. m. and practically destroyed it with its contents. The guests of the Revere House fled in scanty attire and saved nothing. Several were dragged down the fire-escape in a demoralized condition. The total loss is $35,000.

Miss Day's Flying Trip.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., 31.—Miss Day, who left Portland, Oregon on the 22nd on a trip around the United States, arrived in this city on the Cannon Ball train at 8.10 yesterday and left at 8.30 for Mexico. She expects to reach Portland before April 10.

FRANCE AGAIN EXCITED

The Ribot Ministry Steps Down and Out.

DEFEATED BY A MAJORITY OF FIVE

Premier Ribot and Minister of Finance Tirard Took Sides With the Senators and Urged the Deputies to Pass the Budget—M. Develle Likely to Form a New Cabinet—The Cabinet Had Lived But Eleven Weeks.

PARIS, March 31.—The capital is again stirred up over the fall of the ministery. The excitement to-day instead of decreasing is on the increase—crowds are thronging about the newspaper offices, the Elysee, and the hall of the deputies. The conflict between the Senate and Deputies over the Budget has caused the resignation of the Cabinet which was under such great difficulties formed only eleven weeks ago.

At the opening of the sitting M. Lockroy stated that the Budget committee decided to ask the Chamber to vote the Budget bill in exactly the same form as before, since the estimates, as returned by the Senate, were entirely changed and all the reforms that the Chamber made a point of inserting were wholly eliminated. The Senate, he said, appeared in several respects to have gone beyond the right conferred upon it by the Constitution, and the Chamber must not forget that if a conflict arose between the two legislative bodies it ought to have a right to the last word.

In conclusion M Lockroy said that the committee recommended the Chamber to send the budget back to the Senate in its original condition.

M. Tirard, the Minister of Finance said that under no government had one Parliamentary body sent back to another a budget restored to its original shape in its entirety.

The chamber disagreed, however, from all the modifications made by the Senate. Some speakers who tried to discuss the Senate's amendments, were shouted down and compelled to quit the tribune.

M. Solis rose to oppose the separation of that portion from the remainder of the Budget, and insisted that the Chamber could not bow in submission to the Senate; if the cabinet wished to resign, let them resign.

M. Ribot again asked the Chamber to maintain the separation of the wine, beer and spirit reform from the budget, and said that the government would stand or fall by the vote.

The Chamber divided, with the result that 243 members voted for the separation and 247 against it, thus giving a majority of 5 against the government.

Premier Ribot then adjourned the sitting until 9 p. m.

The Cabinet met in the ministers' private consulting room and after deliberation informed President Carnot of their intention and formally tendered their resignations.

It is rumored that M. Develle will be asked by the President to form a ministry.

At 9:15 last night the Deputies reassembled. All the outward signs of a Cabinet crisis were apparent in the crowded galleries and among the animated groups on the floor.

When M. Casimir-Perier took the chair all the ministerial places were vacant, but a moment later M. Tirard, Minister of Finance, entered alone. He announced in a few words that the Cabinet had resigned, but had been charged by President Carnot to carry on the affairs of state for a short period.

He would therefore ask the Chamber for a vote on account to cover the next two months. The Chamber referred his request to the Budget committee and then adjourned.

The immediate cause of the crisis was a division of opinion between Senators and Deputies as to the respective prerogatives of the two Chambers in matters of financial legislation.

The Liquor Law Amendment bill was originally a part of the budget and was sent as such by the Deputies to the Senators. The Senators decided that the bill ought to be separated from the budget and were supported in this decision by the government.

The decision was unpalatable to the Deputies, as was shown by the Budget committee's resolution, passed despite the earnest protests of Premier Ribot and Finance Minister Tirard, that the Deputies assert their rights in financial matters and return the budget to the Senate without considering the amendments of the Senate thereto.

No Circus on Memorial Day.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 31.—Elias Howe Post G. A. R. has decided to circulate a petition praying that the Barnum-Bailey Circus be prevented from exhibiting here on Memorial Day claiming that the performance desecrates the day. Dr. Bryant's Successor.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Mayor Gilroy has appointed Dr. Cyrus Edson Health Commissioner in place of Joseph D. Bryant, resigned.

LATE FOR EASTER.

The Dresses Held in the Custom House Released—Trials Come Later.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The trunks and Easter dresses recently seized from Miss E. Lorden and Miss N. Sheehan, of Chicago, and Mrs. M. Ward of St. Louis by the custom officers at this port on the ground that they were being smuggled, have been unconditionally released to their owners by the customs officials, as their value was less than $1,000, and the seizures were regarded as absurd on the evidence presented.

Miss Holland, a dress-maker of Michigan Avenue, Chicago, and Miss Barton, a Baltimore, Md., modiste, obtained possession of their trunks, gowns and other wearing apparel which the Customs officers seized a few weeks ago, by giving a bond to the United States District Attorney here, covering the value of the goods and the duties on the same. Their cases will come up for trial soon.

SAW IMMENSE ICE FIELDS.

Report of a British Bark Indicates Probable Fate of the Narcnic.

BOSTON, March 31.—The British bark Clan McLeod, from Melbourne, reports that on Jan. 28 she sighted immense ice fields, some of which ranged in length from 15 to 20 miles.

The lookout aloft frequently reported that he could see ice to the northward as far as the eye could discern.

At the same time she passed a dozen large icebergs, some of them ranging over 200 feet in height.

This furnishes some ground for the belief that the missing steamer Naronic was struck by an iceberg and sunk.

Krupp Gun to be Landed To-morrow.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The 123-ton gun which was sent by Krupp, of Essen, Germany, for the World's Columbian Exposition will be landed from the steamship at Sparrow's Point, near Baltimore, Md., to-morrow. This gun, with many other exhibits of Krupp, will be forwarded to Chicago on a large open iron car about fifty feet long, resting on thirty-two wheels, built expressly for this purpose by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Found a Dead Baby in a Bureau Drawer.

POTSDAM, N. Y., March 31.—Mary Faircy, a domestic, employed by a private family here, was found in her room suffering from convulsions. In a bureau drawer was found the dead body of a fully developed baby. The coroner's jury has decided that the child was alive when born, that Mary is its mother, and that it came to its death at the hands of a person or persons unknown to the jury.

A Government Escort to the Spaniards.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—At the request of the State Department, Secretary Herbert has designated Commander F. W. Dickens, U. S. N., to act as escort to the Duke of Veragua and the other Spanish grandees who are coming to the World's Fair. Commander Dickens will take them to the naval review, Niagara Falls, other places of interest, and their destination—Chicago.

Small Remuneration for Creditors.

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 31.—The assignees of Delamater & Co. have begun paying the creditors, who number 1,200. The general creditors will get but 2 1-2 cents on the dollar. The judgment creditors of G. W. Delamater get 11-2 mills on the dollar. The unsecured creditors of G. B. Delamater get 4 7-10 mills on the dollar, and those of T. A. Delamater 2 4-5 mills on the dollar.

Yale's Big Purchase.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 31.—The corporation of Yale University has purchased a valuable piece of real estate situated on High street, between Elm and Wall streets and having a frontage of 236 feet. The price paid was between forty and fifty thousand dollars. It is the general opinion, that the property will be used as a site for new dormitories.

Secured Damages for a Horsing.

ROME, N. Y., March 31.—In the suit of Mrs. Morris Wilson against 12 young men to recover $2,500 damages which she claims were inflicted upon her on Nov. 16, 1891, by these men surrounding her dwelling and subjecting her to a horsing, the jury has awarded the plaintiff damages to the amount of $700.

Found Dead in the Woods.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 31.—The remains of Everett Heim, aged 15, were found in the woods near this city. A bullet wound was over the heart and a revolver was grasped in his hand. It is believed that he accidentally shot himself. He had been missing for two days, and found by playmates.

Jumped from the Roof and Died.

ST. LOUIS, March 31.—Fred Guenther, aged 73 years committed suicide here by jumping from the roof of a three story dwelling in which he lived. His neck was broken and his skull crushed. The old man was despondent over continued ill health and had made several previous attemps to end his life.

Did Mrs. Barlow Arrive in New York?

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., March 31.—Mrs. Dr. Barlow, of Brooklyn, who, it is alleged, eloped some two weeks ago with Dr. C. H. Giles, going to Montreal and from there to, Plattsburg a week ago, left here last night. She purchased her ticket for New York and took a south bound train.

TALK IN THE SENATE

Appointed Members Will Probably be Seated.

BAYARD GETS A BIG PLACE AFTER ALL

Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon, Made a Three Hours' Speech in Favor of the Minority Report—A Large Batch of Appointments Sent in by the President—Mr. Cleveland says He Will Break Up the Congressmen's Slates—The Navy Wanted at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The session of the Senate was devoted almost wholly to the debate started Wednesday on the question of the admission of the Senators appointed by the Governors of the States of Montana, Washington and Wyoming after the Legislatures of those States had adjourned without making regular elections to that office.

Mr. Mitchell (Rep., Ore.) a member of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, spoke for nearly three hours in opposition to the majority report of the committee, which favors admission, and in defense of the minority report, which denies the right of State Governors to appoint Senators under such circumstances.

Although the question is one partly of constitutional and statutory construction there is much interest manifested in its determination, but Mr. Mitchell confessed, in the close of his speech, that the die was cast, and that the majority report would be certainly adopted.

The following nominations were sent in to the Senate:

State—Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to Great Britain.

To be Envoys Extraordinary and Ministers Plenipotentiary of the United States:

James D. Porter of Tennessee, to Chili.

James A. McKenzie of Kentucky, to Peru.

Lewis Baker of Minnesota, to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Salvador.

Horace M. B. Young of Georgia, to Guatemala and Honduras.

Edwin Dun of Ohio, (now Secretary of Legation at Japan) to Japan.

To be Consuls of the United States—L. M. Shaffer, of West Virginia, to Stratford, Ontario.

Harrison R. Williams, of Missouri, to Vera Cruz.

M. P. Pendleton of Maine, to Pictou.

Theodore H. Stephan of Illinois, to Antwerp.

William T. Townes of Virginia, to Rio de Janeiro.

Claude Meeker of Ohio, to Bradford.

Newton B. Eustis of Louisiana, to be Second Secretary of the Legation of the United States at Paris.

Interior—John M. Reynolds of Pennsylvania to be Assistant Secretary of the Interior, vice Cyrus Bussey, resigned.

Treasury—Henry J. Hathaway of Maine to be Collector of Customs for the District of Aroostook, Me.; Walter Goddard of Connecticut to be Collector of Customs for the District of Fairfield, Conn.

Justice—Lawrence Maxwell, Jr., of Ohio, to be Solicitor-General (vice Charles H. Aldrich, resigned). John L. Hall of Georgia, to be Assistant Attorney-General (vice George H. Shields, resigned).

Thomas F. Bayard was born at Wilmington, Del., October 29, 1828, and although his early training was for a mercantile life, he studied and adopted the profession of law, and entered the bar in 1851. In 1853 he first assumed office—that of United States District Attorney for Delaware, but resigned in 1854.

He succeeded his father, James C. Bayard, in the United States Senate in 1869, and served three consecutive terms with great distinction, holding places on bonding committees and being one of the recognized heads of the Democratic party in the body.

In 1885 he resigned his Senatorial seat to become Secretary of State in President Cleveland's Cabinet, and while acting in that capacity was called upon to deal with some extremely knotty and difficult diplomatic problems, among which was the Behring Sea question, which for the first time became an issue during his administration.

Since his retirement from the Cabinet Mr. Bayard has engaged in the practice of the law.

WILL BREAK UP SLATES.

A Statement Attributed to the President Causes a Commotion.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Much comment is being caused by the reported statement of President Cleveland that he would not recognize slates made by Senators and Representatives.

The Congressman who is authority for the report that the slates would not stand in their entirety asked Mr. Cleveland what he proposed to do with reference to these prepared slates.

"I will smash them" is the answer attributed to the President.

FOR LAW AND ORDER.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE ORGANIZED TO REFORM POLITICS.

Its Especial Object the Annihilation of the Race-Track Evil, But General Good Government Its Aim Throughout State, County and City.

A body of representative citizens met in the common council chamber last night and organized a Plainfield Citizens' League, with the following officers:

President—Mason W. Tyler.
Vice-President—W. B. Richards.
Treasurer—C. P. Bull.
Secretary—C. B. Leonard.

The meeting was called order by Craig A. Marsh, who yielded the chair to Dr. Richards when that gentleman was elected temporary chairman. The chair announced Messrs. Marsh, Cox and Walz as a nominating committee, and they made the nominations which were immediately ratified as announced above.

The roll call of those present was taken as a record of those actually attending organization, but the hundreds of good citizens who had already signed the agreement to join were taken as members.

This agreement, which is virtually a declaration of principles, is that the citizens will use every endeavor to effect a repeal of the race-track legislation, and prevent such enactments in the future.

But though the especial object of the league is to fight the race-track evil, the league will strive for general good government in county and city as well as State. The Plainfield league will be auxiliary to the Union County Citizens' League. Somerset county and North Plainfield are to have similar branches.

The city league, having resolved itself into a branch of the county league, is governed by the county league's constitution, but a special supplementary constitution is to be prepared by the committee appointed for that purpose, Messrs. Marsh, Cox and Bull, who will report at the next meeting.

The secretary was directed to notify the State officers of the organization, and a resolution was adopted that the city branch heartily favored agressive action looking to the carrying out of the objects of the league.

In the absence of Col. Tyler, Dr. Richards presided throughout the meeting, and Craig A. Marsh was temporary secretary.

The president is to make arrangements for a place of meeting and call the next session. Articles of agreement are to be placed in prominent places for signatures.

COAL STEALERS BEWARE.

The Central Railroad Will Have You All in Jail.

The poor people of Plainfield and way stations, have picked up enough coal along the tracks of the Central railroad of New Jersey during the past winter to supply all necessary demands. They lately have gone so far as to board the cars standing on the side tracks, shovel the coal off, and carry it away in buckets. Some of the farmers at White House who are not poor have not only got enough for their own use, but have sold a load or two.

On Tuesday of this week constable Huffman served warrants on a dozen of the coal stealers. The warrants were sworn out by a Central railroad detective. All pleaded guilty to the charge of trespass except one man. He was discharged because he demanded a hearing at once. Those who pleaded guilty were fined. One man is serving seventeen days in the Flemington jail at the county's expense in default of paying up.

IS N'T THIS JUST PERFECTLY AWFUL!

Mr. Dalziel Tells How the Young Ladies are Getting all the Situations and "The Best Young Man You Know" Goes Along the Street Blowing Smoke in Everybody's Face.

Mr. Dalziel gave a very interesting exhibition of free-hand drawing in connection with his popular talk on "Observation" to a large attendance at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening.

In part he said: "There is a subject that political economists are puzzling themselves about. That is the employment of ladies in business houses. When a young man goes to find work in a business house he is met with the statement that a young lady can be obtained for less wages. This is what appears on the face of it. The real truth of the matter is that the young lady has better habits and is more reliable. She is more clear-headed. The young men must look out because the young ladies have been ahead of them for some time and are getting ahead of them still. The reason is that the young men have bad habits. Young men smoke. They cannot be clear-headed when they do smoke. A young man cannot smoke and be self-respecting. The best young man you know that smokes will go along the street and blow and smoke in the face of anyone that he may happen to meet. Would he do this if he was self-respecting? A young man is not well off when he smokes. I know something about it. I used to smoke but I did not think it did me any harm. One day when working it occurred to me that the men alongside of me did not like the smoke. I went home and thought what a selfish fellow I was. I took my pipe and put it in the bottom of my trunk. It cost me a great struggle to cast off the habit. After three years, however, I began to feel like quite a different individual, but it was ten years before I felt the full benefit of giving up the use of tobacco. My eyesight was restored although I had not known that I had lost it. My memory returned. My memory was wonderful when I was a boy. When smoking I found that my memory was deficient. At the end of ten years I found that my memory was getting clearer, and in health and strength and vigor of young manhood. I found myself 20 years younger than I was ten years before. That was 22 years ago and to-day I feel that I am 22 years younger than I was 22 years ago. Now this tobacco question and the woman question is a thing for any man to give consideration to. If you want to get ahead of women you have got to let this tobacco business go right out of your existence. A young man is to look out for his own good and also for the good of the community in which he is."

AN AUTHORITY ON GAME.

Widespread Destruction Caused by the Severe Winter — Interesting Habits of Quail, as Described by a Plainfielder Who Has Made Them a Life-Study—Plans for a More Extended Protection.

GREAT destruction to song and game birds was caused by the heavy and continuous snows of the past winter. The entire country north of latitude 35 was constantly buried under a white blanket of from 12 to 40 inches, and the weather was at times so freezing cold that the creatures exposed had little opportunity of resistance.

Percy C. Ohl, president of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective society, was interviewed recently at his home in the outskirts of Plainfield. Mr. Ohl has been conducting a personal investigation of the matter of bird-destruction, and developing plans for helping the feathered creatures during future protracted cold spells.

Mr. Ohl says that as a result of his investigations he finds that the destruction of birds has been really appalling, and in many sections most complete. He himself has found large bevies of quail frozen to death, and his agents present similarly deplorable reports.

"The reason that the heavy snow and cold have been such a hardship for our birds"—said Mr. Ohl—"is that the seed-bearing weeds, etc., on which the birds ordinarily survive the winter when other provender is gone, have not been available, being buried by snow and covered by hard crusts which the birds could not penetrate. Only in sections where cedars grow, have the birds been able to survive in any number, their foliage and berries affording some shelter and food. Fortunately for quail and grouse, these trees have been particularly well fruited this season. Nature was lavish enough with her provision in other respects, also, in the matter of seeds on the weeds, etc., but as stated these have been buried. This heavy fruitage is a sure indication of a hard winter, and the weeds also grow at such times taller than usual, as though preparing to keep their heads above the snows. But this year they missed their calculation.

"Time was when stacks of grain afforded shelter and nourishment for the quail during severe winters, but now—alas for the poor birds!—a stack of grain is seldom seen, excepting close to barns; and should birds pressed by hunger approach these it means sport for the farmer's boys, and dainties for his table. Game societies and their members seek to do good missionary work for the helpless creatures of the air. It is their mission to see that grain is liberally distributed where grain abounds. A stack of corn-stalks in an open field is an excellent place to throw grain, as it will be found by the birds when other provender is covered by snow and ice.

"A feature of this winter's hardships particularly regrettable is that most of the quail are young and from southern stock. Their instinct in the first and second generations does not teach them to battle with our climate. They show no inclination to wander, and can always be found where bred. I found a bevy of such birds, frozen and starved, all dead within half a mile of a sheltered swamp, to which had they been native birds they would have gone. These particular birds were of a brood from a cock bird raised in captivity and a hen bird from Long Island, which in turn were bred from the south.

"The exception to this rule are the 'tide-water birds', that is, those bred from the southern stock along the coast. They are almost sure to migrate southward on approach of winter, returning in the spring."

Mr. Ohl gave some interesting facts of the migration of quail.

"The season for moving"—he said—"is in the fall. Then several bevies will leave from the same locality on the same day, or at times like their California cousins will join together.

"In migrating they move by day, and almost entirely on foot. They seem afraid to trust their wings, and in coming to a water-course, if it be of considerable width, they will follow it for miles in search of narrow channel or island resting-places, before attempting to fly across.

"Bergen Point, N. J., on account of its geographical position, some years ago afforded excellent quail shooting, though no birds were bred there, and even now scarcely a year passes but several bevies endeavor to work their way there against the guns of the pot-hunters.

"Our native birds seldom migrate, and if proper care is exercised in turning out the birds brought from the West and South more satisfactory results would be obtained. It stocking a mountainous country it is money and time thrown away to release birds that were raised in a flat country. Stocking is successful only when judicious. Great study and care are needed, else after all your trouble the quail that you freed in the spring are only heard in summer and seen in early fall and then missing when the shooting season is at hand.

"Eighteen years ago I liberated 120 quail in the vicinity of Bonhamtown, N. J. These birds did remarkably well, so that 29 bevies were flushed on Oct. 27 of the same year. But four days later not one of them could be found. The country was not suited to their remembrance of home.

"The quail in the lower counties of New Jersey, near the great pine lands, spread over the farming districts during the breeding season, but seek the pines in the fall. They start on their pilgrimage late in the afternoon, and journey until quite dark. After a rest, they start again before daylight, stretching their wings by a flight of about a mile and then resorting to their legs again. This short flight is enjoyed before the hawks are about, for of those fierce hunters the little creatures are in great dread. One reason for this aerial flight is to baffle dogs and other animals which trail by scent, from tracing them from their roosting-places.

"Such migrations are not characteristic of all the quail of the North, as in the upper counties of New Jersey and in New York State the birds remain for the entire year near their place of breeding.

"Some years ago our society liberated five hundred or more at once. Some flew short distances, others ran, and others sulked and hid, all chirping and talking. Then suddenly, rising like one bevy, away they whirred, as though panic-stricken. Though trees were thick in their course they flew madly forward in an unswerving line, and many were killed by dashing against the trunks. So blind and headstrong was this flight that my house, which was directly in the way when they reached the clearing, had every pane of glass broken on the side facing the flight, and sixty-odd dead and battered birds were picked up in the rooms.

"I find it best, in liberating quail, to release only four to six at a time. These soon realize the situation, and are quick to pair off, the cocks seldom fighting. Often two hens will seek to mate with one cock, and each of the belligerent twain will prevent the other from going near the male. Then you will find the lonely lord perching disconsolately on a fence rail or low branch of an apple tree, calling 'More wet! no more wet!' or the sad strain 'Bob White!' He exists forlornly in solitude for awhile, but is permitted to join the bevy when the young mature. The older cocks are valiantly fought by the younger, and in time the young blood wins; so that the 'survival of the fittest' rules and the progeny of each generation is insured the full strength of an able bodied sire.

"Combat among quail ends only in death; and the killing off of the weak and sickly birds prevents the in and in breeding from degenerating effects, while type and symmetry are retained. This method of destroying all unhealthy specimens is a most interesting feature of the habits of quail-life.

"More extended protection is what the propagation of game in New Jersey and elsewhere demands. In the very near future, game preserves will be essential. The poor man should not look on these (as unfortunately he does) with envy or malice; but he should welcome them. They will bebar him and everyone from a few acres. But they will be protected breeding grounds for the stocking of the broader fields and the woodland outside. And the present deplorable disregard that the rabble of pot-hunters have for the welfare and perpetuation of game make them a great necessity. Our society would hail with delight the co-operation of any lover of birds and game who has the time, means and inclination to help us perpetuate the species. Meanwhile, we can only work among farmers and other country people and seek to imbue them with the spirit of old Walter von der Vogelweid."

Of this friend of the feathered creation, so tenderly remembered in the affections of humane people, it has been written that

"He gave the monks his treasures,
Gave them all with this behest:
They should feed the birds at noontide,
Daily on his place of rest.

"Saying, 'From these wandering minstrels
I have learned the art of song;
Let me now repay the lessons
They have taught so well and long.'

"Thus the bard of love departed;
And, fulfilling his desire,
On his tomb the birds were feasted
By the children of the choir.

"Day by day, o'er tower and turret,
In foul weather and in fair,
Day by day in vaster numbers,
Flocked the poets of the air."

Prepared only by W. B. Jones, M. D., No. 1336 South Eighth street, Philadelphia. For sale by I. W. Randolph, 21 West Front street. Price $1.

OBITUARY.

Erastus Durnin Webster.

Erastus Durnin Webster, father of Mrs. Martin I. Cooley of Rockview terrace, died at Washington Wednesday of last week. He was born in Aurora, N. Y., in 1827, learned the printer's trade in the office of the Buffalo Express, and in 1849 established an anti-slavery newspaper at Springville, N. Y. In 1859 he founded the Omaha Republican, and in 1860 represented Nebraska in the National Republican Convention. From 1861 to 1865 he served as private secretary to Secretary Seward, and in 1864 was sent on a secret mission, under a safe conduct, inside the Confederate lines in Georgia and Florida.

In 1865 he was appointed Consul at Bradford, England; in 1867 Deputy Surveyor of the Port of New York; in 1868 Assessor of Internal Revenue for the Thirty-second District of New York, where he made a great fight against the bankers and brokers of Wall street, compelling them to pay the war tax on the capital employed in their business.

In 1873 he was appointed Superintendent of Immigration at Castle Garden by Gov. Dix and in 1877 Inspector of Internal Revenue by President Hayes. He was a delegate at large from Nebraska to the Minneapolis Convention of 1892. Between 1875 and 1877 he was an editorial contributor to the New York Times.

His other daughters are Mrs. Capt. James L. Lusk, Engineer Corps, U. S. A., and Mrs. Lieut. John T. Honeycutt, 1st Artillery, U. S. A.

Companies not answering first alarm, will hold themselves in readiness for 30 minutes, or until recall has been sounded, to respond to second alarm, which will be given by sending in one or more rounds of the box the second time. Companies not answering first alarm shall cover all ground left vacant by companies answering first alarm. This order does not change special signals.

By order Board of Engineers,
T. O. DOANE, Chief.

Plainfield Shooters Abroad.

Plainfield experts made some good scores in the second tournament of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' league, yesterday, at Maplewood. Besides their wins in sweepstakes, Neaf Apgar scored 23 and Thomas Keller 20 on the Boiling Springs team, while Charles Smith scored 22 for the Unions. The complete score of the Independent Gun club of Plainfield was: A. Soper, 16; B. Manning, 16; B. H. Rushton, 13; T. Brantingham, 24; D. Terry, 20. Total, 89.

Could n't Agree with the New Trustees.

(Dunellen Weekly Call.)

Thomas L. Thomas handed in his resignation as school trustee after the meeting of the board last Thursday night. It seems that matters did not run to suit him and rather than make any ill feeling between himself and the new board he thought it best to resign.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have eversold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 66 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-7

The club will have its first run Monday morning.

TRIED TO BOSS THE HEALTH BOARD.

A Woman Who Endangered Public Health to Go to Jail.

Mrs. Baird, who had charge of the scarlet fever case at Frank J. Shattle's, on South Second street, is to go to jail for trying to usurp the authority of the health board.

She tore down the quarantine card and burned it up, and went all about town, mingling among people when danger of contagion was not yet over.

When health inspectator M. M. Dunham reproved her, she abused him with vile language. For that, judge Coddington this morning sentenced her to jail for 60 days.

Catharine may also be punished for raising the quarantine while the house was yet infected.

Freddy Jones's Uncle to Have a Theater.

Tony Denier, uncle of Plainfield's only Freddie Jones, has leased for twenty years ground enough in Thirty-eighth street, near Broadway, to hold an amusement building, which he will call the Alhambra and construct of buff brick with trimmings of gray stone. The first story will contain an auditorium seating 2 700 persons. The character of the performance in this main part of the Alhambra is not definitely disclosed. As Edmond Gerson is to go to Paris to engage specialists, it is probable that a pretentious variety show will be given. The basement is to contain a large hall, devoted, it is explained, "to exhibitions in the style of the Garden Mabille and the Folies Bergeres in Paris". Mr. Denier was once famous as a pantomimic clown, and was considered the only successful rival of the late George L. Fox. He retired from the stage years ago, invested his considerable fortune in Chicago real estate, and has managed a variety theater there.

AMONG THE BELLES.

Upon Whom Shall the Mantle Fall?

What One of the Lovely Aspirants Has to Say.

The Women Will Be Interested—But Won't the Men?

Since the day the lovely Miss Willing left Philadelphia to become the bride of John Jacob Astor, her mantle of belle has been variously bestowed among the beautiful young ladies of the City or Brotherly Love; but among the candidates for this honor there are certainly few more beautiful than Miss Anna King, who resides at 136 Diamond street, Philadelphia.

Our portrait is very far from doing the young lady justice, but it will serve to call the attention of her many friends and admirers to the fact that she is again in excellent health; for it must be known that Miss King has been seriously ill—so seriously, in fact, that her physicians gave her up, saying that no help was possible.

To a reporter she spoke freely and unreservedly concerning herself.

"I have indeed been very ill," she said, in answer to a question; "my nerves had become so weak I had no confidence in myself; I would at times grow so weak that it seemed as if I should never be able to move again; I could not remember anything; dreadful shooting pains occurred frequently all through my eyes and head; often severe headaches would follow which would prostrate me for hours.

"Yes, I had several physicians but they all said no help was possible.

"I was in despair until I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy; by the time I had taken the first bottle I found that I had been greatly benefited; I continued its use and have now regained my original health again."

And she looked it, for she is a picture of health and beauty.

By the by, did you ever hear of a failure of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to cure? We never have, and can assert positively that this wonderful medicine, the prescription and discovery of the well-known and successful specialist, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York will cure more cases of disease than any other remedy in the world; if you are sick use it, for it will cure you; especially should you use it at this season of the year, as a spring medicine is absolutely necessary to the maintenance of good health, and doctors recommend this as the best spring medicine for it will surely invigorate the blood, strengthen the nerves and restore the organs to natural and healthy action. You can get it of any druggist for $1, and we know it is purely vegetable and harmless. Besides you can consult Dr. Greene free of charge concerning your case at any time, personally or by letter.

CHOLERA IN ST. PETERSBURG.

The Scourge has Again Made Its Appearance in the Russian Capitol.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31. — Cholera has made its appearance again in this city, and it is known that fatal cases are of daily occurrence, although the authorities have not resumed their policy of last year of making a regular daily announcement of the new cases and deaths.

At present the authorities are pursuing a policy of suppression, and withhold from the public all information as to the spread of the disease. Very disquieting rumors have been received from the interior of Russia, and the Ministry of the Interior is taking action which indicates that the Government must possess special information of the gravest character.

The Ministry has ordered the reopening of the medico-sanitary stations in the Volga provinces, where the cholera carried off many thousands last year, and special steamers with sanitary staffs will cruise in the river, stopping along the Volga to pick up any cholera patients or any dead from cholera-stricken vessels plying on that stream.

The government is also causing to be formed sanitary commissions which will look after the health of the people at the points to be reached through the railway system of Russia.

Found in the Harlem.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The body of an unknown man, apparently about 50 years old, was found drowned in the Harlem river, at the foot of One Hundred and Eleventh street, about 8 o'clock a. m. It was removed to the morgue.

Mrs. Townsend Dead.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Mrs. Adelaide Townsend, the wife of the wealthy importer, R. H. L. Townsend, who has been isolated for two weeks in her residence, No. 237 Madison avenue, while ill with typhus fever, died there at 9 a. m.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

—The Columbus caravel Santa Maria reached Porto Rico yesterday.

—Thirty horses perished in a fire in a six-story building in New York city used as a stable.

—William C. Whitney has arrived in New York with his party from his extensive cruise in the South.

—An inch of snow fell at Watertown, N. Y., yesterday. The snow storm was preceded by a high wind.

—The body of George A. Baird ("Squire Abingdon") has been forwarded to Scotland. It will be interred to-morrow.

—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Yale in a baseball game at Philadelphia yesterday by a score of 11 to 6.

WALTER Q. GRESHAM.

The Eventful Career of the New Secretary of State.

Walter Quinton Gresham, who holds the portfolio of state in the Cleveland cabinet, was born in 1833 near Zanesville, Ind. Two years after his birth his father, who was sheriff of the county, was murdered in cold blood by an infamous creature named Levi Sipes, whom an Indiana jury let off with a verdict of manslaughter. The widowed mother educated the children as best she might at the country school, but when Walter was sixteen years old he was given a post in the office of the county auditor, the duties of which were of such a character that the ambitious youth was enabled to pursue a course of study at the Corydon seminary. In 1854 he was admitted to the bar. Two years later he was stumping his district for John C. Fremont, the first presidential candidate of the republican party, with which organization Gresham has always allied himself until within a few months ago, when he declared himself a believer in the tenets and practices of the democracy as represented by Grover Cleveland.

WALTER Q. GRESHAM.

In the early part of the war of the rebellion, Mr. Gresham served as colonel in the Fifty-third Indiana regiment; later he rose to the rank of brigadier general.

In President Arthur's cabinet he filled first the post of postmaster general and then that of secretary of the treasury. Subsequently he was appointed United States circuit judge at Chicago.

Judge Gresham made his mark as a jurist in the decision he gave in the intricate Wabash railway case. The road had the backing of the greatest corporation in the country, and the case was defended by the ablest counsel that could be secured. Judge Gresham's opinion was so fearless, and at the same time so just, as to gain the admiration of the whole country.

Judge Gresham was married to Miss Matilda McGrain in Harrison county, Ind., in 1858. He has two children, a son and a daughter. His widowed mother still lives on the old homestead, and the judge often visits her there.

JUDGE WILLIAM LINDSAY.

John G. Carlisle's Successor in the United States Senate.

The election of Judge Lindsay as the successor of John G. Carlisle in the senate of the United States accords with the prevailing sentiment of Kentucky democracy. Kentucky, the state of Clay, Breckinridge and Beck, has always chosen senators of social, business and political prominence and merit, and she has not departed from her rule in the election of Judge Lindsay. He was born September 4, 1834, in Rockbridge county, Va., and is of Scotch ancestry. He began the practice of law in Clinton, Ky., having previously been a teacher. He joined the confederacy when the civil war began, and was a staff officer with the Second Kentucky brigade. His first political promotion was to the state senate in 1867. From the senate he went to the bench as the judge of the court of appeals, and then, in 1876, became chief justice of Kentucky. He is described as a man of remarkable mental alertness, clever in debate, of ready wit and seemingly inexhaustible resources. Added to his mental power he has a physical magnificence, towering into six feet, with proportionate fullness, and having a face which wins him favor in any assemblage. Two years ago he was the leading candidate for United States senator against Mr. Carlisle, resigning his seat on the state bench to enter the contest. Judge Lindsay was appointed a member of the interstate commerce commission by President Harrison, but declined.

Cultivate Refinement.

Do not draw into your shell. So much is to be gained by contact with the outside world. The influence of the social current has the same effect upon human nature as that produced by the constant friction of the sea upon the pebbles of the beach, says the Brandon Banner. Rough corners are polished and sharp angles smoothed down into symmetrical proportions. But it is not enough to be simply in the swim. One must, to be happy, cultivate that society which elevates and ennobles. Seek relaxation for the mind and body among a set of people who hold broad views of living. Narrow-minded men and women, and the world is full of them, will only give you distorted ideas of life, ideas that will change the sunniest and most healthful disposition into one morose, churlish and ill-natured. Be careful, then, whom you choose for your companions.

Their Military Expenses.

A comparative statement of the military outlay in different European countries shows the percentage of the cost for the army and navy to the budgetary expenditure. The figures, which apply to the fiscal year 1892-'93, are these: Great Britain, 36.9; Russia, 30.7; France, 27.1; Italy, 23.4; Germany, 17.8; and Austria-Hungary, 17.6 per cent. The expenditure for the interest and sinking fund on the public debts of the different countries amounted in Italy to 43.8, in Austria-Hungary to 29.3, in France to 28.4, in Great Britain to 27.9, in Russia to 23.7 and in Germany to 12.9 per cent of the whole budget.

KALAMAZOO CELERY

IS SO HEALTHFUL

That it should be used in every family at least once a week.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY EXTRACT OR TONIC,

For soda fountains, bars and the kitchen.

This is the Triple Extract of our famous Kalamazoo Celery, prepared directly from the plant and not a mere flavor of the seed. It makes an elegant drink, when drawn from a soda fountain; cooling, delicious and beneficial, having the rich, nutty flavor of our celery. As a morning bracer it has no equal, is excellent for beef tea and celery, and a dash in a Manhattan makes life worth living. In the house it is indispensable, for making soups, ice creams and ices, celerysades, etc. Ask your grocer or druggist for it; take only the Kalamazoo brand, all others imitations.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE PELLETS.

These pellets are prepared directly from our famous Celery, and contain all of its well-known curative properties. They are invaluable as a household remedy. They are guaranteed to be purely vegetable and to be a sure specific for all cases of nervous prostration, headaches, impotency, insomnia, all stomach troubles, chronic constipation (the bane of the American people) and are positively the only Pellet that will not cause the system constipated. 25 cts. per package.

THE KALAMAZOO CELERY NERVINE AND TONIC.

Our Nervine and Tonic is prepared directly from our famous Celery, and in connection with other herbs of well known valued medicinal qualities, forms without a doubt the best family medicine for the nerves the stomach and blood. It is nature's own remedy for building up and restoring a run down or exhausted nervous system: as a spring tonic it has no equal. Ask your druggist for these preparations that come direct from nature's celery garden. Take no others. If you cannot get our preparations of your druggist, send 25 cents in stamps and we will mail you a package of the Nervine Pellets and one of our beautiful Embossed Celery Recipe Books free.
